Kay Tolman is Chosen Honorary Cadet Colonel

Barbara Chase and Ruth LeClair Named Aides for Scabbard and Blade Ball

Brunette Kay Tolman has been chosen by a popular vote of the advanced military science classes to command the annual Military Ball held in the women's gymnasium this evening. Miss Tolman, the first junior woman to be chosen honorary cadet colonel, is a pledge of Chi Omega, national social sorority, and one of the cheer leaders who recently appeared in the Harvard stadium. Last year she assisted in the direction of her sophomore hop.

Two more brunettes, Barbara Chase and Ruth LeClair, have been commissioned as honorary majors and will act as aides to the cadet colonel.

Other candidates considered for the honorary commissions were Priscilla Booth, Josephine Kay, Virginia Percy, Ann Reder, and Laura Simms.

The names of the pledges to be initiated by Miss Tolman are: Phil Beau- lieu, Walter Angers, Gordon Frey, Russell Hayes, Ernest Bulgar, Wilson Brunel, Francis Chase, Maillard Clark, Allen Ferry, Lloyd Hendrick, Abbot Jones, Stanley Low, Henry Mead, Charles Oliver, Robert Piper, Leonard Spicer, Walter Jacques, Jack Kirk, Horace Martin, Warren C. Morse, Clarence Parker and Dwight Pratt.

Talent Needed for Student Musical

All material for the musical review to be given by the students of the university in the spring must be in by the 15th of January! This includes scripts, songs, stunts, jokes and so forth. The contest for the name enclosed this noon and it is expected that the name selected will be suited to the spirit of the swiny type of review planned. This same idea of gaiety, breeziness, and romance should pervade all the material submitted. If you wish to submit a song, it must be written in full piano part and if you do not know how to write music but have a melody humming through your head, get someone who does to write it out for you before submitting the tune.

With the large variety of talent needed to produce a review of this sort, there is an opportunity for all students to participate in this production in one way or another, so everyone is urged to start now, beginning with these important preliminaries.

Christian Work Sponsors Broadcast of Play

On Thursday, December 14, Christian Work will sponsor the broadcast of "A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, over Station WHEB. The play, which will be given at 4:00 P.M. in Murkland auditorium, is under the direction of Catherine James and John Hall. Ralph Livingston is in charge of sound. The cast includes the following people: Scrooge, Neale Westfall; Fred, Scrooge's nephew, Robert Morin; Bob Cratchit, Ralph Carruth; Marley's ghost, Louis McDonough; ghost of Christmas Past, Paul Nolan; ghost of Christmas Present, Robert Nolan; Announcer, John Hall; Mrs. Cratchit, Virginia Smith; Mrs. Digger, Justine Pillsbury; Martha Cratchit, Wilma Hale; Scrooge's niece, Beatrice Bishop; Tiny Tim, Eleanor Mauricette; and the Almsman, Manuel Kopelman. Other minor parts will be filled by members of the cast.

Plans Completed for Carol Service

Combined Glee Clubs and Symphony Orchestra Give Varied Program

The annual Christmas Carol Service will be presented on Tuesday evening, December 12, at eight o'clock. The program will be given by the combined glee clubs and the symphony orchestra, assisted by Rev. Robert L. James, Rev. Emerson Hangen and Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor. Between the musical selections Rev. James will read parts of a Christmas story. The gym is being decorated for the occasion by a committee, under the chairmanship of Raymond Dyer, from the architectural society. The service is open to the public.

The program:

Large Crowd Attends Durham Print Open House

With more than 250 persons taking advantage of the opportunity of inspecting newly-renovated Durham Print, the open house held in the local printing establishment on Monday evening, November 27, was a complete success.

The large number of customers and friends of Durham Print were able to watch the actual printing of "The New Hampshire." Also on display was an exhibition of electrotyping by the Holmes Electrotype Foundry of Worcester, Massachusetts. The entire personnel of the print shop demonstrated the workings of the equipment, including the recently installed Kelly Press; and spectators were able to watch the linotype machine in operation.

