33 AWARDS MADE BY PRES. LEWIS AT LAST CONVOCATION

HAYNES WINS LEGION MEDAL

Cecile Martin and Arthur Learmonth Take Two Prizes Each

Thirty-three prizes were awarded by President Lewis at the annual Senior Convocation Wednesday. Wesley Eaton Haynes, '33, of Nashua, was awarded the American Legion Trophy medal for highest distinction in military science, scholarship, and athletics.

The complete list of awards presented by President Lewis is as follows: The Bailey Prize offered by Dr. C. H. Bailey, '79, and E. A. Bailey, '85, from 1888 to 1932, awarded from a fund generously provided by past winners of the prize, was given for proficiency in chemistry and was awarded to Charles Reginald Dawson, Class of 1933, of Claremont.

The Katherine DeMeritt Memorial Prize of twenty dollars, offered from 1923 to 1931 by our late beloved Dean Elizabeth P. DeMeritt (and continued this year by her family) in memory of her daughter of the Class of 1908, to that junior girl who, during her three years in college has shown the greatest aptitude for helpful leadership and cheerful loyalty combined with strength of character and scholastic attainments was awarded to Cecile Martin, Class of 1934, of Lancaster.

The Dietrich Memorial Cup offered by the Class of 1916 in memory of Rosina Martha Dietrich, a member of that class, to the girl who attains the highest scholarship in her junior year, awarded to Cecile Martin, Class of 1934, of Lancaster.

The Erskine-Mason Memorial Prize, offered by Mrs. Erskine-Mason of Stamford, Connecticut, in memory of her son, a member of the Class of 1893, to that member of the senior class who has made the greatest improvement during his course, was awarded to Edwin Russell Chamberlain, Class of 1933, of Alton.

The Hood All-Round Achievement Prize, offered by Charles H. Hood, Class of 1880, of Boston, to the member of the senior class whom the members of the three upper classes choose as giving the greatest promise of becoming a worthy factor in the outside world through his character, scholarship, physical qualities, personal popularity, leadership, and usefulness as a man among men was awarded to Arthur Bignold Learmonth, Class of 1933, of Lawrence, Massachusetts.

The Mask and Dagger Achievement Prize of twenty-five dollars, offered by the dramatic society to the senior, who during his college courses has made an outstanding contribution to the dramatic work of the University, was awarded this year to Thomas Shirley Pingree, Class of 1933, of Manchester.

The Delta Chi Cup, offered by Delta Chi, the mathematics society, to that member of the sophomore class, eligible to membership in the society, who has demonstrated outstanding ability in mathematics was awarded to Elton Robert Glover, Class of 1933, of Milan.

The Phi Mu Medal, offered by the local chapter of Phi Mu to the senior girl who has been excellent in Physical Education and has shown evidence of unusual scholastic capacity, democracy, loyalty and helpfulness, was awarded to Dorothy Mae Williams, Class of 1933, of Dover.

UNH CONTRIBUTES POEMS TO WORLD FAIR ANTHOLOGY

Shirley Barker's "Portrait" And George Abbe's "Petition" Chosen for Book

DUTTON TO PUBLISH WORK FOR COLLEGES

UNH One of 59 Colleges to be Represented in Volume

From a group of 157 colleges which contributed to the World Fair's Intercollegiate Anthology, the University of New Hampshire is one of a group of 59 colleges to have its contributions accepted.

The University is represented by Shirley Barker with a poem "Portrait," and by George Abbe with "Petition."

Shirley Barker, '34, recently received first prize in the Intercollegiate Writing Contest between the Universities of Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont with her poem "Lover's Meeting," printed in the 1933 Student Writer.

George Abbe, '33, has been a contributor to the Student Writer and last year was one of New Hampshire's Rhodes Scholarship candidates.

The World Fair Anthology will appear in manuscript form with a preface by William Rose Benet. It will be exhibited under the auspices of the Poets' Guild at the exposition this summer.

The manuscript, which was compiled for exhibition alone, has been considered worthy of publication by E. P. Dutton & Co. They have offered to publish it, on condition that each of the colleges represented will guarantee the sale of five copies.

From the fifty-nine colleges represented, only two have contributed three poems, while seven have contributed two. The remaining colleges have only one contribution each.

Shirley Barker's contribution is "Portrait" and is printed here: "Which grandmother is that?" we used to say

Standing a little back and looking up At the calm face within the walnut frame.

She seemed no kin to anything about: To other pictures on the parlor walls. Of thin-lipped boys already eyeing death.

And frail young girls whose hair was never gray; Nor to the riot of life that ran below—

Our patterring feet, the crackling of the fire, The gossip of the neighbors come to call.

"Which grandmother is that?" we used to ask. Nor caring much, half-curious to know

Whose were the dark, looped hair, The curving mouth, High cheek-boned face, and unrevealing eyes;

Whose hands laid straight the lace about that throat. So little that was hers came down the years;

She kept her fragile immortality Only in those sparse words which Father said,

"My father's mother, born Maria Hayes. Taught school at Merrill's Corner for awhile—

Quick wits, they say—I don't remember her."

Why is it when these trees are starred with buds Of gold and green and red on wet black bark,

When I can lift my face to this soft Be glad of life and youth and April night,

That all my thoughts go back through space and time To a dead woman's picture on a wall? All these fair things were hers, as they are mine,

Things that she knew, and loved, and laughed about, And then without a protest laid aside—

And who am I to think of keeping more? Rise where I can, by fame, or fight, or love

FIFTEEN CLASSES TO REUNITE THIS COMMENCEMENT

Parent-Alumni to See Sons and Daughters Receive Degree This June

ALUMNI BOARD TO CHANGE OFFICERS

Winant, Lewis, Hunter Will Address Former Students

While there is a great amount of uncertainty in the American colleges today as to the number of alumni who still return to their Alma Mater for class reunions, New Hampshire will hold this year reunions for the following classes: 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1883, 1893, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1908, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, and 1931.

On Commencement Day, June 12, Frances Laton, daughter of Thomas J. Laton, '04, Warren Pike, son of Mahlon A. Pike, '05, and John Randall, Jr., son of John L. Randall, '05, will receive their degrees in the presence of their dads who will be present for the class reunions.

