Lewis Resigns Librarian Post

At N. H. U. Since 1919
A State Library Figure

Librarian Lewis Was President of the New Hampshire Library Association—Now Member of State Library Commission

The resignation of Willard P. Lewis, Librarian of the Hamilton Smith Library at the University of New Hampshire, was accepted early this week by President Edward M. Lewis. Mr. Lewis will leave Durham to take up his new duties at the Olin Memorial Library of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, on July first.

The popular New Hampshire Librarian is a graduate of Wesleyan in the class of 1911 and was the recipient of the degree of Master of Arts from the same institution in 1912. Following the completion of his academic work he studied for a time at the New York State Library School after which he accepted the position of librarian at Baylor University in Texas. During a part of the World War he served as Librarian at Camp McArthur. He came to New Hampshire in 1919 and early made himself an invaluable member of the faculty of the University. He has been a leader in library work throughout New England and has served in many prominent positions in organizations engaged in or interested in library work. For two years he was president of the New Hampshire Library Association. He was Chairman of the Agricultural Libraries Section of the American Library Association 1927-28 and is now a member of the Membership Committee of that association. Former Governor Huntley N. Spaulding recently appointed Mr. Lewis a member of the Library Trustees Board of the New Hampshire State Library to succeed the late J. Randolph Coolidge.

"Minick" Chosen For Spring Play

Mask and Dagger to Give Ferber's Modern Comedy

Tryouts Held Last Monday—Preference Given to Seniors—May Be Presented at Commencement

The spring term play to be presented by Mask and Dagger is Edna Ferber's Minick, in which O. P. Hagie starred a few seasons ago in New York, it was announced by Professor William G. Hennessy last week. It is a modern comedy of American home life, with a cast of six men and nine women. In casting the play all possible preference was given to seniors, as in past years. Tryouts for the play were held in Murkland Monday evening.

Professor Hennessy has had to abandon the proposed production of Channing Pollock's The Fool, because of inadequate stage space. Minick should prove a popular piece, filled as it is with delightfully humorous situations and colored here and there with a tinge of pathos for "Old Man Minick" himself.

It is expected that Minick will be presented as part of the commencement exercises. Announcement of the cast and of tentative dates will be made next week.

A member of the Liberal Arts College, Miss Priscilla Parnell, a graduate of Manchester High School (Central), received the average of 94.0%. There were three Freshmen on the High Honor list for the term. There were twenty-two people dropped at the end of the term due to a failure to maintain the average grade of 60%. Of these, one was a Senior, three were Juniors, thirteen were Sophomores, and five Freshmen. One was dropped from the Agricultural College, six from the College of Technology, and fifteen from the College of Liberal Arts.

Dean Morse has served in his dual capacity to date with honor and credit to himself and to the institution. He was awarded the honorary degree of Master of Arts by New Hampshire at the Commencement of 1927.

This is the first time this fellowship has been awarded to a New Hampshire student. Former Professor George A. Perley was highly pleased when he was informed that Glidden received this election.

Prof. Alexander New Dean of Men

To Take Over Duties of Office Next September

New Dean Has Been a Faculty Member Since 1922 in Economics Department—Dr. Bauer to Continue As Acting Dean Until June

Norman R. Alexander, associate professor of economics at the university, has been appointed to assume the duties of the Dean of Men with the opening of the next college year, according to an announcement made by the President Edward M. Lewis, on Saturday. The vacancy was made when former Dean of Men Adrian O. Morse went to Washington, D. C., where he was secretary to the National Secretary of Agriculture William A. Jardine. He is now located at the Pennsylvania State College where he is employed as executive secretary with President Ralph D. Hetzel, former University head here. He was at Washington on leave of absence but recently resigned upon accepting his present position.

In Dean Morse's absence, the office has been filled by Dr. George N. Bauer, of the Mathematics Department, who is also Officer in Charge of Freshmen. Dr. Bauer will continue as acting Dean of Men until the end of the present college year.

