BEWARE OF LENTINUS EPIDERIDEUS

It looks harmless, but this fungus destroys poles. So telephone research men wage war on it.

In laboratory, they study many woods, connect many preservatives. In Missis­sippi, Colorado and New Jersey—where conditions vary widely—they’ve set out whole armies of treated test poles. Their continuous experiments yield many a weird but valuable fact about destructive fungi and insects.

Since the Bell System each year uses over 500,000 poles for replacements and new lines, lengthening pole life is most important. It’s one more way to make telephone service still more dependable.

Garrison Avenue are only five residences. Therefore this means that if the sidewalk is to be established, a five dollar a day minimum should be paid, and to be de­liberated, and in all cases the recognition of the Committee for Industrial Reorgan­ization will be permanent. This is the first time in the history that a such a strag­gle has been taking place, and the entire union in existence. However, the outside unions are not to interfere in any way with the strike in existence. This recognition of the C. L. O. by the steel industry is remarkable that no de­liveries were carried on in a statesman­like manner. The managements have tried to down the strike is removed and with all itd increase of a great extent the hard feelings of labor toward capital have been alleviated considerably. There is no like­hood of sitdown strikes taking place, or violence of any type, or any type of blacklisting occurring because of strike activities. As yet many of the smaller steel plants have not agreed to the con­tract accepted by the larger steel plants. Under the threat of a strike and deterrents of following in the footsteps of the larger plants, the smaller steel plants will un­doubtedly close in the same terms. The recognition of the 40 hour week now makes it possible for the steel com­panies to engage in shipbuilding for the Navy. This is now possible because the steel companies will be conforming to the labor standards set up by the government in the Walsh-Haney Labor Standards Act. It is a remarkable change in the steel industry, and will in the future be beneficial to the world.
VARiTY LACROSSE MEN HOLD INFORMAL PRACTICE SESSIONS

Seven Lettermen Return From Outstanding 1936 Team

Due to the confused state of the lacrosse coaching situation, Director of Athletics William H. Cowell has authorized Allman Mitchell to conduct the informal practice sessions it was learned recently. There have been several men working out with Mitchell in the fields behind the fraternity houses on Madison road until the ground of Memorial field becomes dry enough for practice purposes.

Lettermen

There are seven lettermen returning from the team which finished in a tie for second place in the league standing with Harvard last year. They are Beauregard, '37, Bill Matthews, '37, Edmund Barker, '37, John Dufour, '38, Bob Manchester, '37, Bob Smart, '37, and Allan Simpson, '37. Charlie Karatsa, '37, a letterman two years ago and ineligible last year, will also be available.

Still Competition

There are several men who had experience last year from whose reminiscence of the team will have to be selected. The competition for the position at goal will be keen. The loss of Edward Hubbard by graduation, last year's regular goalie, leaves the post wide open. The leading candidates for the position are Sam Levine, Jim Ross, Ed Haseltine, and Dick Farr.

This year's schedule consists entirely of league games. The first game is not until the 17th of April, but the team will have plenty of time to get a smooth working combination. Freshmen candidates are being released by the official sanction of Mr. William Cowell. After every practice and the few games of the schedule has been arranged to the satisfaction of the competing teams, it must be approved by the faculty committee, which sees that no examination periods are being arranged during the contest.

Varsity Lacrosse candidates have been called out and thirty have responded to the call to assemble. And still, no one knows who the coach will be. About this time, the schedule of games is not too heavy.

It looks like an interesting season ahead. Only nine were women.

Bates.

We now approach that hill between the winter and spring sport seasons— a sort of intermission between the acts — a calm between storms . . . like the wait between two games of a double-header. Basketball, hockey, skiing and track—all have fitted across the stage, and the only performances which remain are one more rifle match and a freshman track meet with St. John's Prep on Saturday.

The highlight of the isolated hockey season occurs to be a personal one. Last week, Russ Martin, star defense man, was named right defense on the All-Star New England Intercollegiates Hockey League selection in a conference of coaches. Considering the lack of practice and the few games of the schedule which were played, this hard-hitting, fast-skating and accurate-shooting member of the rugged Martin-Mitchell defense combination received considerable distinction in being mentioned.

The members of the freshman winter sports team elected Frank V. Wright of the New Hampshire interscholastic track meet, winning first place in the 600 yard run and in the broad jump, and a second place in the 40 yard dash.

More than half of the members of the hockey team will be back on the ice November 6th, the first day of practice, with the exception of three who have graduated. In the past 31 years, 430 students have graduated from the U. of No. Dakota's medical school. Only nine were women.

FRESHMEN SELECT WRIGHT AS CAPTAIN

The members of the freshman winter track team elected Frank V. Wright of Brunswick, Maine as captain for the 1937 season. Frank was an outstanding runner while in high school at Brunswick. In his junior year he ran in the National A. A. U. meet in Madison Square Garden, New York. He ran in the New Hampshire intercollegiate track meet three times and was co-captain of the Brunswick High school track team last year.

This year Frank ran the anchor position on the Freemen relay team and has turned in several creditable performances. He was high scorer at the New Hampshire-Freeman-Easter academy track meet, winning first place in the 400 yard run and in the broad jump, and a second place in the 40 yard dash.

We notice that the gun goes off for the New England relays at Harvard on the same day, April 24, that the umpire will be yelling " Play Ball" on Brackett Field.

As yet he is at his office in the gym only a few hours each day. However, he feels much better and hopes to be completely recovered in a few weeks.

Mrs. Richardson Says Mind of Student Is Materialistic

by Esther Barrett

"She walks into class with never a note," said a pre-med. "And she never rambles. She makes what's in the books just as clear as a diagram—everything she says is right to the point!" He was speaking of Assistant Professor Richardson of the Zoology department who teaches human anatomy and physiology, advanced physiology, cytology, genetics, and neurology. That's what the students think of her. What does she think of them? She likes her students, but she says they have a tendency to be too "materialistically minded." That is, they often take courses with the idea of getting through and earning the required credits, instead of getting as much possible out of the course. She likes a student to have a definite purpose for his education.

Her own career is a good example of this type of study. Born Edith Edery in Millis, Massachusetts, she was graduated from the Wellesley Institute of the Wellesley Junior College in New London, New Hampshire. The next year she bought a one-room, eight-grade school in the tiny village of George Mills on Lake Sunapee. She came to the University of New Hampshire, worked her way through school, and was graduated in 1922. Two years later she received the degree of Master of Arts from her Alma Mater. She did original research on the mud ecology of the Granite State Magazine, assembled in 1623, as well as numerous papers which were first published or written while she was a student. There are also several papers on the Granite State Magazine, as well as all issues of the Granite up to the present time, that can be found on this issue.

New Hampshire Room Holds Books on School History

by Marion James

Few students are aware of the existence of the New Hampshire room in the second floor of the library, which contains books pertaining to the state and to the university. Perhaps most interesting to the students is the material about the university. First there are, bound in one volume, the catalogues of Dartmouth college and the University of New Hampshire. These catalogues begin back in the period when the university was in Hanover, and continue up to the present date. On June 22, 1832, the first issue of the College Monthly, issued to all college students, appeared.
