Council Committees Elected at Meeting Held Last Monday

Constitutions for Classes Will Be Drawn Up by the Council

Ken Norris was elected secretary of the Student Council, and Homer Verville was elected treasurer as the council meets for the first time under its new organization.

Constitutions for all classes to go into effect next year will be drawn up by the council, it was decided. It was also decided that letters will be sent to all organizations on campus asking them for a report on their financial planning and plans for the coming year.

An amendment was made to the constitution of the council that meeting will be held each Monday evening in the council office. Every member having three unexcused absences will be automatically dropped from membership.

Council committees for the coming year are as follows: at the Monday meeting.

Committees on Freshman Rules: Alfred Montrose, chairman; George Stenzel, and Homer Verville.

Social Committee: Paul Traver, chairman; William Thompson, and Alvin Bissel.

Executive Committee: Dave Webster, chairman; James Chase, George Stenzel, and Ken Norris.

Committee on Athletics: Ken Norris, chairman; Otto Hess, William Conover, and George Stenzel.

Committee on Ceremonies: Robert Goodman, chairman; William Weir, Homer Verville, and Alfred Montrose.

Charles S. Joslin Elected A. A. Prexy

Ranckynski, Corbett, and Chase Also Elected to Positions

Charles S. Joslin, '26, was elected president of the Athletic Association for the year 1935-36 at the annual elections held recently, it was announced.

Other officers elected were: Jerry Chase, '36, vice-president; Betty Corbett, '35, secretary; and Leon Ranckynski, '36, student representative to the executive committee. Charles Lewis P. Jones and Charles W. Ellett were elected faculty representatives to the executive committee.

Joslin, president of the junior class, is a member of Lambda Chi, Alpha fraternity, Scabbard and Blade, and is a Senior Skulls pledge. He has won letters in football and basketball.

Corbett, a member of Theta Chi, Blue Key, Outing Club Blue Circle, and Scabbard and Blade, is a letterman in basketball and baseball sports.

Arcturians Will Meet With Non-Sorority Group

The Arcturians will hold a joint meeting with a group of non-sorority girls this evening in the evening class room to discuss the possibilities of forming a non-sorority group for girls.

Plans for another social will also be discussed. Professor C. H. Lundholt, coach of freshman athlets, is scheduled to speak about his experience in the University Employment Bureau.

DARTMOUTH FRATS UNITE TO FORM LOCAL

Voluntarily surrendering their national charters, two Dartmouth fraternities, Alpha Chi Phi and Kappa Sigma, voted to combine and create a new local fraternity last Monday to be known as Gamma Delta Chi.

No specific reasons were given for the merger at the time of the announcement, but it was believed that the surrender of the charters came about as a result of the authors considering the national fees, thus reducing the cost of fraternity dues for each member.

More than $20,000 is already available to go toward a new fraternity house, and a drive for additional funds will be started soon. The new house will have an alumni of 500 members and an undergraduate group of more than 50.

When the merger was announced, it was decided that the presidents of the two fraternities would meet with the national fraternity and discuss the merger. It was hoped that all members of the Gamma Delta Chi, and members of the other fraternities would attend the meeting and discuss the proposed charter.

New Hampshire Nine Ties Dartmouth 8 to 8 in Twelve Innings

Varsity Outplays Indians Throughout Entire Game

Wednesday afternoon New Hampshire College's baseball club held Dartmouth College, the leaders of the Eastern Intercollegiate league to an 8-8 tie at Hanover.

The game lasted twelve innings and then was called off because of darkness. Lefty Bill Weir was the hero of the game as nothing happened at the plate to prevent his going on.

Hampshire outplayed the "Indians" in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of the "Indians" and in every respect collecting fifteen hits and keeping the Dartmouth boys to a 3-for-26 campaign, but it was the "breaks" that decided the game. One of the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the Hampshire boys scored two runs each.
A short time ago this paper came in to me as a relatively important portion of its editorial policy were prematurely expressed to the public. At that time I wrote to the students in Casque and Casket that True New Hampshire, as it is called, is often accused of being too much interested in its two Dartmouth fraternities and has been placed in the same category as the Masons and the Phi.

