Gates to Speak on Jungle Expedition Tomorrow Evening

Famous English Biologist And Author Will Lecture On Scientific Journeys

Dr. R. Ruggles Gates, noted English biologist, will lecture tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in New Hampshire Hall under the auspices of the Biological Institute on the subject "A Naturalist on the Amazon". Dr. Gates, who has only recently come to this country from England, is now doing research work at the laboratories at Wood's Hole, Massachusetts.

In 1925 Dr. Gates went on a scientific expedition to the Amazon. It was on his experiences in this region that he based his book, "A Naturalist on the Amazon", which was published the next year and upon which he will base his lecture.

Holder of Many Degrees

Dr. Gates, who is a professor of Botany at the University of London, and head of that department at Kings College in London, holds degrees from McGill and Mount Allison College in Canada, the University of Chicago, and the University of London. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society and chairman of the Bureau of Human Heredity in London.

In 1926 Dr. Gates made an expedition to the Russian plant breeding stations including Lapland and Tiflis. Other expeditions he has made include one to the MacKenzie River region in 1928, one to South Africa and one to India in 1927.

Author of Many Books

Dr. Gates, one of the leading biologists of the world, is also a specialist in the fields of botany and heredity. Aside from his several books, among the best known of which are "Heredity in Man" and "Biological Botany", he has published over 160 contributions to scientific journals on botany, cytology, genetics, mutation, evolution, racial crossing, blood groups, human heredity and other related subjects.

Gamma Kappa Initiates Nine Geology Majors

Gamma Kappa, honorary Geological Society, thoroughly initiated into its ranks nine new members last Thursday evening at Conant Hall. Those honored were graduate assistants Lauren Clark, Melvin Heinke and brother geologists Robert Crosbie, Edwin Hill, Greenleaf Picard, Keith Burns, Daniel Hurley, Robert MacKeagney, and Norman Canfield.

Excellent refreshments were served followed by a round table discussion on sites for future Gamma Kappa field trips.

A field trip to Warner was taken Sunday and at this time a number of interesting geological phenomena were studied.

Yacht Club Races At Tech Regatta

The Yacht Club participated with twenty-one other Eastern colleges in the Schell Trophy Regatta held at M. I. T. Sunday. New Hampshire qualified in the morning with the second highest score of 39, Ruth Dickson having picked up two firsts and a sixth, and Andy Turner two firsts and a fifth. Twelve other colleges qualified. Going into the last race in the afternoon New Hampshire was fifth but Andy Turner was disqualified losing twelve points. The finals were unknown as the middies left for home.

Those wishing to attend the jamboree which will be held November 2, please register on Thursday at the Yacht Club meeting. The jamboree will be held at the landing where they will run the finals for the Turner Cup.

Plans for Mil Art Ball Are Underway

Tony Touart, president of Scabbard and Blade, military honor society, has recently announced the committee heads for the annual Mil Art Ball. This affair, the outstanding event of the winter social season, will be held in New Hampshire Hall, December 6.

Heading the publicity committee is Don Crafts; decorations and refreshments, Nick Katsiaficas; programs, Ralph Parker; chaperones, Hal Monica; tickets, Fred Bowles; and orchestra, John Clark. The general chairman will be Tony Touart. Each committee head will choose four people to work with him.

The general theme of "war" will be carried out in the decorations and will follow an international scheme.

Freshman Convo

Dr. Sackett has announced that there will be a Freshman Convocation in New Hampshire Hall at 1:15 P. M. on Thursday, October 30, 1941. Academic requirements of the university will be the topic for discussion. All freshmen are required to attend.

Alumni Buying Bonds to Aid in National Defense

University alumni board of directors announced recently that the university graduates are definitely taking an active part in America's defense by investing $4,070 in United States defense bonds. This sum was contributed by the grads in their fund campaign.

A trust is set up each year by the alumni and it is from this trust that the defense bonds were purchased. The amount is ten percent of the total collected in the fund drive since it was first started in 1935.

WAA Comes to Stranded Students Rescue with Rec

The Women's Athletic Association came to the rescue of the students who remained on campus this week-end instead of going home with their dads by sponsoring a spontaneous "Rec" at New Hampshire Hall Saturday evening. Music for dancing was furnished by the usual "vic".

Ping Pong games were played amidst the Physical Education exhibits in the games room. Four badminton games and two basket shooting contests went on while the remaining part of the main hall was occupied by dancers.

