Findeisen Appointed 1941 Granite Editor

Three Staff Positions Occupied by Members Of "The New Hampshire"

Wilfred Findeisen, prominent sophomore, has been named editor-in-chief of the 1941 Granite according to statements released today by the staff of this year's Granite. The office of business manager will be filled by Allan Ferry. Because of the size of next year's class, several new editorships have been added to the staff of the next publication which it is hoped will make the 1941 Granite the best ever published in the over thirty years of its existence.

Wilfred Findeisen, of Methuen, Mass., is a student in the college of Agriculture. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and belongs to Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural society. Allan Ferry, from Alton Bay, is a member of Theta Chi fraternity, a student in the college of Liberal Arts, and a candidate for track.

Ten of the sixteen positions on the staff of the yearbook will be filled by women. Three members of the staff of "The New Hampshire" have been appointed to editorships on the Granite. These are: Features Editor, Priscilla Taylor, news editor of "The New Hampshire"; Sports Editor, Sumner Fellman, managing editor of "The New Hampshire"; and Organizations Editor, Martha Holt, news' assistant.

The Advertising Manager will be

Biological Studies Broaden Research

Professor C. Floyd Jackson, newly appointed chairman of the new biological institute, announced recently that the conservation of wild life and health are to be the major extension developments of the new institute. Besides the extension work, the institute will also engage in pure research and academic study in those phases of biology not already assigned to departments in the college of agriculture.

"By housing all the plant and animal sciences in a single building it is hoped that an exchange of ideas may be made possible between the various departments which will result in a closer cooperation of the existing courses of study and in broadening the field of biology on the academic level", said Dean Jackson.

The institute, which will include agronomy, animal husbandry, bacteriology, botany, entomology, forestry, horticulture, poultry husbandry, and zoology, will develop and correlate courses in various phases of wild life conservation, public health, pre-technician training and other subjects in the field of biology.

Plans for the institute have been under way for a year and a half. Lack of housing space prevented its formation earlier. With the addition of the new wings to Nesmith, this difficulty has been overcome and all the biological sciences will now be housed in that building.

Dean Jackson, at present head of the college of liberal arts, will resign his position on June one in order to personally conduct the activities of the new institute.

Foreign Students Make Annual Visit

The fifth annual visit of foreign students to the campus will take place this week-end, May 6 and 7, under the sponsorship of the Student Christian Movement. The visiting students will come from other New England colleges—Harvard, M. I. T., Boston University, and Radcliffe.

Dr. Newton C. Fetter of the executive committee of the New England Student Christian Movement and pastor for the Baptist students in Boston, will be the guest speaker at the meeting. The program will include tea at Ballard at 4:30, May 6, a banquet at the Commons at 7 o'clock that night, and a forum of American and foreign students Saturday evening. On Sunday there will be a special service at the church and the visitors will tour the campus on Sunday afternoon. The conference will close at 2 o'clock.

Helen Vasiliou is the general chairman of the committee, Barbara Marshall is chairman of arrangements, and Carlton Brown is chairman of the ticket committee. The visiting students will be housed in the various fraternities and sororities.

Summer Institutes Will Begin June 26

Program Affords Great Opportunities for Work In Many Varied Fields

The summer school program of the University of New Hampshire for 1939 will afford great opportunities for writers, educators, police officers, librarians, social workers, and public officials to participate in conferences or institutes. One of three units in a series provided for by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation and dealing with educational and community leadership will begin on June 26 and close July 1.

On July 6 citizens of the state will be given opportunity to discuss government in the second annual Institute of Public Affairs conducted in the form of round table discussions with many local, state, and national notables presiding.

For those interested in social work, an institute will be held for the first time for a two week period beginning July 24. Three out-of-state specialists will aid in the work of the institute.

Many leading New England authors and publishers' representatives will present practical information about problems of sale and publication as well as writing of manuscripts. These work shop groups will hold their first meetings July 30 and extend to August 10.

Other meetings listed for the summer session include the Parent-Teacher Institute, July 10-14; the Library Institute, July 10-22; the Engineering Education Conference, July 10-21; the Guidance Institute, July 11-12; the Conference on Elementary Education, July 20; and the New Hampshire Police Officers Training School of two five-day sessions, opening July 24.

Mortar Board Taps

From eleven to twelve Sunday night, Mortar Board preceded its initiation ceremonies by a serenade, tapped the initiates, and presented them their gowns, the symbols of their membership.

