

President Lewis Given Reception

Speaks at Bonfire in Center of Student Body

Procession Led up and down Main Street by University Band—Affair Sponsored by Student Council

Mid the ringing of bells and the booming of cannon, President Lewis was escorted from his house last evening to meet the student body who had gathered to give him an informal reception.

The students met in front of the Commons at 6:30, and led by the University band proceeded up the Main street, coming to a halt in front of the president's house. The president was enthusiastically received and placed in the "Tom Thumb" carriage which was drawn up and down the street by students. It was this same carriage in which Ex-President Hetzel was drawn by the students from the station to his house on his return from the signing of the Mill Tax law. The first Mayor of Durham was its occupant at the time of the Maine-New Hampshire game a year ago.

The procession next made its way to bonfire hill, where the bonfire which the freshmen had prepared the night before, was lighted. When the bonfire was burning brilliantly, President Lewis made a short speech of (Continued on Page 2)

FARRELL AMONG SPEAKERS AT MANCHESTER BANQUET

Lyle Farrell, varsity football captain-elect, spoke last evening at a banquet given by the Manchester high school football team, claimants of the New England championships, in honor of Coach Hubert McDonough. Among the other guests of honor invited were Captain-elect Fishwick of Yale, Capt. Charles Pratt of Harvard, Capt. Bob McPhail of Dartmouth, and Charles Murphy, Boston College end.

Eighteen Freshman Numerals Awarded in Football—Eight Yearling Champion Hill-and-Dalers Win 1931 Numerals

"Nine football letters were awarded last week to members of the team who had shown real football ability during the past season" reads the statement issued by Head Coach Cowell. "Although the season was the most disastrous ever suffered by a New Hampshire team, the awards were not based on the wins and losses on the record of the Wildcat aggregation. The season just finished was a most peculiar one, and the Executive Committee of the Athletic Association were in a quandary as to the best manner of awarding the letters.

"Inasmuch as there was no first team at any time during the season, but an attempt at selecting a team which would give its best in each individual game, the awards were not based on the amount of participation of the respective players in the games. Football ability as indicated by attitude during the season, regard for training rules and football spirit was the basis of awarding the coveted letters."

GLEE CLUBS READY FOR ANNUAL CONCERT

Preparations Complete for Presentation of Difficult Program Variety of Carefully Selected Numbers—Carols, Choruses, and Solos

The combined Glee Clubs of the University have completed preparations, and the annual Christmas music is in readiness for presentation at the Community church on Sunday at 4.15 and on Monday at 8.15 o'clock.

The concert has been faithfully prepared and Professor Manton is very enthusiastic over the success of the clubs in being able to present such a difficult and pleasing program before the music lovers of the community. "The combined clubs number over 150 voices and the parts are exceptionally well balanced for a college group."

Harris F. Shaw, of the department of music, and Roland E. Partridge will assist the clubs in the concert. This affair has become one of the leading presentations of classical music in this section of the state with attendance from several nearby cities.

DAVIS ENTERTAINS WITH CLEVER TRICKS

Shows Many New Tricks—Mrs. Vernon Mangun and Roland E. Partridge Present Solo Numbers—Entertainment Second Feature on Lyceum Program

Those who attended the performance of Mr. Richard Davis, "The Man Who Mystifies", last evening, with the intention of unravelling his dark tangled skein of mystery, were sadly disappointed and remained in complete bewilderment throughout the evening. The faculty showed no signs of being wiser than the most astonished, wide-eyed, freshman, as the mystery man went through his repertoire of baffling tricks.

His exhibitions were not the same old sleight-of-hands presented over and over by lesser magicians. Those of the audience who witnessed his performance here at summer school last July experienced the same thrill produced at his initial appearance. His popularity and reputation of being one of the foremost American magicians are the result of a carefully prepared program containing a variety of tricks accompanied by a clever line of jest, which with the addition of an elaborate paraphernalia and stage equipment bring surprising developments.

His outstanding feats were the famous trunk trick, lighting fire in water, the disappearance of a birdcage while held in the hands of a member of the audience, hatching chickens from eggs frying in a pan, and roses springing from a horn. His card tricks created much amusement as well as astonishment.

The appearance of Mr. Davis constitutes one of the most enjoyable features of the University Lyceum Course program. A further elaboration of the evening's entertainment were solo numbers by Mrs. Vernon E. Mangun and Roland E. Partridge, members of the faculty.

