Vincent Sheean Speaks on European Situation

Popular Correspondent and Author Clarifies War Propaganda, U.S. Position

Before a large and intently interested crowd, Vincent Sheean, well known war correspondent and author, spoke on the European situation, Wednesday night in the Field House.

Having just recently arrived in this country after a journalistic sojourn in war-torn France and England, Mr. Sheean spoke both with authority and from a personal viewpoint such as one can only get after close touch with the events in Europe that have occurred since the collapse of the French in May. His talk was one of clarification, a resume with the personal element to make it more emphatic.

One of the highlights of his talk was his relation of the aerial warfare that went on during July and August over the southeast coast of England. With 20,000 German planes against 5,000 English planes, it seemed like a rather uneven battle but unlike World War I, when a battle was not a battle unless ten million men were fighting, in this war it has been proved that the fewer men that are involved the more effective is the fighting. One of the results of those months of warfare was the apparent discovery by Germany that for the first time since 1933 she

Visiting Professors to Be Used in English Dept.

Dr. Carroll S. Towle of the English department has announced that a series of exchange meetings with professors from other colleges will be conducted in connection with his classes in English. At present exchanges are planned with Robert Tristram Coffin, Bowdoin; John Holmes, Tufts; and David Morton, Amherst. The idea of exchange professors was tried for the first time last year, and both Mr. Coffin and Mr. Holmes visited the campus.

The visits, which last from two to two-and-a-half days, are semi-private. The visiting professor is given complete charge of the regular class periods. He also meets with small groups or individuals for personal conferences in which students often present samples of their own work for discussion and criticism.

Victim of World Conflicts Assigned to Economics Post

The University of New Hampshire is playing its part in aiding refugees from the Europe of the dictators, by adding to its faculty Dr. Kurt Braun, former editor of the legal section of the German 'Engineers' Journal, and legal advisor to the unions in Germany. He has been appointed a research assistant in economics. Dr. and Mrs. Braun left Berlin in April, 1939, for London, where they lived until February, 1940. After a short stay in New York, they came to Boston, and from there to Durham.

Dr. Braun brings a wide experience to his classes. As he himself says, he has seen almost too much history for his own safety. He was in one World War, has seen two revolutions in Germany and one in Italy, barely escaping imprisonment before a second World War. He considers it especially fitting that Mr. Goering, chairman of the New England Christian Committee for Refugees should have helped him find his new way of life, since Hermann Goering of Germany destroyed his old one.

Of course there have been no labor unions in Germany since May 2, 1933, when the Nazis occupied all the labor buildings, even though work was con-

Skulls Wind Up Dads' Day with Dance at Commons

Senior Skulls will climax the Dads' Day program with an evening of dancing at the Commons. After the feted fathers have left and the campus retires to normalcy, the Commons will be cleared for a colorful Saturday evening of dancing—a victory dance, it is hoped. Senior Skulls have obtained Freddie Marsh and his band from Manchester to preside over the musical side of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Crissy and Mr. and Mrs. Buffington will be the chaperones for the evening while the Master-at-Arms will be Durham's reliable Louis Bourgoin, representative of the Law in Our Town. Ed Burt, president of the Senior Skulls, promises one of the best dances of the football season.

Professor and Wife Tie in Exhibition

Stoneware Bowl and Vase Win Awards in New York National Ceramic Exhibit

Edwin Sheier, instructor in pottery at the university, and his wife, Mary, have tied for second place in the annual National Ceramic Exhibition now being held at Syracuse, New York. Mr. Sheier entered a stoneware thrown bowl with a decorated applied design and Mrs. Sheier entered a stoneware thrown vase.

The award was made at a dinner attended by 150 prominent artists whose art was represented in the exhibition. The selections were made from over 1500 pieces of work, 500 of which were accepted and 119 will go on a national tour of art museums in this country.

The National Ceramic Exhibition was established in 1932 in memory of Adelaide Alsop Robineau, the famous ceramicist. It was started by the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts under the direction of Anna Olmsted.

