Importance of College Stressed at Convo

Blue Key, Sphinx, Mortar Board, Student Council, Stu. G., Skulls, Presented

Stressing the importance of college next year was the keynote at convo yesterday afternoon when the members of Sphinx, Blue Key, Mortar Board, WAA, Student Council, Women's Student Government, and Skulls were presented to the student body and the faculty.

The presidents of these various organizations were presented by Ray Doyle, outgoing president of Student Council, in order that the audience might be better acquainted with these students who have been and will be of outstanding merit and service to the university. Doyle complimented the outgoing presidents when he praised them for the good job they have done during this difficult year and he warned the incoming presidents that next year is going to be even tougher.

Organization Presidents

Last Mike and Dial Weekly Production

Mike and Dial broadcast its last weekly program of the semester this afternoon at 4:45 over the currents of WHEB, when they presented "The Sketch."

This play was arranged for radio by Suzanne Katzman from a 19th century ghost story by Erckmann-Chatrian, and was directed by Alice Moran. The characters were portrayed as follows: Gautier, Herman Skoffield; Von Richter, Elbert Kapit; Hauptmann, Dave Hewitt; Guard, Bob Demming; Mlle. Durand, Betty Jo Weaver; Land lady, Ann Taylor; and Butcher, Phil Dodge. Frank Blair announced the program.

Summer Mil. Art.

All students who are planning to enroll in any of the Military Science courses this coming summer session are requested to register at the Registrar's Office on either Monday or Tuesday, April 20 and 21. This information is requested by the War Department in order to determine the number of summer uniforms that need to be provided. All basic and advanced courses in both the Infantry and Coast Artillery units will be open for registration in the summer session.

Eight Girls Taken Into Mortar Board Tuesday Night

Dotty Kimball Elected Pres.; Mirmie Eastman is Vice President

The other bids were given to Margaret Dower, Louise Griffin, and Jeannette Toohill.

Student Landlords Elect New Officers

The Student Landlords, organization of the hotel men on campus, have elected their new officers as follows: Manager, Al Condi; Assistant manager, Bill Snider; Host, Herb Smith; Steward, Parker Whitcomb; and Comptroller, Paul Lawler.

April 27 through 29 brings the New England Hotel Exposition to Boston and the university will be well represented by many of those taking the hotel administration course. These men will man the New Hampshire Hotel Association booth and take in the show in general. On Thursday there will be a luncheon of the hotel men of this state and a chance to meet many managers, owners, and others will be offered to those making the trip under the direction of Professor Starke.

Civil Engineers Elect DiMartino New President

At a recent meeting of the local student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, officers were elected for the coming year. Dominic DiMartino of Theta Kappa Phi was elected president succeeding Raymond Hastings of Lambda Chi Alpha. Robert Pope of Kappa Sigma, vice-president; Edward Gelt, secretary; and David Stuart, treasurer.

The president and vice-president were elected from the present junior class while the secretary and treasurer are sophomores.

Complete Program For Mothers Day

New Hampshire Hall will again be the place of registration for the Seventeenth Annual Mother's Day. Identification cards, programs, and information may be obtained there. An exhibit under the direction of Harland P. Nasvik, university photographer, will be placed in the hall for the enjoyment of the registrants.

On Saturday, April 25, classes will be dismissed at 9 in the morning to enable students to meet their mothers and to take them to the various exhibits that will be in many of the buildings and to enable the mothers to meet members of the faculty. The Library exhibit and all other exhibits will be open by 10 o'clock. At 11, the ROTC will march on Memorial Field. Members of the Sphinx and other organizations will act as guides, but students will go about the campus informally.

Freshmen who are alone must eat in the Cafeteria. Upperclassmen will be served in the Dining Hall at 11:30 and freshmen at 12:30.

A sparkling review brimming with all the frills of a Broadway musical comedy, opened last night at New Hampshire Hall. It was titled "Katy Cadet" and to say that the premiere was a success would be putting it mildly.

A capacity house roared its approval of the 1942 Granite Varieties production and elevated "Katy Cadet" to the prominent place taken by this theatre group's two former offerings.

