Many Prominent Alumni Return For Homecoming Festivities

Football Game and Annual Dance Feature Week-end

Although the University Bulletin lists tomorrow as Homecoming Day, the festivities welcoming the "old grads" back on campus are by no means confined to this short time. Advance preparations for the day began Wednesday noon, and it will be late Sunday afternoon before the last meeting is concluded and the 1938 Homecoming Day will have become merely a pleasant memory to the returning alumni.

While the rest of the nation had just started to recover from its annual dose of politics, the campaigning for the post of lord high mayor of Durham, official welcomer of the alumni and guiding star of the football team, had just begun. All Wednesday and Thursday the fur and free cigars flew furiously as the Messrs. Erb, Dunlap, and Kalil pleaded for the vote of each and every student at the all-important election; the winner will officially welcome the Homecomers and see that the hosts of Springfield are trodden into the dust of Lewis fields Saturday afternoon.

The more serious ceremonies of the day will get under way Friday evening with the class agents' banquet in the President's dining room in the Commons. These agents are the represen-

Enthusiastic Throngs Greet Opening of Mayoralty Fight

The twelfth annual mayoralty campaign started with a bang Wednesday noon when the candidates and their managers spoke from the A. T. O. porch, traditional Fort Sumpter of the mayoralty wars.

The first oration proceeded from the bewhiskered mouth of "Hill Billy" Dick Nellson, replete with red nose, loud checkered shirt and squirrel gun, by cracky! Mr. Nellson had scarcely become accustomed to his sophisticated city surroundings and begun his speech when the arrival of the Mahatma, borne in a sedan chair upon the brawny shoulders of the Faithful (Allah be praised!), stole his fickle audience from him.

The Mahatma stated that although he had traveled widely and had seen strange peoples, he had come upon none so weird as those who now confronted him in the persons of his opponents. The Mahatma declared himself in favor of the annexation of Dover to Durham. (Cheers from the barracks.) Upon his departure, the Mahatma strewed candy broadcast from the ample folds of his only clean sheet.

Patriotically bedecked in a red, white and blue pajama top and surmounted by a plug hat, cane-waving G. Launcelot Erb addressed the multitude in an inaudible voice on the benefits of more moonshine on moonless nights. Here an armistice was declared until the evening's activities.

BASKETBALL NOTICE

Coach George Sauer will meet all sophomores, juniors and seniors interested in trying out for the varsity basketball team in the classroom in the Cage at 4:15, on Monday, November 14.

All lettermen may draw equipment ahead of this date and get into condition by running on the board track or playing handball.

PRE-VUE OF "MIKADO" WILL BE BROADCAST

Another in the series of Christian Work radio programs will be broadcast from Murkland hall, Monday, November 14, at 3:45. This is the second program broadcast from Murkland and relayed through WHEB in Portsmouth.

Bradley and French, accordion and guitar team, Louis Israel and his saxophone, Hawkins and Holbrook, will furnish the musical part of the program. George Erb will speak and John Hall will recount another in his series of campus legends. A skit will be presented by the Liberal Club and a special prelude of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society's presentation of "The Mikado" will be given by members of the cast.

Durhamburg Address

Forty-seven years ago, our brothers brought forth upon this stadium, a new team, conceived in a shower room, and dedicated to the proposition that all teams are created equal. We are now engaged in a great season, testing whether that team or any other team, so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on the battlefield of that team. We are met here to dedicate a portion of that field as a chilly sitting-place for those who gave their money that that team might exist. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this, but, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. Those brave men, crippled and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The press will little note nor long time remember what we say here, but the students will never forget what they did here. It is for us, the students, rather, to be here dedicated to the unfinished games which they who played here have, thus far, so nobly tried to win. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the season remaining before us—that from these honored players we take increased devotion for which they have given their last full measure of school spirit, that we here resolve that these men shall not have played in vain, that this team under Sauer, shall have a new birth of accomplishments, and that the spirit of the students, by the students, and for the alumni shall not perish from the campus.