Many of these American masterpieces have been sent for exhibition purposes to foreign countries and the San Francisco Fair.

tinued under the threat of the concentration camp. On that May day many suddenly became Nazis through the fear of losing their jobs. Under the Nazi regime both workers and employers are united in the German Labor Front. Dr. Braun had no choice but to remain at his work until the expiration of his contract, and he still does not know exactly how he chanced to escape arrest.

Dr. Braun pointed out that the distress of the middle class, which once was Germany, was used by Hitler to gain power. The middle class has never recovered from the consequences of the 1st World War, the inflation, the depression, and finally, the systematic destruction by the Nazis.

Up to the time of the present war Dr. Braun believes there was no majority of the German people behind Hitler; the mystery of his rise is the lack of active opposition. Since the German victories the old narrow minded German Nationalists have swung their support to Hitler. In addition, many look forward to the New Europe as one in which they will be the ruling class.

Music Organization in First Meeting

Music Council Sponsors Granite Varieties for '41; Other Projects Planned

The Music Council met for the first time on Tuesday evening at Professor Bergethon's home to discuss the plans of the various musical organizations for the year. The Music Council is made up of the officers of all the musical organizations on campus. The members are: Louise Edson, Constance Campbell, and Barbara Lewandos from the Women's Glee Club; Richard Hawkins, Robert Russell, and William Pine from the Men's Glee Club; Maxwell Campbell and Marjorie Callahan from the Choir; Jack Mitchell, Charles Chapman and Louis Israel from the Band; and Nathan Babcock and Dorothy Harkins from the Orchestra.

Various projects are being planned for the coming year. The council voted to again sponsor the Granite Varieties in 1941. A committee was chosen to work with Professor Bergethon, Jack Mitchell and Elwyn Dearborn who was chosen to direct this year's musical revue by the cast of last year's show, "Glamorously Yours." More plans concerning the varieties will be published soon.

The Music Council also agreed to sponsor the ticket sale for the concert series, which starts October 30. The council hopes, through the cooperation of the various musical organizations, to be able to boost the student sale to at least 1,000 tickets.

Plans were discussed for a series of community sings to be held in Murkland auditorium once a month on suitable evenings. A committee was selected to work out the details. At these impromptu gatherings the participants will sing anything, from school pep songs to the Hallelujah Chorus. Professor Bergethon hopes that through these sings he may develop some student song leaders.

Plans of Student Council Announced

Several matters of interest to the student body were taken up at Monday's regular meeting of Student Council, men's governing group. Dean Alexander was present to report on an incident which happened during the rally for the Bates game, when members of the student body pushed in the radiator of a car belonging to a man passing through town, in front of the College Pharmacy. In view of the fact that the damage had made the car useless and that the owner needed it for his work, the Council voted to donate the sum of $20 to help pay for the damage.

Plans for tonight's rally, which gets underway at 7 P.M. in the Field House were also discussed, with head cheerleader Stan Low presenting his plans for entertainment. It was decided that all freshmen would be required to march up to the game tomorrow in back of the band, and that they would be expected to sit in one section in the interests of more effective cheering.

The final matter brought up was special trains for the St. Anselm and Tufts football games. Providing that at least 200 students sign up for each trip, special trains will be run at greatly reduced rates. Those interested are asked to communicate with members of the Council.

The members of the Council will be the guests of Dean and Mrs. Alexander for dinner, this coming Monday evening.

Bible Class

The Community Church School, at the request of a number of students, will begin a Bible class for college students next Sunday, October 20, at the Community House at 9:30 A.M.

Dads' Welcome Ready; Full Program Planned

Student Landlords Hold Annual Freshman Meeting

The Student Landlords, a club affiliated with the university hotel administration course, held their first annual meeting at Mendum's Pond last Wednesday night. The purpose of the meeting was to greet the freshman members and to discuss plans for programs, lectures and trips this year. A dinner was served under the direction of Russell Byles, president of the organization. After-dinner speeches were given by the members present, twenty-one in all. Neal Batchelder was host. Tentative plans were made for a banquet in the spring at the Exeter Inn. The freshmen who were welcomed into the club were Ralph Allen, Donald Harris, Paul Lawler, Wesley Lyon, Thomas Niles, H. J. Powers, Robert Sawyer and Roger Stanton.

