

Yearlings Conquer Sophomore Class

Program Arranged For Concerts and Lectures Season

Elissa Landi, Stage And Screen Star, First Lecture in New Series

Elissa Landi, well-known stage and screen star, will be the first lecturer in the new series of lectures and concerts sponsored here during the coming year. Miss Landi, who won fame as an actress, now spends most of her time in lecturing and writing. Her latest book, "Women and Peter," which has a theatrical background, will be published early in November. The subject of Miss Landi's lecture on her appearance here at New Hampshire Hall on October 8th is "The Play's the Thing—or Is It?"

Program Announced

The lectures and concerts program will continue with the appearance on November 19th of Carlos Davila, former Chilean Ambassador to the United States, who will speak on "Today in the Americas." On November 24th, the 9 o'clock Opera Company in "The Marriage of Figaro" will be presented, followed by the Siberian Singers on December 10th.

The new year will start with the appearance of Kent Sagendorph, aviation journalist and tactical expert who will speak on "America's Aerial Re-

"One Sunday Afternoon" First Dramatic Offering

The 1941-42 season of Mask and Dagger will open with the presentation of James Hagen's "One Sunday Afternoon" on Nov. 12, 13, and 14. This is the play from which the highly successful movie "Strawberry Blond" was taken.

There will be a series of public try-outs given next week. Those interested should watch the next edition of the New Hampshire. There will be more than twenty openings available according to Director Hennessey.

America Wake Up Says President

Undergraduates Awarded Scholarship Awards

"America, Wake Up!", so asserted President Engelhardt at an address made yesterday morning in the Field House at the first convocation of the year. Expressing his philosophy of the current situation the president went on to say that we are in a war that cannot be lost if we want to continue as free men.

This speech which was so different from that given at this same time two years ago or even last year, brought to realization that we are no longer living an isolated Ivory Tower existence on this campus. As the president stated, "We live in a time when there seems to be no end to war. To be sure we are in the war. Those who believe we are at peace are in a fool's paradise."

America Must Fight

Taking a view similar to Harvard's President Conant and many of this country's great leaders, President Engelhardt declared that "America must fight to win this war." The winning of the war is the one major task that lies before us until Hitlerism is destroyed. There is no other alternative if freedom and goodwill among men are to be preserved for you and your children.

Preceding his speech the president awarded $5,535 worth of scholarships to a group of 35 undergraduates. The Cogswell Benevolent Fund of Manchester awarded twenty $200 and ten $100 awards to the following students for their outstanding scholarship, attainment, and conduct during their first three years at the university:

$200 scholarships — Barbara Ames, Robert Billings, Armand Boucher,

Draft Cuts Band Nearly in Third

For the last few weeks the sad news from the football front concerning the lack of men has been decried but the team is not the only organization to be affected by the draft. The University Band, which last year was 60-men strong, this fall will parade on the football field with approximately 20 fewer members.

This season's schedule includes not only playing at all the home games but accompanying the team to Portland October 4 where a USO benefit game will be played against Bates and to Nickerson Field for the B. U. game, November 15.

Professor B. W. Bergethon this afternoon sent out an urgent call for all men who are interested in playing in the band to contact him immediately.

Doris Flynn, one of last year's three drum majorettes, will this year lead the boys down the way in her now official capacity as Drum Major. There are still two drum majorettes positions open. Girls who would like to become majorettes should see Mr. Bergethon at once.

1943 Granite Heelers

Any Freshmen or Sophomores interested in obtaining a position on the staff of their yearbook, report to the first important heelers' meeting on Sunday night at 7 P.M. at 302 Ballard Hall. Your attendance at this first meeting is very important.

ROGER MARSHALL, Editor, 1943 Granite.

Air Course Starts Next Wednesday

The desire to fly has reached many enthusiastic young Americans, but all of these would-be pilots do not have as many difficulties to overcome as a few students who are completing the University of New Hampshire's fourth pilot training course under the C. A. A. For instance, by riding a total of approximately 2,000 miles on bicycle, Henry F. Fancy commuted regularly between Durham and the Portsmouth airport to fulfill his ambition. He became so used to this mode of travel that he even made a 115-mile trip to his home in Gorham.

