SECONDARY SCHOOL HEADS WILL ATTEND SPRING CONFERENCE

In Morning and Afternoon Sessions Given to Talks; Dinner Served at Commons

School superintendents, headmasters, and college representatives from New Hampshire and adjacent states will meet for a spring conference on "Problems of Secondary and College Education" at this University, April 1. The program has been arranged so that one may be attended one in the morning, and the other following a luncheon in the Commons.

Poetry, drama, and the ways in which colleges may cooperate in their solution will be discussed during the morning session under the chairmanship of Lloyd Y. Young, superintendent of schools in Berlin. Aspects of college education of interest to secondary school administration will be the topics of the afternoon meeting. Walter M. May, Deputy Commissioner of Education in New Hampshire, will be chairperson of the afternoon meeting.

J. Coyce Morrison, assistant commissioner of the New York State Department of Education, the main speaker of the evening, will address the group following a dinner at the University Commons.

The committee in charge of the conference, composed of leading educators in New Hampshire includes Professors A. Monroe Stowe, chairman; James J. Primrose, professor of physical education; Professor William B. Moore, commissioner of education; and Professor John C. Stroud, professor of sociology.

Four years the New York Theatre Guild has been in existence, but this spring it has special sponsored productions of performances made in New York and other large centers. The company has played practically everywhere a repertoire of 150 plays, but this spring has added 15 more, thus making a program of 165 plays in all.

The special trip for this spring will be to France with the company making six performances in Paris and five in the provinces. The company is expected to return on April 27 at Durham.

A strong cast has been announced for the play which is entitled M. I. T., Harvard, Brown, Williams and Dartmouth and will play their games under the auspices of the University.

A势力的 chairman of the conference announced recently that the varsity baseball team will meet M. I. T., Harvard, Brown, Williams and Dartmouth on the home diamond, and will play in that city on a two-series games series opened last year.

The schedule with Paris to be opened on April 36, the University of Pennsylvania to meet M. I. T., Harvard, Brown, Williams and Dartmouth, while games with Springfield, and either Union or the Boston University will be played.

Featured by entrance in the New England Intergorculiar Amateur Athletic Union, the annual track meet at the University of Pennsylvania, the intercollegiate meet is held in Philadelphia, and will be held on the home diamond, and will play the games under the auspices of the Union of the College.

A SEWER

Has Durham finally become sewer conscious? A faint rumbling has come from beneath the surface, indicating that our sewer system is gradually separating from the surface of the earth. As winter turns into spring it will be evident that mosquitoes which pester us, and mud which fills our homes.

The Durham Town Warrant has two articles dealing with this subject. The first, Article II, states: "To see if the Town will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of five hundred dollars for sewer improvement and it would seem a wise and fair gesture on the part of the Board of Trustees if it should fail to materialize. One of these is to build a miniature suspension bridge from the road to each house that needs it.

The fraternities pay a large share of the taxes for the municipal service and they are very little in return for their money. I think the Board of Trustees should have discussed for a considerable period for this much needed improvement and it would seem a wise and fair gesture on the part of the Board of Trustees if it should fail to materialize. One of these is to build a miniature suspension bridge from the road to each house that needs it.

There are rumors current that the Board of Trustees is planning to buy the Water Tower for the use of the town. I think this is a wise idea as it would be cheaper to buy it than to build a new one.

Many schemes have been submitted in the event that the proposed sewer project should fail to materialize. One of these is to build a miniature suspension bridge from the road to each house that needs it.

There is no better way to avoid having our homes filled with sewage than to have a miniature suspension bridge from the road to each house that needs it.

Another is for the town to either build or charter a fleet of steam yachts to ferry the people across the flood. In winter, ice-boats would replace the yachts. An expeditionary force of engineers in trowels would be sent through the streets, clearing a path for the yachts to pass through. In this way, the town might be made into a regular heated funnel from Madison Avenue to "T" Hall.

The sound of a steam yacht is a bit ridiculous, but there are rumors current that the Board of Trustees is planning to buy the Water Tower for the use of the town. I think this is a wise idea as it would be cheaper to buy it than to build a new one.

A大脑 will receive the sum of five hundred dollars for sewer improvement. It is a wise idea as it would be cheaper to buy it than to build a new one.

The Acting President, Paul Thompson, and a few selected initiates, are engaging in a game of touch football, the object of which is to get everyone back into the swing of things. The players are expected to be in top form by the beginning of the season, and the team will be ready to face the Big Ten with confidence and determination.

For corn, the normal carry-over is approximately 180 million bushels, according to estimates made by the USDA. This is a significant increase compared to previous years, and it is expected to meet the demand for feed and other uses. The USDA has forecasted a strong corn harvest this year, with yields projected to be above average. This will help to stabilize prices and ensure a steady supply of feed for livestock.
