DEAN A. N. FRENCH VISITS MAINE

Compares Problems of N. H. With Rival Colleges

Makes Week-end Trip To The University Of Maine—Many Features Are Same As At New Hampshire—Schedule Consists Of A Five Day Week

Dean A. N. French, head of the Liberal Arts College, spent recently a week-end at the University of Maine as a guest of Dean James S. Stevens, of the Liberal Arts College at Orono. The purpose of this visit was to study the Land Grant college and the state university problems common to the Universities of Maine and New Hampshire.

Dean French interviewed Mr. James N. Hart, Dean of the University of Maine, in regard to the methods of admission and the degree to which the restrictive policy in selecting students is carried on. A typical incident will illustrate the way this system works. Dean Hart and his assistants visit fifteen schools in the northeastern part of Maine, interviewing prospective students, personal records are systematically compiled and studied, and the students notified as to whether or not they can be admitted. Some students are told at the time of the interview that they can not be admitted without further preparation for college.

The department of English is divided at the University of Maine into two departments, a department of English and Literature proper, and a department of Public Speaking, inclusive of the debate.

The University of Maine requires a Liberal Arts student to have a major and to fill certain group requirements, similar to that required at New Hampshire, but the student may or may not be required to complete a minor, depending on the policy of the department in which the student majors.

In addition to studying the above two methods, Dean French worked out with great care their practice of Freshman Week. Freshman Week was instituted at Maine four years ago and was started at New Hampshire three years ago, modeled closely on the plan laid down by Maine. President Boardman, chairman of the committee for the past three years and its present head, was good authority for Dean French, and it was agreed as a result of the conference that Freshman Week was well worth continuing, but that the problem was one of follow up, to adequately motivate the student in his four years of work. According to the Dean, sophomores and juniors present as much a problem as do freshmen.

It is interesting to observe that the respective colleges at the University of Maine have had freedom of action in routine matters since before the war. Here at the University of New Hampshire all three colleges require the same number of units for graduation, but at Maine each college has a different number of semester hours necessary for graduation. ### NATIONAL INSPECTOR GIVEN TEA BY PHI MU SORORITY

Phi Mu fraternity gave a tea in the parlor of Congreve Hall last Wednesday in honor of her national inspector Mrs. Camm who visited the chapter last week. Mrs. Camm is a graduate of Hollins College, Hollins, Va. The guests present at the tea were Dean Elizabeth P. DeMerritt, Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. John C. Kendall.

NEW RECEPTION ROOM FOR FAIRCHILD HALL

Work Begun on Room Which Will Be Built in Middle of Lower Floor—Similar to the One in Hetzel

Fairchild Hall, the only dormitory which has no reception room, is soon to be provided with this convenience. Work was started this week and has progressed rapidly. The new reception room which will be similar in design to that in Hetzel will be located in the basement and will occupy the space formerly occupied by rooms 5, 6 and 7 exclusive of the bedrooms of rooms 5 and 7. These bedrooms which are on either side of the new reception room will be made into single rooms.

There will be two large entrances from the corridor, one on either end and arches will be constructed across the corridor at both ends of the reception room. A rear exit to the future court will be provided which will be similar in design to the front entrance and there will be two windows on either side of the door. The reception room will not be quite as large as that in Hetzel but is considered to be ample in size, and it is felt that it will fill a long felt need.

Plain white oak finished with light fumed will be used. Many of the details will be similar to those in the reception room in Hetzel.

LOLLYPOP DAY HELD BY Y. W. C. A. GIRLS

Proceeds to Go to Fund for Conference at Camp Maqua Which Will Be Held at Poland Springs

The girls of the Young Women's Christian Association observed yesterday as Lollipop Day, the proceeds from the sale of candy on the campus to go toward the Maqua fund. The association is planning to send representatives to a conference of New England college girls to be held at Camp Maqua, Poland, Maine, from June 17 to June 22. Present day university problems will be discussed by leaders and sports will be a part of the program. Girls interested in the conference may obtain more information from Miss Oril E. Henthorne, local secretary or from members of the Cabinet.

A Recognition Service for the new officers of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Monday evening, June 6, at seven o'clock, instead of the usual discussion group according to Miss Henthorne.

The Cabinet intends to hold a morning worship on Friday, June 3, beginning at seven o'clock.

COMMONS WAITERS HOLD FIRST BALL IN CLUB ROOM

On Friday evening, May 28, the waiters of the Commons held their first annual ball. John Carpenter of Nashua, head waiter at the Commons, had charge of the arrangements and was assisted by many of the waiters. Music was furnished by the Red Ramblers. The Commons club room which was the scene of the ball, was very tastefully decorated with streamers and a large banner inscribed "Commons Waiters." Refreshments were furnished by the Commons.