Another ambitious young individual, Joe Raymond of Griffith's, held a regular job at the Portsmouth Navy Yard while he was completing the course. As he was working daylight hours his opportunity for flight instruction was limited. However, he has completed the ground school and soon expects to finish his quota of hours in the air.

On October 1, a new course will commence, and students are being accepted for that now. Those applying must be physically fit and between nineteen and twenty-six years of age. They must have completed two years of college or equivalent, or one year if still enrolled in college. Successful students will be certified as civil private pilots on completion of 72 hours of ground work and 32 hours of flying.

Malvina Hoffman Visits Campus; Interprets Work on Exhibit

By Philip Whitney

The appearance of Melvina Hoffman on campus Wednesday afternoon was of two-fold importance. It not only gave the opportunity of supplanting criticism of her bronzes and pastels, but also the pleasure of meeting the well known sculptress herself. Miss Hoffman is connected with the Field Museum in Chicago and has travelled extensively for that institution in the creation of the work which comprises the exhibit.

Miss Hoffman's first subject revealed her native love for America. She spoke of her creation of the Navajo medicine man. Her difficulties in getting the man to pose because of beliefs of the race were interesting. Even more interesting were the profound effects of the rites of the tribe on a man rejected by a modern hospital, dying of pneumonia and tuberculosis. The man was seen by Miss Hoffman after the rites and incantations and appeared to be returned to normal health.

First Short Wave Broadcast by UHN

Professors Smith and Scudder Talk to England

Another first has been scored by the University of New Hampshire, for on Thursday, September 25, the university conducted its first trans-Atlantic broadcast. This broadcast was transmitted by shortwave and originated in Station WRUL in Boston at 4:45 P.M.

Professor Harry Smith, head of the economics department, and chairman of the Committee to Defend America By Aiding the Allies, introduced the program. His talk opened with an exchange of greetings from Durham, N. H., to Durham, England. He proceeded to relate a bit of the American town's history and heritage. His concluding remarks consisted of words of encouragement and hope to Durham, England. He then introduced Professor Harold Scudder, head of the English department and Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Freddie Marsh to Play at W.A.A. Hop

A Stag Dance, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, will be held in New Hampshire Hall on Saturday night from eight until eleven thirty o'clock. Freddie Marsh and his orchestra will furnish the music. Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Harry Berg and Mr. and Mrs. Robert James.

It will be an informal dance, with a few novelties worked into the evening's program.

At no other time during the year do the students have a chance to go to a dance separately or in couples as they choose. This should be a good chance for the freshmen to get acquainted.

The dance is being planned by Eleanor Mauricette, president of the Women's Athletic Association, aided by Dorothy Page, Louise Griffin, Marcia Robinson, Flora Kimball, and Clara Knight, the other members of the W. A. A. executive board.

Portsmouth Radio Station Carries Running Account Of Pushball Victory

Showing a great deal of leadership and strength, the Class of 1945 defeated a valiant, but undermanned Sophomore class by the score of five events to three, at the annual University Day exercises held at Memorial field yesterday afternoon.

The sophomores, however, did not come away without their own share of glory, since they, after ten minutes of furious struggling, succeeded in pulling a stubborn team of freshmen rope pullers through an improvised water barrier in front of the University pool.

The freshmen women got off to a fine start in the volley ball event but lost the game to a strong finishing spurt on the part of the sophs.

Frosh Relays Show Class

In one of the most exciting contests of the day, the frosh relay team clearly outclassed the upperclass team by handing them a decisive thirty yard defeat. The first yearling runner opened up a lead of thirty yards and his mates continued to increase the lead, until on the last lap one of the freshman runners dropped the baton. This lapse permitted the sophomores to pull up to within thirty yards of their opponents but they were unable to really present a threat.

The girls suitcase race and basketball race was won by the team of freshman women, each time besting the sophs by at least two players. The men's centipede race found both teams having a hard time to get any rhythm into their actions consequently a slow race which saw the sophomores breaking the ribbon first by a few yards. The men's wheel-barrow race was featured by a few classic spills and tumbles but when the results were finally made known, the frosh had increased their lead by another point, making the score four to two in their favor with two events left to be run off.

