Sam Donahue Chosen To Play for Mil Art

Band Not to Feature Any Style but to Demonstrate Talent of Each Player

Negotiations with Sam Donahue to the effect that he and his orchestra are to play for the annual Military Ball to be held on December 5 at New Hampshire Hall have been completed, it was recently announced by Jack Clark, Scabbard and Blade member in charge of the orchestra committee. Faetured with Donahue's orchestra is his lovely vocalist, Frances Claire; his handsome tenor, Andy Blaine; and Wayne Hurdell, pianist; Harold Hahn, drummer; and Mitchell Paull, the barrelhouse trumpeter.

Inaugurating the large scale social festivities of the 1941-42 school year, the colorful Military Ball will induct the Scabbard and Blade pledges into the society, and fill the brilliantly color-hall with the sweet and swinging music of the highly publicized Sam Donahue's orchestra.

His is the orchestra that will this year be playing the march to accompany the Queen of the Ball, aides, and Tony Touart, captain of Scabbard and Blade, as they walk up under the sabre arch preparing to tap the junior pledges into membership.

Sam Donahue's band is not stylized. His arrangements run the gamut of music, from sweet to swing, from lilt-ing waltzes to killer-diller flagwavers, all played in a naturalness and good taste that are a delight to all that hear him.

Interests of Towns Promoted By Development Association

by Lily Carlson

"Advertising is the chief object of regional associations," Oren V. Henderson stated in an interview concerning the Seacoast Regional Development Association of which he is the president. The regional associations make it possible for small towns to carry on a campaign that will attract tourists.

Mr. Henderson stated that he first became interested in advertising campaigns for towns when he saw pamphlets being published by larger towns and cities. But investigation showed that the cost for a small town to advertise by itself was prohibitive. However, about seven or eight years ago, the state authorized the dividing of New Hampshire into six geographical regions in order to promote the interests of the sections through meetings, research, and advertising.

Regions Organized

All but one of these regions have been organized and are active in campaigning. Each town in a region is requested to contribute an amount equal to one one-hundredth of one per cent of the valuation of the town to support the program of advertising and development. By this system small towns such as Durham, which is in the Seacoast Region, are able to advertise their outstanding features, such as recreational facilities, industries, and places of historical interest, at a minimum cost. These organizations are also concerned with highway improvements, roadsides beautification, harbor and river development parking facilities, recreational areas, and other matters of public interest. In recognition of the value of regional associations, the state legislature provides $2,500.00 annually to each association for the payment of a secretary and clerical assistant. All other officials work because of their interest in the improvement of their towns and regions.

At present, the Seacoast Region includes sixteen other towns besides Durham. The association now wishes to enlarge the region to include several towns west of the present region. Such a change would make the dividing line more of a natural geographical boundary.

B. U. Game: Special Train to B. U. Game Leaves Saturday Morning

Tickets on Sale Cover All Transportation to And from Big Game

As a result of popular demand, the Student Council announced today that it would definitely run a special train to Boston for the football game with Boston University this Saturday, provided that over 200 tickets have been sold by Thursday evening.

According to plans announced by Ray Doyle, Council president, the train will leave Durham at 11:15 A. M. on Saturday and will arrive at the North Station sometime before one o'clock. Special busses will meet the students at the station and will carry them to Nickerson field in Weston, the scene of the game, before the opening whistle at 2 p. m. Following the game the bus-

Skofield Takes First Place in Debating Contest

Doon, Barraclough Tied For Third; Five Colleges Participate at Hanover

For the second successive year, a New Hampshire man took first place in the Dartmouth practice tournament. Last year James Moulton was judged best speaker and last Friday and Saturday, sophomore Herman Skofield battled through three debates to become similarly honored.

Five schools participated in the tournament—Vassar, New Hampshire, Amherst, Dartmouth, and Middlebury. Three debates were held Friday and the final round on Saturday. No team gradings are given out. However, each judge ranks the individual participants on a basis of 1 to 7. Skofield, having the highest average, 5.66 was adjudged the winner. James Doon, Skofield's affirmative colleague, and Solon Barraclough, one of the negative competitors, were unofficially tied for third, each having an average of 5. Charlie Gozonsky was the other New Hampshire debater.