Commencement activities of the alumni association will begin Friday evening, June 9, at seven o'clock when the board of directors will hold their annual meeting. The members of the board, President Rohl C. Wiggan, '17, Arthur R. Merrill, '04, and G. Donald McAville, '20, are retiring from office after three years of service with the association. These directors have given freely of their experience, time, and money without any remuneration for their services, merely for the good of the Association and the University.

All alumni returning to the campus on Alumni Day, June 10, will go to the faculty club and register. By registering at the faculty club a reunion class member will aid his class in capturing the Merritt C. Huse trophy which is awarded annually to that class with a living membership of five or more members, and having the largest percentage of its members registered.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association will be held at 4.15 p. m. in Murkland Hall Auditorium and will be presided over by President Rohl C. Wiggan, '17. The Huse trophy will be awarded as will the Directors' trophy at this time. The Directors' trophy is presented to that organized Alumni club which has the greatest percentage of its members enrolled as active association members.

The main feature of the Alumni day is the Alumni banquet at the Commons at 5.45 p. m. The toastmaster is to be the Rev. Philip C. Jones, '13. After graduating from the University Mr. Jones was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Claremont, N. H., then entered the Y. M. C. A. college in Springfield, Mass., where he received the Bachelor of Humanities degree in 1915. For the next seven years Mr. Jones was assistant pastor of the first Congregational Church in Meriden, Conn. In 1919 he was married. During his last three years in Meriden, he was a student at the Yale Divinity School from which he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity in 1922. As minister of education he served the Church of the Covenant in Cleveland, Ohio, from 1922 to 1929. In 1929 he left Ohio to take up his present position, that of associate pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City.

It is expected that Mr. Jones will present as speakers Gov. John Winant, President Edward Morgan Lewis, Roy D. Hunter, and Rohl C. Wiggan. Edward Hazeltine, '29, former mayor of Durham, and varsity cheer leader, will lead the alumni in singing college songs.

DALLAS, HOLT TO DELIVER ADDRESS AT COMMENCEMENT

Lawrence R. McGowan President of the Class of 1933, who will deliver the Address of Welcome at the Class Day exercises.

NOBLE SISSLE PLAYS AT BALL

Class of 1933 to Erect Tablet at "T" Hall— Alumni Classes to Meet

By Robertson Page On Friday night, June 9, the class of 1933 will attend its last campus dance before preparing for the solemn ritual of graduation.

Many alumni are expected to return Friday to spend the week-end. A meeting of the Alumni Board of Directors at the Faculty Club and the presentation of "Ladies of the Jury" will furnish early evening activities. Those couples desiring entertainment in the form of dancing will be able to dance at the Commencement ball to the music of Noble Sissle. This croole band is a product of Harlem, N. Y., and is noted for its inimitable style in rendering tunes both hot and swank.

On Saturday morning the seniors will hold their class day exercises in the gymnasium. This affair will be the seniors' final tribute to the University before graduation. President McGowan will begin the ceremony with the address of welcome. Following this, the class history will be read by Gertrude Chamberlin, the woman most representative of the blue and white in her class. Charles R. Dawson will present the class will and George B. Abbe will make an address to the faculty, alumni, and undergraduates.

After the activities at the gymnasium, seniors will adjourn to NeSmith Hall where they will form a semi-circle around the front steps. Robert Griffith will deliver the ivy oration after which the ivy will be planted. The class of '33 will sing Auld Lang Syne and as they file out, each member of the class will place a clod of turf at the base of the plant.

The practice of tree planting originated in 1893, the purpose being to leave something which, as it grew, would be symbolic of the achievement of the class. In 1909, tree planting was given up for ivy which has been used ever since.

One of the class gifts will consist of a granite tablet to be erected in front of the arch at Thompson Hall. A clearing has been made in the shrubbery and if the tablet arrives in time, the dedication will take place immediately after the ivy planting.

At noon, Reunion Class Luncheons will be held at the Commons dining room. Boston College will participate in a baseball game with New Hampshire University at Brackett field after dinner. This will be the final time the varsity nine plays this year and with the presence of visiting alumni and a good turnout by the student body, a sizeable crowd is anticipated.

Following the ball game, the alumni association will hold its annual meeting at Murkland auditorium after which it will adjourn to the Commons for the banquet.

The Mask and Dagger performance will play Saturday evening in its fifth and last showing. On Sunday morning, Bishop John Thomson Dallas, D.D., will deliver the baccalaureate service in the gymnasium. Bishop Dallas is the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New Hampshire and resides at Concord. There will be no reserved seats at this service.

COMMENCEMENT BALL FEATURES BIG TIME BAND

Noble Sissle to Syncopate For Seniors Friday, June 9, in Commons

HAS PLAYED IN NEW YORK, LONDON CLUBS

Band Will be Accompanied by Louella Carter, Blues Singer

Noble Sissle's sensational internationally famous colored band which was recently starred in the New York musical hit, Shuffle Along, will play at the Commencement ball on Friday evening, June 9, according to an announcement by Herbert Schnare, chairman of the Ball.

Sissle will come direct to the University from a week's engagement at the Metropolitan theatre in Boston. His twelve piece band and Miss Louella Carter, colored blues singer of the class, in 1909, tree planting was given up for ivy which has been used ever since.

One of the class gifts will consist of a granite tablet to be erected in front of the arch at Thompson Hall. A clearing has been made in the shrubbery and if the tablet arrives in time, the dedication will take place immediately after the ivy planting.

GRANITE HONORS GOVERNOR WINANT

Colored Cuts Featured in 1934 Issue of Year Book—Largest Ever Presented

Featuring colored engraving of campus scenes, and dedicated to Governor John G. Winant, the 1934 GRANITE made its appearance today—the largest year book ever to have been edited in this University. Cuts are distinctive and clearcut throughout.

Other attractions include an athletic department of 61 pages, a section of beauty queens, a full page picture each for the most representative man and woman of the Blue and White, and a Granite Chips section of ridiculous pictures of students. Caricatures of each sports captain by James H. Pollard head each division of the athletic department.