Modern Design is Theme at Exhibit

By Philip Whitney

An exhibit of Interior Decoration in DeMeritt Hall is of interest to many. The exhibit represents the work of nine women and four men from institutes, art schools, colleges, high schools, and one university. Presentations were submitted from many states—from New York to California, and south to Alabama. The exhibit is travelling under the sponsorship of the American Institute of Design in Chicago and the collection is that of the Rorimer Medal Competition.

Two or three of the presentations are worthy of special comment. First is the work of Marguerite Timmel which is notable for its water color technique as well as the beautiful handling of a fascinating modern design. Another is the Pre-Columbian beach house which must be regarded by its intent only. Its style may not be pleasing to many but in regard to its Pre-Columbian inspiration it has distinctive character. The card titled Penthouse serenade is interesting for its unusual use of the plan.

Dad's Day Program Proves Big Success

Engelhardt Speaks to Group on World Crisis

Last Saturday evening saw the passing of another Dad's Day. The excellent weather, supplemented by a full docket of activities and events, made the day a memorable one.

Classes were dismissed at nine o'clock to allow the students to show their dads around the campus. Most of the buildings arranged special exhibits and from nine to eleven the dads were kept pretty busy seeing the many changes that had come about since their last visits.

At the conclusion of their tour a drill of the ROTC Unit was held. Ralph Parker's father presented a ribbon to Company A which was adjudged the best. It was planned originally to have Tony Touart's dad present the ribbon but his absence prevented this.

Engelhardt Speaks

Before the end of the drill President Engelhardt delivered an address dealing with current affairs and very much in keeping with his environment. Surrounded by men in uniform he said that we were in a crisis and that as long as we must fight, we must fight a winning war. No one can be free until Hitlerism and what it stands for is destroyed. He expressed the hope that Dad's Day next year would find world conditions better.

Dinner was served to freshmen dads at the Field House and to the fathers of upperclassmen at the Commons. Quite a few of the visitors were entertained at the various fraternities and sororities about the campus. After dinner the fathers witnessed an exciting game between Vermont and the Wildcats. The dads of the players sat in a row along the sidelines wearing sheepskin coats bearing their sons' numerals. During the half they were introduced to the stands by Tony Touart.

Election Rules

Ray Doyle, President of Student Council, has announced a few changes in reference to the procedure of handling student elections. The Council hopes that these changes will result in a better response on the part of the student body in taking part in class elections.

These changes are a part of the Council's program of bettering the standards of student programs and are as follows:

1. All elections must be under the direct supervision of the Student Council or the Women's Student Government.

2. Complete information in reference to any election must be presented to the student body in ample time for their consideration. This shall include all names of the candidates, a description of the offices to be filled, the time and place of all elections, and an explanation of the ballot form to be used.

3. The same staff will be on duty during the election day. In no case will any person whose name appears on the ballot be allowed to loiter about the polls or be connected with the management of the polls.

4. The Council reserves the right to ask any voter to identify himself at the polls. The regular check list will be used.

5. Any candidate or his representative may report to the polls at 3:00 p.m. in order that he may be present at the counting of the ballots. All ballots are the property of the Student Council unless they are asked for by some organization that is connected with the results of the polls, for example, the GRANITE POLL.

6. In the event that a member of the Council is running for an office, the polls will be handled by those members whose names do not appear on the ballot, and by a group of senior men or women who are not connected in any way with the election.

Mr. Lawrence Volunteers For Civilian War Work

Leland W. Lawrence, a member of the class of '24, has volunteered for work in the Civilian Technical corps, and recently left for England.

The Civilian Technical corps consists of skilled technicians from the United States who work with equipment necessary to the air force, army, and navy of Great Britain, aiding in its operation and repair. Members of the corps are supplied with food, lodging, clothing, medical care and hospitalization, in addition to a regular salary.

Unless it becomes necessary for him to return to the United States to aid in America's defense, Mr. Lawrence will stay in England for three years or for the duration of the war, whichever proves to be the shorter.

Sorority Leaders Meet at Phi Mu

Last Thursday evening the presidents of the seven sororities on campus were the guests of Phi Mu at a formal but friendly dinner given in honor of Mrs. Fred Engelhardt and Miss Ruth J. Woodruff. The purpose of this gathering was to promote a greater extent of friendliness among the various sororities and to give the presidents an opportunity to meet the honored guests.

