"CHARLES JAMES HALL" NAME OF CHEM. BUILDING

In memory of Professor James, recently deceased head of the chemistry department it was voted by the Board of Trustees at its meeting in the executive chambers of the State House last Friday to name the new chemistry building Charles James Hall. The building which is in the process of construction is expected to be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall term of this coming collegiate year.

The building will be the large-est on the campus when completed and will be equipped with the most complete and modern apparatus known to science. Located on a knoll at the site of the old greenhouses, the new hall will dominate its quarter of the campus and prove a fitting memorial to the genius of the University's greatest scientist.

Annual "Stunts" Come Next Week

Traditional Stunt Night And Informal Jan. 25

Prizes Awarded for Best Fraternity and Best Sorority Stunt Determined on a Basis of Originality, Presentation, and Appropriateness

Stunt Night, traditional event on the University of New Hampshire
Campus will be held in Murkland
Auditorium at eight o'clock, January 25, under the auspices of the Christian associations.

Following the stunts there will be an informal dance held at the Thompson Gymnasium. There will be an orchestra for both stunts and dance.
The price of admission will be 35 cents to the stunts or dance singly or 50 cents for a combination ticket.

This year there will be first prizes only, one for the sorority and one for the fraternity whose stunts, according to the judges, are the most outstanding in the fields of originality, presentation, and appropriateness. The judging personnel will be announced later. Last year there was a first and second prize given, with the Alpha Xi Delta Sorority winning the first prize. Each stunt will be limited to ten minutes only.

Due to a change in policy this year,
the participants will not be charged admission. The interest that has been shown to date makes it look as if this year's stunt night would be the best ever and every campus group is urged to avail itself of the opportunity to display its dramatic talent according to Secretary Andrew of the Y. M. C. A.
All groups are asked to enter a team with an original comedy, drama, or tragedy.

J. M. Clark is chairman of the Stunt Night Committee.

and one hundred and seventy-five dollars for out of state students. The two year agricultural students go back to the old schedule of three terms a year starting next September.

FLAGS TO DENOTE CONDITION OF ICE

Blue Flag Over Road Before Gymnasium Indicates Skating; Red Flag, No Skating; Yellow
Flag, Work Being Done
on the Pond

Regulations concerning the ice at the University pond and the conduct of the students using the pond were announced by Coach Christensen this week. He urges that all students comply with these rules and endeavor to cooperate with the athletic department when using the ice at the pond adjoining the gymnasium.

Flags will be displayed over the road in front of the gymnasium to indicate the conditions at the pond.
A red flag will mean there is no skating, a yellow flag will indicate no skating because of work being done on the pond, and a blue flag will attest that there is skating.

The building at the edge of the pond will be equipped to enable skaters to change to skating attire, while benches will be provided outside the building at the edge of the pond. The University asks the cooperation of the students in preserving the building and benches.

The floodlights about the pond will be turned on at five o'clock each night and extinguished at nine P. M., excepting on Fridays and Saturdays
when they will be turned off at eleven P. M. It has been decided that anyone who is found tampering with the lock on the floodlight switch will be brought before the President. Students are warned that the hockey rink is for the use of the Varsity players and for inter-mural contests only. It is also requested that skaters refrain from playing hockey and from hauling sleds, toboggans, or other equipment on the skating area of the pond. It is hoped that these regulations will be observed in order that the University pond may be maintained in good condition.

Fraternity Men Hold Conference

Discuss Relations Between Colleges and Fraternities

Emphasize Cooperation With College
for Scholarship, Social Training, and General Morals, in Educating for a Higher Useful Citizenship

We quote from the report published by the committee on information of the Interfraternity Conference held in December a few items of interest to students on the New Hampshire campus.

According to Arthur R. Priest, executive secretary of Phi Delta Theta,
"To graduate men of scholarly habits and gentlemanly instincts is the common aim of both colleges and fraternities." Mr. Priest continues, "Reduced to the minimum, the standard of the college is a certain proof of good breeding. It seems clear, therefore, that the two—college and fraternity—although remaining true to their respective original purposes, should cooperate on the items of scholarship,
social training, and general morals."

To improve scholarship, much good work has already been done by the Scholarship Committee of the Interfraternity Conference with the cooperation of the National Association of College and University Registrars.
The three reports of the Conference committee have been the basis for more sympathetic and intelligent consideration of scholarship than has ever before been possible. The work already done has resulted in a real effort on the part of some fraternities
to improve their scholarship standing.

"The two agencies should co-operate to arouse greater intellectual enthusiasm and create a wholesome respect for intellectual achievement."

Quoting Rev. Bernard Bell, Warden
of St. Stephen's College, Columbia University, Priest pointed out that it is the business of the college to produce men of taste rather than intellectual hooligans. He said that fraternities can become a potent ally of the college in cultivation of good taste
and the quiet graces of a gentleman.
Social training, he said, is so intimately connected with living conditions that the two should be considered together.

The chapter house and its furnishings should be in good taste, and kept clean, and university and fraternity officials and alumni can co-operate to see that proper standards of living are maintained. The returning alumnus, too, should co-operate with the college and the chapter in upholding
the standards of the campus, not flout his disregard of college authority. College authorities, further, need to see that where students room, or room and board, in college dormitories, decency and order prevail.

The matter of general morale is difficult to handle, but college and fraternity can co-operate to build up traditions in each chapter of right conduct and genuine interest in the best things of its own campus, so that the chapter may become a united moral force and not merely a group of successful politicians and individual campus performers.

"Chapters cannot develop proper morale until the silly, coarse, and oftentimes dangerous practices of hell

DR. E. A. BISHOP RESIGNS POSITION

Dr. Eugene A. Bishop, Assistant Professor and acting head of the Department of Sociology in the College of Liberal Arts has recently resigned that position in order that he may engage in more advanced work than opportunity at the University permits. His resignation has been accepted by the President and will take effect at the close of the present school year. Dr. Bishop has been at the University now for three and a half years. His work here is prized very highly, especially as a teacher and as a counselor of students on a familiar footing. He is a gifted public speaker with that supremely fortunate combination of ability and personality. The student body feels that his departure will assuredly be a severe loss to the University.

"What Is Real Collegiate Type?" Is Asked in Dean's Questionnaire

The University of New Hampshire
has been invited to participate in a nation-wide survey of educational institutions, undertaken to ascertain the real status of the so-called "collegiate" in American college life.

Henry Gratton Doyle, Dean of Men
of George Washington University, Washington, D. C. has addressed a questionnaire to the Dean asking a number of significant questions pertaining to the "collegiate." He wants to know whether the "collegiate"
is the typical college student;
also whether slouchy dress or neatness in appearance is typical of the student body. He further asks whether student opinion favors neat dress and courteous manners or approves slouchy appearance and careless habits of dress and conduct.
Other queries calculated to classify
the "collegiate" are also made.

A similar questionnaire has been sent to the Deans of four hundred leading colleges. When replies are received Dean Doyle believes he will have a survey which will be of wide informative value, which may be presented to the annual convention of the Association of Deans and Advisors of Men in Washington, April 11, 12, 13.

"I am sure that in common with me, you have felt concern and sometimes chagrin over the mental picture of the 'collegiate' boy or girl which the general public has apparently created during recent years," says
Dean Doyle, in his letter of inquiry.
"I feel that this imaginary individual is by no means typical. For the purpose of contributing something toward the correction of what I believe to be erroneous public opinion and the creation of correct opinion founded on facts, I am sending this letter to deans in a number of the leading colleges and universities throughout the country in order to get a consensus of fact and opinion which can be presented to the public."

