Famous Journalist Speaks on English Policy Toward U.S.

Herbert Agar Presents Results of Interviews With Leading Statesmen

Herbert Agar, the associate editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, will speak in Murkland auditorium, Wednesday evening, November 22, on "What England Wants from America," in the second public lecture of the fall series. One of the most influential journalists in the country and a brilliant historian, Mr. Agar recently returned from a trip to England where he had an opportunity to interview many leading statesmen. He will present his own liberal point of view on many of the problems now confronting the United States.

Born in New York City, Mr. Agar attended Neuman School in New Jersey and then entered Columbia University. Upon the entrance of the United States into the World War, he left college to serve in the navy, returning after the Armistice and graduating. He received his M.A. and Ph.D. from Princeton and was introduced to journalism by writing for "The English Review" in London. While there, he was made an attache of the American Embassy by former Ambassador Bingham.

Mr. Agar's first book, "The People's Choice," was published in 1934 and received the Pulitzer Prize in history. The book is a study of all the United States' presidents from Washington to Harding. Among his other works are "Land of the Free" and "The Pursuit of Happiness." He also collaborated with Allen Tate in editing "Who Owns America," a symposium.

His wife, Eleanor Carroll Chilton, is a distinguished novelist. "Shadows Waiting" and "Follow the Furies" are two of her novels. Through both his own and his wife's contacts, Mr. Agar is able to keep in close touch with European affairs.

This will be Mr. Agar's second appearance as a lecturer at the University. He spoke in 1935 on "Why Communism Is Not the Way Out."

Harvard Tradition Smashed by Wildcat Drum - Majorette

Well, an old Harvard tradition has been broken, but it took the University of New Hampshire, a U.N.H. co-ed, by the name of Beatrice Fishman, and a

Plans Started for Student Musical

A musical review this spring, designed to become an annual affair, is the latest and most exciting venture to be sponsored by the newly-formed music council. It is to be produced along the idea of the Hasty Pudding show of Harvard—peppy, modern, swingy, and with plenty of cracks—absolutely an all-student production.

The first step to be taken is the selection of an appropriate name, one which is typical of this university and which may be used from year to year. Students are urged to start thinking about this immediately for a name contest will soon be announced.

Much more talent is needed and along sufficiently different lines, to give everyone an opportunity to participate in this production. Music, songs, script, scenery designers, a stage director, lighting director, a dance director, a student orchestra, choruses, and original ideas and arts are among the things and persons needed.

Any suggestions may be handed in to members of the music council, or may be brought to the music department offices in Ballard hall.

Durham Times Makes Bow

Added to the many "appearances" in connection with the Harvard game was the initial appearance of the "Durham Times," edited and published by the College Shop.

The "Times," featuring "some of the news that's fit to print," was handed to the football fans in the North Station Saturday night as they entrained for home. Durhamites were surprised to read about many of the highlights of the afternoon and evening in the first issue of their "hometown" paper which had been rushed to Boston by special messenger. The editor stated that all news had come direct to the "Times" desk by special wire from the stadium and other points of interest in the city.

"The New Hampshire" welcomes the "Durham Times" to this campus; may all future issues be as newsy and peppy as was "N.H. VICTORIOUS in defeat."

Vic Roy Chosen To Play for Sphinx Dance

Vic Roy and his nine piece dance band will furnish the music for the Sphinx informal dance, this coming Saturday evening, it was announced Sunday by the committee in charge of the affair. While the Roy aggregation has never played in the gymnasium before, it is well-known on the campus, especially by those students who come from around Nashua, which is the home of the orchestra. In addition to the regular nine musicians, Roy plans to bring down a featured girl singer. The band, which enjoyed a tremendously successful summer playing at various resorts, manages to combine the best of "hot" swing music with a liberal portion of "sweet" music.

Sororities Begin Rushing Activities

Houses Give Luncheons And Formal Dinners for Freshmen and Transfers

Formal rushing season for sororities began yesterday and is continuing until Monday, November 27. During this time luncheons and formal dinners are being given by the sororities.

Open rushing will take place from 8:00 A.M. until 12:00 noon every day except the day of silence, Tuesday, November 28, and Sunday. Rushing by the sororities designated for each day will take place from 12:00 noon to 10:00 P.M. The day of silence will be the only day when bids shall be given to or accepted by freshmen and transfer women this semester. At six on that night all girls receiving a notice will go to Murkland to signify a preference.