Spiced with Originality

Spiced with originality in music and staging and possessing several distinctly ultra-modern dancing acts, the show proved itself to be the most spectacular of any yet produced on this campus. And to director Elwyn Dearborn goes the lion's share of the credit for the uniqueness of the production.

Through the medium of a student-made motion cartoon, the scene was set in Faraway, a planet millions of light years from earth. Here a rather weak plot began to evolve when the peaceful home of "Katy Cadet" was threatened with war as the emotionless planet of Hydroslavia sought to wipe from existence all astral bodies experiencing any emotions. The situation is saved however, as love triumphs and the love-less Hydroslavians are captivated by the female pulchritude of Faraway's palace guard.

What to do---

"Shall I continue my education or enlist?" That question must be translated into another question before the college man can intelligently answer it for himself. "In what way can I, being the person that I am, best serve my nation in the war?"

According to the American Council on Education Bulletin the college man is offered three courses from which to choose: He may enlist; he may secure a position in some essential industry; or he may intensify his education and in so doing fit himself for a later place of leadership in the armed forces of the production world.

Even if he volunteers, however, provision may be made for him to continue his studies until he has completed his requirements for a degree. The service fields in which this provision is most likely are Advanced ROTC, Medicine, Dentistry, and Reserve Midshipman Training (V-7).

"There is today," the bulletin continues, "a pressing need (far greater than the supply) for technical and scientific personnel in industry, as civilian employees in the armed forces, and in other government capacities. Any preferred position, though, should be measured in terms of its ultimate and not its immediate personal value. The real question is this: Does my taking this job here and now make me a more effective fighter for my country than if I were to continue my preparation for a more important service later?"

With respect to the third alternative, continuation of study, there are nineteen professional and technical fields which have been listed for serious consideration for deferment in the light of a study of present and potential shortage of manpower.

It must be always remembered that the man who is granted occupational deferment is selected for deferment by his government. This places the deferred college man under an even more serious obligation than his classmates, but it makes his eventual worth to the nation that much greater.

Any Bikes Today? Yes? Well, Rent Them to the Outing Club

In order not to be completely stumped by the lack of transportation facilities during the rest of the school year, the Outing Club has planned to run a week-end bicycle trip. The success of this trip depends largely on the cooperation of the students and members of the faculty who own bicycles and who would be willing to rent them for a week-end.

The Outing Club hopes that there will be enough response to this plea so that the trip can be scheduled for the week-end of May 2-3. If you are willing to help will you please send a postcard indicating the type of bicycle, state of repair, and your address to Judy Austin, Alpha Xi Delta, Durham? You will be paid $2.00 for the week-end.

I.O.C.A. Meeting

As far as possible the Outing Club will try to carry out all trips as planned and Mendum's trips will be run rain or shine. This week-end Dave Sleeper, Judy Austin and Ray Doyle have been sent as delegates to the I.O.C.A. meeting at the Dartmouth Outing Club shelter on Mt. Moosilauke.

Greek World

Kappa Delta: We are all out for defense. The girls are bringing money for defense stamps each week and by May we hope to have a bond. . . . Four of the girls are in the local Canteen Service Corp. . . . Others are taking the first aid course. . . and the quota go to U.S.O. dances each week. . . Anita Chase is the newly elected secretary of the Home Economics club. . . A White Rose banquet is being planned for next Tuesday at the Commons. The guest speakers will be Mrs. James Funkhouser and Miss Eleanor Sheehan.

Phi Alpha: Pettee House and Phi Alpha will houl a joint house dance tonight at Phi Alpha. . . Professor and Mrs. Albion Hodgdon and Professor and Mrs. Herbert Carroll will chaperone. . . District Supreme Grand Regent will visit the house this week-end. . . Brother Sam Askenazy has been elected to Skulls, senior honorary society.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Saturday's spring cruise to Mendum's had to be called off due to unfavorable weather conditions. However a buffet supper was served at the house with a great crowd present. The supper was followed by a very colorful house dance. . . Tom Hunter and Don Beggin spent the week-end in Durham. Don is in training for the Air Corps.