The newly instituted push-ball event was won by the yearlings thus insuring the day's victory. This event was

The Same Policy

As another school year officially begins we wish to formally greet the entire University family and wish them every success for the coming months. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors should work together to make this one of the most profitable years for everyone and for the school as a whole.

At the same time it might be well for us to remind upperclassmen and to make freshmen aware of our policies as your paper. We strive to serve the campus and all organizations helpfully and impartially. In this we solicit your cooperation. When any problem or situation arises which you think is worthy of comment or criticism feel it your duty and privilege to make your sentiments public. Letters to the editor will be printed without discrimination and names will be withheld upon request. Please sign them, however, to show us that you are sincere.

No Secret Police

The student police force which has been recently organized deserves the respect of the student body. It was designed to help them by directing traffic and in other emergencies. It is not a Gestapo or secret police. All work will be done in the open. Here is an opportunity for complete cooperation in an entirely new field early in the year. Let's take advantage of it.

More Spirit

With the football season beginning we are again reminded more forcefully than ever of that highly desirable though often lacking zest and enthusiasm which is embodied in the term "school spirit." The first rally of the season will be held tonight, starting in front of the Commons at 7:15. Now is the time for upperclassmen as well as freshmen to get behind the team, coaches, and University with an "all out" display of genuine "school spirit."

Kappa Delta Pi Elects Six from Summer School

On August 8, six men and women were initiated into the University of New Hampshire chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society.

Those selected to receive this high honor were Elizabeth E. Frederick of Voorkeesoille, New York; Viola E. Frost of Hollis; Norman R. Hartfield of Farmington; Elliot W. Keach of Peterboro; Lester Levine of New Britain, Conn.; and Dorothy Minor of Durham. The students were chosen from those who proved outstanding at the University Summer school.

At the same meeting Robert R. Anderson of Milton Mills was elected president of the chapter. Other officers chosen were: Malcolm Litts of Bristol, Conn., vice president; Thelma E. Hubbard of Auburndale, Mass., secretary; and Harold I. Leavitt of Durham, treasurer.

Outing Club News

Though the usual huge bonfire had to be foregone because of fire precaution rules, the annual freshman outing to Mendum's Pond last night proved to be most successful. A large majority of the freshman class and Blue Circle members joined in the fun of gobbling hot dogs and singing the old refrains. Chaperones were Dean Ruth J. Woodruff and Professor and Mrs. Karl Woodward.

Upperclassmen will also have a chance to participate in an outdoor frolic when on Sunday, September 28, the annual University Barbecue will be held at Mendum's Pond under the auspices of the Outing Club. Transportation will leave Ballard Hall at 12:00 noon.

All Blue Circle members are urged to attend the meeting next Monday night. Because of President Bob Austin's being drafted a new president is to be elected.

LOST—A $20 bill sometime between 11 a.m. Tuesday and 5 p.m. Wednesday, somewhere between the Library and Morrill hall, or between T. Hall and Ballard. Reward if returned. Phil Stackpole, 18 Horne street, Dover, N. H., or Ballard Hall any noon time.

Convocations Offer Wide Variety of Programs

The first convocation of the year, held at the Field House yesterday, was received with unanimous approval, and an interesting series is anticipated for the remaining 1941-1942 season. The program of December 18 will be devoted to the singing of Christmas carols in New Hampshire Hall.

The next in line is scheduled for the week preceding or following the winter carnival, either on February 12 or on February 19. This is to be held at the Field House and is required of all undergraduates. On April 1, in N. H. Hall, the annual athletic awards will be given out.

The final required convocation takes place on April 22, which is Benjamin Thompson Day. Dates of the Student Council and Senior Class Convocations will be announced at a later date.

CONGREVE ELECTIONS

In a general election held at Congreve Main Wednesday night, Betty Corser, was chosen president of her dorm. Assisting her as vice-presidents are Miriam Eastman and Virginia Woodworth. Melba McKay was elected secretary-treasurer, and Marcia Robinson as the social chairman.

