American Square Dance, June 2009
Randy Boyd,

Some years back, I had a teen square dance club in Juneau, Alaska. I was the caller and teacher and sometimes the transporter of my charges. There were three or four preteen boys in my van one evening as I was taking them home after lessons. They had helped me load the equipment and then they piled into the van. As we were going down the road, I decided to turn on that month’s tape of new square dance music that came from Hanhurst’s. (Here they were seat-belted in my vehicle and I could expand their musical experience beyond their radio and MTV choices, was my thinking.) After a few selections had played featuring some of our well-known national callers, the boy in the front seat looked at me and said that he was very surprised to hear that, “men called too.”

Needless to say, it made my day.

Paul Place Memorial Dance
For The Paul Place Scholarship

On Saturday, May 2, 2009 a memorial dance took place in Daytona Beach, Florida, to honor Paul Place, a dedicated and supportive member of CALLERLAB for more than 25 years. The dance was hosted by the Dixie Squares of Daytona Beach, with their caller, John Swindle, and round dance instructor, Irene Knapp-Smith, programming the dance with callers and cuers in attendance.

The dance was well attended with callers and cuers from around the state of Florida. The following callers and cuers donated their time and calling skills to make sure the dancers in attendance would have a memorable evening; Whit Brown, Sonny McCartney, Roland Morin, Bob Poyner, Jerry Reed, Bob Stern, John Swindle and Bob Wilson; the cuers: George and Irene Knapp-Smith, Dick and Darleen Nordine, Pete and Jan Shankle. We would like to thank all callers and cuers for their support. A special thanks goes to Linda Place, Paul’s widow who drove from Auburn, Alabama, to support the efforts of this dance.

Each caller as they took their turn at the mic honored Paul’s memory with a tale or two of their association with Paul (it seems Paul got lost quite a bit on his way to dances). Jerry Reed, Executive Secretary of the Foundation, explained the purpose of the Foundation and the scholarship programs. The terms of the Paul Place Memorial Scholarship are available through CALLERLAB and the Foundation. New callers or seasoned callers may apply for assistance from the Foundation to attend a CALLERLAB Caller-Coach Accredited Callers School. Applications are available online at www.callerlah.org.

The Traveling Hoedowners of Orlando made a donation from the proceeds of the teaching DVDs they sell.

The dance, to honor Paul, was the project of and promoted by Lili-Ann and Jim Gallagher in association with the Dixie Squares of Daytona Beach. The Paul Place Memorial Dance came about as a result of CALLERLAB Member, Larry Belcher of Alabama, a friend of Paul’s. Larry planted the seed and through the efforts of many dancers and others the dance became a reality.

The Paul Place Scholarship is administered by the CALLERLAB Foundation. The dance in Daytona Beach raised more than $1640 for this scholarship. Other donations ($45) had been received by the Foundation prior to the dance, bringing the total to $1685. We are very pleased and proud with the efforts of all the dancers, callers and cuers in Florida and elsewhere for their support and attendance at this dance.
If you have not made your plans yet, it is not too late; the 58th National Square Dance Convention in Long Beach, California, is coming up on June 24 through June 27. Many dancers that I know are going early as there are Trail End Dances galore. There are going to be dance parties, parties, cruises, tours, tourist stops and visits to vacation sites, and oh yes, there will be one great square dance convention. Callers and Cuers from all over the world will assemble under one roof in Long Beach, California, calling or cuing just for the purpose of entertaining us and guiding us along the dance floors. There are 18 dance halls, with levels from Mainstream to Challenge, plus three Round Dance Halls, Clogging and Contra Halls for nothing less than pure enjoyment. One of the Mainstream Halls will feature the world Famous Ghost Riders Band for Square Dancing to a live band. There will be workshops at all levels, and Round Dance teaches at all levels. At any National Square Dance Convention there is something for everyone. There are exhibitions, showcases, vendors, fashion shows, and most of all a lot of dancing. At a National Square Dance Convention we will meet with fellow dancers from all over the world and across the United States most of whom we only see once a year. I also have to add a shameless plug for the 58th National Convention Callers School, co-sponsored by Grand Square, Inc., where the GSI Callers School provides (at no charge) a full CALLERLAB Curriculum Callers School. This years instructors feature the following caller coaches: Jon Jones (Accredited CALLERLAB Caller Coach), Deborah Carroll-Jones (Accredited CALLERLAB Caller Coach), Vernon Jones, Jerry Story (Accredited CALLERLAB Caller Coach), Jerry Jestin, Tony Oxendine (Accredited CALLERLAB Caller Coach), Ken Ritucci, (Accredited CALLERLAB Caller Coach). It is probably too late to register for this incredible and free program, but a great thank you for all of these callers who actually donate their time and talents helping new and experienced callers. Fellow dancers, this year’s National Square Dance Convention will be one fun filled adventure and we should all make plans to be there and dance, dance dance.

Free Stuff

John Marshall, Chairman of the Board of CALLERLAB

For some time now I’ve been considering what I might share with you this evening. Finally I decided to share with you some of the things I’ve been seeing, thinking, and feeling, both in the world of square dancing and in CALLERLAB.

It seems to me that many of our callers and dance leaders are tired. Tired of always being the only ones to run for club office, tired of trying to find a solution to the diminishing numbers in our activity. And yet, we don’t give up. We don’t give up because we know without question, the value of square dancing in our lives and what it could be in the lives of others, and we are unwilling to let it slip away.

