CHEST FUND GOES OVER TOP

$1340 Collected by Committee; Expect to Hit $1400 Mark

$1,340! This is the amount of money collected up until noon today by the College Chest committee in its first annual drive for the benefit of many charitable organizations. Although a detailed report of all contributions received won't be available until early next week because of the late returns which are still coming in, the committee feels confident of reaching the $1,400 mark, exceeding by $400 the goal which had been set.

Approximately half of the total sum collected came as voluntary contributions from classes and campus organizations while solicitors collected the other half from students in a room-to-room canvass. Individual contributions averaged about 40 cents and ranged anywhere from 10 cents to $3.00. Largest single organization contribution came from the Class of 1944 which gave $150.

The success of the drive was due in no small part to the fine work and splendid cooperation of the 150 solicitors who worked in every dormitory, fraternity, and sorority to collect money for this worthwhile cause. Student response to the campaign exceeded all expectations with many undergraduates making real sacrifices to give to the fund. Many who were not contacted because they lived in private homes off campus were so anxious to give that they came to the Student Council office where solicitors were checking in and made voluntary contributions.

It was impossible to show final results of the drive on the thermometer at T hall arch yesterday because the indicator was damaged beyond repair late Wednesday afternoon when a strong wind tore it from its moorings.

Although this was the first drive of its kind ever conducted on campus, expenses were held to an extreme minimum and when final tabulations are complete they will be practically negligible. In spite of the fact that a small carry over fund will be set aside to continue the Chest work next year, it is fairly certain that almost $1,300 will be divided among nearly a dozen organizations for relief work before the close of the semester in May.

There will be an opportunity for solicitors who have yet to report to do so this afternoon at Ballard hall 309, between four and six o'clock.

Dance Winds Up Greek Activities

Ushering in Greek Week activities was the opening session of conferences with Dean Alexander and Dr. Shimer on Thursday at 4:15. Reports were given by Bing Millar and Al Greenwood, both of whom served as presidents this past year. At 7:00 p.m. a banquet was held at Commons with guest speakers: Hamilton W. Baker, vice-chairman of National Interfraternity Council; and President Fred Engelhardt.

Today from four to five p.m. were group meetings at Murkland. These meetings were held between presidents and advisors; social chairmen; treasurers; and board managers.

The Pan-Hellenic dance from 8 to 1 a.m. tonight winds up the events of Greek Week.

Sphinx is a service organization designed to promote goodwill between the university and visiting teams. Members of this society meet buses and trains bearing teams and act as hosts to the coaches and athletes while they are on campus.

Student Photographs Now on Exhibition

Art Galli's "Las Floras" Takes Prize in Contest

Photography students, under Mr. Harland P. Nasvik's supervision, are exhibiting their work in the undergraduate reading room in the Library. Over twenty salon prints are shown on the south wall of the room, with subjects ranging from barren stretches of land to gurgling spring brooks.

Exceptionally fine work is being done and these prints are an example of it. Each student started forth at some time, armed with a camera, ambition, and ideas, to "shoot" what he considered would make an interesting subject. Returning to the darkroom he carefully developed the precious negative to insure perfect results. If, through the watchful processes of developing, fixing, washing, and drying, nothing happens to damage the soft gelatine, the negative must pass the careful scrutiny of searching eyes.

Careful Job

The student, after careful thought, places the negative of his choice into a good enlarger with the proper lens. Trial exposures are made to determine the correct exposure time, and at last, the paper is printed. Again, a trying system of developing, fixing, washing, and drying is gone through with careful nurturing for a perfect product. The result is squarely mounted upon a large 16" by 20" cardboard mount. Even now the work is not finished. Little white points must be spotted to keep them

Dr. Hugh V. White

Co-sponsored by the Student Christian Movement and the Student-Faculty Forum Committee, Dr. Hugh V. White, noted author and educator, will speak on "Religion, the Blood Donor of Democracy" Sunday night at 7:30 in Murkland Auditorium.