Dean Doyle then propounds the following questions:
1. (a) Is the "collegiate" of the humorous press and the vaudeville

Men's Glee Club Not To Compete

N. E. Intercollegiate Date Dropped From Schedule

Higher Entrance Fee Reason for Action, says Professor Manton—
Several Intrastate Trips
Planned

The University Men's Glee Club
will not enter the Intercollegiate Glee Club competition at Boston on March 1, according to an announcement made yesterday by Professor Robert W.
Manton, director of the club. It was announced earlier in the college year that the club would again enter the competition, but situations which have arisen since that time make entrance inadvisable.

It is understood that the entrance fee for the competing clubs has been raised, making each organization entering liable to a heavy financial loss.
Then again there seems to be a waning of interest in and about Boston in the meet this year, and as the University glee club is to make several trips within the state it was decided that it would be better to concentrate the efforts of the organization on the program for these trips.
At the present time there are possibilities of trips to Lancaster, Woods-ville, Keene and Pittsfield for the Men's Glee Club, with several other engagements in the offing.

NOTICE

The "NEW HAMPSHIRE" wishes to announce that in the story of last week in regard to the nominations
for the presidency of the Outing Club, the name of Warren B. Pinney was omitted and should have been included with the names of William Nelson and William Boardman.

"What Is Real Collegiate Type?" Is Asked in Dean's Questionnaire

stage the typical student of your college? or

(b.) Is neatness in appearance, personnel of your enrollment, and if so, what percentage of the total student body is like him?

2. (a.) Is a slouchy appearance as evidenced by garterless socks, rumpled shirt and collar, sloppy shoes and wrinkled suits of clothing, typical of your student body? or

(b.) Is neatness in appearance, as evidenced by clean shaving, wellshined shoes, starched linen, appropriate neckties of neat appearance
and well-pressed suits of clothing,
typical of your student body?

3. (a.) In the main, does the psychological attitude of your student body approve slouchy and careless habits of dress and conduct or neat habits of dress and courteous manners?

(b.) Is there an appreciable attitude of disfavor in your student body toward carelessness in dress and manners?

4. Is there any connection, in your opinion, between the attempt to be "collegiate" and such problems as:

(a) Drinking?
(b) "Necking"?
(c) Neglect of class work?
(d) Dishonesty in examinations?
(e) Other ethical problems?

5. Does the "collegiate" type of student referred to in the opening of this letter excel, as a rule, in:

(a) Scholastic standing?
(b) Sports?
(c) Other student activities?

6. In your opinion is the "collegiate"
type diminishing or increasing?

7. Do you or do you not agree with me that in general our student bodies are composed of reasonably serious young people, whose ideals and standards of conduct compare favorably with those of preceding generations—in short, that their faults are faults of manners rather than morals?

The annual election of officers for the Outing Club will take place at Convocation on Wednesday, January 23. The nominees presented by the committee in charge of this election are: William Nelson '30, William Boardman '30, and Warren Pinney
'30, for president; William Clement
'30, Earl Batchelder '30, and Waldron Lowe, for vice-president; Madeline Pickwick '30 and Gertrude Eldridge '30, for secretary. A faculty member will be asked to be treasurer of the organization.

At the convocation of January 23, after the election of officers for the Outing Club, there will be presented a special program of features relative to the activities of the club. These will include a moving picture of winter sports, two short speeches, and the launching of the drive for an extended membership of the club. If possible, there will also be shown a moving picture of New Hampshire men
in action.

The Outing Club has recently elected committees to cover every aspect of the proposed program. At a recent meeting of the Carnival Ball Committee, under the chairmanship of Ralph Garlock '29, it was decided that the dance is to be a costume affair. Another feature of the Carnival program is that of having Mask
and Dagger present a matinee showing of "The Dover Road," on Friday, February 15. This particular part of the program is tentative and will be included in the program if there is sufficient demand to warrant the special production of the play.

The toboggan chute, located on Ham's farm, west of the Boston and Maine railroad tracks, is now available for the use of students.

The present officers of the Outing
Club are: John Wettergreen, president; Robert Snodgrass, vice-president; Alice Spinney, secretary, and Dana Cotton, treasurer. Under the leadership of these officers the work of planning the carnival for this year has gone ahead rapidly and has already been shaped into a well unified program.

John Wettergreen wishes to announce the following carnival committees: Carnival Ball, Ralph Garlock, general chairman; Music, Paul Blaisdell; Refreshments, Lyle Farrell; Favors, John Kelly, chairman, Jane Blake, Alice Spinney; Decorations, David M. Beck, chairman,

CASQUE AND CASKET TO HOLD FORMAL DANCE AT END OF TERM

Casque and Casket, the interfraternity governing body at the University, voted at a meeting held Monday evening to hold a formal dance
during the latter part of this term.

The meeting was presided over by John Kelley '29, of Nashua, who is president of the organization. There was much discussion at the meeting whether to continue the system of having an interfraternity banquet or to change and have a formal dance as was the plan several years ago.

PICKING DATES

In another column of this issue we publish a letter in which attention is called to the fact that there are altogether too many conflicts among the various social and athletic entertainments and programs during the college year. We are heartily in accordance with the views expressed by the writer of the letter and feel that the appointment of such a committee as he suggests would go far toward making better feeling among the various departments and organizations on the campus.

There certainly would seem to be enough spare time during the college year so that every major function could be held without a conflict with any other major social or athletic program, if selfishness were left out of the arrangements and a disinterested group heard all pleas and arranged the date schedules. If such a state of affairs cannot be reached, it seems logical to conclude that, as we have often pointed out in the past, the campus is over-organized and too many forms of entertainment are being attempted. Matters would in this case seem to await action on the part of the administration and the student council.

The Lyceum Course, the dramatic society, the glee clubs, the athletic department, the social committee, all have their rightful place on a campus such as is ours; but no one of them should be permitted to arbitrarily pick its dates for performances with no regard for the plans of any of the other groups mentioned. Let's have some sort of organization and fairness in our social schedule as we do in our class programs.

INTERFRATERNITY

AGREEMENT

For 1929-1930 as drawn up by the fraternities represented in CASQUE AND CASKET

Rushing Rules

We, the undersigned, acting for our respective fraternities, do promise and agree not to invite before Thursday, January 2, at 4.00 P. M. any student who has registered in the University for the first time after Friday, June 15, 1929, to join a fraternity.

The following rules will be observed:

1. Rushing shall be construed to mean any action, deed, or word by any member of any fraternity, active or inactive, the purpose of which or the result of which is to influence in any way any man to join any fraternity.

2. These rushing rules shall be construed to apply to any man registering on or after Thursday, January 2, 1930.

3. No rushing of any description shall take place between the hours of 8.00 P. M. and 7.00 A. M. with the exception of Saturday nights and the occasion of the freshman party.

a. On the date of the occasion of the freshman party, this rule shall be construed to mean from 7.00 A. M. of the day of the party to 7.00 A. M. of the following day; and on Saturday nights, extended rushing will be permissible from 8.00 P. M. to 7.00 A. M. of the following day.

b. No fraternity shall hold more than one rushing party during the rushing season.

4. No fraternity shall sign up any man eligible for rushing more than two dates ahead except for the occasion of the freshman party.

a. A date shall be construed to mean the period of time between 7.00 A. M. and 2.00 P. M. or 2.00 P. M. and 8.00 P. M., excepting Saturday nights and the occasion of the freshman party.