The new members and their activities are:

Members Wear Gowns Monday
All day Monday, the Mortar Board members, new and old, wore their gowns around campus. Monday evening at 6:30 a banquet was held at Commons. Afterwards, the initiation was held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Engelhardt, attended also by Mrs. Engelhardt's fellow advisors, Dean Woodruff, Dr. McGrail, and two former members, Betsey Vannah and Dorothy Squires.

The members are elected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service. The officers of next year's Mortar Board were elected by the out-going members. Present members include Betty Brown, president; Mary Parrish, vice-president; Barbara Foster, secretary; Barbara Parsons, treasurer; Anna Baum, editor and historian; Olga Conon, Barbara Shields, Margery Upton, Jeannette Tondreau.

Phi Mu Delta Takes Movies

Phi Mu Delta initiated a new feature in its Saturday night house dance, when Blair Watson, a freshman, took 100 feet of movie film of the activities at different times in the evening. The pictures are to be kept on record, but will be shown in the near future.

Prom Queen's Cup is Stolen During Dance

Annual Junior Prom Is Outstanding Success Despite This Event

by Myron J. Rosen

Highlighting a festival spring week-end, Frances McCrillis marched down the rank and file of a colorful prom crowd to receive a silver loving-cup from the hands of President Fred Engelhardt last Friday evening, symbolizing her appointment as queen of the junior class and of the annual spring formal. The queen, clad in the traditional white, was escorted by football star, Tom Johnson, and followed to the platform by her aides, Eleanor McNulty and Laura Sims, and their escorts. The gymnasium, attractive with its crystal lights and blue and white "40's", resounded to the applause of a gay and enthusiastic gathering as the royal party was presented to the president during the intermission.

The dancing started the affair at nine o'clock, as the students and their co-ed and import guests swayed to the rhythm of Charley Boulanger's orchestra. Dance programs of blue leather with the university seal were presented to the couples. At the intermission, after the presentation of the queen, refreshments were served; the dance then continued until two o'clock.

Cup Stolen

The gala affair was marred by the theft of the queen's cup from one of the gymnasium anterooms by persons suspected to be Dartmouth students. These students, claiming they wished to hear the orchestra to consider it for their own college dances, entered the gymnasium, and were caught prowling about the women's phys. ed. offices,

Mixed Program of Recreation Urged

by Winifred Kennedy

The women's physical education department has introduced a new thing on campus by encouraging co-educational recreation. From now until school closes there will be someone at the Field House every pleasant day from 4 to 5:30, and on Saturdays from 2 to 5 to give out archery and golf equipment to girls, or to boys and girls who desire to play. The department wishes to urge mixed groups of this sort, although it must be noted that boys who go alone will not be allowed the equipment or the field as they have their own facilities. This also goes for the women's tennis courts. Boys are not supposed to play without the company of a girl. This co-education play has already been made use of in the form of badminton the latter part of the winter and early spring. The physical education instructors wish to make a practice of this co-ed play, both in winter and spring.

All the equipment will be furnished for archery, and all those who have not their own golf clubs may get them at the Field House. Cotton balls will be furnished for practice, but the golfers must furnish their own hard balls. Anyone may get equipment from the Field House at any other time if they get special permission from one of the instructors.

Congreve Freshmen Hold Faculty Tea

Thursday afternoon, April 27, the freshmen in Congreve hall served tea to the faculty. Ann Reeder, president of Congreve and Barbara Shields, president of the Association of Women Students, presided over the tea table. Helen Almond and Doris Trafton furnished music at the piano throughout the afternoon. In the receiving line were Mrs. Esther Dunning, house director and her assistant Miss Ethel Knight, Minnie Kuntz, representative house officer for the freshmen, and Barbara Burns, freshman representative on Student Government.

Of great interest to those attending the tea was the exhibit of art in the recreation room. Under the direction of Ellen Watson, paintings, sketches, and other artistic work done by the girls living in Congreve were displayed. Out of this exhibit, pieces will be chosen for the Campus Art exhibit soon to be placed in the library.

Congreve has recently served tea every Sunday afternoon and this will be continued as a Congreve custom.

Music Rooms Open Friday Afternoon

Recordings and Works Of Art Will Be Housed In University Library

The new art and music division of the library, housing the Carnegie donation of a thousand phonograph records and two hundred music books, will open Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Student guides will show visitors through the three sound-proof audition rooms and the large exhibit room where a student art exhibit will be displayed.

In speaking of the new rooms, Mr. Marvin A. Miller, librarian, said, "For many years the University has felt the need for means to stimulate interest on the part of the students in the fine arts—and in particular the need for suitable space for art exhibits. We feel that the new art music division will help satisfy this demand."