It is the intention of the waiters to make the ball an annual event as the dance was so well attended. A feature of the ball was the dance orders which were appropriate for the occasion.

BRICE ROBERTS IN SEMI-FINALS OF CHESS GAMES

W. Brice Roberts, '27, and D. A. Watson of Durham, an alumnus of the University, will meet here soon to play the semi-finals of the annual state chess tournament which has been going on for the past two months. Each won their games in the preliminaries which were held April 19 at Concord and May 21 at Manchester.

At the close of the preliminaries in Concord the following score was obtained:

R. A. Urbanovitch, Manchester, 3-1
F. D. Perry, Nashua, 2-2 1-2
D. A. Watson, Durham, 1 1-2-1 1-2
W. E. Roberts, Durham, 1-1
A. Pillsbury, Durham, 0-4

If Roberts wins his match with Watson, he will play Urbanovitch for the state championship some time in the near future. Urbanovitch already holds the title. This is the first year that the University of New Hampshire has sent delegates to the state chess tournament since N. T. Bearse, '21, won the fourth prize during his senior year in college.

ROLAND E. PARTRIDGE WITH N. Y. SYMPHONY

New York Symphony Orchestra To Have Mr. Partridge, Spanish Instructor At Summer Conference In Chataqua, N. Y., Appearing As Tenor Soloist

Mr. Roland E. Partridge, language instructor at the University has been engaged for the month of July as tenor soloist at the summer conference of the New York Symphony Orchestra at Chataqua, N. Y. He is one of the four soloists who are to appear in a concert by the orchestra every week throughout the month. Mr. Albert Stoessel, violinist, composer and one of the foremost American conductors is to conduct the summer program of the Orchestra. The four accompanying singers will be heard as a quartette, various combinations for duets and at other times will appear at solo work. Mr. Partridge will be the soloist on the evenings of July 20, 23 and 30.

These concerts by the New York Symphony Orchestra will be a part of the intensive program of lectures, addresses and courses of instruction offered every year to those who attend this summer colony.

Such nationally known people as Dr. John Erskine, Hon. Raymond B. Fossdick, Shailer Matthews, Hon. Henry Morgenthau, and Dr. Samuel C. Schmucker will give lectures on various subjects of timely and instructional interests, credit at the University of New York to be given in some of the courses. The location of Chataqua, New York is about 50 miles southwest of Buffalo. It borders on a beautiful twenty mile lake which with the surrounding country yields every desirable out-door sport facility.

Some of the outstanding offerings of the orchestra during the month of July at which Mr. Partridge will assist are:

July 4. Combined Glee Clubs, 250 voices selected from New York.

July 11. First performance of a new cantata, "Village Blacksmith" by Gaines.

July 13. First performance of Song Cycle based on Herrick's "Hesperides."

July 17. New cantata, "Esther", by Roy Stoughton, which has been dedicated to Professor Howard Lyman, the assistant director of the orchestra.

July 27-29. "Eliza" by Mendelssohn, as an opera with scenery, costumes, action and a chorus of six hundred voices.

ANNUAL BANQUET HELD BY ALPHA TAU ALPHA SOCIETY

The annual banquet of Alpha Tau Alpha, honorary two-year agriculture society, was held recently at the Commons. Toastmaster Dean F. W. Taylor, introduced the speaker of the evening, Professor J. A. McNutt, who gave an interesting talk on a trip to the Isles of Jersey and Guernsey. He said that on these islands, not larger than two New England townships, thousands of cattle are raised and cared for and that any farmer makes a good living on three or four acres. A twelve or fourteen acre farm is considered a large one.

A committee was appointed to draw up a set of resolutions petitioning the proper authorities to change the two-year course in agriculture from a two-term year to a three-term year. John H. Prentiss, Jr., was elected as new president of the Grand Chapter and George F. Rolan was named secretary and treasurer.

Y. M. C. A. YEARLY PROGRAM ENDED

ORGANIZATION ACTIVE IN MANY COLLEGIATE FIELDS

Rev. J. E. Barker Reports Favorable On Year's Work—Aid To Students Main Factor Through Forums And Deputations

The Y. M. C. A., with the Reverend J. E. Barker as director, has just completed its extensive program for the past college year. The organization has been very active in arranging vocational forums, for aid to the University student, maintaining a large employment bureau, conducting Camp Leadership Courses, forming discussion groups and coaching deputation teams. The members of the Y. M. C. A. have been extremely active and interested in keeping up the "Y's" good record of being a great aid to the University.