Additional Honors for Skofield

The group headed by Coach Ray Keeseey, left for Hanover Friday morning. The debaters stayed overnight at the Chi Phi fraternity house to which fraternity several of the Dartmouth debaters belonged and returned to Durham Saturday afternoon.

Skofield, in addition to winning the tournament, was the only competitor to get the highest possible score, a 7, which he succeeded in capturing in his final debate.

Thus, the New Hampshire varsity debating season has gotten off to a very successful start. Decision debates with Dartmouth, Middlebury, and Keene State Teachers College are being planned for the middle of this month.

Theta Chi and Pi Lambda Win Prizes

Clever Skits Put on for Blue Key Stunt Night

Theta Chi and Pi Lambda Sigma were chosen winners at the Annual Blue Key Stunt Night last Friday night in New Hampshire Hall by the judges, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Knowlton, J. E. Bachelder, and J. P. Neville.

"76 Anniversary of the University of New Hampshire," presented by Theta Chi, was a shadowgraph surgical operation on a man. After an anesthetic, given with a hammer, the doctor performed every known surgical operation with none of the known surgical instruments. Any man would have died, and our patient was no exception. The play ended with two interns carrying a skeleton through the audience. Over 20 Theta Chi men did crazy Hellzapoppin' stunts during the almost entire act (almost because a little electrical trouble cut the act short.)

Pi Lambda Sigma's "This Modern Age" centered around a weird machine that changed people into what they wanted to be. The machine changed a oomph-y glamor girl into a co-ed from the University of New Hampshire, gave 'Tillie the Toiler' a tall 'Mac', changed Carmen Miranda into a ballerina, and gave a secretary a set of twins.

Written by Dot McCready and Faith Williams, the play had a large cast consisting of Faith Williams, doctor; Dotty Harkins, nurse; the glamor girl, Louise Flynn; the co-ed of U.N.H., Esther Doyle; 'Tillie', Dot McCready; 'Mac' I, Helena Dobek; 'Mac' II, Alice Waltvek; Color and Design—Virginia Lambert; Electrician—Leonard Conville; Props and Costumes—Norma Prohaska, Betty Smalley, Gail Daly, and Faith Williams.

Student Heads at Wellesley Forum

In accordance with pro-defense measures that are being taken in schools throughout the country, students from thirty-one eastern colleges met yesterday at the regional conference of the Association of American Colleges at Wellesley College where they discussed the various demands of defense upon college students.

New Hampshire was represented by Barbara Burns and Ray Doyle, heads of the respective student governments, and Ruth J. Woodruff, dean of women.

During the luncheon meeting in Severance Hall, student speakers discussed the subject, "What are we doing about national defense?" In the afternoon the students were divided into various groups which considered means by which different types of universities and colleges can assume defense responsibilities. Following this there was a presentation of reports from the discussion groups, which was presided over by Guy Snavely, executive director of the association.

A Big Week-end

Enthusiasm and spirit over the coming football game with Boston University this Saturday is running at a fever pitch as a result of the overwhelming victory over Tufts and with memories of the Harvard week-end two years ago still fresh in the minds of many upperclassmen. With these facts in mind and because of many requests, the Student Council is doing everything in its power to make this week-end a success.

Already it has done plenty of work planning and providing transportation for students to Nickerson field, the scene of the big game. According to arrangements which have been carefully worked out, everyone interested in making the trip will be well taken care of. The important thing now is to assure the running of the train and bus facilities by the early purchase of tickets. The minimum of 200 set by railroad authorities seems very reasonable and easy to fulfill out of a student body of 2000. Everyone who is financially able should follow the team to its last game and the one toward which it has been pointing all season.

Proper conduct by students at the game, in Boston, and on the train is all that will be required to make the excursion a complete success after the necessary number of tickets have been sold. We have no fears along these lines, however. College students can be relied upon to show mature judgment and use it.

With complete cooperation on the part of everyone this can be one of the most memorable week-ends of a college career.

More Recognition Is Due

the university rifle team which will soon begin another season. One of the most successful teams to represent the school in intercollegiate competition, this group of marksmen through their love of the sport long hours under far from spectacular conditions and seldom if ever receive much praise.

