Blewett Announces New Liberal Arts Courses Next Year

Social Statistics, Music, Biology, Radio Speaking In Revised Curricula

In keeping with the constant attempt to offer the best and as many courses as possible, new additions and changes have been made to improve the Liberal Arts curriculum in the future. One of the most outstanding changes is the introduction of a new course which will be called Biology 1, 2. This course will meet the biological science requirements of the College of Liberal Arts and will replace the old option of Zoology 1, 2 and Botany 1, 2. Biology 1 will deal with the nature and characteristics of plants and their relation to man and Biology 2 with the nature and characteristics of animals and their relation to man.

Mendum's Will be Scene Of WAA Picnic Thursday

The Women's Athletic Association will hold its annual picnic at Mendum's Pond on Thursday. Buses will leave Smith Hall drive at 4:45 P.M. on May 22. The fee for the outing, including both supper and transportation, will be only twenty-five cents, the remainder of the expenses being paid by W. A. A. All are urged to bring bathing suits, for there will be swimming. Supper will be a hot-dog roast in the W. A. A. Cabin. After supper, letters, numerals, and pins will be awarded to those who have earned the required points.

All those who wish to go must sign up on the bulletin board in New Hampshire Hall before Wednesday noon. Every member, and consequently every women student, is welcome.

Rosenblatt's "Euthanasia" Hits WHEB Ether this Afternoon

By Lou Geller

Romance worthy of emulation by every and any UNH student (N.B. of both sexes), humor at its apex, drama at its best, and tragedy at its zenith (to put it mildly)—this is what is in store for all interested parties who tune in on station WHEB this afternoon at 5:15. At this time, the second half-hour dramatization in the current Prize Play series will be presented.

Entitled "Euthanasia" and written by Bernard Rosenblatt, the play will have some of the best actors on campus in its cast. Bob Nolan, well-known on the eve of his graduation for superb characterizations in the past four years, will take the part of "Calvin Kendall", and "old" young man in very poor health. A heavy drinker, "Cal" is rather sick of life in general, which holds nothing in store for him. It is from action of this leading character that the play gets its name. (Not allowed to tell you exactly what he does; the meaning of the title can be found in Webster.)

The delicious love scene which opens the drama ensues between "Vernon Kendall", Cal's younger brother (Herb Smith), and "Lenore Atherton", his fiancée (Betty-Jo Weaver). From impressions gathered while watching a rehearsal, the present writer suspects that Herb and Betty-Jo have had considerable experience along this line, in one way or another.

Of course, the gods of Fate just never allow a loving couple to exist without sending some "Rudolph Rasendale to bust in and spoil everything. Rudolph, in this case is called "Burke", and is nothing more than a fourth-rate gangster with a blackmail complex (Clayton Smith). But as all villains are ultimately foiled, so is this one, and Cal turns out to be the "Hairbreadth Harry". (Sorry, that's all we can tell you about the plot.)

The cast also contains two other characters of varying importance: "Doctor Ferguson", the Kendall's family physician (Ray Chase), and "Bob Trent" (Herb Blais). Doctor Ferguson is a kindly, sympathetic person who has been attending Cal for a number of years and knows more about his ill health than anyone else. Trent, an old friend of Cal's, is an enthusiastic night club haunter and a perpetual inebriate; it is in this condition that he appears in the play at the wrong psychological moment.

Because of the excellent dramatization of Dearborn's "Faces to the Sun,"

44 Excellent Exhibits; Peanut Roasting Popular; Rain Interrupts Pageant

For the 1100 or more mothers, the many fathers and others and the students present, Mothers' Day at the University of New Hampshire was a resounding success. After registering at New Hampshire Hall, most of the parents visited the various exhibits offered in the library, Thompson Hall, Murkland, Demeritt, James, Nesmith, Morrill, and Conant Halls, New Hampshire Hall, the Shops Building, Commons Trophy Room and the Craft Cottage. The forty four exhibits were of such excellent quality that it is impossible to mention all the outstanding ones. Honors for the most popular exhibit would undoubtedly go to the peanut roasting machine in Conant, closely followed by the free apple exhibit in Nesmith, both of which were centers of attraction all day. Perhaps the most professional-appearing and interesting exhibit was the Portsmouth Project, a hypothetical new settlement in Portsmouth for which each senior architectural student constructed one model house. Most of the houses were modernistic in style, one being planned for six families. The faucets on the wall which apparently had no piping connections but from which water ran constantly, (there was a nearly invisible glass tube leading to a pipe) was the cause of considerable speculation. Among the other exhibits which aroused a good deal of