ENGLISH SCHOLARS TO MAKE DICTIONARY

Dr. A. E. Richards and Prof. H. H. Scudder to Submit Word Lists to New Dictionary of American English

Members of the English Department have recently received a communication concerning the "Dictionary of American English" which is to be published under the editorship of Prof. W. A. Craigie, an English scholar, now at the University of Chicago. The dictionary will be modeled on the famous "New English Dictionary," and the editor is making an appeal to all scholars throughout the country to assist in collecting examples of American words, phrases, and idioms, the material to be gathered from sources extending as far back as the seventeenth century. Dr. Alfred E. Richards and Prof. Horace H. Scudder of the English Department, who have already signified their intentions of making lists of such words, wish also to enlist the assistance of the students.

BLEWETT, FORMER HOCKEY STAR, ASSISTANT COACH

Edward Y. Blewett of the Administration staff of the University of New Hampshire and star goalie on the Wildcats 1926 hockey team will join Coach Ernest W. Christensen as assistant coach when the latter gets his puck chasers on the ice. Blewett was an outstanding collegiate netman while at college and last winter played for a while with the University Club of Boston.

Director Kendall Opens Conference With Address

Mr. Hochbaum Presents Plan for Advertising—Dr. Black of Harvard, Miss Davis of Massachusetts Agricultural College Talk on Rural Nutrition

The first meeting of the conference of county extension agents which is being held in Durham this week, was opened Tuesday morning by Director J. C. Kendall, who delivered a talk emphasizing the importance of developing the community extension organizations. Following Mr. Kendall, Mr. H. W. Hochbaum, of the United States Department of Agriculture, presented to the members of the conference a plan for advertising their work in much the same manner as is done by all advertising agencies to-day. He stressed the vital fact that people are usually educated through their wants instead of their needs and it was the duty of the extension agents to present their ideas from this working basis.

On Wednesday, talks were delivered by Dr. J. C. Black, of Harvard University, on the problems of agricultural economics; by Miss Esther Davis, of the Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station, on the results of a survey of rural nutrition habits; and by Miss Ella Gardner, of the United States Children's Bureau.

This morning's program consisted of separate conferences of the agricultural agents, the home demonstration agents, and the club agents, as well as a talk on co-operation with the State Board of Health. A luncheon at the University Commons with President Lewis and followed by a general discussion conclude the conference tomorrow.

The Student Council, at a meeting held Monday afternoon adopted the new point system for student activities to replace the old one which caused so much dissension earlier in the term. President Ned Elliott of the council stated that this system covers all situations that will arise in the near future, and it allows a large degree of leniency in activity.

The essential change in the system is that it divides activities into a major and minor grouping.

The new arrangement is as follows:

Durham Paupers Trip the Light Fantastic Clad in Beggars' Rags

By Jane Blake '29
Shades of the Bowery brawl! May the venerable Grangers not turn over in their graves for the desecration done the totter-pillars of the home of their faith last Saturday evening in the Poverty Ball held by the Theta Chi fraternity.

The title of the "toughest man in town" is still undecided, due to the close competition; sufficient to say that everyone looked his worst, and even the fair co-eds couldn't be handed a thing for appearances. To the tune of the "Dead March" between rows of silent and reverently uncovered mourners, the coffin of John Barleycorn was brought in by the bearers, headed by the chief mourner, and remained the object of attention during the evening, though not seriously dampening the spirits (which happened to be cider). For protection, the orchestra (no names mentioned) took refuge in a cage of chicken wire; but then, they "did their damndest", and anyway they were't recognizable. They probably "had reasons".

Two very daring youths tried to "steal all the stuff" of the co-eds, and we hand 'em credit—they did a "swell" job. One couple nearly "brought down the house" when they inconsiderately slipped on the five pounds of cornmeal with which the committee so thoughtfully decorated the floor. A perpetual gum-chewing contest was in progress most of the time, and again the winner hasn't been announced, although we strongly suspect which sex it was. It isn't safe to mention many of the placards and pictures which so elegantly expressed the sentiments of the party, because of their personal and pertinent nature—it wouldn't be fair!

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Perley I. Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hill, and Prof. and Mrs. Norman Alexander. The committee in charge was headed by the president of the fraternity, Fred Mitchell, assisted by Hugh English and Ray Sawyer.

