Many House Guests Invade Campus at Yesterday's Opening of Sixteenth Annual Winter Carnival
Sponsored by New Hampshire Outing Club

The Sixteenth Annual Winter Carnival opened last night with over 400 house guests, and many visiting friends on campus. The usual "Outing club luck" failed for the first time in several years, and necessitated the canceling of the track meet because of lack of snow. This year the Outing club is stressing lighting effects. The entrance to the Gymnasium is decorated by archways hung with pine, and overhead with northern lights which illuminate the entire scene. The center of the campus is made bright with a snow sculpture from a lighted platform from the tower of Thompson hall. A dance will be held in the Gymnasium tomorrow afternoon from three to five. This affair is still in the breath created by the weather conditions which prevent the carrying out of the outdoor schedule.

A few of the houses have trucked in snow, and the following houses will join the snow sculpture this evening at six-thirty: St. John's, Mr. E. T. Haddow and Mr. Arnold Perrottet. The theme of the Carnival this year is "Northwest," and an attempt was to be made to convert the campus into a Saint Martin of New Hampshire. The lack of snow this year, however, has prevented the schedule carrying out of this plan.

Hockey Games Planned
This afternoon the varsity team is scheduled to meet Bowdoin at four o'clock in a game as follows: Liberal Arts: Ruth Prince, Robert M. Starke, William E. Wyman, and Maurice Palizza. The other team will be awarded the Set of pieces on the Piano similar to those of the harpsichord. The selection and arrangement of Handel. He took the compositions from sixteen books of his own, and arranged them for the performance. He played the well known "Moonlight Sonata," which was received by an enthusiastic audience.

After intermission, Mr. Bauer explained Debussy's "Sunrise Cathedral," a composition which revealed the entire setup. The legend is that of a cathedral built on quicksand in the south of France, which sank out of sight but it is said that the bells and organ of this church can be heard at certain times. The composition was played with two encores, the "Butterfly Etude" by Chopin and a Choral arranged by Hans E. John, "Song of the Orient." The program was as follows:

1. Handel: Set of pieces (Selected and arranged by Harold Bauer)

Overture

Allegro Moderato

Scherzo: Fourth Variation

Piece

2. Beethoven: Sonata Op. 27, No. 2

a) "Appalachia"

b) "Capriccio in B minor"

3. Schumann: "Nocturne in D major"

4. Chopin: "Etude in C sharp minor"

The Sixteenth Annual Winter Carnival will feature the Carnival Ball, which will be held tonight in the men's gymnasium from nine until two. Edward Y. Blewett, executive secretary of the university, will present the crowns. Selection of the King by popular vote at the midnight show in the Franklin theatre last night was made from a group of six seniors. The amendment was added to the constitution.

Ellen Phipps, matron of Smith Hall, spoke at a circus show, and Joseph Nigro, Mr. Arlene Dame.

The officers elected for the coming year are as follows: president, Thomas A. Starke; vice-president, Barnet N. Snow; secretary, William H. Shumway, Inc., Boston, Mass.; and treasurer, Arthur Lewis, '36.

As a result of a special meeting, an amendment was added to the constitution of the Women Commuters association. This amendment states that the name, "Women Commuters association," shall be changed to "Association of Women Day Students." The advisor for this group is Miss Mary Ellen Phipps, matron of Smith Hall.

Orchestra Presents Prof. Manton's Work

The State (WPA) Symphony, under the direction of Alexander Meikle, will present Professor Robert Manton's "New England Blues." in the auditorium at Boston, February 14. Professor Manton wrote the orchestral composition last spring here in Durham. His inspiration was Amy Lowell's poem "Lilacs." "Lilacs" was first given by the John Philip Sousa orchestra and by Edward Lalo.

On any campus that the Carnival ball will be held due to an epidemic of scarlet fever. Such was the report issued by Dr. William M. Prince, university physician, in the middle of the week.

The doctor's report stated that there are but three cases of the fever in the Hood house.

Folks Club Holds Carnival Night

A carnival night was held in the girl's gymnasium last Friday evening under the auspices of the Folks Club. Gayly colored booths, a wheel of fortune, and two comedians added a festive note to the occasion. The comedians were Paul O'Neill, who impersonated a banker at a side show, and Joseph Nigos, who called himself Chief Wampee. During the evening the gnomes played bridge, games, and ping pong. There was dancing to Bill Grad's College Inn Band, and refreshments were served. The programs for the evening were as follows: president, Thomas A. Starke; vice-president, Barnet N. Snow; secretary, William H. Shumway, Inc., Boston, Mass.; and treasurer, Arthur Lewis, '36.

The University Onging Club, in collaboration with the Outing club of Smith college, will hold a skating trip to the club's Fransonia Notch cabins on February 20. Eddie Hayes and Alice Perkins will head the group, which leaves on Saturday, returning the following day. Transportation will be provided by the Outing club, with beach chairs and private cars.

