Students in Complete Charge of First Aid

New Committee Directed by Gail Daly

Complete control of First Aid and associated Red Cross courses on campus was handed over to the student body this week. The Student Defense Committee set up a short while ago a plan for organization of a student group to handle the mechanics of First Aid courses already underway, and to prepare for their extension.

Gail Daly, who has been in charge of the twenty hour course now almost completed, will also be in charge for the next semester. The course will be enlarged and will include all those who can possibly be accommodated. Headquarters for the student group will be located in Room 309 Ballard.

Assisting Gail will be three qualified first aid instructors, Marilyn Whitcomb, Judy Austin, and Carl Nason. Whitcomb and Austin will be in charge of the schedule and classrooms for the course. Nason and Bob Rowe will do the organization work among the boys.

Others on the committee are Faith Williams and Anne Hale who will take care of the attendance records and secretarial duties; and Helen Pearce who will be in charge of equipment.

Dates, and times that the classes will be held will be announced in the near future.

Granite Poll

There will be a GRANITE poll held next Monday at which time the most representative senior boy and girl will be elected. This poll is open to all Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

There will also be a Junior Class poll and a Junior Faculty poll which is open to Juniors only. Every one who is eligible is invited and urged to include their vote in these polls.

Coast Guard Reserve Officers Training Classes Organized

New London Academy Opens Course February 1

Formation of a Coast Guard Reserve Officers' Training Class at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut, was announced by Captain James Pine, Superintendent of the Academy. The course will be open to about 200 trainees and will commence February 1, 1942. To be eligible for the training, a young man must have a bachelor's degree, must be unmarried, and 20 to 30 years of age.

Trainees will be enlisted as apprentice seamen in the Coast Guard Reserve. Their first month will be devoted to practical seamanship and ordinance, including a great deal of boat, rifle, gun, and infantry drill. Upon successfully completing the preliminary work, a trainee will be promoted to the rank of cadet. He will then be given two months of intensive instruction in seamanship, gunnery, piloting, navigation, and tactics. This instruction will be supplemented by short cruises aboard the Academy's famous training ships Atlantic and Danmark. Trainees who successfully complete the entire three months course will be commissioned ensigns in the Coast Guard Reserve and assigned to active duty with Coast Guard units, which in wartime form a part of the Navy.

Blue Circle Chooses Ten Co-eds For Carnival Queen Nominations

Ten of the campus's most beautiful co-eds were selected last night by Blue Circle as candidates for the Carnival Queen elections which will be held Monday, January 26, under T-Hall Arch. They are as follows: Babe Fletcher, Peggy Garren, Mary Garrett, Jane Haubrich, Midge Moore, Marcia Robinson, Ethel Steigman, June Straw, Aline Walsh, and Anne Williams. This list is not one of ten nominees, but ten selections, and everyone is reminded that there will be space left at the bottom of the ballot for write-in votes.

Coronation at Ball

The precedent which was set last year of having a Carnival King will be continued. This year, though, the King will be the Queen's escort, rather than elected. These two royal personages will be crowned at the Ball, rather than at the usual Thursday night Ice Carnival because of the latter's being cancelled.

The chaperones who have been selected for the Ball are as follows: Pres-Ruth J. Woodruff, Dean and Mrs. Norman Alexander, and Mr. and Mrs. Loring V. Tirrell.

Decorations Simple

Decorations this year will not be as elaborate as in past years, because the financial expenditures are being concentrated on the name band which will be hired. As yet, definite word has not been heard from Johnny Long.

Other business that took place last night at Blue Circle meeting included the election of Clare Richards as secretary in the place of Marg Preble, who will be practice teaching in Nashua. Chipper Curtis will fill Dot Page's position of manager of the Women's Ski Team. Dot will be practice teaching in Kittery second semester.

WAA Executive Board Repairs Cabin

New Floor and Rock Wool Keep Old Man Winter Out

Background for the W.A.A. Executive Board meeting last Friday was furnished by the cabin at Mendum's which has recently been repaired so that it is suitable for winter use. The members of the board cooked their supper of hot dogs and "sommores" over the fireplace fire which also furnished the cabin's only light.