Vocational Forums:—A year ago The "After College What" Day marked a beginning of presenting educational information to students. A further step was taken this year, forum committees being formed. Fred B. Mitchell, '28 was elected student chairman of the committee. Next year an enlarged schedule is to be followed. This program will provide for many forums as an object of helping the student to decide upon his or her vocation.

The employment bureau is continuing to function in part time, summer and, to a limited extent in full-time employment. Successful camp leadership courses were conducted under the direction of Mr. E. P. Conlin, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for boys' work. This course provided for three time-unit credits toward graduation.

Discussion groups were also formed. Nine fraternities and two dormitories accepting the invitation to form these groups, chose their leaders from members of the faculty. Deputation Teams were coached and sent out to North Conway, Colby Academy, Wolfeboro, Rochester, Lee and Madbury.

The Y. M. C. A. finance committee reported very favorably. Stunt night in February, which was participated in by eight fraternities and sororities and East and West halls, brought in about one hundred and fifty dollars. The University trustees voted to contribute an additional two hundred and fifty dollars for next year.

The lunch was served by a committee led by Benjamin Bartlett who also had charge of the program. Dr. and Mrs. Adolph G. Ecdahl assisted in directing the entertainment. A fire was built in the fireplace, marshmallows were toasted following the lunch and games were played until the closing hour.

R. O. T. C. COMPLETES TRAINING AT NASHUA

Equipment Turned In Friday And Saturday—Major Pitz Satisfied With Year's Work—Thirty-eight Seniors Received Commissions

The Reserve Officers Training Corps regiment of the University returned to Durham Wednesday May 25 from Nashua where it had been encamped in Camp Spaulding, Greeley Park. The students entrained at 10:50 daylight saving time and arrived here in time for the noon meal after which most of them went to bed. After reveille and morning roll call the boys struck camp and policed the grounds before mess. Breakfast, the last meal of the camp was served by Sergeant M. W. Bishop and his regular army cooks from the 13th United States Infantry. Following breakfast the students rolled their packs, completed the final duties of the camp stay, and marched to the railroad station in the city proper in a heavy downpour of rain. Several hundred people lined the streets to bid a farewell to the regiment. The band did not play owing to the weather, but the regimental bugle corps under Cadet Sergeant Donald Harriott '29 played a march as the regiment paraded through the streets.

The annual encampment, which takes place in one of the larger cities of the state every spring, completes the work of the year for the students of military science. Equipment was turned in Friday and Saturday, but final examinations in the course for the underclassmen will not be held until sometime in June.

Major Hugo E. Pitz of the United States Coast Artillery Corps, Professor of Military Science and Tactics expressed himself as highly pleased with the work done by the students, not only during the encampment, but throughout the entire year, since he reported for duty here last fall. He stated that the spirit of the students was good and that the work of the course had for the most part been performed efficiently and well.

As a result of the year's work thirty-eight members of the senior class have been presented commissions as second lieutenants in the organized reserve corps. They were graduated at the final review and parade of the year Tuesday evening, after which they fell in behind the reviewing stand and watched their old regiment parade by under the command of the non-commissioned officers.

PROF. ALEXANDER ON RESEARCH COUNCIL

Representative For New Hampshire To Collect And Locate Material For A Study Of Criminal Justice—City Library To Be Searched

Prof. Norman Alexander of the department of Economics of the University as a representative for New Hampshire of the National Social Research Council, is planning to spend a part of the coming summer in determining the possible fields for research in New Hampshire. This Council has appointed at least one representative from each state to collect and locate the available source of material which will be used as a need for a comprehensive study of criminal justices. All phases of the question will be considered; the administration of criminal justice, court procedure, agencies for the enforcement of law, as well as the historical aspect and the various individual practices of each state. The greater part of this work will be carried out in the cities of the state where the library has valuable reference material.

All Star Cast—John Fleming And Catherine Grady Have Leads—Play Had Long Professional Run In New York

"Seven Chances", Mask and Dagger's production for this term, will be played this evening for the first time at the Ralph D. Paine Memorial hall of the Community House. Tickets for this performance and for tomorrow night are on sale at the College Bookshop and at Lothrop's-Farnham's and will also be sold before each performance.

The play was presented on the professional stage in New York under the direction of David Belasco and starring Frank Craven and Otto Krueger. It played at this time, for a year and two months, with great success.

