Varsity Loses To Bowdoin, 12-7

Black and White Eleven Scores Via Forward Passes

Capt. Dane Taken From Game With Injured Knee—Regali Scores for Wildcats on Plunge Through Right Side of Line

The University of New Hampshire varsity football squad lost its first game last Saturday at the hands of Bowdoin, by a score of 12-7. An intercepted forward pass by Stile piled up 12 points for Bowdoin, a lead that the Wildcat eleven could not overcome.

During the first few minutes of play Bowdoin scored the first touchdown as a result of a series of forward passes from Stiles to Swayer. Bowdoin failed to make the point after the touchdown. From then on until the third period neither team could score. In the last part of the third quarter Stiles intercepted a New Hampshire pass and went over for the second tally of the game. Again Bowdoin failed to score the point after the touchdown, and the period ended with the score favoring Bowdoin 12-0.

During the second period Capt. Dane was taken out of the game with a wrenched knee. Flynn replaced Dane at end. The fourth period saw changes in the New Hampshire backfield. Regali was shifted to halfback, Kelsea went in at fullback, Wilkinson replaced Winkler at half, and Small replaced Reynolds. New Hampshire scored near the end of the game, after a series of line bucks by Wilkinson and Regali. Regali went over for the touchdown. Redden came out of the tackle position and kicked the point after the touchdown. The score was then 12-7, and it remained thus until the final gun.

Regali proved very effective at fullback, and Winkler showed up well

FRESHMAN ELEVEN LOSES TO ST. JOHN'S

Opening Game of Season Results in 31-0 Defeat—Wildcat Cubs Meet Tufts Frosh Here Tomorrow

The freshman football team was defeated by a scrappy St. John's eleven last Saturday at Danvers by the score of 31 to 0, in the opening game for the frosh.

The playing of the freshmen did not seem up to the standard that they had set in the varsity scrimmages, nor was their spirit on a par with that which they had displayed before. The team as a whole lacked fight on the offense, and proved weak on the aerial attack.

Ham, Grigas, and Kelly stood out as individual stars, the former making several long gains before he had to be taken out because of a leg injury. Fontaine, ex-Haverhill High athlete, starred for the victors and also made the feature play when he raced nearly 70 yards for a touchdown.

St. John's started the scoring in the first period with two touchdowns and scored two more in the third and one in the fourth. The summary is as follows:

ST. JOHN'S—Coyl, Cronin, le; Szesz-Kowski, rt; Grant, Waizak, lg; Mulloil, McCarthy, c; Driscoll, rg; Lynch, Swency, Hughes, rt; Cavellri, Corkery, re; Hammond, qb; Fontaine, Manfredo, lb; Bell, rb; Lavin, Donovan, fb.

NEW HAMPSHIRE—Slate, Moody, re; Clapp, Donovan, rt; Grigas, rg; Bagley, Christenson, Higgins, c; Crawford, Ryder, Perkins, lg; Peterson, Knabenshue, lb; Colburn, Sterling, le; Kelly, qb; Ahlgren, Foster, rb; Dresser, Callahan, lb; Nixon, Ham, fb.

DEAN A. N. FRENCH AT EDUCATION MEETING

150 Leading Educators of New England in Conference at Montpelier, Vt.

Dean Alfred N. French of the College of Liberal Arts of the University of New Hampshire and Mr. J. C. Herring of the Department of Education went to Montpelier, Vt., last week to attend the fourth "October Conference," an annual gathering of 150 of the leading educators of New England. President Edward M. Lewis of the University was invited to the meeting but was obliged to decline owing to the press of his duties here. Professor Herring acted as a deputy for Justin O. Wellman, head of the Education Department.

Among the men who were present at the meeting were President Gray of Bates college, the superintendents of public instruction in the six New England States, the six heads of the departments of education, several college presidents, ten deans of colleges of liberal arts, and many secondary school authorities. Fall coloring and all that goes with the present time of year were features of the atmosphere of the meetings. These were held for the past two years at Swampscott and Lake Sunapee, respectively.

The discussions at the meetings are of the "round table" style and no paper nor set speech is required of the members. A question concerning school administration or supervision is handed out by the chairman and is then thrashed out informally by the group. The immediate results of the conference each year, according to Dean French, is to give the educators a forward outlook upon the work of the coming year in the schools of New England.