The group was seated at a table in keeping with the affair, and was served by Doris and Phil Churchill. Mrs. Emma H. Armstrong and Florence

At a meeting held last week the following students were initiated into Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociology fraternity: Natalie Sutherland, Jeanne Pike, Rosalind Cogger, Theo Lylis, Helen Ober, Priscilla Alden, Ursula Harte, Ray Doyle, Robert Rowe, Gordon Barnett, and Paul Wheeler. Dr. Mason Record was made an honorary member. The initiation ceremony was conducted by Dr. Bachelder assisted by the officers, Russell Bissell, Ramona Williams, Roger Judkins, and Ruth Taber.

Previous to the initiation, a banquet was held in the president's dining room at the Commons. Following the ceremony Dr. Bachelder showed movies taken for a survey by the National Child Labor Committee. The next meeting will be held November 6.

Seniors Attention Called to Exam

The Bureau of Appointments would like to call to the attention of eligible seniors the notice regarding the U.S. Civil Service Examination to be given for Junior Professional Assistant at $2000 a year, in the optional subjects of Junior Administrative Technician, Junior Business Analyst, and Junior Economist. It is expected that the annual Junior Professional Assistant examination will be announced in January, 1942, but it is not expected, however, that the above-mentioned optional subjects will be included in it; therefore, all interested persons including seniors and graduate students who are otherwise qualified and who will complete the prescribed course work prior to July 1, 1942, should make application for this examination. Application must be made with the U. S. Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., not later than November 3, 1941.

The Bureau of Appointments will give seniors further information regarding eligibility for the examination.

Time to Vote

Although it shouldn't be necessary to do so, every year it becomes the duty of the Student Council and THE NEW HAMPSHIRE to remind and urge students to vote in class elections. And after every election its the same old story; only a small percentage of each class has had enough time, interest, or ambition to cast a ballot.

There are frequent complaints, however, from these same disinterested people about the ability of some of our campus leaders.

This year the Student Council, which is in charge of all student elections and polls, has done all in its power to bring the coming election to the attention of potential voters and also to make the actual voting as convenient and painless as possible. Posters have been printed, election rules have been revised, a new location for the booth has been selected, and lots of publicity has been released about the election.

The polls which will be open for freshmen and sophomores on Thursday and juniors and seniors on Friday will open earlier than usual, 7.30 A. M., and will remain open until the middle of the afternoon. The important thing is not merely to vote, however. More necessary than this is a wise choice by voters of candidates for every office. This year there is an unusually large number of candidates on the ballot, but their names appear in this issue of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE and every student will have sufficient time to consider them all carefully.

It will show a marked improvement in the spirit of the university as a whole and each class individually if every student really has sufficient interest to vote on either Thursday or Friday.

A Strenuous Objection

Have we two Alma Mater songs at the University of New Hampshire? After attending the two home football games and the Bates game in Portland we have come to the conclusion that there are those who want us to have dual Alma Mater tunes or are trying to replace our present one with THE NEW HAMPSHIRE HYMN.

Before each game the band comes to a position in front of our stands, the drum majorette stands at attention, the band instructor directs from his station in the stadium, the spectators rise, uncover their heads and stand reverently during the playing of the Hymn. This may be a fitting gesture, but to us such action which is again repeated at the half during the playing of NEW HAMPSHIRE ALMA MATER make the Alma Mater lose all of its significance.

Since the early 1900's, when it was written by a student at the New Hampshire State College, NEW HAMPSHIRE ALMA MATER has become one of the most sacred of our traditions. Not only with the undergraduates, but with thousands of alumni all over the nation this song is one of the most treasured memories of college days. New Hampshire needs traditions and this is one of our oldest and most spontaneous ones. Are we going to let some modernist replace it without registering any sort of a protest?

To the Editor

To the Editor:

Your rather patronizing attitude towards the petitions advocating all-out aid to the allies and toward the students whose willingness to sacrifice time and energy to an "interest in current affairs," comprised to you "an encouraging sign," was a most discouraging sign to one who devoted some of that "leisure time" as well as a considerable amount of non-leisure time to that "interest."

It is all very well to sit back in the editorial chair and give an occasional fatherly if somewhat condescending pat on the back to deserving student movements, but it seems to me, in view of the present situation, that this is one student movement that deserves considerably more in the way of support than a benevolent neutrality on your part.

Yours truly,
David Hopkins.

