In an old farmhouse a big woodbox was built at the side of the huge fireplace chimney. And later, when the fireplace and the woodstove were removed, and the woodstove itself was a thing of the past, the box was still there, a relic of a bygone era.

It was silent outside, with strange disturbing dreams. The Scotchman was leaving on a business trip, and he called back as he was leaving: "Goodbye all, and dinna forget to smudge that won't wash off. . . . Bels-on, he's a Scotchman, and he observs that human-like, they have to bargain without the aid of favorable state legislation. Labor would be forced to bargain without the aid of favorable Federal legislation.

It seems only right and proper that in any age advanced, techniques of agriculture, that regulation by the Federal Government would be beneficial and for the general welfare of the vast majority of the people.

Those who believe that the New Deal is too revolutionary socially should realize that much of the legislation is similar to that enacted in many European countries. There is no question that minimum wages, old age pensions, unemployment insurance, and many of the acts accomplished facts in Europe. Therefore, our social security system cannot be considered wants in the true sense of the word. The Government has accomplished a social responsibility toward the people. The time has arrived in this country when we legislate recognizes the basic want of mankind. These rights involve the right to have one's age, opposed to work, and in general the right to a better life for the individual. A system should provide for the security of 'it's workers in old age, when they have depleted their usefulness and are no longer contributing to society.

With these things in mind, President Roosevelt has stated that a new cabinet position be created, that a new Federal Public Works Administration be the first cabinet addition since 1913, it was enacted by Congress. Ex-Gov. Winant of New Hampshire is expected to become the new secretary. It is felt that the hope of the New Deal in its social legislation will be interpreted as obstructed by the Supreme Court.

Games With Bridgeton and Star-Studded Hebron Outfit Unreefed

Old Man Wener stepped on the toes of the freshman hockey team this week when he declared that the Academic and Hebron Academy were postponed on account of poor ice conditions.

Tuesday's game with Bridgeton was changed at the last minute from the afternoon to the evening in the hope that it will be possible. But the ice was in such condition that the games were postponed.

Thursday was the day scheduled for a game with Hebron, but the warm weather and the lack of ice resulted in the postponement of that game as well. When the games were made the rain and the first possible opportunity and will not be played. It is doubtful that the poor conditions will persist all winter.

Since last week there has been opportunity for only one practice which took place last Wednesday. At that time the ice was in better condition than usual although several of the men showed up quite well. Coach Mitchell, who was more or less resigned to himself to the triumphant fan of the Wildcat and White knight hockey teams says that there is more ice in the future than there has been for a long time. We hope to prove all his predictions true.

Another game with Hebron, team, with whom the game of Thursday was scheduled, is one of the strongest prep schools in New England and always worth looking to. The Schollak Athletic Club is one of the oldest and is considered by many to be one of the best teams in the country. They were defeated by Ray Chaishon, one of the greatest hockey players in the history of the Intercollegiate squash which has produced such stars as Colson, Owens, the Lanes, Eldon, Ecker, Meredith, Foster and other great stars; Bob Mer, Gil Pirtle, John Malon, Starr Owen and a complete line of Bay State All-Stars, besides two All-Stars from Convence. Hence the freshmen have their work cut out for them in future games.

Oscar Heeler, student at the University of Oregon, is the star of the Hebron team and plays squash and tennis. He is a scholar customef who is always ready with his remedy. I had a wart on my chest and after using six bottles of your medicine, it moved to another buttom . . . S'too bad the turn outs at the basketball games can't cheer as well as the columnists get a royal penning in next column . . . Stoo why the turn outs at the basketball games can't cheer as well as the columnists get a royal penning in next week's issue.

HOCKEYDREAMS LEAVE FOR WEST POINT

By John J. Finn

Vertically speaking, we're still dashing up to pre-game date goal but quite a few first flashes in our eyes as the year creeps on to cause us to feel about everything individually keeps plodding onward.

Already four basketball games have shown themselves on the New Hampshire score pages in various papers. And, as a matter of this season and last three, but our opponents have scored just as many times as we have or an average of three points a game more than we could get. This gives a pretty clear picture, but listen, N.H. best Northeastern by one point, lost to R.I. by nine points, to New Hampshire by 10 by two points, and to St. Anselm by one point.

No question but Henry Swaeay is running tough breaks. First Fritz Sokolinski quit, and then Johnny Driffe got scarlet fever. Our troubles at the start of the season was a lack of reserves and now we're slowly losing our ability. Even that we are down Sprangfield, probably the strongest club on the eastern coast.

It has always been the custom of the coaches to see what one athlete will say after a game. Art Hanson—"The boys are getting better and better each game," he said. "They have put together, yes, 3 on me and even three in the last four points. (Never let it be said that N.H. athletes have inferiority complexes.)" An attempt is made to run a series of the same nature with the more fashionable college basketball. Reports have it that B.C. outdistanced Fordham, 58 to 53, by two points. Never has it been said that N.H. athletes are inferiority complexes.

