PRICE, THREE CENTS

Partial Cast for Mask and Dagger Production Chosen

W. Webster Leads Large Group of Characters Who Will Present "Our Town"

The cast for "Our Town", Pulitzer prize play which will be presented by Mask and Dagger November 8, 9, and 10 in Murkland auditorium was announced in part today by Professor Hennessey, director of the production.

The Stage Manager, around whom most of the action revolves, will be played by Walter Webster, advertising manager of "The New Hampshire." Webster, a sophomore, is no stranger to Mask and Dagger audiences; he played in last year's production of "You Can't Take It With You."

Other old-timers reappearing in this play include Jean Adams of "Stage Door", who will take the part of the Woman in the Balcony; Marjorie Callahan as Mrs. Gibbs; Louis McDonough as Joe Crowell; Robert Nolan as Sam Craig; Charles Craig as Dr. Gibbs; Kenneth Tuxbury as Simon Stimson; Mildred Hutton as Mrs. Soames; Catherine Sullivan as the Lady in the Box; and Robert Olson as Mr. Webb.

Paul Nolan, brother of Robert who did such outstanding work in "Berkeley Square" and "Mary of Scotland", will portray Professor Willard, a teacher at the University of New Hampshire. The young love interest will be provided by Philip Smith as George Gibbs and Dorothy Briggs, a promising newcomer, as Emily Webb. Alice Moran will play Mrs. Webb, while the Baseball Players include Mario Manzoni, Ralph Beckley, and Edward Richardson. Howie Newsome, a character of no small importance will be

President's Reception Held in Commons

Several hundred members of the faculty and of the administration attended the formal reception held by President Engelhardt in the Commons Monday evening at eight o'clock. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. Engelhardt, Roy D. Hunter, president of the Board of Trustees, Miss Jessie Doe, member of the board, John S. Elliott, secretary of the board, and Mrs. Elliott.

Craig Elected to Granite Position

Charles Craig was elected photography editor of the Granite Monday night at a staff meeting, and he will fill the vacancy made by Arthur Graham, who was elected at the annual election last May but did not return to school this year. Craig has shown himself to be an able and conscientious class worker and has been active in many student activities. He was class treasurer in his freshman year, and was on the freshman relay team. He was active on "The New Hampshire," Mask and Dagger, and was vice-president of the Cauldrons. As chairman of the Sophomore Hop committee, he helped to produce the first successful Sophomore Hop.

The work of the Granite is now in order and the staff may be seen working hard to get the first copy out early. At present they are arranging the schedule for pictures of the Juniors which are to start next Monday.

Phil Smith Plays for W. A. A. Dance

New Hampshire's large group of dancing students will have another opportunity to "swing and sway" tomorrow evening in the Girls' gymnasium, when the Women's Athletic Association sponsors the third dance of the fall season. Music for the affair will be furnished by Phil Smith and his seven-piece orchestra, a newcomer to the ranks of campus bands. The Smith aggregation, which enjoyed a very successful tour this past summer, is reported to be one of the better bands which has played at the gymnasium in recent years, and a large group of students is expected to be present at the dance.

Chaperones for the annual affair will be Mr. and Mrs. William F. Crissy and Mr. and Mrs. Lashley G. Harvey, of the Education department.

Bauer Returns to Open New Series

Popular American Pianist First of Distinguished Artists to Appear Here

The concert program, recently announced by the University of New Hampshire lectures and concert committee, will open on Wednesday, Oct. 18, when Harold Bauer, popular American pianist, appears at Murkland auditorium in a return engagement.

Two years ago, Mr. Bauer spent several days on the campus among the musically minded students. He is well known both in this country and in Europe, having appeared with the Berlin, Vienna, London, and Madrid Philharmonic orchestras. Born in England, he came to this country where he made his debut with the Boston Symphony in 1901. It was not until 20 years later, however, that he became an American citizen.