With apologies to A. Lincoln,
Blair Watson.

FORMAL PAN-HELLENIC RUSHING WEEK STARTS

Formal Pan-Hellenic rushing is scheduled to begin this coming Monday, with the opening of rushing week. During this period, open rushing each morning is allowed each sorority, but open rushing is allowed only one sorority in each of the seven afternoons from Monday, Nov. 14, through Monday, Nov. 21. This "closed" rushing, assigned to the sororities, one afternoon for each, consists of the usual luncheon dates, dinner dates, and party dates, inside the hours of twelve noon to ten at night.

The sororities will hold "closed" rushing as follows: Monday, Alpha Chi Omega; Tuesday afternoon, Phi Lambda Sigma; Wednesday afternoon, Chi Omega; Thursday afternoon, Theta Upsilon; Friday, Alpha Xi Delta, and Monday afternoon, Nov. 21, Phi Mu.

Tuesday, November 22, will be the day of silence. On the afternoon of that day, pledgees will receive notice that they have been asked to join one or more sororities, and are to designate their preferences that night at Murkland hall.

The open house periods which have been held this year, gave the freshmen a chance to visit all the sororities, and to observe first hand—the sorority life which they might live. This open-house program, giving wider scope to the serious business of joining a sorority, was inaugurated by the Pan-Hellenic society, under the guidance of Mary Parrish.

ANNUAL STUNT NIGHT HAS NINETEEN ENTRIES

Nineteen entries from fraternities, sororities, and dormitories comprise the program for Stunt Night, which will take place in the Women's gymnasium this evening at 7:00 o'clock.

At the beginning of the program, the new mayor will be introduced, and in turn will introduce the titles of those entries listed on the program. The representative of Blue Key states that the name of the new mayor will not be made known until this time.

The program of skits in the order of appearance, is as follows: Alpha Xi Delta, "A tragedy in three Speeds"; Phi Delta Upsilon, "The Prof. and the Student"; Sigma Beta, "A Tragedy in Seven Shot"; Scott Hall, "Guess Who"; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "Life

Exact Tribute From Students as Reward for Conducting Campaign

Blue Key, senior honorary society, refused to make public the results of the mayoralty campaign this afternoon although the polls were closed and sufficient time had elapsed for the members to tabulate the vote.

Members of the organization insisted that the students must pay the price of admission to the annual Stunt program before they could learn the outcome of a campaign which is of interest to the whole student body. Blue Key felt that such action was justified since it might result in a greater reward to the organization for their efforts in sponsoring the campaign.

Although set up as an honorary service society, the members of the group felt that their own interests and a petty resentment against "The New Hampshire" for scooping them and giving the students the results of last year's campaign was sufficient justification for withholding the results of the voting from the student body.

DUNLAP LEADS

Though unable, through a lack of cooperation, to bring to the student body, a verified announcement of the result of the annual Mayoralty campaign, "The New Hampshire" conducted a survey at noon today in an attempt to determine the winner of the contest. Phil Dunlap, the candidate from Skunk Hollow, held a substantial lead over Mahatma Kalil, the aspirant from the far east, as the polls closed.

The campaign was one of the hottest ever witnessed in Durham, with Kalil and Dunlap running neck and neck and although Kalil was pulling a solid vote from the Barracks the fraternity and sorority vote seemed to be decidedly favoring Dunlap.

Erb, the minority candidate, made a slightly better showing than was expected, according to the survey.

Charges of political corruption and ballot box stuffing were made throughout the campaign, by indignant voters who went to the polls and found that someone had already voted under their name!

