Orchestra Committee is Considering Several Popular Bands

Governor and Mrs. H. Styles Bridges will be the chaperons of the Senior Commencement ball which will be held Friday, June 14, according to Cosmo Ansara, Chairman of the Commencement Ball committee.

The invitation was extended to the governor in a personal interview at the State house in Concord last Tuesday. Governor Bridges accepted the invitation and stated that unless something very important happened in the meantime that would force him to be absent, he would surely be present. He also expressed his pleasure at receiving the invitation and stated that he was very interested in the affairs of the University. Governor Bridges will be the first chief executive to chaperon a formal occasion at the University in five years.

The committee has not as yet de-

Delegate Selected for Junior Month

Helen Henderson Will Do Social Work in Boston Representing U. N. H.

Helen Henderson has been chosen to represent New Hampshire University in the second New England Junior month which will be held in Boston in July.

In Junior Month, six New England colleges send delegates who are interested in social work as a profession to live in Peabody settlement house and observe the work in social agencies. The first Junior Month was held last year with Elinor Foss, '35, representing the University. Miss Henderson was selected by a committee composed of Miss Woodruff, dean of women; Mrs. Ekdahl, assistant professor of education; Mr. Coulter, head of the sociology department; and Ruth Witham, president of Women's Student government.

Miss Henderson, '36, daughter of the registrar of the University, is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, and has recently been elected to serve as president of Women's Student government.

MAY DAY FESTIVAL PREPARATIONS BEGIN

The women's gymnasium can be heard ringing with the music of old-time jigs at almost any time of day as the May Day festival swings into action. Several groups of girls are working on the dances for the different episodes and are being trained by the women's physical education department.

Mrs. Marjorie Hawkes who has consented to be chairman of the committee on properties, is cooperating with Mrs. Charles O. Dawson, dancing instructor and well-known on campus for her dancing ability, in training the children of Durham for their parts in the dancing scenes. The children who will take the parts of crown bearers and garland bearers are Betty Anne Blewett, Barbara Buschmeyer, Elsa Mae Funkhouser, Alice Hauslein, Anne Jordan, Mary Lou Jordan, Mary Elizabeth Moore, Thea Jane Nulsen, Virginia Rand, and Mary Helen Rasmussen. Puritan children will be represented by Myrna Helen Buschmeyer, Lucy Ellen Hauslein, Marion Johnson, and Harriette Wentworth.

Student Council to Postpone Elections

Committee to Present Plan of Point System for Extra Work

The Student council, voting at a meeting held last Monday night, chose to postpone elections to the council for an indefinite length of time. At present, the personnel of this group feel that some steps should be taken to strengthen the Council as well as other organizations with a view to profiting by the experience of the past year.

Next Monday night a committee composed of William Corcoran, Glen Stewart, and James Burch will present a plan for a point system of regulation of undergraduate activities by which it is hoped to eliminate the prevailing inefficiency of these organizations. At the same time plans for a changed Council in accord with a point system of this kind will be made.

The point system is a plan of rating all activity positions and of limiting the amount of extra-curricular work allowed a single individual. Such a system was in effect at the University but was allowed to lapse some time in the past.

The Council voted its approval, with reservations, to the constitution of the newly organized non-fraternity group.

W. BAKER TO START WORK IN NEW JERSEY

At the meeting the purpose of the group was drawn up and is as follows: "An attempt to organize the non-fraternity men so as to procure for them some of the advantages that the fraternity men have in intramural sports and some of the social activities." The name of the club was decided upon to be the "Artureans" replacing the name "Barbarians" which was disapproved by the administration.

The last meeting was attended by thirty-five students; the next meeting will be held on April 30 in the Trophy room. A speaker has been invited to attend at this time.

Proposed Plan Will Reduce the Present Tax by More Than 50%

The second step in the progress of the blanket tax was taken Wednesday when Kenneth Norris, chairman of the Student council Blanket Tax committee, mailed the report of the committee to President Lewis for presentation to the Board of Trustees.

The organizations which will be included under the tax are THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, the Granite, Men's Student council, and the Women's Student government. It was decided that these organizations were the ones most worthy of receiving the benefits of the tax, and that more interest and loyalty would be shown to these organizations by the students.