Dr. White, secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions, holds a unique place in international church circles as an interpreter of the spirit and philosophy of the Christian World Mission to the church and to the public at large.

Native of California

Born in California, Dr. White received the major part of his training in that state, being a graduate of the University of California, and holding an S.T.B. and D.D. from the Pacific School of Religion. He also received his Ph.D. from Leland Stanford. He joined the staff of the American Board nine years ago after special studies in comparative religion and the philosophy of religion. Before that he had been a successful pastor and teacher in the Hawaiian Islands and California.

Much in Demand

Dr. White is in demand as a lecturer on philosophy and a wide range of religious subjects, not only before churches and interdenominational groups but before students. Among the institutions at which he has given lectures are Hartford Seminary, Leland Stanford University, Chicago Theological Seminary, and Pacific School of Religion.

from distracting from the idea and all finger marks that may have been made with dirty hands must be erased. Finally the print is ready to be placed in a competition or on show.

Galli Winner

In this particular salon now on display in the library the winning print had for its subject an unusual group of flowers in a window. It is called "Las Floras" and was done by Art Galli.

Dr. Howard Thurman

In connection with the four-day religious conference being sponsored by the Student Christian Movement, Dr. Howard Thurman, dean of chapel at Howard University in Washington, D. C., will speak on Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 30 and 31, in Murkland Auditorium.

Liked by Students

Dr. Thurman is very well liked at student gatherings. Last year he gave the baccalaureate address at Colby Jr. College by request. He was also the main speaker at the mid-winter Northfield Conference in 1938 where he spoke on "What Is Our Christian Faith?" He has also spoken at National Student Assembly and at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. In 1938 he gave a lecture at the New England Student Conference at Camp O-AT-KA at Lake Sebago, Maine.

Besides his lectures, Dr. Thurman has written many articles in the "Intercollegian", the national magazine of the Student Christian Movement.

Speaks at Convo

Dr. Thurman will take "Religion in the Crisis" for his main topic. He will give a concluding address on Wednesday afternoon at the regular Women's Convocation. From here he will go to Detroit to give his regular Lenten Service which he has given for the past ten years.

Freedom is Made of Simple Stuff

"You cannot say what freedom is, perhaps, in a single sentence. It is not necessary to define it. It is enough to point to it.

"Freedom is a man lifting a gate latch at dusk and sitting for awhile on the porch before going to bed.

"It is the violence of an argument outside an election poll; it is the righteous anger of the pulpits.

"It is the warm laughter of a girl on a park bench.

"It is the rush of the train over the continent and the unafraid faces of people looking out of the windows.

"It is all the howdys in the world.

"It is Pegler telling Roosevelt how to raise his children; it is Roosevelt letting them raise themselves.

"It is Dorothy Thompson asking for war; it is General Hugh. S. Johnson asking her to keep quiet.

"It is a man cursing all the cops.

"It is the absence of apprehension at the sound of approaching footsteps outside your door.

"It is all the things you do and want to keep on doing. It is all the things you feel and can't help feeling.

"Freedom — it is for you."

Chest Fund Goes Over

Congratulations are in order for the University Chest Fund Committee for organizing and successfully running the best drive that this campus has ever seen.

To many who are unacquainted with the way a drive must be managed if it is to be successful, it must be pointed out that Chairman Bill Cone and his associates spent many hours on investigating other drives over different campuses. From the wealth of this experience they formulated plans that led to their finally going way over the quota of $1,000.

The individuals and organizations on campus were quick to respond to the call as was evidenced by the rising thermometer underneath the T Hall archway. Responses from 10c to $150 were received from individuals and organizations, and it was this unselfish giving that brought about the desired results.

Standing in front of T Hall Wednesday afternoon around 1:30, out of seventy-four people that passed, fifty-seven were displaying the tags that were given them after they had made their donation. If this average is indicative of the entire campus, the university administration should be proud of its student body.