On Nov. 15, students and faculty of the University will have an opportunity to hear a fine musical trio in Gerard Haft, cellist; Einar Hansen, violinist; and Ethel Hutchinson, pianist. Mr. Haft, distinguished conductor, came to this country in 1938. He has appeared with the Rotterdam Philharmonic, and in 1925, he made a tour of Europe with the ballet orchestra of the noted Russian dancer, Pavlova. Mr. Hansen, violinist, showed remarkable musical ability at an early age. He studied under the tutelage of Max Fiedler, and for several years he was first concert master of the Bremen and Dresden Philharmonic orchestras. Miss Hutchinson, third member of the trio, is very popular among the younger generation of pianists in the East.

On Dec. 6, the famous Manchester A Capella choir of 59 mixed voices will make its debut on the Durham campus, under the direction of Alfred E. Plumpton.

The 90-piece Federal Symphony of Massachusetts will appear on the University stage on Dec. 6. This is the first time a full symphony orchestra has appeared on the campus.

The fifth of the concert series will come on March 20 when Efreim Zimbalist, well known violinist, appears on the campus. Mr. Zimbalist has toured for 27 years, covering 750,000 miles and appearing all over the globe in nearly every capital city.

The final concert of the season on April 17 will feature Royal Dadmun, baritone, who returns to the University after an absence of four years.

Lens and Shutter Club

The Lens and Shutter Club will hold its first meeting Monday at eight in Ballard Hall. This club is open to any hobbyist interested in photography and would like to share his experiences with other camera enthusiasts. At this first meeting, plans will be completed for the fall program which is to include two showings of educational films from Eastman Kodak, a salon of prints from the American Photographers Society, and many informal discussions of interest to beginner and advanced amateur alike.

Starling Outlines New Drill System

The University of New Hampshire division of the R.O.T.C. will have this year as its new infantry adjutant, Lieutenant Colonel Starling. Born in Annapolis, Maryland, and until this year commander of the 3rd Battalion, 21st Infantry, Scofield Barracks in Hawaii, Lieutenant-Colonel Starling intends to continue the plan of administration set up by his predecessor, Major Swanton.

Questioned concerning the new drill rules and manual of arms which the War Department has ordered used by both the regular army and the R.O.T.C., the new adjutant said that these rules will benefit the military organizations of the United States by allowing a minimum of time to be spent on drilling and a maximum of time on target practice and military tactics. The new system does away completely with the traditional "squads right", and "squads left", and substitutes mass movement for individual movement on parade.

Lieutenant-Colonel Starling has this to say about his new post: "I am very highly honored to be here and I trust that my tenure of duty will be one of pleasure and happiness. I also trust that I may be able to keep the infantry division of the University of New Hampshire moving steadily forward."

Noted Psychiatrist Lectures at Convo

At the first women's convocation of the year, held in Murkland auditorium on October 4, Dr. Marianna Baker spoke on "Entering College From a Psychiatrist's Point of View." Illustrating her interesting talk with many varied anecdotes from her own college and professional career, Dr. Baker emphasized several objectives to strive for in order to gain the greatest value from college life.

Following the speaker Rachel Moore, President of the Association of Women Students, presided at a short business meeting at which the social committee was chosen. The chairman, Alma Elliott, and the sophomore commuter member, Teresa Foley, were appointed by the president. The other senior, junior and freshman members were chosen by ballot. They are as follows: Senior, Katherine Myhre; Junior, Libby Kinsman; Freshman, Ann Taylor.

Thrilling Tale of Trip Around World Told by Lecturer

Dwight Long Captivates Murkland Audience with Story of His Experience

Around the world in a 32-foot boat, through tropic seas and strange ports, tossed about by gale and hurricane but never seriously damaged until, on the day of his arrival in New York harbor, his boat was wrecked against a sea wall in last September's hurricane—that is the story of Dwight Long, 25 year old skipper of the smallest boat ever to circumnavigate the globe, who spoke in Murkland Wednesday night to inaugurate the 1939-1940 series of Lectures and Concerts.

Long started out from his native Seattle on his 3500-mile adventure after two years at the University of Washington. On the first leg of his journey from Seattle, 120 miles inland, to San Francisco, he was collecting equipment, including a supply of fishing tackle given him by Ex-President Hoover, and outfitting his boat, which is about the size of an ordinary ship's lifeboat. Failing to secure a movie contract to finance his expedition, he set sail for Hawaii with two passengers who had never sailed before.

