Campaign for Mayor Begins Wednesday

Launcelot Erb, Mahatma Gandhi Kalil, and Dunlap To Address Durhamites

Wednesday noon, the first blasts of forensic eloquence will be heard from the time-honored Mayor's reservation, the A. T. O. house, as Messrs. Dunlap, Erb and Kalil spread before the Durham voters, their plans for civic improvement and development.

November 12 is Homecoming, and Homecoming is synonymous with mayor elections. The students must elect a mayor to welcome the alumni to town; to be master of ceremonies at the rally and stunt night, and to lead the Wildcats to victory over the Springfield football machine.

The annual mayoralty campaign has been a recognized part of University life since 1926, when Lawrence Jensen won out over Joe Bryant, midget "Kaljarvi", Charles Gray, and Silent "Abe" Burke. A host of traditions have grown up from this event. Varied types and personalities have won the position of Mayor. In 1927, Bill Gelpke, the "paper-hanger's" candidate, was elected on his record as fire-chief, claiming sole credit for the development of the fire department.

In 1928, Walter Ramsay, running on a platform calling for an automatic steering device for one-armed drivers, won out despite the accusation that he intended to charge the fire-escapes of the girls' dormitories with 40,000 volts of electricity.

Graft and corruption entered the scene when Mayor "Soap" Blaisdell endorsed a certain brand of shoe in exchange for a pair.

NEW HOCKEY RINK IS BEING BUILT

A new hockey rink, with student labor under the direction of Mr. Lovren, superintendent of properties, is now being constructed south of the baseball diamond, for use this coming season.

The situation for the rink used to be behind the rifle range by the women's gymnasium, but facilities for spectators were limited here. On the new site the rink will not only be better placed, in relation to the new men's Phys. Ed. quarters, but will be better for audiences.

The work that is going on now is mostly in leveling and removing rock matter.

WORK STARTS NEXT MAY ON POSTOFFICE

Construction of Durham's new postoffice is scheduled to begin with Federal appropriation of $87,000 in May or June. Mr. Hiemer, Treasury Engineer in charge of renovating the Concord postoffice, has recently visited Durham, inspecting the site and analyzing the composition of the ground, finding it to be composed of clay and ledge.

Postmaster Gorman says that an enlarged postoffice has long been needed in Durham. Most of the mail comes from the college but there is enough of that to keep the office busy continuously.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY HELD AT THETA CHI

A reception was held at the Theta Chi house on Thursday, November 4, at which the Democratic candidates for offices on the coming elections were present. Among the visitors were United States Senator Fred H. Brown, a candidate for re-election; Attorney John L. Sullivan, retiring commander of the American Legion and candidate for governor; Congressman Alphonse Roy of Manchester; Mr. John Elliot, an alumnus and trustee of the University, and a candidate for the state senate; Attorney William Grimes, a recent and well known graduate of the University; and all candidates for County offices. Over one hundred people attended the reception, making it, according to reports, one of the most successful of its kind ever held in Durham.

UNIVERSITY STUNT NIGHT IS FRIDAY

The program for Blue Key Stunt Night, is practically complete. Bert Teague, of the Blue Key, has announced that any house or institution desiring to make an entry, must do so before 8:00 on November 6, the performances scheduled for Friday night. The following houses have registered programs so far — Hetzel Hall, Chi Omega, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Beta, Scott Hall, Theta Upsilon, Phi Delta Upsilon, Smith Hall, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Theta Kappa Phi.

Stunt Night originated many years ago, and has been held every year, with the exceptions of the years from 1929 to 1933. However, it was revived through the efforts of Blue Key, and has been presented ever since. The general atmosphere of Stunt Night, and the sayings of the newly elected Mayor, are the memorable features of past Stunt Nights. Usually various well-known alumni are recognized by the chair, and called upon to make short speeches.

For the last two years, S. A. E. has been the winning fraternity; 1936's skit dramatized President Lewis' building program, his death, and the dedication of Lewis Fields.