Goes to College"; Alpha Chi Omega, "It Can Happen Here"; Theta Kappa Phi, "The Fraternity Study Hours"; Theta Upsilon, "Return of the Native"; Lambda Chi Alpha, "The Three Stooges"; Smith Hall, "Unexpected Inspection at Smith Hall Nursery"; Alpha Tau Omega, "A Western Mella Drammer"; Chi Omega, "The Fashionable Co-ed on Campus"; Theta Chi, "It's a Question"; Pi Lambda Sigma, "Guess"; Tau Kappa Epsilon, "The March of Time"; Kappa Delta, "Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains"; Pi Kappa Alpha, "Goldy Locks"; Phi Mu Delta, "Julius Caesar"; and the Commons, "Small Fry."

The judges will be Mrs. Lucinda P. Smith, Mr. Paul S. Schoedinger, and Mr. Irving R. Hobby.

JOE NOLAN TO GIVE BOXING EXHIBITION

Joe Nolan, university senior, and runner-up in the New England Golden Gloves tournament in Boston last week will put on an exhibition bout for the benefit of local enthusiasts. This bout will be staged as an added attraction to the annual Stunt Night, this evening.

Nolan, a former winner of the contest in the 135-pound class, hitchhikes to Boston to attend the various bouts that he engages in during the school year. He has no facilities for training except some make-shift ones, and due to this fact will not engage in any more bouts until after graduation this June.

FROSH AND J. V.'S PLAY LAST GAME OF YEAR

Friday afternoon the Jayvees take on a strong freshman team in hopes that they may be able to atone for the defeat suffered earlier in the season at the hands of this same freshman team. The Jayvees have been drilling steadily and are in good condition for the game. However, the whole team is light and it lost two of its best players to the varsity. Despite the fact that the Jayvee lineup has to be partially made over, the players are showing a lot of snap and are taking their training very seriously. It might also be added that all the fellows on this team seem to be playing only because they love the game as is showed by their spirit and their willingness to accept hard work which is not rewarded by a letter.

The freshmen are running through their regular practice with special reference to bettering their passing attack which was woefully weak against Bridgton Academy in the game last Saturday. The team is disappointed over the loss to Bridgton and is showing a lot of fight and looking very good this week. Although Ed Lyscos will probably not play and some of the other members of the squad will be on the shelf because of injuries received in the Bridgton game, Lundy will have a strong team to face the scrapping Jayvees.

The starting lineups are:

Freshmen—Coutart, lc; Doyle, lt; Kachavos, rg; Nugent, c; Budzianowski, lg; Marshall, rt; Martin, re; Dziadosz, qb; Clark or Hall, rnb; Snow, mb; Gordon, lb.

Jayvees—Lucier, lc; Cattabriga, lt; Kopiaski, lg; Thompson, c; Robinson, rg; Lisle, rt; Jones, re; Lundin, qb; Lang, rnb; Watkins, lnb; Korab, fb.

MANCHESTER CENTRAL WINS SCHOOL MEET

Placing five men in the first eight positions, Manchester Central high school took first place in the first annual New Hampshire Interscholastic Cross Country Championship, Wednesday afternoon, at Lewis fields. The meet, sponsored by the New Hampshire High School Track Coaches Association, was open to all high schools in the state.

Of the five teams competing, Manchester Central had, by far, the best group; the winners captured first, third, sixth, seventh, and eighth places, and kept their score down to 25. With a score of 44, Portsmouth took second place, while Laconia was third, with 91. In fourth place, with a total of 99, was Raymond, and Manchester West trailed with a score of 112.

Sargent, of Manchester Central, who took first place, covered the two and one-quarter mile course in 13 minutes, 22 and six-tenths seconds, thereby establishing an initial record for the meet. The first ten men to cross the line, finished as follows: 1. Sargent, Manchester Central; 2. Perkins, Portsmouth; 3. Beaudet, Manchester Central; 4. Proulx, Raymond; 5. Corveau, Laconia; 6. Duncan, Manchester Central; 7. Fontaine, Manchester Central; 8. Maciejewski, Manchester Central; 9. Nevious, Portsmouth; 10. Blanchard, Portsmouth.