Dangerous Adventure

"The odds against our succeeding in our adventure were tremendous," said Captain Long. "Besides the dangers of navigation to such a small craft as mine, there is the question of compatibility. When two people are confined within 32 feet for weeks on end without seeing another living soul, each can tell before just what the other is going to say. And as if the dangers of compatibility and navigation are not enough there is the problem of financing."

Henderson Covers Twenty-two States on Summer Tour

Dad Henderson has been so busy enjoying New Hampshire during the past twenty years that he couldn't find time to visit his native state of Iowa. On the 30th of last June, however, along with Mrs. Henderson and their two daughters, Helen and Henriette, he started west on an automobile trip that was to cover twenty-two states and a large part of Canada. They visited relatives in Pennsylvania, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Dad, Helen, and Henriette took a little side trip into Texas, too. Returning through Oklahoma, they went into northwestern Kansas, visiting Dodge City on the way, and continued west to Colorado Springs and Denver, where they took time out to drive over the breath-taking hairpin road that winds to the top of Mt. Evans, 4,260 feet in elevation.

In beautiful Salt Lake City, they witnessed a demonstration of the exceptional acoustics of the Mormon tabernacle, which seats 9,000. The sound of a pin dropped on a table, or a whisper at the extreme end of the tabernacle is plainly audible throughout. While in Idaho, they saw part of an Indian sun dance which continued for three days and three nights.

The next important stop was one of the main objectives of the trip, Yellowstone National Park, which Dad thinks is one of the great places that every American should see. Old Faithful, and the pools, given such names as Emerald, Morning Glory, and Garnet after the colors in them, were among the points of interest. Contrary to the usual custom, the people are put in enclosures and the forty to fifty grizzly bears come at meal time to the feeding platform outside. Although the tourists cannot bother them, there is no ruling about gulls and rather violent squabbles result between the bears and birds. On one occasion the Hendersons found the highway blocked by cubs, for the mother bears apparently encourage them to play in the road so passing motorists will stop and feed them.

On the return journey, the Hendersons drove through Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan, entering Canada via Sault Ste. Marie. While in Ottawa, they visited the Parliament buildings and took a special trip to see the "Quints" in Callander. They were allowed to watch the little girls in their playground through the one way glass that prevents them from seeing their visitors. The trip was ended with a few days stay in Montreal and Quebec.

Back home after five weeks of travel which covered a total of 8200 miles, the Hendersons all agree that New Hampshire is still the "loviest place" that they have ever seen.

PARKING ON THE LAWNS

Every year about this time it is always appropriate to write an editorial about the lawns and the care thereof. It usually is directed at the students who cross the grass at strategic points which make it possible to go to class one minute sooner than by going around on the walk. That particular matter this year doesn't seem to be particularly disturbing.

There is however, a matter which makes the care of the students in not walking on the grass seem absurd. The reference here is to the faculty and staff members parking their cars on what used to be the front lawn of Nesmith hall. Two years ago much was said about using that lawn as a short cut to the athletic fields and signs and warnings were frequent. Then the reconstruction of the building took place and of course the lawn was quickly destroyed.

The building is finished now and there doesn't seem to be any reason why parking should be permitted on the front lawn, or where the lawn ought to be. To be sure the come-back will be that if the cars aren't parked there, where are they going to park them, and we suppose that is as good a reason as any for parking them there. Since there is no nearby place to park it seems that if the University wants its newest and one of its most attractive buildings to appear at its best, it (the University) should provide places for the cars to be parked. What is the matter with the area between the Women's gymnasium and the Faculty Club? And while we are on the matter it seems that something ought to be done about the inadequate parking facilities. Instead of increasing them the idea seems to decrease them.

Some arrangement should be made regarding the unsightliness of the front of Nesmith. It is extremely difficult for the Student Council and other student organizations to insist on the students keeping off the grass when the faculty parks cars on the grass.