Committee to Collect Taxes

At present the taxes which a person must pay amount to $10.50 a year, while under the budget plan this would be reduced to $4.25. A committee of three Student council members and three faculty members will be authorized to collect the tax and no one may register in the University Blanket Tax Plan

POETESS PRAISED BY REVIEW IN MAGAZINE

Miss Shirley Barker, poetess and member of the class of '34, received a tribute to her poetic talents in the April Atlantic Monthly. From a review of Paul Engle's American Song the following excerpt is taken: "He (Paul Engle) would do well to study one of his successors in the series, a young woman named Shirley Barker, whose Dark Hills Under shows all the unpretentiousness, the maturity of perception, and the careful attention to method which Mr. Engle as yet lacks."

until the tax has been paid. The only exceptions will be graduate students, special students, and two-year agricultural students. The committee received the help of Professor Johnson and Mr. Tirrell in planning the collection and use of money.

Durham, New Hampshire
April 17, 1935

President Edward M. Lewis
University of New Hampshire
Durham, New Hampshire

Dear Sir:

In receipt to your request for a full report of the blanket tax committee of the Student Council, I am going to write in the foregoing paragraphs the full intent and purpose of this committee, and also the complete outline of the blanket tax as we (the committee) intend to have it carried out.

For some years now there has been a keen desire of many students on campus, especially those connected with organizations, to have some system, preferably a blanket tax as is in use on other campuses, for the collection of dues and fees necessary for the maintenance and success of the respective organizations. Under the present conditions as they stand today, it is exceedingly difficult for the treasurers of various organizations to collect enough money to adequately fulfill its barest necessities. It is impossible to collect fees from all students on the campus, and so consequently the small number that do pay these said fees are taxed exorbitant rates. Therefore, it is the intent of the blanket tax committee to set up some system of collection of fees that will reduce to a minimum the fees to be paid, and also pledge and insure the complete support of every registered student on campus with the exception of graduate students, special students, and two-year agricultural students.

After careful consideration of the eligibility of the organizations that might be included under this tax, it was finally decided by the committee that THE NEW HAMPSHIRE and the Granite, Men's Student council, Women's Student government, and the respective classes fall under the jurisdiction of this tax. The committee feels that these organizations are most worthy of the support of this tax, and in turn we feel it necessary that every New Hampshire man and woman should be willing to support, or compelled to support, these, their own organizations that at present are getting support from a very small minority of students.

At present, THE NEW HAMPSHIRE has an average weekly cost of $93.90, or $3,098.70 per year. As you can readily see, these costs are quite high and in order to operate under these present conditions with a circulation of approximately only four hundred (400) copies amongst the student body, the subscription price of this paper is $1.50 per year. Under the blanket tax, which would insure a cir-

Comment and Review

by John Starie

Fontamara: by I. Silone

What happens when the age-old traditions of Italian peasant culture come in contact with the Fascist government are plainly seen in this novel. It is the story of the gradual suppression of a small mountain village, dependent on the little available farm land for its livelihood. How the water is drained away by command of the state, how the peasants are cheated at every turn by clever officials, how their women are maltreated by the Black Shirts, and how those who protest against it all are tortured in prison, are realistically told in this novel.

The book gains most of its power through having the story related by certain members of the village. Their peasant language, their peasant outlook are both demonstrated more clearly in this way. The author, who is of peasant stock himself, never once loses the character of these men; never once does he openly propagandize. The reality of the story becomes much more striking under such a method. If one may use a stage term, it is largely dramatic irony, for while the reader understands perfectly what the villagers are fighting against, the peasants are bewildered; they see no way out, and the book ends on the plaintive note of "What to do? What to do?"

The book like many others of the present day is not for those with weak stomachs or faint hearts. Its scenes of torture and rape are realistically told in peasant language. Yet it is a powerful piece of writing, bearing within it the clash of two great social systems. There is something of elemental life in it, and those who have stood bewildered by circumstances that they could not understand will feel more strongly the peasant cry of "What to do? What to do?"

culuation throughout the student body of about fourteen hundred (1400) copies each week, it will be possible to lower the subscription price to $.75 per year. This means a reduction in price of $.75 or just half of what it now costs to subscribe to the paper.