Members of the faculty, cross-country managers, and members of the varsity and freshman cross-country teams served as officials.

by Sumner Fellman

Slightly drunk with our success at selecting the winner of last Saturday's game with Tufts, we venture away out on the limb and predict a victory for New Hampshire over Springfield, tomorrow. Not by an overwhelming score, mind you. The Gymnasts are plenty tough, and George Sauer's lads will be weakened by injuries, as usual. However, we base our optimistic prediction upon the increased confidence acquired by the Blue and White.

Just for a brief glance at the Springfield record, to date . . . in their opening engagement, Paul Stagg's gridsters deadlocked Amherst, 6-6; then followed a 13-7 win over Clarkson Tech. Next came a narrow loss to powerful Rutgers, defeaters of Princeton's Tigers, by a score of 0-6. Providence pinned a 7-3 defeat on Springfield, after which the Gymnasts took over Northeastern, 14-7. Last Saturday, they won again, nipping Baldwin-Wallace by a 9-6 score. It's interesting to note that Springfield, while winning, three, losing two, and tying one, has allowed its opponents to score just one touchdown in each game, which indicates a strong defensive team. On the basis of comparative records, Springfield should be the favorite; however, we'll stick to our prediction, thank you!

INTRAMURAL NEWS

Softball

After seven straight victories, Theta Kappa Phi finally met defeat, at the hands of the Theta Chi softballers, by a 3-2 score. This victory gives Theta Chi, winners of Fraternity League No. 1, the university intramural softball championship.

Relay

Tomorrow afternoon, between the halves of the Homecoming Day game with Springfield college, the finals in the relay competition will be run off. The final league standings will be determined by the total time of the three races which each team will have competed in. Those teams which have run only once, to date, will be given a time equal to their first clocking, for the race in which they did not compete. For the finals, tomorrow, which will be run over the half mile distance with four men running for each fraternity, spiked shoes may be worn. The heats will be run as follows: Race No. 1—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Beta vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Alpha Tau Omega. Race No. 2—Phi Delta Upsilon vs. Phi Mu Delta vs. Theta Chi vs. Pi Kappa Alpha. Race No. 3—Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Phi Alpha vs. Kappa Sigma.

The results of last Friday's races and the present totals are as follows:

League I	Time Friday	Total Time
Tau Kappa Epsilon	1:42.4	3:27
Sigma Beta	1:43	3:27.2
Phi Delta Upsilon	1:46.8	3:32.2
League II	Time Friday	Total Time
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	1:41.8	3:25.6
Alpha Tau Omega	1:46.2	3:31.6
Phi Mu Delta	1:45.8	3:33
Lambda Chi Alpha	1:47.6	3:35.2
Theta Chi	1:49.6	3:39.6
Phi Alpha	—	3:46.4
Kappa Sigma	—	3:49.6

HOMECOMING CROWD TO WITNESS CONTEST

Hanlon and Winterbottom Of N.H. Out with Injuries; Ray Patten to Start Game

A large Homecoming Day crowd is expected to jam Lewis field tomorrow afternoon to watch Springfield's powerful Gymnasts battle the revived New Hampshire Wildcats. The Stagg-coached gridsters have won their last three games, and promise to present the stiffest of competition for the Sauer-men, who have been encouraged by their recent victory over Tufts.

Although the boys from Massachusetts are not strong offensively, they are big, and excel in the defensive department of the game. They are planning, with this ability, to stop New Hampshire's backfield speedsters.

This week, Coaches Sauer and Justice have been running their charges through intensive drills and scrimmages in preparation for the coming tilt. On Tuesday the freshmen attempted to run Springfield plays against the varsity, but they were halted without gain. The Wildcats had no trouble in solving the Springfield offense, but showed no great drive on their own attack, and it is on this branch of the game that the remainder of this week's practice sessions were concentrated.

Last year's game was won by a strong New Hampshire eleven, 14-6, with the Gymnasts scoring late in the fourth quarter. The game was played on a muddy, rain-soaked field before a few courageous spectators. This year will be a different story, with many new names appearing in both line-ups, but the outcome promises to be just as close.