Professor William G. Hennessy of the Department of English, coach of the play, has given a touch of musical comedy to this production, and has incorporated a number of new features in its presentation. Page, president of the senior class, Gwendolyn Jones, president of the women's student government association, William Hoagland, varsity football star and president of Mask and Dagger, and John Fleming, vice-president of the dramatic society and editor of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE. All are experienced in college theatricals, having played in at least one other production.

The leading male parts of "Jimmie Shannon", which was originally played in New York by Frank Craven, and "Millie Meekin" formerly portrayed by Otto Krueger, will be played here by John Fleming '29 and Harry Page '27 respectively. Catherine Grady '27 will have the leading feminine role. Other prominent parts include those of "Henry Garrison", played by Hoagland, "Earl Goddard", played by Paul Blaisdell '29, "Irene Trevor" played by Elisabeth Bauer '29.

Following the performances tonight and tomorrow night, the play will again be produced in the men's gymnasium on the evening of June 18 as a part of the annual Commencement week program. It is the tenth production that the society has staged since it was reorganized here in 1923 when Professor Hennessy took charge.

VOTE WISELY

Next week the officers of the athletic association and the officers and members of the student council will be elected. Next year the results of these elections will determine just how efficient and wise is the new constitution of the student council which the student body recently accepted. This will be impossible, however, if the men elected are not the right ones for the positions. Poor men in the various offices, aside from the harm done the university, will be an unfair test for the new set of rules and the new scheme of selection for the governing body. It is up to the students who vote to forget friends and fraternities and to vote for the man whom they honestly believe will be, in each case, the most capable of the work to be undertaken.

A student council can be a joke, as ours, we greatly fear, has been in the past, or it can be the strongest organization on a college campus. It can do a great deal of constructive work and can prevent a great many unfortunate occurrences. Everything depends upon the calibre of the men who compose it. Every individual member from the president down should be intelligent and morally strong or the group as a representative of all that is best in the student body will be useless.

It is preferable, of course, to pick men who are not busy with several other activities; but regardless of the other activities, if a man is, in the opinion of the voter, the best for the office he should be elected. It is obvious that the student leader who is engaged in several extra curricula interests cannot give the time to the student council that a student can who is not out for any team or other type of student activity. But might not the few minutes given to student council affairs by a recognized and tried leader among the student body prove far more profitable than the hours spent by a man who has never taken enough interest in student affairs to go out for anything?

Vote wisely and give the new plan a fair chance to work. Put the best men in office.

HELP THE LIBRARY

In reference to THE NEW HAMPSHIRE'S recent editorial on Yale University's rare book exhibit and the need for New Hampshire students to show more interest in cultural subjects, Mr. Lewis, the University librarian, has called our attention to the library's frequent exhibits of similar books, although in these cases they were not owned by students, and has stated that the library will always be ready to do its part to foster such interest in the student body. He has also called our attention to the fact that the library's endowments are, of necessity, limited and that the staff cannot do all in this line that it could wish. We feel that the library is entitled to every consideration and all possible co-operation on the part of the students and faculty of the University and, consequently, we asked him how the library could be helped by all of us.

Among Mr. Lewis' suggestions were the loans or gifts on the part of the students of rare books or collections of books on one subject or monetary endowments by the various classes and clubs on the campus for the purpose of buying such books. For financial reasons most of the students cannot hope to own collections of rare books nor complete collections

1929 GRANITE BOARD CALLS FOR HEELERS

Editor Charles Johnson Announces First Meeting In Endeavor To Start Work At An Early Date On Junior Annual

The 1929 Granite Board wishes at this time to issue a formal call for heelers. Ever since the heeler system has been organized, it has been customary to issue this call during the fall term of the sophomore year.

This year, however, the board wishes to inaugurate a plan by means of which, it is believed, that both the board and the heelers may become a closer working unit and a unit in which every heeler may get practical experience in every department involved in the production of the annual. Every one interested should report at the heelers meeting on Friday evening, June 3, at seven o'clock, in the Zoology Lecture room, T. Hall. There is a real task for twenty-two students on the 1930 Granite Board. These twenty-two board members will be chosen from the heelers who report for the 1929 book.

The 1929 staff wishes to work with the heelers and for them toward the ultimate end of a "bigger and better" 1929 Granite and, in accordance with the progressive spirit of our University, a still bigger and still better 1930 book.

DEAN A. N. FRENCH VISITS MAINE

lege of Agriculture requires from 140-147 hours, the College of Liberal Arts, 125 hours, and the College of Engineering requires 150 hours.