The student art exhibit will display both classroom work and work done as a hobby. Included in the display will be photographs, cabinet work, wood-carving, historically-costumed dolls, floral arrangements, pottery, craft work and design, metal work, ornamental wrought iron, home decorating arrangements, oils and water colors, pencil drawings, pen and ink work, table arrangements, clothing designs, scale architectural models and solutions to architectural problems.

The recent gift of Mrs. Philip Hale, widow of the foremost musical critic of the past 25 years, will be given a permanent place of honor. Mrs. Hale's gift includes the desk, chair and music books used by her eminent husband in his work.

The music rooms will be open on Friday from 2:00 P. M., on Saturday from 9:00 A. M. to 12:00 M. and from 2:00 P. M. to 9:00 P. M., and on Sunday from 2:00 P. M. to 9:00 P. M.

GAMBLING

Outstanding among the activities which are carried on rather regularly on the campus, is the gambling which takes place among students. Now the editorial policy of this paper is not to try and make the University a model ladies' seminary and restrict the students in doing the things which they want to do. It never has been and it is doubtful if it ever will be.

However, this is one practice which should be cut out as much as possible. True, one can say that if a fellow wants to throw his money away by gambling, it is his own business. This, if true, would be small enough excuse for it. The hitch comes when students are gambling not with their own money, but with the money which they receive from home or borrow.

Few students will gamble with the money they earn by their sweat of their own brow, but when it was paid who earned the money by long hours of toil trying to give his son an education,—“what the hell, there's more where that came from.”

Some students will remember the removal of the nickel slot machines two years ago from the stores of the town. The reason for the removal was that there was a student who had spent all his money in trying to beat the system and as a result had no money for books, clothes or other incidentals. This same student lost $30 in a poker game his first night in school and then proceeded to sell all the clothes he owned save those on his back to get more money to gamble away.

It is quite a feather in the hats of college students when the University requires the removal of slot machines from the stores to protect the poor bewildered student.

Gambling continues in the various dorms and fraternities and will continue after this has been read. However, if students want to keep the faith of their parents and feel that they are playing square with them, they will think twice before gambling away the dough that their fathers earned and which their parents have sacrificed for them.

ROBBED AGAIN!!

During the past few years, there have been several small robberies on campus which have been dealt with in an entirely light-hearted and careless manner. As long as the missing articles were retrieved the culprits were not severely punished, if at all. The result of this laxity came to the front last Friday evening when the Prom Queen's cup was stolen from the Physical Education offices in the Women's Gym.

Circumstantial evidence points to students of a neighboring College and authorities promise action as soon as possible. Students of this school demand that, when the culprits are positively identified, the maximum penalty shall be inflicted.

This incident is a blot to a perfect Junior Prom, for some members of our student body, and is a blemish on the name of our school—regardless of where the thieves came from!

Wildcats Repulse Bowdoin In Tennis

The University of New Hampshire varsity tennis team won its second match in two starts Saturday afternoon as it beat a strong Bowdoin college outfit, 4-2 on the Lewis fields courts. George Wilson, returning to singles competition for the first time this year, easily defeated his opponent, Stewart of the Maine institution. Al Carling and Milt Lider also won their respective singles matches.

Jim Garvey and Charlie Piffard, of the Wildcats, teamed together to subdue Stewart and Harr for the only New Hampshire doubles triumph as Wilson and Leavitt lost their contest.

The summary:
Singles—Wilson (NH) vs Stewart

(B), Wilson 6-2, 6-2; Leavitt (NH) vs Rich (B), Rich 6-2, 2-6, 6-0; Lider (NH) vs Harr (B), Lider 6-1, 6-3.
Doubles—Rich and Pope (B) vs Wilson and Leavitt (NH), Bowdoin 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Stewart and Harr (B) vs Garvey and Piffard (NH) New Hampshire 6-1, 6-4.

by H. K.

Well here it is Tuesday and Durham is just getting over the Prom “hang-over”. All in all, a good time was enjoyed by all—old man weather decided to give us a break for a change. The Virginias Durning and Henderson were seen participating in extra curricula activities at Hampton Beach Casino, Saturday P.M. Kappa Sigma takes the honors for the best house dance. Who was the Congrevite who had a beautiful sunburn for the Junior Prom? The versatile Connie Howard kept company with Gardner Ladd. “Romeo” Mitchell and “Juliet” Tolman were there in force also. College Shop's Art McDermott escorted Bev Tuttle. Blue was the predominant color worn by the gals—Monday the lads were all at that end of the spectrum. Eleanor McNulty was accompanied by one of the Ayer isotopes. A little thought—two heads are better than one excepting when you have a cold. Artie Hanson was eagerly absorbing some cultural background at the tea at Congreve, Sunday, “General” Pokigo from Fort Wright slipped into Durham in a very shiny Lincoln “zither”.