No girl may be rushed or bid if she has received mid-semester reports in more than five semester credits below sixty or more than seven below seventy.

The order of rushing days is: November 20, Phi Mu; November 21, Alpha Chi Omega; November 22, Pi Lambda Sigma; November 23, Chi Omega; November 24, Theta Upsilon; November 25, Alpha Xi Delta; November 27, Kappa Delta.

UNH Represented at State Session

Four university students and several members of the Extension Service Staff attended a state training meeting for officers and advisors of Youth Extension Clubs at Concord on last Saturday. The students who attended were Gaylord Davis, Richard Rutherford, Harold Mitchell and Evelyn Handley. Members of the staff were C. B. Wadleigh and Miss Mary L. Sanborn, state club leader; S. W. Hoitt, State Youth Extension leader; and Perley Ayer, Director of Recreational Organization.

The conference which lasted from 2 to 8:15 P.M. was attended by more than one hundred officers and delegates with representatives from every county and the club agents of most of the counties.

High point of the meeting was the program following supper. At that time representatives of five Youth Extension Clubs reviewed outstanding accomplishments of their clubs during the past year. The discussion leaders, of the officers' training sections, summarized items covered by these representatives at the afternoon session.

Date Nights Officially Open Fraternity Rushing

Fraternity rushing officially began last Wednesday, with the first date night coming on Thursday. At this time approximately 250 men visited the thirteen fraternity houses on campus where they attended banquets. This is to help the freshmen become better acquainted with the fraternities and to aid them in making their decision. Date nights will be held next Tuesday and Thursday, and also a week from Tuesday. Pledging will take place December 6.

Scabbard and Blade Pledges Twenty-two

Singer for Ball

Frances Colwell, beautiful vocalist, will be with Dean Hudson and his Florida Clubmen when they furnish the music for the Scabbard and Blade Military Ball on December 8. Miss Colwell is famed with the Dean and his "glee club" specialties. They will also have other specialties featuring the attractive Miss Colwell.

Freshmen Debate Before Dover Forensic Society

Last night, members of the freshman debating squad, under the leadership of Coach Sattler, presented a demonstration debate before the Dover High Forensic Society on the railroad question, this year's freshman topic. Those participating were Ernest Tasgoulas, John Mead, George Stidstone, Richard LaRoche, William MacDonald and James Sleeper. Vinton Yeaton spoke on the isolation question. A discussion of the evening's topics followed the debate.

William MacDonald was recently elected manager of the freshman squad.

Smith Hall Dance

The next event on Smith hall's social calendar is a dinner dance to be held at Smith this Saturday, November 26 at 6:30 P.M. Besides the regular teas and vic dances, the social committee previously held a very successful "Howdy-do" party.

Remodeling of Morrill Hall Provides Classroom Comfort

by Arthur Barrett

Liberal Art students have a great advantage over their less fortunate campus mates. That is the verdict that is reached after an inspection trip of the remodeled Morrill hall. For now students may smoke during social science classes in special seminar rooms on the second floor, with the professor's consent. This privilege is extended to students in an effort to introduce a more informal teaching method which is new to this campus.

Classes are held around a conference table in small groups. Reference books are located on convenient shelves around each of the two seminar rooms. Maps and charts cover the walls. Comfortable chairs put the student at ease. It is hard to believe that these are classrooms.

The new seminar rooms are but one of the improvements in the new Morrill hall. The whole building has been

Honorary Cadet Colonel Will Pledge Juniors at Annual Military Ball

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society, has selected twenty-two junior men for pledgeship. These men will be formally pledged at the annual Military Ball on December 8 by the Honorary Cadet Colonel, who will be selected before the ball. These men are selected on their military ability and all around leadership.

The names of the pledges as issued by the captain of the society, George McCaffrey, are: Ernest Bulgar, Wilson Brunel, Francis Chase, Maillard Clark, Allen Ferry, Lloyd Hendrick, Abbot Jones, Stanley Low, Henry Mead, Charles Oliver, Robert Piper, Leonard Spicer, Walter Jacques, Jack Kirk, Horace Martin, Warren C. Morse, Clarence Parker and Dwight Pratt.

Shantz Speaks on Land Conservation

Mr. Homer L. Shantz, chief of wildlife management, forest service, Washington, D. C., and national president of the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi, will lecture on "Using Wildland Efficiently" on Tuesday, November 21, at 4:15 P.M. in the auditorium of Nesmith hall, under the joint sponsorship of the biological institute and the New Hampshire chapter of Phi Kappa Phi.