We expend tremendous amounts of time and energy debating endlessly over call definitions, juggling program lists and teaching orders, etc. Notice that these are concrete, quantifiable ideas – things that we believe we can control. And I wonder...I wonder if the idea of being able to control some portion of the activity induces us to fixate on these things. Do we do this because subconsciously we’ve given up on the harder questions of how to rejuvenate the activity?

More subjective/nebulous questions need to be addressed; questions such as:

Is square dancing broken?
If so, when did we decide it was broken?
Are we attempting to recreate square dancing to fit our aging population without regard for future generations? Should we be?

Or should we provide a separate, more comfortable place for our less robust dancers? Or should we try to appeal only to those who can dance “the way we used to”?

What is “fun” in today’s world?

Does fun have a universal definition? Are there different types of fun for different people?

If so, what are these types of fun?
If we knew what they were, could we provide them? Do we have the skills or are we able to develop them?

These are harder questions and I suspect when we find the answers – and we will find them – SOME of those answers will require us to make changes; changes in what or how we are currently approaching the teaching and calling of square dancing.

We know the world changes – has changed for many of us, especially for those of us over 50. As I look around the room, I judge that to be...oh...about a fifteen or so!

To change is hard; it can be frightening, and it requires us to be strong enough to deal with answers to questions like

1) What kind of caller do you WANT to be? Party nights, family groups, campers, youth, church groups, seniors, clubs as we know them today, teaching only, exhibition team, competition, advanced or challenge?

2) What kind of caller SHOULD you be? Self-examination is important and a little scary. What kind of caller are you now? What different, or better, kind of caller do you believe you could be?

There are elements that universally bring value to the human condition: laughter, the power of music, the joy of movement, feelings of competence and accomplishment, the security found in friendship.

Regardless of change, these elements are a constant to people the world over. Square dancing has all of these elements in its core values.

For those who say square dancing is too old fashioned, I would caution us to be careful about how far we stray from our roots. One only has to look to the great success of “A Prairie Home Companion”, brought back by popular demand for its clean, wholesome fun and humor, for its variety of music, for its sense of community, etc. Do these things sound familiar?

The fact that other callers are trying different things, are keeping an open mind, and are willing to risk trying and failing rather than failing to try, means you are not alone. Safety in numbers makes it easier to attempt to change, to grow, to prove it is not too late to turn the tide.

By example, I know of at least three internationally known callers who started out calling at the highest challenge program, and have each worked very hard to learn how to call well – to mainstream dancers. Each is now teaching beginners. They saw the need and accepted (if you’ll pardon the pun) the “challenge” of learning new skills. By the way, these are twenty-plus year callers.

As a caller or dancer, there is at LEAST one place for each of us to be in square dancing – a place to shine. How wonderful is that?!

And it’s ok that as dancers or callers we don’t HAVE to all be in the same place.

Our activity has so many facets that we don’t need to restrict ourselves, nor should we. It’s ok to have more than one kind of dancing. We have said for at least forty years that square dancing is for everyone – and it can be!

In approximately 1975, Earl Johnston wrote a paper that addressed the two primary elements involved in the calling of square dances. One was the SCIENCE (what I referred to earlier as the concrete, quantifiable aspects) of calling, the other the ART of calling.

At some point we started to explore, to delve into the science – some would say too deeply. But that is the nature of mankind. I believe as callers we have failed to develop, in equal measure, the artistic side of calling.

I believe for the average square dancer, we need to scale back the constant focus on scientific creativity and concentrate our energy on the “art” side of calling: good use of music, great timing, refining our teaching skills, improving our singing call techniques, attention to body flow and hand usage. Allowing ourselves to be more playful! Making every night a party!

We have all the tools: great music, great variety, excellent technology, guide posts (lists), information (definitions).

We have the refined, documented science: definitions, formations, programs, lists, styling, choreo management techniques, and more. In great part, we have enough science for the majority of callers and dancers.

We have the technologies: special audio equipment, amplifiers, microphones, turntables, mini disks, computers, teaching videos, the Internet. What more technology do we need?

We have, or have access to, much of the art: great music with awesome variety, great intellect, terrific singers, teachers, showmen/women, and excellent people skills.

While none of us has fully mastered every element of the art and science of square dance calling – and we may never do so – that does not mean we shouldn’t continue to try to be better in all elements of our calling. As I said earlier, there is still a place for each of us in our activity.

Tonight I’ve spoken of what we have: the science, the technology, and the art. But I wonder...

Do we have the strength of will? Do we still have the belief in the values of our most beloved form of recreation, of community, of extended family?

Do we retain the WILL to keep trying, the COMMITMENT to improve or expand our skill sets, the VISION to try something new, the COURAGE to explore a different way of doing things?

Do we?

Ladies and Gentlemen, because I know the place that square dancing holds in our hearts, in our minds, in our souls, I know the answer to these questions is a resounding YES!

And Callers, if you have even a flicker of doubt about that answer, I can tell you how to make that doubt go away, and how to find fresh inspiration. Go to a square dance – and DANCE! That’s where we started, and that’s where we need to be!

Thank you.

What Is Square Dancing?