We feel that Bob Wood has a case of unrequited love—he is going about campus calling “Miss Rangazus”. We might add, incidentally, that he certainly picked a honey. Congratulations, Bob.

Something different in the way of an excuse, “No, I can't go to the Prom, I haven't an import . . .” It is the general consensus of opinion that Dick Nelson made a very good choice. . . . Ruth Sweezy apparently enjoyed her blind date Saturday night. . . . Boys, beware, hang onto your gals now—Willie has a pretty special car. . . . If Freddie Wilson only had known that baseball trip wasn't going to be so long! The Lambda Chi steak roast must have been some thing. . . . Notice—will the girls who walk down the Practice House Board walk please jump down off the end on their own feet between the hours of 7 A.M. - 7 P.M. . . . The Commons Gay varieties almost gave the fraternity dance bands too much competition.

Attention! Charlie Betts, when you retire for the evening draw your window shades. Some innocent Congrevites were heard to exclaim that you were in your pajamas. Remember—“People who live in glass houses ought to pull down the shades.”

This week's moral—“Permit not pernicious parasitic provincialisms to paralyze the pristine purity of your phraseology.”

Scott Hall, Dave Stanley “promed” up with his inimitable titian-haired Betty. Congratulations, Fred Clark for your excellent performance the other night. Glad to see you, Anne Gorman, after your week's vacation. What was the Common's swing band doing on the roof the other night? Maybe it's a penthouse. It's a darn shame that a bunch of college students, not this college, would stop to appropriate the Queen's cup. There ought to be a law agin' it—Chief Louie did a good job though. Weren't the chaperones surprised when they found out that the dark room at Theta Chi wasn't quite empty. This week's problem, How can a band leader lead a band and entertain a girl at the same time? Ask Porter Kimball. The Glee Club was also featured at Theta Chi. Betty Ridlon and Patsy Bowen were squired by Bill Ewing and Bob Richardson respectively.

Disgusted Sophomore Scores Cup Stealing

To the Editor:

Joe College showed up in Durham again last week-end. Although most of us had hoped that this childish throwback to post-war college days had finally died after the trophy-stealing episode of a year ago, it would seem that such is not the case. Some remote relatives of the rah-rah boys who sacked the fraternity houses of trophies and cups last spring, and provided a local merchant with a great deal of embarrassment while defacing his property, appeared at the Junior Prom last Friday evening, and stole the Queen's cup. The theft was not wholly a success, for the sneaks were frightened into disposing of the loot; and it was finally found on Memorial field, its base and handles knocked off, and the rest of it badly damaged, quite beyond repair.

Was this not an admirable stunt? The students of the neighboring college who are suspected of contriving it should feel very proud of themselves. They surely have benefitted by their higher education. It was a very clever trick; it was exceedingly funny!

However, it is to be seriously doubted that the Junior Prom Queen will thoroughly appreciate the humor of the situation. Just think—this was probably the most thrilling night of her life: selected by her classmates as the most attractive young lady in the class, she reigned over the biggest social event of the spring. The cup was designed to provide her with everlasting memories of her hours of triumph. And because of the childish minds of Little Joey College and his associates, she almost lost this momento entirely, and while she did get it back, it is ruined beyond repair.

During the 1920's, the raccoon coat-clad, banner-waving college student, with his hip pocket flask and hare-brained activities, was an object of general derision. Students were popularly supposed to be at college for a good time. But since the depression, the stock of the college student has risen remarkably in the public estimation, along with the increasing seriousness of the majority of the students.

And now, people will read of this affair, and, perhaps, will wonder if, after all, the attitude of students has really improved—maybe, they might think, the majority of them are still at school for a four year holiday from work, and still can be expected to pull off such stunts as putting cows in the college chapel, and wrecking public property. This incident must be considered as a blot on the reputation of college students everywhere. How long are those of us who were proud of our improved status in the public eye going to stand for these escapades of our rattle-brained brethren?

Signed,

RECENT EVENTS

by George Edson

The leading Bishops of the National Catholic Welfare Conference at Washington, D. C., have just issued a statement on racial prejudices and anti-Semitism which should be read by all whose rightful anger at Father Coughlin's crude anti-Semitism tricks them into the pitfall of anti-Catholic bigotry.