The College of Arts and Science at Maine is using a new building this year which is similar to our plan in Murkland Hall next year. Our revenue from the Mill Tax plan is $620,000, inclusive of the building program, while the state appropriation for Maine amounts to $620,000 also, but with an added appropriation for buildings.

At Maine there is no Wednesday afternoon Military Science program, with their drill period coming on Saturday morning. This serves to place the college work on a five day basis, and the schedule is made up of a five day week.

Both universities have spacious campuses in small towns, with the towns being made up of merchants and members of the faculty, and as a result have all kinds of room for growth. Dean French states that the fraternity building program at Maine has gone farther than it has here. There the buildings are grouped on Main street, before the campus proper is reached.

President Boardman has appointed a student committee of six seniors, then in turn nominated six juniors. This committee recently turned in a report to the president recommending constructive changes in their cut system.

Their arbitrary arrangement of departments differs in the colleges from that at New Hampshire. Astronomy, Chemistry, Mathematics and Physics are in the Liberal Arts college, rather than in the Engineering college. Home Economics is in the Agricultural college instead of being in the Liberal Arts as it is here.

There is a Dean of the Graduate school at Maine, rather than a chairman, as at New Hampshire.

At Maine there are chapters of Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Beta Kappa, the national honorary fraternities. Both institutions have a chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

While at the University, Dean French was the guest of Dean Stevens and also during this time he was also a guest at a faculty discussion club which was held at the home of President Boardman. The people present were representative of the University governing body.

SOPH GIRLS BEATEN IN BASEBALL GAME

Bernaby And Ahern Star For The Freshmen—Timmons For The Sophomores In First Game Of Tournament

The women's freshman baseball team triumphed over the sophomores with a score of 10-7 in the opening game of the interclass baseball tournament which started Tuesday. Bernaby pitched a good game for the freshmen and with Atwood at first succeeded in keeping the sophomores down. Timmons, pitching for the sophs, struck out eight freshmen and kept the score from piling up.

Ahern made the highest number of runs piling up four out of the ten points for the freshmen, while Lockwood made two. Bernaby, Brown, Bannon and Hopkins each scored one run for the 1930 team. Timmons scored two for the sophs, and Stewart, Gove, Paige, Child and Block made up for the rest of the seven points.

The lineup follows:
 FRESHMEN: Lockwood, c; Bernaby, p; Atwood, 1b; Bunker, 2b; Ahern, 3b; Hopkins, ss; Bannon, rf; Brown, lf; Lowe, cf.
 SOPHOMORES: c, Block; p, Timmons; 1b, Child; 2b, Huntton; 3b, Record; ss, Gove; rf, Stewart; lf, Corey; cf, Paige.

of books concerning their favorite hobbies, but gifts to the library would place these books at the disposal of all who wished to make use of them. Why not help the library to help all of us?

THE WATER TOWER APOLOGIZES

My forte in verse is humor
 (And quite rotten a la rumor)
 And I know that I should ne'er attempt
 To write else:
 Only short and lighthearted fetter
 And the shorter, say, the better—
 Yea! For me was meant the motley cap and jest.

But a jest will sweeter tell
 After one has been through—well,
 You know the place whereof I dare not speak—
 (And the sunshine seems more bright
 After it has rained all night—
 Especially if the blooming roof should leak.)

And so I crave your pardon
 If at times these seem to harden
 Into stanzas which approach the serious—
 When I glance at them again
 I say—and sick—then
 My mirth and muse become delirious!

We understand that the scenery for Mask and Dagger's new play is so realistic that one of the young gentlemen recovering from the recent Mil Art trip left an awful hole in the back drop curtain when he mistakenly dove into the painted ocean.

Which reminds us that "Seven Chances" is to be presented tonight and tomorrow night. And yet they say that opportunity knocks but once! Wonder if the actors will get knocked seven times for tonight's work? It is rumored that it is a funny show and Bill Hoagland is a funny fellow. He has a funny part and he is president of Mask and Dagger. The Water Tower has decided to go.

The student body observed Memorial Day by remembering its father and mother and spending it at home. The town hasn't seemed so dead in months. About as noisy as the crowd that celebrated after the Colby game.

The recent Mil Art hike added one more to the list of the University's famous. "Marian," the chicken, rode home in triumph. She was originally presented to the captain of "C" company, but eventually was passed from hand to hand until she at length was adopted and given a good home. She's a really well-bred little chicken and such a lovely companion. She can say nothing longer and louder than any co-ed we know. THE NEW HAMPSHIRE is very much interested in her. We may decide to offer her as a substitute for that wildcat mascot which, somehow, has mysteriously failed to appear among us.