BELATED WELCOME

Last spring when the Board of Trustees chose President Lewis to head the University we assured him in these columns of "a hearty welcome and loyal support." We have been a trifle late in our external manifestation of these sentiments, but last evening's demonstration was none the less sincere on this account.
 President Lewis is now our leader, officially and actually. We have met him and we like and respect him and trust that he realizes that we will do all in our power to support his policies and profit by his leadership.

FOOTBALL LETTER AWARDS

In regard to the recent decision of the Executive Committee of the Athletic Association to award only nine letters to members of the varsity football team of the University, we are heartily in accordance with all the views expressed by the Student Council and published in this issue. We realize that the committee is acting for what it believes to be the best interests of the University and we feel that the decision was in most respects a wise one. We do not feel, however, that the committee is justified in withholding the reasons for its decision from the student body.

Such a radical change from the customary routine of things as our present football situation is bound to cause comment and criticism. Such comment has been forthcoming from all parts of New England since the decision was announced. The committee was elected by the athletic association of which all students at the University are members. The students consequently have a right to know the reason for such action on the part of their committee if only that they may be able to combat accusations such as the one already advanced: that New Hampshire plays football merely to win games and does not believe in being liberal to

PROF. W. B. CATLIN OF BOWDOIN TALKS HERE

Professor Warren B. Catlin of Bowdoin College, one of the best known authorities on Economics in the country, lectured to the students of the Economics department of the university Monday afternoon upon the topic "Labor Conditions in Great Britain". Professor Catlin was secured as a speaker by Professor Harry Smith, head of the department of Economics, who will give a return talk at Bowdoin sometime during the winter term.

Professor Catlin is author of "The Labor Problem" considered one of the best of the modern economics publications. The book is used as a text in the labor problems classes conducted by the College of Liberal Arts. The talk was primarily for those students taking economics, but was open to all students who wished to attend.
 Professor Catlin outlined the labor conditions in England beginning with the "General Strike" of a few years ago and continuing through the reform of the House of Lords. He also spoke of unemployment insurance and women voting laws.

BOOK AND SCROLL PLANS COMING YEAR'S PROGRAMS

Book and Scroll, honorary literary society of the university, met to choose a program for the year Monday evening at the Alpha Xi Delta house. Mr. Edward Y. Blewett, secretary of the alumni association and director of publicity, spoke at some length on the subject, "How Books Are Made".

Several tentative programs for the year were submitted by Stewart N. Weston, '28. The society plans to bring a noted speaker to the campus for public meetings at least once a term, since the recent lecture by Mr. John C. Minot was a decided success. The next meeting will be devoted to a discussion of poetry, contrasting the modern with older forms.

der Group A of Major Positions are entitled to participation in one varsity sport. Under Group B, the participant is authorized to hold two minor positions besides one major position in this group;—or, he may hold two of these Group B major positions, without any Minors. A person may hold four minor positions without any majors.

losing elevens. We do not feel that the demand of the students is uncalled for or unreasonable or in any way disparaging to the committee.

Personally, because of confidential conversations with Coach Cowell and Captain Dane, we know why certain men received letters and others did not, but we are not authorized to make this knowledge public. Such airing of individual cases to the campus may prove unwise. We can make no comment on this. Our job as we see it is to express the views of the student body in so far as it is possible to do so and the students are very obviously clamoring for an explanation. Matters now rest with the committee.

By Frederick H. Smith

In regard to several campus matters that have come under comment during the last two weeks, we would like to quote an old one,—“The fellow who is pulling the oars hasn't time to rock the boat.”

We saw an interesting example of true fraternity spirit at the evening church services last Sunday. A half-dollar entered and left the collection plate four times during the plate's passage through a row of "brothers", and the coin was finally returned to the original donor. "All the brothers were valiant."

We have received a report that there is to be another and similar column to augment the efforts of this one during Spring term. It will be called "West of the Smokestack" and will deal totally with events in College Woods.

We note that the Student Council contribution box which was placed in The New Hampshire office by Ned Elliott has remained singularly empty to date. This means either that the students are not interested in the work of their student council or that they refuse to cooperate with it to the extent of making comments and criticisms of the work being done.

According to Professor Hennessy several seats were left empty at the first performance of "Icebound" last week and more than seventy-five people were turned away because of a lack of room during the other two performances. He has asked us to point out this fact and urges that more students patronize the opening performance.

