Increasing Group of Students Attracted by Future Prospects

by James G. Runch

"It is time to consider if you have set aside a budget, in your career plans, for the future, in 20 years, 30 years, 50 years, you'll wish you had." So said the father of one of the staff of the University of New Hampshire, as he surveyed his growing family. "It is time to look to the future."

The University is in the business of promoting a friendly and social climate for the students of New Hampshire. The University is not alone in this endeavor. Many other universities and colleges are taking similar steps to promote their own particular causes. It is time to look at the future, and see what the possibilities are for the future of the University.

INK DOES THINGS
We see particular advantages in the recent reform in the checking system employed at our institution.

Eliminating the Four Year Loan
A new educational system now in operation at the University of Chicago, initiated by the new president, Robert M. Hutchins, simplifies college courses into two divisions, a "general education" core, and the specialized professional course which takes up the junior and senior years. So pronounced is the simplification that it is possible for any student, given the proper initiative, the University has given students the privilege of registering for any one course. Although the new program is still in the experimental stage, it is hoped that within a few years it will be widely adopted by other universities.

IN THE EAST OF THE WINTER
by Rose Landers

(Just a Sipper, Young Man!) Runaway

Long right of leadership.

Thought of that, and that cold swift wind, blowing of your kiss, is not just any kiss, but, in a way, the kiss of the West. In the coming days, pouring with the west wind. We wonder why the wonder style is, or is it just another route?

Yowshah.

If New Hampshire doesn't have any special event and reminds the country of the way we used to be, no matter what we did. Billie Faris and Ruby Ella Fosters, in their living quarters, or at the Union, may be seen as proper public and properly protected.

EXTRA—A TENTH ON THE SATELLITE OF OUR GREAT HERALD WITH, AS FHOINTS AS ANYTHING DEVELOPED, WE PREDICT A SIMPLE, DIRECT, HELPFUL, PUBLIC LIFE.

Are you going to the Mil Art ball?

Youth.

THE ALICE HALE HOUSE

We hear that twenty fraternity pins and twenty-five dollars for the Union have been taken care of while last year's money was used for the purchase price.

HASKELL, '33. There was an interest in this department, and the officers of the club were present at the meeting. After the election, the new officers will be chosen by the alumni secretary, Barbara H. Haskell.

EXPRESS WINDERS

What's news... a book from a sophomore has prompted a request for more information on the subject. Their gift students can work and not retard the class work of the students. An increase in the student population has been noted, which is expected to continue.

OF THE BEGINNING OF THE WORLD

We are pleased to announce that Margaret E. Johnson, a senior, has been selected to represent the University of New Hampshire in the national physics competition. She has been working under the guidance of Dr. John E. Johnson, the physics professor.

Our Rifle Team

With the arrival of the winter season, the rifle team entered the competition in the regional championship. The team has been practicing regularly, and is expected to perform well in the upcoming matches.

A TIP FOR STUDENTS

Students who are able to review complete exams are much better prepared for the next exam. This is because the student's understanding is solidified by recalling the material, which is quickly secured in 12 long sentences. Fast and useful notes are never written by running notes verbatim. Complete course notes are the best.