Many people have probably never heard of the Women's Athletic Association cabin or even knew that such a thing existed. A poor floor and streaks of daylight around the eaves made winter expeditions out there impossible. The annual Spring outing was the only time it was regularly used. This had to be eliminated last year because of the fire ban on the woods.

Hoping to stimulate interest, the association had the cabin renovated during the week.

Freshmen Entertain At Exchange Supper

In an effort to bring out some of the talent that is hidden in the members of the freshman class, various groups from the dormitories were asked to or put on some kind of a short skit at the exchange supper on Sunday evening. These presentations were judged by the advisors who were present with their groups. The prizes were free tickets to the local theatre.

For some reason, either bashfulness or lack of spirit, all of the groups backed out except two, Congreve South and East Hall. Congreve was represented by Anita Smith and Frances Smith, who sang "Sympathy" and "Down By The Old Mill Stream." They were accompanied by Marion Sheehan.

Then an "anonymous group of boys" from East Hall entertained the class with their rendition of "College Days." For an encore they sang an old favorite, "Grandfather's Clock." Since these were the only two groups that participated, all competition was eliminated and free tickets were given to the girls from Congreve and the boys from East Hall.

Ruling on Cuts

Attendance

Each student is expected to be present at every college exercise for which he is registered.

Each instructor shall report to the dean of his college any student who is absent from 3 consecutive class exercises.

Excusable absences fall into four categories: 1. absence due to ill health, authorized by the university physician; 2. absence due to instruction trips, authorized by the dean of the college concerned; 3. absence due to trips of athletic teams, authorized by the committee on athletics; 4. miscellaneous absences for various causes, authorized by the dean of men or dean of women. Such absences will be recorded by the registrar and will be available to the instructional staff, and no penalty will result provided the work is made up to the satisfaction of the instructor.

All instruction trips must be arranged at least a week in advance and be approved by the dean of the college concerned. By the use of a special blank obtained from the registrar's office or the dean of his college, each student must notify his instructors in advance of his instruction trip absences.

In case a student's absences are seriously interfering with his scholarship, or with the morale of his class, his instructor will report him at once to the dean of his college. No penalty of grade will be imposed for the fact of absence alone, except by the departments of military science and physical education.

If a student is under discipline all responsibility for absence reverts automatically to the dean of men or the dean of women and all absences in such cases must be reported to them promptly.

If work is such that attendance at every meeting is necessary to get the work of the course, it will naturally be impossible for students to cut frequently and expect to get satisfactory grades.

Spring Blooms Eternal Within Glass Walls of Greenhouse

By Paul Wheeler

Snow covers the ground, the wind strips Durham streets of sauntering couples, the temperature falls and falls, but at one spot on campus it's Spring. Under the multi-paned glass roof of the University Greenhouse gardenias verge at bloom stocks and calendulas grow taller each day, roses have flowered through the winter; rare orchids and potatoes share growing space.

Spud Important

Of all, the practical spud is deemed most important by the horticultural staff. Producing better plants for all New Hampshire goes on at the greenhouse every day. The potatoes, now planted in the vegetable house (last down the corridor, on your right) are certified seed stock from Colebrook, being tested for leaf mosaic, an expensive virus disease. From the hundreds growing here, perhaps less than a dozen resistant plants will be discovered—which means improved crops for New England's farmers in years to come.

Dr. Albert F. Yeager, professor of Horticulture, and Horticulturist of the Agricultural Experiment Station, has a number of thorny canes growing in large pots in the second vegetable room. Raspberries from all New Hampshire are here; many from wild stock. These, Dr. Yeager hopes to produce a hardier berry than can now be grown. Another boon for the farmer.

The major project engaged in at present by the Experiment Station will please the women of the state. With the direction of Greenhouse Superintendent W. D. Holley, the culture of new and superior house plants is under study. Begonias, cyclamen, African violets, ferns, and a variety of blooming cacti, are but a few of the many types under cultivation.

Miscellaneous breeding projects include the development of new carnations, roses, gerbais (African daisies to you), and dalhia production from seed.