Alpha Tau Omega: Bob Clark took the big step last week-end at Littleton, Mass. Net result is that a very nice young woman who was formerly known as Miss Jane Robinson is now to be known as Mrs. Robert Miller Clark. Bob seems to have had most of the luck last week-end since the boys who went down to lend their mental support had a little automobile trouble after the wedding. For complete details about this see either Rog Marshall or Ralph Grindle. . . Art Graham, who left to carry a rifle for Uncle Sam is now stationed at Camp Croft, North Carolina. Alumnus Buck Buchanan who is stationed at Camp Deven, is to be sent to an officers training school any day now. . . Neal Batchelder is now an ensign in the Navy. He doesn't leave to begin his training until this summer, but he was officially launched and christened last week in the brook that runs through the rear of our property. It is hoped that no official action will be taken by Uncle Sam against Brother Ensign Batchelder's dunkers.

Phi Delta Upsilon: The spring house dance was one of the most successful ever held here. Working on the theme "Surrealistic April," the architects bore the brunt of the decorating with their paintings. We did not realize that the house contained so much artistic ability. The Sunday dinner of roast turkey was enjoyed by the brothers and their guests. Alumni Philip Edson, Ed Wheeler, and Frank Perron returned for the gala week-end. . . Ivan Gibbs returned from his defense job to be with us over the week-end.

Phi Mu Delta: Obie White, our genial cook, came home from Exeter hospital last week after a strenuous session with bronchitis and an operation. He's glad to be home again but it will be two weeks before he'll be able to cook again. . . Meanwhile Mrs. White is ruling with an iron hand in the kitchen. . . Brother Dave Hopkins has accepted a $600 scholarship for graduate study at Harvard. . . Ex-Prexy Nate Babcock returned from Exeter hospital to his home last week after having a toe amputated. He'll carry on, though, as co-musical director of the "Katy Cadet" show. . . Brother Chuck Kimball is now in the army taking a special course in meteorology at M.I.T. The course prepares one to be a weather forecaster for the Army Air corps. He reports that the course is plenty tough—the boys receiving in two or three days all of the calculus and then going into vector analysis. . . Brother Mal Smith has made Kappa Delta Pi. . . Brother Brag Hanson was elected president of the honorary physical education society last week, and Prexy Sid Dimond was named vice president of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary speaking organization.

Wartime Problems To be Discussed

School Officials Meet College Educators

New Hampshire superintendents, headmasters, and principals will meet with college educators here Monday, May 11, to examine together their joint wartime educational opportunities and responsibilities.

The complete program for their meeting, the Fifth Annual Spring Conference on Problems and Secondary and College Education in New Hampshire, was recently announced by Professor A. Monroe Stowe.

Earl T. Tracy, superintendent of schools at Nashua, will preside at the morning session, which will be devoted to discussion of wartime problems in areas of health and physical education.

Speakers at the morning meeting will be F. W. Marony, M. D., chairman of the Department of Hygiene at Brooklyn college; Carl Lundholm, director of physical education and athletics at the University; Margaret R. Hoban, director of physical education and athletics for women; and Dr. Herbert A. Carroll, associate professor of psychology.

Stoddard Addresses Luncheon

Alexander J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools at Philadelphia, Pa., will address the luncheon at noon. Registrar Everett B. Sackett will preside.

The afternoon session will consider problems in the teaching of social studies and the impact of war on literature and languages. Murray G. Wright, principal at Nashua, will be chairman.

Discussing social studies will be Headmaster Willis B. Gifford, Laconia, Headmaster L. Munro Grandy, Lebanon; and Headmaster Austin J. McCaffrey, Newmarket.

Speakers for the section on teaching languages and literature will be Bessie C. Rowell, principal of Daniell junior high school at Franklin, and Newell J. Paire, principal of Rundlett junior high school annex at Concord. All sessions will be held in the Trophy room of the University Commons.

Pi Lambda Sigma: Ex-prexy Albertine Phaneuf was recently elected to Mortar Board and Kay Sullivan retired from the same organization.