Several Wildcat injuries will weaken the team considerably. Jack Hanlon, with a bad elbow, will definitely be out of the contest. Tom Johnson, who has played a steady game at tackle this fall, will not start due to a bad leg, but may get into the game if his condition improves. Ray Patten, who has been jinxed all season, with injuries, will start at halfback, as his sprained ankle has healed. As a result of the casualties the starting line-up has been revised and will be as follows:

Jones, Lampson, ends; Flaherty, Onella, tackles; Piretti, Ballou, guards; Burt, center; Sauer, quarterback; Patten, Mitchell, halfbacks; Horne, fullback.

game this afternoon tells the tale. There ought to be a big turnout of spectators.

A feature of tomorrow's varsity will be the finals in the intramural relay competition, which are scheduled to be run off between the halves. It looks as though the real race will be between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon. If Bob Lang runs for the SAE's, he and Mike Pieciewicz are likely to pace their team to victory; but if Lang, who is probably the fastest sprinter in school right now, doesn't compete, the TKE combination of Sheehan, Wright, and Crook, ought to capture the title. While watching the races, you might keep in mind that they're all being run against time, and that the team which has the lowest total for the two races already run, and tomorrow's race, will be declared champion.

THE LETTER
THE NEW HAMPSHIRE
DIDN'T DARE PRINT

Open letter to the virtuous citizens of Durham:

In this election the people of Durham must choose between the praiseworthy principles of pure politics and the vicious vituperations of vapid vulgarity. The Charity system is a principle which we hold to be more vital than any considerations of partisanship. Let he who will root in the mire, befogged by the vile stench of one-cent stogies, or follow the practitioners of deadbirdnapping and vain-glorious vaunting, whose folly has led us only to defeat.

Two, and only two candidates in this election have offered constructive, uplifting programs to the people—Charity, and the mellifluous mesmerist, Mahatma. He has come, his sheet flapping in the wind like a veritable banner of righteousness, and we intend that his principles shall conquer. Because we are determined that the hosts of Springfield shall not prevail, because we want a candidate whose character, qualifications and intentions are untainted, we must merge our forces with the man who wears no man's collar (in fact, no collar at all), the man who is nobody's Phil,—oops, we mean Charlie McCarthy.

Therefore, we cheerfully forego all the honor, glory and perquisites which go with the potent office of Mayor of Durham. We withdraw the candidacy of Leon Charity and urge his legion of devoted admirers to MAKE THE MAHATMA MAYOR!

tatives of the various classes who collect the annual Alumni Funds, and about seventy are expected to be in attendance. Dean Eastman, of the class of 1913, will be toastmaster. Fred Robinson, president of the class of '27, and of the Alumni Association, will give the welcoming address; President Engelhardt will also address the agents. The guest speaker of the evening will be Miss Marjorie L. Shea, executive secretary of the Simmons College Alumnae Fund. Miss Shea will be the first woman speaker to ever address this group, for since about half the class agents are women, it was decided to break the precedent.

Also tonight, the Blue Key holds its annual Stunt Night, at which time the new mayor of Durham is presented, and the various dormitories, fraternities, and sororities compete for the prizes awarded for the winning men's and women's "stunt". Last year's winners were Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Chi Omega.

On Saturday morning there is the annual fall meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association, at which the regular routine business will be transacted. After this there will be a meeting of the Alumni Fund Council, the purpose of which is to select a project to be approved by the trustees of the University for the 1939 Alumni Fund. Also at this meeting two new members of the Alumni Fund Committee will be selected. At noon on Saturday, the Alumnae Council will hold a luncheon for its members, at which new members of the Council will be chosen.

After the football game there will be a tea in the Commons Organization room for alumni and their friends. This is the second year such a tea has been attempted; last year it was announced on rather short notice, but proved extremely popular. Those alumni not having connections with a fraternity or sorority will seize this chance to get together and talk things over among themselves and the faculty members who will be present. Everyone is invited to this tea.