5. There shall be a meeting of Casque and Casket, January 23, 1930, at which time the names of the students shall be presented.

6. Notices shall be mailed, Wednesday, January 22, 1930 at 8.00 A. M., and no communication shall be had with the students who have registered for the first time on or since January 21, 1930, at 4.00 P. M., until bids have been signed.

a. Rushing season shall terminate when written decisions have been deposited with Casque and Casket.

7. Casque and Casket shall send uniformly written notes to each man whose name has been presented, stating that he has been bid by one or more fraternities.

8. The student bid will present himself to Casque and Casket at 5.00 P. M., Wednesday, January 22, 1930, at a place designated, prepared to give a final answer to the formal bids which are to be presented at that time.

9. The student's answer shall be written on a form card and deposited in a sealed box before 6.00 P. M., Wednesday, January 22, 1930.

10. The signing of the pledge card binds a man to join that fraternity which he designates on the card, and by this he shall never be eligible to join any other fraternity represented in Casque and Casket.

11. No students shall be allowed to leave the room until all the answers have been deposited. Only men who have received bids and members of Casque and Casket will be allowed in the room.

12. Furthermore, we promise and agree to allow no student registered for the first time on or after Tuesday, September 10, 1929, to room or board in our fraternity houses before he is pledged.

13. A printed copy of these rules shall be given to each new student on registration day.

14. Lastly, we agree hereby to abide by these rules in spirit as well as letter.

Resolved, that Casque and Casket go on record as recommending to the fraternities that during the rushing season every possible consideration be given to the scholastic standing of the men being rushed, and members of the various fraternities, in order that the rushing season may not interfere with the scholastic standard of this University.

Penalties to be imposed for breaking any of the above rules shall be:

1. No picture in year book.

2. No representation in intramural athletics for the rest of the year.

3. Name published in New Hampshire for two consecutive issues.

4. Freshmen caught breaking rules will not be allowed to be pledged until second year.

5. The fraternity shall be expelled from scholarship cup competition.

Don't anyone complain about dancing being banned while the epidemic is in full sway. At Colby they have banned kissing. Aren't you glad you haven't that on your mind, Looie?

The president of Pan-Hellenic was forced to leave the fights Friday because of a boy's bloody nose. Evidently these Pan-Hellenic meetings haven't been as gory as we have been led to believe.

One of the co-eds complains of the bad grammar we use in this column. Doesn't she know we're imitating the big newspapers in our grammar as well as in our ads?

Now that Riegel's 70 yard run for California is history, we have our own little episode at New Hampshire.

The scene was a phys-ed. basketball class. A Sophomore received a pass on his own foul line, and with the ball tucked under his arm, broke through the surrounding players, and ran the length of the court. He had to stop at the other end—probably to look for a ladder with which to reach the basket! His side was awarded five points, for a first place in the hundred yard dash. The hero has not recovered yet.

EACH IN HIS OWN PLACE

The poet wrote a poem.
 A wonderfully beautiful thing.
 The artist painted a picture.
 Of a book, and a bird on wing.

The singer sang a lyric.
 The organist played his heart.
 The lovers lived their lives;
 And all made a work of art.

The English girl, who complained of our sorority girls being the same, didn't know, of course, that the different ones were kept in closets and termed wet!

Rather tough on the Red Ramblers—no informals. But again they might put in their spare time now by learning one more waltz (making a total of two, if you please!)

There are 2,000 experienced teachers out of work in New England. And they all have college degrees. Pretty soon a B. A. will be an excuse for not giving a man a job.

GUESS WHO

He walks around quoting Shakespeare.
 His wit is funny yet trim.
 Our magazines sure lost a writer,
 And the stage a great actor in him.

And so, all you little boys and girls, a great big picture arrived, all the old pictures were put away—and this pretty new one put on top of the shelf. Who's next, Joe?

Stunt night is coming soon. One of the requirements is originality. Why doesn't someone put on a class room scene with everyone knowing the answers to the questions?

Einstein took five years to write his new book of a very few pages. And we're expected to fill an exam book in two hours. The answer is, we suppose, that the more you know the harder it is to say, or that we're not Einsteins.

We've often wondered what the faculty members think of in spare moments. Recently one of the English department while standing in Murkland Hall, disclosed her thoughts: "Oh, dear, just think of all the bugs coming down those stairs!"

Which reminds us by the way that we should compliment the college physician and his staff on the extraordinary way in which they have handled the "flu" epidemic here. It isn't often that a disease is so rapidly checked.

And this ain't no love poetry, darn it! Why be despondent, grouchy and blue? Why leave the playing for others to do? Drink deep, dear friends, the cup of life. Or there may be nothing left for you.

E. Zinna Daise

Mr. Hennessy describes the loving actions of two wet smacks as: "Vacuum yearned to vacuum." Aren't we glad we haven't any such cases here?

Giff a laff! Is some one trying to tell us that germs are most easily circulated at dances? We hardly agree as that seems to be about the only time when students are really under the public eye.

FROM OUR MAIL BOX

To the Editor:

Looking over the activities of the past year at the University there is a point which comes to my mind that I believe should be brought to the attention of the University authorities, through the columns of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In the past there have been several unpleasant situations arise when two concerts, a concert and a dance, or various other combinations of events, have been scheduled to take place in the same afternoon or evening at the same hour. To me this is a situation that should be remedied.

We at the University of New Hampshire are wont to feel that this institution is a growing one, progressing as fast or faster as any other like institution in this section of the country. Durham in a measure is handicapped geographically, but not to any great extent. There are many evenings and afternoons going by when there is nothing other than the usual routine procedure. When this is the case it seems to me that it should be possible to schedule various campus events so that they would not be in conflict.

Being specific, I think especially of the term just past when the University Glee Clubs' Christmas concert and the Military Ball were held on the same night and at the same hour. Doubtless it was unintentional on the part of those in charge of either affair, but nevertheless the conflict was there. I am positive of the fact that in the above case the Glee Club Concert date was scheduled and decided upon long before that of the Military Ball. Understand, I am not criticising the Ball committee for the conflict, but this example only serves to strengthen my point that there should be a "clearing house" for University events.

This would necessarily be in the form of a committee composed of those faculty members who are in charge of the various events on the campus. In the past there has been a tendency for certain events to have priority over all others, a condition which, to me, should not exist. There is no reason why any one group of events is more important than any other. Every activity, every event, should be given its just due.

The committee which I speak of above should be, to my mind, composed of faculty representatives of the following activities: the athletic department, the Lyceum course committee, the University Glee Clubs, the University Dramatic society, the University debating group, and whatever faculty committee is in charge of granting petitions for student dances and activities. It may be that I have left some important group out of this list. If so it is only because I do not think of it at the time, but those I have named serve to show what I mean.

Such a committee would be representative of the events on this campus. This committee could meet at the opening of each term and at such other times as would be advisable. If this were instituted no function could take place that had not passed this committee as to the date and hour of the event. Please do not confuse this with the committee already operating that arranges student functions. The committee of which I speak would arrange the functions of every University department.

I have no doubt that the plan as I have outlined it here will be met with derision by one University department in particular, but I still maintain that there is no reason that they should have complete control of the situation on this campus, for there are other activities just as beneficial and just as important as theirs.

Please accept this as a bit of constructive criticism. It represents to me a growing need at this University. And I hope that the University authorities will consider carefully the merits of this or some similar proposition. There are enough days in the college year to get in everything that is a campus event, without conflict.