Speaking of "prexies" we have a new one, as a matter of fact, we have an entirely new administration—Dottie McCready is taking the seat of honor this time. Mary Pluff is vice president; Claire Langley, secretary; Helen Dobek, treasurer, and the social editor was also elected. . . At National Inspection Tuesday evening, we discussed the National Convention to be held in June, but the question is where is it going to be! . . . Three of the Pi Lambda's were elected to Newman Club offices at recent elections: Esther V. (for victory) Doyle is on the executive committee, Rae LaFlamme is vice president and Dottie Harkins, corresponding secretary. . . At our pledge tea Thursday afternoon, Anne Hall and Ruth Nelson were welcomed as new pledges. . . The Posture and Poise contest sponsored by the W. A. A. is in full swing. Five nominees one of whom will be elected to represent the sorority, were chosen at a recent meeting: they are Mary Griffen, Rachel LaFlamme, Claire Langley, Esther Doyle, and Dottie Harkins.

Sakoian's Career Cut Short by Disease

Trouble is Similar to Lou Gehrig's; Had Hoped For Induction into Army

Al Sakoian will probably never participate in athletics again!

This is the sad news that came out of a physical examination that "Sakie" took preparatory to what he thought and hoped would be his induction into the United States army. For years, Sakoian has been an outstanding athlete—first in high school, then at Tilton Prep, and finally here at the University. He's big and strong; so naturally he thought little of the examination.

Recovery Probable

However, upon examination, doctors found that a disease similar to the one which fatally attacked Lou Gehrig had already destroyed the thigh muscle of Al's left leg. It is obvious, therefore, that the disease is serious. Nevertheless, the doctors have stated that if Sakoian follows their treatments—which include heat applications—he has a good chance to recover.

Thus is brought to an unfortunate end the career of one of New Hampshire's best athletes. Sakoian was one of varsity football coach George Sauer's star linemen. In addition, he was captain elect of the 1943 hockey team.

Dougalmen will Meet Dartmouth Monday

Monica & Co. Ready for Short But Tough Schedule

Tony Dougal's varsity lacrosse squad is hard at work at Lewis Field, rounding into shape for their first encounter against the crack Dartmouth Indians on this coming Monday. The Hanover outfit is the top ranking outfit in New England but the New Hampshire team of this year is a team of veterans who for the most part have been working together for a season or two, so should give the "Big Green" plenty of trouble.

Dartmouth is fresh from a 10-0 victory over Tufts, which should indicate how powerful a team the Indians are, while the Wildcat team hasn't a game under their belt as yet, for the past two seasons they have been one of the top teams in the New England circuit.

The "Blue and White" will probably line up something like the following for the Dartmouth encounter; at the mid field posts will be Captain Hal Monica, "Pep" Poynter and Bill Dupre; at attack Bill Rudd, Jim Kalled, and Phil Martin seem to have the call; at the defense post Bill Call, Howard Darling, and Will Hastings will see plenty of action while the veteran Patsy Improta will be in the net. Also showing up well are Smokey Kelleher and Tom Niles.

Two years ago the Wildcats won the league championship but last year Dartmouth took it. This year the great Dartmouth team started the season by dropping a close 9-8 decision to Navy but seems to have regained its power again. The clash here will be one of the best of the year.

Theta Chi Out!

Last week a band of basketeers from Theta Chi entered the soldiers basketball tournament at Portsmouth, saying they represented the University of New Hampshire R.O.T.C. In the first game they defeated the Creek A.C. of Portsmouth in an overtime period.

Then in the next game the fast-stepping Wildcats clawed the Headquarters Battery B, 1st Battalion, by an impressive 72-30 score. It appeared as if the Durham squad would enter the finals and possibly clinch the awards, when the Tournament committee disqualified them, saying some of the players weren't enlisted in the R.O.T.C.

Big Issue

The matter became a big issue in the port city. The sports editor of the Portsmouth Herald wrote against it and the following is a portion of a letter to the editor appearing in the Herald:

"The disqualifying of the Theta Chi team was the lowest piece of business I've ever read about. Some of those other teams love to dish it out but they can't take it when it's dished out to them. Sportsmanship with a yellow tinge. Disgusted."

