DURHAM, NH - Despite the fact he will not appear on the January 23rd ballot, nearly two-thirds of likely Democratic primary voters in New Hampshire say they plan to write-in President Joe Biden. Only a quarter of likely Democratic primary voters say they would be enthusiastic if Biden is the nominee, but Biden's rivals currently present little threat as author Marianne Williamson is unpopular and few know much about Minnesota Representative Dean Phillips or expect him to become a serious contender. Granite Staters largely view Biden unfavorably and disapprove of his performance as president, but former President Trump is even more unpopular and potential third-party candidates are disliked or unknown in the state.

2024 Democratic Presidential Primary

For the first time since Lyndon Johnson ran for reelection in 1968, a sitting President, Joe Biden, has chosen not to file as a candidate in the New Hampshire Democratic Primary and will not appear on the ballot. New Hampshire's primary, which has had the "first-in-the-nation" status since 1920, will be held on January 23rd, in defiance of the schedule set by the Democratic National Committee. Several New Hampshire Democrats have launched a write-in campaign for Biden, but it remains unclear whether regular primary voters will turn out to vote at all.

Despite not officially running in New Hampshire, Biden continues to dominate the primary contest here: 65% of likely Democratic primary voters say that they plan to write in Biden's name, 10% plan to vote for Minnesota Representative Dean Phillips, 9% support author Marianne Williamson, 5% support another candidate, and 10% are unsure. Support for Biden has declined since September, but no strong challenger has yet emerged. Support for Biden is lowest among self-described socialists (32%) and those aged 18 to 34 (37%), while Williamson does best among these two groups.

Opinions of Political Figures

Voters evaluate candidates on their issue positions and experience, but also on their personal characteristics. A slight majority of New Hampshire residents rate Biden's temperament as very good (28%) or good (24%), while less than half rate his honesty and integrity (42%), decision-making (38%), policy positions on major issues (38%), or ability to understand the problems facing people like them (35%) as very good or good. Few state residents rate Biden's communication skills (27%) and physical or mental fitness (24%) as very good or good.

Granite Staters generally have lower ratings of these attributes regarding Trump, particularly Trump's temperament (20%) and honesty & integrity (24%), the two most highly rated attributes for Biden. State residents are most likely to rate Trump's policy positions on major issues (37%), decision-making (37%), and physical or mental fitness (35%) as very good or good.

When asked whether they have a generally favorable or unfavorable opinion of the two candidates, 34% of New Hampshire adults have a favorable opinion of Biden, 54% have an unfavorable opinion, and 13% are neutral. Biden's net favorability rating is -19. Biden remains quite popular among Democrats, with a net favorability rating of +57, but is quite unpopular among Independents (-63) and Republicans (-94). Biden is slightly more popular than in the middle of 2022 but remains less popular than he was early in his presidency.

Trump is viewed even more unfavorably. Only 27% of New Hampshire adults have a favorable opinion of Trump, 63% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 9% are neutral. Trump's net favorability rating is -36. Trump is popular among Republicans with a net favorability rating of +40 but is unpopular among Independents (-41) and very unpopular among Democrats (-99). Trump is more unpopular (-36) in New Hampshire than at any point since October 2016 (-43).