Gross misrepresentation. What could be more of a drawback, more of a handicap, and more of a burden for any organization to grow under? And what should be one of the most flourishing organizations on campus is laboring under these conditions.

An organization that benefits every individual on the University of New Hampshire campus, either directly or indirectly and which is misrepresented in turn by the very students which it helps. Whether or not this misrepresentation is intentional we do not dare state. We hope it is not and yet indications surely point that way. The University of New Hampshire Y. M. C. A. is working under difficulties that no other organization of its kind in any college of New England has to contend with. At Yale Uni-

DO I NEED GOD?

"Do I need God?" I cried, when in my youth I went abroad, free in my life and line. What matter whether earth or heav'n is truth, When there is life to taste, sweet bubbling wine?

"Who cares for God?" I cried when love Swinging each other's hand set out to know This earth, to hold each other 'neath the arching sky; To count the star, and gasp when one swooped low.

But when my youth had passed and love had died, In my mouth was bitter taste; in my heart, fear.

Yet when in belated remorse I cried, "Where are you, God?" tenderly he answered, "Here."

LIBRARY NOTES

The Library has acquired several of the outstanding Norwegian novels of the year. Within recent years the American public has become conscious of the real worth and depth of the Norwegian literature, and adequate translations have become available. Perhaps the award of the Nobel prize to Sigrid Undset has had something to do with this.

The first two volumes of her tetralogy "The Master of Hestviken" have been published this year. The real stuff of her books is human nature with only those details of setting which are necessary to make the narrative understood. The hero of "The Axe" and "The Snake Pit" has inflexible strength while the woman is pliant as a reed. They had always intended to marry but family difficulties delayed the fulfillment of their betrothal agreement. In addition to their differences in temperament married life is made more difficult by an overhanging and unatoned sin on each conscience. They are judged to be great novels—historically, realistically, and psychologically.

As a sequel to O. E. Rolvaag's "Giants in the Earth" comes "Peder Victorious." This is the story of the new American-born generation's struggle against the old traditions and outward symbols of the past. The feeling and treatment are part of the broad and humane simplicity that links Rolvaag to the great Norwegian literary tradition.

"The New Temple" by Johan Bojer is a sequel to "The Great Hunger" of last year. A brother and sister, estranged for the first time, seek the parents they have never seen and from them gather inspiration to devote their lives to the new temple of spiritual service. It is told with the simplicity and directness that catches the significant phase and scene in the lives of the characters and leaves the reader with the impression that he has known them before.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Monday evening, January twenty-first, the Y. W. C. A. will have a snowshoe hike to the Cabin in College Woods, starting at seven and returning at eight-thirty. Games, refreshments and camp songs will be the program. Miss Florence Gordon is chairman of the meetings committee.

The Y. W. C. A., according to its usual custom, is offering the opportunity to women students to join groups in which topics that have been chosen by the girls for their cultural and informational value will be presented by members of the faculty and others. Miss Katherine Watson has consented to lead a group in Camp Councillors on Thursday evenings. A group in Fine Arts will hear Mr. Mantor, Mr. John Herring, Mr. Schramm and Mr. Hennessy give illustrated talks on music appreciation, etchings, points of a good picture and interpretation of a short play respectively.

Mr. Batchelder and others will have a group in points of interest about Durham. Miss Henthorne will have an interesting outline course arranged by professors of Chicago University on "Experiments in Religious Experience." She will also lead a course in "Our Community Looking-glass,"—a series of studies compiled from the diaries of teachers in their first schools and discussing the problems which confronted them.

The popular course in antiquities and furnishings will be given again if the same leadership can be procured. Plans are now being made with that in view. Watch the bulletin boards for weekly reminders.

versity the Y is accepted as being one of the most important groups on the campus. Finances are made possible through volunteer subscriptions that never fail to surpass the quota. Amherst, Brown, Harvard, University of Maine, and any number of colleges could be enumerated that have a stable financial basis, made possible by the students, on which to function. It can be truthfully stated that such conditions do exist on this campus.

The general consensus of opinion here at New Hampshire is a sad, sad acknowledgement of individual ignorance and personal dogmatism. The "Y" isn't even given an even break. It isn't given the opportunity to show the campus sheik and the campus wine (or cider) bibber that they could still be a public nuisance (provided they wanted to be) and belong to the "Y."

No the "Y" isn't looking for the perfect "hombre" that goes to church on Sunday and who sings hymns at a men's smoker. At the same time this organization is not running Salvation Army meetings where an alcoholic nosed individual hiccoughs and praises God in the same breath. Neither of these individuals typify what the "Y" wants. Neither of the two examples characterize a man. And that is what is wanted at the "Y" men. Not a hollow chested individual who coughs because he doesn't smoke Old Golds, nor a person who sports a football N. H. as well as a chronic swelling in his weak end, but an individual who has got muscles enough in his lower abdomen to keep things out from under a wet blanket.

I have often wondered how many students would dare apply if a sign such as the following was to be hung out in front of the Commons,—

Positions open in Y Work.

Only MEN Need Apply.

Scholarship Committee Reports

Mr. Alvan E. Duerr, who has headed the Scholarship Committee for several years, said in his report: "The survey for 1927-1928, which is rapidly approaching completion, is showing the result of the greater interest that many of us are taking in the scholarship of our members. Fraternity averages are improving: in 1924-1925 fraternity averages were better than all men's averages in 33.3% of the institutions covered by our survey; the following year in 37%; last year in 42.9%; and this year, with reports complete from four-fifths of the institutions, the record stands at 46.7%. When fraternity averages are better than the all men's averages in 50% of our colleges, a goal that we seem likely to reach during the present academic year, one more argument against the fraternity system will have fallen by the way-side. I do not, however, accept this achievement as an ultimate goal for fraternity men; for, after all, the average performance of a large group of men is nothing to boast of.

Mr. Duerr, in expressing appreciation for the assistance given him by college officers, went on to say: "To me the gratifying feature of this is that college authorities are recognizing more and more that the spirit of the college fraternity is in harmony with the spirit of their institutions, and that they may look to us increasingly to work with them to bring about anything that will advance the common interests of institution and student."

Summing up, Mr. Duerr said, "Our committee has received numerous requests for formulated rules and regulations covering this whole problem of scholarship. I should class the best regulations ever written on the problem with a certain pre-war Good Scholarship is the fruit of interest and

Detailed as Assistant to Quartermaster at Fort Leonard Wood, Maryland—First Lieutenant and Graduate of West Point in 1918

Information has been received from the War Department that First Lieutenant Robert F. Carter, assistant professor of Military Science at the University, has been detailed as assistant to the Quartermaster at Fort Leonard Wood, Maryland, and will report for duty there July first.

Lieutenant Carter was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1918. From there he went to the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia, and graduated in 1920. He was assigned to the 46th Infantry, Camp Jackson, South Carolina, and later assigned to duty at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Lieutenant Carter also served with the 17th Infantry, the 20th Infantry and 8th Corps Area Training Center. He served as an instructor, Assistant Adjutant, Assistant Organized Reserve Officer, and as officer in charge at the West Point Enlisted Candidates School. From 1923 to 1925 he was stationed with the 45th Infantry at Los Banos and Batangas, Philippine Islands. Lieutenant Carter came to the Granite State institution in the fall of 1925.

not of discipline. We can drive our chapters to the educational trough, but we can't make them drink; for that we must create a thirst; and that requires inspiration, and guidance, and leadership, as well as something approaching an intellectual atmosphere. Fundamentally this is the college's problem; no real teacher need ever to ask his students to study; but the problem is getting out of the hands of our unwieldy institutions, and must be transferred to smaller groups, and in part, at least, that means us. We must become more and more a real factor in every phase of college life, merely to insure the greatest benefits to our individual members, and to make fraternity membership of real and permanent value to them."

