GRANITE PUBLISHING CONTRACT AWARDED

The Granite board has recently awarded the publishing contract for this year's Granite to the Robert W. Kelley Publishing Company of Newburyport, Mass., same publishing company that printed the last year's Granite. The excellence of last year's printing prompted this award.

In order to assure the realists of this year's contents, the board also awarded the Howard Wesson Company of Worcester, Mass., the contract for the engraving of the festival program. The selection of this firm is based on the Union League of Manchester, N. H., which did the engraving last year.

SARKANOVA ENTERTAINS ENTHUSIASTIC GROUP

Continuing the season's concert series, the eminent pianist, Jeania Sarko­nova, presented a program of works which drew a large audience in Memorial Hall Wed­nesday evening, February 21.

The first half of her program comprised the sonata No. 17 in D minor, Opus 31, of Beethoven and two numbers by Liszt—Preludes Nos. 5 and 4 and a Rondo for piano and orchestra. The encore was an excellent rendition of the prelude and fugue in G minor

In lighter vein, part three of the pro­gram included a dance suite of Paul M. W. Martin's Falling Creek. This pro­gram of Martin's Dance Rhapsody in this campus was so well received that Sauloqqo impulsed only regret. An aud­ience of approximately 50 was brought to lighted in the intensely realistic church of Delphian's Chapel of the Chimes. A church, of course, other than something, the composition grew in volume to the chanting of Gregorian chants; then, without warning, faded slowly into a "deep and solemn" type of mood, and again in shadow, echoing tones. Schu­balt's tone poem "Die Forelle" portrayed a vivid picture of warring trout with a peculiar Spanish flavor, flavored with a strong taste of contemporary writing.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Engdahl and Rev. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bayne, guests of the history department of the Women's Club at a supper meeting Stu­day evening, February 21, was F. Alexander Ma­conochie, a specialist in rural recreation, Professors MacDonald, Elizabeth McGee, Paul D. T. O'Brien, David E. George, and Paul Grenfell.

The board also awarded the How­ ard Wesson Company of Worcester, Mass., the contract for the engraving of the festival program. The selection of this firm is based on the Union League of Manchester, N. H., which did the engraving last year.

SARKANOVA ENTERTAINS ENTHUSIASTIC GROUP

Continuing the season's concert series, the eminent pianist, Jeania Sarko­nova, presented a program of works which drew a large audience in Memorial Hall Wed­nesday evening, February 21.

The first half of her program comprised the sonata No. 17 in D minor, Opus 31, of Beethoven and two numbers by Liszt—Preludes Nos. 5 and 4 and a Rondo for piano and orchestra. The encore was an excellent rendition of the prelude and fugue in G minor.

In lighter vein, part three of the pro­gram included a dance suite of Paul M. W. Martin's Falling Creek. This pro­gram of Martin's Dance Rhapsody in this campus was so well received that Sauloqqo impulsed only regret. An aud­ience of approximately 50 was brought to lighted in the intensely realistic church of Delphian's Chapel of the Chimes. A church, of course, other than something, the composition grew in volume to the chanting of Gregorian chants; then, without warning, faded slowly into a "deep and solemn" type of mood, and again in shadow, echoing tones. Schu­balt's tone poem "Die Forelle" portrayed a vivid picture of warring trout with a peculiar Spanish flavor, flavored with a strong taste of contemporary writing.

The board also awarded the How­ ard Wesson Company of Worcester, Mass., the contract for the engraving of the festival program. The selection of this firm is based on the Union League of Manchester, N. H., which did the engraving last year.
The New Hampshire

The New Hampshire, February 16, 1938.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM

When the hysteria of war has gripped the world in its ugly maw, reason vanishes in the face of hate and ignorance. On September 13, 1917, William August Schaper, chairman of the political science department at the University of Minnesota, and an internationally famed expert on taxation and government, was dismissed by the Board of Regents as Professor Emeritus. This charge was never proved and many of his friends believe it to have been a personal vendetta at the University of Minnesota, and an internationally famed expert on taxation and government, was dismissed by the Board of Regents as Professor Emeritus. This charge was never proved and many of his friends believe it to have been a personal vendetta.

In these idoms, ideals, and traditions of the University, and the life of those whom they lift up to the level of truth and understanding, the University stands. In these idoms, ideals, and traditions of the University, and the life of those whom they lift up to the level of truth and understanding, the University stands.

SURVEY OF COLLEGE SPEECH CONDUCTED

Mr. R. B. Clarke of Maitland, Flori- dana, is compiling a glossary of present-day college idioms, slang, and jargon. He wishes to have the assistance of imaginative and reflective students to write these expressions for his book. He wishes to have the assistance of imaginative and reflective students to write these expressions for his book.

A FRIEND

Many alumni, members of the faculty, and upperclassmen who were privileged to know and love Arthur G. Schenck early and last evening in the dormitory. The University of New Hampshire is no exception, having its own expressions as unique as it is personal. It is not uncommon for students to feel that they have a right to express their own thoughts and feelings, and it is not uncommon for students to feel that they have a right to express their own thoughts and feelings.

The New Hampshire ski team left early at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon for Middlebury College, and will participate in the Middlebury Ski Carni­val. Last year, the New Hampshire team placed first in the ski meet.

The same men as competed at Dart­mouth have been named for the Middlebury meet, and the names of those making up the Middlebury team are as follows: Captain, Damon; School, Townsend; Norton, Jones; Mantle, Whitehaus; Manager, Caldwell; and Coach, Dr. W. F. K. Whitehouse.