Professor Alexander received his B.A. degree from the University of North Dakota in 1919 and his M.A. from the same institution the following year. In 1922 he was given a degree at the Yale Law School and at present has only to complete his dissertation to receive his Ph.D.

Conquering the Cascades

SNOW falls every month in the year where the Great Northern crosses the Cascades. Steep, tortuous grades increase the difficulty of the railroading problem. Nature has stubbornly resisted man's effort to conquer the range.

In January, 1929, the new Cascade tunnel was opened. Man, with electricity as an ally, had conquered the Cascades.

The eight-mile bore was driven in three years—a record impossible without electric power. And electrification has been extended to the entire 75-mile route through the mountains.

The conquests of electricity on the land and on the sea, in the air, and underground, are making practicable the impossibilities of yesterday. As our vision encompasses wider horizons, electricity appears as a vital contribution to future industrial progress and human welfare.

ON OUR POLICY

With this issue of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE a new editorial and business staff begin their duties of publishing the University newspaper for the next year. We expect that some members of the student body are looking for a display of radicalism or conservatism in this, the first effort of the new staff. They may scan the pages for an outburst on our part, but they will be disappointed.

Considering the fact that our predecessors operated under a policy that made for the success of the publication we will endeavor to continue that policy to the best of our ability. Although the forces of radicalism and conservatism are strong we will try to remain unbiased, and give each group its just due.

As usual we ask for comment and criticism on our efforts. We do not expect to make THE NEW HAMPSHIRE a perfect newspaper, but we will try to present to our readers news which interests them. In short, we'll do our best.

WITH REGRET

Since the opening of the present term the University has learned of the loss of two of its most valuable faculty members. Adrian O. Morse, Dean of Men, leaves us to assume new duties as Executive Secretary of Penn State, while Librarian Willard P. Lewis concludes his services here in June and will take up new duties as librarian at Wesleyan.

The University cannot at the present time realize the full significance of the loss of two men who have served the cause of the University as these men have. We will always remember that it was Dean Morse who guided the destinies of the University during the most trying period in its history, that period when President Hetzel had departed and President Lewis had yet to arrive. Through a storm of legislative committees and legislative action Dean Morse supported the best interests of the University successfully. We will always remember that it was Librarian Lewis who brought the functionings of the Hamilton Smith Library to the present state of perfection. We cannot, however, realize at the present time all the little details of their work that made Dean Morse and Librarian Lewis invaluable to New Hampshire.

We can only express our regret at the announcement of their severing connections with the University of New Hampshire, and we know that the good wishes of the entire faculty and student body goes with them to their new positions.

SIGMA OMICRON PURCHASES BUILDING FOR CHAPTER HOUSE

It was announced this week that Sigma Omicron sorority has arranged to buy the old infirmary on Faculty Row from Mrs. O. V. Henderson to be used for a sorority house. The choice for house mother has not been announced. It is expected that fourteen members of Sigma Omicron will live in the new house next year.

By E. T. F. and E. T. S.
 How come that no light has ever been put on top of the flag pole? Who knows there may be a couple up there on dark nights?

Now that it's spring perhaps we can print this:

TO A BUTTERFLY
 Just a bit of golden star-dust
 Fallen from the thrifty moon;
 And a note of faint, sweet music
 Severed from a bluebird's tune,—
 That's a butterfly!

Just a line of perfect beauty
 Stolen from a poet's strain;
 And a drop of dewy rain.

Just a fluff of flowing fairness,
 Glad to dance one day, it seems;
 Just a dainty bit of living
 Made from dust, and songs, and dreams,—
 That's a butterfly.

E. J. F.

A sentence from a recent book: "The table was set with knives and spoons." Could the author have been describing the Common's cafeteria, our little Greenwich Village?

Anyone who holds to the modern theory that the art of conversation is lost should listen in for a few minutes on the sorority lines.

EMILY DICKINSON
 She fled from life—
 But life pursued
 And came upon her unawares
 In Amherst
 In her garden.

