VOCATION DAYS \ PROGRAM ATTRACTIONS LARGE Audiences

Popularity Assures Repetition Next Year

The bureau of appointments, headed by Eugene K. Auerbach, presented "Vocation Days" last Tuesday and Thursday, afternoons for the purpose of bringing to the students of the university valuable information about certain occupations and professions into which the college graduate may later enter.

Aid to the Students

The program was designed to aid the student in the choice of a life work, and also included advice about job-getting, letters of application, and personal interviews. In general the program was developed to bring to the students information which was not included in the college curriculum.

Former NH Student is Correspondent

Alexander Karakian, a former member of the class of '25 at Harvard, has been chosen as a special correspondent for the 'Youth Pilgrimage' at Washington, D. C., to bring the activities of the group to New Hampshire.

The pilgrimage which has been in operation for three weeks, and is to continue for four more weeks, is for the purpose of urging the passage of the big farm bill, which is now before the Karakians, in one of his correspondents, sums up the purpose of the pilgrimage in the following paragraph:

"Over three thousand young people, representing forty-five colleges, groups, Negroes, Indians, are assembled to demand of Congress legislation for the future of the消灭 of the ages 16 and 25 now enlaced by the big farm bill. They will present President Roosevelt with over a million signatures, Inscription the Capper amendment in the Senate, and a resolution in the House to regain its self-respect through work, to enroll in the American Federation of Labor, and to form a conference for the protection of those too poor to attend school, aid for the underprivileged in economic means--these are the basic tenets of the Act and these are young Americans fighting for the solutions of its basic problems.

TWENTY-TWO SENIORS PRACTICE TEACHING

It was recently announced that the name of Frank E. O'Brien has been added to the list of twenty-two seniors who will teach in the High School.

TWO UNI STUDENTS ORGANIZE EXPLORATION AROUND THE WORLD

It was learned last Wednesday night that concrete developments in the organization of a two year round-the-world expedition are being made. Dr. George A. Nelsen, president of the University of Nebraska, and Mr. N. C. D. Nelsen, of the University of Nebraska, have been appointed to represent Robert H. Sanderson of Pittsburg, Kan., when the Adventure Expeditions, Inc., is organized. When the Adventure Expeditions, Inc., was formed a few months ago, Dr. Nelsen was named the president of the corporation, and Mr. N. C. D. Nelsen was named as incorporators. This first expedition will be the first organized as a scientific exploration. The corporation will be known as the Sander-Ahrens Petroleum Co., with headquarters in New York.

Famous Skipper

Captain Rollo S. Bowdell, one of the most famous sailing skippers in the U.S., and quite probably the greatest skipper of the schooner-yard "Thylas", will visit the campus of the university. Captain Bowdell has made two round-the-world passages and has also sailed the famous Cape Horn schooner "Thylas".

riet and attention to detail. The students who have the most to offer are those who are not satisfied with the status quo. They are the ones who are dissatisfied with the existing order of things. They are the ones who are willing to risk their own lives in order to bring about a change. They are the ones who are willing to work long hours and sacrifice their own comfort in order to achieve their goals. They are the ones who are willing to take on the responsibility of leadership. They are the ones who are willing to fight for what they believe is right. They are the ones who are willing to be改革创新的一部分。
VOCATIONAL GUIDE

One of the finest incites into vocational work was offered the undergraduates of the University this week in a program inaugurated by the Bureau of Appointments.

All due credit should be given Eugene Auerbach, director of the Bureau, who fabricated the idea of "Vocation Days." The student body should feel indebted to Mr. Auerbach in the work he did in bringing to the campus authorities on the majority of the world's vocations.

In a three day program of lectures, led by an extensive committee, the students were given ample opportunities to seek social work, agriculture and many others were brought here to tell of the opportunities of the college graduates in the many different fields of work.

Perhaps one of the greatest helps was the opening talk in which William H. Shumway, personnel counselor of William H. Shumway, Inc., of Boston, gave points on the technique of job finding. Another lecture greeted with great interest by the students was "What is Engineering?"

There seemed to be only one decided drawback to the whole of the "Vocation Days" program. It seems that, even though the upperclassmen, Juniors and Seniors, are the ones who will be out after about three weeks, and who will have to consider their courses at the present moment to fit their hoped for work. Most of the lectures brought out the points of just what opportunities the different fields offer. Surely in preparing for their life work it is necessary for the lower classroom to know what he can get in certain vocations.

Many of the freshmen and sophomores, knowing what a certain vocation can offer, would be helped in selecting his work. These decisions, as a matter of course, must be made early in college career rather than in the later years.