It may be that we shall have to change the final "a" in Marian to "o" when she, he,—it gets a bit older.

THE CYNIC

I'm made of the stuff of the martyrs of old
 Who suffered and died for their gold;
 My spirit is that of adventurer bold
 Exploring some new country's sod;
 My chivalry's that of the tourneying knight
 Adhering to round table rule,
 For, bless you, each hero of glorious might
 Was only what I am—a fool!

My mind is as fine as the world's greatest brains.
 My intellect piercing and shrewd,
 My genius as deep as the passion that strains
 In primitive man's darkest mood.
 I'm like painter and poet and writer sublime.
 (I've the scientist's scorn for the hazy)
 Like inventor and builder: they were all at the time
 Of their conquests like me—and I'm crazy!

CO-EDS EFFICIENT WAITERS AT COMMONS

Fair Damsels Take Place Of Men Who Were Away At R. O. T. C. Camp—No Broken Dishes

No broken dishes was the record achieved by the women waiters in the Commons during the absence of the R. O. T. C. In this emergency the co-eds were equal to the task and made a good impression. The Commons was put on the cafeteria plan for the three days but the old order of service was resumed on Wednesday noon, the first meal that the R. O. T. C. ate on their return. The feminine waiters were careful, very careful, because they did not want to spill anything and the service undoubtedly slowed up for this reason. All in all however, it was found that the women were careful, quick, courteous and efficient, making some of the regular waiters to express fear of losing their positions next fall.

Working in the Commons is traditionally an occupation for men and it was not until the last girl completed her duties of feeding the students that the place resumed its usual atmosphere. The women were satisfied and one was heard to remark that she wished the men would never come back, but probably she had not thought seriously on the matter.

INTERESTING STUDY OF COWS BY PROF. J. M. FULLER

Cows spend about one half of their time lying down according to Professor J. M. Fuller of the University Agricultural Experiment Station. In gathering data for a physiological study of dairy cattle Professor Fuller made a three days' continuous observation of 38 cows. The cow with the maximum standing record stood 63.35% of the time while the cow with the minimum stood 34.8%. Data secured during the year indicated that the respiration of cows under normal herd conditions may vary from 12 to 58 per minute and the pulse rates of cows under normal herd conditions may vary from 52 to 88 per minute. A three-day observation, made on water consumption by cows in the University herd, showed a minimum consumed by any one cow through a 24-hour period of 18 pounds and a maximum of about 233 1/4 pounds.

Camel is the modern favorite

MODERN smokers make known their preference. And they call for Camels. Never in any age was there a smoking favorite like Camel today. Camels understand every mood of the modern smoker. Camel mildness and smoothness are supreme with the critical taste of present-day people.

A purchase of Camels brings you the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. Blended by skill into the world's most popular smoke, and the best. Quality unapproached, is the distinguishing mark of Camel.

No matter what the price, there is no better cigarette than Camels. Smoke them as frequently as you please. You will never be left with a cigarett after-taste. Camels aren't made that way. That is why modern smokers everywhere demand them. That is why this age has discovered the tobacco phrase, "Have a Camel!"

STANDING OF ALUMNI BOWLING LEAGUES

The final standing of the bowling teams of the Alumni Clubs of the University of New Hampshire for the season 1926-1927 is as follows:

CLUB	Total Score
1—New York City	11,619
2—Philadelphia	10,941
3—Boston	10,710
4—Pittsburgh	10,257

It is noteworthy that the plan adopted at the beginning of the present season for converting candle, duck and ten pins to a common scoring basis has worked successfully as is shown by the closeness of the various scores. The Eastern New York Branch did not play five games, which accounts for its being left out of the final score.

CLOSE VICTORY AT SPRINGFIELD

Toolin Breaks High Hurdle Record—High Scorer of Meet

Final Score 71 5-6 To 63 1-6—New Hampshire Men Figure Prominently in First Places—Track in Good Condition

The New Hampshire track team won a dual meet against Springfield last Saturday by a score of 71 5-6 to 63 1-6. The actual outcome of the meet was not certain until we won the last event, the javelin throw. Toolin, besides being high scorer of the meet with 16 points, set a new high hurdle record for Pratt field at Springfield by winning in 15.5 seconds against the established time of 16 seconds. The time made by Toolin in the low hurdles was also record breaking, but was not allowed because of the strong wind blowing.