Phi Mu, winner for the women, presented a "Kitchen" band, consisting of girls and kitchen utensils.

New Hampshire Defeats Tufts, 10-6, at Medford

HARVARD PROFESSOR TALKS TO LIBERALS

Dr. Allan Butler, associate professor of pediatrics at Harvard Medical School and a member of the committee of physicians which has been trying to liberalize the medical profession, delivered a talk to the members of the Liberal Club in October on the subject "What About Socialized Medicine."

Dr. Butler told the ninety members present that he was in favor of socialized medicine. He pointed out that the very poor who are cared for by the large medical clinics receive, the benefits of medical attention from trained specialists, of a wider knowledge, and of scientifically perfect equipment, while the well to do have to put up with inferior treatment. He did not explain how this program would be financed.

He also pointed out that this plan would not necessarily exclude the private practitioner, and attempted to explain some of the fallacies of the average layman's conception of socialized medicine.

Bill Ford, President of the Liberal Club, has announced that there will be an executive committee meeting November 7, to draw up a program for the year, and a general membership meeting, November 9 in the Commons Organization room.

On Monday, November 14 the Liberal Club will take part in a radio broadcast presented by Christian Work. Paul Martineau will be in charge of the program.

FAMOUS VIOLINIST HERE NOVEMBER 10

Ruth Breton, famous violinist, who made many friends when she played here two years ago, returns to give a concert in the Gymnasium, Thursday, November 10. This will be the second in the current Lectures and Concerts Series, and will begin at 8:00 P. M.

Miss Breton, one of the most gifted of the young artists, has appeared with almost every well known symphonic orchestra in the United States. From the time when she first played with the St. Louis Symphonic Orchestra in Louisville until the present her popularity has increased rapidly. Her polished style and skilled technique have won her much applause.

Miss Breton received her entire musical education in America, studying first under Frantz Kneisel and later under Leopold Auer in New York. Despite this fact, she met with great success in a recent concert tour of Europe. She was acclaimed in London, Hamburg, Munich, Berlin and other important cities where she played. More recently Miss Breton has given concerts in America, playing at the Carnegie hall in New York.

300 head-hunters of the Papuan jungle have been won over in the past sixteen months by the Oxford Movement.

Wildcats Capitalize on Jumbo Errors in Loosely-Played But Exciting Game

A Homecoming Day crowd of over 5,000 jammed Tufts oval, in Medford, last Saturday afternoon, to watch New Hampshire's Wildcats capitalize on enough Tufts errors to win by a 10-6 score. Out-rushed, out-passed, even out-kicked by their opponents, the victory-starved Sauermen played alert football, took advantage of every one of the many breaks which came their way, and came out a close first in one of the most exciting football games ever seen in Medford. The win was the second of the season for New Hampshire and left Tufts still victory-less.

The actual scoring plays all came as a result of fumbles and pass interceptions. After an uneventful first period, featured only by a Tufts drive which carried the ball to within the New Hampshire 20 yard line before the 'Cats rose and held for downs, the closing minutes of the second quarter saw the Blue and White begin the fireworks when Mat Flaherty intercepted a pass almost from the very hands of passer Art Griffin, Tufts halfback, and gleefully scampered 35 yards to the enemy one foot line where he was brought down by a desperate tackler. After the Jumbo line had held Jack Hanlon for no gain, Captain Paul Horne dove through a slim hole at right tackle for the score. With Burt Mitchell holding the pigskin, Rip Jones neatly place-kicked the extra point, and the Sauermen were out in front, 7-0.

Jumbos Threaten

Following this score, the Jumbos took the ball on their own 20, after Paul Horne's kickoff had gone over the goal line, and started a powerful march which netted them five first downs and carried them to the New Hampshire 22 yard line, where the advance was halted by the end of the half.