During the past few years there has been a revived interest in the care of lands which are primarily of value when left in their natural state and not subjected to the plow. This movement involves problems of management of forests, land and water areas in the conservation of wildlife. So general is the interest in the restoration and maintenance of natural areas such as forests, grasslands, swamps, lakes, and streams that Mr. Shantz' lecture should attract a large audience. Mr. Shantz is not only an authority on this subject but occupies an important post in the national administration in Washington. His lecture is open to everyone interested.

A BETTER ARRANGEMENT

Some weeks ago in this column appeared an editorial urging the members of the faculty to cooperate with each other and the students by ending classes promptly on the hour. The reaction to this request has been most pleasing to The New Hampshire, the Student Council and the students.

However, it is somewhat difficult for faculty members to be prompt in some cases. This is through no fault of the professors themselves, but is due chiefly to the distance from the T hall bell. When a west wind is blowing it is a virtual impossibility to hear the bell in the buildings on the western side of the campus. Even under ideal conditions, it is difficult to hear the bell if the classroom or laboratory is located on the side away from T hall.

As was suggested by this column, a uniform system of bells in each university building would be a definite aid in solving this perplexing problem. By this arrangement the bells would ring simultaneously with the T hall bell. If necessary, it would be possible to ring the bells at two or three minutes of the hour, thus affording professors an opportunity to wind up the lecture satisfactorily.

Some arrangement should be made to assist the faculty and the students in their earnest attempts to dismiss classes on time and to arrive at classes on time. Doubtless there are better arrangements possible, but the authorities should give some attention to this matter which affects faculty and student body alike, and the solution of which is sought after by both.

SPIRIT

The excellent display of school spirit at the Harvard game last Saturday was one of the most gratifying exhibitions of enthusiasm ever made by a University of New Hampshire student body. Despite the loss of the game, New Hampshire certainly made a definite impression on the haughty sons of Harvard, to the extent that the game took secondary importance in the Sunday papers.

All the papers tell the same story. With the team behind by a lopsided score, the New Hampshire stands continued to show the same enthusiasm it did at the outset of the game. This is the sort of school spirit that one reads about and tries to arouse but seldom ever realizes. The University of New Hampshire has earned an enviable reputation by the attitude of the Blue and White rooters last Saturday.

The 1939 season has ended but with it has gone one of the outstanding seasons for school spirit. Next year's student body will have its work cut out for it, if it is to approach the mark established this year. It can be done but the job will not be easy. Will the classes of '41, '42, '43 and the embryonic '44 be able to carry on?

When's your Thanksgiving?

Lundholm Lauds Spirit

The department of physical education and athletics expresses its appreciation of the wholesome student-enthusiasm which has been so evident on the campus during the sport season just completed, and which so indelibly impressed all in the Harvard stadium last Saturday that we have a university spirit which is second to no other campus.

Such enthusiasm, motivated by sincere loyalty to our Alma Mater and respect for high standards of sportsmanship, reflects student-character of which we are all proud.

Carl Lundholm, Director.

I. R. C.

There will be a meeting of the International Relations Club Wednesday evening at 7:15, in the Commons Trophy room. This will be a short meeting, for the express purpose of outlining a program for the rest of the school year. The meeting will be open to all last year's members, and new students who have signified their desire to become members.

A tentative program for the rest of the semester has been arranged and the support of the club is needed. The meeting should be over by 8 P.M.

by A.B.C.

Time marches on. . . . Once again A.B.C. returns to the fore to blow off the dust from the ancient archives and musty manuscripts to record all the actions, thoughts, and deeds of our fellow students. Naturally the highlights of the past week revolve around good old John Harvard so it has been our job to sort that which may be told from that which may not be told. Therefore, my friends, hold your hat for here we go.

First and foremost our hats are off to the team. They did a grand job. Burt Mitchell, Jack Hanlon, Buck Buchanan, Harry Haynes, Tom Johnson, Frank Leary, Ario Piretti, Ed Sauer, Pete Urban, Fred Winterbottom, plus their underclassmates, showed that they are truly worthy of wearing the Blue and White. We'll miss you in times to come, seniors, and we'll never forget you. The girls were alright, too, but they missed quite a party over at the Elliot House where Dick Nellson parked his hat. In fact, our Richard was mobbed for not bringing them over.