In the last three years of competition the rifle team has lost only eight matches in over 54 in which they have competed. To achieve this end the members practice conscientiously on the indoor range, and even when matches are fired they cannot rely on cheering crowds of students to encourage them as do athletes on the field.

Hats off to the rifle team and best wishes for another great season.

The Play's the Thing

Mask and Dagger opens another season tomorrow evening when it presents "One Sunday Afternoon" in New Hampshire Hall. If this play is as well done as most performances in the past, the campus thespians will uphold an enviable reputation. It will be interesting to see the interpretation of a difficult old-time play by modern college students.

Even from the townpeople we heard that this was one of the best Homecomings in years. We couldn't have asked for a better game, weather, company, atmosphere and refreshments. Next to the team, the happiest undergrads were the seniors on Hetzel's two bottom floors, when last year's seniors returned for the biggest little party on campus. So Frank Joyce is having duplicates of his rings made. They say that there is Sparks to that fire. Which one have you got, Jan?

When Lawrence Bacon takes his glasses off we can easily see why the girls of the Yacht Club call him "Bedroom Eyes" Bacon. . . . After the experience on Scott Hall's third floor last week, we realize that this is an Agricultural school, but some of us don't have to be reminded of it before retiring. . . . Pickles Sahama paid $1.65 for a long distance call to New York. After he finished Betty Bassett called back and it cost her $3.05. What's the reason you're not saving your money, Pickles, by calling Congreve? "Can it be love?" . . . Bob Joslin was given the corner stand last Tuesday night when "that Stoneleigh girl" didn't come down to get him for dinner. . . . Who's Bob Mullen taking out? She looks like a transfer, and she's purty nice. . . .

Freddie Charron and Elinor Doyle made a lovely couple at the Homecoming dance. We expected Carl would be back, but obviously. . . . Julie Brown made a date with an import. He waited the five minutes she told him to but still no Julie after an hour's waiting. . . . Our agent in Calcutta is wondering who called up Wayne Mulavey and asked him if he was conveying battleships back to Pettee. He also wants to know who won the turkey and had the Chesterfields. . . . It's too bad about the Lambda Chi who was taking a brother's car home for him and was caught with the jalopy not inspected and had to pay the fine and costs. . . . Betty O'Neil had something good a couple of weeks ago, but what was she doing with Charlie Piffard at Stunt Night. . . . Ruth Haggett said that a horse kicked her porcelain. . . . Bobbie Winkler broke off with Stu Hancock. The pin's gone back to Stu because of that Norwich man.

It would have been very profitable for anyone to sell paper cups on Main street last Saturday night. . . . I don't think that Ken Cushman's taste is all in his mouth. . . . Earle Quimby had his first date on campus this year. It was a blind date about which he had changed his mind. . . . Tony Touart also had a blind date at the dance Saturday night. Now he's not worried about flunking the course. . . . After winning $41:00 on the first race at Rockingham ham last Friday, Bob Wheeler and Hank Pascho won only $1:00 on "Lo-venote", a plug they picked in honor of some Shirley on campus. . . . After last Friday night's experiences, Dick Smith is going to take taxis home from Dover. . . . Whose pin has Dot Kimball got this time? . . . Don Perkins and Pat Faino were up this week-end. Don (and also Paul Conway) has profited from last year's work under Coach Dougal, and is playing with the Junior Olympics. . . .

. . . . Daeris' was a swell reminder of the Merry-go-round at the Copley Plaza after the Harvard game. . . . Woodpecker Nugent hasn't been seen around Scott lately. . . . Bill Sipe may be in love, but that doesn't keep his roommate, Herb Smith, from freezing.

Mississippi's new "fella" was up again this week-end. . . . Where is Ed Stannard this year? . . . We'd like to remind Jerry Thayer that the football season is almost over, and that soon he will be able to show his stuff on the double runners Tony is going to get him. . . . In closing we'd like to say that if the Mayoralty campaigns in the future are going to be conducted like this year's it would be very advisable to drop this disgusting show of the humor which is supposed to represent that of the New Hampshire campus. The grads didn't see the results of any of those promises that were made and many asked if the Mayoralty tradition has also been forgotten. . . .