Durham Notes Grange Fair

Featuring a pet show, a food sale, interesting exhibits of local hobbies and crafts, and a display of fruits, flowers, and vegetables, the Scammel Grange held their annual fair Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The evening consisted of a program in which Constance Bulger and Eleanor Deveneau each gave a solo tap dance and the virginia reel was performed by four boys and four girls of Durham. After these performances, the audience joined in the singing and dancing.

Mr. George Ham was general chairman of the affair.

Girl Scout Meeting

Monday afternoon after school, the Durham Girl Scout Troop of about 35 girls, will hold their first meeting of the year at the Community House. It will be under the sponsorship of the Women's Guild and Mrs. Joseph Jarrest, who recently was appointed to the captaincy at a committee meeting held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Baraclough, will lead the group.

All girls who are interested are invited to attend.

Art Group Program

A trip to the art colony at Rockport, Massachusetts, in order to study contemporary art, will be made Sunday by the members of the art group of the American Association of University Women. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Knowlton, chairman.

Tea Given

From 3:30 to 5:00 a tea was given by the American Association of University Women for the new members of the group at Scott Hall.

Mrs. Everett Sackett exhibited some of her many photographs.

Scammel Grange Meeting

Tonight the Scammel Grange will hold its first meeting of the year. At this time, as on every second and fourth Fridays in the future, a card and game party will be given for the community. Prizes and refreshments will be given.

Kitten Gridsters Boast Experience

Coach Tony Dougal's freshman football forces are busy every afternoon keeping in shape for their frequent scrimmages with the varsity aggregation, as well as preparing themselves for their first game with the junior varsity.

Every Monday the team learn enemy plays, this week it is concentrating on those of Northeastern.

The freshman squad boasts a number of heavy aggressive footballers who show that they gathered considerable experience in high and prep schools. Among the outstanding performers is 200-pound Buck Mugford from Chelsea in the fullback spot. He is supplemented in the backfield by Pete Meneglin and barrel-chested Judd. When a fast shifty back as well as an accurate passer is needed the freshman coaches call on Don Begin.

Besides a very capable backfield, the team sports a powerful experienced line. On the flanks, LaMont, Suslak, Goodfellow and Mackel are outstanding. At the tackle posts Roscoe, Smith and Sullivan have shown much promise as have Sakoian, Mihalaski, Ackerman, and Bucci at the guards. DesRoches appears to have won himself a starting berth at the center position.

Sixty-seven other candidates also practice every day bringing the total number of candidates to 84.

Sweet Optimistic for Cross Country Opener with Bates

New Hampshire Veterans Have Chance to Win on Home Course Today

New Hampshire's cross country forces, manned in the main by a crew of hill and dale veterans of long experience, open another campaign this afternoon, meeting a strong Bates team on the Lewis Fields course at 3:30.

Since the two teams have not met in dual competition for some years, and as neither outfit has engaged in an actual meet this season, it is difficult to make any prediction as to the result.

When interviewed by "The New Hampshire", Coach Paul Sweet, veteran mentor said, "Using the only criterion we have on the Bates team, their performance last year in the New England Championships, Bates seems to hold a slight edge. However, we feel we can give them a good battle, and think we have a good chance of winning."

Seven and perhaps ten men, according to how many runners the visitors bring, will go to the starting line for the Blue and White, with the following men having been nominated by Coach Sweet: Ted Underwood, Jack "Red" Kirk, Harry Atwood, Johnny Swasey, Warren Jones, Ray Rivers, Bob Mullen, Clint Huntoon, Roland Kimball, and Paul Shaw.

The race, as already mentioned, starts and finishes on the Lewis Fields track, with the barrier due to go up at precisely 3:30. Coach Sweet makes the plea that as many of the student body as find it possible come out to give the boys some vocal and spiritual support.

Freshman Runners Meet Portsmouth

The cross country teams representing the University of New Hampshire freshmen and Portsmouth High school meet today at 3 o'clock with Lewis Fields the starting and finishing points.

Coach Sweet pointed out that his charges have been running for only a week and only timed twice so that perhaps not too much can be expected of them. The popular coach stressed the fact that the starting line-up would be picked with the physical conditions of the individual men being the greatest factors. Secondary factors would be the average times turned in by the boys, the adaptability with which they absorbed the fundamentals of distance running, and the fact that some boys run better on a course such as the University's.