By Jeff Garbutt

The question is sometimes asked, “What is square dancing?” Well I suppose the technically correct answer would go something like: “Square dancing is a dance form where groups of 8 people working as a team perform routines as directed by a person known as a caller”.

But of course the technical definition doesn’t really do it justice. So let’s explore a bit more about what goes in to make up the entity called the “Square Dance Movement”.

To me, square dancing is many things:

Universal — No matter where you go in the world square dancing is the same. The movements have been standardized and are called in the same way, regardless of language. The dance programs used are all standardized and no matter where in the world you learn – you can still dance the same in other parts of the world. You may not be able to converse with some of the other dancers you meet, but you can interact with them.

Easy to learn — One of the first things we learn as children is how to walk. In next to no time you don’t have to think about how to do it, you just do it. You don’t worry about where your feet go, it’s automatic. With most dance forms you then have to learn to place your feet in specific arrangements – you have to learn to walk in a different way which is un-natural. Not so with square dancing. Square dancing is based upon walking in defined directions for defined distances. Which is exactly what walking is. And as walking is one of the most natural things we do – square dancing becomes so easy to learn.
Low stress physical exercise - We all know that exercise is good for you, but it all seems like hard work. Isn’t there a form of exercise that is also fun and doesn’t seem like hard work? Yes, there is. It’s called square Dancing.

Entertaining – The caller is there to entertain you – to make dancers forget about the day to day worries of the world.

Music – Square dancing uses many different types of music, including country & western, rock, jazz, sing-a-longs, gospel.

Interactive – The dance pattern is directed by a caller. The sequences are generally made up “on the spot”. Dancers have to listen to the caller to find out what’s next. Callers also have to get a feel for the “mood of the dancers” and respond as required – know when to call something exciting and know when to call something more mellow. This two way interaction truly makes square dancing unique.

Fun – Ask any square dancer how much fun they have.

Friendship – Many people have made life-long friends at square dances. Many married couples first met at a square dance. And cultural background does not make a difference. In fact square dancing breaks down many barriers between cultures.

Mentally stimulating – Square dancing can not only exercise the body, but also the mind.

Team based – You are working together in harmony with seven other people.

Breaks down barriers – There are no cultural barriers. People from all parts of the world with all sorts of different ideologies meet on the dance floor. Square dancing helps to promote universal peace and co-operation throughout the world.

Opening Day
(newsletter from Nasser and Jeanna Shukayr)
San Antonio, Texas (www.NShukayr.com)

Opening Days are memorable. After 23 years of guest callers, the Texas Bluebonnets in Schertz (north of San Antonio) have a club caller. Nasser and Jeanna will call on Sundays when they're in town (about half the time) with guest callers the rest of the time. April 19, is Opening Day for the new arrangement.

But first, let's talk about an Opening Day l-o-n-g ago. The year was 1915. Haverty’s Furniture had a Grand Opening in a Louisiana town. They advertised Free Ice Cream. A six-year-old boy saw the ad and rode his bicycle to the store only to be told “SCRAM! There is NO free ice cream for KIDS!”.

Time passes. The six-year-old grew up. He never bought furniture from Haverty’s. His kids never bought from Haverty’s. His grandkids never bought from Haverty’s, and his great grandkids are not even allowed near Haverty’s. All because Nasser’s Grandfather got No Free Ice Cream on Opening Day in 1915.

Fast-forward to today. There’s a Haverty’s Furniture store near Nasser and Jeanna’s home. Here’s the plan. Wait for a hot Texas day. Visit a nearby ice cream store. Buy ice cream. Walk to Haverty’s. By then the ice cream is all melty and drippy. Enter the Haverty’s store (something Nasser has never, ever done). Ask for the manager. Ice cream is dripping on the carpet. The manager asks “May I help you?”, to which Nasser replies “do you KNOW what this ice cream is FOR?” When the manager PRETENDS not to know, Nasser shoves the half-melted ice cream right in the manager’s face and screams “THAT’s for how you treated my GRANDDAD in 1915!!”.

The moral of the story is you should go to all Opening Days, to save your grandkids the trouble of getting even, 94 years later. That’s why you’re invited to Opening Day for the Texas Bluebonnets’ new Club Caller in Schertz, April 19.

We don’t have free ice cream, but once a month we do have free samples of America’s dance (that would be square dancing), prior to the (not free, but cheap) regular dance. Bring your friends, grandfathers and furniture salesman. Everyone gets a free intro to square dancing, even if you’re six years old and rode your bike to the event.

We dance north of San Antonio at Stone Creek RV Park (I-35 exit 177) in Schertz. If you can bring a first-timer, that’s wonderful. If not, just bring yourself to help introduce others to the Fun, Fitness, Friendship, and Future Remembrance of Opening Day.

American Square Dance, June 2009
This month will be challenging for any Plus dancers. We’ve taken the Plus call, Follow Your Neighbor, and made it challenging on three fronts. First the following sequences are starting from Left hand o/w. In addition, there’s NO spread after the call. Add to that the boys aren’t always looking in and you’ve got a triple threat...But, it’s worth a try! Enjoy and take your time.

1) HEADS LEFT square thru 2
   follow your neighbor
   circulate explode and [load the boat]
   left allemande (at home)

2) SIDES LEFT square thru 2
   follow your neighbor
   explode the wave
   1/2 tag centers trade girls trade
   box the gnat
   square thru 4

Jim and Betsy travel across the US and around the world, dancing and promoting dancing. Each month we share with you our experiences and thoughts. Here we talk about how you can dance in Europe.