Noted Author Discusses Poetry And Literature with Students

by Mimi Terhune

When a real poet comes to campus, it's time for a celebration. At least that's what the students who are interested in poetry and literature have felt for the last few days. John Holmes, a well-known New England poet, has been here to discuss with students their appreciation and understanding of literature, but mainly to criticize their writing and thus enable them to compose better verse and to develop more sureness than before. Many of the students found that the conferences really had something more to them, for they seemed to bring the poet much closer to the amateur student by talking with each other through the medium of an art.

Talks to Classes

Mr. Holmes also talked to several of Dr. Towle's classes, emphasizing the great influence of the war on poetry with reference to the work of some of his students at Tufts, where he is an assistant professor of English. He told that in the many papers handed in to him recently, there was an unusually

ROTC News

With so many students in doubt as to the regulations concerning the ROTC, the following will probably aid in clearing up some questions.

1. ROTC summer camps are discontinued for the duration of the war and six months thereafter.

2. ROTC graduates of the senior units who will, in 1942, have completed all requirements for a commission, including a summer camp, will be appointed Second Lieutenants, Officers' Reserve Corps, upon graduation.

3. ROTC graduates of senior units who will, in 1942, have completed all requirements for a commission, except a summer camp, will attend the basic course at the appropriate special service school following graduation. Upon satisfactorily completing this course they will be appointed Second Lieutenants, Officers' Reserve Corps.

4. Beginning in 1943, all ROTC graduates of the senior division, will be required to complete the basic or equivalent course at an appropriate special service school after completion of the ROTC academic requirements, and prior to being appointed Second Lieutenants, Officers' Reserve Corps.

5. Students will attend the special service schools in a cadet (ROTC) status. Standards demanded of ROTC cadets attending these courses will be identical in all respects with those of candidates attending officer candidate schools.

6. Military personnel on duty at civil educational institutions are available for ROTC instruction during the periods of the accelerated academic cycle hitherto normally allotted by institutions for vacations.

7. Military instruction will be given at University of New Hampshire to all regular enrolled advanced and basic course students who attend summer school sessions with a view of accelerating their graduation.

8. Regular enrolled advanced ROTC course students will receive the same commutation allowances during the summer sessions as those attending the regular college school year."

"Doc" Watson Leaves to Join Army Air Corps

Blair "Doc" Watson, a popular member of the senior class and a native of Hartford, Conn., has left for Maxwell Field, Alabama, to take up an active position with the Army Air Corps.

During his campus career, Blair was an active participant in Student Christian affairs, working closely with Bob James. He was the backbone of the Lens and Shutter Club, and Coach George Sauer's official movie photographer at the University's football games. Blair was an education major in the College of Liberal Arts and acquired a great deal of experience in the field of Visual Education while working for that department here at the University. He also took the CAA course during his sophomore year at school.

marked relief from war tension. There seemed to be a greater number of soliloquies than formerly and those seemed to be most evident in writing done by girls.

Guest of Folio

On Monday evening, Mr. Holmes, as guest of Folio, showed the galley proofs of Robert Frost's not-yet-published collection of poems, "A Witness Tree." Holmes is one of Frost's greatest admirers, friends, and students. During the evening, the poet read some of his own verse which will soon be published.

Holmes is a graduate of Tufts, which he entered as an engineer but he soon realized where his interests and talents really were and literature became his main concern from that time on. At present he is the editor of the "Tuftonian" to which anyone connected with Tufts may contribute. He is the author of three books—one, of humorous poetry, "Fair Warning"; a volume of serious verse, "Address to the Living," which contains "Brother to Brother"; and the third, "Poet's Work" contains his favorite excerpts from different poets.

Formerly Transcript Editor

He was formerly an editor of the Boston Transcript and is a contributor to the New Yorker and Atlantic Monthly and sometimes reviews for the New York Times. He is very interested in the Harvard records made in recent years by poets, one of which the university proudly possesses and he is also a staff member of the Writer's Conference.

