

Council Committees Elected at Meeting Held Last Monday

Constitutions for Classes Will be Drawn Up by the Council

Ken Norris was elected secretary of the Student Council, and Homer Verville was elected treasurer as the council met Monday evening in its first meeting under its new organization plan.

Constitutions for all classes to go into effect next year will be drawn up by the council, it was decided. It was also decided that letters will be sent to all organizations on campus asking them for a report on their financial standing and plans for the coming year.

An amendment was made to the constitution of the council that a meeting will be held each Monday evening at ten o'clock. Every member having three unexcused absences will be automatically dropped from membership.

Council committees for the coming year selected at the Monday meeting are:

Committee on Freshman Rules: Alfred Montrone, chairman; George Stenzel, and Homer Verville.

Social Committee: Paul Traver, chairman; William Thompson, and Otto Hemm.

Executive Committee: Dave Webster, chairman; William Weir, Homer Verville, and Ken Norris.

Blanket Tax Committee: Ken Norris, chairman; Otto Hemm, William Corcoran, and George Stenzel.

Committee on Class Constitutions: Robert Goodman, chairman; William Weir, David Webster, Homer Verville and Alfred Montrone.

The Arcturians will hold a joint meeting with the non-sorority girls of the campus next Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in the Commons Trophy room to discuss the possibilities of forming a non-sorority group for girls.

Plans for another social will also be discussed at the same time. Carl Lundholm, Coach of freshman athletics, is scheduled to speak about his experience in the University Employment Bureau.

MORNING SHOW AT FRANKLIN SATURDAY

In order to meet the demand for an entertainment for the many children who will be in town Saturday morning, the Franklin theater has decided to run a special show commencing at 9 A. M. The picture to be shown will be "The Little Colonel," starring Shirley Temple. For the rest of the day, the picture will be projected continuously from 3:30 until 10:30 P. M.

Co-starred with Lionel Barrymore, Shirley Temple, the five-year-old screen sensation plays the role of a tiny tot whose childish love and laughter routs the bitterness and false pride that have soured the life of a stern old Kentucky aristocrat who has renounced his daughter.

Once again, America's golden-haired sweetheart captures, with her unpretentious art, her honest acting, the hearts of old and young.

Eleanore Boston Installed as Pan- Hellenic President

Dean Woodruff Present at Last Meeting of the Year

Installation of the incoming Pan-Hellenic council of which Eleanora Boston, '36, of Phi Mu, is president, and Verona Doe, '37, of Pi Lambda Sigma is secretary-treasurer, was held at the last Pan-Hellenic meeting of the year on Wednesday evening at 7:00 in the Commons Organization room.

Dean Woodruff, who is a patroness of Pan-Hellenic, was its guest at the installation; and the out-going and incoming council were present as well.

Mildred L. Doyle, '35, of Kappa Delta, president of the out-going council, presided at the meeting. A vote was taken not to have dinners or lunches at sorority houses on the noon of Mothers' Day to cooperate with the University in carrying out its Mothers' Day program.

Verona Doe, '37, of Pi Lambda Sigma, was given the oath of office as secretary-treasurer. Eleanora Boston, '36, of Phi Mu, took oath as the new president of Pan-Hellenic, and spoke a few words at the close of the installation.

The delegates to the incoming council are: Phyllis Gale and Katherine Spellman, Alpha Chi Omega; Mary Holmes and Helen Munger, Alpha Xi Delta; Katherine Mason and Eleanor Dane, Chi Omega; Dorothy Buckley and Winnifred Carlisle, Phi Mu; Barbara Brown and Evelyn Craton, Kappa Delta; Isabelle Hermes and Alice Hazlitt, Theta Upsilon; and Verona Doe and Mary McCarthy, Pi Lambda Sigma.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The Sociology club, recently reorganized with the intention of joining the national sociological organization, Alpha Kappa Phi, elected new officers, and accepted a ritual to be used in initiations, as it held a meeting Monday evening in Ballard Hall.

Donald Shaw was elected president of the club. Other officers elected at the Monday meeting were as follows: Vice-president, Mary Mulligan; and secretary-treasurer, Mary Kennon.