Well, last month we reminisced about some callers and dancers we have known. We said we would talk a bit about “graduation” and the National Convention this month. But first we want to tell you about a publication we receive that just sets our heart singing each month.

You all know we have danced a lot in Europe and have really enjoyed it. There are far fewer clubs in Europe than in the U.S. but they are enthusiastic and very active. Of course, distances are shorter and it is easier for dancers to get together more often. The European Square Dance publication, “EAASDC Bulletin” is always chock-a-block full of good dances and good stories. It is published in both English and German. There are over 500 square dance clubs in Germany alone, and many enthusiastic, capable and knowledgeable dancers in Germany. In fact, the EAASDC (European Association of American Square Dance Clubs) is probably more enthusiastic than dancers anywhere – including the USA.

This is the scenario of how square dancing came to Germany. After WWII Americans occupied Germany. Many were good dancers and formed clubs. They soon invited their German friends to learn to dance. Over time, the Americans went home and the Germans kept on dancing – right up to the present day!

In the March issue of the Bulletin there are the usual letters from Association Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Secretary and so on. There are several articles about the “Spring Jamboree.” The Spring and Fall Jamborees are like the US National Convention. Like the National Convention, they gather at their Jamboree for fun and dancing. This year’s Spring Jamboree was held in Berlin, sponsored by the 15 square dance clubs of Berlin. The fall Jamboree will be in Darmstadt (near Frankfurt), September 4 to 6. The Darmstompers will sponsor the dance.

There is a rich array of other “special” dances throughout Europe in the summer, fall, and winter of 2009. Among them are the 11th “Osterdance” (Easter dance) on April 13, with five well known callers; The 20th anniversary dance of the White Magpies of Plauen was on April 18. The list goes on, with dances sponsored by various clubs throughout Germany, including the “Kuntry Kickers,” the “Happy Trailers,” the “Witches and Wizards,” “Schwabisch Sweethearts,” the American Square Dance will always be happy send you free magazines to give to your graduating class!

“Square Drivers of Zurich,” and many, many more. Some of these dances are 20th, 25th, and even 50th Anniversary dances.

It is easy to find square dancing in Europe, through the website EAASDC.DE or even the ever trusty DOSADO.COM. If you want to dance with Europeans, and we urge you to do so, you can contact clubs wherever you travel that will welcome you with open arms. The EAASDC website has a good map showing the locations of the square dance clubs. Write or email ahead to make arrangements, as on any given night, a club might be dark, or traveling, or doing something that might not be interesting to visitors. Otherwise, you will be welcomed. You can work it out to have a “home stay” if you like by simply asking. These are fun, as you meet real people, not just hotel and travel staff.

On March 23, 2009, ECTA (European Callers and Teachers Association) had a student Jamboree for dancers who began dancing in the fall. The program was basic, covering only the first 45 moves, but a wide selection of callers participated from throughout Europe, including some of the very best callers you have ever seen.

All of the events I mentioned above occur annually along with many other wonderful dances, where you can really kick up your heels and have great fun.

Above I mentioned the “Student Jamboree” which is also an annual affair. Did your new students have a special “half way dance”? These dances are often among the most fun dances on the calendar, when new dancers get to “strut their stuff” and gain an understanding of the greater world of square dancing.

Newer dancers are the life blood of square dancing and it is of utmost importance that we bring them into our clubs, bond with them, and help them have fun and good times. Square Dancing is the very best social activity there is, and we need to continually draw new folks in to keep it strong.

We continue to have plans to be in Long Beach for the National Convention in June (24-27). We hope to see you there. You might catch up with us in the International Hospitality room or dancing somewhere else (we love the “Ghost Riders.”) We will probably hang out some with Bill Boyd, publisher of American Square Dance. We will look for you!

Next month we want to talk about square dance publications and dancing in Australia.

American Square Dance, June 2009
Hello Line Dancers. You may have noticed that education is a recurring theme in my articles. The importance of education became even clearer to me when I attended the CALLERLAB Convention this April in Kansas City. Some of the sessions I attended were Voice Techniques, Showmanship, Use of Alternative Music, Dance Party Calling, Smoothness and Timing, and Learning Should Be Fun. These sessions were part lecture and part audience participation. Each session was moderated by respected and knowledgeable professionals. Every session was attended by a wide variety of people. Some attendees were new callers, some veteran callers, some spouses, and some dancers, each with a thirst for information and knowledge and willing to share their experiences. I am sad to say that the last time I attended a CALLERLAB Convention was 13 years ago, the last time it was held in Kansas City. I may not be able to attend the convention next year, but I am going to do my best to attend more frequently. In the meantime, I will continue to find ways to make myself a better dancer, caller, and instructor through education and practice. How about you? Educational opportunities can be found through CALLERLAB, ROUNDALAB, the NTA, your local dance studio, dance event, university, or public library.

If you have any questions about this month’s dance or a suggestion for a future column, please contact me at PO Box 2685, Topeka, Kansas 66601-2685. I can also be reached via email at KSDanceguy@aol.com. Until next time, I will save you a spot on the dance floor.