Exotic Display

Most exotic display recently has been the sudden burst of bloom on a Cattleya Triane. Twelve rare orchids

Students Can Complete Full Semester's Work With Six Weeks Vacation

There will be an undergraduate summer school for those who desire to complete a semester's work before the opening of school, October 12. This has just been announced by Dr. Arwood S. Northby who is in charge of the University Summer School. This will enable boys who are afraid of not completing their full college course an extra chance to get in a semester before the draft calls. The new plan is still tentative, but expectations are that it will go through.

School Opens May 18

The undergraduate summer school will begin about May 18 and will continue until the graduate school opens. During this time, students will be allowed to carry between six and nine credits, thus completing half a semester's work. Following the close of the six weeks' graduate school, the graduate school will re-open in order that the rest of the semester may be completed. For this the student will also take between six and nine credits and thus will have a full semester's work to his credit.

Six Weeks Vacation

During the interim between the two sessions students will be able to have about six weeks vacation which will provide time for those desiring to work during the summer. For those who usually loaf during vacation, this will be an opportunity for both recreation and studies. Tuition payments will be made on the basis of credits.

Applications will be received from sophomore and junior men who may be interested in joining the Student Police Force. Applications may be filed in the Alumni Office and appointments to the Force will be made effective at the beginning of the second semester.

Air Raid Vic Dance Held at Congreve So.

Congreve South was the scene of an Air Raid Vic Dance, Friday night from 8:30 to 11:45. More than seventy people attended with many more dropping in from other dances throughout the evening.

Appropriate decorations depicted the theme of an air raid shelter with blankets over the windows and in the foyer, clever directions on all the walls, a separate well-equipped first-aid room. Fires in the fireplaces served as the only light during the evening.

Hitler and Goering (Silva and Titus) paid a short, unexpected visit, spreading humor with their saluting, bowing and costumes.

In the absence of the social chairman, arrangements for the entire affair were capably handled by Ruth Brown.

Deans' Secretary Accepts New Position

One more of the university's members to leave at the call of defense is Miss Alice Colman, former secretary to Dean Woodruff and Dean Alexander the class of 1940, is now holding a position in civil service at the Portsmouth Navy Yard after leaving her present position which she held for a year and a half.

Succeeding Miss Colman is Miss Margaret Rhome, a recent graduate of the university where she earned her B.A. and M.A. degrees. Formerly Miss Rhome was secretary in the department of Physical Education for Men.

Cast Your Ballot

Although they may not be the most important of the school year, next Monday's elections deserve plenty of thought and consideration. To be chosen at that time will be the carnival queen, the "best's" in the junior class for the Granite poll, and Most Representative of the Blue and White. The selection of queen is only a temporary thing for an outstanding social event, but the others will be recorded in the year book for permanent reference and only time will determine whether they were wise choices.

Contrary to a prevalent but mistaken conception, the two seniors chosen as Most Representative are not average students taken as a cross section from the undergraduate population. They are the man and woman whom the student body considers the most outstanding through their four years of college. Two who have done the most for the university and campus life in general and whom the students feel they would like to point out to other colleges and to the outside world as the epitome of everything the University of New Hampshire wants its undergraduates to be.

In an election of this nature all phases of university life should be taken into consideration. It is not just the scholar or the athlete or the leader or the student with the most activities listed after his name, who should be named for this honor. But rather it is the one who has successfully combined all of these essential elements into a well-rounded whole.

The juniors will have a chance to honor the most outstanding in specialized fields in their class poll. Here the emphasis is on those members of the Class of 1943 who have excelled in studies, athletics, popularity, campus politics, etc. In past years the response of juniors in meeting this obligation to the Granite and to their class has been quite discouraging. It is their class and their yearbook. Why shouldn't they want to do everything possible to make it successful?

The number of students voting at elections this year has been higher than usual, which is encouraging to the Student Council and organizations for which officers have been elected. This is as it should be; a large majority of the student body voicing its opinion in the running of campus affairs. It will be the sign of a wide-awake and interested student body when every name on the check list has been checked after some election.

Editorial Notes

There will be no issue of The New Hampshire on Friday, January 23. Most campus activities seem to be at a halt because of semester examinations and the staff and reporters have to pass theirs, too.

The general consensus of opinion seems to be that if we can live through this hectic week the defeat of the Axis powers will be a cinch by comparison.