Names and addresses of all upperclassmen appear as well as the juniors' pictures and names of freshmen are printed in lower case type. Individual seniors' and juniors' activities were listed.

The GRANITE is bound with a black fabricoid on which is inlaid a gold design. The theme throughout is Colonial.

Printing was done by the Record Press of Rochester and Gherin Gallery of Needham, Massachusetts, handled the photography. Editor-in-chief Delfo Caminati edited the staff made up of Charles York, Jr., Business Manager; Hollister Sturges, Jr., Art Editor; Roland Sawyer, Sports Editor; Whitman Freeman, Jr., Sales and Advertising Manager; James A. Pollard, Jr., Art Editor; Carolyn C. Smith, Photographic Editor; Mary Carswell, Women's Editor; Arnold Rhodes, Associate Editor; and Leandre Charest, Associate Editor.

NH GETS SECOND IN QUILL CLUB CONTEST

Taking three of the first twelve places in the American College Quill Club short story contest, New Hampshire clinched second place in the competition.

Although none of the entrants from this University took prize money, New Hampshire is the only one of all the colleges and universities entered that ever took three places in the ranking twelve. Alice Walker won second place in the contest with her story "Old Gibraltar." George Abbe took seventh with "Strength." Clyde Blackwell got eleventh position with "The Saga of Tom."

Judges in the story competition were Dorothy Canfield Fisher; Lowry C. Wimberly, editor of the Prairie Schooner; and John T. Frederick, editor of The Midland. Ethelyn M. Hartwich, High Chronicler of the Quill Club, voices the sentiment of her organization towards

ULRICSON NAMED TO WEST POINT

John Russell Ulricson, '35, has been admitted to the United States Military Academy at West Point where he will assume duties as a cadet, July 1.

Ulricson graduated from Milford High School with high marks in 1931 and has attained high ranks while at the University. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, and works on the fire department. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ulricson and the selection of him is the second such appointment ever to come from Milford.

IN PRAISE OF ENGLISH

Because of the fact that the average editorial is to tell someone, who ought to know and probably knows, what is wrong with something, it is a real pleasure to sit down and pound out a few honest words of praise and approbation.

If you have followed the course of the University of New Hampshire for the last few years in the realm of written English you must have felt a certain glow of satisfaction at the admirable results which have been achieved in the line of intercollegiate competition. In the present issue of this paper there are two stories telling of new honors won by our students in this field.

When a student here wins a prize in such competition we are proud of the fact that we can count such a person among our fellow students, but when the prize winning is consistent and spread over a period of years the realization dawns that this continued proficiency is due in no small part to the excellence of instruction that they are receiving. The English Department of this University deserves the utmost of praise—the students' achievements are their achievements and without detracting one iota from the honor due to the students who have shown such marked ability we feel that a major part of the credit should be given to those men and women who have toiled patiently with them in the making of writing technique.

SAFETY WITHIN THE WALLS

Six weeks ago the reformatory sentence given an 18-year-old boy because he had stolen "to keep my folks alive somehow," was suspended. The deputy sheriff under whose care he was put gave him a haircut, a clean neck, clothes, pocket money, friendship and good advice. He couldn't give him a job.

The boy's parents were at the community camp, ill and jobless. Friday he was brought up again for petty theft, and the three-year parole was revoked.

"I'd go straight if I had a job," the boy said, "but I had to do something." The deputy admitted that a job would have saved the boy for useful citizenship.

The state could not afford to make a job for this boy until he got on his feet. Instead he will be fed and housed by the state for three years—inside the reformatory. Outside, society cannot afford jobs for men straight. Inside there is never a scarcity.—Oklahoma Daily.

33 Awards Made by Pres. Lewis

The Phi Sigma Prize of twenty-five dollars, offered by the local chapter of Phi Sigma, national honorary biological fraternity, to that senior who has ranked highest in zoological courses throughout his four years, was awarded to Harry Ralph Mushin, Class of 1933, by Manchester.

The Class of 1892 Prize of twenty dollars, offered to the senior who, in the opinion of the faculty, has developed the highest ideals of good citizenship, was awarded to Newton LeRoy Carroll, Class of 1933, of Dover. The Edward Thomson Fairchild Prize of twenty-five dollars, awarded by Mask and Dagger to the senior who has done most to promote dramatics during his four years at the University, was won this year by Roger Whitcomb Hunt, Class of 1933, of Swanzey.

The Psi Lambda, home economics society, to the home economics senior who has shown the greatest improvement in scholarship and personality during her four years in college, was awarded to Florence Anna Bartlett, Class of 1933, of Claremont.

The Alpha Chi Omega Prize of ten dollars, offered by the local chapter of Alpha Chi Omega for the best production of creative prose, was awarded to John Hayden Starie, Class of 1935, of Amherst.

The Alpha Xi Delta Cup, offered by the local chapter of Alpha Xi Delta to the senior girl who proves herself to be the best athlete in her class, was awarded to Gabrielle Marguerite Grenier, Class of 1933, of Manchester.

The Association of Women Students' Award of twenty-five dollars, offered by that organization to the woman student who has proved of value to the association, and who has demonstrated her worth by her scholarship, self-help, leadership and loyalty, was awarded to Conradene Booth Bowen, Class of 1934, of Charlestown.

The Alpha Zeta Scholarship Cup, offered by the Granite Chapter of that fraternity to the sophomore in the College of Agriculture who has made the highest scholastic average during his first five terms' work, was awarded this year to Laton Mitchell Henderson, Class of 1933, of Merrimack.

The Chi Omega Prize, offered by the local chapter of Chi Omega to the under-graduate woman who submits the best thesis on any subject dealing with problems of civic interest in sociology or economics, was awarded to Lucie Jane Sherman, Class of 1933, of Croydon.

The Locke Prize of $100, the income of a trust fund bequeathed by Mrs. Mary D. Carbee in memory of Mr. and Mrs. S. Morris Locke, awarded each year to that junior majoring in Latin who is adjudged by a committee of the faculty to have excelled in the study of that language, was divided equally between Eunice Lucile Thompson, Class of 1934, of Dover, and Phyllis Louise Shorey, Class of 1934, of Rochester.