New Hampshire's men figured prominently in the first places throughout the entire meet. Atkins won the 440, Noyes the half, Eastman the mile, Cahalan the two mile, Toolin the hurdles, Hubbard the discus, Stewart the javelin, and Hoagland the hammer. Stewart tied for first place in the pole vault and came within 6 1/2 inches of the Pratt field javelin record. The efficient work of our men in the weights and field events can be held as partly the reason for our victory.

This is the first time since 1925 that Springfield has been defeated in track on her home field. However, the Wildcats' winning was by none too wide a margin, so the opponents must be given credit for the stiff opposition that they gave in the greater part of the events. The summaries:

100 yard dash—Won by Gifford of Springfield; Atkins of New Hampshire, 2nd; Nabholz of Springfield, Mass., 3rd. Time, 10 1-10 sec.
220 yard dash—Won by Gifford of Springfield; Toolin of New Hampshire, 2nd; Chapin of Springfield, 3rd. Time, 21 7-10 seconds.
440 yard run—Won by Atkins of New Hampshire; Burke of New Hampshire, 2nd; Jackson of Springfield, 3rd. Time, 51 2-10 seconds.
Half-mile run—Won by Noyes of New Hampshire; Boilier of Springfield, 2nd; Piny of New Hampshire, 3rd. Time, 2 1/2 min., 4-10 seconds.
One-mile run—Won by Eastman of New Hampshire; L. E. Smith of New Hampshire, 2nd; P. Whitney of New Hampshire, 3rd. Time, 4 min., 38 seconds.
Two-mile run—Won by Cahalan of New Hampshire; Greene of Springfield, 2nd; Noonan of Springfield, 3rd. Time, 10 min., 14 4-10 sec.

120 yard high hurdles—Won by Toolin of New Hampshire; Nodyke of Springfield, 2nd; Edwards of Springfield, 3rd. Time, 15 5-10 sec.
220 yard low hurdles—Won by Toolin of New Hampshire; Wilhelm of Springfield, 2nd; Edwards of Springfield, 3rd. Time, 24 seconds.
Running high jump—Won by Crowell of Springfield; Toolin of New Hampshire, 2nd; Toblis of New Hampshire and H. Smith of Springfield tied for third. Height, 5 ft., 7 3-4 inches.
Running broad jump—Won by Fischer of Springfield; Rice of New Hampshire, 2nd; Fuller of Springfield, 3rd. Distance, 21 ft., 4 inches.
Pole vault—Lewis of Springfield and Stewart of New Hampshire tied for first; Dunn and Seitzer of Springfield and Allsworth of New Hampshire tied for third. Height, 11 ft., 3 inches.
36-pound shot—Won by McKillip of Springfield; McLane of Springfield, 2nd; Bruce of New Hampshire, 3rd. Distance, 37 ft., 8 inches.
Discus throw—Won by Hubbard of New Hampshire; McKillip of Springfield, 2nd; Necker of New Hampshire, 3rd. Distance, 124 ft., 3 inches.

WILDCAT NINE WINS GAME IN ELEVENTH

Bowdoin Loses Close Encounter—Hoyt and Hicks Score Runs—Evans Wins Own Game with Single

The Wildcat nine won from Bowdoin here yesterday afternoon, 2 to 1, in eleven innings. The game was a pitchers' duel between Evans of New Hampshire and Leech of Bowdoin. Evans struck out eleven, walked two, and allowed eight hits. Leech struck out three, walked one, and allowed eight hits. Bowdoin hit for 13 bases and the Wildcats for 11.

The fielding feature of the game was a gem of a double killing in the first of the tenth. With a man on second, a Bowdoin player hit the ball hard to Hoyt, who threw to first to retire the batter, and the ball was returned to him by Reinhart in time to get the man coming down from second. Evans, Hoyt and Slayton were the big guns for New Hampshire.

Bowdoin scored first, tallying in the fourth on a triple and an error by Jenkins. Jenkins stopped another Bowdoin threat with a running catch in deep center. New Hampshire pushed across a marker in the last of the sixth, when Hoyt singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on Slayton's single to center. In the eleventh, Hicks reached second on a wild peg by the Bowdoin short stop. Slayton and French both flied out, but Evans singled past second to win his own game.

Clement, Slayton and Evans Used On Mound To Check Colby Hitting—Capt. Ramsey Leads Blue and White Batters—Ninth Inning Rally Fails

The Wildcat baseball team lost its sixth game out of eleven starts when the New Hampshire nine was set back by Colby College, 7 to 6, in a close game on Brackett Field Monday afternoon. Seven pitchers were used in the close battle, Coach Swasey trotting out Clement, Slayton and Evans in an attempt to pull the game out of the fire after the Wildcats had amassed a five run lead in the opening innings. The Blue and White team made a strong bid for the game in the last half of the ninth when Hatch got on first by a base on balls, stole second but was left stranded there, although Capt. Ramsey hit safely in the infield in an attempt to bring Hatch across the plate.