N. H. Scientists to Hold 23rd Meeting

President B. H. Brown of Dartmouth Will Lecture

From seventy-five to one hundred Academy members are expected to attend the 23rd annual meeting of the New Hampshire Academy of Science here at Durham, November 14th and 15th. Scientists from this campus, Dartmouth, the normal schools, junior colleges, and high schools, doctors, industrialists and laymen will be present at this meeting.

The program will begin Friday evening in Murkland Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. At this time Donald Smith of the university will present for its first public appearance Winston Pote's new kodachrome film, "Winter Sports in New Hampshire." This film is a sequel to "New Hampshire, The 4 Seasons" which was shown on campus a number of times last year. Also on this program will be a film entitled "Biological Basis for Fish Management in New Hampshire" presented by H. E. Warfel of the Zoology Department and the N. H. Fish and Game Department.

On Saturday morning at 9:30 in Murkland there will be several short lectures presented by speakers from Colby Junior College, Brown University, Hillsboro, Dartmouth College and this university. In the afternoon the annual business meeting will take place and the group will be addressed by President Bancroft H. Brown of Dartmouth College.

Sauermens Bomb Tufts, 33-0

'Cats Turn Struggle Into Route With Blast in Fourth Quarter

by Charlie Untiet

With a sudden burst of fury which netted 20 points in the last period, the Wildcat grid machine ran rough shod over a never say die Tufts team Saturday afternoon at the stadium before a homecoming crowd of 8000. The final score read 33-0 and was the worst defeat that the local forces have ever handed out to the clan from Medford.

Wildcats Shakey

The team got off to a very shaky start and for the first ten minutes it looked as though New Hampshire was to be in for one long afternoon. Most of the activity was carried on in New Hampshire territory in the opening quarter. Shortly after the beginning of the second chapter the boys found themselves and registered the first score of the afternoon. After Tufts had been handed a fifteen yard holding penalty, Art Harrison, the Jumbo ace, chucked one from his own 26 which Pete Meneghin intercepted on his own 41 and reached the 46 before being lugged down. Hal Hall then slid through tackle for 24 yards down to the Tufts 31 before he was stopped by the Jumbo secondary. After an attempted forward failed Hall threw a strike to Bill Feeny on the 16. Hall picked four yards and then Buck Gordon really bucked. He smashed through guard up to the two where it took practically the entire line to stop him. Hall then brought the grads to their feet with the first of five touchdowns. Tufts, however, came within an ace of tying it up in the latter stages of the half. After Art Harrison had returned Tuffy Fitanides' punt to his 21, he went back and fired an aerial to co-captain Bob Rutter who wrestled the ball away from Fitanides and broke into the open field and started for the promised land. Tony Zullo, trying to help Rutter, threw a block on Fitanides which the head linesman ruled clipping. By that time Rutter had crossed the last line only to have the run nullified. That break took almost all the drive out of Tufts and from that time on the Wildcat was master.

Clark Shines

Stacey Clark really put on a show of some fancy running in the second half. Midway through the period Hall chucked one to the right to Clark who outran the Tufts safetyman to score. In the fourth a forward pass play carried 66 yards to the third touchdown. Fitanides threw this one and Stacey took it on the fifty and ran the rest of the way unmolested. He later intercepted Harrison's pitch and set up the fourth touchdown which was scored by Tuffy. Bill Feeny scored the last one on a long pass from Tuffy. Roy Goodfellow succeeded three times in five tries after the touchdowns.

Tufts was no where near as bad as the score indicated, which in itself proves a compliment to the Sauermens. They were a hard fighting team, beaten by a harder fighting team. The entire squad paled very well but Stacey Clark, Harold Hall, Tuffy Fitanides, and Captain Gordon paramount. Whitey Ackerman did well in the line along with Ralph Pino. Art Harrison and Bob Rutter were the mainstays for Tufts along with Tony Zullo in the line.

Our Small Strong Team!