Then she met life
 And conquered it;
 And put it into crystal verse,
 Sharp-edged and clean as flint—
 And quite as durable.

L. W. S. '29

Since Einstein is so clever on space, why doesn't someone from Durham ask him about keeping a car on campus so that the authorities can't find it?

Speaking of Hubert Work's treatises on bridge, a certain humorist has remarked that one peek at your opponent's hand is worth a dozen finesses.

This is the term of terms. Durham at its beautifullest. The beach in all its splendor (?). But don't forget . . . commuting from Hampton isn't all it's cracked up to be—especially around the finals in June.

The authorities have warned us to be careful of fires in the college woods. Where there's heat, there's usually fire. Be careful boys.

Where oh where is the Horizontal Club? Died away or waiting till next Junior Prom when they can gain some more members? Our impression is that they have enough members here now to carry on the old tradition, Right, Horrie?

With the moving of the Sig O's to the old infirmary next fall, we know not whether to pity or envy the Delta Sigs and Alpha Gammas. They'll be surrounded, as it were, by sororities. Still, they can retreat to the field in the rear of their houses and live in tents if things get too bad.

Lost, Strayed, or probably Stolen: One toy dog which answers to the name of Adolph. When you pull his tail he says, "Honk." Please return to the Alpha Chi House for whatever reward you can get.

Now that the University has become a military institution we wonder what division the Commons Riding School will be placed in.

COMMITTEE BUSY MAKING PLANS FOR JUNIOR PROM

Plans are underway for the annual Junior Prom to be held in the Men's Gymnasium May 24 from 9-2 o'clock according to Kenneth Robinson, general chairman of the affair.

The following committees have been selected to make further plans: Joseph Terry, music; Anna King and Harry Smith, decorations; Bertha Hill and Grace Lockwood, program and favors; Robert Leach, publicity. Particulars will be announced at a later date.

Alumni Night At Queen City

Manchester Club Holds Show for Scholarships

University Represented by Prof. Alexander and Many Students at Benefit Held in Strand Theatre

The first annual University Night of the Manchester Alumni Club of the University of New Hampshire was observed at the Strand Theatre in Manchester last Monday evening.

Through an agreement with the management of the theatre, the club received half the net receipts from the show put on by a strong stock company that is now running at the Strand. Because of this agreement, the members of the club were active throughout the preceding week selling tickets to the show. The proceeds of the show will be added to the growing club scholarship fund, established three years ago to aid needy and deserving Manchester students at the University. Formerly, one of the University home football games was held in Manchester under the auspices of the Manchester Alumni Club, but the games at Manchester have been temporarily discontinued, so other means are being found to raise the necessary money. Incidentally, the Concord Alumni Club is raising a similar fund by sponsoring the Mask and Dagger shows presented in that city.

Ernest L. "Doc" Bell, '20, an old New Hampshire fullback, was master of ceremonies. Professor Norman Alexander represented the University at the performance and extended the greetings of the institution to the club and their friends. Governor Tobey was unable to be present but he was represented by Mrs. Tobey and their son, Russell.

Music was furnished between the acts by the Red Ramblers, an N. H. U. orchestra, and by the University Trio, composed of Frank Silvia, Ralph Garlock, and John Dow, all seniors. The affair was well attended. Many New Hampshire students were present.

SECONDARY SCHOOL CONFERENCE APR. 26

General Subject for Discussion to Be "Progress in Education"—Dr. Slobin Will Preside—President Lewis Will Give Address of Welcome

A Secondary School Conference under the auspices of the University of New Hampshire is to be held on this campus on Friday, April 26, 1929. The general subject of the conference will be "Progress in Education," and plans have been outlined for a whole day's program.