THIS MONTH'S LINE DANCE:

Things You Will NEVER Hear Said
At A Square Dance

1. We have too many people running for office this year.
2. Let’s keep our beginners class going longer so that the graduates will be better dancers.
3. Let’s start staying until the end of the dance instead of leaving after the food break.
4. We had a large crowd tonight, so let’s give the caller more money.
5. I don’t care if I break the squares down, because I’m having fun.
6. Let’s all be quiet during the announcements.
7. I’m going to study the call definitions at home, so I will be a better dancer.
8. I volunteer to run for any club office that needs to be filled.
9. Let’s have our beginners take a written test before they graduate to see if they really know call definitions.
10. Let’s talk loud during the round dances.
11. Don’t tell anyone, but I only come to the dances for the food.
12. Let’s tell the caller when he calls something wrong, so he won’t keep doing it to other dancers.
13. I’m making mistakes in the square, so I’ll study the calls at home before the next dance.
14. When the caller says to square up, let’s just sit here and keep talking.
15. We have more beginners in our class than we need.
The 60th Anniversary Of The Kutztown Folk Festival

2009 marks the 60th anniversary of the Kutztown Folk Festival; the oldest, continuously operated folklife festival in America. This weeklong Festival continues to draw visitors from all over the world, entertaining families while providing insight and understanding of the traditions of the Pennsylvania Dutch and their fascinating way of life.

In the summer of 1950 three of America's leading folklorists presented the first of the Kutztown Folk Festivals, using a unique hands-on approach to let "outsiders" experience firsthand what it means to be a part of a Pennsylvania Dutch family. Key to the event's success was the ability of the "Festivals Founding Fathers" to organize the area's local citizens and coordinate their participation in the Festival. It was not actors, but the actual Pennsylvania Dutch natives, that were demonstrating their everyday way of life.

Nearly 25,000 people descended on Kutztown that first year. What started as a four day showcase during the 4th of July week, quickly grew to nine days drawing well over 130,000 attendees. Not only do multiple generations of the same families continue to present and participate at the Festival, likewise, multiple generations of attendees visit the Festival each year.

Today at the Festival one can still find traditional craftsman demonstrating their skills and tools that helped build this great country. Farming and folklife demonstrations abound throughout the grounds. The phrase, "eat till ya ouch", still has great meaning as fabulous examples of Pennsylvania Dutch foods continue to tempt the visitors. The sounds of square dancing jiggers and folk music fill the air, while children try their hand at many of the activities geared just to them. And of course, the pageantry and symbols of the Pennsylvania Dutch culture such as quilts and barn stars still continue to catch the eye of all who attend.

Through the years, the Kutztown Folklife Festival has had to change and adapt to the changes in society. Today, children's activities abound and admission is free for children 12 and under. For the ladies, the Festival now houses the largest quilt sale in America and has an internationally attended Quilt Auction of its top prizewinning quilts. Today a visitor experiences more music, more entertainment, more fun, and far less work than they would experience in a Pennsylvania Dutch household. But the purpose of the Festival is still fulfilled, as evidenced by the blend of continued participation by the local Pennsylvania Dutch community, as well as many of the foremost experts and scholars of this fascinating microcosm community of America. This 9-day festival has been called "one of the most unique Festivals on the East coast" by the Washington Post, and with good reason.

The Festival runs from June 27 through July 5, 2009, and is held in Kutztown, Pennsylvania. Please visit our website at www.kutztownfestival.com for more information.

American Square Dance, June 2009
MOORE ON CONTRA

By Paul Moore

Square Thru

Since Noah was a child the Square Thru has been in dancing. It has changed names, styling, and timing, but it still is a figure for four dancers who move around a box, half of them turning to the left and half turning to the right.

"Modern Western Square Dancing" has standardized the styling and timing of the Square Thru (as CALLERLAB set out to do). The modern Square Thru is four hands in 10 counts, and the formation disintegrates into a kind of circle rather than a true square.

Contra dance borrowed the figure both from English Country Dance (rights and lefts) and from MWSD. In many ways the styling is like MWSD (alternate right and left and go straight ahead after the last hand), but the timing and formation are more like country dance. By that I mean that instead of taking 10 counts (which does not fit anybody's musical phrase), the square thru takes 16 counts. To help the dancers keep in time with the music, callers often say "Slow Square Thru." Also, the corners of the square are crisp.

There is a style of contra dancing that crosses over from MWSD; I do not mean that it is square dancing in lines. Many of the callers in this style of dancing (Club Contra? Don Armstrong Contra? We don't really have a name to identify it.), are attracted to Scottish jigs and reels, though they also use quite a bit of square dance music. The jigs and reels have inspired some callers to add a cadence call to help the dancers stay in time. "Slow Square Thru, one two cha-cha-cha; one two cha-cha-cha;" etc. The idea of the cadence calls is to get the dancers to use all four beats on each side of the square; if they walk two steps then do a triplet of three short steps they will not rush through the figure.

The Foundation
For the Preservation and Promotion of Square Dancing

The Foundation's purpose is to support the funding of projects that will preserve and promote square dancing.

To be considered for the funding, projects must first protect the heritage of the activity and contribute to it's growth. The projects must also emphasize the social, physical and mental benefits of square dancing. The Foundation also works to increase public awareness of the activity by showing the fun and fellowship that makes square dancing a popular recreation today.

