Join UNH Cooperative Extension's Jim Frohn, Grafton County Forester, and Matt Tarr, State Specialist - Wildlife Habitat, for a leisurely afternoon walk to explore field, forest and wetland habitats on the Grafton County farm. Together, we'll identify the different trees, shrubs (and some herbaceous plants) we encounter, discuss how these plants function as wildlife habitat, observe and discuss any wildlife we see along the way, and discuss things you can do on your land to maintain and enhance habitat for wildlife.

Bring binoculars, footwear and clothes suitable for the weather and moderate off-trail walking, water, and any snacks you'll want during our walk.

The University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension is an equal opportunity educator and employer.
