It is with a feeling of responsibility that as staff members we take over the serious task of publishing thirty-three issues of "The New Hampshire." We are indeed interested to hear of the great educational movement...
TWO EQUAL STRENGTH VARSITY ELEVENS NOW READY FOR OPENER

Open with Lowell Textile on Sept. 30—Backfield Material Strong-Line Shows Up Great Defensively

by Bob Pages

Beginning the third week of the training season, the Wildcats went through a stiff scrimmage on Tuesday, when some candidate failed in no small part in the action.

Prospects for this season appear particularly bright, with two teams of almost equal strength working out for more than an hour. Although the season is developing slowly, the scouting report given that the varsity will send a very strong combination against Lowell Textile one week from Saturday. At the beginning of the training camp, coaches were faced with building up a strong line. With backfield candidates given that it would not be possible to put more than two good ones on the field. However, with the return of more and more candidates at the end of the training season, the Wildcats are equipped with material which makes them poised to meet the two teams. With three pairs of guards and three pairs of tackles tipping the scales near the two hundred mark there will be plenty of competition. The scrimmage session on Tuesday revealed that the line candidates are not only big but have a good crew of football backs and are quick and handy backed. Willis, Murray, and Lewis are battling for the position of right guard. Willis, who played tackles on the Freshman club last fall, is looking for a chance to play guard and get his name on the offensives. Murray is showing his usual speed and getting through the line occasionally. Maurice has a good backfield prospect and will take on the left end. He is quick and has a lot of the other qualities of a star back. Lewis, who played tackles on the Freshman club last fall, is looking for a chance to play guard and get his name on the offensives. The manner in which McKinnery went over the New Hampshire ace. First impressions were very favorable, and White was signed for one year. He will report to the Cardinals in March and probably will be farmed out to the Rochester Redwings of the International League. The story of White's success dates back to his New Hampshire career, during which he became known to the baseball wizards of the state as one of the more important fraternal or organization and honor societies as seniors. Hanley led somewhat in the athletic achievements where he won the Most Valuable Player Award and the Outfielder of the Year Award. In the 1929 football season, Hanley and Wood, stars even as sophomores, were each awarded varsity letters. The season of 1930 found Hanley leading the team at quarter. The fall quarter of 1931 found these two leading the Wildcats to a New England Conference championship.

In the line, Sam Willis, shifted to a guard, is putting up a good battle for a regular spot. Joslin is giving big Ktistes a rub for one of the tackle posts, and Doc Toolin is going well at end. Schipper, pivot man of the Frosh last year, has just reported, and it is hoped that he will round into shape.

One of the more important backfield candidates under the supervision of Coach Paul Sweet, at the Memorial Field track. Paul Sweet was unable to make any promises concerning the prospects of the team at the close of the workout.

Del Campanilla Reveals Council Plans

Del Campanilla, in an interview with the New Hampshire, reported that the most efficient Student Council has voted to purchase a complete set of photographs, which will be used at the annual Student Council meeting. The set will be given to the Student Council at a meeting at the end of the year.

Outstanding football players for this fall. Wilson and Cunningham both have ability and showed up well in the Tuesday scrimmage. "Bus" Miller who was out last year has returned, and has demonstrated a good ball toter.

The New Hampshire Song Book, the Alumni Register, and several bound editions of The Granite, the University of New Hampshire's monthly newspaper, have been published by the Alumni Association, and are available in the University Bookstore.

Frosh Women Given Motor Ability Tests

Part of Physical Exam Given Freshmen Women.

Seven are Excluded.

Tests that women from the Metropolitan State College, Denver, Colorado, located one mile from Denver, were given in a special examination for women on the University of New Hampshire's campus.

Dr. Justin O. Wellman, Director of the School of Education, said that the examination was to determine the mental ability of women who are planning to enter the College of Education.

The examination was given to 30 women who were considered to be the most promising in their classes.

Early in the morning, the women were given a series of tests, which included the Wechsler-Bellevue Intelligence Test, the Stanford-Binet Intelligence Test, and the Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory.

The results of the examinations will be made available to the women's families and to the University's faculty.