Coming out strong after the intermission, Tufts got down to work again taking the kickoff on its own 29, following West's runback from the five yard marker, and progressing to the New Hampshire 20, only to lose out on a score when Griffin fumbled the ball and Piretti recovered for New Hampshire. A fine kick by Ed Preble at this point, set the Jumbos back on their heels again, ending the immediate danger. After an attempted sally through the line and a forward pass had both failed, Griffin fell back to his own 45 yard line to kick. Racing in from his end position, Wildcat Steve Lampson, smallest man on either squad, blocked the punt, sending the ball bounding down to the Tufts 25 yard line, where Rip Jones fell upon it. Horne carried to the 21, Mitchell picked up four more, and an attempted pass from Horne to Lampson, fell incomplete in the end zone. A fifteen yard penalty against New Hampshire set the ball back to the 33, but Horne regained the distance on the next play, with a sparkling off-tackle drive. However, the Wildcats failed to make the first down and Tufts took over the ball. Unable to gain,

Oberlin "REC" Dances Becoming Popular at American Colleges

It started as "recreation", was quickly shortened to merely "rec", and is increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds around American college campuses—and justly so. "Rec" does not merely mean dancing to victrola music; it has come to be synonymous with a general good time.

Miss Marion Beckwith, instructor in the women's physical education department, brought the idea here from Oberlin, the first college to have "rec." Here the dancing started in the rather limited confines of a corridor, but finally a rec hall was obtained, and the students danced to piano music. The idea is now so popular at Oberlin that the hall is busy every night.

Here at New Hampshire under the guidance of Nell Evans, "rec" is catching on quickly, for we have available an excellent place for the dancing in the new women's gym. An amplifier was secured through a special fund, and the records for the victrola are furnished through the treasury of the Women's Athletic Association. Last year the dances, were held Wednesday and Thursday evenings from seven to eight, the Wednesday class being for beginners. There was some difficulty in obtaining girls to dance with the beginners, but this year the Association has arranged with the sororities to have them supply the Wednesday partners. This year also there is a rec on Monday nights, and in the future one is planned for Tuesday evenings for the benefit of the non-fraternity and non-sorority members. It is also hoped that two new ping-pong tables will be available soon.

The Wednesday evening classes for beginners are especially popular. The boys have been divided in groups of twenty-five each; one group receives instruction from the beginning of the year to Thanksgiving, while the other comes from Thanksgiving to the end of the semester. Usually only the fundamentals of dancing are taught, but tomorrow night instruction will be given in the Lambeth Walk. Attendance will not be limited to beginners; anyone may come provided he brings a partner with him.

The Monday and Thursday classes have also been popular—as many as 150 have attended at times, thanks to the larger gym. Rec dances have also been held recently on Saturday nights. The W. A. A. has long realized the need for some sort of social activity on campus on those week-ends when there are no football games, and the Association believes that these Saturday night "recs" held from eight to ten, are the answer. These recs will be held any Saturday evening when there is nothing else scheduled.

BAND

During the past few weeks, we have had opportunity to compare our University Band with bands from other schools. The general consensus of opinion is that our band would show up well in a competition with any other college band in New England, except in one respect—their uniforms.

White duck slacks and blue sweaters may well serve the purpose in a high school band, but they are painfully inadequate as a uniform for a band representing a University of our size.

Next year our band will compete with the Harvard band, one of the finest college bands in New England. By that time, suitable uniforms must be provided. There is no usable appropriation for this purpose in the University and we are told that the band cannot put on a drive for money.

This puts the problem directly to the University or to some student organization. The necessary funds must be raised! Will the University appropriate money for this purpose, or will some organization take up the task?

FIVE SENIORS VISIT BOSTON ARCHITECTS

Five University of New Hampshire seniors, majors in the department of architecture, were guests of the Boston Society of Architects at a joint meeting held in Boston last week.

Some 150 architects and students from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard University and New Hampshire heard Charles G. Loring, president of the Boston club; Dean William Emerson, M.I.T.; Dean Joseph Hudnut, Harvard; Professor Eric T. Huddleston, New Hampshire; Mr. H. Daland, Chandler; and Mr. William Roger Greeley speak on new developments and opportunities in the field of architecture.