Shepardson Addresses Delegates

With an urgent plea that fraternity men not only continue the work they are doing for the improvement of fraternity standards, but also let other students and especially college officials know of these efforts, Dr. Francis W. Shepardson, dean of fraternity workers and former chairman of the Conference, reported on two meetings of college and university officials he had recently attended.

The conference of Deans of Men held last May in Boulder, Colo., Dean Shepardson said, proved to be fully cognizant of the value of fraternity life.

"Those officers were sympathetic and friendly with the college fraternity, recognizing the value of these organizations as administrative helps to them. These men," said Dean Shepardson, "will work with us for the improvement of American college fraternities and for the elimination of certain evils which we have been working at now for a score of years."

At the meeting of the National Association of Presidents of State Universities, however, Dean Shepardson reported, the question was raised as to the value of fraternities to these institutions and a committee was appointed to study questions relative to fraternities.

The answers to be found by this committee, according to Dean Shepardson, will have a serious effect upon the future of college fraternities, and it behooves every fraternity to let non-fraternity men and college officials know that fraternities are working for the best interests of the colleges.

"For twenty years," said Dean Shepardson, "we have been trying to get across the idea that there cannot be a good fraternity chapter anywhere unless the spirit on the campus is right; that the college fraternity is a subsidiary of college life and that college always must come first. But we don't get it across."

"What constructive work have we done in education? Every man of you know people whose very lives have been transformed by kneeling at the altar of a college fraternity. That is constructive educational work. The greatest, most powerful constructive force at work on college campuses today to advance scholarship is the American college fraternity."

Dr. H. W. Chase, Chairman of the Association and of the University of North Carolina as well, was a guest of the Conference and invited it to co-operate by appointing a committee to meet with the association to study college fraternities. Chairman Riegelman appointed Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas.

Tutorial System Proposed

An interesting discussion, led by Albert S. Tousley, of Delta Chi, was had on the "Tutorial System in Chapters."

Mr. Tousley related the experience of a chapter of his fraternity, where a Tutorial Adviser was installed over the opposition of the chapter. His position developed into that of a Master of Personnel, with problems of scholarship, morality, faculty relationships and a number of other matters. With the work of this man for only

Question for Debate: Resolved, that Second Term Rushing and Bidding Is Preferable to Any Other Form of Rushing and Bidding

After a lapse of a year, intramural debating activities will start anew next Tuesday night for both fraternities and sororities. There are six fraternities and four sororities entered in the contest for the awards, which will be a cup for the winner and a plaque for the runner-up, the finals to be held in a future convocation between the winning fraternity and sorority.

The first round for the fraternities to be held at 8:30 or as soon thereafter as possible, slates Phi Mu Delta to meet Alpha Tau Omega with the latter as host, Theta Upsilon Omega to meet Delta Sigma Chi with the former as host, and Kappa Sigma to meet Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Kappa Sigma as host. Alpha Chi Omega will be host to Sigma Omicron in their debate, which will open the schedule for sororities. In the second round the winner of the A. T. O. Phi Mu Delta will debate the winner of the Kappa Sigma-S. A. E. match. For the sororities Chi Omega will meet Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega acting as host. In the semi-finals the winner of the second round will meet the winner of the Theta Upsilon Omega-Delta Sigma Chi debate for the fraternities, and the winners of the first and second round women's debates will meet. The winners of the inter-fraternity and inter-sorority matches will meet for the final debate to determine the championship. Second round debates will be held on January 29, semi-finals on February 5, and the finals will be held at a date to be announced later.

The president of the entertaining fraternity will act as chairman of the debate, and the two alternates will act as timekeepers. Each team is to be composed of two men and an alternate, and the teams will be made up of one man from each fraternity, each fraternity presenting one negative and one affirmative speaker. Ten minutes is the time of each formal speech and five minutes of each rebuttal speech.

The question is: "Resolved, that second term rushing and bidding is preferable to any other form of rushing and bidding." The debates will be judged on material, presentation, organization, and the relative merits of the individual speakers. The speaker gaining first place shall be ranked five points, second place three points, third two points, and fourth one point. At least one week before the debate the host team must submit to Tau Kappa Alpha a list of prospective judges who have signified their willingness to serve for that debate. Three will be picked to serve. If a list of judges is not submitted to Tau Kappa Alpha by the time specified, that organization will arbitrarily appoint the judges.

Faculty members and members of Tau Kappa Alpha are eligible to act as judges, and any member of a fraternity who is not participating in intercollegiate forensics this year or who is not registered for English 62-B is eligible for participation.

one semester, the chapter advanced from twenty-fourth position in scholarship to third.

Delta Chi has decided to expend the experiment, and their Executive Board has gone on record as favoring the installation of the system in half a dozen chapters.

Martin J. Her, of Phi Gamma Delta, stated that his fraternity had tried a similar experiment at two of their chapters, and that it had worked out very well. It improved the undergraduate chapters, and it gave the graduate chapters an opportunity to feel that they were really doing something toward maintaining the fraternity's standing in the two schools.

In reply to a question by Albert S. Bard, Past Chairman of the Conference, Mr. Tousley stated that their faculty advisor was selected after a survey of the entire field. "The thing to do," he said, "would be to consider not only his scholastic standing, his record in school, but also his ability to make friends."

Alumni News

Alumni Office, January 17.—We regret to notify New Hampshire alumni through this column of the death of another noted and active alumnus, Walter E. Angier of the class of 1885. We include below the clipping taken from the Wheaton Progressive of Friday, January 4, 1929 in regard to his life and accomplishments.

"THE WHEATON PROGRESSIVE
JANUARY 4, 1929
WALTER E. ANGIER '85

Walter Eugene Angier, well-known in engineering circles, passed away at his home, 1049 College Ave., Saturday evening, Dec. 29, after a long period of ill health. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage.

He was born in Fitzwilliam, N. H., May 18, 1863. His mother, the late Mrs. Belle Angier, was the "Aunt Belle" to whom Eugene Field dedicated his little book of poems, "Love Songs of Childhood," and it was at his request that "Aunt Belle's little boy" was named for him.

Mr. Angier received his B. S. degree from New Hampshire college, and graduated as a civil engineer from the Thayer school of Engineering, Dartmouth college. While in college, he joined the Baptist church, and has since retained his membership at his boyhood home, West Swanzy, N. H. During his early engineering career, he went to Galveston, Texas, where he met Miss Mary Powell, of Luling. They were married December 30, 1889.

For many years he was associated with Ralph Modjeski, with offices in several of the largest cities in the country. His monuments in steel and stone are nation-wide. One of his most important engineering commissions was an examination of the Alaskan railway for the government.

Taken seriously ill with a paralysis on May 1, 1926, he rallied in a few months so that he was again quite active, but he thought it best to retire from further business operations. He had been interested in the growth of Wheaton ever since he came here from Chicago in 1920. His chief occupation during the latter months of his life, was to walk as far as possible from his home, accompanied by his dog Laddie, and note the expansion and improvements in the city. He was stricken again Sunday evening, Dec. 23, dying six days later.