Dartmouth Wins Soccer Game, 3-2

New Hampshire Loses in Close, Hard-fought Game

Results of First Game Point to Successful Season for Team—Play Clark University at Worcester Tomorrow

The Wildcat soccer team lost its first game of the season last Friday to Dartmouth on the Big Green's home field by the close score of 3-2. The game was hotly contested throughout, and Dartmouth staved off defeat by fast furious play in the emergencies.

The Green team suffered something of a set-back early in the game when two Dartmouth players, Makepeace and Lawrence, were injured and taken from the game. In striving to "head" the ball the two men crashed together, both players being knocked unconscious.

Dartmouth gave New Hampshire the first score when the ball glanced off a Dartmouth's player's leg into the home team's goal. Later Nelson scored for New Hampshire, but the play was recalled by an offside penalty. Cromwell secured the second point in the Wildcat's scoring.

During the middle of the game most of the play was in New Hampshire territory, but the fighting Wildcat defense kept the ball away from the goal most of the time. In the closing minutes of play New Hampshire started a rally and carried the ball far into Dartmouth territory, but the final whistle blew before another goal could be scored. Together the Blue and White aggregation made a vastly better showing than in the corresponding game a year ago, when they suffered a 7-0 defeat, and the prospects for a successful soccer season seem exceptionally bright.

Horses Tested By Dynamometer

Ingenious Machine Finds Actual Pulling Power

Purchased Last Spring by University in Co-operation with Several State Fairs—Used Here Farmer's Week

The dynamometer, a machine used for the testing of the pulling power of teams of horses and oxen, owned by the University of New Hampshire was used last Thursday and Friday at the Union Grange Fair, Plymouth, according to an announcement made here by Dean Frederick W. Taylor of the College of Agriculture. The machine was purchased last spring by the University with the co-operation of the following fairs: Twin State Fair, White River Junction; Pomona Grange Fair, Laconia; Hopkinton Fair, Contoocook; Rochester Fair, Rochester.

The dynamometer, practically unknown to New Hampshire farmers until this year, has attracted a great deal of attention and comment and has brought about some keen competition, in the pulling contests at the various fairs held in the state recently. The best pull was made two weeks ago at the Rochester Fair when a team pulled fifty pounds more than the best pull made at any of the fairs thus far.

The best pull made by a yoke of oxen was also made at the Rochester Fair when a yoke weighing 4,000 pounds exerted a pull of 2,800 pounds for a distance of eight feet. It is quite evident from these tests, according to Dean Taylor, that oxen of considerable weight do not quite equal horses for exerting heavy and sustained draft. He also stated that this machine demonstrates very clearly the value of training and good horsemanship in the pulling of both horses and oxen.

Testing the pulling power of horses and oxen has long been an interesting feature of New Hampshire fair programs and the dynamometer takes the place of the old stone boat used in these contests. This machine which is mounted on a truck operates through a system of weights and pulleys, with cables and hydraulic brakes and will measure in pounds the exact pull which the team exerts.

CAST OF FALL TERM PLAY IS ANNOUNCED

Mask and Dagger Society Brings New Actors on Campus in Leading Roles of "Icebound"

The cast for "Icebound," fall term play of Mask and Dagger, was announced by Professor Hennessy on Monday, and includes many people who are prominent in campus activity. The feminine lead, "Jane Crosby" has been assigned to Dorothy Jones, '30, of Manchester, who will play opposite Arthur Somers, '29, of Gloucester, Mass. in the part of "Ben Jordan" In the assignment of these two parts, Prof. Hennessy will present two people new to Mask and Dagger audiences, neither having appeared in University productions before.

Maurice Waling, as "Henry Jordan," will appear again in a character part which is very difficult to perform successfully. Mr. Waling has played many important parts in other plays, the most notable being his enactment of "Squire Hardcastle," in "She Stoops to Conquer." Gertrude Nye, as "Emma Jordan," has a typical New England part to play, as does Madeline Pickwick, in the role of "Nettie Jordan." Mary Lovell, as "Sadie Fellows," and Dorothy Davis, as "Ella Jordan," will make their debut before the University footlights in this play. The role "Doctor Curtis," played by Malcolm Conant, will also bring a new actor on the boards.