Student Elections Held this Week

Important student elections concerning next year's head cheerleader, members of the Athletic Advisory Commission, the student tax, and the Hood Achievement Award will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 22 and 23. Votes will be cast in the special voting booth set up in T-hall archway.

Thursday the members of the four classes will vote for the head cheerleader for next year. The candidate must be a member of this year's junior class. On the same day all men students in the four classes will vote for two members of the Athletic Advisory Commission. The candidates for membership are Red Davis, Wayne Lowry, Edward Mackel, Sonny Lamond, William Keough, and Donald Perkins.

On Friday the three lower classes will vote upon the Student Tax, and the three upper classes will determine the winner of the Hood Achievement Award. The latter is given to that Senior Man who is judged on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and so on to have made an outstanding record during his four years at the university.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority recently walked off with the scholarship cup at Washington State college for the fourteenth time in 16 semesters.

Adams Replaces Daly In Cast; Scenes from Play to be Broadcast

Tomorrow night at 8:00 in New Hampshire Hall the curtain will go up on the first of three scheduled performances of Mask and Dagger's spring production, "The Old Homestead". Culminating six weeks of intensive preparation, last night the dress rehearsal was held and all indications are that this will be one of the most popular plays ever to be presented by the dramatic society. Its homespun philosophy, rural flavor, and excellent characterization of natives of our state give it a local appeal found in few other dramas ever written for the professional theatre.

Smith Hall Enters Spirit Of Mothers' Day with Tea

Smith hall girls and the women commuters entertained their mothers, Dads, and friends at an informal tea on Saturday afternoon following the pageant. A large blue sign with letters spelling the words "Welcome to our Mothers" greeted the guests as they entered the hall. Blue bachelor buttons and Easter lilies with tall blue candles made an attractive centerpiece for one of the tables. Lilacs, pink sweet peas, and apple blossoms were also used to decorate the rooms.

Punch and tea with assorted cookies, date bread sandwiches, and homemade banana bread were served. In general charge of the affair were Lucille Boodrey, commuter, and Dorothea Dowell, Smith.

Aquatic School To Train Workers

The first New Hampshire Aquatic School, designed to provide an opportunity for every community, camp, organization, and school in the state to train water safety workers, will be held here June 17 to 27. Swimmers may enroll to become qualified Red Cross Life Savers or First Aid Instructors.

Pre-requisite for the course is Red Cross Senior Life Saving Rating or the equivalent. Complete Red Cross safety instruction will be given under the direction of Commodore William E. Longfellow of the Red Cross.

All communities in the state, Parent Teachers' Associations and similar organizations are urged to send representatives to the school, in order to assist in the development of adequate water safety in the state by having well-trained workers to patrol the waters used for recreational purposes. At present there is only one trained water worker for every 2,500 people in New Hampshire!

The Aquatic School, which developed out of the Recreational Program of the University's Extension Service, will be held in conjunction with the big ten-day celebration that will cap the University's extensive birthday in June.

DURHAM, N. H., MAY 20, 1941

A Privilege and Duty

Participation and interest in student elections has been unusually poor this year. On days when the "T" hall voting booth was open for class, student government, and queen elections and for Granite and opinion polls the number of ballots cast has been but a small percentage of those eligible to vote. This is definite proof of lack of interest in affairs and indifference toward the more important things in campus life.

This week the last student election of this school year will be held on several pertinent questions. Those who are continually complaining about the way the University is being run by undergraduate leaders will have a chance to express themselves, for it is invariably these disgruntled ones who seldom taken the trouble to exercise their franchise.