New members will be chosen upon recommendation by the sociology department or by a member of the club. Meetings will be held every two weeks on Monday nights, and notices of the meetings will be posted on Murkland bulletin board. At each meeting there will be a speaker who will talk upon sociological subjects.

DARTMOUTH FRATS UNITE TO FORM LOCAL

Voluntarily surrendering their national charters, two Dartmouth fraternities, Alpha Chi Rho and Phi Kappa Sigma, voted to combine and form a new local fraternity last Monday to be known as Gamma Delta Chi.

No specific reasons were given for the merger at the time of the announcement, but it was believed that the surrender of the charters came about as a means of reducing the national fees, thus reducing the cost of fraternity dues for each member.

More than $20,000 is already available to go toward a new fraternity house, and a drive for additional funds will be started soon. The new house will have an alumni of 500 members and an undergraduate group of more than 50.

When the merger was announced, the presidents of the two fraternities expressed their opinions that the joining of the two fraternities and the dropping of the national charters would result in many more advantages to the students, and tend to change the position of fraternities in relation to social life on the campus of Dartmouth.

New Hampshire Nine Ties Dartmouth 8 to 8 in Twelve Innings

Varsity Outplays Indians Throughout Entire Game

Wednesday afternoon New Hampshire's baseball club held Dartmouth College, the leaders of the Eastern Intercollegiate league to an 8-8 tie at Hanover.

The game lasted twelve innings and then was called off because of darkness. Lefty Bill Weir was the hero of the game pitching all of the twelve innings and seeming to improve as the game advanced. Weir struck out eleven men, three of the strike outs coming in the last inning. New Hampshire outplayed the "Indians" in every respect collecting fifteen hits to their opponents eleven. To Arnie Rogean goes the credit for the longest clout of the game, a home run in the fourth inning. Fred Moody and Jerry Chase each got three hits out of six times to the plate and scored two runs each.

The attendance at the game numbered nearly one thousand and considerable discussion was heard concerning the remarkable playing of Weir, Rogean, and Landry. New Hampshire was in every respect by far the superior ball team but the Dartmouth boys seemed to score consistently on "breaks." One of the highlights of the game was the difficult catches made by Joe Nathanson in center field.

To date New Hampshire has played eight games winning four, tying one and losing three. The team has had considerable difficulty in holding practice sessions this year. Because of the condition of the new athletic field there has been no field available in Durham for the team to practice

Estelle Peavey, '37, to Study in Paris

Will Travel With Group from University of Delaware

Miss Estelle Peavey, '37, has recently received word that she has been admitted to the "Junior Year in France" group of the University of Delaware. She will sail for France this summer, spend two or three months in Tours to perfect her command of the French language, and will go to Paris for the opening of the University of Paris (the Sorbonne) about November 1st. After taking courses in French literature, civilization, the theatre, etc., during the academic year, Miss Peavey will return to this country to complete her undergraduate work at the University of New Hampshire.

The "Junior Year Abroad" was organized by the University of Delaware some twelve years ago. High academic standing and unusual aptitude for proficiency in French are among the prerequisites for membership. Miss Peavey is the first student from the University of New Hampshire to be admitted to the Delaware group.

Editorial

A short time ago this paper came in for considerable criticism when portions of its editorial policy were prematurely exposed to the public. At that time it was necessary to explain to Casque and Casket that THE NEW HAMPSHIRE was in no way opposed to fraternities but had been planning to bring before the men on this campus ideas which are being developed all over the country with regard to the national fraternity problem. As proof that the predictions made to Casque and Casket were not mere figments of the imagination, one has only to point to the news-story recently released and reprinted in this paper regarding the relinquishing of national charters by two Dartmouth fraternities. Both of these chapters were members of strong national fraternities, and the precedent set by them will probably be followed by several other Dartmouth chapters.

Having forseen just such action THE NEW HAMPSHIRE had planned to suggest in its editorial columns consideration of similar action to Casque and Casket. It would seem that this consideration warrants study by our fraternity group. It is impossible to say that similar action would be taken on this campus without a careful study being made as to the merits or demerits of national fraternities as they concern us. However, it seems that Casque and Casket should conduct inquiry along these lines and announce its findings to the students of the University of New Hampshire.

If such inquiry is carefully made, everyone may be sure that THE NEW HAMPSHIRE will support the resulting decision.