Aline Morin, '30, who played "Mrs. Fisher" in "The Show-off" last year, will be seen as "Hannah." Randolph Wilkinson, football player and potential candidate for mayor, will be seen as "Judge Bradford," and Lyle Farrell, '29, as "Jim Jay."

"Icebound," a comedy-drama of New England life, depends on character development for its proper presentation, and some excellent portrayal is expected in this play's enactment here.

COLLEGE SHOP TO DISPLAY OUT OF TOWN GAME SCORES

Arrangements have been made with the College Shop, of which Brad McIntire, '25, is manager, to have the scores of all varsity contests held away from Durham telephoned to the clothing store. Such an arrangement has been necessary for a long time for it has been very difficult to get the correct score to Durham immediately after the game. False reports of injuries and scores have been prevalent on the campus and it is hoped by the Publicity department that this new plan will do away with conjecture and will install absolute fact in its proper place.

All managers of varsity and freshman teams are now asked to phone the score of the game concerned to the College Shop. Mr. McIntire will post the score where all may read. Important details will be included whenever they seem necessary.

MISS JONES WINS CONCORD NOMINATION

New Hampshire Graduate Will Run Against Mayor Fred N. Marden —Was Outstanding Student Here

H. Gwendolyn Jones, '27, who was graduated from the University last June, became the first feminine mayoralty nominee in the history of the state Tuesday, when she ran second to Mayor Fred N. Marden of Concord in the city's primaries. Miss Jones is an Independent Republican while her three male opponents are Democrats. The results of the voting in the nine city wards are as follows: Marden, 1999; Miss Jones, 1043; E. B. Haskell, 561; Flint, 469. Miss Jones has left Concord for a few days to prepare for her election campaign against Marden.

While in college Miss Jones was very prominent in student affairs, serving as president of the women's student governing body and taking outstanding part in dramatics and debating. She was a member of the Delta Kappa sorority, Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary debating fraternity, and Mask and Dagger, the University dramatic society.

N. H. Team Wins Dairy Judging

First Place Winner for Two Consecutive Years

Contest Held at Springfield Exposition—Many New England Colleges Represented in Competition for Prizes

The University of New Hampshire dairy products judging team returned here recently from the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass., where it won for the second consecutive year the first place in the intercollegiate judging contest which has been an important event at the exposition for the past six years. Since the institution of the contest in 1922, the Granite State University has captured first honors in this event four times, on each occasion winning the right to retain for one year the silver trophy valued at $500.

The New Hampshire boys, Paul W. Hobbs of New Hampton, Eric McNab of East Andover, and George W. Higgins of Salem, competed against teams from six other universities and colleges of the East and their final score was forty-five points better than that of their nearest competitors from the University of Vermont. The products judged were butter, cheese, milk and ice cream and the judges were members of the United States department of agriculture.

In the butter judging part of the event Hobbs won a gold medal for first place among the twenty-one competitors and the New Hampshire team ranked second in ascertaining the value of the milk offered for inspection and were sixth in the ice cream judging.

The teams from the colleges in the event were ranked by an aggregate

More than five hundred fathers of the students of the University are expected to visit the institution Saturday for the third annual "Dad's Day," a regular custom during the fall term. The purpose of the day is to acquaint the fathers of the students with the University and to give them a chance to meet the members of the faculty teaching their sons and daughters. The day is practically the same in program as the "Mothers' Day" which is held every spring term, usually in May.

Although the attendance figure for Saturday's program is at present estimated at 500, the sum total may go considerably above that number since the student body here this year numbers nearly fifteen hundred. The estimate thus far is based upon acceptances of the invitations sent out by the University authority to fathers and guardians of the students.

The occasion will be featured by an address to the assembled Dads by President Edward Morgan Lewis, who will speak to the Dads in the gymnasium after the informal reception which will be tendered them by the members of the Faculty. Other features of the program include a football game on Memorial Field between the varsity teams of Rhode Island State College and New Hampshire, a review by the Dads of the University's Reserve Officer's Training Corps regiment, and a girls' field hockey game.

The Dads will arrive in the morning and will register at the Faculty Club which is to be the headquarters for the day. Tours of the University will be conducted by the members of the faculty and members of the undergraduate body. All classes will be dismissed for the day at 11 o'clock.