Recorded Concerts Begin at Library

Arts Department Presents Series of Light Programs for Interested Students

As announced in the last issue of "The New Hampshire," the Arts Department of the Hamilton Smith Library begins on Monday a series of regular recorded concerts, which will be held in the library music auditorium on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from one to two o'clock P.M. The programs, at least for the present, will be of the lighter variety, made popular by the famed Boston Pops concerts, and will be accompanied by short interpretations by members of the library staff. Miss Florence Dodge, who is in charge of the new library feature, wishes to make it clear that the program is in its experimental stages, and that the time of presentation and the type of music played will both be subject to revision if it becomes evident that the listeners desire such changes. The concerts are free, and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

The programs for the first six concerts are as follows:

Congreve Hall Operates Date Bureau for Campus Casanovas

Last Saturday night three girls sat in Mrs. Dunning's office in Congreve Hall and ruefully watched the antics of some twenty boys milling in the lobby of the hall, as they rang bells indiscriminately and gazed at the register with expressions, half despairing and half devilish. Then, as the prey-hunting males shuffled off with woeful grimaces — whether their quests had been successful or not—the three maids filed off upstairs for a very serious conference.

Today we announce the results of that conference. After many years of toying with the idea in its many possible forms, the student body of New Hampshire is finally about to see inaugurated, a strong, workable, business-like Date Bureau. With authoritative backing from the Dean of Women and practically every other faculty member who realizes the situation and has the students' interests at heart, Peggy Booth, Virginia Lydia and Barbara Derby will open their bureau for active service tonight at 6:30 P.M.

As the plans are set at present, the bureau will be open to all men and to the girls of Congreve. Notices will be posted in every dormitory on cam-

Football Game, Military Parade, Exhibits, Fair, Many Tours Included

When upwards of a thousand interested fathers deluge the campus on Dads' Day, they will find the various authorities assigned to escort them entrenched and ready for the onslaught. A full day has been planned for the dads, replete with tours about campus, exhibits, an agricultural fair, and featuring the military review and football game.

Dr. Carl L. Martin has announced five scheduled tours which will start from the faculty club at 9:00 A.M. and end at 11:20 A.M. Two representatives of each college will serve as guides on every tour. The following places will be visited: Hood House, Library, DeMeritt, Conant, Automatic Engineering Laboratory, James, Pet-tee, Dairy Building, and Nesmith. A special tour for those wishing to visit the livestock and dairy barns will leave at 10:15. Transportation for this tour will be provided.

A special map of the campus will be distributed to all Dads, to aid them in locating particular points of interest, while mimeographed sheets with selected places to visit will also be at their disposal.

At 11:20 a military dress parade will

Freshman Students Enter School with High Marks

The University of New Hampshire should expect great things from this year's freshman class. This is not a prediction, merely the indications presented from the high school records of the members of the class.

Files in the registrars office show that there are included among their members, ninety-eight who ranked among the first four of their high school graduating classes. Of this number, thirty-seven were valedictorians and eighteen salutatorians.

Spaulding High School of Rochester has sent its first four high ranking students to the University; with Whitefield, McGaw Institute of Reed's Ferry, Coe-Brown Academy of Northwood, Berwick Academy, Epping and Dover running close on its heels by sending three of their first four honor students.

pus, calling for voluntary registration (men will not be drafted; it is voluntary throughout), and an official desk will be planted in the lobby of Congreve Main, with business hours established between 6:30 and 8:30 every night in the week. Peggy's two years of pre-college business training should insure practical efficiency; Barbara also has had secretarial experience; and Virginia has been on campus long enough to know all the complications and loopholes of datery. In addition, all three girls are reported to possess admirable savoir faire in handling both men and women.