Among the student speakers was Allan Evans of Claremont, representing the University, who outlined the aims, hopes, and viewpoints of undergraduates preparing for an architectural career. Other New Hampshire undergraduates attending were Florence R. Dodge, Dorinda Hinckley, James Liberty, and Edward B. Miles.

The plan of inviting architectural students from Harvard, M. I. T. and the University of New Hampshire was inaugurated this year with the purpose of securing "an expression of the points of view of the educator, student, and the architect, primarily to indicate how all three may work together to the best advantage for the benefit of the younger men about to start in the practice of architecture."

UNIVERSITY HONORS WAR VETERANS FRIDAY

Students of the University of New Hampshire will honor World War dead in simple Armistice day exercises, Friday morning.

All classes will be excused at 11:30 on Thursday to allow students to convene on Memorial field, a field dedicated to the memory of University students killed in the War. The Reserve Officers Training Corps regiment of the University, accompanied by the band, will march on to the field and stand in parade formation throughout the exercises.

Dr. Engelhardt, President of the University, will address the undergraduates and then call the Honor roll of the 18 New Hampshire men who gave their lives in France: Daniel C. Stinson, '05; William H. Robinson, '13; Forrest Eugene Adams, '15; Paul E. Corriveau, '15; Earle Montgomery, '15; Pitt S. Willand, '16; John Humiston, '16; Donald W. Libby, '17; George D. Parnell, '17; William H. Thomas, '17; Armand A. Brien, '17; Cyril T. Hunt, '19; Ralph W. Shirley, '19; Frank E. Booma, '20; Otis E. Soper, '20; Fred Stone, '21; George H. Elan, 'x18; and John W. Powers. "Taps" will be sounded by the regimental bugler following the reading of the roll and then students will stand at attention while the National Anthem is played concluding the morning exercises.

Durham Dribble

The columnist has certain inalienable rights: He may write about anything . . . the international situation or what goes on in Congreve's smoker . . . or anybody . . . Prexy, the Dean, or the lowliest freshman . . . in any way . . . prose or verse, slang or classical English. And you can't do anything about it, except shoot him, and the G-men will get you for that. Recognizing these rights and determined to take full advantage of them, we inaugurate this column. We are definitely not a gossip column, although we take an interest in our neighbors' welfare. We do not propose to reform the world, although we have a few ideas for the improvement of this campus. We are light-hearted, but we realize the futility of life. We are serious, but we do not scorn the trivial. In short, we are interested in everything and everybody.

The campus was practically deserted this week-end. We counted thirty-three people at the dance, at the gym, and that included the chaperones and the janitor. And we think the janitor's taste in music is lousy. Even the bleachers were empty.

But it was quite a week-end at the Hotel Brunswick, Jacob Wirth's and The Fox and Hounds, we hear. And just how many people chased Franklin—300 or 2000? Doesn't it seem swell to be on the right side of the score again? For once Sumner Fellman, our ace sports editor, predicted the outcome of the game correctly. Orchids to you, Sumner.

What this nation needs is not a good five-cent cigar, but more R. O. T. C. men who used to be Boy Scouts. Imagine folding a flag with the stripes out! What good will our army do us in time of war, if it doesn't realize that a flag is always folded blue?

The play was grand, wasn't it? There was some darn fine acting there—Jean Adams, Dodo LeClaire, and Mary Sarson. And Charlie Craig was all right too.

We read in "Life" of a "Wrestling Room" at a TKE chapter house on Ohio State campus. Now that's a plank for the platform of some aspiring mayoralty candidate—A Wrestling Room in every dorm.

"Rec" Wednesday evening is open to everybody. They're going to teach the Lambeth Walk. But if you don't belong to the class, you'll have to drag your own woman.

Here's a trifle we picked up today:
TIRED WITH ALL THESE
Eight o'clock classes, and Commons' hash,
Ecco and soci—all sorts of trash
To fill your poor brain, and warnings, and

Professors who give exams and standing in lines, and making your own bed,
And never any sleep until you're dead,
Unannounced quizzes, and Durham rain,
And the same food over and over again.