A warning to those voting. The questions to be voted upon are the Student Activity Tax, Hood Achievement Award, Head Cheerleader, and athletic awards committee. All of these topics should be carefully considered and analyzed before going to the polls. Select the best qualified candidate and not the one your roommate wants or the one who is the most popular. When considering the tax try to compare or contrast the value received for the money paid out and do not vote "yes" or "no" indiscriminately.

With the exception of the Hood Achievement Award the topics and candidates voted on will have a direct bearing on the University life of the next school year. If under the leadership of recently elected governing bodies we are to make progress it will be expedient to make wise selections.

A Job Well Done

Congratulations are due all those who worked to make the University open house and Mothers' Day so successful. The exhibits put on by the various departments were of exceptional calibre, especially those of the college of technology in DeMeritt and Conant halls. Demonstrations of this kind are not only entertaining but also show parents and friends of the school what type of work the students are doing.

Everything was well timed and ran off very smoothly on Saturday with the exception of the pageant which the weather halted. Well received as far as it went, it was rather unfortunate that "Ben Thompson's Vision" was of such a lengthy duration. The pageant was very colorful with costumes, animals, and properties in keeping with the different periods represented, but it seemed to drag between episodes and during some of the mass dances. Perhaps an undertaking not so extensive would have been easier to produce with almost the same effect.

Mask and Dagger Again

"The Old Homestead" which opens in New Hampshire hall tomorrow evening should be another success in the long line of remarkable performances staged by Director William Hennessy and his Mask and Dagger society. With both veteran performers and newcomers in the cast the play should be of more than ordinary interest to New Hampshire students because of its setting in the southwestern part of the state in the colorful seventies.

Third UNH Writers' Conference Highlight of Summer Session

By Dorothea Dowell

One of the outstanding features on the university summer calendar is the nationally-known Writers' Conference which meets here August 3 to 14 for its third annual session. A staff of leading writers will lecture, speak to small groups, examine manuscripts presented to them by members of the conference, and hold individual conferences. Special attention will be given to the problems of sale and publication, and various publishers' representatives will be present.

Members of certain courses in English will participate in the conference in conjunction with their work. The conference, which is under the direction of Dr. Carroll S. Towle, is open to any one who is interested; it is not necessary to be a member of the Summer School in order to take part in the meetings.

Among the staff at this year's conference will be Herschel Brickell, Robert Tristram Coffin, William Harris, Haydn Pearson, (U.N.H. '26), Margaret Widdemer, John Holmes, Loyd Haberly, David Woodbury, and Esther Forbes.

Education Lectures

Another conference being held this summer is the one on Elementary Education scheduled for July 17, whose theme will be "The Place of the Three R's in a Modern Elementary School." Lectures will be given by authorities in the field of elementary education, and ample opportunity will be provided for questions and discussions. Those who attend the conference will have a chance to become better acquainted with some of the problems on the elementary learning level, and with some of the teaching methods being used.

The annual summer library institute will be held again this year from July 7 to 18, in conjunction with the New Hampshire Public Library Commission. In addition to workshops and round table discussions, courses in cataloging, classification, library work with children, book selection, reference and bibliography, public library administration, history of books and printing,

Mother's Club Founder Entertains at Theta Chi

Sunday proved to be an eventful day for Theta Chi, for it marked the annual Theta Chi Mother's Day Celebration. Housemother Mrs. Smith was hostess to more than forty mothers, friends, and mothers of alumni members. The day was well planned by Mrs. Smith, who is to be congratulated on the good time had by all.

Sunday morning the Theta Chi members and their mothers met at the house and all went to church. After church Mrs. Smith conducted the annual meeting and greeted the mothers of the freshmen into the Theta Chi Mother's Club. An informal discussion was held and the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Crafts, Pres.; Mrs. Peterman, Vice Pres.; Mrs. Fallonsbee, Treas.; Mrs. Beal, Sec.