It's been a long time since school spirit and the desire to talk freely about the New Hampshire football team have attained such a high peak as they are holding now. Sometime ago, when the Wildcat had lost to Bates and tied Maine, this writer maintained that the Sauer-coached eleven had great, potential strength. Recent gridiron actions superbly performed by the Blue and White have definitely brought out the point. Coach Sauer has formulated a sports unit packed with good judgment, fancy, intricate maneuvers, a keen sense of cooperation and, above all, a Herculean fighting spirit. The boys have now overcome the danger of overconfidence. Fighting spirit has molded the rather inexperienced line into a good protection for the backfield. Sauer, realizing that the team was light, has developed the weapon of deceiving the foe with a deceptive passing attack and a fast-moving running system, especially around the flanks. An almost phenomenal task was worked out successfully when the UNH line held mighty Norwich to a standstill for 58 minutes.

Norwich is now claiming the championship among small New England colleges, but New Hampshire's prestige will probably equal Norwich's if the Wildcat dumps Boston University. UNH is stronger than most people think but, nevertheless, the fellows must tackle better than they did last week. This was the only discouraging item in New Hampshire's play. Saturday will be the most important football day for our school in a long time.

Talk about Campus-Toughy Fitanides will be the best runner ever to enter New Hampshire if he remains calm under pressure and continues his present rate of improvement. . . Tufts "T" formation was a failure. . . Coach Rood's Freshmen appeared impressive last week. Kemp, McDermott, Lane and a few others may bolster next year's varsity. . . Right now it seems that New Hampshire will have a strong team again in two years.

Frosh Runners Good

Our Week's Good Word—for Coach Sauer whose team has fought superbly against teams composed of players who make playing football a business. . . for Scammon and the rest of the Frosh runners who have competed in one of the first-year-men's most successful cross-country seasons. . . for the football players who are responsible for New Hampshire being rated above Carnegie Tech and C.C.N.Y. last week. . . Stacey Clark who played the best game of his career against Tufts.

We hope that a good number of UNH students will see the game at Weston, Mass., and we hereby congratulate the following men for their fine services in the Wildcat gridiron kingdom: Edward Bove, Stacey Clark, Wilfred Feeny, Harold Hall, Edward Lyszczas, Dick Gordon and George Stevens. Their hard work has made possible many of the team's successes and they will be playing in their last football game for New Hampshire.

LaSalle Retains N. E. Harrier Title

Scoring a low total of 62 points, LaSalle Academy of Providence successfully defended its New England crown against 17 other crack high school cross-country teams over the 2.6 mile course here Saturday morning.

Nineteen teams were entered in the gigantic met in which 127 runners took part. Several hundred spectators watched the event as Larkin of Gardner smashed the course record by two seconds, finishing a split second ahead of Emil Gazdajka of Manchester Central, who set the former record. Goodell of Beverly came in third, but Beverly was disqualified because five of their men did not finish.

The summary (First ten): Won by Larkin, Gardner, 13:44; 2nd, Gazdajka, Central; 3rd, Goodell, Beverly; 4th, Dempsey, Presque Isle; 5th, Tiernar, LaSalle; 6th, Dwyer, LaSalle; 7th, Lemieux, Hartford; 8th, Cummings, Dover; 9th, Smith, Burrillville; 10th, Geary, Arlington.

Team Standings: 1st, LaSalle 62; 2nd Gardner 96; 3rd, Manchester Central 139; 4th, Presque Isle 153; 5th, Hartford 167; 6th, Melrose 171; 7th, Portsmouth 207; 8th, Burrillville 248; 9th, Dover 234; 10th, Hope Street and Manchester (Conn.) 254; 11th, Arlington 273; 12th, New Britain 302; 13th, Raymond 357; 14th, North Providence

Freshmen Shine in Last Game; Defeat Tufts' Frosh, 20-2

Rainey, Bobotas, Grant Make Tallies as Roodmen Outclass Jumbo Players

Showing good form throughout the entire game, the University of New Hampshire freshman football team closed its season in a spectacular manner by defeating the Tufts freshmen, 20-2.

New Hampshire took the lead in the first period when Kemp tossed a forward pass from his own 40-yard line to Bobotas who caught it on the Tufts 40-yard line and galloped the rest of the way for a touchdown. Tufts scored two points in the first quarter when Kemp was tackled behind the New Hampshire goal line for a safety, thereby giving Tufts its only score of the afternoon.