. . . The announcer didn't stop Ray Patton as he launched his paper aeroplanes time after time. . . . Ginny Percy, fresh from bowling victories, proceeded to lead Stan Otis such a whirl that he came down with pneumonia Saturday evening. . . . Laughs of the evening go to Mary Temple, Dick Johnson, Barb Chase and crowd for the boy that insisted on eating the petals off of Mary's gardenias. . . . Bev Tuttle was on the fence—with a UNH background and a Harvard end by the name of Kouffman. . . . Jimmy Burns helped the boys out on the way back, and you know how. . . . Everybody was meeting everybody else down at Jake's who, 'tis rumored, will soon be granted a fraternity charter if this keeps up. . . . Clarence Brown and Soap (?) Suds Ingram were there with their escorts.

. . . Harry MacKenna, too. . . . Over at the Mandarin Room, Jack Wentzell and Davy Crockett were doing all right preparatory to the formal at Theta Chi's chapter at M.I.T. . . . which, incidentally, Hank Soper tried to crash. . . .

Bill Jahoda and Bob Sullivan were busy meeting Mr. and Mrs. Joe at the Hoffbrau before going home (?). . . . Guy Dodge and Dave Gile aided Dick Nellson quite a bit in the cheering way.

. . . Mayor Madden was down but his chariot wasn't — hence, no show. . . . Over at the Raymor Russ Hayes, Dick Smith, and Jerry Graham were showing them how to dance while Jack Mitchell, Al Higgins, Charlie Craig, Jean Adams and George Doyle looked on. . . . Bill Brunnel and Bob Allard plus their Wheaton escorts seemed to be enjoying themselves. . . .

On the other hand, who thought that Al Roper would do Boston in a Sahara way. . . . One great problem was like this—Nancy Kinsman wears Mado's button, he wears her ring. Bob Piper wears Puss Emery's ring, yet Mado takes Puss to the show and Anne Stevens to the game. . . . Barb Hyatt and Dot Perkins were with strangers as were our cheerleaders. . . . Walt Webster and Ruth Stoughton got a special call at a dance. . . . Winn Seymour was well taken care of. . . . Quite a few of the boys were looking at Jean so Charlie had better look out. . . . Reigh Mason was married while rumor has Tib Thibodeau doing the same this week-end.

. . . And who is the Theta Chi that just celebrated his first anniversary. . . . And in closing, what happened to the eminent sand hog, Al Klinge, so that he and Fuzz Harrison left their girls so early Saturday eve?

As a parting thought; what would you do if you took a girl to the Harvard game, spent all your money on her and then had to rush back so she wouldn't have to break a date with one of her campus beaux? That's right, we would too — but he didn't. We're waiting for the day Laconia's belle gets left.

W.A.A. Notice

Girls are welcome to attend Beginner's Rec on Wednesday evenings until Christmas time!! There was a good crowd last week but more can be accommodated, so let's have a large turnout this Wednesday!

French Movies

The French movies, sponsored by language department, were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed, although the language film which was being sent from Dartmouth didn't arrive. The pictures shown took the audience on a journey through France, one entire reel dealing with points of interest about the city of Paris.

Contest Winner

Robert Morin, a liberal arts sophomore, was recently notified that he was the winner of a radio contest sponsored on campus by the Sheaffer Pen Company. Morin received a portable carry-about radio which was presented by The Wildcat.

Tech Notes

There will be a meeting of the student branch of the A.S.C.E. Friday evening, November 24 at 7:30 P.M. in the Commons Organization room. Mr. Harold E. Langley of the New Hampshire State Highway department will be the speaker. Mr. Langley is a well-known bridge engineer in the state.

Professor Edmond W. Bowler of the civil engineering department represented the College of Technology at an open house held at Thayer School of Engineering in Hanover recently.

Hi-Y Notice

All Hi-Y men attending the University are invited to attend an informal gathering at Ballard hall tomorrow to meet association Y.M.C.A. secretary.

Commons Notice

From now on all freshmen are required to be at the Commons from 5:30 to 5:50 on Sunday nights if they wish to enter the dining hall. Each Sunday night there will be an entertainment or guests. Boys wishing to bring girls may do so; those wishing to sit with just boys may sit in the annex.

Senior Notice

All seniors who have not as yet obtained pictures for the Bureau of Appointments may get their Granite cut from Professor Johnson in Morrill hall. Imprints from the cut are 50 cents at the Print Shop.