Women To Have Training Rules

Athletic Association Meets in Murkland Hall

Committee Chosen to Make Regulations Governing Intramural Basketball Games to be Played in the Winter

The women's athletic association has decided to draw up training rules for those girls who are candidates for class teams or take any active part in athletics. At the monthly meeting held in Murkland auditorium, Thursday, December 2, the president, Muriel Steeves, '28, chose a committee to make the first draft of the rules, which will go into effect next term. On the committee are Mildred Fifield, '28, Marjorie West, '29, and Mildred Corey, '29.

A committee was also chosen to make regulations governing the girls' intramural basketball games to be held during the winter. The association has adopted a silver pin for the Juniors and Seniors who have earned 300 points and for the Freshmen and Sophomores who have earned 500 points in athletics.

The meeting took up questions which may be discussed at the eastern sectional conference of American college women. New Hampshire University will send a representative to this conference, to be held at Mt. Holyoke College in the spring.

The local association has subscribed to "The Sportsman", a magazine devoted to women's athletic activities, which is to be placed in the library, according to Miss Steeves.

LIEUTENANT A. F. GILMORE COMMISSIONED CAPTAIN

According to an announcement made by Major Hugo E. Pitz, U. S. A., professor of military science and tactics at the University, Lieutenant Arthur F. Gilmore of the Coast Artillery Corps, an instructor in the department, was commissioned captain by the War Department last week. The promotion is to take effect immediately.

Captain Gilmore, a graduate of the University of Vermont, has been in the regular army for several years and held the temporary rank of captain during the World War. He was ordered to the staff of the military department here in July 1925.

PROFESSORS ATTEND EDUCATION MEETING

Professor Wellman, Dr. Mangun, Dr. Eckdahl, Mr. Herring, Among Those Present. Address by General P. I. Rees

Four members of the Education Department attended the meeting of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at the Hotel Statler, Boston last Friday and Saturday. They are Professor Wellman, Doctor Mangun, Doctor Eckdahl, and Mr. Herring. One of the outstanding talks of the meeting was given by General P. I. Rees, Assistant Vice-President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The subject of the address dealt with college men in business. General Rees' remarks were based upon results of investigations which the Company has been making over a period of thirty years and which comprise over three thousand instances. In the main the results have shown that college has a very distinct contribution towards the success of its graduates in the business world.

An interesting fact brought out by General Rees is that for the first fifteen years after graduation a technology man has the advantage over a liberal arts man, whereas after this period the arts graduate gains the advantage. Their benefits, however, average nearly equal.

The association voted two propositions of interest to the University. The constitution was amended so as to provide for institutional membership in addition to individual membership. The second item is the approval of a proposition to reduce college entrance requirements from fifteen to twelve "prescribed and limited elective units to be earned entirely within the senior high school" in conjunction with the three year senior high school and three year junior high school plan.

acknowledgement and appreciation. Then the students, led by student cheer-leader Paul Johnson, gave several cheers with a long New Hampshire for President Lewis. All of the songs, including the latest one, written by "Duke" Blewett '26, were sung, several of them more than once. The informal reception was closed, as is the usual case with all campus gatherings of this type, by the singing of Alma Mater.

The reception was sponsored by the Student Council. Its object was to cement the relations between the president and student body through better understanding.

captained the 1924 football team. He has played guard on the New Hampshire varsity for the past two seasons. Before entering preparatory school, Farrell played tackle on his high school eleven at New London, Conn., and played the same position on the freshman team here in the fall of 1925.

Farrell is one of the most active students at the University. He is 160 lb. boxing champion of the University and made a varsity letter in the sport last winter. He also played on the varsity baseball team last spring. Farrell majors in English and was a member of the varsity debating team last winter. He is an honor student and last week took part in the cast of "Icebound", the fall term production of Mask and Dagger.

Alumni News

Alumni Office—Last week we said something regarding Alumni support of policies, when the Alumni felt that said policies were worth while. We also said that if the Alumni deemed certain measures and projects not worth the time and money spent on them, it was up to the Alumni to exercise their privileges of suggestion and criticism.

This is the first year that the University has organized the Publicity work on a definite basis. Heretofore, this work has been done as part of the work of the President's Office. With the growth of the University and the increase of duties of the Executive Secretary, the Trustees deemed it advisable to handle the news in some other way.

Your Alumni Secretary cares for the news handling of the institution together with the Alumni work. We think that we have improved and increased the amount of space in the various daily and weekly papers but we are not satisfied. You Alumni can play a large part in this publicity work. How? Well, here are a few suggestions.