"We're backing them up"

Marching right along with the armed forces of this country are thousands of telephone workers.

They work side by side with the Army and Navy. Wherever the need is communications, you are likely to find telephone men and their trucks and materials.

Day and night the order is for speed and more speed.

They wear no uniforms, these telephone workers, but men in uniform know how much they are putting into the Nation's biggest job. They see it first-hand and they know it is first-rate.

Sauer Takes Football Forces Outside Monday

There has been nothing doing in the spring football practise camp this week since all the other activities are in charge of the Field House but, weather permitting, Coach Sauer's spring football candidates will go out Monday afternoon for the first time.

Before getting down to actual pig-skin rehearsal, all the fellows will be put through a rigid conditioning exercise period. Any fellow on campus can go out for the conditioning exercises regardless of whether he's going out for football or not. After the exercises anyone not out for football may leave, but his attendance daily is required.

Two weeks ago the Sauer forces stressed fundamentals. This fundamental training continued for a week and then last week team play was stressed.

Scrimmage Held

Last Saturday the first scrimmage was held. It was not expected that smoothness would be outstanding because the boys had only a week in which to go through all the plays. It was a test to determine which of the candidates had fight, and the ability to readjust himself properly when combat conditions changed. For example: Sauer was interested in finding out what the fellows would do if the ball carrier expected a five-man line but instead a seven-man line appeared and things of that nature. Therefore, the scrimmage was ragged but fulfilled its purpose perfectly.

Thus far some fellows seem to show more promise than others, and if they continue their present rate of improvement, then they'll give the varsity plenty of competition next fall. There are some other fellows, however, who are naturally slow starters and who will hit their stride soon and overcome the pace set by the others. All in all, it's pretty hard to pick out stars just yet, they've all got a chance.

At the present time the fellows that show promise are Benson, Bobotas, Grant, Gleason, Henderson, Johnson, Jordan, Kemp, Ken Kenyon, Lane, McDermott, McReed, Rainey, Ricciardone, D. Smith, Soule, and Waterman.

Team Play Monday

Monday night team play will be stressed again. The candidates will go through sessions of ball-handling, passing, kicking, and running.

Spring practice will go on until the latter part of April so that it shapes up to be the longest session in history. Most of the fellows out now are freshmen, but some upperclassmen have showed up also.

Besides the men mentioned above, the following are reporting to Sauer: Doycos, Meserve, Cram, F. Wood, Trombly, G. Smith, Scannell, Reed, Rollins, Resnik, Rangazas, Quimby, Pino, Pashigian, Parker, Norman, Neal, Nareau, Monagle, Morse, Marshall, Lamond, Kuligowski, D. Kenyon, Judd, Huneston, Hastings, Handy, Kaselton, B. Hanson, H. Hanson, Gray, Goodfellow, Flis, Feubstein, Ellis, Cairns, Clesner, Clute, Catalfo, Borrok, Call Ackerman.

New Hampshire Marches On!

Athletic teams from the state of New Hampshire have been commanding bright spots on sports pages throughout the country lately. Boo Morcom, Ed Styrna, the Wildcat skiers, and the mighty Indians of Dartmouth all have contributed to put this state in the limelight of national recognition.

This spring Boo Morcom will have assistance from Styrna since Ed is a specialist in the discus throw, javelin, and hammer throws at this time of year. Our lacrosse team will be as strong as last year, and the baseball team will have a good season since the team will be somewhat strengthened over last year.

Coach Lundholm's plan to divide the present New England Hockey league into two different sections to make possible a playoff has sense, practicability, and seems destined to success. At present the powerful Boston College hockey specialists dominate the scene so that all phases of competition, and interest are at a low ebb. The creation of another league would stimulate interest so that a few more teams would seriously try to get in the playoffs.