MITCHELL REELECTED TO PRESIDENCY OF 1928 CLASS

Frederick B. Mitchell of Manchester was re-elected president of the class of 1928 at a meeting of the senior class held on Monday night. By a vote of the class, the newly-elected officers of the seniors will serve for three years until 1930 when the first class reunion of 1928 is scheduled. Other officers chosen by the senior class are Winifred Soderlund, vice president; Frank Watts, secretary; Lester Brooks, treasurer. Mitchell, who was also president of the 1928 class in his junior year, is varsity manager of football and president of the Theta Chi fraternity. He is senior representative of the student council and a member of the Senior Skulls.

score tallied from the points made by the respective teams in the four contests and the final standings were as follows: University of New Hampshire, first; University of Vermont, second; Massachusetts Agricultural college, third; Connecticut Agricultural college, fourth; Pennsylvania State college, fifth; Rutgers University, sixth; and Syracuse University, seventh. The members of the New Hampshire team are all students in the junior class here and are enrolled in the college of agriculture. The team was accompanied on its trip by Professor Heber F. Depew of the University faculty who coached the men.

ON TO MANCHESTER!

One of the features of the University's annual football season will take place when the varsity meets the Connecticut agricultural college eleven in Manchester a week from Saturday. The encounter will mark the third successive year that the two state institutions have met on the gridiron for the benefit of the Manchester District Nurses' association and the free milk fund.

It is up to the students of the University to make the trip with the team and support the game, not only as followers of the Wildcat football team, but also because a very worthy cause is aided and the Queen city of the state is provided by the game a chance to see the type of student produced at its state university. Needless to say, since we are going to be guests of the city for the day and the eyes of the populace will be on us, special attention should be paid both to conduct at the field and on the streets and in the hotels and restaurants of the city.

We have been commended by Manchester as a city for our conduct at the games during the past three years. President Lewis, in his first term's connection with the University, would doubtless appreciate similar comment this fall.

ON BONFIRES

Giving freshmen as freshmen a chance to get a little exercise and at the same time show their love for their alma mater is all right in theory but we feel that it has been overdone on the campus during the past two weeks. Bonfires after a football victory are a tradition here and should be kept up; but—we blushing—remind our readers—New Hampshire has not as yet won any victories. We're not criticising the football team, but we see no necessity for the two bonfires which have effectively disposed of a couple of cords of wood that might have been put to better use.

Another aspect of this matter of promiscuous fire-lighting lies in the fact that the Indian summer we have been enjoying has apparently passed over and the windy fall days are here. There doesn't seem to be much sense in the idea of burning down East and West Halls and depriving several hundred freshmen of a place to sleep even if a couple of prominent eye sores were removed by the conflagration. Football bonfires are watched until any possible danger from them is past, but these informal ones are another matter. They are too big and too dangerous to be fooled with.

The sincere congratulations of all connected with the University are due Professor Ritzman of the Experiment Station for his recent work connected with the fasting of steers which has attracted national comment and commendation from the scientific world. A detailed report of his findings is published in the current issue of the "Literary Digest."

Attention—Senior men! The following advertisement was received here this week from an authentic source. Suggested as a possible solution of the problem of what to do after graduation:

"Widow with splendid income and alone in the world wishes to meet a refined christian gentleman. Must be sensible with old-fashioned ideas. If you are wealthy do not waste any time with me. If you are poor, good looking, honorable and true, I long to make your acquaintance. Strictly confidential. Write L. N. S., 302 Monmouth St., Gloucester City, N. J."

A well known campus athlete, who is sharing his genetic psychology course, has suggested that a good example of pre-natal influence is the case of the woman physical education instructor who became the mother of dumb bells.

Queer, but the presidents of the junior and senior classes are both gentlemen of auburn locks. The price of henna hair dye has gone up on the campus. Waldemar Tasker and "Puggy" Mullane, as the only light headed men in the sophomore class, seem to be in line for congratulations.

FROM OUR MAIL BOX

October 11, 1927.

To the Editor:—
 Memorial services last Sunday throughout the United States paid tribute, on the anniversary of his birth, to a distinguished son of the State of New Hampshire, Major-General Leonard Wood. No American has served his country in more varied fields.

As a soldier, Leonard Wood proved himself a leader of men and a skilled tactician against Geronimo and his Apaches in the Southwest. He commanded a cavalry regiment at Las Guasimas in Cuba, and a cavalry brigade at San Juan. He directed successful operations against the Moros in the Philippines. As Chief of Staff before the World War, he did much to prepare the Army for its tremendous task in 1917. During the war with Germany, he trained two divisions in the United States, but was denied the opportunity of serving in France.