The Middlebury ski meet will be the scene of the Intercollegiate Ski Union championships, to be held at Middlebury College. The Middlebury ski meet will be the scene of the Intercollegiate Ski Union championships, to be held at Middlebury College.

In the spring the program plans to hold meetings in more a less picnic style and social and shuffleboard activities of the club. In the spring the program plans to hold meetings in more a less picnic style and social and shuffleboard activities of the club.

THE "MINNESAENGERS"

The German professors with their students are planning to attend this evening in Ballard Hall for a few short hours of singing, entertainment, and refreshments. Besides the familiar songs and the popular "Schubertlieder" as usual features of the program, Bob Bradley played accompaniments on his piano accordion, and Fred Johnson, "The Wanderer" by Schubert, and Mozart's "Airm" from "The Magic Flute." Rachel Schermer invented something for the heelers. The German professors with their students are planning to attend this evening in Ballard Hall for a few short hours of singing, entertainment, and refreshments. Besides the familiar songs and the popular "Schubertlieder" as usual features of the program, Bob Bradley played accompaniments on his piano accordion, and Fred Johnson, "The Wanderer" by Schubert, and Mozart's "Airm" from "The Magic Flute." Rachel Schermer invented something for the heelers.

A F R I N G

Why not telephone home often? Rates to local phone stations lowest any time after 7 P.M., and all day Sunday.
KITTENS FALL PREY TO EXETER QUINTET

Wednesday afternoon, the powerful Exeter Academy basketball team gained the distinction of being one of the three teams to defeat New Hampshires high school boys this year. Exeter knocked a bit-too-easy 61-48 win over the Kittens in the most exciting game of the three before a capacity crowd for some time.

After the first half, the sharp-shooters, Adams and his cohorts ran neck and neck with the Exeter Team, and the outcome was uncertain. Quincy and Whitcomb have been outstanding members of cross-country, basketball, and track teams. Their participation in the national junior 600-yard championship, and at Princeton Memorial Games, and the B. A. A. Games held recently in the Boston Garden. He runs anchor on the mile track team which was in the events in the recent meet.

Percey Whitcomb is in the lead-off position on the relay team, and with Quincy, has been an important factor in the team's success. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fractonary at Barnum. He is captain of captain, and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at Barnum.

George Quinn is a member of the advanced team of the junior five on the captain and Assistant Adjutant. He is also a member of Scull and candlelight fraternity. Moreover, he is a member of the Phi Delta Epsilon fraternity at Barnum, a member of Blue Key, and the Masonic order. He is a member of the standing track standing track team for three years and has been "on the hook" every year. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and the "N H" club.

Hebron is one of the strongest teams in New England prep schools. They have been unbeaten in New England this season. The team is one of the two clubs which defeated Exeter this season, the other being the Barnum team. Hebron is a large steel vacuum cells, rotating magnetrons, and large steel vacuum cells. The team explored unknown scientific lands in physical education and athletics. The new equipment and the intramurial equipment have made it possible for all the Hebronts to work. The club has won many games. The work and division of a possibility.

The board of trustees recently approved the application of the various organizations to the Associated Officers of the Winter track team. Both boys have been regulars on the varsity football team for two years, and have been regulars on the varsity basketball team for two years, and have the opportunity for a fellow to make a name in the field of athletics.

The track team goes down to Maine in a dual meet with the Maine team on Thursday. The Hebron team is the first organized basketball team in New England. The team has won once and lost once to Northeastern. The team holds the State of Maine championship in basketball.

The completion of Lewis Fields, new stadium and $600,000 contribution of Dr. James, head of the department of instruction in physical education and athletics, one of the fastest college games of the year against Maine. The game will be played at the University of Maine the following day.

C A P T A I N S OF WINTER TRACK TEAMS CHosen

TERMS

Dover, New Hampshire. The audience consisted of more than four hundred persons, many of whom went up from Durham to see the game. They were taxed to the limit.

With both teams entering the game with much at stake, the game was two minutes in the second period when the Wildcats finally tallied was hung up by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.

In the freshman contest, the B. U. team was won easily from the Kittens, 6-1. Chambers started for the Terriers. The game was played by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.

The opening score was made by Hosg, and the game was played. The game was won by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.

In the freshman contest, the B. U. team was won easily from the Kittens, 6-1. Chambers started for the Terriers. The game was played by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.

The opening score was made by Hosg, and the game was played. The game was won by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.

In the freshman contest, the B. U. team was won easily from the Kittens, 6-1. Chambers started for the Terriers. The game was played by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.

In the freshman contest, the B. U. team was won easily from the Kittens, 6-1. Chambers started for the Terriers. The game was played by Durham, assisted by Ross Martin, another big factor. The game was played.
NEW STUDENT ESSAY CONTEST ANNOUNCED

"The Anti-fascist Struggle in Spain Today"—the subject of the New Hampshire Beta chapter of the League of American Writers—will be the topic of the third Saturday in March, 1938. The principal essayist who will speak on this subject will be selected from among the candidates for prizes.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The contest is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshmen.

The judges are: Edwin S. Burdeil, President of the University of New Hampshire; Huldah Boerker, pianist; Miss Marjorie A. Landon, secretary; and Mr. Leon Small, a graduate of Bowdoin College '36; Mr. Small is at present a student at the School of Education of the University of New Hampshire.

The essay contest is sponsored by the League of American Writers, New Hampshire Beta chapter, and is open to all students of the University of New Hampshire who are not yet freshman...