Don't forget the Books for Victory drive. Everything possible has been done to make it easy to contribute them. All that remains to be done is to drop them at the nearest collection depot.

Greek World

Alpha Xi Delta: The joint vic dance that was held with S.A.E. last Friday night was attended by a large majority of the house and practically all the pledges. . . A good time was had by all. . . Ruth Sweezy, '40, visited the house this week-end. . . Jean Adams, '41, will be working in the Library beginning next semester. . . Anne Hale and Judy Austin are on the recently formed Red Cross committee. . . The winter vic dance will be held Saturday, January 31.

S.A.E. The new officers for the semester are: Eminent Archon, Bill Call; Eminent Deputy Archon, John Davis; Recorder, Jim Burns; Treasurer, Jesse Pushee; Assistant Treasurer, George Riolo; Warden, Bob Batchelder; Herald, Jack Hubbard; Chaplain, Dick Chase; Correspondent, John Morgan; Chronicler, John Gaw. . . The Alpha Xi Delta's were our guests at a most enjoyable vic dance Friday night. . . Bud Keadin, '40, is reported with the Air Corps in Puerto Rico. . . Ray Dunn and Frank Mullon, both class of 1940, were visitors over the week-end. . . Our Sunday night suppers are proving more popular with the co-eds every week.

Theta Kappa Phi: Several brothers made a trek to the Rockingham Ballroom Saturday night, but Alumni Art Buckley, Tom Bagley, Sparky Adams, back for the week-end, stayed at the house. . . Some of the brothers went to Cranmore. . . They had a wonderful time skiing. . . Pledge officers are: President, Norman Lenon; Secretary, Joe Riccardone; Chaplain, Ralph Townsend; Sergeant-at-Arms, Bill Monagle.

Kappa Sigma: A "bang" of a party was held at the house Saturday night with the girls from Pettee. . . Among other things proving fun were the square dances and conga lines even though we did have to borrow the Conga record from Pettee. . . The party broke up at the usual eleven o'clock much to everyone's disappointment. . . The chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Donald Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stewart. . . "Sherm" Benson was back for the week-end leaving last Sunday night. . . Carl Peterson from New Haven, Conn., was a guest of Hal Monica over the week-end. . . Carl left Sunday night also.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Bob Randall was the guest of the house this week-end. A more varied program of entertainment was offered than last week. . . Skiing conditions on the Lambda Chi slope are poor due to the warm weather. . . Carnival week-end should prove a great success this year even though the university has curtailed the plans as first formulated by Outing Club president Monroe Evans.

Alpha Chi Omega: Alpha Chi gave a tea on Thursday afternoon at which several faculty wives were invited guests. Penny Richards poured. . . Mr. and Mrs. Partridge were dinner guests recently. . . Ruth Grube is confined to Hood House with the mumps.

Phi Alpha: Mike Satzow and Sheik Karelis are planning to attend a formal at Connecticut College for Women, in New London, this week-end. . . Our chef, Wave Hatton, is recuperating from a recent illness. . . Brother Norman Birenbaum, '41, is now in the army and is stationed at Fort Jefferson, Missouri. . . Bernie Eckman is the house ping pong champion, having defeated Bob Moss in the finals. . . Billy Baer is editor-in-chief of the Omichronicle, the yearly bulletin that we put out each year for Winter Carnival. Bernie Rosenblatt and Saul Lebowitz are associate editors and Shep Fox is art editor. . . Jerry Smith has been elected president of the pledges, Howie Borr, vice-president, and Al Kapit, secretary-treasurer.

Theta Upsilon: The farmers of Durham and vicinity were all too modern or too busy to be able to provide a sleigh for the scheduled sleigh ride Saturday night. We compromised with a very enjoyable vic party at Sigma Beta. . . Tau chapter celebrated Founders' Day Sunday by attending church and by a service and dinner at the house Sunday noon. . . The Marilyn Hamilton memorial pin was awarded to Marguerite Jackson ing Christmas vacation. A new floor has been put in to keep the cold out from below, and rock wool has been packed in under the eaves to keep it out from above. A sink has been added, and bars have been attached to the window casings to keep out unwelcome visitors. The board is contemplating the addition of a small heater and new benches and tables.

