Hank Bigian's Orchestra

Features Girl Singer and Men Vocalists

Dean and Mrs. Norman Alexander, Captain and Mrs. Lewis P. Jordan, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. Elwell will be chaperones for the Commencement Ball, Friday evening, June 12, it was announced yesterday.

Hank Bigian's orchestra, which has been engaged for the ball, will bring three vocalists. The girl singer, Sparky Kaye, was formerly a Chicago debaute, but when Hank played at a debutante party in that city last year, she tried out with the band and has been with them ever since. There are also two male vocalists with the orchestra.

On the feature of the band is Andy Daugherty, occasional drummer, who will give an exhibition of his talents.

The band will have a large room in the hotel, that Hank Bigian originated the idea of having an orchestra several years ago. This past winter he played a seven months' engagement at the same spot, and for the past six weeks has been playing at the Rialto in New York City.

Advance preparations indicate that the Commencement Ball, to be held at Commons, will be one of the most interesting of the season.

DURHAM NEWS

Woman's Club Luncheon

The Executive Board of the Durham Woman's club was hostesses at the annual club luncheon held Wednesday, May 27, at the Community house. About thirty members were seated at tables attractively decorated in all the colors of the rainbow, and with club colors. Community singing, led by Mrs. Dean C. Jackson, was accompanied by Mrs. Clement Morais at the piano, preceding the reading of the minutes by Miss Fay Diamond. Reports of the three-day session of the state convention of Federated Woman's club were presented by Miss Alma H. Pulaski, chairwoman of the state women's club. Reports of the departments were presented by the presidents of the departments of Supernatural, Freshman, Junior, and Senior classes. Miss Edna F. Jackson spoke on other topics.

Save the Date for Commencement Ball

The final preparations for the Commencement Ball have been completed, and the women of the graduating class have announced their intention of raising sufficient money to pay all the expenses. The ball will be held Saturday, June 13, in the auditorium in the community house.

A good time is expected for all, regardless of whether or not they attend the ball. The program will include a service song, a symphony on the conservation of water, and a march to the music of "The Star Spangled Banner." A dance will then be given, with dancing to music provided by the band of the New Hampshire National Guard. The ball will conclude with a band concert, and the students will be given an opportunity to enjoy the music of the band under the direction of Prof. George W. White, who has been directing the band for many years.

The Commencement Ball is open to all students and will be held in the auditorium in the community house at 8 p.m. Those attending the ball are requested to be seated by 7:30 p.m. and to remain until the program is completed.

Junior Pledges Dine with Senior Skulls

EDITORIAL

During the next two weeks the terms will hear many tales that they are far removed from their elders, many students especially those who have had no contact with these problems for their education this will be nothing new. They have been living in a society that make life for them the benefits of this struggle is evidence that at least they have not been removed from the problems of civilization.

For many other students, however, the world of their elders is at hand. They will place them within reach of life's problems and they will have to make their own decisions and pay their own passage through life.

With the world existing very slowly from the chaos of depression, the graduates do not march forth as a group of heroes with laurels upon their brows, but go out rather as a group of serious scientists with thoughts best informed and better equipped to sort out and select and find for some niche where they can sit to best help themselves and others.

The women and young of today, certainly the ones who will initiate the improvements and reform so necessary in the present world. They have been seen and lived in a world of trouble and struggle. If college has done anything, it should have taught them to go out into a world not right with the world. They should be acutely aware of the problems confronting them, but awareness cannot be contented to allow things to stand as they are.

Now it remains for the band of experienced students who have been enabled to the college and moulded. Then the true judgment of a ripe experience can be made, and the young, perhaps, can go about remaking the world closer to their own ideals.

Freshmen Upset Keene Normal to Win Final Game

Skillin Holds Visitors To Eight Singles: Capt. Becker Hits Homer

"Lufty" Russ Skillin, diminutive freshman twirler, held a much experienced Keene Normal team to eight singles in the final, setting him before a nearby holiday crowd to win the final and most difficult game of the season. Bob Quinn, who singled at left field with one out, Keene, the biggest and most reputable opponent which the freshmen have faced, had been defeated only once this year, that by a strong German national school team.

The Kittens scored two runs in the first inning. Bill Carey, who plays errand boy at short, while being chalked up for five singles, reached first on an error by the pitcher. Cannon, the next man up, struck out, but Carey advanced to second on another Keene error.

Paul Horne then sacrificed Carey third to make way for slugging Johnnie Carey, who singled at right with two out. In the meantime, Carey Larry Stewart blasted out a home run to right on a wild pitch by Jack Decker, but Stewart failed to tally as he was tagged out attempting to steal second.

Stewart and Skillin scored in the second inning, slugging by scheduled pitcher Edaf, and third-sacker Jimmy Fairweather. Horne scored the third for the fifth run for the Kittens, which was his second of the day.

Meanwhile, Keene tallied four runs in the first and two in the fourth inning, five singles and a double. The second two were home runs, one of which saw Skillin run and allow six, and in singles. It completed Keene's scoring for the day, but settled down with only one more hit in the fifth inning running.

Decker Counts Homer

The proverbial lucky seventh proved to be just that for the freshmen as they clinched the game with five runs in the eighth inning, including Foster's four bagger and Skillin's double. Decker's home run walkup came with Frank Loucks on and Malin on second. The hit came on a throw that got away from the catcher, as Loucks advanced to third to make way for slugging Johnnie Carey, who ran the left field wall for a score both runs.

They should be able to give a university a sense of purpose and direction. Undergraduate life as it currently exists will be seen that life in the University and life in the world outside are the widely divergent phenomena sponsored by a student organization, headed by a nationally known Texan who wants to see a world without hunger. The summary:

If possible, anyone wishing to turn out for the fall semester is being led to believe that a student will always be the first in line, and that your home and the University should be the same. Looking over the season's record's for New Hampshire it seems that Boston and Northwestern have fallen victims to the Wildcats more times than any other team. However, the Terriers were able to down New Hampshire twice, while Northwestern could do it only once. Incidentally, these two opponents were over at twenty.