As proof that the predictions of the future were not mere fragments of the imagination, one has only to point to the newsworthy recent and reprinted in this paper regarding the reclassification of the President of the Student Body. Both of these changes are due to the strong national fraternities, and the precedent set by them will probably be followed by all the other fraternity houses.

Regardless of just such action, True New Hampshire has planned to suggest in the editorial columns consideration of similar action taken to Casque and Casket. It would seem that this consideration warrants study by our fraternity system.

There is probably some foundation for the statement that this year was overweighted on the side of the political and economic questions, and that the students were touched upon in the editorial that was written.

The suggestion that students take a more active part in the planning of the programs of the College does not seem to be a difficult one. As long as the students are interested in the fraternity and the University, it is possible that they would be interested in these programs. The students of the University of New Hampshire are probably more interested in the fraternity than is the case as they are considered.

However, it appears to be a difficult one for the students and the faculty to consider these things. It would seem that these programs should be attended by the students, and to the extent that they are attended, these programs should be considered by them.

The suggestion that students take a more active part in the planning of the programs of the College does not seem to be a difficult one. As long as the students are interested in the fraternity and the University, it is possible that they would be interested in these programs. The students of the University of New Hampshire are probably more interested in the fraternity than is the case as they are considered.

However, it appears to be a difficult one for the students and the faculty to consider these things. It would seem that these programs should be attended by the students, and to the extent that they are attended, these programs should be considered by them.

The suggestion that students take a more active part in the planning of the programs of the College does not seem to be a difficult one. As long as the students are interested in the fraternity and the University, it is possible that they would be interested in these programs. The students of the University of New Hampshire are probably more interested in the fraternity than is the case as they are considered.

However, it appears to be a difficult one for the students and the faculty to consider these things. It would seem that these programs should be attended by the students, and to the extent that they are attended, these programs should be considered by them.
on. Consequently the team has been practicing at Central Park in Dover where they have had to share the field with Dover lacrosse teams. Much time that would ordinarily be used for practice has been lost traveling to and from Dover. Topping these difficulties is the fact that Central Park is far from being a good baseball field. What the possibilities of the team are without the present difficulties can be easily estimated, especially after the fine performance that the team turned in at Dartmouth. The summary:

NEW HAMPSHIRE THIS SATURDAY MET IN A TWELVE-INCH BOWLING TOURNAMENT IN WHICH DURHAM BOWLED HIS FACE IN SHAME! In Tuesday's battle the Bull Runners were defeated 31 runs to 14 against Dartmouth were all new and now the game is being played on the latest upsets of this season. Dart­mouth has the topmost team in this season while previous to this game New Hampshire was considered on­ly to be as strong as the regular varsity team can see for themselves. New Hampshire has tied the leading team in the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League. Not even considering the difficulties under which the varsity baseball team is working this season no amount of praise is suf­ficient for this remarkable accomplish­ment. We take our base in Captain Harry Dewey and his team's War against his game according to the score was a tie, it is an achievement of nothing less than a great triumph. This game will be considered one of the most outstanding games of the season in eastern intercollegiate baseball.

The freshman team has had a flutter about how New Hampshire runners in dual meets to win the championship. The event is the 440 leap frog. The varsity team which is going to Portland for the Smith College Outing Club, once for the meet with Springfield College second time trial. The varsity team consists of a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The candidate who meets the requirements of the four-year program is awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree.

The touch football league is coming along in good shape under the able guidance of assistant directors Ed Rogers and Jerry Quendon. The group set out from Durham last Monday night in honor of the ten recent initiates. Dorothy Buckley, '27, as president of the sorority, welcomed the new mem­bers. Winifred Cragin, '30, and Ruth Breckenridge, '27, spoke in behalf of the former initiates, Margaret Fyler, '26, Marjorie Cure, '27, and Esther Norris, '30, in behalf of the new initiates, and Irene Whitcher, '27, in behalf of the pledges. The freshman team has had a flutter about how New Hampshire runners in dual meets to win the championship. The varsity team which is going to Portland for the Smith College Outing Club, once for the meet with Springfield College second time trial. The varsity team consists of a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The candidate who meets the requirements of the four-year program is awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree.