The Davis Cattle Judging Prizes for Two-Year Students, offered by Thomas J. Davis, were awarded to First, Harold Walter Cross, of Colebrook, and Second, given in equal amounts to three competitors, Sydney Kennett Northrop, of Milford; Robert Benjamin Fish, of Peterboro; and Leonard Walter Gray, of Colebrook.

The General Chemistry Award, presented by Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary chemistry society, to that freshman who secures the highest average grade in Chemistry, was won by Fred Willis Hoyt, Class of 1936, of the Weirs.

The Lawrence Hall Opydycke Prize in Chemistry, given by Mrs. A. F. Meyerhans of Waterbury, Connecticut, in memory of her brother, to be awarded to the senior who did outstanding work in Dr. Opydycke's class in Physical Chemistry, was awarded to Raymond Benedict Seymour, Class of 1933, of Dover.

The Lawrence Hall Opydycke Prize in Chemistry, also given by Mrs. Meyerhans in memory of her brother, to be awarded to a junior who did outstanding work in Physical Chemistry during the past year, was awarded to Roger Davis Gray, Class of 1934, of Dover.

The Hood Dairy Cattle Judging Prizes of $100 have been awarded to First, Norman Frank Cree, Class of 1934, of Colebrook; Second, Stanley Wood Colby, Class of 1934, of West Lebanon; Karl Edwin Fish, Class of 1933, of Peterboro.

The Edward Monroe Stone Cup, offered by Edward Monroe Stone, '92, to any fraternity or sorority for superior ability in forensics, was won this year by the Phi Alpha Fraternity, whose debating team defeated all other entrants.

The A. A. U. W. Award of $50, made available this year by the Great Bay Branch of the American Association of University Women to a senior woman student of high scholastic attainment to apply toward tuition for continuance of her studies as a graduate student at the University of New Hampshire, was awarded to Mary Alberta Tingley, Class of 1933, of Amherst.

Prizes were awarded to representatives in the annual Intercollegiate Writing Contest, conducted by the Universities of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. First Prize in the essay section was won by Richard Blodgett Clarkson, Class of 1933, of Newburyport, Massachusetts; Second Prize by John Hayden Starie, Class of 1933, of Amherst. First Prize in the short story section went to Clyde King Blackwell, Class of 1934, of Rochester. In the poetry section, First Prize was won by Shirley Franck Barker, Class of 1934, of Farmington.

President Lewis presented Commander of the American Legion in New Hampshire, who announced the winner of the American Legion Trophy and presented the medal awarded to the winner. The trophy is awarded to the student who attains the high-

All I know is what I see in the movies—but (apologies to Will Rogers). Mid gay Spanish, shawls, soft light, and sweet music, several co-eds and many imports enjoyed what will be termed by many as the "bestest" prom in many years.

When Renard opened up with "Tiger Rag" the crowd was treated to an unannounced specialty as three of our Dancing Romeos led their partners in a step that harked back to the hop, skip, and jump we used to see back in 1926 with a dash of Harlem thrown in for good measure.

Thirteen glazed men awoke from a deep daze in the wee small hours to find themselves tied up for the Commencement Ball, week-end in New York, and a three weeks' trip to the World's Fair.

While fraternity pins climbed from native vests to visiting dresses the green-eyed monster clawed its unbecoming way into the hearts of local talent ditched for imports.

With finals so near that it seems that they are about to reach out and dip us under, the average student is beginning to take out that schedule card again to find out what courses he is taking.

Well, the long awaited GRANITE is at last with us. We deplore the lateness of its appearance but wish to congratulate the 1934 editors upon a splendid piece of work.

The chipper Miss Chase is fitting from willing male cranker to unwilling male cranker in a Ford of ancient visage, and threatens to create a student body with crippled right arms if the holocaust continues.

After looking at that beauty section in THE GRANITE, we feel that we can sneer at Hollywood even if it does rain here more often.

We heard Noble Sissle the other night, and take it from the bottom of our rude but patient heart, the Commencement Ball committee made no mistake when they signed him up for the "grand brawl."

Those of you who were wondering how you were going to raise the money to get home now have your problem solved for you by the book-store. All you have to do is take a couple of books out of the library and sell them to the bookstore. The library loses nothing because they will get them back from the bookstore; the bookstore will lose nothing because they didn't own the books in the first place; and as for you—well, you had nothing to lose, anyway.

Along the line of stand up in order to be knocked down comes this one!—Three men were caught by the ever alert watchmen trying to carry the bleachers away the other night. They claimed they were lonesome.

And so another year reels its dogged way to a close—Hail and farewell, prosit, skoal, touch tops, here's to Madge, and what have you.

Dallas, Holt to Deliver Address

Manton and an open air concert by the University band will furnish the musical entertainment of the day.

On Monday morning, the seniors, led by the class marshal, Kenneth Wood, will march into the gymnasium where the commencement exercises will take place. The Commencement address will be made by Hamilton Holt, President of Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida. After President Holt's address and the awarding of honorary degrees, the ceremony will be concluded by the presentation of diplomas by President Edward M. Lewis.

est distinction in a combination of military science, scholarship and athletics. It was awarded to Wesley Eaton Haynes, Class of 1933, of Nashua, by Commander Samuel H. Edes, of Newport.

The Phi Lambda Phi Award, given by Phi Lambda Phi, physics honor society, to the senior who is most deserving through proficiency in Physics and general scholarship, was awarded to Adam E. Dogan, Class of 1933, of Nashua.

The first annual N. H. Club award to the senior who has shown the greatest improvement in athletic ability, character, sportsmanship, loyalty and attitude, was awarded this year to Arthur B. Learnmonth. Gold track shoes, emblematic of the championship of New England won by our varsity cross-country team last fall, were awarded by the Department of Physical Education and Athletics to the following men: Captain W. F. Benedict, W. G. Andberg, E. J. Blood, T. E. Darling, E. R. Glover, H. Raduazo, Manager J. W. York.

The team not only won the New England championship but enjoys, also, the distinction of being undefeated in dual meets during the season.