After the meeting a dinner was held at the house, followed by an informal social gathering highlighted by group singing around the piano and the snapping of group pictures.

colonial history, and the American novel will be offered. The institute is primarily for librarians in small public libraries, assistants in larger libraries, and teacher-librarians.

Public Affairs

Interested students, citizens, or officials are invited to attend the Fourth Institute of Public Affairs convening on July 8. The principal subject of the institute will be "Personnel Problems of New Hampshire" and will be concerned with both the elective and appointive officials. Henry W. Marsh, Field Secretary of the Civil Service Reform League, will be guest speaker at the luncheon.

The second institute for office workers will meet July 7-19; workers, however, may attend it for one week only (July 7-12 or July 14-19), or for the entire period. The purpose of the institute is to offer courses to employed bookkeepers, stenographers, secretaries, and clerical workers, and to the temporary unemployed who may welcome the opportunity to brush up on their skills in the courses given.

Two general conferences, round table sectional meetings and demonstration clinics describe the substance of the fourth annual two-day Guidance Institute July 22 and 23 in a nutshell. The topics to be discussed will be of interest to teachers of elementary, junior, and senior high schools, school counselors, principals, superintendents of schools, C.C.C. educational advisers, leaders of boys' and girls' clubs, welfare workers, personnel directors, placement officers and college teachers.

Additional information concerning these various institutes and conferences may be obtained from the summer school number of the university bulletin, or by writing to the Director of the Extension Service, Durham, New Hampshire.

Yacht Club

Last Friday, Ruth Dickson, Gail Daley, Marcia Weatherill, Peg Sanborn, Helen Colby, and Virginia Woodward represented the Yacht Club in the Woman's Dinghy Regatta at M. I. T. Miss Dickson took a second in her division and New Hampshire placed fifth in the meet of ten colleges.

Sunday, the Yacht Club copped its first victory of the season by defeating Proctor Academy and Nichols College by a score of 23-12-11 respectively. Lloyd Burt was high scorer with three seconds. Despite the disqualification of Andy Turner in the first race, he came through with two firsts to keep N. H. well in the lead. The crews were: For Turner—J. Pushee and E. Johnson; For Burt—C. Chapman and A. Richmond. Racing was done under adverse conditions because of a very heavy NW wind.

On May 30th the Yacht Club will hold its annual Isles of Shoals race. All those wishing to go on this trip are asked to come to the meeting on Thursday at 7:30. Be ready to pay then. 24 will sail out and another group will sail in. Two motor launches will escort us. 60 is the quota. Sign up—everybody invited.

DENTISTRY

The field of dentistry offers to college students an attractive career. It provides a worthy intellectual challenge, a life of professional service with satisfactory income, and an opportunity for research and teaching in this division of medical science and art.

The University of Pennsylvania has prepared more than six thousand graduates who are occupying positions of importance in the profession throughout the world. Its course of instruction is of the highest order.

Anyone interested in this profession as a life work is invited to apply for further information to

Rams Overwhelm Wildcat Runners

Showing again their inability to score heavily in second and third places, the New Hampshire trackmen were overwhelmed by Rhode Island State at Kingston 98-37 on Saturday afternoon.

Crook was the principal point-getter for the Wildcats, scoring firsts in the 100 and the 220. Hamlin came through in the 440 to add another first. In the field events, Flaherty and Lampson were first place winners in the hammer and pole vault.

This was the final dual meet of the season for New Hampshire. Next Friday and Saturday they will compete in the New England Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association meet at Cambridge, Mass.