Oh, blankety blank and damnation!
Who in Hell wants an education?

If you think this is lousy, why don't you send in one? We're glad to get contributions—it's so hard to fill up a column day after day.

Remember: "Play as if you were going to die tomorrow, work as if you were going to live forever."

POTTERY LAB. IN NEW QUARTERS

The new Pottery Laboratory is in the process of getting settled after having changed location from the basement of James hall to the Shops. Miss Phelps, the instructor, is very enthusiastic about the arrangement, for the new lab is much lighter and sunnier. In addition to this, some new pieces of equipment have been placed in the department which will aid greatly in the work. Miss Phelps hopes to start a class for children in the near future.

RECENT EVENTS

by George Eison

Germany and Italy, sitting as a court of "arbitration" in the Czechoslovakia-Hungarian frontier dispute, Monday ordered Czechoslovakia to surrender 4,634 square miles of territory with an estimated population of 850,000 to Hungary within eight days.

The decision, reached in Vienna by Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop and Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano, granted the Hungarians most of their claims.

The Polish-Hungarian demand for a common frontier, by means of the amputation of Czechoslovakia's eastern Ruthenia province, was rejected however. The Czechs were allowed to retain their important frontier city of Bratislava in Slovakia.

With the decision of the Rome-Berlin axis powers, which the Czechs already have agreed to accept, Czechoslovakia has lost approximately one-third of her territory to three neighboring nations within the space of one month.

More than 12,000 square miles of the Sudetenland was lost to Nazi Germany and Poland acquired 720 square miles in Silesia.

The serpentine strip of land along the Hungarian border which the Czech evacuation and Hungarian outbreak of Hungarian demands.

Czech evacuation and Hungarian occupation must begin next Thursday, and be completed within a week, under the decision of Ciano and Ribbentrop, and accepted immediately by representatives of the disputant countries.

Although we won't observe Thanksgiving with its turkeys and mince and squash pies for several weeks to come, the Germans, the Italians, the Poles, and the Hungarians have already seated themselves at the banquet table and have already helped themselves generously to portions of Czechoslovakian turkey. Will Roumania and Yugoslavia comprise the desert for this meal?

NEW HAMPSHIRE TEAM FINISHES SIXTH IN N.E.I.C.A.A. RACE

Varsity Led by Underwood; Frosh Runners Place 9th, Paced by Captain Rivers

The University of New Hampshire varsity and freshman harriers brought their seasons to a close yesterday afternoon by competing in the annual N. E. I. C. A. A. cross country meet in Boston. While neither team won, they both made creditable showings against New England's finest runners.

The varsity race, in which fourteen seven-man teams ran, was won by the defending champion, Smith of Maine, in the fast time of twenty-one minutes and forty-five seconds. The New Hampshire varsity placed sixth out of the fourteen schools which ran over the difficult, four mile, Franklin course. Underwood was first man across the line for New Hampshire, following up his outstanding performances of this fall by placing eleventh out of ninety-eight runners. Kirk, Jennison, Mason, and Swasey also finished fairly well up for the Wildcats. This was the last race in the college career of Captain Bishop and Mason, who are seniors.

The two and three-quarter mile freshman race won by Tingley of Rhode Island in 16:36 2-5. This time did not break the record set by Richard Mead of New Hampshire, who, last year, annexed the distance in 16:34 3-5. The New Hampshire Kittens were well bunched at the finish and were led by their captain, Ray Rivers. Mullen, Huntoon, Harkins, Costello, Schultz, and Wells followed in that order.

The summaries:

Varsity	Freshman
Maine 90	Conn. State 79
Bates 96	Rhode Island 93

FLYING CLUB BUILDS NEW "WOLF" SAILPLANE

The University Flying Club has recently planned the building of a new type of glider. The new one will be a "Wolf" utility sailplane which aeronautically is one step in advance of the "Waco" glider which the Club members are now using. This new plane will have many advantages over the old one in that it is safer, larger, and will stay aloft longer. The "Waco" will be used in instructing the students while the "Wolf" will be used by the older members and students after they have mastered the smaller glider.