The various papers should be told that they have readers who want to see news of New Hampshire. These newspapermen are anxious to know what their readers want to find in their columns. If you would like to have more news in your favorite sheet, drop the Managing Editor a line telling him your wants. If your paper runs a great deal of New Hampshire news, write him and show that you appreciate his efforts. Remember, that the space is dependent on the demand. We will give them all the news they want, but we want them to run all that we send them. That part of the story is up to you folks. Are you satisfied, or would you like to read more New Hampshire news?

The marriage of Frank Walker and Miss Alice Forbes of Manchester, N. H., has recently been announced. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are making their home in Boston, where Frank is with the Westinghouse Company.

Kenneth E. Gordon, better known as "Stub", who has been with the General Electric at their Lynn plant, is now connected with the C. H. Tenney Company of Boston as an engineer.

2 Year 1917

We are very sorry to learn of the death of Charles W. Poland, a member of the two year class of 1917 and a member of Zeta Epsilon Zeta. Mr. Poland was killed in an automobile accident at Hyannis, Mass., on the evening of Nov. 23, 1927. He is survived by a wife and two children. Mr. Poland was greatly interested in New Hampshire and his friends and classmates will regret his passing.

The Philadelphia club will meet at the Electric club in Philadelphia Friday, December 9 at 6:30 to elect officers for the coming year. A dinner will be served before the business meeting which will begin at 8 o'clock.

"Duke" Blewett, '26, Alumni Secretary and Publicity Director for the University of New Hampshire, spoke concerning alumni news. There were 42 members present. Pres. W. E. Britton, '93, state entomologist of Connecticut presided. Among the speakers of the evening were E. M. Stone, '92, first vice-president of the Alumni Association, A. R. Merrill, '04, of the Extension Service at Connecticut Agricultural college and "Tom" Bailey, '12.

The officers elected were President A. R. Merrill, '04 of Storrs, who was appointed to represent the Connecticut branch at the Advisory Council meeting in Durham at Commencement; vice-president, Helen B. Donahue, '20, of Bridgeport; sec.-treasurer, J. A. Manter, '12, of the Connecticut Agricultural college.

On the high seas of industry

NORSEMEN of old roamed the seas and boasted of the strange worlds they saw. But today Bell telephone men are discovering worlds a glimpse of which would make the Viking gasp with wonder.

Whether exploring the realm of submarine cable or the sub-microscopic world of electrons or the unsolved equations of efficient management and broader service, telephone men are seeking and finding intellectual adventure.

To men of this type it is reassuring to know that the telephone industry, in spite of the amazing progress it has made in a few short years, is yet far from its ultimate development.

ball team took the first game of the final round to determine the university interfraternity court champions. The next game of the series will be played this afternoon at 4.15 at the men's gymnasium, with a third possible game Saturday if the Phi Mu Deltas come out victorious today.

In Tuesday's battle, the Phi Mu Deltas led at half-time by the score of 8 to 6, but the A. T. O.'s opened up a strong scoring offense in the final half to pile up the lead of 20 to 8, holding the losers scoreless. Patch was the high light of the winners, while Dawson contributed most of the points for the Phi Mu Deltas.

NECKER ATTENDS ANNUAL MEETING OF ENGINEERS

Edward Necker was the representative of the University of New Hampshire at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers which took place at New York City Wednesday. Necker is a member of the student branch of the society which was instituted here several years ago.

The fact that Necker was picked to represent the University is a compliment to the quality of the work he is doing as a student in the College of Technology. In addition to excelling as a scholar, Necker is 175 lb. boxing champion of the University and captain of the varsity boxing team. He is also a member of the varsity track team and president of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

MRS. PAINE HOSTESS AT KAPPA SIGMA TEA DANCE

Mrs. Ralph D. Paine was hostess at the first tea dance given this fall by the Kappa Sigma fraternity Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kendall and Lieut. and Mrs. A. F. Gilmore were guests of the fraternity. Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. Gilmore poured. The Red Rambler orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Frederick Mitchell, '28, Ralph Fowler, '29, Paul Johnson, '27, William Greenough, '28, Wallace Nelson, '29, and Stewart Weston, '28, were also guests of the fraternity.

You'll like P.A. — and how!

OPEN a tidy red tin of Prince Albert and give your olfactory nerve a treat. Never have you met an aroma that had so much come-and-get-it. Some fragrance, Fellows. And that's just a starter. Load up and light up. . . .