Extension Service

Mary L. Sanborn, the Assistant State Club Leader, left last Saturday for the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago. Traveling with a group of representatives of clubs from New Hampshire they plan to return next Saturday. Eleanor Marston, a senior at Concord High won at this Congress a $200 scholarship on her all-around record in club work.

Fire Department Puts Out Cattle Barn Blaze

The University Fire Department was called out at 11:20 Sunday morning to extinguish a blaze at the University livestock barn. Due to the quick action of the barn employees, who led the animals out of the barn, there was little damage. The destruction of three tons of hay and a burned partition was the extent of the damage.

The blaze started at the bottom of the hay pile and, up to this time, the direct cause has not been determined. Order was restored, and the fire was extinguished by three o'clock.

A Cappella Choir Presents Concert Wednesday Eve

Manchester Choristers Please Large Audience With Varied Selections

by Richard LaRoche

The Manchester A Cappella Choir, easily one of the most colorful groups ever to grace the stage of Murkland auditorium, presented a concert on Wednesday evening before a large and responsive audience. The choir was colorful not only in the excellent singing which it presented, but also in its appearance, which was a delightful combination of evening gowns and tuxedos.

If one single factor was to be singled out to explain the success of this organization, it would undoubtedly be the ability of the choir to change tempo—that is, the ability to sing a rousing, deep-volumed selection and in the space of but a minute or so sing with equal perfection and beauty a soft, smooth, lilting song. This accomplishment was shown when "The Cossack," a stirring Ukrainian folk tune, was sung, immediately followed by Damrosch's "All Through the Night," a pleasingly delicate selection—both being fully appreciated by the audience as perfect examples of highly-trained choral singing.

The program of the evening was not devoted to any particular branch of musical selections but was a combination of classical music, folk tunes from foreign countries, native folk tunes, and popular excerpts from the more famous works of Gilbert and Sullivan and Romberg.

Hennessy Selects "What A Life" Cast

Members of Mask and Dagger are rehearsing their next play, "What a Life," under the direction of William G. Hennessy. A comedy, "What a Life," which will be presented in Murkland auditorium February 21, 22 and 23, will provide a vivid contrast to the last Mask and Dagger production, "Our Town."

The following people are included in the cast: Miss Shea, Jean Adams; Mr. Nelson, Charles Craig; Bill, Donald Crafts; a student, Mado Crafts; Mr. Patterson, Ralph Beckley; Miss Pike, Claire Richard; Miss Eggleston, Mary Sarson; Mr. Vecchitto, Mario Manzoni; Henry Aldrich, Elwyn Dearborn; Barbara Pearson, Elizabeth Kinsman; Gertie, Leona Dumont; Mr. Bradley, David Crockett; Miss Wheeler, Barbara Ames; George Bigelow, William Hall; Mrs. Aldrich, Justine Pillsbury; Mr. Ferguson, Francis Edes; Mary, Mary Freeman.

Sororities Pledge Ninety-one Girls

Alpha Xi, Chi Omega, Theta U Fill Quotas In Successful Seasons

Ninety-one undergraduates were pledged to sororities during this year's rushing season. The season was very successful, with three sororities, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, and Theta Upsilon, filling their quotas. Through a clerical error Alpha Xi Delta was given one over their quota, and it is expected that the other sororities will be allowed one more girl apiece. The list of girls pledged to sororities follows:

Alpha Chi Omega — Margery Chalmers, Cornelia Constable, Madelyn Cram, Margaret Dower, Mary Lou Evans, Gertrude Jacobs, Dorothy Jacques, Jean Morrison, Marie O'Neill, Ann Taylor.

Chi Omega — Jane Austin, Constance Clark, Beryl Coburn, Velma Davis, Barbara Drown, Eleanor Dwight, Barbara Eastman, Dorothy Flanagan, Ruth Fraser, Ruth Haggart, Lorraine Lepper, Pauline Little, Frances Metcalf, Ruth Pfadenhauer, Marjorie Pitman, Elizabeth Shay, Jean Sughrue, Kay Tolman, Aline Walsh, Martha Vaughn.