Six new members for this year were voted in recently. They are Bert Gay, Ralph Bayrer, Madeline Stearns, Al Brogett, Clarence Lufkin, and Hildreth. Prospective members are required to make one trip with the club or work four hours in the shop, so the club members will know them before they vote on their membership. Last Sunday's trip to Ogunquit, Maine, was called off because of the rain, but there are plans for a trip this coming Sunday, providing the weather permits.

Last Wednesday, the Flying Club

DEBATING SCHEDULE STARTS WITH BATES

The schedules for freshman and varsity debating have been released by the debating committee. The varsity team will meet Bates in Nashua on November 18, St. Lawrence at Durham, November 21, and Bowdoin at Durham on December 5. Dates have not been decided for the meets with Boston University, Rhode Island, Massachusetts State, Maine, Providence college, Brown, Amherst, Vermont, Middlebury, and Dartmouth.

The freshmen will compete with high schools of this locality, and the freshman teams of Maine, Colby, Bowdoin, Bates, Dartmouth, Boston University, and Amherst.

The subject of the debates, will be whether the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain, a subject arousing keen interest in the debaters of the varsity and freshman teams.

held its elections for this year's officers. The results were: John Lovett, president; David Kerr, secretary-treasurer; and Ralph Lufkin was given charge of the upkeep of the glider, and Hildreth of the trailer.

FACULTY

The members of the faculty are cordially invited to all the "Rec" dances which are held in the gym, under the direction of the Women's Student Government, and the W. A. A.

A. A. U. W.

A meeting of the Great Bay Branch of the American Association of University Women was held November 3 at the home of Mrs. T. Burr Charles. The program was entitled "An Evening in Mexico." Mrs. L. P. Smith, Mrs. Morgan Mason, Mrs. Elizabeth Knowlton, and Miss Mary Sanborn spoke on topics dealing with Mexico.

Great hopes are held for this year's freshman orators, to improve the technique of University debating. It is also hoped that the Ralph D. Hetzel debating scholarships will encourage more active debating groups in this University.

Those who will probably participate in the Bates varsity debate are: Robert Winer, Fred Hall, Edwin Nye, Robert Sweatt, Milton Kaplan, Paul Perras, Philip Ide, and John Sheinuk. Freshman debaters are: Jeanette Mason, Neale Westfall, Harrison Smith, Richard Bryant, Arthur Baitous, David Eastman, and Ashley Neveris.

HONORARY SOCIOLOGY FRATERNITY FORMED

This year there has been formed an honorary sociology fraternity, one of the main purposes of which is to direct the Sociology club and make it a worthwhile organization. In previous years the club has been a loosely functioning unit due to the large number of members and the elastic principles of its operations. Under the new system the club will be an entirely separate organization aided and directed by the fraternity with the cooperation of the Sociology department. The club will be open to any sociology student in any department.

The first meeting is to be held at Dr. Coulter's house on November 9, at 7:30 P. M. The program will include short speeches by students who worked in social institutions and agencies this summer. Those participating will be: Rosamond Merrill, Betty Keefe, Bob Nash, Barbara Miltimore, Louise Webb, Lillian Lippman, Betty Bremmer, Mary Louise Stearns, Bill Scott, Ruth Buckley and Miss Knight.

Applications for membership in the club will be acted upon immediately following the meeting.

HOOD SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS ANNOUNCED

The recipients of the Hood Scholarships for outstanding agricultural students have been announced by Dean Eastman of the College of Agriculture. Five scholarships of $200 each are awarded annually on the basis of scholastic merit and strong character. In case of competition they are given to students who intend to take up work relating to milk production. This year they have been awarded to the following students:

Junior: Walter C. Woods of Bath.

Seniors: Floyd N. Page of Monroe and Royce Farr of Lebanon.