Dr. Hermon L. Slobin, Director of the Graduate School on this campus, will preside at the morning session to be held in Murkland Auditorium, and President Edward Morgan Lewis will give the address of welcome. At 10.45 Professor William Stuart Messer, of Dartmouth College, will speak on "An Archaeological Promenade in Roman Africa." At 11.15 an address will be given by Headmaster H. Leslie Sawyer of the Colby School for Girls, on the subject of "Recent Developments in Post-Secondary Education." At 11.45 another Dartmouth professor, John M. Mecklin, will speak on "Some Impressions of Anti-Evolution Legislation in the South."

In the afternoon, various sectional conferences will be held. From 4.30 to 7.00 P. M. will be devoted to recreation. One of the principal speakers of the evening session will be Josephine Corliss Preston, former Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Washington. Her subject will be "High School Development in Pacific Northwest." All who are interested in secondary education are invited to attend the meetings. A more complete program of speakers will be published at a later date.

NOTICE

Several more freshmen are wanted to try out for track manager. This is an excellent opportunity for any first year men who have a little extra time to devote to outside activities. ## Alumni News

Alumni Office, April 11—Received another request for an alumnus who might be interested in securing a better business position from Fort Wayne, Ind., and after searching the files for such an application and after quizzing faculty members for someone who might be interested we were forced to admit that this opportunity would just have to be passed up by New Hampshire. Now, if some of you folks had registered with the Alumni Office on one of our regular application blanks we could, at least, have given you a chance to turn this offer down. What's the moral? Why, register with us for better business and professional opportunities.

Portland Anniversary

Twenty-seven members of the Portland Club gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett S. Whittemore on Read street in Portland, Maine, Friday evening, April 5, to conduct their annual meeting and to celebrate their first anniversary as an alumni branch. After an informal hour of chatting and good fellowship the members proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. By unanimous vote the past officers of the club were elected to succeed themselves as follows: President, E. S. Whittemore, '97; Vice-President, D. Frances Langley, '21; Secretary-Treasurer, D. K. Andrew, '23. Oscar E. Huse, '12, was re-elected as Delegate to the Advisory Board.

The club then listened to short talks by Carl Lundholm, '21, Supervisor of Freshman Athletics at Durham, and to the Alumni Secretary. The Portland alumni voted to again hold their annual outing at the Mansion House in Poland Springs, and hope that President Lewis can once more be present at that time. Delicious refreshments were served the club members by Mrs. E. S. Whittemore, hostess of the evening.

MUSIC BY MANTON SUNG IN PASADENA

Cauldron Singers Present Five Compositions by Prof. Robert W. Manton and Express Desire for Personal Visit From Composer

Compositions of Robert W. Manton, head of the Department of Music at the University of New Hampshire, were used by the Cauldron Singers of Pasadena in presenting the winter concert of their 18th season at the Community Playhouse in Pasadena, California during the latter part of March.

The compositions of Professor Manton rendered by the chorus were: A June Night in Washington, The Full Sea Rolls and Thunders, Wanderer's Song, The Saracens, and The Day Grows Old.

Roy Verbeck Rhodes, Conductor of the Cauldron Singers, says that, "Professor Manton's modern compositions for male choruses have attracted much attention. The beauty of melody, closeness of the parts and unusual harmonic progression will be noted."

Mr. Rhodes in a recent letter to Professor Manton expressed his desire to have Professor Manton come to Pasadena and conduct the singers during one of their concerts when they are using some of his compositions.

The Cauldron Singers of Pasadena are considered to be one of the best male choruses in this country and are composed of eighteen first tenors, twenty-two second tenors, twenty-four baritones and twenty basses.

The winter concert was the last concert of the 18th season. Mr. Rhodes informed Professor Manton that he intends to use several of his compositions during the concerts of the 19th season.