Kappa Delta — Helen Ober, Edith Phair, Ferne Rollins, Norma Wall.

Phi Mu — Beatrice Bishop, Esther De Fusco, Jean Dempsey, Evelyn Hanley, Faye Ingram, Margery Johnson, Elizabeth Mercer, Gretchen Pearson, Lorene Scott, Constance St. Clair.

Pi Lambda Sigma — Sophie Byk, Helen Cassily, Cecile Cote, Helena Dobeck, Marie Donahue, Marjorie Farwell, Margaret Harrison, Rachel LaFlamme, Albertine Phaneuf, Elizabeth Williams.

Theta Upsilon — Miriam Eastman, Ruth French, Marilyn Hamilton, Katherine Hitchcock, Marion Ingebreton, Virginia Lydiard, Rachel Morrison, Beverly Parker, Jeanette Penn, Jeanne Pike, Margaret Rowell, Edith Rudd, Dorothy Sawyer, Elinor Sawyer, Annette Thompson.

John Wheelwright, prominent Boston poet, will read from his poetry and lead a discussion on "The Part of the Artist in Social Progress," at the Commons Trophy room, Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Wheelwright is the author of three volumes of poetry, and is editor of the pamphlet series, "Poems for a Dime." His visit to the campus has been arranged following his readings at the New Hampshire Book Fair in Manchester.

Scabbard and Blade Ball, Fraternity House Parties Feature Busy Week-end

The annual Military Ball sponsored by Scabbard and Blade will be held this evening in the grim military atmosphere of the women's gymnasium. Amid machine-gun nests, mortars, and sand-bag barricades, Kay Tolman will pledge twenty-two juniors to F company of Scabbard and Blade.

Dean Hudson and his Florida clubmen have been engaged for the occasion. This will be one of the few appearances that Hudson will make in New England this winter.

Prominent campus officials who will be in the receiving line are: President and Mrs. Fred Engelhardt, Colonel and Mrs. Smith, Lieutenant-Colonel Starling, Major and Mrs. Prindle, Major and Mrs. Cowen, Major and Mrs. Shays, Dean Woodruff, and Captain of Scabbard and Blade, George McCaffrey.

The Military Ball will be but the opening gun of the week-end, for on Saturday afternoon the Student Council will present a varied program of entertainment at the gym when the fraternities, sororities and dormitories will present various acts. On Saturday night the fraternities will hold house dances.

Dr. Brown Speaks at Women's Convo

With his amusing sketches of "How a Boy Studies" and "How a Girl Studies" causing a great deal of merriment amongst the audience at the required women's convocation Wednesday, Rollo Walter Brown, well-known essayist and biographer, gave a very entertaining and interesting talk on "The Romance of Being a Student."

Dr. Brown's receipt for finding life with the bloom on it, covered the following points: one must be able to see, and though many of us are beautiful but dumb, or too sophisticated, life can be enjoyed to its utmost through the heightened perception of what is going on about us; we must come up to life as though life not only had a beginning but an end, and take advantage of every living moment; and we must save up things to remember, as memories are some of the most pleasant things to have.

A diverting example to illustrate his second point was that of the student out in Tulsa, Oklahoma, who when asked what he would do if he had but thirty minutes to live, answered that he would take out life insurance!

Dr. Brown is author of the recently published "I Travel by Train," contributor to such magazines as "Harpers," and lecturer on educational and literary topics.

DURHAM, N. H., DEC. 8, 1939

THE ARMY AND DURHAM

In France, England, Germany and most of the rest of the world, the armies of the respective countries are at present concerned with either attacking some place or some thing, or defending it. There is not a country in Europe or Asia which has not felt the curse of war and militarism during the past twelve months. Spain has been devastated by her own armies and the armies of other interested factions. Poland mutely speaks of the horrors of military might. China continues to be attacked by the little yellow men from the East.