Concert Sunday

On Sunday, November 26, the Women's Glee club, the Men's Glee club and the University orchestra are presenting a concert at the gymnasium. Each glee club will offer one group of selections, while the orchestra is playing two groups of compositions.

Both the glee clubs and orchestra are the largest in the history of these organizations.

75th Anniversary Committee Chosen

Its 75th anniversary but ten months away, the University of New Hampshire this week began planning for the year-round celebration in 1940-41 with the selection of committee members and directors.

His Excellency, Governor Francis P. Murphy; Roy D. Hunter of Claremont, president of the board of trustees; John S. Elliott of Madbury, trustee secretary; and Dr. Fred Engelhardt, university president, will serve as the anniversary committee of the board of trustees.

The general committee of the three-quarter century anniversary will be under the chairmanship of the Honorable Huntley N. Spaulding of Rochester. John C. Kendall, for 25 years director of the New Hampshire Extension service, will direct the anniversary, and Oren V. Henderson, registrar emeritus and member of the governor's council, will serve as anniversary secretary.

Other members of the general committee are Harry W. Steere, '26, of Amesbury, Mass., chairman of the alumni division; the Honorable Jeremy R. Waldron of Portsmouth, chairman of the honorary alumni division; Mrs. Edna H. Hersey, '26, of Somersworth, chairman of the alumnae division; Mrs. Mary L. C. Schofield of Peterboro, chairman of the honorary alumnae division; Richard W. Sulloway of Franklin, chairman of the men's citizens committee; Miss Elizabeth C. Sawyer of Exeter, chairman of the women's citizens committee; and Henry B. Stevens, assistant director of the general extension service, chairman of the program division.

First meeting of the group will be held tomorrow evening when the committees will discuss tentative plans and further organization for the anniversary.

In speaking of the coming anniversary, President Engelhardt today said "The University of New Hampshire now in its maturity may well pause at this three-quarter century mark to make an accounting of the past and to direct its vision to the future. . . . During these 75 years the university has come of age. It has a personality that has been built by the affectionate and intelligent service rendered it by scores of trustees, faculty members, students, alumni, and citizens in all walks of life. It is fitting that these noble people whose devotion has created this personality should have an opportunity to more fully understand what they have created and have a share in the glorification of their joint achievement."

SPORTS SECTION

That's All Folks

Congratulations to the football team and coaches for putting on a remarkable performance against a vastly superior Harvard squad, and also to Dick Nelson and the girl cheerleaders for creating the sensation of the season in Boston with their "Jazz cheer."

There's really not any better way of expressing it than to say that "New Hampshire won everything but the football game." Perhaps 46-0 was a more lop-sided score than most of us expected, but what the team lacked in ability it made up in fight and spirit. The loyal Wildcat rooters, of which there were many, were very sportsmanlike at all times and continued their enthusiasm until the very end of the game, through the singing of "Alma Mater."

The girl cheer leaders created such a sensation that more pictures and stories in the Boston papers were devoted to them than to the game itself. Every time they appeared on the New Hampshire sideline to persuade the supporters to give forth, a roar of approval went up from the Harvard stands, and, between the halves, when they came over to the Crimson stands the "Jawn Harvards" made more noise than they had all afternoon.

The real hit of the day was the jazz cheer which even the sophisticated opponents tried to copy. The fact that they were not very successful with it encouraged our girls to employ it more often than usual. At a subway station in the early hours of Sunday morning this writer heard a stranger whistle the hi de ho of the jazz cheer and then shout a mild "fight" at the end.

From where we sat in the press box across the field from the Wildcat stands, the cheering sounded very impressive. Dick Nelson and girls deserve plenty of credit for giving the University of New Hampshire the much-needed publicity, and turning a set-up game into a real show.

The game itself was nothing to be ashamed of. The wearers of the Blue and White played as well or better than in any previous encounter and made their presence felt throughout the full sixty minutes. The famed Harvard backs, MacDonald and Spreyer, were good but not sensational. Against a more capable opponent they would have a better chance to display brilliancy, but all they had to do on Saturday was run, so perfect was the interference offered by their teammates.

By this time everyone is recovering from the strenuous week-end and the general complaint seems to be that the Harvard game doesn't come four times a year, instead of once every four years.