Tennis Situation

Coach Fielding's tennis players are soon to get into action. The Wildcat courtsters in the last two years have been very successful in downing practically all opponents but this year it will be a little harder. Paul Conway, Charlie Piffard, and Joe Strock will not be back so that Frank Churas, Bill Feeney, Joslin, Jewell, and some others must carry on. This phase of New Hampshire athletics is somewhat neglected but they usually produce impressive records.

Swasey Needs Hitters

More hitting is necessary in order to fashion a winning baseball team here this spring. The season has been highly condensed so that on certain spurts there will be double-headers. Sheik Karelis, the ace twirler, will be unable to hurl all the games. Therefore, the other pitchers will need a little more help from the hitting department in order to hold up Sheik's pace, which, in our opinion, will be tops. Last year New Hampshire was weak in the hitting side of the game, so that it now appears as if Swasey's main problem will be to find hitters that can back up the pitchers.

We're lucky that we haven't been seriously affected by the loss of coaches. Stanford, Minnesota, Maine, and many other colleges have lost their ace football coaches, and it now seems that the army physical education program will demand more coaches.

The Frosh diamond team will be under the guidance of Carl Lundholm, who has just finished a successful season as Kitten hockey coach. Lundholm substituted for Hal Rood, who left the university to accept a position at Wakefield high school.

Dougalmen Complete Fortnight of Drill

Fielding Greeted by Racquet Candidates

Coach George Fielding's initial call-out for tennis candidates was answered by a large group of boys early this week, four of them lettermen.

With more than a month remaining before the opening match with Rhode Island, Coach Fielding will have ample time in which to look over the aspirants carefully and select his squad, which he expects to number about ten.

The first week or so will be devoted almost entirely to callisthenics but serving, receiving, and back-hand drills will also be worked on. Immediately after the spring vacation the hopefuls will buckle down to real hard work and have a chance to exhibit whatever talent they may possess.

Lettermen to Form Nucleus

The returning lettermen, who loom as the nucleus of the squad, are Bob Joslin, Elliot Jewell, Bill Feeney, and Frank Churas, all tried and capable ball-smashers. The genial young mentor hopes to be able to discover about six more players from among the large group who possess the tennis ability to compete in collegiate matches. With this done, he will proceed with more detailed and comprehensive instructions an easier task with a small squad.

Those reporting at the first session were the following: Charles Gorse, Bob Joslin, Fred Saunders, Fred Churas, Elliot Jewell, Bob Birnbaum, Al Jacobson, Dave Duggan, Tom O'Donnell, Hershie Clesner, George Riolo, Shep Fox, Alex Lesnevsky, and Walter Datkiw.

Varsity Baseball Candidates Report

Swasey Loses Richards; 29 Men Make Up Squad

The biggest news of UNH baseball this week is of the wrong type—it's bad. Phil Richards has found it impossible to play baseball this spring; therefore, Coach Henry Swasey is left with a large hole to plug up somewhere in the infield.

Nevertheless, hope still springs eternal in sports and so it is with the baseball situation; for a fairly large squad of 29 reported to Swasey at the first general practice, Tuesday, and out of the group of eight infielders who answered Swasey's call, someone must be brought along to fill Richards' shoes.

Will Keep Big Squad

This year, Swasey plans to retain a fairly large squad, just as he did during the basketball season with his hoopmen and again, as in basketball, he expects to divide the group into two and pit the B group against service nines.

One more catcher, Wallace Ackerman, has come out to raise the number of backstops to three. Nine men make up the pitching corps; there are eight men competing for infield jobs; and ten candidates are fighting it out for outfield posts.

PHI EPSILON

The meeting of Phi Epsilon scheduled for March 30 has been postponed until April 8th.

LOST

A Kenpipe with "plastic glass" stem—Please return to John Davis, SAE.

Monica, Improta, Mackel, Kalled Are Impressive

Stressing fundamentals and major principles, Coach Tony Dougal put his varsity lacrosse squad through a stiff practice session today completing their second week of drill with everyone just about rounded into shape.

With the good graces of the weatherman, the Dougalmen were able to hold most of their practice sessions outdoors this week and thus got accustomed early to the distance and feel of the field.

