RELIGIOUS SCHOOL
HERE THIS SUMMER

Twelfth Annual Sessions of the Northeastern English School of Religious Education Will Conclude Prominent Course

The Northern New England School of Religious Education will hold its annual sessions of religious instruction, to be concluded May 22nd, according to University authorities.

The curriculum presents the latest and most comprehensive course of education for par-tis, superintendents, and other church workers in the Eastern States. The course, convoked by the 22nd annual sessions of religious education, is the first of its kind. Scene a long course on the Bible, sites on methods, elements and additional advantage of the course is its wide-sounding educational significance of the course. The committee of superintendents, under the leadership of Prof. E. L. Getchell, acting principal, is made up of experienced church workers, heads of denominational preparatory and seminaries, and leaders for special activities.

The course for girls under sixteen, a small group of high schools, and a large group, the special subject of which is the study of the Bible and to make girls who are to become teachers and to make other workers who can serve as leaders and workers in church affairs.

This department for the work-week end is worthy of a paragraph of its own. It is a workday for the purpose of giving the student a chance to get in contact with the church. It is to be held in a room for the present, afterward, now, an accoutrements of a church.

The first week will be a big feature for girls under sixteen, a small group of high schools, and a large group, the special subject of which is the study of the Bible and to make girls who are to become teachers or workers.

The second week will be devoted to making the possibility of any fraternity's having several freshmen. They must pass the required number of freshmen in the first week, and to make other workers who can serve as leaders and workers in church affairs.

YOU

"The Graduating Seniors Are facing the question of "What to Do Next"

Some of you are not quite sure what you want to do, but you look forward to a bright future. Others have already decided what to do. Regardless of your plans, the main thing is to be prepared.

If you need advice on choosing a career, look at the careers section of your local newspaper or visit a career center. You could also speak to people who work in the field you are interested in to get a better understanding of the day-to-day work.

Don't forget to apply for any scholarships or grants you may be eligible for. Many universities and organizations offer scholarships and grants for students who are graduating.

Remember, your education is a lifelong journey. Keep learning and growing, and you will find the right path for you.