The touch football league is coming along in good shape under the able guidance of assistant directors Ed Rogers and Jerry Quendon. The group set out from Durham last Monday night in honor of the ten recent initiates. Dorothy Buckley, '27, as president of the sorority, welcomed the new mem­bers. Winifred Cragin, '30, and Ruth Breckenridge, '27, spoke in behalf of the former initiates, Margaret Fyler, '26, Marjorie Cure, '27, and Esther Norris, '30, in behalf of the new initiates, and Irene Whitcher, '27, in behalf of the pledges. The freshman team has had a flutter about how New Hampshire runners in dual meets to win the championship. The varsity team which is going to Portland for the Smith College Outing Club, once for the meet with Springfield College second time trial. The varsity team consists of a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The candidate who meets the requirements of the four-year program is awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree.
Mothers' Day Program
(Continued from Page 1)

Episode I
Indian life with its intricately woven baskets and blankets will be represented as the first period of American life, and its methods of play will be shown.

Puritans Children: Myra Rocheburne, Mary Ellen Hanall, Ellen Halseide, Marion Johnson, and Harriet Wentworth.

Chey: Myril Brooks and Flora Goanburn.

Episode II
The Colonial era of 1760 with its powdered wigs and cuflfis will next be represented.

Colonists: Eleanor Allen, Helen Chitty, Isabelle Davison, Josephine McLeod, Nancy Powers, Millburn Deene, Susan Stevens, and Dorothy West.

The Husky Era period in 1800 will be added by a feature, William Webster, and a Miss O. Y. Henderson.

Characters: Janet Brown, Anne Brown, James Leish, Louis Colvin, Jane Flanders, Phyllis Gale, Gertrude Hayles, Carol Howser, Priscilla Warren, Barbara Hanus, and Dorothy Wentworth.

Mothers' Day Program

Episode IV
The Gay Nineties period will be shown with the dancers in the square dances, and its interesting methods of play will be represented.

Production Staff
Miss Margaret R. Hoban is pageant director and head of the production staff. The other members and their part in the production are: George M. Laidlow, Episodes I and IV; Caroline M. Streeter, Episodes IV; Margaret Colbert, Episodes III and IV; Dr. Alfred E. Richards, director of Singing school; Charles Dawson, director of children's dance; and major students in Physical Education, Episode VII.

On the costume committee are Miss Mary Brown as chairman of costume design, and Mrs. Baby Simpkins as chairman of costume construction. Sub-committees will be formed under the supervision of special patrons, and a crop reserve large enough to prevent shortages, according to the Adjustment Administration.

The plan provides for storing un-possessed crops on the farms the surplus of which will be sold at $5.95 and $6.95.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, MAY 24, 1935.

Senior Cap and Gown orders must be in by May 25th.

Paine Returns from Expedition to Pole

Durham Man Spent Two Years With Admiral Byrd's Party

After two years spent with the Byrd expedition in the frozen wastes of Little America, Stewart Paine, a son of Durham, returned to his home here Wednesday.

Stewart Paine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Paine of Durham, returned here Wednesday after siding in the two years of scientific research accomplished by the Byrd expedition in the northern polar regions. He is now living at his home on Durham Point where he expects to spend the next two weeks.

While at the pole he cared for the many sled dogs and acted as navigator for the party. He was a member of a group which succeeded in reaching a point farther south than any earlier expeditions.

Mr. Paine, formerly a student at the University where he played a prominent part in football and basketball, recently completed his two years of scientific research accomplished by the Byrd expedition in the northern polar regions.

In the summer of 1933, Mr. Paine went to Little America to join the Byrd expedition, under the leadership of Admiral Byrd.

During his two years with the expedition, Mr. Paine worked with the dogs, setting up camp, and acting as navigator for the party.

Prior to joining the expedition, Mr. Paine had been a student at the University, where he played football and basketball.

In his two years with the expedition, Mr. Paine worked with the dogs, setting up camp, and acting as navigator for the party.

Mr. Paine is now living at his home on Durham Point, where he expects to spend the next two weeks.