Harvard Eleven Tramples Scrappy New Hampshire Wildcats Saturday

Wildcat Pep Leaders

Capt. Torby MacDonald Leads Team to 46-0 Win Over Outclassed 'Cats

A surprisingly large crowd of 15,000 spectators saw a game, fighting New Hampshire football team go down to defeat on Saturday afternoon in the Harvard stadium, 46-0, at the hands of a powerful, smoothly-functioning Crimson eleven. Torby MacDonald, brilliant Harvard captain, starting his first game of the season, provided the needed spark to start his mates off with a bang, and they continued to hold the upper hand throughout.

New Hampshire reached as far as the opponent's 16-yard line on one occasion, but there lost the ball on downs. Dick Harlow's charges scored in the first, third, and last periods and MacDonald was the most efficient point-getter, as he scored three touchdowns.

With the first string starting the fray, the Harvard machine rolled up more than half its points in the first quarter. MacDonald scored first, after only a few minutes, when a series of running plays had brought the ball to the New Hampshire 21-yard line. He then threw a pass to Lee on the Wildcat 3-yard line and on the next play went over for the score. Lee's kick for the conversion was wide.

The second six points were added a few minutes later after Torby had run from the 37 to the three-yard line. Several running plays failed, but on the fourth down the Crimson captain crashed through right tackle for the score and this time Lee's kick was good. After the kickoff and a New Hampshire punt by Hall, the home team tested its aerial attack and found it successful, as MacDonald passed to Lovett for the third touchdown. MacDonald intercepted a Hall pass and raced to the Wildcat 1-foot line before being forced out of bounds. On the next play Heiden tallied and Lacey kicked the point to end the scoring for the first period and the first half.

The second period saw the ball change hands several times but neither team even approached enemy goal lines. Stacey Clark intercepted one of Spreyer's passes as the half ended.

Three plays after a New Hampshire quick kick, early in the second half, MacDonald made the fifth Harvard touchdown from the one-foot line and sophomore Spreyer kicked the point.

The last two touchdowns were made in the concluding period, the first on a thirty-five yard run by Heiden and the final one by Brown who plunged over from about the one-yard line, after a pass had brought the ball there from the twenty-seven yard line.

The game ended as Hall tried unsuccessfully to complete several passes.

Oct. 5—Bates Durham
Oct. 12—Maine Durham
Oct. 19—Springfield Durham
Oct. 26—Vermont Burlington, Vt.
Nov. 2—St. Anselm Manchester
Nov. 9—Tufts Medford, Mass.
Nov. 16—Connecticut Durham

Ski Team Begins Conditioning Work

The first call for the University ski team was sounded on Thursday, November 16 by Coach Ed Blood. About forty candidates responded, including freshmen and upperclassmen. Veterans returning are: Ray Whitcher, 1938-39 captain; Paul Townsend, Dick Snowman, Roger Peabody and Nelson Bennett. Another members of the last year's aggregation who is expected to report soon is Eugene Duffy.

Two of the 1938 regulars, Norman Haweli and Norward Ball have been lost, the first through graduation, the latter by failure to return to school.

It is, of course, rather difficult for a first year man to break into the first team as the competition is much keener. Generally each year finds one or two freshmen on the squad. This year with the return of the few above mentioned veterans, it will be the freshman skiers that will have to round out the team. As a whole, the squad is expected to rate as well this year as it has in the past years.

The boys, in the absence of snow, have been playing touch football, and have been running up and down the stadium stairs in an effort to get into condition before the start of the season.

The schedule as yet has not been made out, but it is expected that the same schools will be met this year as last.

with button-down roll collar

THE distinctive feature of this fine oxford shirt is the cut of the collar. The points are longer and taper back broadly towards the yoke. The button points are so placed to effect an outward roll of the collar, achieving that desirable casual appearance. College men will especially appreciate this shirt for wear with tweeds and rough finish clothes.

Ask your Arrow dealer for the Arrow Dover $2. It's new and on the way in. In white, blue, also patterns. Sanforized-Shrunk (fabric shrinkage less than 1%). All sleeve lengths and neck sizes.

Jayvee and Frosh Gridsters Complete Contrasting Seasons

by Charles Untiet

The curtain has rung down on the freshman and jayvee football season for another year. The freshmen were highly successful while the jayvees did not fare so well, dropping three out of four games.

Tony Dougal was brought here from Texas State College to coach the freshmen and his results were certainly noteworthy, especially as he was blessed with such players as Harry Pascol, Phil DeGregory, Pete Meneghin, Buck Mugford, Frank Bucci, Al Sakioan and many others.