The Foundation is registered with the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(C)(3) corporation and depends on private contributions, public grants and endowments for its operating capital.

In order to ensure that the American folk art of square dancing will continue to flourish, the Foundation solicits your support through your tax-deductible contributions.

For additional information, contact the Foundation Office at (321) 639-0039.

American Square Dance, June 2009
If you don’t see your festival or convention information listed in the What’s Ahead section, send us a flyer or email! We will include any full day or weekend dance that we feel might be of national or international interest. And it’s even FREE!

Modern Urban Contra (the contemporary live music folk) rarely uses Square Thru. The foot work to keep on the phrase is just too slow and is boring, but keeping up to tempo puts the dancers far ahead of the phrase. One solution (I believe Tony Parkes of Massachusetts developed this) is to do the Square Thru at full speed, but on the right hand (first and third hands of the square thru) balance forward and back, thus using up four beats and leaving four beats to do the two hands of the square thru (repeating the combination adds up to the 16 beats for two full phrases of music).

The cadence calls and the balance and square thru do not solve all the problems. What if the music is a smooth flowing piece. Both the cha-cha-cha and balance would be out of place – they would not blend with the mood of the music and dance.

One caller has suggested that in contra dance we do not need to say “Slow Square Thru” because it is understood that the square thru must take 16 counts to stay on phrase.

Well, here is my solution. I make the call fit the dance and the music, and teach the dancers what style I want for the dance – remembering that many of the dancers will do what they want.

Here are a couple of examples of dances that call for different styles.

#1 Eighteenth of January by Roger Whynot (Formation: alternate duple)
Music: I use something that moves along – tempo is up, but there is no bounce to it. I feel that is best given the context of the figures of the dance, which are all flowing from one to the next.
Intro: - - - -, Neighbor Dosado
1-8: - - - -, same one Swing
9-16: - - - -, across Slow Square Thru*
17-24: - - - - - -
25-32: - - - -, new Neighbor Slide Thru and Circle Left
33-40: - - - - - Circle Right
41-48: - - - -, across, Two Ladies Chain
49-56: - - - - - Chain Back
57-64: - - - -, New Neighbor Dosado
* I use the call “slow square thru in hopes that the dancers will move smoothly and use up all of the music
Slide Thru is a MWSD term; you can substitute “pass thru and face across” to get to the same place
Notice that everything flows, there is nothing that is herky-jerky about the dance, and so the slow square thru seems appropriate.
Contrast that with this one.

#2 January Seven Jig by Don Armstrong (Formation: alternate duple)

Music: Don has set the dance to a Scottish Jig; the 6/8 rhythm gets dancers to bouncing. The first figure of the dance tells dancers to bounce.

Intro: -- --, Neighbor, Balance

1-8: - and Star Thru; - - Ladies Chain
9-16: -- --, Ladies lead into Hey for Four 17-24: -- --, --
25-32: - - , Ladies Chain Back
33-40: - - , Lines, Forward and Back
41-48: - - , across Slow Square Thru*
49-56: - - ,
57-64: - - , New Neighbor Balance

*This is a good time to use the cadence calls. In a jig, each measure has two parts of a triplet each (I say higgledy-piggledy to give the feeling of the jig rhythm.) The dancers can walk two steps on the “higgledy” part, and take three quick steps on the “piggledy” part. The cha-cha-cha cadence falls in beautifully with the opening balance and with the rhythm of the music.

How about one that uses the balance and square thru 2?

#3 Star Thru Polka by Paul Moore (Formation: alternate duple)

Music: I use a Scottish jig that has a lot of lift to it.

Intro: -- --, Neighbor Balance

1-8: - - and Star Thru; Partner Balance
9-16: - - and Star Thru; Neighbor Polka*
17-24: - - , again
25-32: - - , Neighbor Swing
33-40: - - , Half Promenade
41-48: - - , Slow Square Thru
49-56: - - ,
57-64: - - , new Neighbor Balance

*Polka is with the outside foot for all dancers (men’s left, ladies’ right); heel-toe, out you go (or a side two-step); heel-toe, in you go.

Given the jig rhythm, the balance to open the dance, and the polka steps, it seems right to use the balance and square thru 2 style.

However, I am one of those people who cannot leave well enough alone. So here is a dance that uses both the MWSD style and the Contra Slow Square Thru in the same dance.

49-56: - - - -
57-64: - - - - , Below Square Thru
*The first Square Thru is square dance tempo – 12 counts for all four hands. The first hand is a right to the neighbor. The ending position is back on your own side of the set facing out with your neighbor beside you.
The call is Partner Trade, which simply means that two dancers standing side-by-side turn towards each other, pass right shoulders, and continue to turn into the other dancer’s place. In this case, both dancers end up facing in, with the lady on the man’s right.
The music drives enough not to need any extra styling. Most dancers will flow into the right tempo to finish the Slow Square Thru on time. The catch now is to shift gears as the dance starts over again with an up-tempo square thru.

I think I’ll quit before my eyes turn square from looking at all of this.

American Square Dance, June 2009
Sew On & Sew Forth

By Karen Reichardt

Dear Stitchers,

This column is for those who like to sew square dance clothing and make craft items related to dancing. If you have any ideas, suggestions or comments please send them to me. There are a lot of great ideas out there that I have never heard of and it would be great to share them with other dancers.