The mentor has been very well pleased with the work of the large group. He singled out Hal Monica, Patsy Improta, Ed Mackel, and Jim Kalled as the boys who showed the most ability during the first fortnight of practice. Others, he said, showed that they possess talent and should make the scramble for first team berths interesting.

Shifts Necessitated

Tony will undoubtedly have to do considerable position-shifting among his veterans as his losses from graduation, war service, and scholastic difficulties just about deleted his starting ten of last spring. He has already made two shifts, Phil Martin and Ed Mackel both going from defense to attack, and he is contemplating more.

The members of the squad are as follows:

Abell, Bedard, Blair, Call, Cattabriga, Cram, Cross, Darling, Duprey, Dyson, Hastings, Hinchley, Improta, Kalled, Katsiaticas, Kelleher, Lopeza, Lucy, McCrone, Mackel, Martin, Mathews, Monica, Mitchell, Niles, Pappas, Plumpton, Pointer, Rudd, Steele, Stevens, Thurston, and Wright.

Riflemen Shoot Into NIR Championships

Successfully winding up their season, Lt. Clarence Metcalfe's varsity rifleman defeated Northeastern, 1313-1311, in a shoulder to shoulder match at the local range.

Captain Webb Coombs, as usual, paced his team to victory with a 278, which was good enough to take scoring honors. Since Coombs fired a 286 against Connecticut in a postal match last Thursday, it may be that he is now leading the league because at last reports, MIT's Gannon was leading by a slender margin of .5 point.

Sport 9 and 6 Record

Excluding two postals, final results for which have not yet been reported, the New Hampshire riflemen have a winning 9 and 6 record. Home shoulder to shoulder matches with Harvard, Northeastern, and Boston University resulted in victories for the Wildcats while shoulder to shoulder encounters with BU and Northeastern, both of which were shot off on foreign territory, went the other way.

Being assured of a spot among the three top spots in this co-area, the Metcalfemen have, therefore, qualified for the National Intercollegiate Rifle Championships.

The frosh rifle team, which is also coached by Lt. Metcalfe, has wound up its season with a three and one record. In their only shoulder to shoulder contest, the Kittens defeated Harvard. In addition they turned back Andover and lost to Penn State in postal matches.

Scott Hall Plans Dance For Pan-Hell Week-end

On March 28 from 8 - 11:30 Scott Hall will hold a County Fair vic dance. Scott is the first group of girls to plan a house dance the night after Pan-Hellenic thereby making March 27-28 a gala week-end.

Sophie Pinska, chairman of the chaperone committee, has announced that Dr. and Mrs. Chapman and Prof. and Mrs. Kichline will be the chaperones.

Other committee chairmen appointed by Social Chairman Claire Richard are Sue Katzman, Music; Eunice Sander, entertainment; Ruth Nelson, refreshments; Sally Pearson, decorations; and Kay Shinney, programs.

Radio Class Airs Novel Comedy Today

Today's Mike and Dial broadcast was written, directed and cast by the members of Professor Cortez's English 39, or radio speaking class. This little radio drama written by Sally Sawyer Smith, was so well suited to the medium of radio that it was decided to present it on the regular Friday afternoon broadcast.

The cast included Barbara Lewando, Hope Leslie, Dorothea Dowell, Elwyn Dearborn, and Clayton Smith.

Its plot evolves around a radio studio in which the players are about to go on the air. Clashing in temperament are the members of the cast, the emotional highstrung singer who feels that her voice is so indispensable to the world. This emotional conflict results in a squabble, an amusing verbal bit of repartee, and then they discover that they are on the air. . . it all sounds amazingly like Rhapsody in Chaos. . . but the approach is so entirely different that one would not recognize the plot.