Contributors' Column

I read with interest the editorial in the last issue of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE concerning the programs offered to the students by the Faculty Committee on Programs. I cannot agree entirely with the rather sweeping criticism of the programs offered last year, yet I think certain things were touched upon in the editorial that would bear reflection.

The suggestion that students take a more active part in the planning of the programs for the next year is a good one, and, I think, really practical. I see no reason why the Faculty committee should not be pleased to receive aid from the students in the difficult and all too frequently thankless task of selecting these programs.

There is probably some foundation for the criticism that the programs this year were overweighted on the side of the political and economic questions of the day. There is room for an extension of cultural offerings. It is my suggestion that the keynote of the cultural program be modernism. Modern and contemporary art and music have always had a tendency to be slighted in college programs.

I hope that others besides this writer have decided to demumify themselves and take a hand in certain activities of the University. After all, we, the students are the ones for whom the University programs are held and should be vitally concerned with what is being presented.

I agree with your editorial in that the speakers discussing economics and political movements were often second rate. Why not have some men thoroughly acquainted with these modern problems, who dig beneath the surface instead of simply superficially discussing the problems as did most of the speakers in the past year. Norman Thomas and Harry F. Ward were appreciated by the large number of students who heard them far more than any other speakers—let's have some more men of their calibre.

Musical programs, too, were greatly appreciated—but were far too few. Why not a larger program of musical recitals along with more of the other cultural programs. The faculty ought to realize that the modern student does not always want to retreat to the dim past for his cultural enjoyments. The world today is a new one and a changing one, and we want presentations and lectures of the newer aspects of music and poetry and drama. It's a different world that we will be stranded in in a few years from now, and we need and appreciate the programs that deal with life as we will find it. The Faculty Committee of Programs should realize this and give serious attention to our demands.

Suggestions registered in the editorial of the last issue of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE should strike fire in the imaginations of a great number of students who long for cultural advantages as well as in that of the majority of the faculty and many of the townspeople. Probably no one in this vicinity so feels his isolation as the person whose interests are cultural. Contemporary literature, music and drama, means to most of us something that occurs in Boston or New York. Pursuit of such advantages is in the majority of cases prohibitive because of the financial considerations.

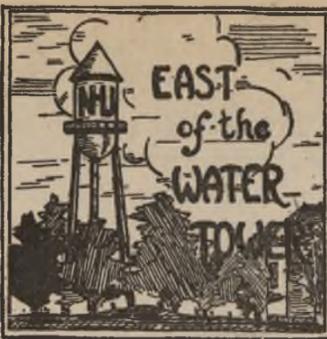

Many students feel that contemporary culture should constitute a definite part of the college curriculum, and well it might if a concerted effort is made by all interested parties to bring such a program about. Presentation by professional companies of some of the outstanding plays which have created such a sensation around New York should do much to break the lethargic condition of our campus. Now, that the movement is under way in this direction, we should grasp this opportunity to make such a thing a reality.

Speakers such as were present on this year's forum program certainly have definite merits, and should by all means be continued. However, as suggested, the very most competent men should be procured to present their particular economic or political views.

Permit me to say a few words with regard to the editorial in last Tuesday's issue. In it was stressed the desirability of having students voice their own opinions about what kinds of cultural programs they would like to have the University sponsor next year.

This boils down to one main point: that each student, providing he is alive and alert on this campus, has a very real responsibility in shaping next year's public program. Now more than ever before student opinion is urged to express itself. If the cultural programs next year are not better in quality and in balance than the ones this year, the student body will be to blame. Since this fine opportunity is given us, let us not fail to make the most of it.

"Gizzy" Matthews, A. T. O.'s ludicrous lacrosse, lost his pants in front of the gym the other day and found them amongst the uppermost branches of a telephone pole. What's that story about the man who got caught with—

Seen at an Alpha Chi fire drill, half clad girls running hither and thither, a buxom cat (with child), heading for the door; and "Buxom" Shaw, casting discretion to the four winds as she drapes her four hundred and fifty pounds over the banister, yelling, "Oh! Where, Oh! Where is Tom's picture?" (And by the way, can you imagine four hundred and fifty pounds being cast to the four winds?)

Hooper: "Why does 'Dick' Whyte remind you of a poorly poured glass of beer?"