Let me introduce myself. I have been sewing for 50+ years and dancing for 40+ years. Those are my two favorite pastimes. I am the president of the local chapter of the American Sewing Guild (www.asg.org) and I have been writing for our state magazine for three years. In 2006 I was the Sew & Save chairman for our state festival and I am the Sew & Save Chairman for the 2012 National Square Dance Convention here in Spokane, Washington.

I have started a website to share sewing information. Please check it out at www.squaredancesewing.com. The purpose is to have a place for sewing and crafting instructions that are too long to fix in a magazine article.

Keep on Stitchin’!

Thumb Your Nose at the Fashion Police

When we start new lessons we must be very careful not to drive away a new dancer by telling them how they ‘must’ dress. A dancer’s skirt length should be the one that makes her comfortable. When students look at our outfits their responses range from “I can’t wait!” to “I will never!”. One lady I know purchased two short dresses and a very full slip before she took her first lesson. Another friend only wears slim prairie skirts. Who cares? They are both nice people that you would want to have in your club. Help new dancers by being a Role Model Angel. Wear casual clothing and that most important fashion accessory — a big smile. Teach students to laugh at their mistakes and listen when the Caller is teaching.

New dancers often don’t have the money to invest in a special wardrobe for an activity that they are just starting. There are also many options and styles that confuse new dancers. Co-ordinate with your caller/teacher and plan a fashion show toward the end of lessons. Is there a way your council or club could have a clothing swap meet? Contact dancers that are no longer able to dance and see if they would like to sell or donate their clothing.

Watch new dancers and you will see that as they get more comfortable on the floor, their style of dress changes. Many women think that full skirts with petticoats will make them look fat. The truth is that they make a lady look feminine and graceful. Why spin and swing if you don’t have a skirt to show off? Men are often self conscious and it can take them a while to get comfortable wearing ‘cowboy’ shirts. Let them get accustomed to the idea that on our dance floors it is all right to let your wild side come out in your choice of outfits.

I truly believe in getting dressed up to go to a dance. Putting on my petticoat puts me in a party mood and I know that I am going to have a good time with my friends. A swirling floor of bright colors is all the decoration the hall needs to show that I am in a very special place. No matter how bad your work day has been or how tired you are when you change into your dance clothes your spirits will lift. There are often times when people can’t get dressed up for a dance. The importance is the fun and the friends, not exactly what you wear. When someone shows up at a dance welcome them — not their clothes.

Making square dance outfits is fun because you can really get creative. Is there ever a ‘wrong’ color? How much is ‘too much’ lace? Your square dance ensemble can be as individual as you are. Even club outfits can leave room for personalization. Neck lines and sleeve lengths can be adjusted for different body types. Club skirts can be made in different lengths and still belong to the club.

Could the stitchers in your area get together and plan a day of sewing at the hall? Sharing your skills and a pot luck lunch would be a great way to spend the day. Alterations and fitting problems are easy to fix with the help of a friend.

Don’t restrict yourself to dull dark colors because they are supposed to make you look smaller. Black is a color not a magic spell. You will be happier and look better in your favorite colors in a splashy print. Show your wild side, get creative and be flamboyant.

Attitude — You will always be in style if you believe you are.

Confidence — Will make everyone else believe it.

Bottom Line — Please, remind new dancers to wear pettipants. They often think, “I will never spin like that.” or “My skirts never fly up.” Don’t let them be embarrassed by a wardrobe malfunction. Working the kitchen and other jobs can also be revealing. Keep things covered and put an end to over exposure.
Official Trail-Thru Dances at the 58th NSDC

There are currently 10 officially-recognized trail-thru dances in the Southern California area. We hope you will be able to attend at least one of them. You’ll dance to some of our great local callers as well as some nationally-known callers. All the dances include squares and rounds. Join the fun and excitement during the week prior to the Convention. See the Convention’s website at www.58nsdc.org for all the official trail-thru dances.

Shopping while at the 58th NSDC

Now is the time to plan ahead for your shopping at the 58th National Square Dance Convention in beautiful Long Beach, California. You know your friends and family will want something from your trip. Make your shopping list ahead of time. Go to our web site www.58NSDC.org where you can see most of our items in Ways & Means. That way you can make sure you know what size polo to buy and how many of our popular “Woody” cars (with a surfboard on top) to buy. We have a wide variety of items from which to choose. If you are worried about room in your suitcase, you can do your shopping ahead of time and we can have the items sent to your home. (We won’t tell anyone you did this before you left home.)

Registration Information for the 58th NSDC

Time is running short to register for the 58th National Square Dance Convention in Long Beach, California. The registration price goes up to $60.00 after May 31, 2009, an increase of $20.00 per couple. Also, those who do not register by May 15 will not be able to take advantage of the great hotel rates that we have negotiated with the Long Beach hotels. Some of them are already sold out, but the Hilton Hotel has increased our room block and reduced their rate to $119.00 per night (plus applicable taxes). Also, the Queen Mary Hotel has reduced its rate to $119.00 per night (plus applicable taxes). Packets for members of groups will be available for pickup at the registration counter by the respective group leader. Once registered, the Registration & Housing Committee gives a warm welcome to all. Drop by the registration booth located in the main lobby off of Pine Avenue to pick up your registration packet. Our hours will be 9:00am to 9:00pm from Tuesday the 23rd through Friday the 26th. Your packet will include the Convention Badge and any items that you pre-ordered, such as program book, syllabus, sew & save book, and Wednesday night show tickets. We’ll be “California Dreamin’” of seeing you then.