So it goes, arms, men, munitions and hatred on one side of the ledger. On the other are death, destruction, suffering, misery and fear. Truly, we live in a world gone mad with and by military strength. Perhaps it is appropriate that we tonight celebrate the annual Military Ball and the ceremonies attendant to it. But, in another sense, isn't the same celebration a tribute to America, and also an opportunity to rejoice that we are Americans in America?

How fortunate we are that to us, military manoeuvres do not mean marching men and artillery fire, but rather three beautiful young ladies, marching down an aisle formed by happy youths (who don't have to fear that they will tomorrow be in the trenches) and a hall full of people attentively watching impressive initiation and appointment ceremonies!

Let the dictators of Europe and Asia brandish their iron swords. Dean Hudson tonight will brandish his baton, and beauty and swing are the dictators to Durham militarism.

DISILLUSIONMENT

Probably one of the greatest disillusionments in history came this past summer when Joe Stalin pulled his great diplomatic feat and allied himself with that arch enemy of freedom, Hitler, and broke the hearts of thousands of staunch and loyal supporters of the Hammer and Sickle all over the world.

Whatever these parlor pinks may have thought then about Russia and the apologies for men they have running their so-called government, it was certainly complimentary compared to the opinion held by the rest of the world since Russia's unwarranted and unnecessary rape of Finland.

There are paradoxes in the history of political philosophy but none can be so humorously tragic as that of Russian Communism which claims to be the archangel of peace, and yet has wantonly attacked two of its weakest neighbors within the past two months.

There is little good we in America can do in this matter. Recalling diplomatic representatives will not solve the problem nor will embargos, moral or physical, accomplish much. America grieves for Finland in this Machiavellian attack on her country. However, if the disciples in this country of Stalin and his band of cutthroat comrades, have been made to realize what miserable creatures their communistic gods are, perhaps this ill wind will blow us a little good.

PITIFUL

Are the attempts of the Liberal Club to ridicule the editorial policies of The New Hampshire? We feel we reflect the opinion of the student body in regard to the questions involved, and we are satisfied with the result of the controversy with the former organization last spring. Until we are appraised otherwise, we will continue to feel we echo the sentiments of the students. The accompanying letter neither demands nor deserves an answer. The campus may judge which organization is representing the majority of the sentiments of the school.

Meanwhile, The New Hampshire has no quarrel with the Liberal Club nor the publication which it fosters. Frankly, there is no fun fighting a straw man.

To the Editors and the Campus:

The review of "The Liberal" which appeared in the November 24 issue of "The New Hampshire" is merely another indication of the hatred borne the principles of the Liberal Club by the individuals responsible for the editorial policy of the student newspaper.

The obtuse article purporting to be a review is part of the consistent opposition to the club, an opposition implemented and given teeth by the position of the editors as directors of the paper. "The New Hampshire," supported financially by the entire campus, is consequently prostituted to the service of a small clique of arrogant, power-obsessed individuals who take as their pattern and use the techniques of the totalitarian masters of Europe. And we need not seek far to find the counselled inspiration that warps the minds and actions of the editors into condoning and editorially supporting the attack on "The Liberal."

However, the greatest injustice done by the article in question was one of omission, not of commission. In "The Liberal" appeared the works of several student writers of note, including Harry Hatchell, Shirley Evans and John Hall; a poem by Shirley Barker; and greetings from several faculty members and President Engelhardt. These features were either entirely ignored or merely mentioned. We submit that one of the purposes of a review is a criticism of the work reviewed, with the end in mind of pointing out errors and assisting the author in the achievement of a more finished piece of writing. This function the reviewer in "The New Hampshire" failed utterly to comprehend or was incompetent to fulfill. He consciously acted as the pander of his clique when he subordinated artistic to political or ideological considerations. The student writers, deprived of the suggestions and analyses of an honest, objective critic, are the chief observers.

I suggest that "The New Hampshire" assign a critic of some ability, more discernment, greater intellectual honesty, and less subjectivity to the task of once again reviewing "The Liberal." And I demand that the review be free from the vicious, biased, unprincipled statements and innuendo which have characterized the publication of nearly all news pertaining to the Liberal Club since the present editorial board took over "The New Hampshire" and turned it into its personal organ of abuse and vilification.