Letter

(Ed. note: The following letter was received by the New Hampshire from Bob Allard, class of '42, who is now a Flying Cadet.)

Parks Air College
East St. Louis, Ill.

To the Editors:

When I went into the recruiting station at Columbus Avenue in Boston that Monday morning of September 29th, I had a very hazy idea of my future. I knew that I was terminating my civilian career to become a cadet in the Army Air Corps. I had vague visions of traveling out to Parks Air College—getting a good night's sleep and then starting the next day flying all over the sky. I had pictures of an army trainer cruising in and out of the clouds—doing all manner of maneuvers with myself in the cockpit for the next couple of months.

We waited for hours in the recruiting station doing nothing but sitting. (One of the first things you learn in the Army is that no group movement is made in a hurry.) Finally they read the Articles of War to us. The picture of flying abruptly changed and I could see myself spending the next few months either sitting in the guard-house or being shot for one offense or another. It was too late now though for we were sworn in and no longer free men.

The train ride of over 1200 miles was long, hot, and dirty. We were worn out and sweaty when we arrived at the station. Five cabs carried the 23 of us to Parks. We were all glad now that hot showers and beds awaited us.

The cabs stopped near a howling mob which resembled a group of madmen. "Hello dodoes." "Straighten up mister." "Eyes on a point you." "What are you smiling about mister—wipe that off, this is war, mister." "Here you, step out of ranks. What's so funny? All right get back in—eyes on a point, get those shoulders back—hep—two, three, four, hep—"

At 5:30 the next morning I felt a hand on my shoulder. I opened one eye and saw that it was still dark out so I settled back. "Get up—you're in the Army now."

And we were with a vengeance. For five days we did not go near an airplane. True we saw plenty of them around us and flying overhead, but we spent all our time in marching around, drawing equipment, and taking anything the upperclassmen felt like giving us.

Finally the next week Monday afternoon came and we took to the air. Cruising along at 1000 feet and unaccustomed to the roar of the motor and the Gosport communication system, I had great difficulty hearing the instructor. Whoosh—up we went with the ground slipping away behind. I viewed the ground at impossible angles and in positions which I thought no self respecting ground would ever take. Finally as my stomach was leaping around like a caged canary we glided in and landed. It was certainly good to get back to terra firma.

I was surprised when I went up the next day that I was handling the plane myself. The following day I felt even more at home and began to really enjoy myself.

It's a truly wonderful feeling to fly—the drive and throb of the motors as the wind whips your sleeve on the side of the cockpit and the fields and fields of corn stretch out before you, or the muddy Mississippi rolls by under your wing tip.

Keep 'Em Flying
Bob Allard

ON THE SPOT

by the Big Six

It's easy to see that Dad's Day is going to continue to function if they are as successful as the last. Many thanks to the band for its brilliant showing. There was a great deal of sentiment expressed, felt, and shown when they spelled out "Pop". We don't think the game would have been as interesting to watch if it wasn't for the great exhibition of downfield blocking which made possible those long runs. Bove got the ball after the game and it was a memory never to be forgotten by Ed, especially after last year's riding by the Vermont team at Burlington.

Along with the dads many alumni of recent vintage were present. Some of those whom we spotted included: Unwar Samaha, Bob Preston, Rip Jones, Al (Mayor) Lucier, Tom Craven, Chick Hale, Peg Boyd, Hank soper, Mary MacCarthy, Steve Lampon, Jim Derby, Jean Sughrue, Jean Buchan, Mary Hayner and Art Buckley.

While our game was going on Barbie Eastman, Ann Brackett, Gino Smith, and Jan Eckstrom watched the Harvard-Navy game. Patty Gibson took in the Yale-Dartmouth game at New Haven. Gee—it must be great to be popular!

We wonder who called 329 last Friday night and sang Happy Birthday twice? Many happy returns to Barbie Burns and it's tough it wasn't Geegee Morse's birthday.

... Haven't heard much from Congreve North this year, have you? ... What Sylvia with dark brown hair is making a wreck of a tall dark Egyptian ... Ask Paul.