Other outings will be planned in the near future if the "speed-up" schedule permits. Outside groups may use the cabin by obtaining permission from the board.

SPRING BLOOMS

flowered at once. Rarely if ever are such a number of flowers on a single plant.

Probably the most unusual plant found on campus is the Bird-of-Paradise, a gorgeous orange and blue spiked blossom, now in flower at the far end of the central corridor. Nearby is a distinctive single-camelia plant, with half a dozen crimson buds.

"Mac", —Mr. James MacFarlane— can tell the story of any of these, and stories of the greenhouse development from a single conservatory on the front campus, approximately where Murkland terrace now stands, to the present extensive plant.

Jump On Season

While summer gardeners pore over seed catalogs before an open fire, planning summer gardens, ignoring the frost without; the greenhouse staff considers where next fall's chrysanthemums shall grow, and sets up a project that will give inch-through blueberries to the state in 1945. Always, they have the jump on the season.

Pajonas Leads Boston as Jervis Plays Well; Swasey Team Tackles MIT Next

Paced by Al Pajonas and Mike Azone, both of whom scored 16 points, Northeastern defeated New Hampshire's varsity hoopmen, 50-29 last Friday night in Boston. It was the second win for the Huskies over the Wildcats, the first game having ended in a 54-47 decision.

Sophomore Fred Jervis, with 8 points and Hal Monica with 7 points, were high scorers for the Swaseymen. Maurice Pinks was the defensive star for New Hampshire as he held Pajonas the comparatively low 16 point total. Going into the game, the Northeastern star, who is the highest scoring forward in New England intercollegiate basketball, had boasted a 22-point average.

Frosh Win

In the preliminary game, the Kittens nosed out the Northeastern Frosh, 34-33. Nick Bograkis scored 10 points to lead the Frosh to their third victory in four games. Two weeks ago, Northeastern triumphed in the frosh game, which was played in Durham, 30-26.

The summary of the varsity game:
Northeastern

Plymouth Ski Club Takes Top Honors for Day; Conditions Poor

Eddie Blood's ski aspirants traveled to Cranmore Mt. Sunday and finished second to Plymouth Ski Club in a field of twenty teams. The race was run over a three quarter mile course set up by Hannes Schneider, Eastern Slope Ski School instructor. Waxing for the race was very difficult because of the changing temperature which made conditions variable, changing three times during the two runs.

Howie Chivers, former Dartmouth and Olympic star, and present Gould Academy teacher-coach, was the individual winner of both runs, leading the field of one hundred runners. Eddie Cole of the Plymouth Ski Club was second. The first Wildcat man to finish was Billy Keough, skiing on the New Hampshire "B" team placing third, which is very excellent work due to the fact that it is the first competition race he has participated in this season. Ralph Townsend and "Curly" Knowlton finished seventh and eighth respectively. Running on the "A" team were Captain Bobby Clark, Ralph Townsend, Curt Chase, and Curley Knowlton.

The "B" team, led by Bill Keough, finished in fifth place, followed by the "C" team in ninth position. Running on the "B" team were Bill Keough, Roger Howard, Richard Howard, Ray Churchill, and on the "C" team Ray Bowles, Al Merrill, John Atwood and John Bailey.

Summary:

1. Howie Chivers, Gould Acad. ... 3:35.8
 2. Eddie Cole, Plymouth S.C. 3:44.8
 3. Bill Keough, UNH 3:45.6
 4. Ollie Cole, Plymouth S. C. 3:48.8
 5. Sid Russell, Pleasant Mt. S.C. 3:49.4
 6. John Hibbard, Plymouth S.C. 3:52.6
 7. Ralph Townsend, UNH 3:53.2
 8. Steve Knowlton UNH 3:53.4
 9. Fremont Ireland, Gould A. ... 3:53.6
 10. Arthur Gaudette, Eastern Slope Ski Club 3:55.2
- Team Scores:
1. Plymouth Ski Club 11:25.8
 2. UNH "A" 11:38.6
 3. Pleasant Mt. Ski Club 11:39.0
 4. Gould Academy 11:44.2