The Granite, whose main function is to supply the students of New Hampshire University with some tangible expression of his or her life on campus; something that in after years will bring back visibly the memories, associations, and the events of four years spent in the University, has expenditures this academic year of closely on to $3,000. In order to raise this amount so as to insure the publication of this book, it is necessary at present to charge a subscription fee of $4.50 per copy. This may be considered very reasonable when you stop to think that it costs $7.50 to publish a single copy. However, under the blanket tax, which will increase the circulation from around three hundred and fifty (350) to fourteen hundred (1400), the subscription fee will be reduced to $2.50. In other words, it will cost almost half as much as it now costs to subscribe. Not only will this be a great saving to the students in general, but it will be a big asset to the organization, because it will know just how much money it will have on hand, and in that way can make out a budget that it can follow throughout the year. The Editor of this year's Granite stated, "Raising funds every year to publish the Granite is in one way one long continuous nightmare until the book has been paid for completely. Every year it is a matter of guessing what will be the actual income because the matter of buying the Granite is voluntary and depends upon the student's desire to buy the year book and a combination of good salesmanship."

The Men's Student council and the Women's Student government have a combined tax at present of $1.50. This assessment takes care of all the functions of the organizations, and allows for partial support of the expenses of sending the band on trips. At present, however, only a very few pay this tax, and under the blanket tax, which would necessitate some fourteen hundred (1400) students paying this tax, the assessment would be reduced to $.50 per year, per student. As you can readily see, this is a reduction of over half the present rate.

The class dues at present are three dollars ($3.00) a year per person. The reason for this outlandish assessment is because only a very small number pay this assessment until their very last year. Like every other organization, the class has to have money to order to be active and function. However, under the blanket tax the assessment is to be reduced from $3.00 a year per person to $.50 a year per person. This is a reduction of nearly 500%.

In brief and in outline form, this will be the comparative differences in assessments under the present system and under the blanket tax:

	Present Blanket System Tax
THE NEW HAMPSHIRE.....	$1.50.....	$.75
The Granite.....	4.50.....	2.50
Student Governments.....	1.50.....	.50
Class Dues .....	3.00.....	.50
Total .....	$10.50.....	$4.25

The committee with the able assistance of Professor Johnson and Mr. Tirrell have drawn up a plan which with the moral support of the administration seems a satisfactory way for the collection of this blanket tax at registration time.

A committee of three members of the Student council and three members of the faculty, including the treasurer of the Student council and the faculty treasurer of Student organizations, will have full authority to collect this money for the benefit of the organizations coming under the tax.

This general assessment on the students will be payable in three installments with each respective payment falling due on registration day of each term. One dollar and a half will be payable at the beginning of fall term and winter term, and $1.25 will be payable at the beginning of spring term.

All money collected under this tax on the three registration days will be immediately turned over to the faculty treasurer of Student organizations, and in turn distributed to the treasuries of the respective organizations to be used at the discretion of the organization for the benefit of the carrying out of their various functions.

However, it is felt that in order to insure the payment of this assessment by all the students with the exception of graduate students, special students, and two-year agricultural students that it will be necessary to have some force behind the blanket

Recent Events

The Allegiance Movement—

Both Houses of the Michigan State Legislature passed a bill requiring public school teachers to take an oath of allegiance to the U. S. Constitution, early this week. The bill awaits only the formality of the Governor's signature to become effective. Authoritative sources believed that this would be procured judging from the Governor's stand in regard to the Student Anti-War Strike of last week. He then made the statement that any student refusing to fight in a war in which the United States participated should be barred from the State institutions.

The "oath bill" in Massachusetts which requires both teachers and students to pledge allegiance at least once every two weeks, Boston papers believe, will become a law in spite of the bitter protests of the Massachusetts educators.

A Job After College?—

John W. Studebaker, United States Commissioner of Education, after a recent nation-wide survey stated that "millions of young people are out of school and out of work." Proportionately, he found that the number of young people unemployed is greater than any other age group, and that in Massachusetts half of those between the ages of 16 and 24 have no work. He stated, "More than 12,000,000 young people have reached the age of employability since October 1929 and a very large percentage of these young people have not been able to take their places as producing and contributing citizens in our society." He advocates definite Government relief for these youth.

Mull This Over—

The World Telegram, so-called Scripps-Howard newspaper recently made the following statement. "The time has come for the President to crack down. The people need and want an aggressive personal leadership. Our people will not run in group circles indefinitely. We have respected the President's patience and his tolerance * * * We have understood the necessity for some form of political strategy. But we believe it is time has arrived to lay aside the flyswatter and use the club." It continued that it was time to "turn the heat on dangerous demagogues advocating revolution" and mentioned Huey Long and Father Coughlin. Hearst has apparently added to his newspaper alliance in his drive to deprive the American people of all personal and political freedom, and to establish dictatorial power.