Whyte: "Huh?"

Hooper: "Because his head is so big."

Whyte: "Well, fan my brew."

Ray "Giggler" Parker, who is by his own confession, too bashful to read his own paper in Prof. Fenn's class, likes to sit in the back of the room and make oral recitations hard for the rest of the boys. What he needs is a size eleven shoe filled with a husky foot, planted where it will do the most good.

Henry "God" Trow made a little trip to Wellesley last week-end in an attempt to develop a few foreign relations, and the Outing Club boys spent the week-end with some Smith girls in our Franconia cabin. We're betting on Trow, for Smith girls may come and Smith girls may go, but Wellesley girls go on forever.

"Pop-eye" McGuirk and "Durham's Pride" Barker are, at this writing, in the midst of changing a tire on the Dover road. Funny how small tire lugs appear through a haze of brew, eh McGuirk? (Barker can't see them even when he's sober.)

"Skippy" Thompson, father of the 1936 Granite, can't seem to eat his dinner of an evening unless he is holding the hand of Miss Gale.

Nat Mower wants to know where the little colts go at night! (Never saw them in the bleachers, did you, Nat?)

We hear that Dotty Coleman fell asleep at the Theta U house dance the other night. "Child" Wageman can put them to sleep anywhere!

Ed Tuttle, Durham's daredevil motorcyclist, was seen this evening doing tricks for the benefit of the Congreve girls. With a dash well befitting his figure, he stood up on the saddle and rode there at the tremendous speed of 10 miles per. Such bravery is seldom seen in these parts, son. We think he'd look swell in a "toga."

Charley "Fishface" Marlak is in mourning now that his cousin, Lawrence of Arabia has passed away. You know, Charley's ancestors can be traced back to the Arabian Nights and Charley was born during the darkest. Gosh it must be dark in Arabia!

Play Production Nears Completion

Period Costumes, Royalty, Incidentals, Contribute to Large Expense

Saws, hammers, and paint brushes are busy until a late hour each night this week as final touches are being put to Mask and Dagger's forthcoming production, The Devil's Disciple.

It is an expensive production. The brilliant eighteenth century costumes alone cost $150 for rental. Another $125 goes for royalty as well as an additional $100 for expenses incident to production such as canvas, paint, lights, advertising, and a host of other expenses that the average playgoer never realizes. In spite of this, however, our dramatic society maintains a price half of that charged at other colleges.

The Devil's Disciple is Shaw at his best. The play satirizes puritanism and militarism, and it sparkles with the peculiar wit that has made Shaw famous wherever the English language is spoken.

Performances of the play will be presented in Murkland auditorium on the evenings of June 5, 6, and 7.

Fred Walker Elected Captain of Baseball

Last week Coach Henry Swasey's varsity baseball team elected Fred Walker captain. Walker comes from Riverside, Rhode Island, and has been a varsity letterman for two seasons besides earning his freshman numerals. Fred's athletic ability has not been confined solely to baseball, however, for he has earned a varsity letter in basketball for three consecutive seasons. Fred is also president of his senior class, president of the student council, and president of Theta Chi fraternity, besides earning the most representative rating in the senior class. In his sophomore and junior years Walker played short stop, but this season he has been alternating between that position and third base.

on. Consequently the team has been practising at Central Park in Dover where they have had to share the field with Dover baseball teams. Much time that would ordinarily be used for practise has been lost traveling to and from Dover. Topping these difficulties is the fact that Central Park is far from being a good baseball field. What the possibilities of the team would be without the present difficulties can be easily estimated, especially after the fine performance that the team turned in at Dartmouth.

Kitten Relay Team in N. E. I. C. A. A. A. Championship Meet

First Time Frosh Relay Team Has Entered N. E. Meet

On Saturday for the first time the University will enter a freshman medley relay team in the N. E. I. C. A. A. A. championship track meet being held at Portland. This event does not count toward the varsity score.

The race is known as a sprint medley relay, and differs from the ordinary mile relay in that each of the four men are not running the same distance. The first leg, a quarter mile will be run by Dave Morse, captain and anchor man of the winter relay team. Morse has been running the mile and half mile this spring, and so far is undefeated in the mile. The quarter mile will be followed by two 220-yard legs, one of which will be run by Ray Henson, the ace sprinter of the squad, and the other by Percy Witcomb, another member of the winter relay team. The final leg will be run by Captain George Quinn, undefeated both in the quarter and half mile this spring, and holder of the present freshman quarter mile record.