With the shortened exams in full swing, the attention of every individual including yours truly is focused on the passing of those exams. Through the confusion that these difficult times bring comes a very important statement from the athletic department that the sports program will not be curtailed but rather all efforts will be dedicated to the expansion of it in all possible ways. Dartmouth, in a frenzy, immediately cancelled the spring schedules as soon as the condensed term was thought out. The Big Green have reconsidered and decided that their move was premature. There have been rumors around that the axe would be swung on the annual interscholastic basketball tournament but it was definitely stated that it would be run off as previously planned. The only curtailment may come in the interscholastic track meet. It may be necessary that the meet be confined to New Hampshire schools only but we may be sure that there will be one. That will not alter the quality of the meet however. It will be an opportunity to see the New Hampshire tracksters in action on their own rooting grounds with real home talent as the mainstays.

* * * *

George Fielding's frosh basketball squad seems to be the only club on campus to be enjoying any certain amount of success. He has some fairly good players to work with and he seems to be getting the most out of them. Al Britton, Soc Bobotas, Bill Lewko, and Dick McDermott should prove very valuable to Hank Swasey in the future—that is, if he ever gets them. The main trouble is that Hank never has a chance to use them for their real worth. John DuRie's great team of a couple of years back never did the Wildcat skipper any good. That was the year that Art Zitrides led the Kittens flanked by Benny Suslak, Red Davis, Julius Freedman, and Joe Beaudin. Everyone of these boys has departed. Zitrides is pursuing his dental course at Tufts, Suslak left due to scholastic difficulties and has since joined the army after playing a stretch for the Derry Ganites. Feedman went to work in the navy yard at Portsmouth and Beaudin left school without the whys or hows ever being determined. Red Davis found Uncle Sam wanting him more than Swasey. All this adds up to this: Hank Swasey has no material! Yet because the team cannot beat its way out of a paper bag we all jump down the coach's throat.

Aggies Continue Winning Way at Expense of Traip

Dwight Richardson's Aggies basketball club rang up another victory on Friday evening. This time it was Traip Academy, of Kittery, Maine who were the victims.

Carl Brewitt again led the attack, dropping through twenty of a possible twenty-nine points.

For the losers Black was the big gun scoring sixteen of his team's total. The final score was 29-25 for the Aggies. This makes four straight for the boys.

Wildcats Smother Polar Bears II-4

Led by "Red" Adams, "Sophomore Sensation" of the current Wildcat sextet, the New Hampshire team rolled over Bowdoin College at Brunswick Friday evening by an 11 to 4 count.

Five goals and three assists were Adams' contribution to the cause which, by the way, must constitute some sort of a scoring record.

The game was played in sub-zero temperature and after the first period of play, the majority of the spectators withdrew to the warmer climes.

The game took three hours to play.

Summary:

New Hampshire		Bowdoin
Quinn	LW	Dolan
Adams	C	Hedges
Carlson	RW	Morse
Thayer	LD	Mudge
Perkins	RD	Rennan
Nugent	G	Eastman

New Hampshire scoring—Adams, Adams (Thayer), Carlson (Adams), Adams, Carlson (Adams), Carlson, Perkins, Quinn, O'Kane, Adams, Adams.

Bowdoin scoring—McClelland (D, Land), Dolan (Morse), Morse (Hedges), Mudge.

ELECTION NOTICE

An election for members of the committee in charge of the Chest Fund, sponsored by the three religious groups on campus and authorized by the Student Defense Committee will be held Monday, January 26 at the same time as the Granite Poll and the election of Carnival Queen.

Clayton Smith recently announced an expanded intramural sports program which is designed to benefit all those who are not concerned with organized athletics. It is hoped by all those on the intramural board and this column that all boys take every advantage that this worth while cause may offer. Every national figure from the president down to the lowest officer in the army has urged the expansion of athletics rather than its recession. More than ever before comes the need of healthy bodies and sound minds and in the face of the emergency all college athletic boards have made some provision to meet the requirement. Our university with about the best facilities of any college around offers a splendid opportunity for boys and girls to enjoy them selves along with performing a patriotic duty. Every boy should take this opportunity with the idea that it is a moral obligation and do everything in his power to make the program a success.

