The Wildcats To Move En Masse To Providence

The university of New Hampshire's varsity and freshmen's football teams will leave here late tomorrow night for their first football game this season at Providence. The teams will leave at 9:30 p.m. and arrive at Providence at 2 a.m. Saturday morning.

The varsity team, which is 4-0 this season, is expected to win this game against the Army varsity. The freshmen's team is expected to lose. The meeting followed a game between Dartmouth and Harvard.

President Lewis will, according to reports, address students interested in the White House conference on the solution of the German problem.

The prizes, which will be given to the varsity football team, will include two well-known short story writers, whose names have not been disclosed. All manuscripts must be typed, double-spaced, on one side of the paper. The title of the story must be typed in boldface type. The first page of the manuscript must be signed by the author and must be accompanied by a check for $1.

The winner short story will be in the finals of the English film features. The winner will receive a prize of $500.

The winners of the competition will be announced at a later date. All manuscripts must be delivered by December 1.

ALUMNI NEWS

39—The University of New Hampshire Alumni (Alumni) branch held its first meeting of the season on Nov. 11. President, Warren E. Spaulding, was re-elected to office. George W. P. Sargent was elected vice-president, and Mrs. Perley F. Plaisted, secretary.

22—Mrs. Harry Follett has a pleasant connection with the new department store in Washington, D.C., at the White House.

27—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Long, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, are children of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Long, of Lower Village, N. H.

We haven't heard as yet whether Margaret Bruce Daron, '28, is to be married.

To what end is your English lan- guage? From two sources comes the news that a new edition of The Basic English has been published.

While we're on the subject we might suggest that some of us de- cide to buy the second edition of The Basic English, when it is published next year, so that we can be up to date.

WIN OR LOSE

The Wildcats last the New England small college championship game field Saturday, and since the game there has been no small amount of grumbling in the student body. Some of the complaints have been due to the ability of the New Hampshire grid-iron team to play football. If those dis- appointments were due to the fact that the best small college teams in the state are not playing, perhaps the Wildcat fans might be somewhat easier to please than they now are. We believe that the freshness and variety of Harwood and Tillman, the two=opening backfield men, is a good reason why the Wildcat fans should not make a battle out of the game.

New Hampshire should not make a battle out of the game.

We'll get a chance to see the results of the game in next week's issue of the Daily Hampshire Gazette.

Ladies' College

Intercollegiate Women's Sports Planning by Honorary Committee—Sarah Hepburn and Sacheverell Sitwell

There is no question that this year's competition will be one of the most exciting ever. The women's teams are looking forward to the opportunity to prove themselves against some of the best teams in the country. They have been working hard all season, and their dedication is paying off. The games are sure to be exciting, and the fans are excited to see what's in store for them.

The Ladies' College, University of New Hampshire, will host the first game of the season on November 20th. The game will be against the University of Vermont. The Ladies' College has been preparing for this game for months, and they are ready to give their best performance. The team is confident in their ability to win, and they are looking forward to the challenge.

The second game will be against the University of Maine on November 27th. This game is expected to be a tough one, but the Ladies' College is determined to come out on top. They have been working hard to improve their skills and strategies, and they are ready to face any challenge.

The third game will be against the University of New Hampshire on December 4th. This is a holiday game, and the Ladies' College is looking forward to a competitive and festive atmosphere. They are excited to represent their school and to give their best performance.

The last game will be against the University of Maine on December 11th. This game is expected to be a tough one, but the Ladies' College is determined to come out on top. They have been working hard to improve their skills and strategies, and they are ready to face any challenge.

The Ladies' College, University of New Hampshire, is excited to host these games and to represent their school. They are confident in their ability to win, and they are looking forward to a successful season.