Last Wednesday's movies showed the corking runs of Tuffy's at Springfield. We saw the duplications Saturday. . . They say that Bob Burroughs is putting on a lot of mileage between Durham and Dover. Why? . . . We hope Laddie's scratches have healed. . . How's your eye, Salty? . . . Watch for the dark horse. . . Al Merrill has been spending week-ends with York Beach. He's having a swell time. . . Pino is getting ahead this fall. . . Look out Midge. . . "Kiss me again" Mackel tried to get into a Lawless league. . . Pappy Judd knows no true north since he always travels West. . . Yet O'Connell and Costello were surprised by a couple of mothers from Scranton, Pa. . . . Sorry that the dance last Saturday night was cancelled, but many thanks to the Women's Phys. Ed. Dept. for running a rec until 10:45. Orchids to Miss Eleanor Wade for spoiling her Saturday night to act as chaperone. . . Who were the three girls who waited for three SAEs for three hours and got them home at 3 in the morning. . . . What is the mystery at Alpha Xi? Ask Jack Hasset at Sigma Beta about it. . . .

Fred Draper has only one regret. . . He's sorry that he was such a good friend of Bob's last year. What about the Mil Art Ball? I hope the band they get is really "on the ball" . . . . We'd like to apologize for the mistake The New Hampshire made about Nugent's birthday party. Don't believe it girls, it wasn't his 18th. . . Pickles Sahara, Mado Crafts and Murray Smith took out their dusty tails, brushed them off and used them for a dinner date at Stoneleigh last Saturday night. They said the food was swell anyway. . . . Someone thinks that Bev Parker does too much studying. Well, Joe, that's what we are here for anyway. . . . Joe Strock's been doing a lot of Library work lately. . . .

The Kappa Sigs are ready to get that keg, and I don't mean a keg of nails for the Theta Kaps. The Theta Kaps won the Little World Series, and there was a great deal of sportsmanship shown at the game. There ought to be more of it on campus. . . . Hetzel's dance was a great success, and Theta Chi's even greater. Seven fraternities, and all sororities were represented, eighty couples dancing at one time. It was a swell evening. . . . So the Senior Mil Arts are not pressed to register for the Bureau of Appointments. Why? . . . . We hear Ace Parker now only drops in to see the boys once in a while. . . The College Inn Band is great. Watch them again this Saturday. They were really "Cooking with gas" last week. . . . We still wonder who pushed the coach's button when he said, "take two and hit the showers"? . . . .

We saw "an eyes right" on the drill field the other Thursday. Well, the eyes were in the right direction. . . . Lamond is trying to buy shoes for his new "baby". He also says "Grace" every night. . . . Not only did the Yankees bolt back and knock the Tigers out of first place, but our own Jolting Gio took one out of the first division. . . . Bob Stewart called up Pettee and asked for the girl who ate three hot dogs at the freshman outing. Seven girls answered but Bob got no date. . . . Jack Clark and Dick Smith, ATO, want to borrow Louie's handcuffs for the BU week-end. Again, why?

In closing we wonder what university organization charged another one for seven gallons of black coffee at a price of $12.25, or $1.75 a gallon, or $1.093 a cup, no cream, no sugar, just plain black, black coffee???? When the stuff can be made for .18 a gallon. We didn't think the prices had gone up that high.

Relay Races

Fraternity racers had their big day last Saturday afternoon at Lewis Field when a quadrangular relay race was held in conjunction with Dad's Day. In the competition were included the aspirants of Lambda Chi, Theta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Gamma Rho. The Dads saw a good spectacle when they saw Boo Morcom of Theta Chi outrace Bill King of Lambda Chi in the last lap to come from behind and win for his team. The winning combination was composed of Boo Morcom, Bob Wheeler, Stebbins, and Bob Joslyn. Lambda Chi was made up of Bason, Hydberg, Wright, and King. Bill King was in the lead when the last lap but fleet-footed Morcom, running in his bare feet, overtook him in the last twenty yards to be the victor.

Rifle Team Points To Winning Year

Sharpshooters of the university will soon begin a new season under the guidance of Lieutenant Lehman C. Hutchins.

There probably will be only five senior men back from last year's team, Webster Coombs, the Captain, Charlie Martin, Laurence Morse and Bill Oakman.

Last year the team fired under difficulties for the range was in the process of being remodelled and it was rather difficult to shoot at times.

The team engaged in eighteen meets last year and won all but five. Eight of them were held with the other teams on the range. Ten were postal meets which each team sends its five best group targets to the other team on a certain appointed day.

Three positions are usually used in the meets; they are prone, kneeling and standing.

Many men are going to come up from the sophomore and junior ranks and there is a good possibility of their achieving as good if not a better record than last year's team.

