President Engelhardt Addresses Student Body at Convocation

New Position Becomes Active Upon Assumption of Executive Duties

Dr. Fred Engelhardt made his first formal appearance as president of the University of New Hampshire when he addressed the meeting of the University of New Hampshire gymnasium at the Commons. In a brief address to the assembled students, the new president announced the plan of action for the coming year.

"I have accepted the position of president of the University with the understanding that I shall be responsible for the general welfare of the University and that I shall have the authority to act in the best interest of the University. I shall endeavor to carry out the spirit of the gift that established the University, and to work for the advancement of knowledge and for the betterment of the human condition."

The new president also announced that he intends to talk with faculty members and officers of the University to learn about the conditions of the times. He will make a plan for the administration of the University with the aim of giving the best and most vital education possible. He will also make a plan for the conditions of the times. He will make a plan for the administration of the University with the aim of giving the best and most vital education possible.

"As a tribute to the new president's efforts, the student body to Dr. Engelhardt's leadership. He said, "I am gratified that the University has placed on you, the students, the responsibility of following that vocation."

President Engelhardt Amused At Expected Revolutionary Changes

During the World War, Dr. Engelhardt was appointed an officer of the United States Navy and served on the staff of the President of the United States. He returned to the University after the war and continued to serve as president until 1922. During his tenure, he made significant contributions to the University, including the establishment of the New Hampshire Hall of Fame and the creation of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture.

As was said yesterday in your first formal introduction to the undergraduates of this institution, you may expect the greatest cooperation from the student body. The University realizes that it is only through this cooperation that the improvements in helping this school rise among the ranks of other colleges in the nation can be accomplished.

There are still many things to be done here. Under your leadership and with the University solidarity behind you, much progress can be made in improving any adverse conditions which may exist and solving many problems which may arise.

We hope that we may get to know you, perhaps even more than we have known former presidents and that we may not look on you as some high, out-of-reach head of the University but as a true friend and fellow man.

It is almost always when things are all blocked up and impossible that a happening comes. If you are sure that you are faced with a need. God is turning the world around with his superintendence of things. This is the faith of the New Englander.

With his superintendence of things, God is ever more useful. It is the constant aim of Bell System men and women to make it ever more use­_________ ful— and get them.
LACROSSE PLAYERS GET FIRST PRACTICE

In the first practice of the year, Coach Al Mitchener last Wednesday got his charges through a stiff workout on Memorial Field. The worries of the ground has prevented previous activities on the field.

Although it was the first day of organized practice, Coach Mitchener was quite satisfied with the work of the men. Charlie Karza, star of the team two years ago, looked exceptionally well as did Johnny Dalline, Bob Manchester, Bill Mathews, Bob Smart and Ed Prefete. Ross and Levine worked out in the goal.

Equipment was distributed yesterday and contact work will begin the last of this week or the first part of next. The first game is a week from tomorrow with Tufts, and, if Tufts will have played two games by then, the Wildcats will be under a disadvantage. Tufts also will have the benefit of extended workouts in their camp.

MITCHENER ASSUMES LACROSSE COACHING

Although Coach Ernest Christianson, who has been on leave of absence since last October, after having been taken ill, will return to the University of New Hampshire April 18, Allan Mitchener, senior three-letter athlete who has been assisting in coaching this year, will be supervising coach of the Wildcat lacrosse team this spring.

The announcement that Christianson will return but will be unable to do any field coaching came today through William H. Cowell, Director of Athletics, Mitchener, Milton, Mass., was one of New Hampshire's three all New England lacrosse players last year, and until this year was also outstanding on the Wildcat teams in football and hockey. "Moon" Mullin, Newmarket, another New England all New England lacrosse representative, is expected to work with Mitchener in handling the freshman squad.

Christensen, still convalescing from an illness which forced him to drop his job as line mentor for the New Hampshire football squad just before the Tufts game last fall, and which has led him to spend the past six months at Miami under doctor's care, will work with Mitchener in leading the stick-and-net men, but will be unable to do active coaching.

All entering teams received 100 points.

The next activities are badminton and ping-pong. Doubles team from each house to enter the badminton tournament are to play off next week. No doubles teams from both houses from each house must be in by Thursday. The badminton equipment is available for practice from one to two o'clock and from five to six o'clock starting April 7 for the next two weeks.

The ping-pong tournament is to start Monday, April 12. It is desired that games be played off in the house, the winner to play in the big tournament.

Barbara Stanwyck says:

"Luckies make a hit with my throat"

"When talking pictures arrived, my stage experience on Broadway gave me my chance on the screen. Taking care of my throat became serious business with me, so I changed to Luckies—a light smoke. Of course I smoke other cigarettes now and then but sooner or later I come back to Luckies. They make a hit with my throat and also with my taste."

I hope you will feel that I am here to render service to you," he said. "I hope that when you meet me on the campus, you will speak to me as I want to know you all."

He then quoted Dr. Arthur Morgan, head of the Tennessee Valley experiment, who said that he wished that young people could be brought to realize that the welfare of a group is dependent on the welfare of the individual.

He took another illustration from one of Dr. Morgan's books: "It doesn't make a bit of difference, if you are teaching a dog to chase his tail, which way he turns, whether he turns to the right or to the left. However, in life it will make a difference which way you turn. Whether or not your decision is the right one will depend on you." He closed by saying, "I hope the people of New Hampshire really appreciate what they have. Not only is this a beautiful state, but it is a state of fine people."