A medical man by profession, and at one time White House Physician, Leonard Wood was keenly alive to problems of disease. He brought about in Cuba the eradication of yellow fever, and in the Philippines checked the spreading curse of the Islands' leprosy.

As a statesman and colonial administrator, perhaps his greatest work was done. While Military Governor of Cuba, he established a public school system, and laid the foundation for a stable Cuban government. He pacified the rebellious Moros in the Sulu Archipelago. As Governor-General of the Philippines, he strove to prepare the people of the Islands for self-government, to further education, and to bring about improved conditions of sanitation and health.

The Granite State has produced for the nation great men; none of them was a more devoted public servant than was Leonard Wood.

"I Do Not Choose to Run" Are Famous Last Words of Silent Bill Burke

By Frederic H. Smith, '29

In a private interview granted at his residence last Tuesday, William Michael Burke, local political highlight, and strong candidate for mayor of Durham in last year's elections, gave out the following statement: "I do not choose to run for mayor in 1927." In making this statement, Burke refused to give any reasons, except to remark that he was quite ill after his strenuous lecture tour last year, and feels that a similar strain at this time would be fatal.

The decision comes as a surprise to local politicians, who looked to him for a great campaign this year. R. Rabbit Reynolds, Burke's manager, and party leader of the Durham Democrats, has manifested his opinion in a statement which was issued immediately following Burke's: "Of course, Mr. Burke's declining to run for office this year severely disturbs our plans for the coming campaign, but we have not been entirely unaware of this turn of affairs, and have therefore considered other good men who might be capable of filling Burke's shoes. This, (it will be universally acknowledged), is an almost impossible task for any man, and therefore requires some one possessing a very broad foundation and outlook. We have narrowed our choice down to two or three prominent local men, and will announce the selection very soon."

Friends of Mr. Burke have asked this newspaper to inform its readers that Burke, possessing much more originality than Mr. Coolidge of Vermont, was really the first to make use of the now famous statement: "I do not choose to run, etc.," and that he has been using the sentence in conversational and athletic circles for three years. The only known time when he has failed to remember this resolution was in the apple season of 1925, when he was found in the University orchard by the night watchman.

Note—The above is the first of a series of articles on local political aspirants who may be contenders in the coming mayoralty campaign. Next week THE NEW HAMPSHIRE hopes to be able to present to its readers a statement from "Honest Joe" Wilkinson. All dark horses are requested to announce their candidacy to the editor within the next two weeks in order that the latter may extend their sympathy and cooperation.

TO THE ALUMNI

Very soon the library hopes to have a public afternoon for special exhibits. One of the most interesting of these will be photographs of our boys in the World War, which they sent to "Aunt Lottie" during those dreadful years.

This collection should be completed, as it will finally belong to the library. If you should be in it and are not, will you please send your photograph, preferably in uniform, with any detail as to your place or work in the service.

If any boy who did not return, has friends who can give this photograph, it will be gratefully received. Write to me without delay and I will tell you whether it is missing or not.

ROBERT STARKE PRESIDENT

Robert J. Starke of Lawrence, Mass., was elected president of the junior class at a meeting held in Thompson hall last Thursday evening. Other officers chosen were Lloyd Atwood, vice-president, Marjorie Dahlberg, secretary, Harlan McIntire, treasurer, and Lois Tompkins, representative on the social committee.

Starke is news editor of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, treasurer of Iota Chi, the honorary journalistic society, a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, and was recently elected to Book and Scroll, the University literary society. During his freshman year he made numerals in football and baseball.

LIBRARY NEWS

A gift of approximately seventy-five volumes was given to the library this summer by the Hispanic Society of America, whose object is to promote a better understanding and thus better relationships between Spain and America. The collection consists of rare Spanish manuscripts, books on Latin America, illustrated booklets on Spanish art, tapestry, architecture, metal work, glass, and majolica or pottery. Some of these booklets contain reproductions of Velasquez's works and of other Spanish artists; also of some of Spain's famous palaces and buildings such as the Alhambra, the Royal Palace of Madrid, the Cathedral Burgois, and the Monastery of Guadalupe.