As outlined by the co-partners, the bureau will function in the following manner: Before the grand opening, a list will be prepared of all the girls in Congreve Main and Wing who would be available and willing, and what nights they wish to be dated. Complete cross files will be kept which will include a physical and personal description of each girl, her preference as to type of escort, likes and dislikes, abilities and deficiencies, and even a thumbnail biography of her pre-campus activities. All this information

Open Windows

We were gratified—and, yes, we must admit, surprised—to see so many students in the huge audience listening to Vincent Sheean last Wednesday night. Rarely has the University turned out in such large numbers for a lecture on current affairs.

The value of such lectures (and we would include the series of concerts, too) cannot be over-emphasized. College is, to a certain extent, and must of necessity be, a withdrawing from the active life of the city or town. The student needs that freedom from pecuniary needs, those long quiet hours in the library, and even the fellowship on the football field to develop his powers and his personality before he hits the maelstrom outside. But he must take care lest the ivy grow too high about his little tower. Lectures such as these are open windows to blow the strong breath of world problems through that tidy little academic mind.

To be sure, Mr. Sheean did not offer us much that was novel or "inside" stuff, but he did give a most excellent resume of the events of the last few months, a resume of particular interest to students who have not been too faithful in reading the papers.

We are sure that the majority of the students really received full value for the time expended. We hope only to see all of these lectures and concerts as well supported. In the words of M. Grigaut, "It is part of your job."

Welcome, Dads

As you gather here from all parts of New Hampshire and from other states, as you stroll about our beautiful campus and admire our buildings, as you sit in the grandstands cheering for a Wildcat team which once again outplays itself and its opponent, and as you push back through the happy crowds to quieter celebrations, may you remember the warm and affectionate welcome we hold for you in our hearts. And may you realize that you are now an integral part of the University family even as we are a part of your family.

Come back to Dads' Day again and again — even when you shall be old.

Intramurals

Five relay teams will compete in the finals during the half of the Springfield - U.N.H. football game. The teams that will compete are: Theta Chi—Stebbins, Joslin, Rawstion, and Haas; Commuters—Reed, Foster, Holton and Murphy; Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Coombs, Stevens, Jones and Atwell; Lambda Chi Alpha — Martin, Crosby, Middleton, Wright; Tau Kappa Epsilon—Sloan, Glines, Cattabriga, and Millar.

The leaders in softball with two weeks to play are: League I, PDU and TKE tied for first; League II, TC; and League III, East Hall.

TO THE EDITOR

Why isn't something done about the increase in the Durham fly population? Even classrooms are full of them so many that, between digging them out of one's ear and flicking them off one's nose, it's almost impossible to catch a peaceful snooze in any class. Why can't fly-rolls be distributed to every classroom on campus? I'd rather see a fly writhing in his death throes on some sticky fly paper than have him uninvitedly scratch my nose with six barbed legs. Fly-rolls are, quote First National: "10 for 5 cents." At that rate two hundred rooms could ambush those winged beast for a buck.

I'm not wheezing about physical discomfort from flies alone. They're a mental detriment too. Here's a case: I spent an hour carefully inking out the boundaries of the Old World, preparatory to setting Columbus out on his journey from Spain. Then along came a fly and sent Columbus in six inky directions north! Well, I know my history well enough so that the fly certainly was no help to my expedition. And I know my history prof well enough to know that when he sees the gory remains of a fly off the coast of Greenland it won't be a joke either.

Speaking of flies in the butter, a short time ago you could drop down to the Commons and see butter in flies. But now Commons is the only building on campus that has fly-rolls displayed where they can do some good. Paradoxically, other buildings—not vendors of food—have more flies than Commons!

Well, what effect will this prayer from one who is essentially e pluribus unum, have on those who can attempt to remedy this nuisance? Will you, Mr. Loveren, as superintendent of property, get on the ball and do something about it, or will this matter be like all others on campus: (a) situation, (b) appeal for remedy, (c) fodder for wastebaskets.

Remember the flies are nobody's friends, but they love us all.

— D. B. R.