The Catholic Bishops (among whom was Bishop Mooney of Detroit, Coughlin's superior), during their semi-annual meeting last Tuesday, sternly condemned all racial prejudices as “un-Christian”. Particularly was the racial prejudice of anti-Semitism condemned, and the words of the late Pope Pius XI denouncing anti-Semitism were repeated by the Bishops. Concluding their warning, the Bishops opposed that kind of propaganda which is “in the interest of systems and theories antagonistic to the principles of democracy and Christianity.”

The meaning here is unmistakable. The pro-Hitler, anti-Semitic propaganda which pours from the mouth of a Coughlin is a libel not only against Americanism; it is also a libel to associate it with the Catholic community in America.

Frosh Track Team Routs N. Hampton

The freshman track team had things pretty much to itself Saturday as it ran roughshod over New Hampton in the second dual meet of the season, winning by the score of 107-19. Sipprelle led the team's scoring with 21 points, winning the javelin, discus, and hammer throws, and placing second in all other field events except the pole vault. Styles and Clark each had two firsts, Styles also getting a second in the 220 and a third in the 100 yard dash.

Five New Hampshire men finished in practically a dead heat in the mile race; and Huntoon, who won the half, was closely followed by Mullen, Rivers, and Harkins. Other clean sweeps were made by the Kittens in the high jump and the 220.

Whipple got the only first for the visitors, a tie with Griffiths in the pole vault. Twomey was Whipple's only teammate to seriously threaten to win an event when he took seconds in the 100 and 440.

The next meet for the freshmen is against Dartmouth here in Durham on May 13.

The summary:
 100 yard dash — Won by Clark; 2nd, Twomey (NH); 3rd, Styles (Fr.). Time—10.6s.
 220 yard dash — Won by Clark (Fr.); 2nd, Styles (Fr.); 3rd, Barnett (Fr.). Time—24.8s.
 440 yard dash — Won by Cannell (Fr.); 2nd, Twomey (NH); 3rd, Richards (Fr.). Time—53.8s.
 880 yard dash — Won by Huntoon (Fr.); end, Mullen (Fr.); 3rd, Rivers (Fr.). Time—2m. 9.2s.
 Mile run — Won by Rivers (Fr.); 2nd, Harkins (Fr.); 3rd, a tie between Kimball, Houlihan and Carlson, all of the freshman team. Time—5m. 3s.
 120 yard high hurdles — Won by Wheeler (Fr.); 2nd, Schultz (Fr.); 3rd, Lawrence (Fr.). Time—19.6s.
 220 yard low hurdles — Won by Styles (Fr.); 2nd, Cannell (Fr.); 3rd, Stentiges (NH). Time—29.8s.
 Shot put — Won by Beaudette (Fr.); 2nd, Sipprelle (Fr.); 3rd, Spornow (NH). 46 ft. 2 in.
 Javelin throw — Won by Sipprelle (Fr.); 2nd, Koutsotaseos (Fr.); 3rd, Swansterer (NH). 152 ft. 3 in.

27th Annual Track Interscholastics Here on Saturday

St. John's After Seventh Consecutive Victory in Preparatory School Class

The University of New Hampshire has invited the High and Preparatory schools of New Hampshire and its surrounding states to participate in its 27th annual track and field meet which will take place on Lewis Fields on Saturday, May 6.

The purpose of this meet is primarily to promote interest in track and field athletics in the secondary schools of New Hampshire and to provide an opportunity through high class competition whereby coaches may develop and test their material in these events. This purpose is better realized by the addition of teams outside the state, as their performances are compared and studied so that their participation makes the meet of greater value to all concerned.

Lewis Fields presents one of the finest track and field layouts to be found in the east. A 220 yard straightaway 30 feet wide permits eight lanes, each 45 inches wide, so that there will be eight finalists in all dashes and hurdle races, as compared with four on many tracks. The quarter mile is run with only one turn, another outstanding feature of the track.

A large number of entries have been received in each of the three classes into which the competition has been divided. Both the Prep school and State High school groups have fifteen entries while 25 high schools are listed in the out-of-state division. This year's meet promises to be one of the biggest since the first interscholastics was won back in 1912 by Manchester high school. Since that time many changes have taken place in the organization of the meet, and the location has been moved from the cramped Memorial field facilities to the present convenient Lewis Fields. In 1928, there were four distinct divisions made of what had been open competition, so that the high schools and the prep schools were both sub-divided into state and out-of-state classes. In 1934 the two prep school classes were united so that the present system of having three divisions was inaugurated.

Competition is expected to be close in the state school division with last year's champion, Portsmouth, battling it out with Manchester Central, Concord, Nashua, and Laconia. Manchester Central dominated this class for eight years, starting in 1929, but in the last two years Nashua and Portsmouth have been victorious.