John DuRie was again at the helm of the Jayvees and he did a grand job considering the material he had to deal with. He did come up with a couple stars in Bill Feeney and Sam Clark.

October 14th both teams got under way on Lewis Field with the frosh tangling with the jayvees. The freshmen overwhelmed the jayvees by the score of 31-6. The stars of the game were Frank Bucci, Roy Goodfellow, Harry Pascoe, Phil DeGregory and Buck Mugford for the freshmen, while Sam Clark and Morris Pinks featured for the jayvees.

October 21st Exeter took to the air and defeated the freshmen 20-6. The only bright spot on the New Hampshire side was Phil DeGregory with his hard running.

The freshmen marked time until November 7 when hostilities were resumed with Bridgton Academy as opponent. The frosh squeezed out a tight victory with a 7-6 score. Buck Mugford, Pete Meneghin and Phil DeGregory featured for the Kittens.

The Kittens closed their successful season on November 10 when they crushed the Jayvees 28-0 as Al Lamond, Don Begin, and Charlie Judd starred while Al Lucier, Morris Pinks, and Bob Preston looked good for the Jayvees.

On October 27, the Jayvees defeated New Hampton Prep 12-7 on Lewis Field. Phil Beaulieu, Bill Feeney, and Morris Pinks starred for the Jayvees. November 7 they traveled to Tilton and suffered a 31-0 setback from the powerful Tilton juggernaut.

Before the last game Harry Pascoe and Phil DeGregory were elected co-captains of the Kittens. Sam Clark, the sturdy end of the Jayvees, was elected honorary captain for the season. Sam, however, was forced to the sideline with a broken leg in the New Hampton game.

Home Economics Students Open New Tearoom

In connection with their course in tearoom management, the senior home economics class is opening the New Hampshire collegiate tearoom, specializing in serving typical New England dishes. Located on the second floor of Pettee hall, the tearoom's New England and New Hampshire atmosphere will be enhanced by a blue and white color scheme and such old-fashioned New England implements as maple sugar buckets. The only meals served will be luncheons on Mondays. Reservations must be made by the preceding Thursday by calling Miss Carvell at 293-J.

Granite Notice — Juniors

Proofs for the Granite must be turned in on Monday, November 27th at Commons Organization room between the hours 1 and 5 P.M. Orders will also be taken for pictures at this time. This is positively the last chance for Juniors to turn in their proofs.

Wilfred Findeisen, Editor.

Anyone wishing to sell or rent a used tuxedo, please see Dwight B. Richardson, Room 120, West Hall.

With the Greek World

by Elizabeth Williams

Notice: In the future, all news for the Greek World must be in "The New Hampshire" office by 9:00 P.M. on Sundays and Wednesdays. No fraternities or sororities will be called.

Alpha Tau Omega — Most of the house went to the game. Joe Tinker spent the week-end with his family. Frank Heald went to Woburn last week to help bring home the wildcat.

Phi Alpha — A number of the brothers attended a dinner party sponsored by the Boston chapter of Phi Alpha, Saturday evening, after the game. Rabbi Epstein, of Portsmouth, will be a guest speaker tonight. On Thursday evening, Judge David Rose, of Boston, will speak to the group.

Theta Kappa Phi — The six-man football team did well during the past week defeating S.A.E. 34-0; trouncing East Hall 39-6; and licking Sigma Beta 36-6. Head Coach, Jim Martin, is pointing for the championship with pessimism but expects a victory. Past President Austin McCaffrey visited on Sunday, rejoicing over the birth of a son.

Theta Upsilon — No meals were served at the house this week-end, as everyone went to Harvard. Plans are being made for rush parties to be held this week, Friday.

The Broader Campus

Perhaps the Profs Talked Overtime?

In the early days at the University of Arkansas, carrying concealed weapons was such a common practice that the faculty found it necessary to make a special ruling to force the students to leave their shootin' irons at home.

Getting out this paper is no picnic.

If we print jokes, people say we are silly,

If we don't, they say we're too serious.

If we clip things from other magazines, We are too lazy to write them ourselves,

If we don't, we are too fond of our own stuff.

If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate genius.

If we do print them, the paper is filled with junk.

If we make a change in other persons' writeups, we are too critical,

If we don't, we are asleep.

Now like as not someone will say we swiped this from some other paper —

We did.