The Great Bay Packers, under the tutelage of Shorty Bulger, will open its season against the Dover High Jayvees on Friday afternoon. The main problem on Shorty's hands is the fact that to date he has had a whale of a time getting eleven men.

Exeter Gridsters Beat Frosh, 21-12

Enemy Captain Shines As Exeter Scores Early

While all was in merriment on the varsity front, the University of New Hampshire freshmen grid ball-toters spent a comparatively unenjoyable Dad's Day afternoon, when they succumbed to a power-laden Exeter Academy eleven 21-12 Saturday, in nearby Exeter.

The hostiles grabbed a 19-0 lead in the first half, mainly through the efforts and accomplishments of its captain, Pat Higgins. The Exeter leader scored twice, once on a thrilling 85-yard end run and again on a series of line plays which netted a total of 30 yards.

Their third touchdown came on another end run. This time by Ed Conway, who skirted his right end for five yards. Conway drop-kicked his only successful extra point in three tries after his score.

Kittens Score

Coach Hal Rood's boys began to move at the outset of the second half when the Exeter subs manned the field. Driving through the line, the Kittens brought the pigskin to the 10-yard line, from which point Grant tossed a pass to Raney in the end zone. Later in the period, when the forty-fivers had the ball within the shadow of their own goal-post, Exeter's right end, Schuseter, dove through the line and smeared Henderson in the end zone for a safety, bringing Exeter's total points to 21.

The Rood-coached eleven tallied their last six-pointer in the final canto. A long pass from Grant to "Ace" Parker on the enemy 40-yard stripe was successful, and with some speedy running and fine blocking, the UNH end scampered the remaining distance for a touchdown.

This game marked the freshmen's second loss in a row. In both contests they were greatly outclassed but not outfought. They entertain a fast Bridgton Academy aggregation at Lewis Field Friday afternoon and have high hopes of crashing through the victory column in this encounter.

The summary:
New Hampshire—Kenyon, le; Benson, it; Moorehouse, Johnson, lg; McDermott, Clark, c; Lane, rg; Norman, Strumski, rt; Bobotas, re; Rainey, Grant, qb; Henderson, rhb; Kemp, Smith, lhb; Ricciardone, fb.

Powerful Blocking Paves Way for 3rd Win; Clark, Goodfellow Shine in Rout

Putting on one the finest exhibitions of blocking seen here in many a year, George Sauer's gridsters downed a game but decidedly inferior Vermont team Saturday afternoon at the stadium before a capacity Dad's Day crowd. The final score was 40-18.

CAPTAIN RICHARD GORDON
New Hampshire

With some daring quarterbacking on the part of Captain Rice the boys from Burlington turned in the first touchdown. After Fitanides, who started in place of the injured Harold Hall, punted out of bounds on the six yard stripe, John Spasyk, standing right on the goal line, chucked a pass to right end Patterson who with some beautiful blocking raced seventy yards to the initial score of the afternoon. Striking right back, Captain Dick Gordon climaxed a drive of 67 yards with a two yard buck to the first of six Wildcat touchdowns. Roy Goodfellow converted and the Sauer men were off. Son Lamond took McGill's kickoff on the 24 and returned it to the 34. On the first play, Fitanides split the Catamount tackle for 24 yards to the Vermont 42 and after an attempted aerial he drove up to the 17 yard stripe before being lugged down by the safetyman. After another thrust of ten yards Don Begin pitched one to Stack Clark who reached the two yard line. Gordon then proceeded to pay off with the tally. From that point on there was really no doubt as to the ultimate outcome.

Goodfellow Stars

It was almost an impossibility to pick an individual star. The entire team played its best game to date. Roy Goodfellow was the most pleasant surprise of the matinee. He succeeded in four out of six conversions and the ones he did fail in were against the wind. Stacey Clark and Captain Dick Gordon did a grand job. Stacey played one of the best games of his brilliant career in running and pass receiving. Gordon showed that he could run as well as he blocked. Charlie Judd turned in a great day with some beautiful running and blocking. Bob Neal stood out in the line along with Wally Ackerman and Brag Hanson.

Captain Rice and John Spasyk stood out for the Catamounts. Around these men was built the attack that netted the three Vermont touchdowns.