Respectfully yours,

Chairman of Blanket Tax Committee

Lambda Chi Alpha Wins Track Meet

Six First Places Give Team Easy Victory—A. T. O. Second

Crashing through with first places in both hurdles races, the quarter, half, mile, and two-mile runs, and taking several second and third places, the Lambda Chi Alpha track team won the intramural championship of the University, although there are three events, the high jump, pole vault, and javelin throw yet to be contested.

George "Huck" Quinn was the individual star of the meet, taking first places in the quarter mile and half mile runs in addition to a second in the two-twenty. Henson, victor in both dashes, Evans, winner in both hurdles, and Morse, winner in the mile and second in the half, were other individual stars.

Lambda Chi scored 42 points, A. T. O. was second with 26, while three houses, Phi Delta Upsilon, Alpha Gamma Rho, and Theta Upsilon Omega are tied for third. The remaining events will be held this afternoon or Monday.

The first event of the meet was the 120-yard high hurdles which was won by G. Evans. The time was 16 minutes 2 seconds.

The two feature events of the afternoon were the mile and 440-yard runs. Dave Morse, of Lambda Chi Alpha, showing great form, turned in the fast time of 4 minutes 45.2 seconds, to win the mile from Irving of A. T. O., who was second and Chertok of Phi Alpha who took third. Morse passed Irving on the last turn and picked up ground enough on the last stretch to beat Irving to the tape by ten yards.

In the quarter mile Quinn of Lambda Chi Alpha, after a bad start, passed the entire field on the back stretch. He won the race in the remarkably fast time of 52 seconds.

In the 100-yard dash, R. Henson, of Alpha Gamma Rho, won easily over Whitcomb of A. T. O., Loring of Phi Mu Delta and Robbins of Phi Delta Upsilon taking second and third places.

Hart of A. T. O. won the broad jump with the distance of 20 feet 3/4 inches, Tryon of Phi Delta Upsilon taking second place, Link of S. A. E. third, and Robbins of Phi Delta Upsilon fourth.

The shot put was won by Carrier of Phi Mu Delta with a heave of 44 feet 7 inches, Dustin of Phi Delta Upsilon took second, Rogers of Al-

WOMEN'S SPORTS

In the first round of the bowling tournament, Alpha Chi Omega defeated Alpha Xi Delta, Theta Upsilon defeated Chi Omega, and Phi Mu defeated Kappa Delta this week. The semi-finals will be held next week.

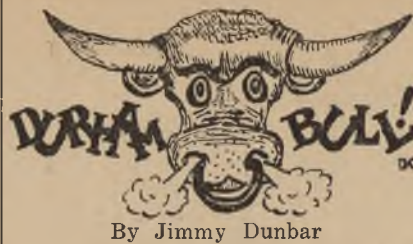

The ping pong tournament has also been started, with one girl from each sorority in each of the four groups. The winners of these groups will meet in the semi-final and final matches.

Phi Gamma Rho third, and Manning of Theta Chi fourth.

John Burnett, A. T. O., freshman, won the hammer throw with a toss of 138 feet. Ktistes of Phi Mu Delta was second, Manning of Theta Chi, third, and Zais, Phi Alpha, fourth.

Wittaala of T. U. O. won the discus with a heave of 109 feet. Wilson of Lambda Chi was second.

A recent publication issued by the New Hampshire Agricultural Extension Station describes and illustrates how power may be substituted for hand labor in the running of grindstones for farm work. Much research and study has gone into the preparation of the booklet which deals with the operation of three types of stones—chain, belt, and gear driven.

With the intramural sports program running into the final lap of this year's competition, we note, with a bit of dismay, that several of the fraternities on this campus have not entered teams in several events during the year. Many other houses have started teams, opened the schedule, and then failed to have the teams appear for the last few meetings.

We also have noticed, through rumors and otherwise, that the intramural division of the Athletic Department are planning progressive changes and new developments, which will increase the benefits of intramural athletics to the fraternities and to the University as a whole.

With competition very close in the total scoring, with three or four fine trophies yet to be awarded, it is to be regretted that many of these fraternities have not taken more interest in the program.