WILDCAT PUCKSTERS SWAMPED AS HUSKY TEAM GETS REVENGE

Team Handicapped by Loss of Former Regular Players

Handicapped by unavoidable obstacles, the New Hampshire hockey team were down to defeat before a vastly improved Northeastern team last Tuesday night, 9-2. Playing on the ice of the Boston Arena, noiséd for the consistently poor condition of the ice, the team was lost throughout the game. There was a schoolboy game played at the same time and the New Hampshire did not start their game until after 10 o'clock. With the ice getting worse by the minute, the Wildcats were doing their utmost and defense work which the hustling Wildcat started and maintained had the hasty and confused Huskeys amased throughout the contest.

Perhaps the most pleasing aspects of the game to Coach Swasey were Rougan's return to shooting accuracy and the fine play of Charlie Cotton, second forward who started at goal.

Bisnows of the Huskies started the scoring for Northeastern at 30 seconds by sinking a loper from the side line. Rougan started his 18-point high scoring of the evening by evening one in from the back line. The ice was so-warped until Northeastern was leading. The Huskies had the lead back up to 10-11, New Hampshire then traded back-up to 2-1, only to see Rougan sink a feat tying the score. The Wildcats dominated the play for the remainder of the second half, leading 2-1 through 21-28 when the whistle blew.

Still rather tired from the arduous schedule of the past two weeks the Var­ sity hockey team meets the sextet from Bowdoin this afternoon on home ice. They engage the boys in red and black. Northeastern could not check back to cover the attack. The score then see-sawed much better job than the score would indicate.

Herbie Merrill and Bull Martin were out­ standing boys in red and black. Northeastern's Jim Hatch gained the best features of the athletic phase of the New Hampshire University. Amherst is reported to have their undefeated record of two victories. After holding its own in a see-saw handicap for a New Hampshire team but could not stem the attack.

It seemed good to see Captain Arnie Ro­ tton, "Gee, that didn't seem like the team beat us."

Admittedly they didn't, but this year!!!

The hockey team lost another tough attack on Boston. Ice is always a handicap for a New Hampshire team but Northeastern was worse than ever before. Half the time was water and the other half was covered by an inch of ice. The Arena has been criticized much this year for the very poor ice. It's a wonder they wouldn't do something about it.

Charlie Jollis met the hockey team at Boston and had dinner with them. Charlie is now employed by the Merrimack Chemical company and looks in good shape. How he'd help the basketball team this year!!!

One of the Northeastern players was heard to remark after the game at Bos­ ton, "Gee, that defense No. 1 team we played last week. I wonder what hap­ pened to them. Why, they didn't have all the fight that they had when they beat us." Admittedly they didn't, but we B.C. game played out only the last ten minutes.

Right now it doesn't look as though the New Hampshire hockey team will go anywhere. Too bad, because it promised to be a corker with teams from all winter sports meet would be held here or anywhere. Too bad, because it promised to be a corker with teams from all New Hampshire and it looked in good shape. How he'd help the basketball team this year!!!

The Arena has been criticized much this year for the very poor ice. It's a wonder they wouldn't do something about it.

Professor Ritzman experiments

by Beatrice F. Fishman

For the last twenty-two years, Professor Ernst G. Ritzman of the University of New Hampshire has been modestly conducting amazing experiments in the science of animal husbandry. Foreign visitors from Germany, Japan, China, Russia, France—and in fact from all over the world—come to see the results of his researches.

For the eighties, University of New Hampshire's experimental livestock in animal husbandry headed by Prof. Ritzman has been cooperating with the Carnegie Institute in its metabolism re search work. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Carnegie Institute in Washington, D. C., a few weeks ago, Prof. Ritzman was honored by being re quested to present one of the six public lectures that were given during the week's exhibition. In addition to having one of the exhibits on display there. Many of his asserted discoveries are now in display in the Museum of Science and Ind ustry in the R.C.A. building in New York.

Research Professor R. G. Ritzman, a Harvard man of average height, experiments at a small, two-story building on the campus which is called "The Ritz." His life work started on this campus when Alexander Graham Bell (the brilliant inventor who bequeathed the University a flock of sheep) died of experiment with cross-breeding of air

"The Voice of Experience"...

...the man with the million dollar throat insists on a light smoke

"My voice is my career. It has inpired more than five million people to confide in me their personal problems. During 25 years, only one lecture platform and one microphone have I have never missed a single engagement because of my throat. I am a steady smoker, and because my throat and voice are vital to my career I insist on a light smoke. I find a light smoke plus the enjoyment of fine tobacco...that's why Lucky Strikes have been my choice for 14 years.