The strong Theta Chi quintet was composed of Frank Hill, Bob Wheeler, Bill Snider, Stacey Clark, Bob Joslin, John Greenaway, Bob Stafford, and George Pasachuke.

Rams Strong

Rhode Island began its baseball season the other day by trouncing Boston University 9-1. The Rams have a strong club this year and in their spring sports magazine stated that their toughest opponent will be the University of New Hampshire. At the present time Coach Swasey is confronted with the problem of transporting his diamond aggregation to Kingston. As yet he hasn't any definite available bus or cars.

A recent release from the Gallop Poll Institute of Public Opinion states that a large majority of the American people are in favor of continuing professional sports and this department, along with President Roosevelt, is solidly behind the idea. There are some individuals who think that types of recreation should be abandoned so that the people will become more serious about the war, but we see no merits to this argument.

Wildcats Prepare to Face Lowell Textile Weather Slows Work

Pitchers Unable to Do Best Because of Coldness; Hitting, Fielding Good

The varsity baseball squad is engaging in heavy practices outside now in preparation for the oncoming season with the greatest of confidence. The batters are showing good form and are impressing Coach Swasey very much and the fielding seems to be in good shape.

Pitching Hampered

The pitching has been hampered a great deal by the bad weather thus far so that the pitchers are not really up with the hitters yet. Swasey hasn't as yet told his twirlers to let loose with everything that they've got because of the cold weather and he won't do so until it gets warm enough. This is the only catch in the baseball spring training camp.

Sheik Karelis is the outstanding twirler but the team needs more than one pitcher in order to hold more than its own in competition. Dupell had quite a lot of experience in the Manchester league last year so he's in shape to do his part, and Fred Draper saw some service last year and probably will see more this year.

Adams Made Outfielder

Red Adams pitched for the freshman squad last year but Coach Swasey decided to use him all the time instead of once in a while because of his all-round ability, especially his hitting. Therefore, he was made an outfielder instead of being just another pitcher.

Paul Nugent hasn't been on the Wildcat baseball squad during his college career. He was seen playing impressively in soft ball and was given a try-out at the varsity first base berth. Paul has proved to be a hard hitter and holds the edge on the first base job at the present time but Roy Goodfellow may edge him out. That's how tight the battle is in that department.

Charron Good Utility Man

Fred Charron looks like the best utility infielder on the squad. Whenever anything happens to one of the first-string infielders, Fred will be available and according to Coach Swasey, he'll fill the hole out satisfactorily.

At the present time there are 22 men left on the squad and most of them will remain on the team for the remainder of the season.

Northeastern looks like the strongest nine we'll face this year. Practically every position is being filled by a veteran, and most of the veterans are good fielders and hitters. Swasey thinks that Northeastern will be very tough and that Rhode Island will also be tough. This was proved when the Rams defeated Boston University by a lopsided 9-1 score.

Lowell First

The first game will be against Lowell Textile here on Mother's Day. It looks like a great treat for the parents of the students. Karelis will start the game but may be relieved by the fourth or fifth inning. Nothing much is known of Lowell this year since it doesn't send out information sheets, but nevertheless the Wildcats will be favored to be victorious.

Season Opens

How about a good turnout for the tennis match with the Franklin Tennis Club tomorrow and the varsity lacrosse game with the Dartmouth Indians? It will be the first outside competition for both teams; so they should be on their toes. And there is nothing like strong support to keep them that way.

Varsity Strong in Field Events But Weak in Running; Frosh Good

The University of New Hampshire tracksters are rapidly rounding into shape for the oncoming season. Both the freshman and varsity squads are working out daily, first going through preliminary limbering-up exercises and then doing their specialty, like running, vaulting, etc.

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday the trials for all the various feats were held so that Coach Sweet will know just who is available for all the numerous events.

The names of winners of all the trials will be printed in the next issue but the varsity squad thus far seems to be weak in running events and much stronger in the field events.