1940 Honor Roll

Last semester fifty-five undergraduates of the University of New Hampshire earned scholastic averages of 90 or better, according to an honor roll released by Dr. Everett B. Sackett, registrar.

Gladys Zulauf, majoring in education in the liberal arts college, received the highest semester grade with a mark of 95. In second place the mark of 94.8 was achieved by a junior, Walter Sherry of Somersworth, also of the liberal arts college.

High Honor Students

THE WILDCAT

THE CAMPUS SODA SHOP

in DAD'S TOUR OF CAMPUS

— Bring him in — we'll be glad to meet him —

by Herb Smith

It was purely accidental that last Saturday's account of the cross country's victory was not placed on the Sports Page of this paper. The Sweet-coached harriers certainly deserve a large amount of praise for their fine showing over the last year's cross country champions — the University of Maine. Conceded hardly a chance to make much of a record this year due to the lack of veterans returning to school, the Wildcat runners have knocked off two crack teams so far this fall—the Bates' Bobcats, and last Saturday the Maine Bears. Just how good our boys are may be shown by the fact that last year's champs, the Bears, lost but one man through graduation, yet fell before the New Hampshire boys by 11 points.

In the future we will try to give better coverage to Coach Sweet's victories.

"Pappy" Judd, who last Saturday escorted two touchdowns over the line for the Old Grads, is going to get his chance to show the Dads just how he did it. Tomorrow afternoon, he'll be starting in place of the injured and ailing Joe Gordon, regular starting fullback. If Judd can regain his last week's form, Coach Sauer will have uncovered another capable replacement for his overworked first team backfield.

We don't mean to take anything away from his performances in hitting the line, but Judd certainly did have some nice holes opened up for him. Guess line coach Chick Justice has been working his boys pretty hard.

Interesting sidelight — Freshman coach Johnny DuRie enroute to scout the Springfield-Northeastern game, had a little trouble. Near Gardner, Mass., there occurred a slight accident with Coach DuRie and companion in the middle of it. Luckily no one was seriously hurt, although scratches were liberally distributed. However, since Johnny did not get to the game to do his scouting, the Wildcats will be up against an unprepared for offense.

John Fabello, who coached freshman hockey and baseball teams here for the past three seasons, is now coaching at Bridgton Academy.

Fabello spent his undergraduate days at the University of Michigan where he starred in hockey and baseball. He came to New Hampshire in 1938 to study for his master's degree.

We're picking the Wildcats to win over the Gymnasts with a score of 20-6.

Jayvees Point to New Hampton Tilt

Lack of Material Forces Austin Cate to Cancel Current Grid Schedule

With the first game of the season with Austin Cate called off, the Jayvee football squad is pointing diligently for the New Hampton clash which comes on October 25th. Due to the fact that only fourteen boys reported for the fall term at Austin Cate, the officials of the academy were forced to cancel the schedule.

This year the Jayvee squad is coached by a newcomer to the campus. W. Harold Rood, or better known as Hal, is here studying for his master's degree in education. Hal graduated from Springfield College in 1929 where he starred in all three of the major sports. Following his graduation from Springfield he went to coach at Roselle High in New Jersey. In 1930 he went to Ricker Junior College in Maine where he coached ten years before coming to Durham to seek an advanced degree. In his college career he served as fullback on the grid squad, center on the basketball five, and third base on the baseball team.

With a squad of about 43 men Hal Rood is hard at work trying to mould a starting eleven to meet the New Hamptonites.

Jayvee football serves a twofold purpose. It not only offers an interesting recreation to those who enjoy playing football, but it also serves as a farm team to the varsity squad.

A tentative starting lineup find Kiberd and O'Malley, ends; Hendrick and H. Hager, tackles; Poynter, a transfer from Yale and Kimball, guards; Callahan or Peyou, center; Brady, quarterback; Clark and Temple, halfbacks; and C. Hager, fullback.