Summary—100 yd. dash, won by Crooks (NH), Bander (R. I.), Black (RI). 220 yd. dash, won by Crooks (NH), Bander (RI), Black (RI); 440 yd. run, won by Hamlin (NH), Bagshaw (RI), Fournier (RI); 880-yd. run, won by Dixon (RI), Harvey (RI), Lowry (NH); Mile run—won by R. Nichols (RI), O'Sullivan (RI), Shurtleff (RI); Two-mile run, won by Taylor (RI), Tingley (RI), L. Nichols (RI); 120-yard high hurdles, won by Spooner (RI), Platt (RI), Grant (NH); 220 low hurdles, won by Spooner (RI), Platt (RI), Grant (NH); Pole vault, tie for first between Lampson (NH) and Mahoney (RI), third Cromwell (RI); High jump, tie between Jewett (RI) and Forsstrom (RI), third Thursday (NH); Broad jump, won by Forsstrom (RI), tie for second between Stiles (NH) and Lampson (NH); Hammer, won by Flaherty (NH), Wilcox (RI), Johnson (RI); Javelin, won by Weisman (RI), Lufkin (NH), Krueger (RI); Discus won by Krueger (RI), Flaherty (NH), Matthews (RI); Shotput, won by Krueger (RI), Gudczauskas (RI), Wilcox (RI). Final standing, Rhode Island 98, New Hampshire 37.

by Charlie Untiet

It seems that . . . there has been quite a lot of fuss over Don Burnham's mile jaunt in the Frosh-Dartmouth track meet here on Mother's day. It was claimed and believed that he had broken the track record. The record as it now stands is 4 minutes, 24 seconds. Don Burnham did the course in 4:24 which is not the record but is darn good running. By the time the Lebanon flash is a senior he should be one of the best milers in the country.

The mothers certainly had a wonderful time here Saturday. By the looks of things they were impressed in everything that was going on, right down from the exhibits to Sheik Karelis' four hit chucking in the Mass. State game. Once again the sophomore has demonstrated that he is one of the best hurlers in the East. He can also hit that agate.

It was funny after Sheik had hit that double along the right field line. Mr. Ryan, the Mass. receiver told the umpire that in his opinion Karelis was no hitter. "Why he just stuck his bat out and the ball hit it," griped Ryan, "he'll never do that again in a month of Sundays." He was right to a certain extent, Sheik did not repeat that particular feat but he did one better. He waloped a triple to right center.

There is to be a special convocation Thursday, May 29 at which the certificates will be awarded to those who have earned the varsity NH for the past year. Awards for special achievements will be made to the captains of the various teams. It is hoped that this affair will be more of an attraction than the sportsfest. It is the last chance to pay respects to the athletes this year so let's all be on deck to give them a hand. They deserve it.

Looking over the figures compiled by Gus Goodell, the senior baseball manager, Lou Cryans leads the team in batting with an even .400. He has been to the bat 25 times and has collected 10 safeties. Sheik Karelis is hitting for .389 getting seven hits in 18 trips to the platter. Bob Austin runs third with a .370 average followed by Red Davis with .333. The team average is .256 and it is fielding for an average of .950. In eight games the Wildcats have collected 29 runs on 63 hits while the opposition has scored 19 times on 46 safeties. Karelis leads in the pitching with five victories against no defeats followed by Ray Dupell with one verdict. Fred Draper has two setbacks charged against him and has yet to taste victory.

Two hundred of the 670 students at Norwich university are freshmen. There will be only 52 graduating cadets in June.

Wildcat Lacrosse Team Drops Game To Williams, 6-4 Dougalmen Suffer First Loss of Season as Glines Stars; Dartmouth Next

Failing to hold an early lead, the Wildcat lacrosse team suffered its first defeat last Saturday afternoon at Williamstown 6-4. This leaves New Hampshire with only a hope of a tie for the league championship if they beat Dartmouth there next Saturday afternoon.

Glines scored a goal early in the first period, but Williams came back to score four times and sew the game up. Wright scored just before the end of the second period, and Williams led at the half 4-2. During the third period, Williams added its two final markers which the Wildcats could not overcome although Glines and Judkins contributed a point each for the cause.

Tower was the outstanding man for Williams while Glines continued his brilliant playing for the Wildcats. The New Hampshire passing attack did not have the precision of other games while the Williams passing clicked superbly.

Although disappointed by losing this game, the team still has a chance to get their names a second time on the Briggs Trophy, if they defeat Dartmouth Saturday. The Big Green has a great team this year, defeating Yale last Saturday 16-8, and the Wildcats have the toughest battle of the year on their hands.