Lowry Good

Wayne Lowry is the ace runner, especially in the 1000-yard run, and he gave Don Burnham good competition at Dartmouth, and ran especially well at the Tufts games.

In the field events the Wildcats are much more powerful. Boo Morcom and Ed Styrna will team up together again in vaulting, javelin, shot put, discus throw, broad jump and high jump and are destined to continue their fine showing of last fall. Styrna is more capable in the spring events than he is in the fall and this fact will enable New Hampshire to pile up more points and thus more wins.

Frosh Impressive

The freshman squad is more formidable in the running department. Koumantzelis and Scannell made an impressive record last fall in the running distances, and are practicing to repeat their good performances. Cram is working hard at the field events, especially the shot put.

The weather has hampered the practice somewhat during the last two week but the last three days have been good enough to have strenuous drills.

Coach Sweet has been telling some of his candidates to take it easy since they started running a little too early and developed slightly sore muscles. But on the whole, the situation is well in hand.

Tennis Squad Faces Strong Franklin Team

Coach George Fielding has cut his squad down for probably the last time and is devoting his time to getting the fellows in first-class condition for the first clash with the Franklin city team on Saturday afternoon here at Durham.

The Franklin team is composed of many veterans who know all phases of the game and these players usually put up good resistance in all departments. Last year the Wildcats had a difficult time with them.

Maine Game First

The first game of the season as far as intercollegiate competition is concerned comes on April 30 when the Fielding forces take on Maine here. Last year the men from Maine defeated the Wildcats by a close margin in which the last match decided the final outcome. Therefore, this will be one of the best game meets of the year here.

Frank Churas, Bill Feeney, Bob Joslin, Elliott and Al Jacobson are leading the candidates thus far and may compose the starting lineup for New Hampshire but Dick Ordway, Bob Gardner, Ed Mihalski, Mike Satzow, and Scott Randall may see plenty of action before the season is completed.

State-wide Defense Drive Opens Soon

John Davis Heads Student Committee; Warren Horton Publicity Head

What can I do for national defense? How often we hear that question and But there is no need for any of us not how often do we ask it of ourselves? making a defense effort. A defense stamp drive will open throughout New Hampshire, and coinciding with this state drive there is going to be a campus drive so that we may do our part. The campus stamp committee has been organized for over a month, and is now ready to present the program to the students.

Every student will be asked to sign a pledge to invest any amount he can muster in defense stamps each week or month for the duration. If after signing the pledge one finds he can't possibly make the promised investment for a week because of financial reasons, he will not be held to his pledge. While we are at school gaining an education and are not participating in any real war activity, we have this opportunity to make up for our inactiveness in the military engagement by investing money in those who are in our armed forces and arms for factories. $6,000 a Week

Some pessimists and complacent people, not realizing we are in a tough war, may think that these pledges will be of little value to our war effort, but this is far from the truth. Efforts are being made in colleges over the country to have the students in the country invest ten cents a week. We can together lend the government $80,000 a week. Each ten cent stamp will support McArthur and his men, each stamp will strengthen our army, navy, and marines around the globe, and each stamp will help allied nations in their fight throughout the world.

After collecting $18.75 cents worth of stamps these can be exchanged for a victory bond, which matures in ten years, by which time, counting interest, it will be worth $25. Imagine investing money in such a great thing then receiving substantial interest in addition to the original investment.

These stamps represent an investment in freedom and a defense against Hitlerism. In space this reaches around the world; in time it will aid in purging the world of an unforgettable scourge.

Let's make an all out effort in this drive for pledges! Let's show the patriotism of this campus by the number of pledges we make! Make your pledge as soon as possible!

100 Students Attend Press Convention

Berlin and Keene Share Publications Honors

District groups to supplement the statewide organization during a period when travel must be curtailed were set up at the first annual convention of the New Hampshire Scholastic Press association held here last Saturday.

Schools which will serve as district chairmen to carry forward the organization work next fall are Manchester Central, Newport, Somersworth, Laconia, and Berlin.