Those who reported were: Askenazy, Billings, Brady, Brown, Bureau, Callagy, Call, Chamberlain, Clark, Grey, H. Hager, C. Hager, Hendrick, Hill, Honkala, Johnson, Kiberd, Kenyon, Kimball, Lowe, Mead, McIntyre, Matthews O'Neil, O'Malley, Perkins, Poynter, Preston, Picard, Lord, Peyou, Reid, Keir, Strook, Trombly, Sideras, Smith, Temple, Woodward, Wiggin, Young, Lewis.

their end positions; Meneghin, a back; and Saunders, a guard. All the sophomores came in for plaudits regarding their playing. The coach went on to say when asked about the probable result of the Springfield game that although the Gymnasts have not shown much so far, he is by no means inclined to be too confident of the result. Stressing that this game will be the big one of the year for the Massachusetts boys, he believes they will try to upset the Wildcat appletart as they have done in past years. A report that was probably sent out by the Springfield coach stating the weakness of their teams, said Sauer, is merely the same type of report sent out by the Maine coach in an effort to make the Durham boys over-confident.

The Springfield starting line-up will be as follows: i.e., Luichs; i.t., Farina; i.g., Spaulding; c., Collins; r.g., Angier; r.t., Grant; r.e., Peyo; q.b., Sholes; l.h.b., Rose; r.h.b., Barrows; f.b., Hargraves.

Cross Countrymen Meet Rhode Island

The varsity and freshman cross country teams left at 8 o'clock this morning to take on the Rhode Island Rams in a dual meet at Kingston, R.I.

With Jack Kirk and Warren Jones, who tied for first in last years meet, and Wayne Lowry, star of the freshman team last year, the prospects seem good for another victory. Kirk's only defeat this year was in the Bates' meet, when he finished second. The Wildcats won last year 22 to 33. Russ Sanborn and Roland Kimball, who finished 13th and 17th last year are back again, but Rivers, Underwood, and Huntoon, all of whom finished among the first nine, have gone.

The freshmen are still inexperienced and have had only three days of practice since their last meet with Portsmouth and Concord, but should make a much better showing running against another freshman team.

LOST: A Shakespeare book in Murkland auditorium. Please return to Jay Field at Congreve Main.

Wildcats After Third Win, Face Springfield

Kitten Gridsters Open with Exeter

The Kitten gridsters open their season tomorrow afternoon when they meet the Exeter Academy eleven on the latter's gridiron at 2:00 P.M.

The yearling squad, the smallest in recent years, both in size and number, has been busy preparing plays against the varsity and has had no time to prepare for its own games. The Academy boys, having played and won three games this season, are more experienced and better conditioned than the DuRie-coached team. According to DuRie the frosh team is going to have a tough fight. He says, "I'm not being pessimistic; I'm just looking at the facts. The Exeter team has every advantage, and I can only say that we hope to give them a good game."

This year the Kittens will play four games, with the Exeter game initiating the schedule. The next three, all home games, will be played against Tilton, Bridgton Academy and the Junior Varsity. Formerly playing two games with the Junior Varsity, the yearlings are scheduled to play Tilton for the first time in recent years.

A possible line-up for the Exeter game released by DuRie is as follows: i.e., Pinno; i.t., Moore; i.g., Papiandrew; c., Dale; r.g., Goodman; r.t., MacDonald; re., Meserve; f.b., Stetson; r.h.b., Dupont; l.h.b., Smith or Fenno; q.b., Fitandes.

DADS' DAY

be held on Memorial Field. The institutional management girls will serve lunch at the Field House while the sophomore food class will serve coffee and doughnuts for tired fathers at the faculty club.

The Agricultural Fair held in Nesmith Hall will be sponsored by Alpha Zeta. John Chadwick, president of Alpha Zeta says the displays consist of dairy products, meat cuts, small lambs and pigs, and poultry. Frederick Garland will be in charge of the fair.

The different laboratories will house home economics exhibits, while the foods laboratories will feature the canning and nutrition exhibits. Displays of the work done in sewing laboratory and in child care will also be shown.

DeMeritt and the Hamilton Smith Library will be the scene of other interesting exhibits.