BROADCAST

Professor Scudder has travelled widely in England, and is familiar with our namesake in that country. His talk commenced with some recollections of the old Durham, and then proceeded to compare it to its namesake here. The main text of his speech was composed of words of reassurance and confidence. His final words were: "No, we are not ignorant of what war means, here; and our best wishes go out to all of you in the entire country, as well as in the town of Durham, itself; to all of you from Gateshead to Darlington and to the men who look out constantly over the sea from South Shield, and all along your coast. And we hope, with all sincerity, that the Venerable Bede, whose written words begin our literature as well as yours, may sleep at peace in his stone tomb in your Galilee Chapel, undisturbed, throughout eternity!"

Trackmen Prepare for Initial Meet

Facing an acute need of additional candidates, Coach Paul Sweet is now getting his 1941 varsity cross-country squad into shape for their opening meet with the University of Maine on October 11 at Orono.

Only four lettermen, Capt. Kimball, French, Lowry, and Sleepy, have returned to the squad. Several promising harriers of last year's freshmen team may partially help the situation, but the squad is one of the smallest in years.

The workouts to date have been very light but will soon lengthen out into intensive preparations for the important test with the Bears whom the Wildcats defeated last year in Durham.

As usual, a very large number turned out for freshman cross-country but this aggregation has already dropped to thirty-five. The Kittens initial start will be here in Durham with Concord High School on October 10. Sweet hopes for a greatly improved year after last season's rather poor showing and indications point toward the fulfillment of this desire.

Betty Corser is sports leader for the tournament. Gertrude Meinot will manage the seniors and Rachel Morrison has charge of the juniors. The sophomores will be managed by Adrienne Astle. Beverly Hewey will make the arrangements for the freshmen.

Sauermen Outweighed, To Depend on Speed

Kitten Grid Squad Reports to Rood

Coach Hal Rood's initial call for freshman football players was answered by over 60 candidates this week. Equipment was issued to all those reporting and practice got under way immediately.

Calisthenics dominated the first drill while passing and kicking fundamentals received some attention.

The Kittens face a four game schedule this fall with the Junior Varsity slated to open festivities the 11th of October. Tilton, Exeter, and Bridgton are the remaining foes scheduled to do battle with the Rood-coached eleven.

Commenting on his charges, Coach Rood remarked, "I've spotted a few boys who seem to know the game but its too early to issue a statement concerning the team as a whole."

Sauer Worried as Squad Puts on Finishing Touches for Opener

King football will be officially crowned in Durham tomorrow afternoon when the Wildcats meet Rusty Yarnell's Lowell Textile squad at 2 o'clock. George Sauer has been working his boys in a feverish pace in order to whip the 'Cats into proper shape to meet the capable Spindle City men.

Coach Sauer is unusually worried over the game. "Lowell is coming up here with a team that is packed with power from end to end and every one of the backs are potential scorers, so you see we have something to worry about," stated the genial mentor.

Practice Fundamentals

This week's practice has been devoted on fundamentals. Due to the light backs that will patrol for the locals, the board of strategy has emphasized passing. Sauer has two sure-fire chuckers in Midge Hall and Don Begin with Stacey Clark, Son Lamond and Ed Mackel as capable receivers.

Sauer plans to start Ed Mackel and Son Lamond at the end slots with Art Galli, Ralph Pino, Bill Feeney held in reserve. At tackle Sauer is not so sure of himself. Frank Robbins and Ed Bove are leading the parade, but Al Sakaion, Mickey Meserve, Ralph Greenaway, Charlie Kachavos, and Roy Goodfellow are pressing hard for a crack at the regular assignment. Whitey Akerman and Ed Lyszscas are showing up well at guard and have been chosen to answer the whistle tomorrow afternoon. Brag Hanson, Jim Simon, and Ralsey Stevens are available for immediate action. Bob Neal has the edge over Tony Peyou at the center slot.

Veteran Backfield

Lowell will probably lineup with Joe Amerio, Kalman Kuplan at ends with John McKniff and Jim Wall in reserve. The tackle position will probably be held down by co-Captain Frank Whiting and Tom Broderick. Co-Captain George Cordeau and Tom O'Donnell are the guards with John Queeney at center. John Johnson will call signals, flanked by Ed Rowan and Steve Woitkoski with Marty Murray at fullback.

The last appearance that the Spindle City boys put on here was in 1938 when they tipped the Sauermen over to the tune of 20-0.