No team was capable of registering a score in the second period so that it appeared as if the final result of the tussle might be close but the Wildcat offensive was resumed effectively in the third period.

Rainey caught a punt and carried the pigskin back 55 yards for New Hampshire's second touchdown and Kemp converted for the point. In the last period the Roodmen started a ground attack that brought them to Tuft's four-yard line from where Grant scored with a strong plunge through center. Henderson scored the extra point by catching a short pass over the line.

The summary:

New Hampshire '45: Kenyon, lb; Benson, lt; Johnson, Morehouse, lg; McDermott, McReel, c; Norman, Dougherty, rg; Strunski, rt; Bobotas, Parker, re; Rainey, qb; Kemp, Grant, lhb; Henderson, Smith, Bowles, rhb; Ricciardone, Campbell, fb.

Group School for ROTC Again Meets

Once again the meetings of the group school for regular army officers and the advanced R.O.T.C. students have begun in room 104 of Pettee Hall. These usually occur the second Monday of the month, lasting from 7:30 to 9 p.m. The first was held in October, the second on November 10. The group school, now sponsored by the Manchester Military District but originally started by the Durham chapter, is ten years old on campus. Lectures and instruction are given by resident and regular army officers on military subjects usually accompanied by movies.

A talk on employment of tanks in the present European war was with movies of tank warfare was the subject at the November meeting. The talk was given by Captain Charles O. Dawson, F. A. Res. of our faculty.

Twenty Pledged by Scabbard and Blade

Tony Touart, President of Scabbard and Blade, Senior Military Honorary Society, has announced the following pledges to the chapter. These men have been chosen for their outstanding work in military science and for their leadership ability. Formal initiation of the new pledges will take place at the annual Mil. Art Ball on December 5.

Those selected from the Coast Artillery Corps are: Ottavio Giovannangeli, Ted Stebbins, Bob Joslin, Bob Stewart, Bill King, Bob Clock, Harry Lucas, Bill Rogers, and Dick Sullivan.

Women's Phys. Ed. Features Defense

To do its part for National Defense in connection with Civilian Defense Week, the Women's Physical Education department will swing into action this week with a special program for the purpose. Under the able leadership of its director, Miss Margaret Hoban, the department has planned several classes in keeping with the needs of the time. New Hampshire Hall will be opened up on Tuesday evenings from 7 until 10 p.m. for the courses.

Recreational activities, recreational leadership, health-conditioning classes and first aid classes will start immediately and motor corps and canteen work will be added if enough are interested.

The first meeting of the defense group will be held on Tuesday evening, November 11, and the department invites all the faculty and townspeople, men and women, who wish to enter a course to come.

Lost

A mixed colored deep red and black lady's fountain pen, a Parker, on Monday afternoon between 4:00 and 5:30 p.m., somewhere between Bickford House, Ballard Hall and the library. It is very important that I find it. Return to Dorothy Gammons, Bickford House.

From the Infantry: Carl Carlson, Bob Leggett, Ralph DesRoches, Bob Crosbie, Bill Call, Fred Saunders, Fred Charon, Allan Lamond, Ed Mackel, Art Roulliard, and Tom Callagy were chosen.

SPECIAL TRAIN

(Continued from page 1) ses will pick the students up at the field and will transport them to downtown Boston where they will be free to enjoy the evening. At 12 midnight the train will leave the North Station for Durham.

Tickets which will cover all transportation, including both bus and train will be on sale Wednesday and Thursday under T hall arch and every day this week at the College Pharmacy and the Wildcat. The price will be $2.35. Game tickets will be on sale at the University Bookstore, the Wildcat and the College Pharmacy, for 75 cents.

For those students who have no definite plans for the evening, twelve B. U. fraternities in Boston are running free, open house dances to which all New Hampshire students have been cordially invited, as a part of the Boston University Homecoming week-end. Saturday afternoon from 5 to 6:30 a coffee and music hour will be held in the Hayden Memorial hall.

