Alumni Branch
Newly Formed

Twelve Former Students Form California Branch
Furthermore Alumni Organization from California is now calling itself Most Distant Members—All Collegians at Los Angeles.

Although there are some who are opposed to the idea, there is no question that the idea is sound. The idea is to make friends with people who are interested in the University of New Hampshire, and who are willing to help support the University.

This is the alumni organization most distant from Durham. The alumni club of the University of New Hampshire is called the Alumni Association. It is a non-profit organization, and it is composed of all students who have graduated from the University.

The Alumni Association operates in the following manner: It has a constitution, and it has officers, including a president and a vice-president. It also has a board of directors, which is made up of alumni who are elected by the other alumni.

The purpose of the Alumni Association is to provide a means for alumni to keep in touch with each other, and to provide a means for alumni to give back to the University. The Alumni Association also provides a means for alumni to support the University, by giving money or by volunteering their time.

The Alumni Association is a very important organization, and it is a very important part of the University. It is a way for alumni to stay connected to the University, and to support the University, even after they have graduated.

During the meeting, opinions and questions were exchanged with extraordinary vigour.

With Dr. Eugene A. Bickford of the Sociology department, as disastrous information to the modest and philanthropic, philosophical, sociological, and psychological ideas were aired and several general conclusions of widely varying nature were reached.

It was generally assumed that all conclusions are wholly subjective and that all opinions are too personal to be of value. Another conclusion was that all social progress is graduale. There are no sudden leaps to great positions.