Classes will be dismissed at 11:00 A.M. on Saturday to allow the ROTC boys to get into formation before parade time. Mr. O. F. Low, father of Stan Low, captain of Scabbard and Blade and our cheer leader, will "take the parade." He has been chosen to decorate the guidon of the company showing the most efficiency during the drill and ceremonies. This a particular honor corresponding to the ceremony which a mother takes part in on Mothers Day.

W. A. A.

The Inter-class Archery Tournament will begin Monday, October 21. Each contestant will shoot 8 ends—at 40 yards and 4 at 30 yards. The following days have been selected: Seniors—Monday, October 21; Freshmen—Tuesday, October 22; Juniors—Wednesday, October 23; Sophomores—Thursday, October 24. If it is impossible for anyone to shoot with her particular class, come out any one of these days that it is convenient. Be sure that your class manager has your score card.

Football Movies

Motion pictures of the Maine versus New Hampshire football game will be shown at 8:00 P.M., Friday, in James Hall.

Sophomores Defeat Juniors in Hockey

The following girls have been selected to represent their class in the inter-class hockey games. Two games have already been played. On Monday night, the freshman and senior hockey teams clashed in the first hockey game of the season. Both sides anxious to gain a reputation by winning the first game, gallantly strove for a goal, but after two fifteen minute periods, the score stood 0-0.

On Wednesday, the sophomore team beat the junior team with Freda Gardner scoring the goals for the sophomores. The final score was 2-0.

Washington Trails Shown at Lecture

The Outing Club will sponsor an unusual and interesting lecture and travelogue Monday evening in James auditorium, at 7:30 o'clock, when Gardner E. Campbell presents "Tramping the Ridgepole of the White Mountains." This will not be the garden variety of travel talk, but an authentic hike with Mr. Campbell a mile above sea level, illustrated by 200 views in natural color.

Scenes and descriptions of Mt. Washington in all seasons of the year will be shown, as well as the famous Tuckerman's ravine and headwall, the new aerial tramway, the cog railway, and many shots of rare alpine flowers, of which Mr. Campbell has the only known collection in existence. One hundred miles of trail the motorist never sees, most of it above the timber line, will feature the colored pictures.

Mr. Campbell has made the ascent of Mt. Washington by four different methods—air, rail, auto and afoot—and has made sixty ascents in all seasons and kinds of weather. Some of his photographs have been used in illustrating numerous publicity pamphlets of the mountains and the tramway, as well as being made into post-cards.

General admission is twenty cents, although Outing Club members will be admitted on presentation of their membership cards.

New Forestry Professor Served in Six States

William Medesy is a new member of the forestry department who has had a great deal of experience in his chosen profession. Graduated from Purdue in 1931, he then received his M.A. degree at Yale. He served the U. S. Forestry department in six different states, Tennessee, Virginia, W. Virginia, Kentucky, New Hampshire, and Maine. He did research work in Indiana and for the past three years has been in the White Mountain National Forest doing timber and wild life management. His work here at the university consists of teaching forest management, forest administration and forest measurement.

Sigma Beta — About fifty alumni of various classes were welcomed at the house over the past week-end. They were registered by several of the members and a buffet lunch was served after the game. . . . The woodwork inside the house is experiencing belated fall painting by the members, and new rugs, gifts of the Mothers' Club, are to be laid for the coming week-end. . . . The Dads' Day program for the house includes a banquet at noon for the dads, a tea in the afternoon for the Mothers' Club, and the semi-annual meeting of the latter.

Plan 75th Anniversary Anthology Publication

The University Publicity Bureau with the assistance of Henry B. Stevens, assistant director of the general extension service, plans to publish an anthology of university writing as part of the celebration in honor of the University's 75th birthday. Bids have already been called for, and it is expected that the 300 page, cloth-bound book will appear next spring.

The anthology will contain not only reprints from the Student Writers but also writing by students who may never have appeared in the Student Writer, or who have done notable writing since they left college. The selections to be printed in the book will be chosen by Dr. Carroll S. Towle and other members of the English department.