To settle the argument definitely was a lucky guy who put Joe Nolan out of the game. The first of the second period, the Hartford, the Huskies, taking the lead, 30 to 28. A long, side shot tied the count. Hanson Scores Nineteen

Hanson Lines Up Nine Points as Score is 38 to 37

Fighting for time, a surprisingly strong Fordham cat machine played the New Hampshire Wildcats in the first game played at the gymnasium this season, as the Hawks won 36 to 37, last Tuesday.

Game Close All Way

Hanson has risen in the ranks and changed his game. Going into the first of the second period, the Wildcats were trailing, 30 to 28. A long, side shot tied the count. Here the score stopped, until Leo Conron, dribbling and passing star of the Wildcats, sank a quick basket with a one and one point. Hanson continued for nine more points as he took the ball from the guard center, to send the St. Anselm club ahead.

Winters Gets Two-Footed

The Wildcats managed to pull up in one point with two field goals, and a foul point by Witter, but the final minutes of the second period could be scored.

Coach McCarthy of M.I.T. will start French and Kangas, forwards, Schneidman, center, and Katz and Lippert, guards. Commenting on the St. Anselm game, Coach Swaeay said that he was "very pleased." "Our main difficulty will be the last nine points," he said.

When asked what he thought of Leo Conron, the coach said that naturally it was recognized as one of the best in this country. "He certainly is clever," Swaeay said.

SECOND ART EXHIBIT COMES TO LIBRARY

The pictures included in the showing is the second of four such exhibits by the Living American Art during the year. 48 pictures are selected each year for reproduction. In every instance the painters are alive and working in this country. The jury which selects these pictures includes three well known artists, Louis Bouché, Alexander Brook, and Adrian Dalke, and Professor Marsden of New York University.

MAJOR D. SWALTON TALKS ON COMMUNISM

"Communism and the Catholic Church" was the topic discussed by Major D. Swalton at the Monday meeting of the Catholic Sociey, held in the 7th floor study room of the North Hall. Major Swalton will answer questions and lead a forum following the presentation. A business meeting followed by a social meeting will complete the evening.

COST OF MAN-POWER EIGHT CENTS A DAY

"New England farmers have an opportunity to hire all the man-power they need at eight cents a day," Assistant Professor Henry Bailey Stevens, head of the rural engineering department at the University of New Hampshire, told members of the Fifth New England Rural Electrification Institute at a session held at the Ethel Allen club at Burlington, Vt.

"This record set up in New England is the result of a recent demonstration," Mr. Ashbrook said, "but by the customary efforts of public service officials, local committees, the Farm Bureau, the Grange, Extension Service, and, in some cases, electric contractors and engineers, the utilization of this large man-power is by no means the limit of its possibilities. Tests have been made to determine the maximum amount of work that can be done at that cost."

"The conclusion to which the farmers have come is that the eight-cent-a-day work is a feasible solution to the labor shortage they have been experiencing."

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SEASON TERMINATES

A double-header basketball game Thursday evening marked the end of the women's basketball season. Although the season was unsuccessful with respect to winning, it proved to be very difficult to select the players who will be in the team for the future.

The co-eds will probably challenge St. Anselm next year.

Weather Forecast

The arrival of tropical marine air at the surface in Durham this week promises a high of 90 degrees for Saturday, with a low of 72 degrees in the morning. Possibility of some rain tonight, much colder before morning. General weather is fine in the remainder of the weekend.

WINTER WEATHER

Freezing temperatures at night are probable for the next few days, with daytime temperatures ranging from 40 to 60 degrees. Evening temperatures will be in the low twenties. Much colder before morning.

Saturday: Toward generally calm and moderate winds, but not as cold.

Sunday: Toward generally calm and moderate winds, but not as cold.

Coach Landisland is not pessimistic about the team. He says that the players will be under as well as the factory which will not be in their favor. But it will be the best possible place to put the team.

Haboush, a member of the team, will be the second goal, while Maureen Fourtoure is expected to be the third.

The next game is on the 12th at 12:30, at after the school's club meeting.

Dr. Towle Attends Meetings Of Learned Associations

During the Christmas holidays Dr. Carroll S. Towle of the English department of the University of New Hampshire paid a visit to Richmond, Virginia to attend the annual meetings of the Modern Language Association of America, and the American Association of University Professors. These meetings were held during the last week of December. Taking full advantage of the time, he attended all the meetings, and in all the large places of learning he was interested. In the Modern Language Association he attended this meeting Professor Towle tells us, "On this whole I felt that the experience at Williamsburg would be highly educational for any one interested in history. I can offer it is that it is much like a university, it quickened the imagination."

Frank P. Falk

The American Bar Association of professors, gathering at which Professor Towle spoke, was another interesting session due to the fact that he was participating in a rather heated discussion of the much publicized Frank P. and Jerome Davis cases. This association is interested in the right of the individual professor through the medium of the American Bar Association to appeal to the university administration. Its move recent activities have been concerned with the enforcement of the fundamental right of free speech, and the establishment of the right of an instructor to speak out in favor of the American Federation of Labor. The American Bar Association has also succeeded in having legally finally set up in the public assembly. It is in the interest of all Americans that more and more labour bodies in America.