There was no workout last night so Coach Sweet was able to name the starting line-up after Wednesday's hard workout. The first nine of the ten-man team are as follows: Lowry, Gibbs, Keough, Joslin, Holmes, Campbell, French, Emmons, and Hartshorn. The final man will be chosen from Pearson, LeLoup and H. Hamlin of whom Hamlin appeared the faster.

The strength of the Clippers is not known but Blanchett, who came in first against Concord, is especially fast on courses such as the Lewis Field run. Lowry, of the freshmen, has turned in fast times and Coach Sweet looks for him to give Blanchett plenty of competition.

Granite Notice

Any juniors who have not turned in their class schedules should do so at once so that they may be assigned a time for Granite pictures.

J. DuRie Coaches New Jayvee Squad

Johnny DuRie's Jayvee football forces are daily going through their paces on spacious Lewis Field. Considering the inexperience of the group, including those who have never played football at all, the team is making remarkable progress.

Each afternoon marks another link in N.H.'s football chain. This week the team is drilling on the University of Maine's plays so that they may execute them against the varsity in scrimmage.

Although a small group has recently been demoted from the varsity, Coach DuRie has his eye on two or three who he says are likely to be promoted at any time. DuRie further stated that the team showed a "splendid attitude" which is needed for a winning team in any sport.

Last year marked the first year that UNH has been privileged to have a Jayvee team, that being the reason undoubtedly for a rather small number of players. This year, though, there is a marked increase in the number of candidates. At the present writing, there are 21 members on the squad, consisting of about one-half sophomores; the other half being equally divided between juniors and seniors.

The Jayvee aggregation is a fairly hefty aggregation. The line averages in weight about 180 pounds, while the backs, a lighter and speedier group, averages approximately 165 pounds. Thus far, there have been no major injuries to hamper the team.

Although there are 21 candidates out, a definite increase over last year, Coach DuRie urges anyone else to join the squad who has a yearning to play football. It doesn't matter whether or not they have played before. The Jayvee team is the place to learn to play and then on to the varsity.

Intramural News

Sigma Beta fraternity, with firsts in bowling, ping-pong, tennis, and a second place in relay, was found to be the leader in last year's intramural sports season by the Intramural Sports Council at its meeting Monday night. Next in line were Theta Chi and Kappa Sigma.

Chick Justice, supervisor of intramurals, announced the winners in the following sports: softball, Theta Chi; relay, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; bowling, Sigma Beta; winter sports, Kappa Sigma; basketball, Theta Chi; ping-pong, Sigma Beta; track, Alpha Tau Omega; golf, Kappa Sigma; baseball, Lambda Chi Alpha; and tennis, Sigma Beta.

The personnel of this year's Intramural Council is as follows: Alpha Gamma Rho, Raymond Dupell; Alpha Tau Omega, Allan Bogrett; Kappa Sigma, Bill Spearman; Lambda Chi Alpha, Harry Atwood; Phi Alpha, Robert Becker; Phi Delta Upsilon, Ray Rivers; Phi Mu Delta, Bob Kimball; Pi Kappa Alpha, Bud Kenneth; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Jack Richardson; Sigma Beta, Doug MacDonald; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Willard Crock; Theta Chi, Phil Hodgdon; Theta Kappa Phi, Lou Cryans.

The following statistics were quoted for the benefit of those who think that the scope of intramurals is small, who think it takes but a little time, who think only a few games are played, and who want cold proof of the highly beneficial part intramurals play in the life of this college. Last year 649 men students, a big increase, participated in 385 games and 4122 individual matches, all of which took 6183 student hours, or 10 hours per student.

