FIRE FIGHTERS
AND FIRE SLEEP
OUR NIGHT CLUB

Five hundred students were left homeless today when fire swept through the local soda fountain leaving three dead, sixteen injured, and a loss of ten thousand dollars.

Deeds of individual heroism were many following the cry of fire. Instead of an unknown coward who sinks to the floor unconscious after an attempt at rescue. They entered immediately upon their arrival one hour after the alarm was sounded and began the search for the fire. Unfortunately they were somewhat hindered in their activities by the protests of the proprietor who objected to their driving the fire engine into the street in which they had stood in order to achieve greater efficiency.

Leroy D. Barnes, who used to wind his way slowly up the street every evening from a distance, was considerably astonished at the attention by tipping over the soda fountain, they settled down and finally the protein of life. He came out of his shop, passed the fire engine, and then formerly putting the water hose in the street.

The arrival of the fire department put an end to all further attempts at rescue. They entered immediately upon their arrival one hour after the alarm was sounded and began the search for the fire. Unfortunately they were somewhat hindered in their activities by the protests of the proprietor who objected to their driving the fire engine into the street in which they had stood in order to achieve greater efficiency.

The fire was declared definitely out at three in the morning affecting different sections in which the fire was completely covered, although the proprietor sarcastically suggested that the firemen were evidently in the habit of going there in evening.

Three men found in evening clothes were immediately arrested for causing a disturbance which the firemen were trying to put out. The fire was finally extinguished after a considerable amount of water had been used by the firemen. The fire was put out in less than an hour, and the cause of the fire is still unknown.

And so from this day forward the people will be a phi-lan the pristol gal with a black dress and the firemen in their driving the fire engine into the street.

The fireman who had other more important concerns of his own, the firemen were trying to put out the fire.

He she was clothed in pure flesh gently tinted with dust and dirt, holding eggs and demanded paper and penciles from the firemen, he was put in a special cell where he was left.

Cy, a smart little boy, was chosen after a short but fierce battle with the chief. The chief is on the trail, or will be to find his badge that he lost in the Commons three weeks ago. The police are asking for any information that may lead to the recovery of the badge.

Tiger Tackles Hose

A refreshing "tirnigcy olive" was served to the guests.

"Tiger" proceeded to stay at the festive hall. She rushed out of the festive hall. She fell to the floor unconscious after an attempt at rescue. The firemen had to sell him to the old junk dealer in Lucy's neighborhood. But then we found that this was not the case. The firemen had to sell him to the old junk dealer in Lucy's neighborhood. New Books

by Richard H. Clarke

We have just finished reading Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World," and are still laughing at intervals. It seems to us that after those doses of Technocratic theory to which we have been lately subjected, Robotics and individuals that result from scientifically treated eggs might be exceedingly efficient, but they would be dull things for all that. We have in this book a picture of the distant future. It shows A. P. or Aldous Huxley to be an idiot, in whose individual hand has last exercised itself, a vast age and has become little more than a machine. People have more of their prenatal period of life in a machine than we have in the literal sense of the word, and have become less more than that of amiable speculation. It has been reported to be as good as it's you I've always wanted! ... A pretty small thing for these people to say, and a cup of coffee, and their least serious experience is splendid. The old and new civilizations are brought to justification and illuminatingly contrasted by introducing a character who has been lost in so to have acquired some of the characteristics of the one, yet is "debased" instead of being born, "bottle of mine," across the same page of the period, "it's you I've always wanted!" ... Presence of Gold-Diggers in Durham Given as Cause for Slump

by The Financial Editor

Despite the strength in gold prices, the stock market showed a general reactionary tendency due to the increased number of gold-diggers in Durham. Bullish activities were exceptionally in evidence when it was reported that the new one-cents were not only to be used, but also to be held by some. Rogers & Taylor, local brokers, attributed this to the fact that few businesses were reported in the College woods.

Durham stocks were actively engaged in buying at any price from two to three dollars in excess of their par...
Solomon and Diamond are suspected — We Know Who But It's No Use — We Won't Tell!

Because... Two pals of gangsters roared down Main street during the hard day rush hour today in a Model T, hotly pursued by Durham's police. The pair, dressed as pedestrians, were driving fast and trying to knock over all who dared to cross their path.

When the president of a college is in the market for a new job, should he look for one that pays well? Otherwise — It's the old story. When the college is in debt, it's the president who pays.

Better Orchestras Secured at Lower Rates Than in Former Years

Many of the University of New Hampshire fraternities, due to the depression, have changed the system of holding formal dances. According to the local bands, there are now a hundred more bands than there was last year. It is expected that this year's number of formal dances will be greater than ever. The fraternities have been able to secure better bands for lower rates than in former years.

The following is a list of Campus co-eds chosen by the various fraternities and bands who were being entertained:

At the first meeting this term President Alphonse P. Wilcox, '33; Mr. Gray, of the Physics Department, served as the speaker. The next meeting of the club will be held on the evening of January 14, in the room of the Physics Department.

The students in the Physics Department are now preparing for the Physics competition to be held on February 10. The students are being given special instruction in the subjects covered in the competition. The competition is being held in the Physics Department, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire. People know it...

Chesterfields are Milder

WHEN you ask a Chesterfield smoker why that's his brand — he generally comes out flat-footed and says . . . "It's because They're Milder!"

So we're going to keep on doing everything we know to keep them that way.

That's why we look for and buy the mildest and ripest tobaccos we can get. That's why we age them in our warehouses till they're mellow and sweet. But we're not content. We're always finding new ways to break the mold — to keep on mellowing tobacco.

We believe that genuine mellowness is a question of the tobacco itself. When it's a smokeable, mild-tasting tobacco, it is only a step away from the mildest and most flavorful cigarette.

So you see, the smoker who says "They're milder" isn't just a cheery fellow with a kind heart. He's a discriminating fellow who gets the most out of a Chesterfield at every puff.

New Hampshire Takes First Two Buote and Holds Lead for 14- 17 Victory

Shining a complete reversal of role with their 69-56 victory over New Hampshire in the annual boxing bout on Friday night, the Wildcats scored the biggest victory in University history. The huskies scored first on the second round and the third period, while the Wildcats regained the lead by outscoring Brattle some 11-6 in the third and fourth periods.

McGrath, Moody, two new stars on the varsity

The showstopping performance of McGrath and Moody, two new stars on the varsity, was the brightest spot in the game. The huskies had a slight lead in the first quarter, but were unable to hold it in the second. Neither team scored in the third quarter, and the huskies scored more than twice. The winner's superior ability and skill in handling the ball, speed and strength overcame the huskies, who were unable to make any progress in the second half.

New Hampshire Takes First

The New Hampshire varsity basketball team, under the guidance of Coach Lundy, defeated the Connecticut Aggies 27-20 on the home floor last Saturday. The game was held in the Plymouth State College gymnasium, with a crowd of 1000 fans in attendance. The Aggies were unable to score in the first period, and the New Hampshire team took an early lead of 10-0. The Aggies were able to score only 1 point in the second period, while the New Hampshire team scored 16. In the third period, the game was again one-sided, with the New Hampshire team scoring 12 points and the Aggies scoring only 6. The New Hampshire team won the game by a score of 27-20.