Alumni Notes

The White Mt. Branch of the Association held a meeting at the American Legion chateau in Whitefield on Wednesday night, May 31. Members brought box lunches and coffee was served by a committee under the direction of Wesley Howard, 16, president of the Club. Harry Page was present from the University and talked on campus activities. Movies of the May Day pageant and the Isles of Shoals laboratory were shown.

'83—James E. Gay has sent the Alumni Office the following information concerning Charles Woodward: Charles Woodward passed away Apr. 14, 1914 of Brights disease. After leaving Corsicana, Texas, where he taught ten years, he taught in Fort Worth one year. Then he went to Dallas, Texas, where he taught several years before his death. He was teaching within ten days of his death. Mr. Woodward did high school work in Corsicana, and was principal of the Lagow School in Dallas. Mrs. Woodward now lives at 4508 Live Oak St., Dallas, Texas.

'28—Beulah Merrill is a laboratory technician at the Evans Memorial Hospital in Boston. Her address is 11 E. Newton St., Boston.

MATH BOOK IN EXTENSIVE USE

Dr. Slobin and Prof. Wilbur Bring Fame to N. H. U. As Their Text is Widely Adopted

Freshman Mathematics, a textbook compiled by Dr. Hermon L. Slobin and Prof. Walter E. Wilbur of the University faculty, has been officially adopted by the mathematics departments of over fifty universities and colleges in the United States since its edition in September, 1932. Besides these institutions in this country, universities in several foreign countries have accepted the book as standard.

The May issue of the American Mathematical Monthly, official journal of the Mathematical Association of America, contains a review of the book by Professors Slobin and Wilbur. In the review the work is spoken of very favorably with the comment, "This is a distinct advance over many existing texts."

Freshman Mathematics comprises three books which serve to drill the student in algebra, trigonometry, and analytical geometry. In a fourth book, A Brief Introduction to the Calculus, the authors, Slobin and Wilbur, aim to initiate students into the functions of calculus. According to Dr. Slobin, it will give students who will take no more math after the first year an opportunity to understand the work in calculus, while the additional book will augment the preparation of students who will go on with their mathematics.

Besides this brief work on calculus, Prof. M. R. Solt and Dr. H. L. Slobin are preparing a large calculus for the use of the advanced mathematical courses. This, as well as the revised Freshman Mathematics, will go to the publishers during the summer and will not be available until next year.

MACDOWELL CLUB VISITS COLONY

Mrs. MacDowell Expresses Gratification on New Work Outlined by Group

Members of the MacDowell Club of Durham and vicinity made a pilgrimage on Sunday to the artists' colony at Peterborough, meeting Mrs. MacDowell and having lunch at the large Barnard Studio. In the early afternoon the party went by special invitation to Hillcrest where Miss Richardson, Mrs. MacDowell's friend and companion, told of the beginnings of the colony, of the composer's own work in renovating and decorating the home place, and then took the visitors to the famous music room where Mrs. MacDowell herself told a dozen or so humorous anecdotes from their life abroad and in this country and closed the interview by playing on MacDowell's piano two of his compositions.

"I want to say this especially to you young people," said Mrs. MacDowell, addressing students of the University of New Hampshire whom she had just met, "that MacDowell made it a rule to write something every day to perfect his technique, but he saved very little of the mass of his writings. Like all good artists he did much to keep his hand in and discarded all but a small fraction. Sometimes this was disastrous, as in the case of a composition which has given delight to thousands of his admirers, 'To A Wild Rose.' I rescued the manuscript of this from the fireplace (or the wastebasket—I do not remember which) one morning and thought the melody attractive. He played it over and said he liked it too and this is the way the music was saved."

Mrs. MacDowell expressed keenest appreciation of the newly formed club centering around the University, and said she thought it almost miraculous that one hundred and twenty men and women should feel impelled to join at this time in furthering the creative arts in this part of the state. As the members filed out to view the famous Hillcrest flower garden, Mrs. MacDowell shook hands with all her guests and seemed to have a personal message for each one.

The party then went by automobiles to the Pageant stage, to several of the studios of well known writers and artists and composers, to the new library which houses many priceless first editions of various composers, thence to Colony Hall, The Eaves, The Mannex, the Guest House, and finally to the composer's resting place, facing Monadnock and presenting one of the most interesting and beautiful spots in America.

RUDD LEADS IN CHESS MATCHES

For several years the faculty of the University of New Hampshire has had one of its members a state champion in chess.

In 1930 Professor Wells was champion, in 1931 Professor Wm. Nulsen held the throne, and in 1932 Mr. C. Sheridan, an alumnus of the University, won the title. This year Dr. Herbert F. Rudd is one of the three finalists chosen from three sections of the state.

In the elimination Dr. Rudd has but to win one game to become chess champion of the state of New Hampshire, and he is far enough ahead so that the loss of a single game will not cripple his chances in being winner of the matches.

"HELL BELOW" AT FRANKLIN SAT.

Drama of Submarine Service U. S. Gov't Aided in the Picture—Montgomery, and Huston Star

Hell Below, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's striking screen adaptation of Commander Edward Ellsberg's notable novel, Pigboats, will be shown at the Franklin theatre on Saturday.

The picture is a drama of life in the submarine service and stars Robert Montgomery, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette, Walter Huston, Madge Evans, and Robert Young.

Hell Below, justly called the "Big Parade" of the ocean because of its glorification of the hell divers of the sea, is a story of love and duty faced by a young naval lieutenant in action in the Mediterranean during the World War. Montgomery serves under the father of the girl he loves, but whose love is forbidden him. How, by disobeying orders, he loses his commission and subsequently redeems himself by a heroic sacrifice, is depicted against a thunderous background of naval battles, good fighting with enemy aircraft and a very good description of the whole great panorama of war at sea.

The amazing and thrilling episodes of Hell Below include the escape under water from depth bombs, the dramatic moment in the hold of a doomed submarine, the battle with the planes, the torpedoing of an enemy destroyer, and the final climax in which Montgomery drives his explosive-laden boat into a fort to blow it up and thus bottle up a harbor protecting the enemy fleet.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has packed plenty of punch into this talkie all the way from a doomed submarine lying at the bottom of the ocean with its engine disabled, the machine gun attack from the deck of a lone submarine against a squadron of airplanes to the leak which occurred in the battery room of the submerged submarine and the dread of escaping chlorine gas.