Although he had won an enviable reputation in the engineering world, on account of his keen mind and integrity of character, he was always modest and reserved of manner, and it was in keeping with this as well as his oft repeated requests, that the rites at his home on New Year's day, in charge of Dr. Charles L. Bromley, were simple and quiet. The remains were taken to Graceland cemetery for cremation and his ashes will be carried to rest with his mother at Fitzwilliam.

Mr. Angier is survived by his wife Mary Powell Angier; three children, M. Estelle, of Gary, Ind., who was with him at the end, Philip Powell, of Melville, La., who came to Wheaton for the funeral, Robert M. of Los Angeles, Calif., and five grandchildren.

1926—We have just received word of the marriage of Marion Robinson to Mr. Harold Gould of Bellows Falls, Vermont. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are now living at 26 Front street, Bellows Falls, Vt.

1903—Morris A. Stewart tells us that his address is now 1453 Fairmont street, N. W., Washington, D. C., having changed his residence recently.

A meeting of Phi Sigma was held at Thompson Hall Thursday January 10. Reports of the National Phi Sigma Convention held at the Teachers' College of Columbia in December were given by Theodore Karabelas, official delegate, and by Miss Dorothy Smith, Professor Jackson, and Donald Barton. Miss Eleanor Sheehan was elected to fill the position of Corresponding Secretary in place of Miss Ruth Pitcher, who has resigned the position.

He was a member of the faculty of the College of the City of New York during part of the year 1922. From 1922 to 1926 he was Assistant Professor of Chemistry at Lehigh University. He comes to this institution from Zurich, Switzerland, where he has been doing research work at the Polytechnicum.

SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

The Reverend Anthony R. Parsley of Lancaster was the speaker at the Convocation exercises at the University yesterday afternoon.

This is the first Convocation since the opening of the winter term. President Edward M. Lewis presided over the exercises. Music was furnished by the University band under the direction of Lewis C. Swain '18.

Term Play Is
The Dover RoadBroadway Success May Be Staged for Carnival

Paul Blaisdell, '29, Plays Lead. Cast Includes Dorothy Jones, '30, Elizabeth Bauer, '29, John Fleming, '29, Nelson, '30, and Robert Ayers, '32

Work is progressing rapidly on "The Dover Road," winter term production of Mask and Dagger. A full schedule of rehearsals has been carried out since the opening of the present term, and the production is rapidly rounding into shape, in anticipation of a possible performance at the time of the annual Winter Carnival.

In "The Dover Road" there are many scenes that require careful training, for the stage movements in the production are of the type that must work perfectly in order to assure a good performance. In the opening act of the winter term production there is a feeling of mystery which not only influences the actors but goes "across the footlights" to the audience.

The leading character role, "Mr. Latimer," is portrayed by Paul H. Blaisdell, '29. "Mr. Latimer" holds the key to the situation throughout the entire production, and the effect that his continued quiet ways have on "Lord Leonard" and "Nicholas," portrayed by William Nelson, '30, and John D. Fleming, '29, respectively, as well as "Anne," played by Dorothy Jones, '30 and "Eustasia," played by Elizabeth Bauer, '29, produce many humorous situations throughout the play. Of no less importance in the workings of the plot is the work of "Dominic," played by Robert Ayers, '32, "major-domo" in the household of "Mr. Latimer." "Dominic's" faculty for appearing on the scene at the wrong time for "Leonard" and "Nicholas" is sure to evoke mirth from the audiences.

"The Dover Road" met with remarkable success on Broadway several years ago, and it is expected that it will meet with the approval of Durham audiences. The production abounds in comedy, with mystery and love plots cleverly interwoven.

HOME ECONOMIC NOTES

Seven senior girls of the Home Economics Department are practice teaching this term. Ruth Pitcher and Isabel Paige are teaching in Concord; Harriet Wyatt, in Nashua; Beatrice Gray and Charlotte Pearl, in Exeter; Mary Breck and Dorothy Block, in Manchester.

The Durham Kindergarten has been moved from the Community Church to the Practice House. Fifteen children from three to four years of age receive instructions on five days a week between nine and eleven o'clock. A sunny play-room and a workshop provide the children with amusement and instruction during the school hours. The girls of the Home Economics Department are observing in the classes.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION NOTES

The Physical Education department announces that the cottage at Wheelright Pond will be available week-ends to any group of eight girls and their chaperon by paying a fee of fifty cents and obtaining the key at the Physical Education office.

The Women's Athletic Association will form basketball teams during the winter season which will be connected in no way with the physical education classes in basketball. The captains will be elected by the members.

WHEN WE WERE VERY YOUNG

(Excerpts from "The New Hampshire" of Ten Years Ago)

WHY NOT A RECOGNIZED
TRACK COACH

New Hampshire has come to be known to the outside athletic world more through her achievements in track athletics than in any other branch of sport. Why should not more time and money be spent on this sport?

Considerable is spent yearly on basketball and football. Both of these teams are well equipped with athletic goods.

Yet take the track sport. Men out for track are improperly equipped. A small outfit for a very insufficient supply of articles is expended yearly.

Now if a track coach with some recognized standing here were appointed, he would see to it that these faults were remedied. Besides he would be able to give more time to coaching and the result would be better teams.

Surely track should receive more recognition than it does!

ANNUAL MINSTREL
SHOW A SUCCESS

Despite Absence of Many Customary Features "Sophs" Manage to Entertain the Much Beloved Freshmen—Goodly Attendance

The Annual Freshmen Minstrel Show was successfully run off in the Gymnasium on January 2, a week ago last Thursday night. Usually coming in the fall, on the second night which the incoming freshmen spend in N. H. C., it was put off in the fall of 1918, with all other class activities on account of the establishment of the Student Army Training Corps at this college.

Good Action
Very much like the same event of years past, it was full of interesting features, with something doing every minute. The youngsters were first marched through a gauntlet of piddle-laden Sophs, a line extending around the Gym and much longer than usual. Then these "would be" N. H. men were put in charge of the trusty "Shorty" and were privileged to display their many and varying talents singly and in groups. Numerous black-faced comedians afforded a good deal of entertainment to the upperclassmen while the orchestra of 1922 dispensed sweet agonies.

Owing to weather conditions, and fear of the prevailing epidemic, the usual aquatic features were very conspicuous by their absence. It was unfortunate for the Sophs that the real school year should start in this cold season, as the weather conditions make it necessary to dispense with some extremely interesting features.

Good Boxing
The boxing matches resulted in no casualties, though one of the fresh went to sleep for a short period as the result of a blow from his opponent's glove. A penny race down the gym floor was quite interesting to witness.

As a whole, despite the missing features, the minstrel show for 1922 proved a real success. It is a fact that at least one freshe resolved no more to antagonize and feel superior to his upperclassmen, but on the contrary to reverse and look up to, with sincere admiration and respect.

SORORITIES HOLD
"GRANITE" CAMPAIGN

All Sororities on Campus to Compete—Winning Sorority to Receive "Granite"—Clean Up Campaign to Follow

Beginning Wednesday morning and continuing for the next few weeks among the sororities on the campus, there will be a strenuous 1930 "Granite" selling campaign. The sales records of each sorority will be posted on a thermometer on the main bulletin board daily.

When the contest ends, the sorority selling the most "Granites" will have a "Granite" presented to it. This campaign will cover the faculty, townspeople, and alumni of the University as well as students on the campus.