William Ford, President,
The Liberal Club.

NOTICE

Anyone interested in listening to the Saturday opera broadcast, who hasn't a radio, is welcome to hear it in sound-proof room 204, in the Library. This week's opera is Boris Goudonoff by Moussorgsky, with Ezio Pinza as Boris. Program starts at 2:00 P.M.

Students Utilize Rental Privilege

The initial success of the rental group of pictures at the library is shown by the fact that of the nineteen pictures, there are only two left at present. There is a charge of twenty-five cents per semester for the privilege of renting a picture. It is interesting to observe that de Vinci's "Mona Lisa," probably the best-known painting of the group, has not as yet been rented.

At present there is on display at the library an exhibition of hand-made lace, with many real pieces accompanied by illustrations of others and posters of Finland.

The next display will be "Competition for a Festival Theatre at Williamsburg, Virginia," and will include model, prize-winning drawings, and photographs of historic Williamsburg.

Tufts Professor Visits Creative Writing Classes

John Holmes, a well-known New England poet who is also an English professor at Tufts, visited the creative writing classes of Dr. Carroll S. Towle on Monday and Tuesday, November 27 and 28, and the regular meeting of Folio at Dr. Towle's home Monday evening.

Speaking to the English classes on the subject, "On Wanting to Be a Writer," Mr. Holmes suggested that essential character traits of a writer should be a sense of design coupled with an urgent desire to create. He said that self-analysis and self-awareness are vital to a writer. Using a striking anecdote, "A Sum in Addition," he illustrated his final point, that the writer should write as though he had to pay for every word. Mr. Holmes answered several questions at the end of the hour.

Remember when you struggled with fractions?

You'd be surprised how telephone engineers put them to work for you

How to put more and more wires into a telephone cable without increasing its diameter is an ever present problem at Western Electric—manufacturing unit of the Bell System. Existing ducts beneath city streets limit both the number and the diameter of cables—but demand for telephone service continues to grow.

Until recently, the largest cable contained 3636 wires in a diameter of 2 3/4 inches. Years of study led to an entirely new insulating process that saved 3/1000 of an inch per wire. Multiply this tiny fraction of an inch by 3636, and you provide enough space to place 606 more wires in the same size cable!—a total of 4242.

With such resourcefulness, Bell System engineers meet countless problems. Result: you can talk to almost anyone, anywhere—quickly, at low cost.

A telephone call home would be appreciated. Rates to most points are lowest any time after 7 P.M. and all day Sunday.

Lack of Snowfall Discourages Blood

Several good touch football prospects are developing in the ranks of the varsity ski team candidates due to the forced participation in this activity caused by the failure of the fickle weatherman to conform to the wishes of Coach Ed Blood.

In reference to the absence of the frozen flakes, the coach remarked, "We don't want the intermittent type of snow, which is about as good to us as half an inch of ice to the hockey team. We want continuous snow for the skiers should practice every day in order to keep in top competitive shape. A difficult schedule is about to be released and a meet for Christmas vacation is almost certain so our dire need for snow can easily be seen."

Only four lettermen are returning and consequently the twenty-five frosh candidates are eager to display their ability. Of these first-year men about fifteen have had experience in competition so perhaps a substantial share of the team's success rests on the shoulders of the class of 1943.

Smith Hall Girls Hold Novel Party

Soft lights and sweet music was the theme of Smith Hall's night club party held recently. Tables for four were arranged about the living room in cabaret fashion, leaving space in the center for the floor show and dancing in between courses. Attractive menus were placed beside the plates, and in the middle of each table was a tall, blue candle. Early in the evening, several tables had "reserved" signs on them.

The guests were welcomed with a little poem by the waitresses, Dorothy Minor, Leona Dumont, Lucile Smith, and Shirley Clement. The floor show featured a piano solo by Marian McIver, two numbers by Leona Dumont, and a tap dance exhibition by Mary Jane Marr. General dancing was enjoyed until 11:30, and several played ping pong in the "rec" room during intermission.