New Program

Mr. Justice said that this year an added drive for members is on and every boy not out for athletics will be given every opportunity to join intramural activities. He particularly stressed the fact that commuter teams would be welcomed and also that there is no danger of too few sports to choose from as new ones, 6-man football for instance, have been added to the program. Mr. Justice stated that all boys who wish to benefit themselves directly and their associates indirectly are hereby invited to play intramural sports. Students living in dorms or fraternities should contact their personal council member and commuters should contact Walter Angers, manager-elect of intramurals at Theta Kappa Phi fraternity. There are plenty of vacancies in the ranks of assistant managers which will be filled from sophomore applications. Two fraternity leagues and one dormitory league have been established and for schedules contact the council members or any bulletin board.

There is still an opportunity for more students to become heelers for The Granite. Especially, more men can be used. All those interested should report to The Granite office in Ballard hall Monday evening at 7:30.

Sauer Shakes Up Line-up in Attempt to Produce More Potent Combination

New Hampshire's grid forces, undaunted by last Saturday's setback at the hands of the Colby Mules, have worked hard all week, under the watchful eye of Coach Sauer, in an effort to get into the win column tomorrow against Northeastern.

Change in Line-up

Practice sessions found the coaches juggling the line-up, in order to field strongest possible combinations against the Huskies. No definite information has been given out as to starters, but, at any rate, several new men will appear. The squad, dogged by illness and injury all year, will be without the services of dependable Ed Sauer, who is badly handicapped with a dislocated toe. Fred Winterbottom, veteran end, is also on the injured list with knee trouble and will not be able to play. Harry Haynes and Harold Hall, both cut up in the Colby game, are ready to go, however. Ario Piretti will probably not play because of a cold.

Coach Sauer reports that the team has shown a marked improvement this week end expects that it will continue to pick up as the season progresses. In addition, the boys are showing fine spirit.

Northeastern Strong

The Northeastern team is a strong outfit, as shown by the fact that they held the powerful running attack of the St. Anselm Hawks in check during last Saturday's encounter. In so doing, however, their defense was left wide open for the Hawks' swiftly-moving aerial attack. Featuring 187 pounds of tri-threat man Harding the Huskies are a team to be reckoned with. Their able young coach, Dunn, was a protege of Harvard's famed Dick Harlow at Western Maryland. Northeastern has good reserves and a potent passing game. Incidentally, it was in this manner that they scored on St. Anselm.

New Hampshire still has its sophomore star, Stacey Clark. Much is expected of this speedy young back in future games. "Angel" Gordon, pile-driving fullback, will probably see plenty of service also. Queried concerning pass-chucking "Midge" Hall, Sauer expressed the belief that Hallie would make great strides with additional seasoning. Another Wildcat asset is large Matt Flaherty, who plays a hard game at tackle.

With the shake-up in the starting line-up, better things are expected of the injury-ridden Wildcats but Northeastern is decidedly not a set-up.

Kalijarvi Speaks at Tax Conference

Thorsten V. Kalijarvi, head of the department of government, spoke on "Taxation and the Common Man" Tuesday evening before the twenty-seventh annual conference on taxation at Williams college.

Prof. Kalijarvi maintained, "There is a dawning realization that the men entrusted with spending his (the common man's) tax money have been 'having a good time.' The wisdom of reducing all expenditures is doubtful. Government functions which they wish to maintain, however, should be defined and paid for at the lowest cost consistent with a decent standard of living."

This conference was under the auspices of the New England State Tax Officials Association.

...but do you know what's back of them?

Here's the set-up back of the familiar blue Bell emblem—

1. American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which coordinates system activities — advises on telephone operation — searches for improved methods.
2. 24 associated operating companies, which provide telephone service in their respective territories.
3. Long Lines Department of A. T. & T., which interconnects the operating companies and handles Long Distance and overseas service.
4. Bell Telephone Laboratories, which carries on scientific research and development for the system.
5. Western Electric, which is the manufacturing and distributing unit of the Bell System.

With common policies and ideals, these Bell System companies all work as one to give you the finest and friendliest telephone service—at lowest cost.

Thomas Announces New Rental Plan

Professor George R. Thomas, chairman of the fine arts committee, has recently announced a new plan by which students of the University of New Hampshire may have fine reproductions hanging from their study walls. These reproductions may be obtained at practically no cost through a rental plan to be inaugurated this fall.