Committees Formed

At a recent Mike and Dial meeting two new committees were formed. The following were elected as a publicity committee: Miriam Eastman, Chairman; Jeanne Henry, Ted Davidson, Bill Diamond, and Sid Dimond. The other new committee has the difficult job of buying new records for sound effects. The committee consists of Elwyn Dearborn, chairman; Joyce Smith, Ted Davidson, and Sid Dimond.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS

The main part of the conference will be built around the informal discussions which will be carried on by the leaders in the various sororities and fraternities. The interviews with the leaders are a regular part of every conference and offer an opportunity for students to discuss problems in religion and social fields with people who are vitally concerned with such work. These leaders will be available at the times stated on Tuesday and Wednesday. Persons desiring interviews may be accommodated by calling 47 or by personal contact with the leaders.

Old Shorts, First Attempt At Full Length Picture Shown to Large Audience

The first showing of the film lecture series was presented in Murkland Auditorium on Wednesday evening, before a fairly large audience. This is the first of the series of four films, and adequately depicted the development of the motion picture from 1895 to 1912.

The first half of the presentation was composed of a series of comparatively short films. Among these were: "The Execution of Mary, Queen of Scots," which was produced in 1896, and shows us the rudiments of "slapstick" comedy, "A Trip to the Moon," filmed in 1902 by George Melies, who is considered to be the Orson Welles of the silent picture era, "The Great Train Robbery," made in 1903, representing the beginning of the use of logical sequence in the motion picture, and "Faust," one of the first films employing the use of trick photography. This film was made in 1910 and is the end of the embryonic period of motion pictures.

First Full Length Feature

The second half of the program was taken up with the first attempt at a full length feature, "Queen Elizabeth," filmed in 1912. This film featured the illustrious Madame Sarah Bernhardt, and was her first screen appearance before the American people. Although this film is a great improvement over the earlier pictures, it cannot be comparable to any of our modern films. The camera remains stationary during the entire shooting of the picture, and the perspective shots and long background scenes are fairly indistinct, and at the same time there are no good close ups. The entire arena of action occurs in an intermediate position. Since then, however, the use of the "dolly" has been employed. This apparatus enables both the camera and the photographer to be moved in any direction at any desired time.

Although piano accompaniment was lacking because of the extremely late arrival of the musical scores, the films were enjoyed by everyone. The next program, which is to be shown on the 8th of April, will be "The Rise of the American Film." These pictures will have full piano accompaniment.

Rockport, Mass. — (ACP) — It's a long stretch from first violin to fourth down, but Donald C. Greason, artist, has successfully bridged the gap.

Greason, whose studies of the Boston Symphony orchestra won him fame, has concluded a folio of paintings and drawings made on the "playing fields of Harvard."

The Men's Glee Club is now grinding away in high gear preparing for the Pleasure Time National Glee Club Competition which is under the sponsorship of Fred Waring and the makers of Chesterfield cigarettes.

This week rehearsals were scheduled for every day. All the men have been thoroughly trained by Mr. Bergethon, and visible improvement has been made since last Monday. At that time the Glee Club made recordings of some of their songs for experience.

Will Choose Recordings

Recordings, which will be made next Tuesday, will be used by the Waring organization to choose the better glee clubs in the several regions that have been formed. Hence every effort is being made for the University's Men's Glee Club to be perfect.

Colleges from all over the nation have entered the contest with the result that some of the keenest competition will be heard. However, all clubs represented in the PTNGCC will be judged by men who have had experience with glee club singing.

Waring started this idea of singing competition because he realizes that singing is a popular entertainment that will not die and one that will continue to come from colleges.

Waring Movie

Back in 1936 he went to Hollywood to make a movie, "Varsity Show." The picture starred his whole group and when Hollywood saw that group, it wanted many of them. It took his arranging staff, Frank Perkins, Gene Conklin, Johnny Davis, and Rosemary and Priscilla Lane.

The loss of these people was a blow but it was taken care of. Their ranks were filled with others—just as talented and just as versatile. He came back in 1937, with swing, something new in those days, his same outstanding personality as a showman, and a new idea, the "vochestra," an orchestra in which voices are used as instruments. The Waring Glee Club started for bigger and better things, and Waring started to emphasize singing.