Alumni Notes

Alumni Office—Well, the first home football game of the season is over and although we haven't an awful lot to cheer about, we are somewhat hopeful of better luck in the other games. You had better make your plans to be back here in Durham on HOME-COMING DAY, which is set for the fifth of November. The varsity plays Tufts on Memorial Field and we can promise a good game for you. We will be all settled down with lots of receipt books in the Faculty Club all day, and will be prepared to take care of your Alumni Dues. You will enjoy HOME COMING so much more if you have paid your dues. You won't be bothered by your conscience, and you won't be avoiding the Alumni Secretary. Better send that check or money order to the Alumni Office now.

Our news is holding out pretty well, but we are almost at a loss what to do with this column when the news item slips are used up. Can you help us out? Scrape up a little news somewhere and send it to us, will you? Thanks.

Alumni Secretary.

FIRST RUSH PARTIES HELD BY SORORITIES

Pan-Hellenic Forbids Freshmen Visiting Sorority Members at Rooms or Houses

At a recent meeting of Pan-Hellenic it was voted that sorority girls might visit freshmen and transfers, but freshmen girls and transfers cannot call on sorority members in their rooms or at their houses except on the special days assigned to the sororities by Pan-Hellenic.

The first rush party of the year was given by the Delta Kappa sorority on Wednesday, October 5 in the Highland House at Packer's Falls. It was in the form of a Halowe'en party.

Phi Mu sorority gave the second rush party Saturday at the Amesbury country club with a Rainbow party as its specialty.

The first house party of the year was held when Sigma Omicron spent the week-end at Highland House in Packer's Falls. The members of the sorority walked out directly after the Bowdoin game to remain until Sunday night. Dr. Naomi Ekdahl, a patroness, accompanied them. Boating, tennis, croquet, dancing, and stunts, all had their place on the program. The alumnae in attendance were Emily Simmons, '27, of Boston; Elizabeth White, '27, of Farmington; and Bernice Rowe, '27, of Brentwood.

Rhode Island Here Dad's Day

Probable Lineup Differs From That of Bowdoin

Captain Dane's Injury May Keep Him From Game—Third Contest of Year to Feature Program of Dad's Day

The University of New Hampshire football team plays its third game of the season Saturday afternoon, when the Wildcat eleven clashes with Rhode Island in their annual engagement. With 500 or more "Dads" as interested spectators, and the benefits of the experience furnished by the past two games, the Blue and White eleven should be a more smoothly working football machine than it was in the first two games of the season. During the past week much time has been spent in ironing out the rough spots that were brought to light in the Bowdoin game. The injury to Capt. Dane presented a new problem to Coach Cowell, but a solution has been made, and it will get a trial Saturday. Capt. Dane will be greatly hampered by his injured knee and there is some doubt as to whether or not he will see service in the Rhode Island game. Kelsea will probably return to his old position at end with Roy as his "wingmate." Walls and Farland should be at tackle while Bianchi and Farrell will probably start in the guard's positions. Flynn may see service at guard during the game. Wettergreen will retain the pivot position.

There may be slight changes in the backfield with Regali in the fullback position and either Reynolds or Small at quarter. The question of halfbacks is yet unsettled with Winkler, Rogers, Shea, Tyler and Paolino making strong bids for the positions. Saturday should see a different brand of football on the part of the Wildcat eleven. The "greenness" of the squad is beginning to wear away, and the experience furnished by the Colby and Bowdoin games should be a great help to the squad. During the past week intensive practice has been carried out with the anticipation of a victory Saturday against Rhode Island.

P.A. is some little cheer-leader

EVERY pipe is a Sunny Jimmy-pipe when it's packed with P.A. The tidy red tin chases the blues—and how! Why, you feel better the instant you open the tin and get that marvelous P. A. aroma. Every chore becomes a cheer, and you're sitting on top of the world.

Then you load up and light up. That taste—that never-to-be-forgotten, can't-get-too-much-of-it taste! Cool as a cut-in from the stag-line. Sweet as retaliation. Mild and mellow and long-burning, with a balanced body that satisfies, right to the bottom of the bowl.

You find that P. A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat, no matter how often you stoke and smoke. Get on the sunny side of life with a pipe and P. A. Buy a tidy red tin today and make the personal test. Pipes were born for tobacco like this.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.