Chosen from a New York collection by student ballot, the first pictures are considered to be among the finest existing reproductions. The most popular reproductions ready framed will be made available to undergraduates through the fine arts center at the Hamilton Smith library.

According to Professor Thomas, this plan offers new ground for the practical development of latent taste and critical judgment. Just owning one of these fine reproductions is said to cause the individual to develop a reaction quite different from that which would result from mere observation.

and an Intercollegiate Riding Competition which is to be a new event. In the former class, the students will be judged principally for form. Any students interested in entering this class should register with Priscilla Emery at Scott Hall before Tuesday. The winner of the Championship Saddle class is eligible to ride in the New England Championship Saddle Contest at the Eastern States Exposition which will be held in Boston in 1940.

The time schedule is as follows:

Time	Class
1:00	1	Model Saddle Horses.
1:10	2	Draft Horse Exhibition.
1:20	3	Saddle Horses, 15-2 and over.
1:35	4	Adult Horsemanship.
1:50	5	Jumpers (3½ feet).
2:00	6	Saddle Horses, under 15-2.
2:10	7	Saddle Ponies ("pet type"—ridden by children).
2:15	8	Student Horsemanship (U. of N. H. students only). Class may be divided.
2:25	9	Jumpers (knock down and out).
2:35	10	Pair Saddle Horses (combined ownership allowed).
2:45	11	Local Saddle Horses.
3:00	12	Intercollegiate Riding Competition.
3:15	13	Children's Riding Competition (under 16 yrs.) May be divided.
3:30	14	Stock Horses.
3:45	15	Road Hock.
4:00	16	Jumpers (4 feet).
4:15	17	Combination Horses.
4:30	18	Champion Saddle Horses.

Proceeds of the show are divided equally between the Outing Club and the Animal Husbandry Department which uses its share to finance cattle judging trips for its students.

Large Number of Transfers Register

Transfers, numbering 47, from colleges as far south as the Carolinas, and as far west as Texas, have entered the University of New Hampshire this fall.

Officials from the registrar's office indicated that these transfers were admitted for the most part as juniors and seniors with 40 in the liberal arts department, five enrolled in the college of technology, and two in the college of agriculture.

Although a great part of the advanced standing students are residents of New Hampshire and Massachusetts, there are also representatives from Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey and South Carolina.

A group of thirty-eight heelers, of whom only two are men, turned out at a meeting Wednesday evening. There is still room on the staff for many more heelers, especially boys. All those interested should report at the Granite office next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

LECTURE

Except on the trip to Hawaii, Long never had more than one companion at a time. While becalmed several days out of the Hawaiian port, his companion was stricken with appendicitis. After a delay of months, during which Long nearly gave up the idea of circumnavigating the world, he engaged as a companion a 69-year old ex-Chicago postal carrier and set sail for Tahiti. In Tahiti he found Timi, a 15-year old native boy who became his companion on many thousands of miles of his journey.

Improvised Sails Used

From Tahiti to New Zealand, to Australia, the East Indies and Bali, Long sailed with a companion who could speak no English. Once in a tropical gale the mast of the Idle Hour were broken off and she sailed into port using blankets for sails. His mascot, a dog which he took from Seattle, had long since been swept overboard by high seas.

In Ceylon, Long lost Timi, his faithful companion. "I returned to the boat one day and found Timi very sick. I rushed him to a hospital but he only lived a few days; he had contracted pneumonia after the long sea voyage. He is buried there beneath a cross which says "Timi—of the "Idle Hour." "He might have been only a Tahitian boy but I was grief-stricken at the loss."

Welcomed at London

Captain Long sailed up the Red Sea, through the Mediterranean and on to London where he was given an enthusiastic welcome by London officials. He then crossed the Atlantic in 72 days and reached the New York harbor in time to have his boat almost completely ruined in the worst storm in a century. For the last ten months he has been engaged in repairing the "Idle Hour" preparing to sail to Seattle and finish his round the world voyage.

Captain Long supplemented his lecture with motion pictures, some of which he took himself and some of which were taken by newsreel cameramen. Before the lecture, Captain Long was the guest of the University Yacht Club at a dinner in the President's dining room in the Commons.