Ray Doyle emphasises particularly the necessity of everyone who plans to go on the train purchasing tickets early. If the quota of 200 has not been reached by 7 o'clock Thursday evening the train trip will be cancelled.

The cooperation of all students on the train has also been requested by the Student Council, which is sponsoring the trip.

Jumbo Held, Mayor Fulfills Promises

Lucy Treats Homecomers To Big Wildcat Victory

Larrupin' Lucy's activities as mayor from the North Country were concluded Saturday at the end of a series of gala events, comprising the 18th annual UNH homecoming day. The festivities, welcoming alumni from a large radius, began at 11:00 a.m. in Murkland Auditorium, where four outstanding speakers led an enthusiastic group in a symposium devoted to defense.

Lieutenant Commander Samuel J. Singer, U.S.N.R., was emphatic in his opinion of this country's preparedness for war in whatever form it might appear.

Other phases of our national defense were covered by Dr. Eppelsheimer, research professor of industrial engineering at the university, Miss Elizabeth Ellis, extension nutritionist, and Dr. Arnold Hanson, associate professor of vocational education.

The alumni luncheon was held in the Commons, after which the returning grads attended the Tufts game at Lewis Field. The homecomers were welcomed at this time by Durham's capable mayor, Puckerbrush Lucy, who did his utmost to please his constituents during the afternoon. Before the game the Mayor and his council favored the audience with a preview of some of the clever passes to be played during the four quarters. The boys from Tufts were continually menaced throughout the game by his Booger-ridders, who kept a constant vigil on the sidelines, equipped with shot-guns in case of emergency.

Special suppers were served at the frat and sorority houses, and the guests' day was rounded off with the student council sponsored homecoming dance, held in New Hampshire Hall, and attended by a record-breaking crowd of 500 couples.

Sabers Presented to Mullen, Touart at Drill

The New Hampshire Reserve Officers Association, through Major H. H. Hart, presented Robert Mullen (Infantry) and Anthony Touart (Coast Artillery) with sabers last Thursday afternoon at Memorial Field.

These men were selected from the university men who were stationed at Fort Monroe and Fort Devens. Selections were made for outstanding military performance and leadership while at summer camp.

These sabers will remain their personal property. The other sabers worn by upperclassmen belong to the university and must be returned at the end of the school year.

Dr. McGregor, Town Physician Great Asset to Our Community

by Warren Horton

One of the most colorful of Durhambites is Dr. George G. McGregor of Madbury Road. Probably many of you have not met him, but some of last year's students made his acquaintance when Dr. Wilbur and he replaced the college physician, who had taken up a practice in Derry. He has a great sense of humor and an inexhaustible supply of stories.

Dr. McGregor was born and brought up in this state with a good family history helping to shape and promote his career. There were several doctors in his family, some of whom were active in politics. He found that this fine family reputation aided in getting established.

Here Since 1934

Graduated from Boston University's liberal arts and medical colleges, he went to Florida where he practiced for four years as a general doctor. From there he returned to his native state to work five years in the State Hospital. In his fifth year at the State Hospital the town physician of Durham died leaving a vacancy to be filled. Meeting a town committee in charge of interviewing aspirants for the job, he

Frank B. Lenz Will Lecture Here Soon

Theme Based on South American Situation

In conjunction with the World Christian Commission, the campus Christian Movement will bring Frank B. Lenz to the university campus on Wednesday, November 12. Mr. Lenz is the present field secretary of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association and besides being a contributor to "The Outlook," "The Educational Review," "The Christian Herald," the "National Geographic," and numerous other well-known publications, is also a well known lecturer.

Frank B. Lenz

A small supper under the chairmanship of Esther Tipping will be given in honor of the author-traveler-lecturer after his arrival in Durham late Wednesday afternoon. Then at 7 o'clock Mr. Lenz will speak, under the sponsorship of the Hi-Y Alumni group of the Student Christian Movement, in the Alumni Room of New Hampshire Hall. All those interested in attending Mr. Lenz's lecture are welcome.

The theme of the speaker's informal talk will be South America, with emphasis being given to social conditions and the present political situation of that continent. Lenz is well-qualified to speak on this subject as he has done extensive traveling in South America, studying political, educational, social, and religious problems.