The New Hampshire second team lost to Union College JV's Friday afternoon 4-3.

The summary: New Hampshire—Improta, g; Gowan, p; H. Martin, cp; Brunel, ld; Begin, 2d; McCrone, c; Monica, la; Glines, 2a; Mackel, oh; Lanyon, ih.

Goals—Holden 3; Richards, McCann, Payson, Glines 2, Wright, Judkins.

Referees—Julian and Kisiba.

Kittens Scalped By Papooses, 76-50

Both the great strength and the great weakness of the University of New Hampshire freshman track team showed themselves last Saturday as the Dartmouth frosh won a dual meet on Lewis Fields 76-50.

The Kittens took but eight points out of a possible 55 in the running events—their weakness; but they garnered 42 to Dartmouth's 21 in the field events as Ed Styrna and Boo Morcom scored 29 points between them. Styrna captured first places in the javelin throw and hammer and seconds in the shot put and discus. Morcom won firsts in the high jump and pole vault and settled for second honors in the broad jump.

First Loss Dartmouth's feature performer, Donald Burnham, won the mile in the very good time of 4m., 24s.

It was the first loss of the season for the NH team, which had previously defeated Deering High and Portsmouth in a triangular meet and Exeter Academy in a dual meet. Their next engagement is with the Brown frosh in Durham on the 20th.

The summary: 120-yard hurdles—Won by King (NH); second, Merrill (D); third, Schoenhat (D).

The Last Time!

All the athletes of the University of New Hampshire that engage in Spring sports will don their uniforms for the last times during the oncoming week in an attempt to close this school year with flying colors. Many of these athletes will be playing for their Alma Mater for the last time, so let's go out and give them a last, well-deserved hand.

Visitors Limited to Four Hits; Ace Pitcher Fans Ten and Gets Two Hits

Massachusetts State had the misfortune of getting into a tangle with Irving Karelis, New Hampshire's ace pitcher Saturday afternoon and as a result they were held to four scattered hits and one run to go down to a 6-1 defeat. It was Sheik's fourth successive triumph.

The visitors were handed their only run in the eighth on a single by Parzych, an infield out, and an error by Dick Sughrue.

Meanwhile the Wildcats had gone to work on two State hurlers and pounded them for nine hits including a double and triple by Karelis, a triple by Tom Callagy, and a double by Bob Austin. The game was held up twice and for a time it was thought that rain would definitely halt the proceedings.

The locals opened with a vicious attack on Bangs. After Lou Cryans had grounded out, Tom Callagy waloped a screaming three bagger to left center which Bob Austin followed with a double scoring Tom; Austin tallied on a ground single to left by Sparky Adams. New Hampshire scored twice in the 4th and 7th with the visitors tallying in the seventh.

The freshman squad under the tutelage of Hal Rood were edged out by John Fabello's Bridgton Academy team 7-6 Saturday afternoon.

Tufts Netmen Beat Wildcats by 5-4

The New Hampshire tennis team dropped its second match of the season to Tufts last Friday afternoon at Medford, 5-4. The Wildcat netmen hadn't lost a match since they were defeated by Maine here at Durham in the first game of the season and battled fiercely before going down to defeat at the hands of the Jumbos.

Paul Conway of the Durham team started the day off right by defeating Linden of Tufts, 7-5, 3-6, 8-6 to put his team in the lead. Scott of Tufts, however, beat Strock to even things up, winning 6-4, 6-3.

McBeath of Tufts won his match from Churas in a 6-4, 6-0 manner and Milhenth of Tufts beat Feeney, 6-2, 6-3. Piffard of New Hampshire turned back O'Brien, 6-4, 6-2 and then Joslyn of New Hampshire defeated Harrigan, 6-1, 6-1.

In the doubles competition McBeath and Scott of Tufts defeated Strock and Churas, 4-6, 6-0, 8-6 while Conway and Feeney defeated Harrigan and Milhenth by 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 scores. In the

Notice

Incomplete Courses. "Courses not completed by the end* of the student's semester next following the one in which the incomplete grade occurred will be automatically recorded as a failure; the instructor will report a grade determined by the proportion and quality of the work completed. Should a postponement beyond this semester be needed, it may be granted by the dean of the student's college, who will report the same to the registrar.