For the last four years Schenectady, N. Y. has furnished the winner of the out-of-state high schools, but neither Mont Pleasant, last year's champion,

Yearling Stickmen Downed by Exeter

The freshman lacrosse team was out-clashed from start to finish in its game with Phillips Exeter Academy on the Academy grounds Saturday, the final score being 16-1. Hulburd and Hoagland led the home team attack with five goals each, followed in the scoring by Copp with three. This trio seemed to penetrate the Wildcat defense almost at will, laying down a steady barrage on Improta in the New Hampshire goal.

Rudd, who scored the only goal, and Improta were outstanding for the freshmen. Now the Kittens turn to preparing for the invasion of the Governor Dummer team on Saturday, the sixth of May.

The summary:
 Exeter — Katzenbach, g; Bowersox, p; Mitchell, cp; Black, 1d; Copp, 2d; Wilson, cc; Todd, 2a; Hoagland, 1a; Hulburd, oh; Childs, ih.

New Hampshire '42 — Improta, g; Budzianowski, p; Doyle, cp; Gordon, 1d; McCrome, 2d; Monica, cc; Randon, 2a; Rudd, 1a; Judkins, oh; Sonosky, ih.

Goals — Hulburd 5, Hoagland 5, Todd, Copp 3, Keefer, Childs, Rudd. Referee, Littleton.

SENIOR NOTICE

All orders for commencement invitations must be placed with the committee before Saturday, May 6. Orders will be taken by James Couser, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kenneth Huff, Theta Chi; Doris LeClair, Smith Hall, Barbara Sullivan, Alpha Chi Omega, Augusta Timberlake, Alpha Xi Delta; George Abbott, West Hall.

nor Nott Terrace, victor for the three years previous, will be present Saturday. This leaves competition in this division wide open, and one of the three Portland High schools, all of which have been successful here in the past, may take the place of the New Yorkers. South Portland was the winner for three consecutive years, starting in 1932, following Deering High, Matt Flaherty's alma mater, and Portland as the class of this field. Massachusetts and Vermont are also sending some strong teams.

St. John's Prep, undefeated in the Interscholastics since 1933 is expected to find a real challenge from Seton Hall, one of New Jersey's strongest prep school track teams. Tilton is definitely in the running in this class and it would not be surprising to see them grab off top honors while the other two were knocking each other off.

The first event is scheduled for 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Promptly at that time finals in all field events except the hammer throw and trials in such track events as the dashes and the hurdles will be run off. In the afternoon finals in the hammer throw and in all track events will take place, starting at 2 o'clock. The last event is scheduled for 4.10, and will be immediately followed by the Varsity meet with Northeastern.

The public address system installed at Lewis Field has made the handling of the many athletes much simpler, and the meet has always been famed for the precision with which one event follows rapidly on the heels of the preceding one. Coach Sweet and his assistants have been working ever since the opening of school, making preparations for this meet, and every little detail will be taken care of by the time for the first bark of the starter's gun. It certainly gives the schoolboys something to work for to have a chance to participate in a big meet like this and

Varsity Lacrosse Team Beats Union, Bows to Williams

Ario Piretti and Lloyd Coutts Are High Scorers For John DuRie's Stickmen

The University of New Hampshire varsity lacrosse team returned to Durham late Saturday night after having beaten Union 13-6 on Friday, and having been defeated by Williams Saturday afternoon 8-6. As was anticipated by Coach John DuRie, the long trip and two games in two days was too much for the stickmen and they cracked under the strain on the last day. The victory in Schenectady was a non-league game but the defeat by Williams was in a New England conference fray and marked the first setback of the season for the team.

The squad arrived at Union College Friday morning after having spent the night in Bennington, Vt. The game was typical of the others played this season by the Wildcats as they piled up 13 points while limiting the opponents to six. Jack Wentzel, varsity hockey goalie, was tending the net in the absence of Sam Levine, who could not make the trips because of a Civil Service examination.

Each team suffered seven penalties during the course of the contest as they battled for supremacy. Ario Piretti and Lloyd Coutts were high scorers for New Hampshire with three goals apiece and Blue led the losers with two.

Deated by Williams

In Williamstown, Mass., the Wildcats suffered their first defeat of the season and their second in two years as they were downed, 8-6. Coutts scored first for New Hampshire in two minutes and seven seconds of the first period, while Potter was the first to throw the ball past Wentzel for Williams.

The DuRie coached team led throughout the contest until at 17.40 of the second half when Warden tied the count at six all. Then, in the last five minutes, with three Wildcats in the penalty box, the home team scored the two winning goals.