150 Report for Track Practice

Team Weakest in Dashes Strongest in Weights

Varsity to Send Two Relay Teams to Penn Relays in Philadelphia—Early Practice Sessions Limited to Conditioning Exercises—Need More Freshman Candidates

Coach Sweet's track men started the spring training last Thursday when 150 varsity and Freshman candidates reported for practice. So far, according to the coach there has been little chance to determine the strength of the teams since the practice has consisted entirely in merely conditioning exercises. However, judging from last year's work, the coach thinks that it is likely that the team will be rather weak in the dashes. This weakness will be partly offset by the fact that Davis, a freshman last year, who showed up well in the weight events will be eligible for the varsity this year. K. Stewart's ability as a javelin thrower will also be a welcomed addition to the team.

The first meet for the varsity men will be at the Penn Relays, April 26 and 27 where the University will enter a two mile relay team and a relay team which will compete in the distance medley, in which the four men on each team run distances of 440 yards, 880 yards, 1/4 of a mile, and one mile respectively. The coach has not been able to tell much about the team's chances of winning in this meet, but it would seem that the two mile team would be rather successful judging from their record during the winter season during which they were undefeated.

The freshmen will not enter into any competition until May 10 when they meet the Boston College yearlings at Chestnut Hill. Little is known about the prospects of the team, but present indications seem to be that its greatest weakness will be in the hurdles, pole vault, and jumping events.

Coach Sweet stated that he hoped to see more men report for track especially from the freshman class. A large amount of the Wildcats' previous success in track has been due to the care that has been given to men who have come to the university with little or no previous experience but who have had natural ability.

REINHART CHOSEN ON ALL-AMERICAN

Chosen on Third College Humor Team—Six New Hampshire Pucksters Given Honorable Mention Making A Full New Hampshire Team

Alvin T. Reinhart, '29, captain of the hockey team, was given a place in the 1929 All American hockey selection as made by College Humor and announced in the May issue. Captain Reinhart was placed at left wing on the third All American six. He has played with the varsity pucksters for the past three years, being elected captain for the last season. Reinhart has also played on the varsity baseball team for two seasons and is a promising candidate for the "hot corner" this spring.

Six New Hampshire men were credited with honorable mention in the hockey selections, some of these being picked from the sextet of 1928. As it happened, there was a "Granite Stater" mentioned for each of the six positions, thus making a full New Hampshire team.

two thousand researches in the Yale University Library.

Professor Keller in the preface of his text book, "The Science of Society" says, "I have been blessed with several searching critics of the whole manuscript and have profited by the loyal aid and keen criticism of Professor Esther L. Brown who was my secretary for several years. Her part in this book has been no inconsiderable one."

Professor Brown graduated from the University of New Hampshire in 1920 receiving an A.B. degree. From 1920 to 1924 she was attending the Yale University Graduate School. She served as Head of the Department of History and Education at Peace Institute, Raleigh, N. C., from 1924-1926. In the fall of 1926 she came to the campus of the Granite State institution and took up the duties of her present position.

PROF. ALEXANDER NEW
DEAN OF MEN

The prospective Dean of Men came to the University in 1922 as an instructor in the department of economics, served as assistant professor, and is now associate professor of economics to which academic rank he was appointed in 1928.

Following the resignation of former Dean Adrian O. Morse as judge of the municipal court last December, former Governor Huntley N. Spaulding appointed Professor Alexander to that post.

Banquet For Letter Winners

Athletes Will Attend N. H. Testimonial Dinner

Forty Letter Men Added to List—Guests Will Attend from Brown and Tufts—Tickets for Students Also

The annual "N H" Certificate Night and Banquet will be held in the University Commons on Thursday evening, April 18, at 7.30. All wearers of the "N H" will be admitted free and it is hoped by the committee that a large number of students and townspeople will attend this affair. Tickets will go on sale the end of this week and they may be purchased until Wednesday noon, April 17, for the price of $1.00.

Invited guests at the banquet will be Pres. Edward M. Lewis; Prof. Fred Marvel, Director of Athletics at Brown University; Prof. Arthur Sampson, Head Coach of Football at Tufts; Mr. Fred Tenney, a former baseball associate of Pres. Lewis; and Mr. Jacob Morse.