*End of the semester is interpreted as meaning the last day of classes preceding the examination period." Page 20, Student-Faculty Handbook of Official Information 1940-41

For the current semester the last day of classes is Thursday, May 29, 1941. Incomplete grades not removed and delivered to the Registrar's Office on the proper forms by 5 p.m. on that date will automatically become failures.

presented last Thursday under the able direction of Shep Fox, a little competitive spirit has set in among the members of the casts of the two remaining plays (Dent's and Rosenblatt's). This has already led to more concentration at the few rehearsals held, and should result in top-notch performances for both broadcasts. The task of directing "Euthanasia" rests on Betty Lucey, and much of the credit for the degree of success achieved should go to her.

This Thursday at 5:15, the final production of the series will be heard. It is first prize winner Richard Dent's "Listen to the Rain", directed by Tom O'Donnell and starring Miss Amy Rand.

We have learned why Freshmen are not supposed to walk on Prexy's Prom. Across the street a new sidewalk had been built, composed of cinders, broken bricks, boulders and all the things which would hurt the feet, tear the shoes of the feet, and sprain the ankles of the feet. The Sophs decided that only the feet of freshmen were low enough for such a trail and to the Frosh it was dedicated.

CAMPUS CROWDED

interest were the electrocuted hot dogs in Demeritt Hall (the hot dog completed an electric circuit), the fountain which automatically shut off when thirsty visitors approached, the Zoology Department's exhibit of live animals from New Hampshire's fields, woodlands, and streams, the drawings and models of the New Hampshire house, past, present, and future; the splendid photography exhibits in New Hampshire Hall (particularly the huge photograph of Ray Doyle and Nancy Kinsman), the exhibit of the instruments of a band and symphony orchestra, the English Department's exhibit of clippings and pamphlets concerning students who have won or placed in national writing contests.

Mil Art Drill

A large crowd attended the Military Art precision drill at Memorial Field, witnessing the awarding of the Guidon to the outstanding company of the ROTC by Mrs. Towle, Stan Lowe's mother, and then Stan Lowe's presentation of flowers to his mother, Mrs. Towle, and Mrs. Englehardt. At noon the Commons and all the fraternity and sorority houses were overflowing with mothers and other luncheon guests.

The main event of the day was the pageant written and directed by Miss Margaret Hoban, head of the Women's Physical Education Department. The brilliantly costumed extravaganza began with a procession of cleverly made up characters of the past and present, carriages, and animals. The procession was enthusiastically received by a most appreciative audience. The prologue depicted Ben Thompson, Mickey Moore plus excellent make-up, signing the will that made possible this university. In the first episode a very natural-looking Abraham Lincoln, played by Herb Blais, signed the Morrill Act of 1862. The second episode found Professor Dimond, "the professor of the college", (played by Sid Dimond), welcoming the first students at the college in 1868, and a motley looking group it was! In spite of their pleasure at having the advantage of higher education and their ambition to get on in the world, they exhibited the same pointless glee as their modern brethren when a half-holiday was declared. In the third episode a solemn looking legislature came to Hanover to dedicate Culver Hall and also to enjoy a final meal prepared by the good women of Hanover, who learned that managing a table cloth out doors on a windy day is a difficult procedure. The fourth episode found the New Hampshire students seventeen years later "helplessly helping" the ladies at White River Junction County Fair. They had arrived unusually early to get ahead of the boys from Dartmouth. The bicycle race, the frighteningly realistic sulkey race, the hilarious antics of the clowns, and the Indian club swinger gave a true country fair flavor to the scene.

