New Hampshire Trackmen Win Close Battle With Northeastern's Huskies.

RAY WHITEHOUSE Scores TEN POINTS

Each Team Takes Seven Firsts, Ties for Pole Vault, Ending With Wildcat Victors, 69-66

New Hampshire's New England intercollegiate track champions poured out the powerful 1933 N.H. Field Saturday in their best effort and most of the audience by the close scores of 69-66. Howard Hinshle, veteran weight man, won the flat two hundred points, after placing second in the mile event of competition.

Northeasterners came to Durham in a able University of New Hampshire team. The Huskies showed some of the finishers in the prize, winning the discus throw, and taking first place, the pairs in eighteen points. Gay Millerbrandt proved his worth in the weight toss, also, taking seconds in the discus throw, and losing three tenths throw.

WILDCATS TIE Ball Team Opened Its Season Saturday

Cold weather and lack of practice hindered the Wildcats' first game of the season on Saturday. The weather conditions were unable to prevent the game. However, the lack of practice due to the weather conditions was a major factor in the Wildcats' performance. Although the team was able to score two runs in the seventh inning, they were unable to score in the final inning, resulting in a tie with the Owls, 5-5.

McDermott's Hard Hit

When Moody Doubles

The Owls' offensive success was due to McDermott's two-run double in the seventh inning, which gave them a 5-3 lead. McDermott's hit was the result of a well-hit ball, which landed just beyond the reach of the out fielder, allowing him to score two runs. Despite the Owls' success, the Wildcats were able to tie the game with a two-run home run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

The Game Recap

The game was characterized by strong defense from both teams, with each team committing only one error. The Owls' pitcher, who had allowed only one earned run in his previous start, struggled in this game, giving up four runs in the first inning. However, the Wildcats were unable to take advantage of the pitcher's struggles and were only able to score one run in the first inning.

Wildcat Batter of the Game

Trzuskoski was named the Wildcat batter of the game, as he went 2-3 at the plate with a home run and an average of .667. His performance was crucial in the team's ability to tie the game in the seventh inning.

The Next Game

The Wildcats will face the Owls again on Sunday, with the hopes of breaking their tie and securing a win. The team will need to improve their defense and capitalise on their offensive success to achieve victory.
Christian Work

The Mansfield Singers, a quartet of colored musicians, will give a concert at the Community House, Monday, May 2, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. of Mansfield, with the cooperation of the American Artists Bureau and college groups, coming from Storrs and Wesleyan.

They will present a program of sacred and classical music, which will be pleasing to everyone. Tickets are fifty cents and may be secured at the office of Christian Work. The concert will open at 8 o'clock.

House Tour, as Secretary of the Christian Work organizations at the University of New Hampshire, is representing the University at a meeting of the officers of the New England Christian Work Associations at Shaker, Me., this week. The meeting will be held in the form of a weekend retreat, beginning Friday evening and coming back Saturday morning.

The New Hampshire Christian Work groups are now being formed by the Y. M. C. A. clubs, and the University Group is already scheduled.

This gives great promise of the coming year, as the University is most interesting, and all Christian Work groups on this coast are being asked to cooperate, and meet every Monday afternoon after school season.