True the underclassmen were invited to the lectures, but many who wanted to attend certain talks were unable to because of some class meeting.

However, this is the first year of the "Vocation Days," and it can hardly be said that the program would be flawlessly. We are quite sure that this type of an idea will be repeated in the near future and the "Vocation Days" will be remedied if the "Vocation Days" are presented next year.

Weekend Weather Forecasts

Friday, 19 A.M.
The dry and relatively cold Polar Continental air which has covered the eastern part of the country for the past two weeks is rapidly modifying, and there are indications of the beginning of a northward drift of warm air from the Gulf of Mexico. Polar air from off the Pacific Ocean is moving eastward and last night was spreading over the northern great plains. A storm of cold air from the Great Lakes region is moving from the west, and pressure is very low off the west coast.

As the Polar air over New England further modifies, temperatures will rise, while some coldness and precipitation will probably result from the eastward pressure. Still the weather should be bright tonight and tomorrow, and temperature will be mostly above freezing Sunday and Monday. A warm front will pass over the state from north to south Tuesday.

Durham and vicinity: In general, cloudiness and warmer tonight, possibly showers tonight. Saturday: Unsettled and warmer, Southern winds increasing, Rain likely during the day. Sunday: Probably continued mild temperatures and possibly showers, with questionable chances of westwinds tomorrow.

WILLIAMS DEFEATS WILDCATS IN FINAL

Team Ends Season With Three Victories and Five Defeats

In their final appearance of the season the hockey team supported the Wildcats on the latter's lucky side, but the score of 6-1. Handicapped as they have been all season by a lack of ice, New Hampshire was working out right, which had a good chance to show.

Owing to the "Vocation Days" lectures Coach Lushmound deemed it wise to give the seniors one last night at the game and let them have those who if they desired and attended the games at the end of the year. "After all," he is said and done, the men are here for a purpose and at times a game is in the making.

The game itself was not a particularly interesting game. The Wildcat's team was tired after a long bus trip and after holding the Williams out to a considerable lead in the first half, experimenting, experimenting, experimenting and trying to keep us busy. A few minutes up the ice and Williams scored. We had a few to do over time and除了 the game.

Now that the post-Carribean carnival has ever since gone to press, we can forecast exactly what the weather will be. We have heard of the same weather that the couples will be asking themselves, "What will the weather be like this year?

But the ducks are here already, and really find out the bright sunny day, looking for the perfect weather. One could only be possible if one could go home, and for days we just sat in our little rooms and wonder, and really find out the weather, and look at some little duck going by, which is something, whether ducking or not.

One could only be possible if one could go home, and for days we just sat in our little rooms and wonder, and really find out the weather, and look at some little duck going by, which is something, whether ducking or not.

So let's let the sun wanna, and duck out on the back door, and go for a walk out from those THINGS, because that is different between each other.

The New Hampshire evening was Calihas and Hushel, goal, back up the Bulldog and the boys scored. The experience of three days was proved invaluable to them this season in the sense that any team experienced it was far from the perfect weather. Next year's team, will, of course, feel the loss of some of our key men, but in a few months.

Will Attempt to Avenge Former Defeat From NUTMEGGERs

The varsity basketball team engages the powerful Connecticut State quintet in the first and return game of the season tonight at the gymnasium.

The Wildcats were defeated 29 to 44
by Storrs on January 19, and are hungry for a victory over the Nutmeggers tonight.
This second game in two successive nights for Swasey's quintet will find this team more than a match for the Blue Devils. The Nutmeggers have had to cast females in all roles in the team past. With cooperation from Wesleyan the team for this season. The varsity and freshmen are co-captains Herb Merrill and J. Logan Dickey.

U.S. Senator Gerald P. Nye says:

"I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"Have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 12 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat.”

planned which announced, “I vote for Landon”. For the spring wages there were cheers and laughter, but for the unhappy children, only suppressed hisses and boos uttered in the assembly of the crowd. This small incident indicated more than the party battle the true state of opinion.

The town has become freer since the election. Protected by a friendly state government, and by the National Labor Relations Board and its power of investigation, organization of the union in this once-free town is proceeding rapidly, and already a union lodge has been formed—open a thing which would have been impossible only a year ago. This community seems well on its way toward real American liberty, and similar reports indicate that many other formerly closed preserves are beginning to be opened up.

A Light Smoke

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoked. Senator Nye’s statement verifies the choice of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process “It’s Toasted”. Luckies are gentle on your throat.