Pearl Lippman, looking indeed like "a Picture on the Police Gazette", clogged cleverly undaunted by a huge skirt and a windy day, and the Kimball and Hager twins smoothly executed their waltz number (put on especially for the boys from Hanover who had to get home before dark). But the hits of the pageant were those

NEW COURSES

Due to the increasing demand for skilled laboratory technicians, a course in Biological Laboratory Technique will be offered for Zoology majors. The program which a student should follow who plans to become a laboratory technician would depend on his objective. Another addition along the line of medical work will be the Hospital Dietetics Curriculum for women. The program will be set up according to the specifications laid down by the American Dietetic Association.

A music education curriculum which will be designed to prepare teachers and supervisors of music in public schools will be offered for the first time next year. It is based on the new demands for teachers possessing sound musicianship and a broad general culture in addition to a specialized training in music education.

Under Architecture is added a course in Stagecraft (Arch. 49) which will be given in conjunction with Play Production (English 5) and which is designed to give selected students practical experience connected with staging plays. This course was unofficially in effect this year. English 39, a course in Radio Speaking, will be offered and outstanding students will be given the opportunity to participate in broadcasts. This course will only be open to students obtaining permission from the instructor.

Physical Education Teacher Preparation Curriculum for Women will be reorganized to eliminate the necessity of a Physical Education Major for women.

In addition to permanent changes and additions in the courses of studies, there are also a number of important experiments being tried. One of the most well-known is History 3, 4 which carries on work done in a special section of History 1, 2. This "extension" course is being given in only one section under Mr. Babcock and continuance will depend upon its success. Much time is spent in this course to make an intensive study of the social pattern of an entire age, or to observe the economic or political functioning of society in some well-defined period.

Another experiment will be under a new course called Social Statistics which is unique in that it will be given by representatives of several different departments. It is a course primarily for the social science student designed to acquaint him with the place of statistics in the social science field and to bring out the significance of statistics as an instrument of research.

agile tumblers, Beryl Coburn and "strong man" Stan Poplawski, and the dog which steered a herd of sheep with such ease and alacrity that we wondered along with the barker (played by Walt Webster in true country fair style) why boys wanted to learn more about farming when there were dogs like that around.

The dance of death performed by Dorothea Bancroft to the subdued melody of the Valse Triste, upon the death of "Ben Thompson" was perhaps the most beautiful and impressive scene of the pageant. The fifth episode began with the arrival of the first two women students, Lucy Swallow and Delia Brown, to enroll in the college. Strangely enough, their entrance was regarded with extreme displeasure by the men of the institution. Just at this time rain began to fall from the overcast sky as if to emphasize the annoyance of the male students. The crowded stands were speedily vacated as the students and mothers ran for shelter. It was unfortunate that the rain made it impossible to present the last four episodes of the pageant, but we feel that Bob Nolan, the reader, expressed the general sentiment of University students very well when he said, "Well, folks, come back next year and see the rest of it."

"OLD HOMESTEAD"

Adams Replaces Daly

Director Hennessey has announced that a last minute change in the cast has been necessitated by unforeseen circumstances. Jean Adams, veteran of many previous offerings of the society, has replaced Gail Daly as Mrs. Maguire, and the past two days has proven that she is an excellent trouper by taking over the part and showing how fine a performance she can give.

Tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday afternoons at 4:15 selected excerpts from the play will be presented over station WHEB.

Production Staff

The production staff includes Terttu Kangas and Christine Buck, Stage Managers; Property, Faith Williams, Phyllis Bacon, Albertine Phaneuf, Clare Langley, Dorothy MacCready, Elaine Hirschberg, Marjorie Farwell, Ellen Stoddard, Carolyn Gove, and Rheta Coulombe; Construction, Robert Stewart, Merrick Rawstron, Daniel Russell, Allen Ferry, Shelley Prescott, Richard Horan, and Joseph Garrison; Scenic Designers, John Gaw, Robert Maddock, and Richard Garnsey; Electrician, Evans Daggett; and Make-up, Elwyn Dearborn and Dorothy Briggs.

Included in the musical part of the production are: Louis Israel, organist; Paul Barnett, fiddles; Male Quartet, Mado Crafts, Russell Bissell, Gayler Davis, and Maxwell Campbell; Mixed Quartet, Clara Knight, Christine Buck, Robert Harding and David Eastman.