The idea of the party was a new one on campus and proved to be very successful. The affair was under the direction of Ruth Spear, social chairman and Barbara Fenerty, general chairman.

Varsity, Freshman Hockey Schedules Recently Released

Puck Chasers Practice on Unseasonal Reservoir Ice; Few Frosh Report

A fifteen-game schedule, including only one non-New England League opponent, was released last Friday by Athletic Director Carl Lundholm. The single non-league game is scheduled for February 10 against Union College of Schenectady, New York, on the Durham rink. The initial game will be on January 3 against Northeastern University and will be followed by five successive games on the home ice.

The freshman hockey team, under the supervision of Coach Johnny Fabello, is also progressing rapidly and is engaged in scrimmages against the varsity. Coach Fabello remarked that the squad, which is one of the smallest in years with only twenty-two candidates out, is "extremely lucky" to have ice available at this early date in the season. This is the first time in many years that the squad has been working out on ice before the Christmas vacation.

Several frosh have shown promise thus far. Perkins and Fields are exceptionally good on the forward wall and Sakoian has performed well in defense position. Moore has made sev-

With the hockey teams getting in some early practice and the basketball team rapidly taking definite shape, the winter sport season begins to look a little more lively.

Basketball Opens with Team Meeting Mule Hoop Quintet

Two Sophs, Griffith And Monica Are Possible Starters in Colby Battle

by Herb Smith

The University of New Hampshire varsity basketball team is rapidly rounding into form. Although it is still rather early in the season, Coach Swasey is well pleased with the performances of his charges. Certain of the players are progressing more rapidly than others, and so at the present time they are considered as probable starters in the first game to be played with Colby on Wednesday the 13th. Herb Adams, Lou Cryans, Hal Monica, Jim Hatch, and Joe Griffith are the men who will undoubtedly answer the seasons first whistle. Monica and Griffith are sophomores who have been showing the way to the rest of the squad so far this fall.

As a second starting lineup, Swasey has named Plante, Hall and Hodgdon for forwards, Matt Flaherty as center, McLeod, Wood, Judkins as guards. These fellows will undoubtedly see as much action as the starters, as Coach Swasey will try to use as many players as possible in order to see what kind of material he has.

The team faces a stiff schedule this season. Colby, the first team it meets, trounced the New Hampshire lads by a 66-53 score last season. Of last year's Colby starters, only one man has been lost — Captain Burrill, the Mules high scorer last year. If the Wildcats come through with a victory, Coach Swasey will indeed have something to work with, as it is going to take fast, heady basketball to beat the boys from Waterville.

The freshmen have been working out regularly and are in top condition. Their first game is played in Boston against the M.I.T. freshmen. The Tech freshmen will have a decided advantage over the Kittens as they will have played three previous games.

The Kitten squad is as yet an unknown quantity, although Zitrides, Hartson, Saunders, and Bergeron have shown better than average ability and are sure to see much action during the season.

It is hoped that the student body will stand behind the hoopsters this fall and winter. The Field House is equipped with plenty of seats, and it is much nicer to see them filled with yelling students than musty dust.

Outing Club

The Outing Club has invited Bette Davis, famous Hollywood star, to the Carnival Ball. Although Miss Davis has not yet replied, the Outing Club hopes she will accept. Miss Davis, twice winner of the Academy Award for her fine performances, recently spent several weeks at Peckett's, Sugar Hill, New Hampshire.

THE ALL-AMERICAN CHOICE FOR

Real Mildness

AND

IS CHESTERFIELD'S RIGHT COMBINATION

of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

When you ask for Chesterfields you're buying something no other cigarette can give you at any price . . . the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. All over America millions of smokers find that Chesterfields give them a cooler, better-tasting and definitely milder smoke.

"Any All-American Selection," says GRANTLAND RICE, "must have the right combination to give top performance all the time." That's just what Chesterfield with its milder better taste does . . . gives more smoking pleasure in each and every one smoked.