At the close of the campaign there will be a clean up campaign, during which an effort will be made to interview all the people that have not already been approached.

The campaign staff consists of, Raymond Sawyer, editor; Frank Rogers, business manager; Earl Batchelder, assistant business manager; Marian Frame, sales manager; and Sara Brunel, publicity manager.

MISS LYFORD HEADS
INFORMATION CENTER

Former University Instructor Appointed Director of Boston Home Information Center—Guest of Honor at Reception Held at New Headquarters of American Home Makers, Inc.

Miss Carrie A. Lyford, who for four years was supervisor of the teacher training courses, was the guest of honor today at the new headquarters of the American Home Makers, Inc., at Boston. Mrs. James J. Storrow was the hostess of the reception. She was assisted at the tea tables by Miss Antoinette Roof and Mrs. Mary Schenck Woolman. Miss Lyford left the University last June and has since been appointed director of the Boston Home Information Center.

The officers of the association are anticipating a great field in Boston and vicinity for the services of Miss Lyford, who is generally regarded as one of the best authorities on home economics in the United States. Before coming to New Hampshire Miss Lyford was the director of the Home Economics School at Hampton Institute to which post she went from the United States Bureau of Education at Washington where for four years she had been home economics specialist in secondary education and teacher training. Miss Lyford received her education in the Oregon Agricultural College, at the Drexel Institute, and at Teachers' College, Columbia University.

The occasion today was of special interest as the work of the American Home Makers was shown in action. There was a demonstration of the best and easiest ways of renovating furniture; Mrs. Schyler F. Herron, executive director, showed charts and plans bearing on household budgets, and Mrs. Ida S. Harrington spoke on "How to be Physically Fit for the Job."

Work similar to that in Boston is going on in Springfield where five hundred are enrolled, in Providence, and in Holyoke where 1,500 compose the membership. The aim of the American Home Makers is to have a home information center in every community. The association conducts radio talks from station WBZ each Monday afternoon.

GRANITE MCINTOSH TOP APPLE MARKET

New Hampshire Fruit Brings Highest Price in New York

New Hampshire McIntosh apples brought more at the New York auction rooms last fall than apples of the same or any variety from any section of the country. Lorian Jefferson, assistant research professor in marketing at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, told the fruit growers gathered at the state meeting in Concord, recently.

Miss Jefferson finds that even with the demand for New Hampshire McIntosh that prevails in New York, fewer and fewer of them are reaching New York markets. New England is consuming many more of its own apples and in appetite is more than keeping pace with the heavy McIntosh plantings.

In her study of the city markets Miss Jefferson found that the Jewish people consume almost 90 percent of the McIntosh coming into market and are willing to pay as much as 18 cents a pound for them. She attributes this to the fine discrimination with which the Jewish people choose their foods. Before the advent of the McIntosh, the Northern Spy held their favor.

from bacillary white diarrhea. The purpose of the work is to separate the hens into three classes depending on their ability to produce chicks having the qualities needed for high egg production.

The first class is the breeding class and contains all birds that show satisfactory production qualities and are free from inferior qualities, which might be inherited. The second class contains the birds suitable only for egg production. They may be off type in color from the rest of the flock, off color at the ear lobes, have side sprigs, feathers on shanks, have a comb foreign to the breed, or be down on their shanks or toes. Any one of these defects makes a hen an undesirable bird for breeding stock.

The third class is made up of culls unfit for egg production and breeding stock. Mr. Stuart also handled 3,500 birds of non-accredited flocks for culling purposes.

PLAN PLAY CONTEST FOR RURAL GROUPS

New Hampshire Communities to Be Invited to Enter Tournament with One-Act Plays

A contest in amateur play production will be conducted in the rural communities of New Hampshire in 1929 according to plans announced at the conference of extension workers recently at the University. The tournament will be limited to one-act plays in a list recommended by the Community Drama Service, and will be open to granges, farm bureaus, 4-H clubs, women's clubs and other interested organizations. Groups in nearby communities will be pitted against each other at local contests, and county winners will play in the finals to be held during Farmers' and Home-Makers' Week next summer at Durham.

Wholesome recreation and improvement of rural drama are the main objects of the contest, according to H. B. Stevens, chairman of the state committee in charge. It is also hoped that promising home talent will be brought to light. Community groups interested should get in touch at once with the county extension office, which will furnish lists of recommended plays.

SPORTISMS

The varsity basketball five has passed two of its toughest games. Northeastern and Connecticut are two of the strongest teams in New England. Providence and Harvard are two other strong teams yet to be met. Harvard has a scoring threat in Upton, a six feet six center who in the first three games of the season was the principle scoring thread of the Crimson team. He is reported to be very slow, but to remain most of the time under the opponents' basket, where his extraordinary height enables him to convert long shots which his team mates miss, into baskets. The Harvard attack also features a pass play which consists of a series of short passes leading to a fast, high top pass to Upton, who receives it high in the air over the basket. However, Middlebury stopped him.

The hockey team has shown fast improvement since its first game with M. I. T. In the Brown and Bowdoin games the pass work and general all round play showed great improvement. The work of "Eddie" Hunt, '29, at goal has improved greatly. In the Bowdoin game, especially, he made many hard stops, including stops of several corner shots which seemed to the spectators to be almost impossible to stop. Michaud and McFarland at the defense positions play a steady, reliable game, and McFarland especially is very good at relieving the wings occasionally on forays down the ice. It was a pass from him which led to one of the scores in the Bowdoin game. Plourde at center and Captain Rhinehart and Croke at the wings, are playing a very good brand of hockey and improving in their pass work. Young, Parkinson, Colburne and Tarker have been used as replacement material.

The first intramural hockey game was played last Monday at four o'clock when Theta Kappa Phi defeated Delta Sigma Chi 2-0. There will be three games on all but Saturday and Sunday; with two games on Saturday, until January 28, when the schedule closes. The schedule calls for an earlier finish this year, due to the fact that there are always so many postponed games. If the schedule and playoffs are all finished before the weather makes play impossible, supervisor Rhinehart may congratulate himself.

There are rumors that there will be an intra-mural bowling league if sufficient interest is shown by the fraternities. If there are six or less entered, there will be but one league, but if more are entered they will be divided into two leagues as in hockey. At present the alley record for a single string is held by Robert Adams, Delta Sigma Chi, with a 138. Wade Roberts, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, held the previous record with a 135. The high total for three consecutive strings is held by Howard Moore '28, who came back for a few days' visit, and bowled 343. The manager of the alleys, Mr. Sturgis, is quoting a special price of ten cents a string for the fraternity matches.

The relay team is fast rounding into shape, under the guidance of Coach Sweet. The team will consist this year, for the first time, of both the mile and two mile teams.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH PREFERENCE OF FRESHMEN

The Congregational Denomination stands highest in the church preferences of the University's Freshmen Class with the Catholic Church ranking a close second in choice according to statistics compiled by the office of the Registrar on church membership and preference. The statistics showed the following results: Congregational—67 members and 36 preferences; Catholic—61 members; Baptist—29 members and 13 preferences; Jewish—20 members; Protestant—7 members and 6 preferences; Methodist—40 members and 19 preferences; Episcopal—33 members and 2 preferences; Greek-Orthodox—2 members; Community Church—1 member and 1 preference; Christian Church—2 members; Christian Science—1 member and 5 preferences; Presbyterian—4 members; Unitarian—1 member and 4 preferences; Universalist, Lutheran, and Friends—each 1 member.

