WHY THE SORORITY?

An interesting discussion was started last month by the statement of Miss Sally Bannister, daughter of the former Home Secretary of the British Empire, that American sorority women were "very bad" by nature. Perhaps, in this connection, the editor of The New Hampshire, Patrice Conroy, could comment on the charges.

Miss Bannister says that American women are considered worse than Englishwomen because in this country, not one feels that a series of short, widely separated institutions is enough to justify a lasting member-"writ such as Miss Bannister deems an "organization." She asks that such an opinion as the Englishwoman, whose foreign country certainly bears looking into.

New Hampshire is neither northern nor southern, but we have our sisters and we do have a sorority, the Alpha Phi. Are they all sinful, dirty, and unnecessary? No. They are all lovely, honest, and necessary. They are devoted to the noble and beautiful ideals of our sorority, and they do all believe that they are the women to be considered in the next generation. They don't all get along perfectly, but that is the same as in any other fraternity. They are as good as the men. They don't all get along perfectly, but that is the same as in any other fraternity. They are as good as the men.

They are also a remarkable group. They have been willing to start many organizations and have given much time and effort to these organizations. They may be called "feminine" because they are the only group of women that are interested in the political and social problems of the day. They are the only group of women that are interested in the political and social problems of the day.

Further, when the mother of the woman, or the woman herself, or both, and all agree that the woman should join a sorority, she will probably join one. They are not the non-society women, but they are the women who have the same interests as the men. They are the women who have the same interests as the men.

The "Triumph" and "Defiance"

The big jobs go to organizations with the resources and facilities to handle them. Westinghouse is one of those young men of enterprise and genius because it daily provides interesting opportunities such as smaller concerns can seldom offer.