Biden & Trump Net Favorability
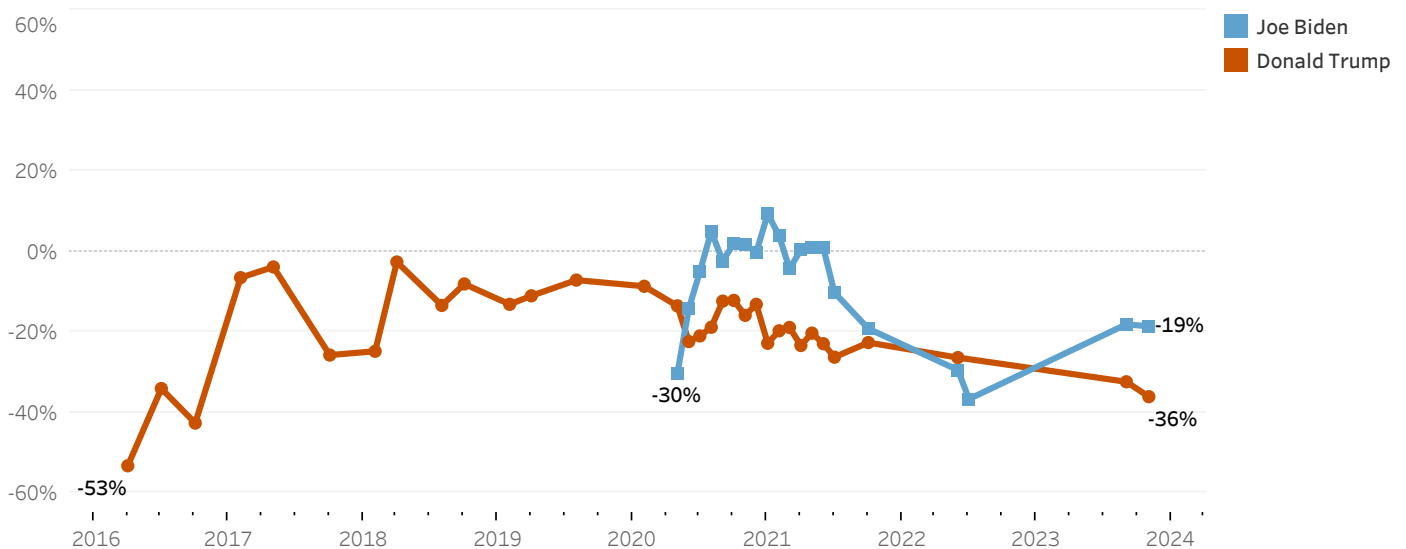

Given the historical unpopularity of the two leading candidates for the presidency, many have called for other candidates to seek the presidency. Environmental lawyer Robert F. Kennedy Jr announced that he will run as an Independent, having withdrawn from the Democratic nomination race. Kennedy is not viewed favorably by New Hampshire adults, only 15% have a favorable opinion of Kennedy, 48% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 27% are neutral, and 10% don't know enough to have an opinion. Kennedy's net favorability rating is -33. Kennedy is extremely unpopular with Democrats (-70) and somewhat unpopular among Independents (-26), while Republicans (+9) are largely neutral.

West Virginia Senator Joe Manchin has been courted by some centrist groups and recently announced he will not seek re-election to the Senate. But Manchin is also largely unpopular: only 8% have a favorable opinion of Manchin, 49% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 23% are neutral, and 20% don't know enough to have an opinion. Manchin's net favorability rating is -40. Despite being a Democrat himself, Manchin is quite unpopular among Democrats (-64) while also being unpopular among Independents (-42) and Republicans (-11).

Professor Cornel West is considering running as an Independent. West is largely unknown in New Hampshire: a majority (53%) don't know enough to have an opinion about him, only 7% have a favorable opinion of West, 25% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 16% are neutral. West's net favorability rating is -18. West has broadly similar net favorability ratings among Republicans (-26), Independents (-16), and Democrats (-11).

CNN New Hampshire Primary Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest CNN New Hampshire Primary Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. One thousand, nine hundred and forty-six (1,946) Granite State Panel members completed the survey online between November 10 and November 14, 2023. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 2.2 percent. Included in the sample were 674 likely 2024 Democratic Primary voters (margin of sampling error +/- 3.5 percent). There were 785 unweighted likely Democratic Primary voters. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response. These MSE's have not been adjusted for design effect. The response rate for this CNN New Hampshire Primary Poll is 36%. The design effect for the survey is 2.2%.

The Granite State Panel is a probability-based web panel of New Hampshire residents. Approximately 6,500 New Hampshire adults have been recruited from phone, text-to-web, or mail-to-web surveys sent to randomly-selected phone numbers or addresses. Panelists are then asked to participate in online surveys sponsored by the UNH Survey Center.

Data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau, as well as party registration levels provided by the NH Secretary of State and to 2020 election results in New Hampshire. Surveys were taken in English, all respondent data included passes Qualtrics data quality checks, and single-use survey links were used to prevent multiple submissions by respondents. The number of respondents in each demographic below may not equal the number reported in cross-tabulation tables as some respondents choose not to answer some questions. Due to rounding, percentages may not sum to 100%. All coding of open-ended responses is conducted by human coders.

Believe Trump Committed a Crime in One or More Current Legal Cases

As you may have heard, Donald Trump has been indicted in four criminal cases, one in New York concerning alleged "hush money" payments, one in Georgia concerning alleged racketeering, and two federal cases alleging mishandling of classified documents and interference in the 2020 election. Based on what you know at the moment, do you think that Donald Trump committed a crime in at least one of these cases?