Little is known about the comparative strength of the other freshman teams from New England entered in this race, but on the basis of performances of the New Hampshire freshman runners in dual meets to date, they should have a good chance of winning.

Nine colleges have entered freshman teams in the medley race. They are Bates, Rhode Island State, Boston College, Boston University, Bowdoin, Brown, Tufts, Maine, and New Hampshire. If all the teams appear, it may be necessary to run heats in which case they will take place at two o'clock on Saturday with the finals at four o'clock. If heats are unnecessary, the finals will be run off at two o'clock.

There will be a meeting of the Student Council next Monday night at 10 o'clock.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TIES DARTMOUTH 8-8 IN A TWELVE INNING GAME WHICH WAS FINALLY CALLED OFF ON ACCOUNT OF DARKNESS! The writer of the Durham Bull hides his face in shame! In Tuesday's issue the Bull said that New Hampshire's chances against Dartmouth were nil and now the game turns out to be one of the biggest upsets of this season. Dartmouth is the topnotch team of this season while previous to this game New Hampshire was considered only a fair team. Now—well, sports fans can see for themselves. New Hampshire has tied the leading team in the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League. Not even considering the difficulties under which the varsity baseball team is working this season no amount of praise is sufficient for this remarkable accomplishment. We take our hats off to Coach Henry Swazey and his triumphant nine, for although this game according to the score was a tie, it is an achievement of nothing less than a great triumph. This game will be considered one of the most outstanding events of the season in eastern intercollegiate baseball.

Coach Paul Sweet has his doubts about how New Hampshire will come out in the N. E. I. C. A. A. A. championships. Funston is probably the only man of the small twelve man team which is going to Portland who stands a chance of placing.

Funston is going to run only in the 220 low hurdles. The reason for his not running in the high hurdles and 220 dash is that he will have to run heats in the low hurdles and dash. If he had to run in all three events he would probably be running all the while he is at Portland. Coach Sweet believes that it will be better for Funston to do well in one event rather than wearing himself out trying to do three.

The Kitten tracksters wish to announce that they have discovered and put into practice a new track event or at least a new conditioning exercise! The event is the 440 leap frog run! Official times on this event were supposed to have been recorded the first part of this week but Coach Sweet at the time did not believe that the Kittens were serious in establishing this event as one to be used in future meets and prohibited further time trials. However since then he has been considering the event as a possibility to replace the Kittens' field events for at least this season.

In all seriousness the Kittens' Relay team should shine at the N. E. I. C. A. A. A. meets Saturday. Judging by the performance of this winter's relay team, the present team which is made up of the same men with the exception of Ray Hensen, should go places and do things.

If Ray performs on the Relay team as he has in the dashes this spring, and no doubt he will, he should be an additional unit of strength making the team as strong as any Frosh relay team they will run against at Portland.

The varsity Lacrosse team meets Tufts at Tufts College, Mass. Saturday. Providing the Lacrosse team does not go down there over confident, the prediction is a win. The Lacrosse team has been the outstanding athletic team this spring. They have lost only to the strong Boston Lacrosse Club and Harvard, which is predicted to win the championship of the New England Lacrosse League. The New Hampshire team deserves plenty of credit for the fine performances they have given this season.

The freshman Lacrosse team will play the Tufts freshman team the same day. The freshman team has not been as successful as the varsity but have gained a lot of valuable experience that will aid greatly in replacing present varsity men who graduate in June.

Varsity Relay Team in N.E.I.C.A.A.A.

Only Twelve Men Entered in the Championships at Portland

Paul Sweet will take a small varsity track team to the N. E. I. C. A. A. A. championship track meet on Friday and Saturday of this week.

With a few exceptions the varsity team has no men who are reasonably certain place winners, so New Hampshire is not a threat for the championship. The present plans are tentative and may be changed, but now they are to take Captain Curtis Funston to run the low hurdles only, Sam Taylor and Bus Miller for the board jump, Milt Johnson and John Baker for the shot put, Ed. Gale, Maurice Kimball, and Johnson for the javelin throw, Jack Downs to run the quarter mile, Dave Webster to run the two mile, Sunny Chertok and Fred Murray in the mile, and Wiitala in the pole vault.