There were no injuries to New Hampshire players and so they will be in top form to avenge their defeat as they entertain a strong Harvard squad here in Durham Saturday afternoon.

The summary:
 New Hampshire penalties — Knox, 8.52, slashing, 2 min.; Knox, 11.34, rear, 2 min.; Piretti, 20.05, checking, 1 min.; Costanzo, 29.43, pshing, 1 min. Second period, Coutts, 5.34, slashing,, 3 min.; Costanzo, 6.49, slashing, 2 min.; Tinker, 10.34, checking, 1 min.

Union penalties—Reyer, 2.50, slashing, 2 min.; Hayne, 22.49, slashing, 1 min. Second period, Wordwell, 4.26, 2 min.; Ostrander, 6.05, 2 min.; Blue, 2.43, 2 min.; Shillins, 6.28, 1 min.; Wordwell, 9.41, 2 min.

Goals — New Hampshire — Quinn, Coutts 3, Knox 2, Piretti 3, Randall, Kinion 2, Ballou. Union—Blue 2, Ostrander, Wordwell, Glinard, Reyer.

New Hampshire penalties — Quinn, Otis, Coutts, Knox, Piretti, Ballou, Tinker.

Williams penalties—Swanson, Sheddon, Potter, Tower, Proem, Aubrey.

Goals — New Hampshire — Coutts, Knox, Piretti 2, Quinn, Otis. Williams —Potter 2, Swanson 2, McGurke, Warden 2, Eower.

it also affords the spectators a brilliant spectacle to see so many athletes competing in such a friendly and determined attitude as has been the tradition of the New Hampshire Interscholastics.

Wildcats Trounce Northeastern Nine 12-4 Behind Roper

Pitcher Allows Four Hits While Making Three; Stars In Top-heavy N. H. Victory

Led by the brilliant pitching and hard hitting of "Slugging Al" Roper, New Hampshire's snarling Wildcats pounded out a twelve to four victory over Northeastern in a game played at Huntington field, Brookline, Saturday. Coach Swasey's outfit, displaying the same punch that typified the opener, made twelve hits off three Husky hurlers. "Lefty" Roper was the leading contributor to the barrage, lacing out two singles and a triple. As a result of this notable feat, his fame as batter will probably be spread far and wide, causing future opposing pitchers to be especially wary when Al is wielding his hefty bludgeon. Sam Clark's vaunted long distance hitting ability made itself evident when he poled a long two run circuit clout in the opening inning. Sam added a single to round out an excellent day's work at the plate.

Two singles were struck for the cause by Lou Cryans, who also turned in some fine running catches in the outfield. New Hampshire's big second inning in which it scored four runs was due largely to three hits and three successive walks.

Fielding Is Rather Spotty

The fielding, as a whole, was nothing to write home about, but Sparky Adams made several good plays on looping fly balls into short right field. Each team committed four miscues and Northeastern's large first inning was due to Al Roper's temporary wildness when he issued two of the three passes he gave up all afternoon to the first two men to face him, followed by a lapse in fielding by New Hampshire. The playing surface was not in very good condition and this might have been responsible for the rather poor work afield.

Al Roper's remarkable pitching goes on and on. In every contest the opposition continues to look futile against his slants and Saturday's game was no exception. Aside from the Huskies' three-run first, they were completely held in check, managing to eke out but one run in the fifth. In turning in another of his four-hitters and whiffing nine in the bargain, Al stamped himself as the pitcher to watch in the New England College Conference league. If New Hampshire's future rivals have as much trouble in solving Al's offerings as the first two did, their batting averages are going to suffer a terrific jolt.

Wildcats Meet B. U. on Thursday

The team travels to Boston again on Thursday, May 4, to meet the Terriers of Boston University. The aforementioned canines have not proved very scrappy, having yet to taste the sweet nectar of victory. They have an excellent experienced pitcher in Leahy, a veteran; a better than average receiver in Johnny Walker, football and hockey letterman; and a good fielder in Johnny Di Nublia. Jackie Rotmus, who plays both first and second, and Johnny Quinn at the hot corner are also outstanding. With the Wildcat pitchers count: on to take the bite out of the none-too-ferocious Terriers and with the Durham Drivers continually on to the third act of "the Awakening of the Willow" it is not being overly optimistic to expect a third straight victory.

The student council at Michigan State college has banned corsages at all dances except those given for socials at fraternities and sororities. This action was based upon the opinions gathered from the various student organizations, especially the Interfraternity Council and the Independent Men.

The rapid expansion of Northeastern university recently necessitated the need for separate administrations in the College of Liberal Arts and the College of Business Administration.