Tours at the 58th NSDC
Well, it looks like our tours are starting to fill up, but we still have room for more — no tour will be canceled! If you see a tour that you are interested in and you have questions, simply email us at social@nsdc.org — we can usually get back to you in less than 48 hours. Come join us on one or more of our tours. We will be having a good time, and really want you to be part of it too!

Knott’s Berry Farm Tour
We have a wonderful surprise for our 58th National Square Dance Convention dancers! We have arranged to get a meal voucher for a box lunch from Chicken-to-Go. It includes three pieces of chicken, mashed potatoes, corn and a biscuit when you buy your ticket to Knott’s Berry Farm! It was not in our original Convention Special Pricing, but with further negotiations we are adding in the lunch with the price of your ticket of $59.00! Don’t forget, if you come on Tuesday, June 23, you can spend the day at the park, have a chicken dinner, and square dance from 6:30 to 7:30 in one of Knott’s entertainment areas. You will need to bring (secured lockers will be provided) or wear your square dance clothes in order to dance with us. You will also receive an Entertainer’s Pin from Knott’s for dancing. So come one, come all — we are going to have a ball! We would love for you to join us. We’re negotiating with Knott’s for a lower price, so look for an update-flyer in the near future. Have fun and dance with us at Knott’s!

Grand Prize Drawing at the 58th NSDC
As most of you know, the 58th National Square Dance Convention is having a Grand Prize drawing. Actually we’re having four drawings. Can you imagine what your friends would say if you came home with one of the prizes? All prizes give you a choice, either the item or CASH. Now that is something we all can use.
1st — 2009 Chevrolet HHR or $15,000.00 cash
2nd — Panama Canal Cruise for two or $5,000.00 cash
3rd — 58 inch Flat Panel HDTV or $4,000.00 cash
4th — Digital Camera and accessories or $500.00 cash
The drawing will take place during the closing ceremonies of the 58th National Square Dance Convention on Saturday, June 27, 2009.
Need not be present to win — Good Luck!
Wednesday Night Show at the 58th NSDC
Two performers for the price of one at our amazing Wednesday night show. You will enjoy the two groups we are presenting for your entertainment. Jann Brown has a sultry, rich country voice. She has sung with Emmy Lou Harris and Dolly Parton, among others, and will sing songs which you will recognize from her own collection as well as others. Jann has performed everywhere from “Farm Aid” with Willie Nelson and Kris Kristofferson, to the “Grand Ole Opry” with everyone from Dolly Parton to Vince Gill. Amanda Shaw is a teen-age fiddle-playing sensation who brings a youth-oriented, modern sensibility to traditional Cajun music with her sassy vocals and enchanting smile. There will be two performances: 6:00pm and 8:30pm. Both performances include both performers. Prices pre-purchased before the Wednesday night show will be $20 for Orchestra and $15 for Loge, VIP, and Floor. Tickets will be sold at the door, but it will be cash only and $20 for Loge and Floor seating only.

Cruise after the 58th NSDC
The price has been lowered again! If you ever wanted to do the Mexican Riviera, this would be the time! Also, you will get to square dance when we are out at sea with Randy and DeeDee Dougherty. If you are active or retired military, you get even another discount! Don’t miss this fun time on the high seas – rest, relax and do what you want at your leisure. Come and join us for this fun. If you have family or friends who want to come, bring them! Just have them sign up with Goldrush Getaways so they can get the same goodies and fun we do! See you there!

MULTIPLY IN FRIENDLINESS

We often hear that in this fast-paced world of today, there is no time for friendliness. The old time friendliness is gone. We know that the friendliest people in town are square dancers. Let’s help everyone to know this. We need to sincerely and warmly welcome everyone who steps inside our doors. Every single member of the clubs is responsible for the friendliness of his or her club. Let’s make it an unwritten rule in each club, that each member, make it his or her sole responsibility to speak to and, if possible, dance in a set with each new person who comes through the door. We each want our own club to be like one big happy family. Sometimes personalities do clash, but surely we are big enough and mature enough to overcome these clashes. Big enough, not to hold a grudge, but ever willing and eager to work together for the good of the club and square dancing.

"Let us be a little kinder,
Let us be a little blinder,
To the faults of those around us.”

We need to expand our friendliness into society, other clubs, other cities and even other countries.

MULTIPLY IN GOOD TIMES

Do we make as much use of the special days in the year as we could? Do we have a Valentine Party, a Christmas Party, a Halloween party, etc.? These can be simple or elaborate according to circumstances. If each person takes his or her turn at helping with the work, then no one will find the burden too great. A club can only be as good as its members. Each member without exception must do his or her part.

A square dance club does not belong to the caller. It does not belong to the president or the executive. It belongs to each and every member.

Don’t ask, “What can square dancing do for me?”, but rather, “What can I do for square dancing?”
WHAT’S AHEAD

Association/Federation festivals, conventions or benefit dances can be listed free of charge in What’s Ahead.

We need the event date, name, location including city and state, contact address, phone number, and email if any.

Please send us the event information as early as you want, but we prefer to receive it more than six months in advance of the event’s scheduled date.