Will you still talk to me of hills at night,
 And fragrance under hanging boughs,
 And birds
 That skim the meadow grasses in their flight?
 Tell me of them, for only you have words.

Lord, I believed myself forsaken. Now I find that it was I who turned aside,
 And only when the thorns were on my brow
 Remembered suddenly how you had died.

Lord, will you walk with me another day?
 I am so strangely joyful when you talk,
 For river music sounds in what you say,
 And beauty of the earth moves in your walk.

Lord, will you walk with me another day?
 You speak of leaves that hang on morning's breath,
 White dogwood in the shade, and trout that play
 Under the banks where birches lean to pray.
 Lord, will you walk with me until my death?

POSITIONS OPEN FOR ENGINEERS

Civil Engineers Organize Into Surveying Corps to Aid Reforestation Work

Dean Case, who is Chairman of the American Engineering Council's New Hampshire Committee on Engineers and Employment, has just received application blanks to be filled out by Civil Engineering graduates for positions on surveying corps being organized to survey forest lands in connection with President Roosevelt's forest improvement program, which was started to furnish work for the unemployed.

There are four of these parties to be made up for work in New Hampshire and Vermont and are twelve-month parties. Many of these positions will be filled by transfers in the service, but opportunities are available for a certain number of unemployed Civil Engineers. These parties are to be made up by June 5th, and will contain a number of men who are not necessarily engineers, but live in the vicinity of individual surveys. The idea of this is that these men will be better acquainted with the territory than men employed from some other section. These positions pay fairly good salaries and maintenance, and young engineers who may learn of work to be done in the particular communities in which they live should apply to the director of U. S. Forestry Service, Washington, D. C.

The short time available to get these applications into the hands of qualified and deserving men emphasizes the fact that unemployed graduates of the College of Technology should send in their names to the University with detailed statements of their experience since leaving here. The names of applicants with their experience and recommendations of those who may know them here will probably have to be sent in immediately in reply to most inquiries that come in for men from now on.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA WINS ALL-POINT TROPHY CONTEST

BASEBALL FINALS STILL UNPLAYED

Victory in Tennis Doubles Assures A. T. O. Fraternity of Victory—Obtain Second Leg

By working their way into the finals of the intra-mural baseball championship, the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity clinched the all-point trophy for the year 1932-1933. While the tennis singles and the baseball finals are still to be decided, the A. T. O.'s gained the second leg toward permanent possession of the trophy.

Scoring points in practically every branch of sport, the balance and all around versatility of the Alpha Tau Omega's resulted in their victory. Recent triumphs were the winning of the tennis doubles, and second place in the intra-mural track meet. They will battle the Kappa Sigma's for the baseball championship, while the Lambda Chi Alpha team will be met in the tennis final.

The only other victories which the A. T. O.'s won during the year were in winter sports, but they placed in enough of the other events to enable them to take the lead when they scored heavily in the spring contests. Second place has not been decided, as both Theta Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha are in the running. Kappa Sigma has a chance to win the baseball trophy, after winning the swimming meet last week.

The victory of the Alpha Tau Omega adds interest to the contests next year, as three fraternities, A. T. O., Theta Chi, and Lambda Chi Alpha will all be competing for permanent possession of the trophy.

Theta Chi won the basketball championship for the season, while Lambda Chi Alpha closed the fall term sport schedule by winning the relay championship, Theta Kappa Phi being runner-up. The Pi Kappa Alpha's won the boxing trophy to open winter competition. A. T. O. won the winter sports competition, with Lambda Chi capturing the bowling trophy for the second time. Theta Chi had a slight lead as the spring term opened, with Lambda Chi Alpha second, and the A. T. O. fraternity a few points behind in third place.

VARSAITY TRACK CLOSES AT B. C.

Victories Over Springfield and Brown Outstanding—Hopes High for Win From N. E. Champs

With the final dual track meet of the season with Boston College Saturday, June 3, at Boston, New Hampshire will close its season with hopes of victory, and keeping its record clean.

A close meet is expected as Boston College, New England intercollegiate title holder, and New Hampshire, undefeated this year, tangle on the cinder path. Although Boston College won the title last year, New Hampshire defeated them in a dual; so Coach Sweet is hoping to repeat over the champions again.

Boston College has power in the weight events, sprints, and middle distance; so with the championship tucked under its belt, it will start the meet a slight favorite to win.

In previous meets this year, New Hampshire has defeated Northeastern, Brown, Bates, M. I. T., and Springfield. The feature of the season is the fact that the teams that provided the Wildcats with stiffest opposition last year were soundly defeated this year. Springfield defeated New Hampshire by two points last season, but the Wildcats reversed the decision this season, and won by a margin of 24 points.

The victory over Springfield is the first that New Hampshire has gained over the Massachusetts school in three years. In fact, Springfield is the only school to defeat New Hampshire in track in the past five years.

The freshmen were not very successful this season as regards wins and losses. They lost every meet in which they took part, being defeated by Exeter, Andover, and Brown freshmen. The meet with Boston College Freshmen was called off, and so the Frosh were deprived of an opportunity of performing against the Eagles. The redeeming feature of the Wild Kitten season was the splendid performances turned in by some of the individual stars.

Prospects for next season seem to be quite bright, as most of the high scorers of this year's team will again perform next year. Captain Pike, Bertelsen, and Learmonth will be missed, but it is hoped that Ranchynowski and Johnson of the freshmen will step in to fill their places. And so closes one of the most successful seasons which the Wildcats have enjoyed in the past few years.

by Jimmy Dunbar

Still undefeated in track. That victory over Springfield certainly was a splendid achievement, as the Gymnasts hold two decisions over the Blue and White in the past two years. They hold the distinction of being the only college to conquer our Wildcat speedsters in the past five seasons. Therefore the victory was particularly sweet, especially to those of the squad who have competed against them in the past two meets.

