NOTED AUTHORITIES AT PUBLICATION SCHOOL

PRESENTATION OF THE UNIVERSITY PRESS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE—UNIVERSITY PRESS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

All the past editors and publishers of The New Hampshire have contributed to the present list of notable authorities. The list includes: President William G. Hennessy, George A. Lamberton, Editor of the New Hampshire Press; and Ralph Chester Dunford, Jr., '32, Managing Editor of the New Hampshire.

The evening’s entertainment consisted of a reading of a selection from the works of American literature. A popular and well-known author, Mr. John Smith, read an excerpt from his latest novel, “The Wildcat Team.”

The reader’s selection was a humorous account of the life of a New Hampshire student, as seen through the eyes of a former resident. The story engaged the audience with its captivating plot and well-developed characters. The description of the New Hampshire spirit—full of adventure and camaraderie—left the audience in stitches. The entire reading was a joyous reminder of the unique and exciting life that New Hampshire students experience.
When we were young

From the issue of March 23, 1929.

"New Hampshire closed the basketball season on March 6, by defeating Dartmouth for the first time in the history of the school, at Hanover, 22-13. This game was the 22nd straight loss. This marks the restart of the season for New Hampshire which sometimes shows a very successful winter.

From the issue of November 16, 1928.

The Beehive is a magazine of the senior class. We subscribers will please notify the Circulation Department of any change of address.

Ellen Farley, '30 Marion Berquist Bill Friend, '31, and Kenneth Buckminster, '31, are members of the senior class. We wish them the proverbial four months. Saying goodbye to class friends, we will follow various pursuits with much of the good luck which "beets" for us.

During the past few weeks, many superintendents and educational leaders have come to the University for the purpose of searching for teachers for the college and high school grades. The Educational Department of the college is giving the superintendents a list of qualified persons in each of the educational fields.

Among the superintendents who visited the college are: H. E. Lovett, President of the University of New Mexico, New Mexico; Daniel L. Kalab, Superintendent of Schools, New York City; H. E. Lovett, Superintendent of Schools, New Haven, Conn.; E. W. Macmillan, Superintendent of Schools, Vermont; W. H. Bartlett of Lexington, New Hampshire; Roland Keating of Farmer's Institute, Connecticut; C. E. Lunkins, Superintendent of Schools, New York; Mayor of Watertown, Massachusetts; J. W. Leavitt, Superintendent of Schools, New Hampshire; Leonard Mott, Superintendent of Schools, New York.

We are sorry to find ourselves at the close of the college year. Sorry for several reasons - sorry for having to go to work, sorry for having to do too many things, some of which we may not have been able to do, sorry for having to get to bed too late, sorry for having to go to bed at all. September will bring us the usual unknowns.

The superintendents and faculty members will be looking for new and improved educational leaders. Leaving us to ask the old question - "Where is the answer?"

Will there be any action on the pledge of Elmer Akeson? Another year will see new faces. It really is a "great game" isn't it?

Edwin J. Rasmussen, a student in the Graduate School at the University of New Hampshire, has been selected as one of two years in the department of Horticulture. His major study is in the department of Chemistry. A brief outline of his report is as follows:

"There is a New Hampshire stick in the "rank of the annuals." Who put it there, we are not sure. But there is hoping that it will climb the sand dunes at Camp Fortunata and of course be mistaken for Tarzan. Most of us will be far more tired than we are now."

"It has been formally announced that Mr. E. P. D. D. Smith should be held in the college club rooms on May 21st from 10 to 11 A.M."

"It has been formally announced that Mr. E. P. D. D. Smith should be held in the college club rooms on May 21st from 10 to 11 A.M."

"It is said that because of his position in the college and in the city, Mr. Smith should be held in the college club rooms on May 21st from 10 to 11 A.M."

"Another year will see new faces. It really is a "great game" isn't it?"

When you're far away?

When you're far away, you're really far away of a hat juggler at the Ritz who was a heart juggler on the Avenue.

Breezy Bill Haines was just made for the roie of the gentleman prizefighter. The screen's greatest lover sets out to find a wife . . . an heiress . . .