On Saturday evening the Homecoming Day dance will take place in the women's gym from eight to eleven-thirty o'clock. Phil Haskell and his mules, the squeals of Pappy Dunlap's newest born and the slamming of the —er, headquarters door, the entire Dunlap clan—Sherman, Herman, and Vermin—arrived at seven o'clock from Skunk Hollow. After the hysterical, historical, rush, crush, for the cigars and candy, the Dunlap tribe leaned their shooting irons back against the house door and rendered — and we mean rendered—"the chickens and the pigs all ask-ed for you", and several other nasal masterpieces by the light of the red flares, the scratching of Vermin, and the gobbling of Herman—he can't talk because he never tried. At this point a general break-up ensued, both by the fragile Dunlap limousine and by the crowd, the latter escaping with the firm conviction that this year's mayoralty campaign will be clean, dizzy and elaborate; and the former merely escaping.

ten-piece orchestra has been secured for this function, the proceeds from which will go to the Band Fund, to enable the University band to be sent to out-of-town football games. This dance is sponsored by the Student Council.

On Sunday afternoon the Alumnae Council holds its annual Silver Tea in Scott hall, where the painting "Cattle in the Woods" by J. Alden Weir, loaned by the Addison Gallery of American Art at Phillips Andover Academy will be exhibited. Receiving guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Engelhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Randall of Portsmouth, Miss Ruth Woodruff, Dean of Women, Mrs. Ada L. Lundholm, '19, chairman of the Alumnae Council, and Mrs. Edna Henderson Hersey, '26, past chairman. The proceeds of the tea are used to bring other outstanding art features to the women's dormitories during the remainder of the year. This tea will close the ceremonies of the 1938 Homecoming Day.

General alumni registration will take place all day Saturday in the Faculty Club. Alumni Secretary Eugene K. Auerbach expects a record attendance tomorrow, believing the Armistice Day holiday will give the alumni an extra day to travel, and thus those coming from considerable distances will have a chance to be present.

CAMPUS NOTES

A. S. C. E.

On November 4, the Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers held a meeting in Room 103, Conant hall, at which the New Hampshire Fish and Game department showed some of their Wild Life films.

W. A. A.

The interclass season, successful in the interest and competition shown, closed last week with the finals in the archery tournament. Priscilla Preston of the Freshman class was the final winner with a score of 115, while Helen Colby of the Sophomore class was a close second with 109. The winners and runner-ups of the four classes were as follows: Seniors, Anna Hemingway and Beverly Swain; Juniors, Helen Snook, and Mildred Bacon; Sophomores, Helen Colby and Edwina Russell; and Freshmen, Eleanor Mauricette and Priscilla Preston. It is hoped that the same enthusiasm shown in these games will be present in the spring for the tennis and basketball tournaments.

HOME ECONOMICS

The club is doing craft work and also preparing for their annual Christmas sale which will be held probably the second or third of December.

POETRY CLUB

There was a regular meeting of the Poetry Club held last Friday evening. Edna St. Vincent Millay's poetry was read and criticized. The next meeting will be held a week from this Friday, November 18.

LENS AND SHUTTER

The Lens and Shutter club held their bi-monthly meeting last Wednesday. At this time it was voted to change the meeting night to Monday in order to avoid confliction with other organizations.

The next Lens and Shutter club meeting will be held on November 21.

NEWMAN CLUB

The guest speaker at the last meeting of the Newman Club, was the Rev. P. J. Kenneally of Concord, New Hampshire. Father Kenneally spoke on the "Efficiency of the Church."

A special election was held to choose a faculty advisory board. Major Donovan Swanton was chosen as faculty advisor; Mr. John S. Walsh, policy advisor; and Mr. Edward T. Donovan, financial advisor.

The special committee for the membership drive includes Roger Lapointe, Eleanor McNulty, Patricia Schlesinger and Phil Smith.

SHORT STORY GROUP

The Short Story Group will meet this Friday evening, November 11, instead of on Thursday.