Darling showed his versatility by running a great quarter mile in the meet Saturday. He was barely nosed out by the visiting star, and the time of 50 2-5 seconds was about the best which has been turned in this season. Considering the fact that the track was far from fast, Darling's feat is nothing short of astonishing, since it is the first quarter mile he has run since entering New Hampshire. Sweet may see fit to continue the mile champ in the shorter distances leaving the mile to his other star, Benedict. Darling had an easy time of it in the half, running away from all rivals.

Funston is the high scorer of the team for the season to date. He has gathered in sixty-one points in five meets, an enviable record. He has placed first in at least one event in every meet, and usually won both hurdles, in addition to copping the two twenty in the opening meet of the season.

Captain Ranchynowski was the high scorer for freshmen during the past season, scoring thirty-five points in three meets. Webster was second with twenty. Ranchynowski will probably confine his efforts to the broad and high jump next year, although he may take a fling at the pole vault.

The freshmen closed the baseball season in a barrage of base hits. They battered the Hebron pitcher for sixteen bingles, included long smashes of all varieties and to all corners of the lot. Bill Weir, who led the assault, finished the season with a batting average of over .500. Nearly all of the other regulars on the Frosh nine had averages of .300 or better, while the general average was over that figure. It was too bad that the Wild Kittens dropped the Exeter game. With a little luck they might have finished the season undefeated.

The score piled up in that lacrosse game with the Boston Lacrosse Club is an indication of the improvement of the team in general. Last season the veteran team lost to practically the same group of players. Prospects for next season in this sport are very bright, and New Hampshire might well advance to the head of the class in New England lacrosse circles.

Congratulations to the A. T. O.'s. Winning that all-point trophy this year meant out-doing a great deal of stiff competition. The victors kept right up in there throughout the year, and when their chance came in the spring, they took advantage with a bang. We are already looking forward to next year, when that triangular battle will begin, with just twelve outsiders threatening to step in and walk off with the honors.

On Saturday the varsity will play its last game before the closing of school next Friday. The season's finale will be with Boston College a week from Saturday. If these two games are pulled out of the fire, it will go a long way toward squaring up the rather dismal season as it stands at present. Captain "Tuck" White has not only been the only winning pitcher this season, but his hitting has also been about the best which we have seen.

A great deal of interest has been shown in intra-mural tennis this season. The fact that some of the men competing have been working out all spring in the hopes of forming a regular team has added to the ability of the competitors. Webster of Alpha Tau Omega and Marston of Lambda Chi Alpha are the outstanding performers, with their singles final still to be played off. Webster was the big factor in the victory of the A. T. O. doubles combination.

WILDCATS WIN OVER TUFTS 14-2

NH Varsity Lacrosse Team Gets Early Lead—Trow Makes Many Stops in Goal

Showing flashes of that early season form which characterized their play in the majority of the game, the Wildcats defeated the Tufts College team in a lacrosse match at Medford last Friday by the score of 14-2.

Getting off to an early lead the Wildcats increased it as the game progressed, while the New Hampshire defense functioned strongly, the work of Trow in goal being particularly outstanding. Morrissey was the star of the game, as he has been in most of the games this past season. The attack was led by Morrissey, with Armstrong, Martineau, and Ferrini contributing some fine plays to add to the Wildcat score.

The Tufts team has been defeated several times this season, but has been going rather well of late, and the defeat handed out by the Wildcats was a decided setback to the hopes of the Jumbos.

FRESHMAN NINE DEFEATS HEBRON IN FINAL GAME

Holt Smacks Out Home Run and Weir Connects for Two Triples and Two Singles in 14-2 Win

KITTENS CHALK UP SIXTEEN BASE HITS

Six Runs in Second Inning Clinches Decision for Frosh Batsmen

Led by Weir, who connected for two triples and two singles in five times at bat, while allowing the visiting Hebron team but six hits, the New Hampshire Freshman baseball team defeated Hebron at Brackett Field on Saturday by the score of 14-2.

The freshmen had their batting eyes with them, driving out sixteen hits including five triples, two doubles, and a home run. The four base blow was gathered in by Holt, outfielder, and was one of the longest blows seen on Brackett Field in years. Weir's two triples, together with three base blows by Chase, Robinson, and H. Currier were the other features of the game. The freshmen hopped on the offerings of the Hebron hurler in nearly every inning and with every man in the lineup connecting for at least one safe blow, they scored fourteen runs.

The Wild Kittens began the big drive in the second inning. Chase led off with a hard double to right field. Weir followed this up with a tremendous triple to deep right center. Weir came in on Robinson's out at first. Then hits by both Currier boys, Tucker and Landry resulted in four more runs registering at the plate, giving the Frosh a safe lead for the victory.

Weir, in addition to his batting, pitched an airtight ball game most of the way, having only two bad innings in which the Academy boys threatened to score. After he had a lead handed to him, he worked well, getting stronger as the game progressed.

It was the last game of the season for the Wildcats, and the game was a favorable closing for a splendid season.

LACROSSE TEAM WINS 5, LOSE 3

Wildcats Get Big Scores in Last Games—Prospects Look Bright for Next Season

By winning the last three games of the season, the University of New Hampshire's varsity lacrosse team managed to end the season with a record of five wins and three defeats.

Victories over Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston University, Williams College, Tufts College, and the Boston Lacrosse Club more than balanced the defeats handed out to the Wildcats by Brown University, Springfield and Union. Each of these last three games was close, while the Blue and White stickmen piled up big scores in most of the victories. The high water mark of the season was reached at the end, when the team scored thirty-three goals in two games against Tufts and the Boston Lacrosse Club.

The prospects for next season are unusually bright, for the stars of this year's team included many sophomores and juniors. Morrissey, who scored ten goals in the final game, and Martineau, Armstrong, Lewis, Dane, and Vaughan are the juniors, while

WILDCAT'S TRIUMPH FIRST IN THREE YEARS OVER RIVAL

VARSAITY TEAM DEFEATS B. L. C.

Morrissey Cages Ten Goals for Wildcats—Boston Men Outplayed by N. H. Team, 19-4

With Morrissey displaying one of the best offensive games shown in Durham since the organization of Lacrosse, the Varsity team defeated the Boston Lacrosse Club on Saturday at Memorial Field by the overwhelming score of 19-4.