According to members of the athletic department, the work of the intramural representative is largely responsible for the success or failure of the fraternity. Therefore it becomes increasingly necessary for the fraternities to choose interested and capable men to handle their affairs, and for the men chosen to carry out their obligations more fully.

The University spends a fairly large amount of money annually on intramural sports, and each fraternity can benefit equally from this expense. The gymnasium, university fields, and equipment are placed at the convenience of the fraternities, sometimes to the loss of varsity teams. It would show a better sense of appreciation if every house took advantage of the opportunities offered.

We realize that the delinquent groups may be spending their time to more advantage, but we feel that physical training and exercise, even to the extent offered by intramural competition, is a necessary part of every college man's career. And those fraternities are overlooking one of the strongest points tending toward unity within the chapter that the University offers. Competition and team work will serve to unite men more quickly than almost any other deed, unless it is fighting side by side. We offer you a choice.

The spirit of the house who started out last fall with all the interest imaginable, only to falter as their chances for the big trophy disappear, is surely to be lamented. In addition to the lack of fortitude shown, it has a disastrous effect on the schedules which more conscientious houses are endeavouring to follow.

Next year an interfraternity group will be admitted to the intramural group. With this added competition, it will be more necessary than ever before for those fraternities who take pride in their standing on campus to show more interest and faith in the intramural sports.

We commend those losers who "stuck it out," and hope that the quitters will mend their ways.

The Flying Yankee, new Boston and Maine Railroad and Maine Central Railroad streamlined train, known in railroad circles as "the articulated Rail Motor Car No. 6000" has been passing through Durham recently on the first few trips of its regular schedule from Portland to Boston. It passes through Durham three times daily.

Swasey Holds Long Batting Drill Mon.

Coach Has Chosen Collins, Weir and Churchill for Pitchers

With the opening game of the season scheduled for one week from tomorrow, Coach Henry Swasey will probably cut his varsity baseball squad down to eighteen or nineteen men after the practice session to be held in Dover this afternoon.

Swasey is practically decided upon the majority of the men whom he will retain, although he is still a bit unsettled on his spare pitchers and one outfielder. He will keep six pitchers, three catchers, six infielders, and four or five outfielders.

On Monday the team had its first real outdoor workout of the season at Central Park in Dover, and Coach Swasey held a long batting drill.

The third base problem is not yet settled, and Charlie Joslin, Bus Grocott, and "Dynamite" Landry are still battling for the post. Coach Swasey has practically decided to start the season with Arnie Rogean on first. His tremendous reach helps out around the bag, while his hitting to date has earned him a starting assignment. Walker and Chase, veterans, will start at short and second respectively.

Toll has cinched his left field post, temporarily, at least, while Herb Currier and Mirey seem slated to fill the other garden jobs.

The fast ball pitching of Leo Collins has sewed up his position as one of Swasey's starting twirlers, along with the veterans, Weir and Churchill. The latter, with a fine assortment of curves and a fast ball with a real hop on it, will probably be one of Swasey's most dependable workers. Mose Saliba, slowly rounding into form, will be of more use later on, when warm weather rolls around.

The team will work out daily in Dover next week, and will open with Worcester Tech next Saturday.

cided on the orchestra for the ball, but the committee has been busy in trying to obtain one of the best bands in the country. On April 9, the committee traveled to Portland and listened to Eddie Duchin and his orchestra. This week they will listen to the Dorsay Brothers at Nutting's in Waltham, and in two weeks, will hear Glen Gray and his Casa Loma orchestra, who are also playing at Nutting's.

"As an orchestra of this calibre will cost a great deal of money, it is up to every senior who has not already paid his class dues, to do so at once to assure the financial success of the Ball," said Mr. Ansara this week.

Members of the Ball Committee are: Cosmo Ansara, chairman, Charles Grocott, Arthur Toll, Ruth Towle, and Marjorie Martel.

N. E. Schools Accept Track Invitations

23rd Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet Held May 4

Invitations for the Twenty-third Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet at the University of New Hampshire here May 4 have been accepted by 47 New England secondary and preparatory schools. The University varsity track team will meet Northeastern University in a dual contest after the schoolboy meet.

The coming Interscholastic track meet marks the second year of the reclassification of entering schools into three distinct classes, preparatory, in-state and out-of-state high schools. Since the inauguration of the annual meet in 1912 there have been two reclassifications. From 1912-1917 the entries were limited to two classes, in-state and out-of-state high schools. From 1928-1933 the Athletic Department sponsors of the annual affair, admitted preparatory schools within and out of the state making four classes.