MURDER RING

Freshman Quintet Pins Northeastern By 34-33 Margin

Kittens Win Third Game In Row; Bograkis, Lewko Lead Fine Scoring Attack

The University of New Hampshire freshman quintet continued its spectacular pace last Friday night at Boston by revenging themselves as they pinned the Northeastern Frosh, who defeated the Kittens here previously, by the margin 34-33. After turning back the first-year quintets of Tufts and Boston University, the vastly-improved Kittens became the most successful sports organization on campus by winning over the Husky team that defeated them here in their initial clash of the season.

Guards Score

Playing determined basketball throughout the entire contest, the yearlings never once relaxed but made the Boston boys stay on the alert during every minute and finally edged them in the last few moments of the game. The high-scoring guards of the frosh continued their policy of sinking points to a high degree as Nick Bograkis, left guard, poured ten markers through the basket strings and right guard Bobotas tallied six points. This Greek combination promises to be one of the best guarding teams ever to come to this university.

The New Hampshire forwards, however, held their own in this game. Al Britton, who registered twenty-five points against Boston University, piled seven more to his increasing total and Bill Lewko, a fighting forward, rolled up eight points.

Meet Exeter Next

After dropping a 30-26 decision to Northeastern on January 7, the Kittens have enjoyed a sudden spurt which resulted in the defeats of Tufts, Boston University and now Northeastern. Tomorrow at 4 P.M. the yearling basketballers engage the Exeter courtsters here at Durham in their fifth tussle of the season, hoping to net their fourth straight victory. After this game they will have a lay-off until February 13 when they play Bridgton Academy at Durham. In fact, every game from now on will be contested here.

25 Varsity and Freshman Contests Will be Played

Although its academic work will be speeded up tremendously, the university will make no curtailment in its intercollegiate athletic program this year, it was announced today by the faculty committee on athletics.

Closing of the school year on May 9 will necessitate the cancelling of games scheduled after that date, but all other games will be played as slated. According to the committee, this means that at least 25 varsity and freshman contests will be played this spring, unless opponents believe such games might interfere with their own accelerated study programs.

It was also announced that the annual interscholastic basketball tournament on February 26, 27, and 28, and the annual interscholastic track and field meet on May 9 will be held as scheduled. According to the committee "if housing facilities in the fraternities and a sufficient number of officials, usually faculty members, are not available, the track meet will be organized for only state high schools. However, every effort will be made to arrange these facilities so that state preparatory and out of state high schools may be invited to compete."

According to the committee, because no final examination period has been scheduled as such, athletes will be excused from classes for athletic trips during the final days of each semester. Faculty members have been asked to let athletes make up any examinations missed.

Northeastern Downs Wildcats on Ice, 8-1; Fight Features Game

New Hampshire Unable To Stem Last Period Attack by Boston Players

Last Saturday afternoon at the local rink, the University of New Hampshire varsity hockey men dropped an 8-1 decision to the pucksters of Northeastern, although putting up a strong fight all the way and especially in the first two periods.

After having defeated Bowdoin's team the day before, the Wildcat forces coached by Al Sakoian since Tony Dougal was unable to be present due to certain difficulties, put up a determined battle in the first frame, holding the Boston boys to no goals and the period ended with no goals registered by either side.

In the second period, however, the Northeastern attack started to click as Conners went down the ice all alone to tally his team's first marker. About ten minutes later his teammate, O'Tenti, zipped one into the net to make the score 2-0 in Northeastern's favor with New Hampshire still unable to score. The Wildcat offense hadn't started to click as yet so that the visitors were at a two-point advantage when the second canto ended.

The third and final period saw one of the toughest frames seen here for a long time. The referees had an extremely difficult time in holding the players in check when a first-rate fight started in which practically every player participated to his best ability. Conners of Northeastern emerged from the tussle with a cut in his cheek. The Boston attack, however, began to get going and Northeastern led by a 7-0 score when Bob Quinn registered New Hampshire's only goal. The final score read 8-1 for Northeastern when the final whistle blew.

New Hampshire's freshmen put up a much better battle before losing 5-4 the Husky puckmen. The Frosh are due to tackle Lawrence Academy tomorrow afternoon at Durham in their next clash.

The Dougalmen are slated to play Middlebury today at Middlebury in their next clash.

Seven penalties were called as a result of the fight that occurred in the last period. Quite a number!