SHEEAN LECTURE

could not do as she pleased. It was the first time that the Germans had ever been checked so effectively.

Sheean's comment on the attitude of the English people was inspiring. He said that they went into this war feeling that the inevitable would come, that their country was sure to be invaded. But their typical native complacency and self-confidence, which to some in peace time is so obnoxious, in this crucial period has proved to be of great value. Sheean thinks that if England can last through the winter they can hold out to the end. As for the possibility of Germany's economic collapse, Sheean thinks this improbable in consideration of the vast resources that are now hers; but he does think that if any of the conquered peoples of Europe revolted from within, it would form a break through which England could make a wedge, without the "fantastic job of invading and conquering Germany."

Closing with a rather dark prediction for England's future, Sheean again emphasized that the situation was not entirely hopeless but that "a muddling of all governments and internal revolt would be Germany's breaking point."

After the lecture there was a short question period, at which time the speaker was asked if he thought that invasion of the United States was imminent. He was quite emphatic in his belief to the contrary. The question period was brought to a speedy end because Sheean had to catch the 10:26 train for New York. After a short stay there he will travel to the west coast for extension of his lecture tour. Last week-end he spoke in South Carolina, and Tuesday night at Colby Junior College, New London, N. H.

Asked whether he was writing anything now, Sheean replied that he had nothing planned and he probably wouldn't have for the next couple of years, or "at least until the mess abroad is cleared up."

David Jolly Here as New Librarian

Mr. David Jolly, the new acting librarian of the University of New Hampshire, was born in St. Andrews, Scotland, coming to America at the age of nine.

After attending the New Mexico Military Institute, he entered the George Peabody Institute in Tennessee where he received his undergraduate degree in English in 1936. He also obtained his library degree in the same year. Since 1936, Mr. Jolly has been on the staff at Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri, and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago.

Besides being active in library work, he finds ample time to engage in his favorite pastimes — golf, fishing and reading.

Commenting on the University of New Hampshire he says, "The state should be congratulated for having such an outstanding university, with its beautiful college campus."

DATE BUREAU

will be entirely confidential and for the use of the bureau managers only, in determining selection of proper and satisfying companions.

When a male student desires a date, he will go to the bureau, present his own platform and outline his preferences, and pay his nickel—oh, yes—there will be a nominal fee: five cents per male and one cent per female, per date. This is to place a premium upon the service and to prevent its discontinuance because of financial difficulties.

Chemistry Professors of New England Meet Here

Twenty-four faculty members of New England colleges and universities, members of the Ouroboros chemistry club, will visit the university tomorrow for their semi-annual meeting to be the guests of Dr. Harold A. Iddles of the chemistry department. The group plans to lunch in the president's dining room in the Commons, intending to see the New Hampshire-Springfield football game afterwards. In the evening a round-table discussion will be held at the Exeter Inn.

Among the visitors will be Dean Samuel Arnold of Brown and Editor of the Journal of Chemical Education Rakestraw. Also coming from Brown are professors Chambers and Cross. From M.I.T. come professors Smith, Keyes, Sherrill, Scatchard, and Williams. From Yale will come professors Van Name, Owen, Anderson and A. J. Hill and Hoover. Other visitors: from Williams, King; Simmons, Mark; Dartmouth, Scarlett; W.P.I., Jennings; Rochester, Noyes and Butler; Amherst, Beebe and Doughty; and Harvard, Lamb.

Springfield Game Rally Tonight in Field House

The first rally in Stan Low's proposed series will start in front of the Commons at 7 P.M. tonight for the Springfield game. It is being started early so that the students will have time to go to the "vic" dances which will be held later in the evening. The group will march up behind the band to the Field House by way of Madbury Road. The rally will last about three-quarters of an hour, and besides the usual songs and cheers, a timely skit will be put on.

While on this campus, Dr. Braun is conducting research in comparing American and European labor legislation. Although such legislation in this country dates only from the New Deal, the social problems which gave rise to it are international in scope.