The University of Kentucky's swimming team, four times state champion, is pool-less. The swimmers practice in a pool a few miles distant from the University of Kentucky's campus.

When professors start out to make their textbooks interesting, there's no telling what they'll do. Witness the names the University of Alabama's Dr. H. H. Chapman uses to pep up his new text on accounting: A. M. Day, P. M. Knight, B. Good, U. R. Looney, Heas Fitts and I. M. Badd. (ACP)

Erb Leads Liberals

George L. Erb, former mayoralty aspirant and resigned sports writer for "The New Hampshire", was elected president of the Liberal Club last week at an organization meeting. Other officers elected at this time were: Kay Martineau, vice-president; Naomi Savan, secretary-treasurer; Manuel Kopelman, chairman of the campus affairs committee; William Ford, chairman of the labor committee.

A bet by a Harvard freshman started the latest collegiate fad several weeks ago by swallowing a live goldfish. But according to the Tufts Weekly: "Professional newspapers all over the country have been the butt of one of the greatest April Fool gags in years . . . a wave of goldfish swallowing stories flooded into editorial offices and with little confirmation were passed on to a gullible public. Today college students from coast to coast are still chuckling over the 'fast one' they have put over on the sophisticated journalists, while many an editorial face is still red for having bitten at the tempting bait, cute little goldfish!"

Field Army Starts Blue Key Defeated by Faculty Team

The local committee of the Women's Field Army for Control of Cancer was recently organized at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry W. Smith. The committee, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Guy Smart as captain, is conducting a house to house canvass for funds, seventy per cent of which will remain in New Hampshire to be devoted to state work in cancer control.

Dr. McGregor says in supporting this nationwide crusade to control a disease which attacks all ages and all kinds of people:

"The Cancer Commission again makes its annual appeal for funds, without which the good work cannot go on. It may be well to recall that New Hampshire leads in incidence of cancer; also it has the best set-up in the country for such work.

"It is our duty and responsibility to assist in this noble work and help to conquer one of the most dreaded of diseases. You or yours may be afflicted some time, so bear this in mind when you are asked to make your contribution."

Wood, one year army duty, Fort McKinley, Me.; Joseph Zautra, training, R. H. White Co., Boston, Mass.

A softball team, composed of the faculty defeated a Blue Key aggregation on the varsity baseball diamond Saturday afternoon before an enthusiastic crowd of rooters, 16-11. The score at the end of the first half of the ninth inning stood 16-11, but the profs insisted on their last "licks" and scored six more runs to make an unofficial total of 22.

Bob Spaulding, starting pitcher for the senior honorary society's team, held the faculty to six runs in the first six innings as his mates scored 11; but his successor, Bert Teague, was not so successful. The professors collected ten runs in the last three frames as they were slugging the horsehide in all directions.

The student players as well as the spectators enjoyed seeing the teachers away from blackboards and books, and were glad of a chance to boo and cheer as they saw fit.

The lineup:

Faculty — Donovan, catcher; Had-dock, pitcher; Sauer, first base and pitcher; Slanetz, first base; Perkins, second base; Justice, short stop; Towle, third base; Martin, right field; Floyd, center field; Anderson, left field; Hager, short field; Penzack; Johnson.

Blue Key — Sauer, catcher; Spaulding, pitcher and first base; Teague, first base and pitcher; Hanlon, second base; Preble, short stop; McCaffrey, short stop; Nelson and Horne, outfielders.

where the cup had been placed by the queen after the presentation, and ran out onto Memorial field when discovered by police chief Louis Bourgoin. After the dance, the theft of the cup from the room was noticed, and subsequent search found it out on the field, where it had presumably been thrown away by the students as they fled. The base of the cup was broken off, the handle broken in two places, and the trophy was dented considerably. Partial identification of these students is known, and as soon as the positive identity of the culprits is ascertained, a warrant will be sworn out for their arrest.

The prom officially inaugurated the week-end of athletic contests and house dances, a week-end that saw the faculty defeat the students in softball and the tennis team take the measure of the Bowdoin racket-wielders. The successful holiday was brought to a close as the thirteen Greek-letter fraternities held their Saturday evening house dances.

In charge of the prom was John Hanlon, assisted by the committee of Carl Randall, orchestra; Burt Mitchell, programs; William Sanderson, refreshments; Creeley Buchanan, publicity; Virginia Parker, chaperones; Luella Hirshner, decorations; George McCaffrey, tickets; and Herbert Johnson, queen contest. Chaperones for the affair were Dr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Oberlander, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Justice. President and Mrs. Engelhardt were invited to be guests of the evening.