Cool as final exams. Sweet as passing. Mild as cafe au lait — mild, but with that rich, full-bodied flavor that bangs your smoke-gong right on the nose on every fire-up. You'll like this long-burning Prince Albert in the bowl of a pipe. And how!

One of the first things you notice about P.A. is that it never bites your tongue or parches your throat, no matter how wide you open the smoke-throttle. It is one tobacco that never wears out its welcome. You can stoke and smoke to your heart's content, with P.A. for packing. Get some Prince Albert now and get going!

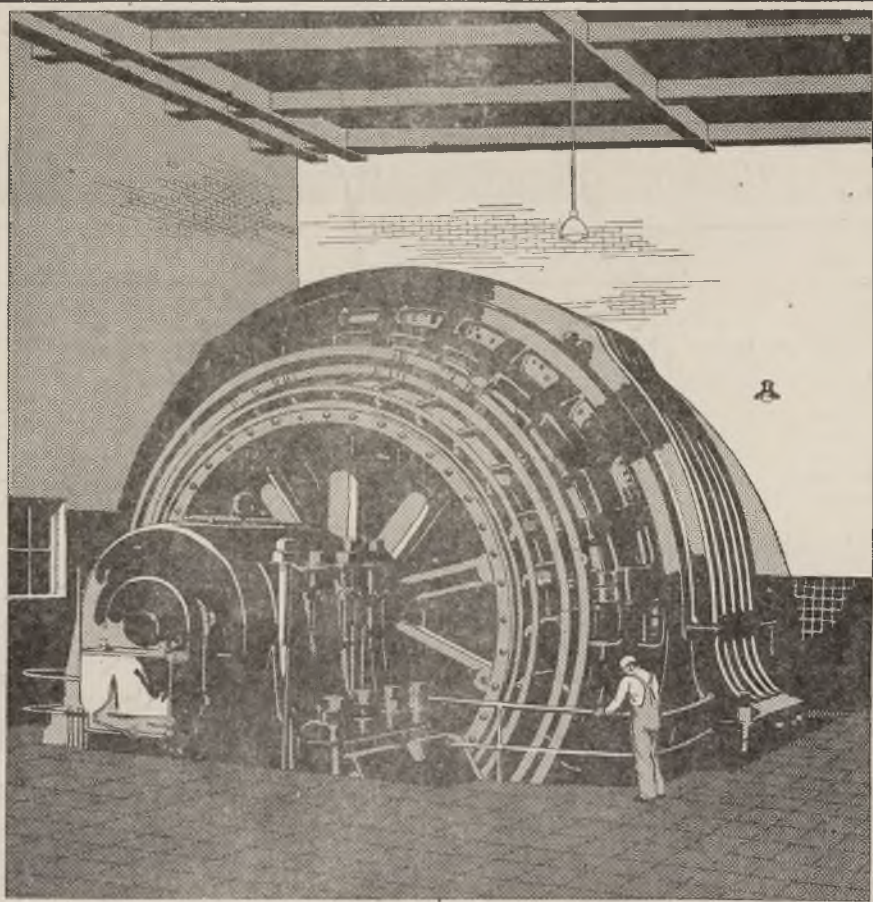

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

The Homestead Steel Mills

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

STAND on the hill-top near Homestead, Pennsylvania, and look out over the Carnegie Steel Company's vast works. Your eye falls on a huge new building, covering 30 acres. It is the structural steel department, and here electricity performs every mechanical operation in steel rolling from the soaking pits on through to the shipping department. This Homestead electrification, predominantly Westinghouse, is one of the most notable in history — notable because of the number and size of the motors employed and notable because of new features of automatic control introduced for the first time.

This is a type of engineering that only an organization of the size and resources of Westinghouse can undertake. Achieving the stupendous, the never-before-undertaken, is not rare here. Hence young men of capacity, of enterprise, of genius, are offered much to challenge their imaginations and abilities.

In one unit of the Homestead Mill is a reversing motor rated at 8,000 h.p. and 40 r.p.m. (pictured above), the largest single-armature motor ever built. This motor and all the mill accessories are controlled by two men. They maneuver steel ingots as heavy as 30,000 lbs. There is a total of 336 motors in the new mill, of which 49,000 h.p. are main roll drive motors and 50,935 h.p. are auxiliaries.