Y. W. C. A. WEEKLY MEETING LED BY MUSIC COMMITTEE

A meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association in charge of the Music Committee was held Monday evening, January 14. The program of entertainment was furnished by an orchestra composed of Miss Margaret McDonalds, piano; Miss Ruth Caverly, violin; Miss Jeanette Rumney, violin; and Miss Marjorie West, drums. In addition to both orchestra and solo selections, there were two whistling solos by Miss Agnes Raymond and Miss Elsie Davie.

An interest group in camp-counseling will meet regularly on Thursday evenings for the next four or five weeks with Miss Katharine Watson, director of Physical Education for Women, as leader. Seventeen girls have signed up for this course. There will also be a group in fine arts with Mr. Manton, Mr. John Herring, Mr. Schramm, and Mr. Hennessy, giving illustrated talks on music, etchings, pictures, and drama respectively. Anyone interested in these interest groups should see Miss Henthorne.

NUTMEG HOOPSTERS PASS TO VICTORY

Experienced Aggie Club Better Jugglers at Storrs—Johnie Small on Bench—Gaunt and Hagstrom
Star for Wildcats

The Connecticut "Nutmeggers" took the Wildcat basketball five into camp last Saturday night at Storrs by a score of 44 to 25. The strong Aggie quintet, which is one of the best in New England, was far too strong in all departments of the game for their opponents.

This was only the second regular game for the Wildcat five, while their opponents had the advantage of having played several more games. It was the superior passing ability of the Nutmeggers that was responsible for the one sided score.

The New Hampshire team played a very good game considering their lack of playing experience this season, and the fact that Small, star center on last year's quintet, was unable to play. Gaunt and Hagstrom played well for New Hampshire, the former playing well on both the offense and defense. The starting lineup for New Hampshire was as follows: Patch and Wile forwards, Hagstrom center, and Gaunt and Stolovsky guards.

Reverend W. H. Jones of Exeter, pastor to the Episcopal students at the University, and an instructor at the Phillips Exeter Academy, spoke on the theme "How Do We Attain Veracity, and What are Its Limitations?" at the regular weekly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, Monday evening. The talk was followed by informal discussion among the students.

At the meeting next week, which comes at 8.30, Professor Julio Berzunza of the Modern Language Department, who is a recent addition to the University faculty, will speak on "Spanish Customs and the Economic Situation in Spain." In the near future there is to be a joint citizenship meeting of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations, at which Professor H. C. Woodworth of the Extension Department will give a report on the findings of the Interim Tax Commission of New Hampshire of which he is a member. Professor J. O. Wellman, head of the Department of Education, will speak on "Changes in the Constitution of New Hampshire."

HARVARD COACH DECLARES HOCKEY A DANGEROUS GAME

Hockey, as played by the colleges, is more dangerous than football or any other sport is a fact that is brought out by Joseph Stubbs, Harvard Hockey Coach.

"A doctor is in attendance at all practices and games," says Coach Stubbs, "and he has a most complete equipment of medical supplies. It might be noted that we had two very severe injuries from skate cuts last season, both of which required prompt needlework. One of the visiting players dislocated his shoulder in a game, was etherized, his shoulder reset, and strapped up without leaving the building. There are very few practices or games where the doctor leaves without having a call for his services. Hockey is a dangerous game."

DR. CARL L. MARTIN FILLS NEW POSITION

Takes Place Left by Dr. Gildow—Received B. S. Degree in Agriculture at New Hampshire and Doctor's Degree at Ohio State

Dr. Carl L. Martin has been appointed to fill the vacancy at the University caused by the resignation of Dr. Elton Gildow, Station Veterinarian and Assistant Professor of Veterinary Science who has gone to the University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho to take up similar duties.

Dr. Martin received his B. S. degree in agriculture from the University of New Hampshire in 1925. In 1928 he was given the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from Ohio State University. He was one of two members in his class who were recommended to take up research work. In this same year he passed the State Board Examinations in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

On July sixth, 1928, he began general veterinary practice at Southbridge, Mass., and continued there until he took over present duties. While at New Hampshire, Martin was very active in campus affairs. He was a member of the cross-country and varsity basketball squads, a member of Alpha Zeta and the Aggie Club. He was elected to membership in Sigma Xi while at Ohio State.

Dr. Martin entered the University from his native home in Colebrook. He was married last year to Miss Rachel Davis, who graduated from New Hampshire in 1926.

Wildcat Pucksters Fight Way to Hard-won Triumphs—Plourde
and Rhinehart Score Majority of Goals

The Blue and White icemen took Brown by the score of two to one, and Bowdoin by a two to nothing score on the Durham rink last week. The Brown sextet lost on Wednesday in the more interesting game of the two, and Bowdoin went under on Saturday in a game featured chiefly by injuries. In both games the New Hampshire goalies starred. In the Brown game Beylis, substitute right wing for the visitors, pushed the puck into the net for the first score halfway through the first period. Plourde broke loose behind the Brown front line in the second period, worked the puck through the left defense, and shot by the second defense for New Hampshire's first score. In the third period, Al Rhinehart and Harry Croke pulled some pretty passwork down the ice and Croke scored to win.

In the second cold game, New Hampshire had the puck behind the Bowdoin blue line two thirds of the time.

McFarland worked the much abused puck down the sideline and passed to Plourde for the first count in the second period, and the second came in the last period when Rhinehart through five men and upset the Bowdoin goalie with his try for goal. While the goalie was on his hands and knees looking for the rubber, Croke took it from under him and pushed it into the box.

TITLES DECIDED AT CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS

Al Lamar, Heavyweight Contender, Referees Matches—Grenier and Theodos Stage Best Battle in 160-lb. Class

The college boxing championships were held Friday night in the gym. The bouts were held this year before the regular boxing season in order that they might serve in part as try-outs for the team. Lamar, one of the leading contenders for the professional heavyweight title, served in the capacity of referee. Coach Christensen and Sergeant Brown were judges, and Paul Blaisdell, '29 was announcer.

The first fight was in the 145 lb. class between Kibbey and Augustinus. Augustinus won by a knockout in the second round. The second bout furnished the excitement of the evening, when Theodos and Jean Grenier battled to a draw at the end of three rounds. After an extra round the decision was awarded to Theodos. The third bout was the postponed 115 lb. intramural championship between Edwards, Delta Sigma Chi, and Sacco. Theta Kappa Phi. Sacco won a close decision. Lynch and Flynn met in the fourth fight for an exhibition bout, consisting principally of clinching and biting shoulders. In the fifth bout Jacques Grenier won a decision from Dresser after three fast rounds. Augustinus won the 145 lb. finals by gaining a decision over Hall. Theodos won the 160 lb. final from Dearington by a technical knockout in the second round.

FRATERNITIES TO DECIDE ON BOWLING

Intra-Mural Activity Being Considered—Will Give Opportunity For More Men to Become Participants

Fraternities on the campus are to decide this week whether bowling shall be included in the Intra-Mural Sports Program.

Under the present system the fraternities battle for honors in hockey and winter sports during the winter term. If bowling is added to the winter schedule it will afford an opportunity for more men to participate in Intra-Mural Athletics.

Henry C. Swasey, assistant professor of athletics and physical education and faculty member in charge of Intra-Mural Athletics, stated Tuesday that plans have all been formulated for the hockey schedule which will get under way today. As soon as the various fraternities report their reaction on the addition of bowling, Professor Swasey will announce what action will be taken.