Well-Knit Organization

Out of this well-knit organization comes a man to help the Pleasure Time glee clubs. Leo Bernache will assist and advise in auditioning and cutting recordings. Mr. Bernache, a graduate of Dartmouth, sang as a soloist in the Glee Club, sang in the College Quartet and was pianist in the College Orchestra. In the musical shows he had certain "lady" parts. He has sung in the

Aide Vera Lang

Also a member of Alpha Xi is Vera Lang, the other aide. Her activities include the honorary Economics Society, the Outing Club, Psychology Club, Secretarial Club, Granite, Big Sister Committee, and French Club.

Carl Carlson, president of the junior class, will present the Queen and her aides to those in attendance at the Ball during the intermission. President Engelhardt will then give to Miss Walsh the queen's cup, emblematic of her selection as being the most attractive and outstanding member of the class of '43.

Radio City Music Hall Glee Club and was a soloist in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Novel Ideas

Waring himself has no little reputation. Starting with an orchestra composed of young fellows who played numerous instruments he has reached his present pinnacle through natural hard work and novel ideas. Even this early orchestra used the voices of its members to carry the melody. In 1939 he wrote "Hail to Colby" for Colby College, Colby, Maine, and since then its success has prompted his writing of over seventy-five prep school and alma mater songs. Besides the Pleasure Time broadcasts five times a week, and its rehearsing, Waring is chairman of a board made up of over two hundred song pluggers and publishers, and right now he's trying to raise money for an ambulance to send to the second A.E.F.

Sweetmen Start Spring Practice

One of the largest number of track aspirants in recent years, both varsity and freshmen, signed up for the spring athletic diversion this week and immediately went into training for their respective opening meets, the varsity's being April 24 and the freshmen's scheduled for April 22.

Scores of lads have ambition to secure places in the running and field events, a fact which should make the competition keener than ever.

Working on Memorial Field

The scene of practice sessions has been shifted from the Lewis Field track to the Memorial Field cinder-paths. This move was necessitated as a result of the work now being done on our former track, which is a little out of condition due to the winter snows.

Many of the trackmen who signed up are veterans from the winter track squad who performed so well on the boards.

Varsity tracksters:

Baker, Balch, Bell Brown, Cannel, Chase, Cram, Foster, Goddard, Holmes Hyldborg, King, Linnell, Lowry, McKeagney, Morcom, Murphy, Neal, Pushee, Smith, Stiles, Styrna, Whitehead, Wieland, and Woodward.

Faculty Members to Attend Conference

Three university faculty members will attend a conference at Dartmouth's Thayer School of Civil Engineering at Hanover, Sunday. The main purpose of the conference will be a discussion of aerial bombardment protection for the states of New Hampshire, Maine, and Vermont.

Representing the University's Engineering, Science and Management Defense Training program will be Prof. L. W. Hitchcock, acting dean of the College of Technology. Prof. R. R. Skelton, who recently attended a special 10-day school at New York university on bombardment protection, will attend as one of the instructors who will conduct similar courses in the three northern New England states. Prof. Arnold E. Hanson will attend as the University's coordinator of defense training activities.

State Directors to Attend

The three state directors of Civilian Defense and representatives from the University of Maine, Norwich University, and Dartmouth College will also be present at the Hanover conference.

The conference will map plans for an efficient, travel-saving division of the task of bombardment protection instruction in New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont. It is expected that territories to be served by instructors from the participating colleges will be divided without regard to state boundaries.

The course at New York, attended by Professor Skelton, was given for engineers, architects, and engineering teachers. The purpose was to enable them to repeat similar courses for engineers and architects in their own localities.

Columbus, Ohio — (ACP) — Mrs. F. L. Fenner saw four of her children graduated from Capital university.

Then she decided to attend college herself. She and her daughter, Jean, are enrolled in the same classes at Capital.
