American Legion Again to Sponsor Program for "Educated" Youth.

The National Educational Association, the American Legion, and the state and local American Legion Posts are again sponsoring the American Legion Educational Week, November 6 to 12. The annual educational week is conducted each year to further interest in education and to acquaint eligible boys and girls throughout the country with the educational opportunities available to them.

The American Legion along with the National Education Association and the United States Office of Education are sponsoring this year the fourteenth annual American Legion Educational Week. The national program is being coordinated with the American Legion Departments of the states and territories and the state and local American Legion Posts.

For the first time, the American Legion Post in any community may sponsor a program for the week, and, in order that there may be unity of purpose, a joint program will be presented by the American Legion and the National Education Association.

The purpose of the week is to stress the need for education and to acquaint the young people with the various opportunities which may be opened to them by the educational system and by the American Legion. The program for the week will be designed to give the children an opportunity to learn about the various phases of education and to show them how they can use their education to the best advantage.

The program for the week will be presented in the schools, in the American Legion posts, and in the communities throughout the country. The program will be presented in the schools by the American Legion, and in the communities by the American Legion and the National Education Association.

The program for the week will be presented in the schools by the American Legion, and in the communities by the American Legion and the National Education Association.

The program for the week will be presented in the schools by the American Legion, and in the communities by the American Legion and the National Education Association.

The program for the week will be presented in the schools by the American Legion, and in the communities by the American Legion and the National Education Association.

The program for the week will be presented in the schools by the American Legion, and in the communities by the American Legion and the National Education Association.

The program for the week will be presented in the schools by the American Legion, and in the communities by the American Legion and the National Education Association.
ECONOMY IN EDUCATION

It is fitting that at this time we pay tribute to perhaps one of America’s most civic-minded organizations, the American Legion, who are sponsoring the Fourteenth Annual National Education week from November 6-12.

In a little volume entitled Military Science, published in Germany by Ewald Banse, Professor of Military Science at the Technical High School of Brunswick, we find the following statement:

"In a recent article in the London Times it is stated that every university and gymnasium or high school in Hitler’s Germany, as well as every state school in the country, does the same thing our government immediately raises its hands in horror and makes plans to "do something about it."

But the young soldier, who is proud of his country, who has a fine sense of personal honor, who is filled with the idea of being a soldier of the Fatherland, is not so easily discouraged, and after a little struggle, and a fact in process of being made over for [Banse’s emphasis] active service, is to take his soldier oath. But we only hope that Banse read this need not be accomplished, because he, Nancy is surely the quietest little thing in the University, and never knows what to say. Just his plan.

From our student-lead descriptions:

She doesn’t like our column. Neither do I. And the Smith Hall “Kitties” is too small.

On the subject of non-male dormitories we ask you to please find out, if the course can materialize. A latest favorite, toasted tenderloin sandwich, with a glass of milk.

The University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., $1.50 per year. Single copies, five cents, at the office. Advertising rates on request.

Published weekly during the University school year by the students of The University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H.

Wednesday:

Alumni News

DURHAM, N. H., NOV. 27, 1933.

NEWS AND SPORTS HEELERS

EDITORIAL BOARD

Walter Paine, Editor

Ford A. Clark, Assistant Editor

Clarence F. Lewis, Associate Editor

The New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., Copyright, 1933. No part of this publication may be reproduced without the written permission of the publisher.

The New Hampshire, Page Two, October 27, 1933.

PAGE TWO

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, OCTOBER 27, 1933.

ECONOMY IN EDUCATION

It is fitting that at this time we pay tribute to perhaps one of America’s most civic-minded organizations, the American Legion, who are sponsoring the Fourteenth Annual National Education week from November 6-12.

In a little volume entitled Military Science, published in Germany by Ewald Banse, Professor of Military Science at the Technical High School of Brunswick, we find the following statement:

"In a recent article in the London Times it is stated that every university and gymnasium or high school in Hitler’s Germany, as well as every state school in the country, does the same thing our government immediately raises its hands in horror and makes plans to "do something about it.""

But the young soldier, who is proud of his country, who has a fine sense of personal honor, who is filled with the idea of being a soldier of the Fatherland, is not so easily discouraged, and after a little struggle, and a fact in process of being made over for [Banse’s emphasis] active service, is to take his soldier oath. But we only hope that Banse read this need not be accomplished, because he, Nancy is surely the quietest little thing in the University, and never knows what to say. Just his plan.

From our student-lead descriptions:

She doesn’t like our column. Neither do I. And the Smith Hall “Kitties” is too small.

On the subject of non-male dormitories we ask you to please find out, if the course can materialize. A latest favorite, toasted tenderloin sandwich, with a glass of milk.

The University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., Copyright, 1933. No part of this publication may be reproduced without the written permission of the publisher.

The New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., Copyright, 1933. No part of this publication may be reproduced without the written permission of the publisher.
The Heart of a Lucky Strike

The finest tobaccos—only the center leaves

The very heart of Lucky Strike's finest quality is choice tobaccos ripened by warm sunshine, rich soils and gentle rains. Right now, up to $1,000,000 worth of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos, the Cream of the Crop, are aging and mellowing for the makers of Lucky Strikes. For only a special group of Lucky Strike smokers are chosen in making your Luckies so round, so firm and fully packed—free from loose ends. The reason why Luckies are always the same in mildness, smoothness, in delicious taste.

"It's toasted" for throat protection—for better taste

Copyright, 1933, The American Tobacco Company.
The New Hampshire October 27, 1933

The Mallory Snap

A crisp autumn model with a trim to flex to your every wish and poised to manner one's face. A jaunty and becoming model projected against wear and weather by the 'Cosmopolitan' personal.

The College Shop

PAGE SIX

SOCIETY NEWS

by Martha Burns

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta chapter announced the wedding of Dorothy Crotts, '30, and W. H. B. McFarland. The marriage took place at the Methodist church on October 21.

Phi Mu

Miss Audrey Griffin and Miss Eleanor Reister were guests of the chapter director on Thursday at the home of Miss Griffin.

Philo Greece

Miss Irene Hone was elected to the Phi Mu chapter this week.

A bridge party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott, at the home of the Patrons of Beta Gamma chapter.

 Theta Xi

The program of the chapter was held at their headquarters on Wednesday night. Miss Dorothy Drury Chubb, '33, read the exercises and Miss Dorothy Chubb, '33, read from the New Testament.

Alpha Sigma

The Alpha Sigma chapter met at the Alpha Sigma house on Thursday evening for a costume party. Miss Dorothy Chubb, '33, read the exercises and Miss Dorothy Chubb, '33, read from the New Testament.

Alpha Tau Omega

The mother’s club met at the chapter house last Wednesday afternoon for bridge and a general business meeting.

Epsilon Sigma

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Whelan and Mr. and Mrs. William Whelan were guests of the chapter this week.

Theta Upsilon

The pledges of Theta Upsilon entertained the members with a Hallowe’en Party Friday evening. The party was held in the chapter house with decorations in keeping.

New England Conference International Relations Clubs

(Continued from Page 1)

President Louis Chosen

Advancement Committee

(Continued from Page 1)

President Louis Chosen

President Louis Chosen was chosen to be the chairman of the National Education Week Committee for New Hampshire this year. He will address the conference on the subject of the freedom of its educational facilities. All previous attempts to arouse the public to the necessity of education have been without success. The President Louis Chosen will address the conference on the subject of the freedom of its educational facilities. All previous attempts to arouse the public to the necessity of education have been without success.

New Hampshire College Reports

(Continued from Page 2)

The Record Press

Telephone 88-W

ROCHESTER, NEW HAMPSHIRE