Girls' Interclass Hockey Begins Next Monday

The women's interclass hockey tournament will soon be underway with Claire Parker as sports leader. Managers for the various classes are: Carolyn Phillips, freshman; Virginia Pearsons, sophomore; Virginia Gardner, junior; and Dorothy Weden, senior. Practices start Monday, September 29, at Memorial Field, at four o'clock, when the freshmen and seniors will come out.

On Tuesday, September 30, the sophomores will have their first practice. Wednesday will give the freshmen and seniors another chance to brush up on their playing. Practice will be omitted on Thursday for women's convocation, but the sophomores and juniors will meet Friday. The schedule for the next week will be: Monday, Freshmen and seniors; Thursday, sophomores and juniors; Friday will be reserved for any practice cancelled because of rain.

The final and most hotly contested event of the day was the rope pull, finally captured by a team of sophomores, determined to capture the main event of the day even though they had been defeated in the majority of the other contests.

Soph Tracksters Bring Fame to New Hampshire Cinder Team

Having ridden the back seat of the sports bandwagon long enough here at UNH, track this year has suddenly taken over control of the wheel, thanks no little to a pair of soph tracksters, Ed Styrna and Boo Morcum.

These two lads literally stamped UNH on the track map as a result of their exploits on the cinders this past summer.

At the annual N.E.A.A.U. meet held in Cambridge, home of M.I.T., Morcum startled one and all by breaking the pole vault record with a leap of 13 ft. 7½ inches. He easily captured winning honors in the high jump event and was just nosed out of taking top honors in the broad jump event by a few inches.

In the same meet, Ed Styrna threw the 16-pound hammer 173 feet 6½ inches to walk off with first place. This feat was more remarkable when one considers that until two weeks previous to the meet he had never thrown a 16-pound hammer. Not contented with the hammer victory, he then proceeded to out-toss opponents in the javelin throw, thus bringing New Hampshire's event winning total to four.

In July these boys travelled to Philadelphia where Coach Paul Sweet entered them in the N.A.A.U. meet. Proving that his victory over the New Englanders was no mistake, Morcum out jumped the country's best and won first place in the pole vault. He placed third in the high jump also. Meanwhile, Styrna was placing second in the hammer toss and third in the javelin. The points scored by these boys, combined with those registered by Al Haas, who placed third in the 200 meters, brought the Blue and White's total high enough to earn them third place in the meet.

Styrna, who hails from Nashua, is now in preparation for another N.A.A.U. meet to be held in New Jersey the first week in October. He is entered in the javelin, discus, broad jump, 200 meters, and 1500 meters events.

A great deal of credit belongs to Coach Sweet who personally trained and taught these boys a short cut to their successful accomplishments.

Because of the national emergency, the opening of the new photography laboratory will be delayed another three or four weeks. The equipment for the new lab has been on order for many months but deliveries have been held up because of the present emergency. Most of the metals user are on the priority lists for national defense. However, Professor Nasvik expressed the hope that it will be ready for use soon.

The new quarters, which will occupy the former pottery lab in the Shops, will consist of seven student dark rooms, a studio, and a large dark room for Professor Nasvik and his staff. The photography course being offered for the first time this year will be much facilitated by this new arrangement.

George Tebbetts, Detroit Tigers Catcher, to Enroll

George Tebbetts of the Detroit Tigers has filed his intentions for entering New Hampshire at the close of the current baseball season. Tebbetts graduated from Providence College where he starred in baseball. He later joined Beaumont Club in the Texas League, from where he stepped up to the majors after the near fatal injury to Mickey Cochran in May, 1936. "Birdie" intends to study for an advanced degree and better himself as did Joe Gordon, Moe Berg, and others.

Tebbetts is one of the hardest workers in the majors and he is now hitting at about a .286 clip.

Sughrue and Doyle Write First Kittens' Bible

The First Annual Kitten's Bible, given by the Student Council and Blue Key, was presented to the members of the Class of 1945 this week.

This pamphlet is a brief guide for the new students written, not by the faculty, but by students Ray Doyle and Dick Sughrue, presidents of the two organizations. The booklet contains advice and information relating to problems confronting freshmen as seen through the eyes of the upperclassmen. It deals with conduct in the Commons, cheating, dormitory life, and responsibilities to self, class, and university.