Coach Sweet plans to take those men who need to qualify to Portland on Friday, and to return to Durham following the day's events, while those men who are in the events that require no qualifying heats will be taken up on Saturday along with the freshman relay team and those who qualified on the previous day.

The other members of the squad who are not going to Portland will have a week-end of rest in preparation for the meet with Springfield next week.

The freshman Baseball team meets the strong Sanborn Seminary team at Kingston, N. H., Saturday. Sanborn has a whirlwind pitcher that is the mainstay of the team but with the spirit that the Frosh Club has shown despite the difficulties they have had in building a team they will give Sanborn more than their money's worth.

In Intramural Tennis, A. T. O. has emerged as the victor in both the singles and the doubles. In so far as getting points towards the all point trophy, swimming is the only Intramural sport left. Intramural swimming will take place the first week in June.

OUTING CLUB HOSTS TO SMITH COLLEGE

The planned Outing Club trip with the Smith College Outing Club, once called off, was held last week-end at the Franconia Notch cabin of the Outing Club.

Miss Ladd chaperoned the group and those from New Hampshire who attended are: George Parker, James Scudder, Lawrence Whiteher, Willis Bartlett, William Kidder, William Stanley, and John Carlin.

The group set out from Durham Saturday noon and were joined at the cabin by the Smith group.

Sunday morning, after breakfast, the party climbed the Greenleaf Trail on Lafayette, encountering snow four feet deep packed so that one might easily walk on top of it. The climb was hard but the shelter of the Greenleaf Hut was worth it and the sudden change from mid-spring to mid-winter conditions was very interesting. After dinner the group separated to return to Durham and North Hampton.

Rutgers University (New Brunswick, N. J.) will introduce a new four-year course introductory to government service next fall. The course is designed for those preparing for public administration and business or for administrative positions in the agencies concerned with public welfare. They will also introduce a four-year course in band practice.

The touch football league is coming along in good shape under the able guidance of assistant directors Ed Rogers and Jerry Quadros. Finals will start sometime next week.

Paine Returns from Expedition to Pole

Durham Man Spent Two Years With Admiral Byrd's Party

After two years spent with the Byrd expedition in the frozen wastes of Little America, Stewart Paine, a son of Durham, returned to his home here Wednesday.

Stewart Paine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Paine of Durham, returned here Wednesday after aiding in the two years of scientific research accomplished by the Byrd expedition in the southern polar regions. He is now living at his home on Durham Point where he expects to spend the next two weeks.

While at the pole he cared for the many sled dogs and acted as navigator for the party. He was a member of a group which succeeded in reaching a point farther south than any man has ever been before.

Prior to his joining the expedition, he worked for Kress and Co., of New York City. He is twenty-four years old and is a recent graduate of Yale University where he played a promi-

WEEK-END WEATHER

Friday, May 24, 8 a. m.

A persistent stream of cold dry air has been flowing across New England for the past week resulting in continued fair and cool weather. There were some indications yesterday morning that this stream was becoming broken for a storm of small dimensions had already appeared in the Canadian northwest. Providing this storm develops and follows its usual northerly path rain may fall in New England by Sunday.

Friday: Generally fair with slowly rising temperatures. Fresh northwest winds diminishing.

Saturday: Continued generally fair and warmer. Gentle shifting winds. Possibly some cloudiness before evening but showers are doubtful.

Sunday: Probably partly cloudy with occasional showers.

"EVER-NORMAL GRANARY" EXPLAINED

The "ever-normal granary" plan proposed in AAA amendments now before Congress would fill the need for short-time agricultural credit on farm-stored crops, limitation of speculative profit, and a crop reserve large enough to prevent shortage, according to the Adjustment Administration.

The plan provides for storing under seal on the farms the surplus of a crop in a high-production year. If the next year were a low-production one with higher prices, the farmers could sell the stored product and repay the government loans for which it had been held as security. Or if the crop again were large with prices so low that the government came into possession of the stored collateral, the government could turn the product back to the producers as compensation for acreage reduction sufficient to assure a better price for the stored commodity and the next year's crop.