With the exception of the victory of Berlin High school in 1928, Manchester Central High has won six consecutive victories in the state high school class. Preparatory school competition within the state has resulted in victories for Tilton school in four of the six meets. Clark school and New Hampton have one victory each to their credit. Hebron academy of Hebron, Maine, has led the out-of-state preparatory schools since 1928 with four victories. When all prep schools were classified last year in one class, St. John's of Danvers, Mass., emerged the victors.

Competitors are given one meal Saturday noon and lodging accommodations by the University with the schools providing transportation and all other necessary meals.

Entries for the annual track meet to date include: Franklin; Worcester Commerce, Mass.; Haverhill, Mass.; Stevens High, Claremont; Boston College High; Austin Cate, Center Strafford; Laconia; Pittsfield, Mass.; St. John's Prep, Danvers, Mass.; Bellows Falls, Vt.; Thornton academy, Saco, Me.; Weymouth, Mass.; Dover; Mamaroneck, N. Bothered by students who continually requested a certain record to be played, David Burne, University of Arkansas (Fayetteville), announcer at station KUOA, Fayetteville, ended it all by smashing the record over the mike. The piece was "I Need Lovin."

It's Joe E. Brown, D.M. now. Whittier College (Whittier, Calif.) recently conferred on him the degree. It means "Doctor of Mirth."

REVENGEFUL PATIENT AT LARGE ON CAMPUS

There was quiet in the immaculate rooms of the Hood House at the hour of midnight. A nurse sat silently reading THE NEW HAMPSHIRE at the foot of the bed, wherein lay a patient, heavily bandaged, and barely breathing.

The doctor tiptoed softly into the room, bent down over the patient, turned to the nurse, and solemnly shook his head. "Has he moved yet?" There was deep anxiety in his tired voice.

The nurse turned to him mourn-

Week-End Weather

Friday, April 19, 8 a. m.

Pressure remains much below normal in Durham while skies are overcast and conditions unsettled in most of the rest of the country. Weak storm centers appeared yesterday over Texas and over northwestern Canada. Although these storms will probably progress eastward more slowly than usual, either or both of them following their usual course may bring rain to New England before the week-end is over. There are at present then no indications of sustained fair and warmer weather.

Friday: Mostly cloudy and warmer. Light shifting wind.

Saturday: Partly cloudy probably with some rain before night.

Sunday: Probably continued cloudy and somewhat colder.

fully. "No, he hasn't stirred. It's nearly a week now." She turned to the second page and hid her face behind her hand as she read "East of the Water Tower."

"I'm afraid there's not much we can do for him. The bullet passed clean through him."

Suppressing a titter as she finished the "Tower," the nurse blushed, passed disinterestedly over the sports page, and turned to the last sheet.

"Why, here's another story by the 'Cub Reporter'—There was an exclamation of horror from the bed. Suddenly the bandaged figure staggered to his feet, tottered from the bed, and snatched the paper from the hands of the frightened nurse. He read quietly for a moment or two, then shouted, "Forgery, blank forgery!" Shaking off the restraining hand of the doctor, he dove through the window, and disappeared in the direction of Ballard Hall.

Chief Bourgoin announced late tonight that if anyone should be frightened by the sight of a wild white figure, he should be brave, for it is only the "Cub Reporter," seeking for his rightful revenge.

The local chapter of Theta Upsilon gave a tea for the women members of the faculty last Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 P. M. Ruth Witham was in charge of the tea. Mrs. George G. McGregor poured, and Dean Ruth J. Woodruff and several ladies from out of town were among the 30 people who were present.

Christian Work Holds Discussion of Plans

Members of the new cabinet of the Student Movement for Christian Work went to a farm in Nottingham last week-end to discuss plans for the coming year.

The discussion was designed to work out points of emphasis in the program which were considered important in the light of the present campus and world situation. Stress was laid on the importance of developing a more informal and active membership.

GORMAN COMES THROUGH

For the first time in the history of Durham, "Jim" Gorman, of Gorman, Gorman, and Mrs. Gorman, came through for the boys and cracked wise, Says McGuirk, veteran reader of the Boston Record, "Ten minutes after I was born I was perusing the news of the Boston Record." Says Gorman, from behind a bar of Fairy soap, "I didn't know that they got the Record in Turkey."