The summary:
New Hampshire—Mackel, le; Bove, Robbins, lt; Ackerman, Stevens, Simon, lg; Neal, Meserve, c; Hanson, Lyaszcas, MacDonald, rg; Goodfellow, Marshall, Greenaway, rt; Lamond, Feeny, re; Begin, Menghin, qb; Fitanides, Hall, lhb; Clark, Flis, Call, rhb; Gordon, Judd, fb.

Son of the Mountains

Puckerbrush Center
Booger Ridge
North Country
October 27, 1941

Citizens of Du-rum:

WE HAVE FOUND YOUR MAN. Through the circulation of the Booger Ridge Bugle, we have been informed about the coming election in Durham. We understand there is need for a good mayor. But who? There is no question in the North Country. After large searches and long hunts through bogs, hollows, and hills, we have found him. There he was, a settin' on a stump near the cranberry bog, where the hoot owls hoot, and the bull frogs bull. After much persuasion, town meetings, and husking bees, we have convinced him that he is greatly needed to run the affairs of a place of world renown, Durham. He has locked up the hens, milked the cow, and swilled the sow in preparation for the long trek. He will arrive in a four-wheeled vehicle, equipped with free wheeling, bees knees, licrish lights and a self com-mencer.

We don't want a mayor on paper. We want him in person, and we guarantee the real McCoy.

Our space is filled, our purpose is achieved. Paper talk never made a mayor. Loosen up, lay 'em low with Larrupin' Lucy, the Puckerbrush Kid.

Dynamic Doust

From a hasty perusal of the demented droolings of Dippy DesRoches, we have gathered that he is hoping to foist a son of the ocean shore—pardon us—a "Son of the Mountains" on the unsuspecting populace of the fair hamlet of DUR - Ham. We faintly recall that, last year, the decrebrated doctor DesRoches was connected with the highly successful, and original, campaign of our last Mayor, Mr. Lucier. Can it be that he merely lacks a sufficient supply of cortical cells to provide him with an original idea?

We are, however, forced to agree that the culture of DUR - Ham has a softened effect—on the mental machinery of our microbe-minded opposition. This point has been proven by the bird-brained brilliance that has thus far characterized the psychological processes of the misled minions of malicious Murchie, paralysis Plowright, and that fluttering fugitive from a cartoonist's cranium, Stupor-man.

As for the activities of our noble candidate, H. Souse Dowst, he has been busy foiling the attempts of numerous squirrels (with murderous intentions). During this delimma, he found time to analyze the reports of our intelligence officers, and found that the jittery juggernaut from the jungles of Medford is attempting to form an alliance with our opposition. This is prompted by a certain knowledge on the part of the menacing mastodon from the muddy morasses of Massachusetts, that, in single combat, he would be overwhelmed by that demoniac destroyer, Dynamiq Dowst, the dazzling dignitary of DUR - Ham, whose previous conflicts with pink elephants have made him invulnerable in this department.

Muddled Murchie

Citizens of Dur-Ham—Do not be misled by these political pessimists who claim that Dur-Ham has gone to the dogs, as such statements are irrelevant, immaterial, sacriligious, and also silly. In fact, the trouble with this great city is that it is too good! Yes, virtue is rearing its ugly head!

I am forming a degradation and dis-sipation squad to combat these evils. As for myself I am constantly trying to reach new depths of rottenness, filth, corruption, and besottedness. Why I've been sent up the river so many times, they call me "show boat"! You no doubt have heard of the two brooms that got married—so that they could sweep together. That is just what we must do! Sweep the decency out of Dur-Ham, or, as they say in English, "Get SMURCHED with MURCH"! ("ipso facto e pluribus unum," which is Latin for I bet my reputation is blacker than yours.)

We need more night spots such as the "Cotton Club" and speaking of the "Cotton Club," reminds me of my years in the Southland, where I used to see the mummies out in the cotton fields picking up cotton, and the pappies in the "Cotton Club," picking up mummies!

Plowright Promises

Beware all ye inhabitants of DUR-Ham!! Beware of all such fictitious characters as Super-man (who we may well call STUPOR-Man, and by STUPOR-Man, we do not mean round shouldered), Souse Dowst (the gutter-snipe), E. Miles Murchie (whose first initial "E" stands for egotism) and all other so-called politicians of said hamlet. There is only one logical candidate, who by his own capability (not by mysterious names and acts) is presenting a clean, upright, straightforward campaign. You know who this candidate is and you know also that with him and his slogan, "PLOWRIGHT THRU 'EM WITH PLOWRIGHT" that the Wildcats will be able to overcome the mighty Jumbo at Homecoming.