Morrissey, stellar center, scored ten goals, and received the best of assistance from his mates on the attacking line. He started the attack on the Boston goal, scoring in the first few minutes of the game, and added several in each of the remaining periods. Chaloner, Armstrong, and Wilde each aided in the scoring, while Trow played a great game in goal. Martineau and Greenwood also turned in fine performances.

In the early stages of the game, the going was rough, with neither team having much of an advantage. The Wildcats obtained a lead in the first period, but the visitors were showing some fine individual work. The score (Continued on Page 4)

DARLING RUNS FAST QUARTER

Funston Again High Scorer—N. H. Sweeps Mile, Broad Jump—McLeod Wins Two Mile

New Hampshire's varsity track team continued on its undefeated dual meet career as it humbled a powerful rival in Springfield College, Saturday, May 27. The final score was 79½ to 55½.

The victory was much easier than anticipated as Springfield defeated New Hampshire last year at Springfield, and had many veterans competing again this year. The meet was close; this dual meet was looked upon as a bitter match, but as the dust cleared, the Wildcats emerged with a comfortable, seemingly easy victory.

Coach Sweet, knowing Springfield's strength, revamped his team slightly in order to gain valuable points in events where points were available. By shifting Darling to the quarter-mile, he added three points toward victory. Shifting Blood to the mile gave New Hampshire a clean sweep with Murray leading. Benedict and Blood came in that order.

However, the early moments of the meet seemed all a Springfield tinge as Shaw won the high hurdles in the exceptionally fast time of 15 3-5 seconds. Funston got second while Holden of Springfield took third place. The second event of the day brought Wheeler, New England Intercollegiate hundred yard champion, to the fore. Cunningham was a close second with Clark of New Hampshire third.

The 220 yard dash produced a surprise as Cunningham and Funston of New Hampshire both defeated Tilden of Springfield, the favorite, and beat Wheeler badly. Parks, a gymnast, took the 440 in 50 2-5 seconds, the fastest time of the year on the Memorial Field track. Darling came second, with Springfield taking the odd point.

McLeod surprised by winning the two-mile run, and Raduazo placed second with Miller of Springfield third. Darling loafed through the half mile in two minutes flat while Benedict of the Wildcats and Bigelos of Springfield finished behind him in that order.

Another gem of the day was Learmonth's helpful first place in the shot put. However, Springfield took the next two places. The field events again proved to be of value to New Hampshire's score as Blood won the javelin. Jensen bowed to Hawks of Springfield in the hammer, but he avoided a shut out in this event as Springfield took first and third places. Smith took the high jump from New Hampshire, but Bertelsen and Small finished in that order to further the cause with four points. The pole vault resulted in a tie between Andberg, Wildcat vaulter, and Farmer of Springfield. White of New Hampshire and Simons of Springfield tied for second place.

As usual, Funston came through as expected in the low hurdles with an easy victory. New Hampshire race. The broad jump was the sea-failed to gain any other place in this odd event in which New Hampshire enjoyed a grand slam. Pike took first with Bertelsen second and Clark third.

The summary:
100-yard high hurdles—Won by Shaw (S); second, Funston (NH); third, Holden (S). Time—15 3-5.
100-yard dash—Won by Wheeler (S); second, Cunningham (NH); third, Clark (NH). Time—10 1-5.
One-mile run—Won by Murray (NH); second, Benedict (NH); third, Blood (NH). Time 4m. 41 2-5.
140-yard dash—Won by Parks (S); second, Darling (NH); third, Tilden (S). Time—50 2-5.
Two-mile run—Won by McLeod (NH); second, Raduazo (NH); third, Miller (S). Time—10m. 15 4-5.
Half-mile run—Won by Darling (NH); second, Benedict (NH); third, Bigelos (S). Time 2m.

Varsity Team Defeats B. L. C.

at the end of the first half was 6-2 in favor of the home team. However, the Boston team tired in the last half, and the game soon became a walk-away. Morrissey went on his scoring spree in the third period, and soon gave the Blue and White stickmen a lead which was too much for the visiting men to overcome.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED

TODAY'S MAGIC FEATURE
COFFEE Hot and Delicious OUT OF THIN AIR

Copyright, 1933, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

LAST NIGHT I SAW A MAGICIAN SERVE 100 CUPS OF COFFEE TO THE AUDIENCE OUT OF A HUGE COFFEE POT THAT HE PRODUCED FROM NOWHERE.

HERE'S THE 99th CUP AND STILL SOME LEFT. ANYONE ELSE?

I HAD A CUP OF THE COFFEE MYSELF, SO I KNOW IT WASN'T A TRICK.

YOU HAVE BEEN FOOLED AGAIN, ELLIE.

THE COFFEE POT WAS TELESCOPED INTO THE TOP OF THE TABLE. THE COFFEE WAS IN A TANK UNDER THE STAGE. AN ASSISTANT PUMPED IT UP THROUGH A RUBBER TUBE IN THE LEG OF THE MAGICIAN'S STAND.

POT IS RAISED TO TOP OF TABLE WHEN MAGICIAN LIFTS CLOTH.

SO THAT'S THE TRICK! HAVE A CIGARETTE?

I'M SORRY, BUT I DON'T ENJOY THAT BRAND. THEY TASTE SO FLAT!

TUBE TO ROOM BELOW

DO THEY REALLY TASTE FLAT? I THOUGHT THEY WERE SUPPOSED TO BE MILD.

MILD? TRY A CAMEL AND YOU'LL GET MILDNESS AND BETTER TASTE, TOO.

OH, JACK—THIS IS WONDERFUL! WHAT IS IT THOSE ADS SAY: "IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW"?

YES, IT'S THE TOBACCO THAT COUNTS, ELLIE.

ELLIE DIDN'T KNOW THAT SHE HAD ILLUSIONS ABOUT CIGARETTES UNTIL JACK PERSUADED HER TO TRY ONE OF HIS CAMELS. NOW SHE'S A CAMEL FAN, TOO.

IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. You'll appreciate the mildness...the flavor...the added pleasure of costlier tobaccos.