W. H. Cowell, Director of Athletics at the University, will present the certificates. It is the ambition of the committee which consists of E. W. Christensen, chairman; P. C. Sweet and Carl Lundholm to have several former "N H" men present at the banquet in conjunction with which a smoker will be held for those men not in training.

There are forty varsity letter men this year in the winter term sports. Eleven of the men received their letters for basketball, eleven for hockey, eight for boxing, and ten for winter sports.

Candidates Out For Varsity Nine

First Game on April 20th Harvard Also on Schedule

Shea Exhibits Fine Form of Last Season—Captain Flynn Showing Well at Second Base—Small Tries For Fourth Varsity Letter

Coach Swasey's call for varsity baseball candidates last week brought out a large squad of men including a sprinkling of letter men and last year's freshmen. Early prospects indicate the team will not measure up to last year's standard due to the loss of the two star hurlers, Evans and Slayton. Coach Swasey predicts a strong defensive unit that will be average on hitting and pitching.

The warm spring weather of the past few days enabled Coach Swasey to stage the first outdoor practice and to get an idea of his most promising candidates. John Shea is still exhibiting his fine form of last season and leads the catchers among whom are Casey, Roberts, and Lynch. Jablonowski, Seaver, Mann and Lord seem the best of the pitching prospects although several others are shaping up well.

Dawson seems to have an edge on the first base position with Tasker and Colburn close seconds. Captain Dick Flynn is showing well at second base with Dresser and Grenier trying out. Shortstop is causing considerable trouble with Tilton, Lane, and Foster as the best of the candidates. Reinhart, shifted to third base, is shaping up well with Redden and Nelson pushing him hard. Leading candidates for the outfield include McFarland, Gustafson, Farrel, 1928 football captain, Hanna and Merrill from last year's Freshman team and Small, trying for his fourth major letter.

The first game will be at Durham with Northeastern University April 20. Harvard will be played at Cambridge on May 2, and Dartmouth at Hanover on June 1. The schedule will include eighteen games, and will end with the Brown game on June 17.

LACROSSE ADDED SPORT ON CAMPUS

Coach Christensen Fostering New Game With Possibility of Becoming a Varsity Sport—To Interest Football Men

Lacrosse is to be added to the athletic activities on the campus sometime next week and if it proves successful as a physical education and intramural sport, the game will undoubtedly be introduced in the visible future as an organized sport here, according to Coach Ernest W. Christensen.

Christensen, having absorbed most of the important methods taught by Sayles, head lacrosse coach of Harvard, and Gamache also coach at the Cambridge institution, will have charge of the development of New Hampshire lacrosse players. The coach believes that most football men on the campus who are not out for some other sport will become interested in following the sport. Also he is of the opinion that some football men who are now out for track will be able to devote one or two hours a week to lacrosse, besides their other interests.

Even as a substitute for spring football practice, Christensen is fairly sure this will suffice to a good advantage. The athletic department is now waiting for part of the equipment to arrive before physical education and intramural lacrosse can be started.

The Duke Power Company Turbine-Generators

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

THE largest steam-turbine generator units to be installed south of the Mason-Dixon line are now being built for one of the most unusual organizations of its kind in the world. The Duke Power Company is famous for the efficiency of its power plants—and for the fact that its operating profits are distributed largely to charity.

At a horseshoe bend in the Catawba River in the heart of the Piedmont Carolinas the Duke Power Company is building a generating plant which, if present plans are carried out, will be the largest of its kind in the southeastern United States. The ultimate capacity will probably be 600,000 horsepower. The first two units, which Westinghouse is now building, each are to have a generating capacity of 55,000 kilowatts. They will develop 150,000 horsepower.

By operating at practically full capacity during the entire 24 hours of the day, letting the company's hydro-electric plants handle variations in the quantity of power required, the new units will furnish the means to reduce current costs to a minimum.

The large jobs go to large organizations. Westinghouse holds a strong appeal for young men of enterprise and genius because it almost daily provides contacts with outstanding developments in the electrical field.