Early next week I will announce my campaign and without doubt you will all agree with me that it is the most sensational campaign that has ever been presented to the inhabitants of DUR-Ham. I am not depending on comic strip characters to win for me the honored position. I believe strongly enough in my own ability and that of my managers to bring about a successful election.

If and when I am elected mayor of DUR-Ham I will initiate the following:

1. I will provide free transportation from Fraternity Row to Reynaud's.
  2. I will have a direct air route established between DUR-Ham and Stoneleigh, New London, LaSalle and Portland's Westbrook J. C.
  3. I will see that all profs giving a mark below 85 are dismissed immediately.
  4. Classes will start at 11 o'clock and at noon we will be all through for the day.
  5. For those who leave our fair campus on a week-end, there will be no classes on Friday, Saturday and Monday.
  6. I will personally supervise the feeding of all Freshmen, which will include large portions of steak, chicken and other foods that seem to be so scarce in DUR-Ham.
  7. All girls rules will be abolished and for those who wish it I am establishing a date bureau to be carried on solely with the Harvard and Dartmouth football teams.
- These and many other things are yours just for the asking. Why be without what you want when it may be had so easily. The most important thing that I will guarantee is the downfall of the judacious Jumbo. Who could ask for more? I do not say that I will try to out-wit the Jumbo but I promise and guarantee to have the Jumbo in my control.

Remember the slogan and you can't go wrong. PLOWRIGHT THRU 'EM WITH PLOWRIGHT.

Theta Kappa Phi Defeats Kappa Sig in Vital Game

In the most colorful athletic contest ever on an athletic field in Durham, Theta Kappa Phi defeated Kappa Sigma 8-7 Friday afternoon. Doc Des-Roches and Bill Cone went the distance and were both touched for ten hits. Dick Sughrue put on a Leo Durocher act with Bill Klem, Karellis and Des Roches was so hot that he had to take off his hat and coat. Two home runs featured the melee, one by Charlie Untiet in the second with Nugent on base and the other by Fred Charron in the fifth. With the sweetest victory of the decade the coveted prize went to the noble boys on Ballard street.

Correction

The freshman Hallowe'en party will be held at Commons on Thursday, October 30, rather than on October 29, as was stated in the last issue of "The New Hampshire".

Election Notes

Seniors are asked to consider the candidates for class officers very carefully since the success of the graduation program and the organization of the class after graduation, depends on the group elected. Use the record each candidate has made during their three undergraduate years as a guide to your ballot.

Since so many of the senior members of the Student Council are running for class office, it will be necessary to draft a group of independent upper-classmen to handle the election. They will be under the direction of Ray Doyle, who is not a candidate for any office.

Freshman candidates will be introduced to the class on Wednesday night in order that the voters may be certain that they are familiar with the candidates.

Polls will be open at 7.30 a. m., one-half hour earlier, in order that early risers may be accommodated.

Election interest has reached the boiling-over point because of the large number of candidates running for each office.

Varsity X-Country Team Third in Tri Meet; Frosh Win

Dartmouth Takes Varsity Meet; Harvard is Second; Scammon Wins for Frosh

James Sleeper was first man in for New Hampshire as Dartmouth swept to a 26-34-74 victory over Harvard and New Hampshire on the Middlesex Fells course last Friday. Three Dartmouth men, Don Burnham, Captain Sid Bull, and Bob Williams, finished in a three-way tie for first place. The winning time was 27 minutes, 17 seconds.

As was expected, the race demonstrated Dartmouth's class. The Indians from Hanover were just too good for both Harvard and New Hampshire.

Frosh Easy Winners

The freshman race, however, told a different story. In the varsity race, New Hampshire was a bad third; but in the frosh meet, New Hampshire was an easy winner. Captain Dick Scammon paced the Kittens with a fine 16 minute, 16 second run over the 2.8 mile course. The score was New Hampshire 24, Dartmouth 44, and Harvard 57.

The varsity do not run again until the New Englands November 10; but the frosh still have two meets before that date. Tomorrow they meet Manchester Central and on November 5, they run against Portsmouth. Both meets will be in Durham and neither meet, despite the fact that high schools will provide the opposition, will be easy. More than once, it has happened that the Frosh have lost to Manchester only to go on to win the New Englands.