The Wildcats took the lead at the start of the game when they garnered four runs on five hits, driving Brown, the Colby moundsman, from the box. Reinhart, second man up, went to second on a wild throw to first, and came all the way home on Ramsey's long triple. Ramsey counted on a perfect squeeze-play bunt laid down by Hoyt, who was safe at first on the play. Hoyt, after stealing second base, crossed the plate on Hicks' hard-hit triple to left field, the latter counting on Gustafson's single through the infield. In the next inning New Hampshire added another run with Hatch scoring from second when Reinhart singled.

Colby made its first score in the third frame, but counted three times in both the fifth and seventh frames, batting Clement and Slayton from the mound in these two innings. The Wildcats choked off a Colby rally in the sixth when a fast double play on a grounder to Hoyt who threw to first, Reinhart returning the ball for Hoyt to tag out the man coming from second on the play. It was undoubtedly the best double play pulled off on Brackett field this season, and both throws were perfect.

New Hampshire played nearly errorless baseball, only a wild pitch by Slayton marring a perfect day in the field. The Wildcats collected twelve safe hits, including a brace of triples by Ramsey and Hicks. Colby made its twelve swats count in the fifth and seventh frames, bunching four in the former inning for three counters. Capt. Ramsey led the Blue and White team at bat, getting four hits out of five times at the plate, besides contributing several flashy fielding plays. Reinhart, who played his first game at first base, showed up very well around the initial sack. La Vigne, Colby shortstop, was the best all-around player for the visitors at bat and in the field.

1930 YEARLING NINE DEFEATED BY COBURN

Wildcat Freshmen Drop Two Games To Brown 1930 Team And Coburn Classical—Errors Figure Largely in Opponents Scoring—Frosh Away This Weekend

The Blue and White freshman baseball nine sustained two defeats at the hands of Coburn Classical and Brown University freshman nines. Coburn shut out the Frosh, winning by the score of 10 to 0 in Tuesday's game while the Wildcat Cubs were nosed out in Saturday's contest, 5 to 3.

The Brown yearlings took the lead in Saturday's melee when they fell on Smart in the third inning for three runs, the latter retiring from the mound in favor of Winkler who kept their hits well scattered except in two frames. The New Hampshire 1930 team experienced unusual misfortune when they had two base runners cut off at the plate by a close margin which would have evened up the count. The Bruins outthit the Wildcats but only by a small degree, Cullinan and Lynch leading the Blue and White attack.

Failure to hit in the pinches, coupled with nine errors, lost the second game for the freshman diamond players, who faced excellent pitching in Hyde of the Coburn team. Coburn found Winkler for three markers in the first inning on one hit and two errors and repeated again the same score in the third, dividing their attack between Winkler and Dawson, the latter succeeding Winkler in the box. Cullinan contributed well in his fielding at shortstop, accepting nine chances in the two games of the weekend.

The yearlings play away the last part of this week, meeting Coburn at Waterville in a return game tomorrow and Maine freshmen at Orono Saturday. The scheduled contest with M. I. T. Frosh here last Friday was cancelled on account of wet grounds.

PRELUDE

(With heartfelt apologies to poor Rudyard for dragging in his name)

I have eaten my vitamins cooked
And I've drunk my calories hot.
I've stewed and fretted and even sweated,
But lost weight I have not.

Was there aught that I did not do
In rigour or toil or mode
One lesson I skipped, one step I missed—
In my "Physical Culture Code"?

I have struggled throughout my life
For a robust physique's end
In heartfelt guise—but now I'm wise
For now I can't even bend.

—Columbia Jester.

Turn on the sunshine

WHEN Greek or calculus gets you into a tight corner, tie a tin to trouble—a tidy red tin of Prince Albert! Tamp a load of this really friendly tobacco into the bowl of your jimmy-pipe and light up. Watch the sun crash through the clouds with every puff!

P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat, no matter how fast you feed it, because the Prince Albert process gave Bite and Parch the air at the start. Cool as a Laplander's lap. Sweet as apple cider. Fragrant as spring blossoms. That's Prince Albert!

One pipe-load invites another. And . . . you can hit P. A. from morning till midnight and it won't hit back. Don't put off to tomorrow what you can smoke today. Get a tidy red tin of P. A. and turn on the sunshine . . . now!