Brave Snow Storm

More than 100 pupils and faculty advisers from 16 high schools attended the first convention, despite the snow-fall which made travel conditions difficult. They were welcomed to the campus by President Engelhardt, and then engaged in a series of round-table discussions on scholastic publication problems.

Berlin and Keene high schools shared major honors in the publications contests, each taking one first place and one second. Results in the six divisions were:

110 Colleges Represented Various Sports Discussed; Banquet Ends Conference

Wellesley College was the meeting place for over 260 delegates to the Athletic Federation of College Women, April 9-11. It was the tenth annual convention and 110 colleges from 32 states were represented. Eleanor Mauricette and Louise Griffin, the former and present president of WAA, were the representatives from New Hampshire.

Talks and discussions centered around the place of WAA in the world crisis, practical problems, and trends of WAA. There were demonstrations in battleboard tennis and squash and also opportunities to engage in these sports.

Exhibition by Life Guards

After an outdoor supper Thursday evening, the famous Smith college Life Guards gave a splendid demonstration of synchronized swimming. These guards are coached by Gertrude Goss, one of the greatest swimmers of all times. The demonstration was set to music and all the formations were beautifully carried out.

The finale was especially striking. The hall was darkened and each swimmer was lighted by tiny bulbs wired to her arms and legs. The delegates had a chance to swim in the new Wellesley pool. Of unique interest was the under-water window where one may watch swimmers and divers under water.

Friday night a formal banquet was held and the conference closed with movies of campus activities of various colleges represented. The girls returned with new ideas for a more constructive program of sports and recreation for girls (and boys, too).

KATY CADET

Herb Smith Great

But the plot alone fails to please. Herb Smith's singing of the hit tune of the show, "Surprised", and his other vocal work plus excellent acting as the bashful Willie, the Mailman, were great. But he had to share honors with Ted Murchie and Monty Evans, a pair of unintelligent intelligence agents from the aggressor planet, whose comedy rated uproarious laughter throughout the play. And then there was Ralph Townsend, the diminutive king, a "natural" as a comedian.

Winsome Wini Kennedy, who played the title role, did a commendable job and actually lived a part that at first did not seem to suit her.

Don Crafts, playing opposite Wini as the Captain, was militarily perfect and turned in his usual finished performance. His singing though did not quite measure up to his acting.

Excellent Acting

Jeannette Toohill's portrayal of the haughty Queen was brilliantly convincing and her bulldozing of the King was most realistically done. Doris Dearborn played the part of the not-too-bright but awfully cute Mimi very well. Ray Doyle, Tony Touart, and Joe Garrison turned in effective performances, especially in the Hydroslavian scene.

Guest Conductor, Jack Mitchell, was enthusiastically welcomed back to campus and he added the final touch of general excellence to the production with his very competent conductorship and arranging, particularly in the swing Overture.

By far the most pleasing to the eye was the cadet chorus. Glamorously attired in beautiful costumes, this unit performed to perfection in all of their appearances. Add to this line the strob-light group exotically costumed plus beautiful lighting effects and a more impressive display is almost impossible.

Tonight is another sell-out, but there will still be a few tickets at the box-office.

Immortality to be Lecture Topic

Immortality will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Professor Donald C. Babcock at 6:30 Sunday evening in the Community House. Ninety-four students on campus checked the questions: "Is belief in immortality wishful thinking?" and "Should I determine my actions now by what will happen after I die?" These questions were included on the questionnaire circulated during the Religious Conference held before Easter. It is hoped that everyone who so indicated an interest in the subject will take this opportunity to hear Professor Babcock.

Antique Maps and Prints Exhibited

Recently brought over from a shop on the Rue de la Colisee, Paris, the famous "Mercator" collection of antique maps and prints are to be exhibited at the library, April 15 to May 15.

Collected back in 1585 by Mercator, who was the foremost cartographer of his day, the maps were collected by him and engraved in new editions with Latin letters and symbols superseding the miniatures of the older maps. Also in the collection are examples of the cartography of Blaeu, Braun and Janssen of 17th century Holland and Alard and Renard of France.

Executed in brilliant colors with texts in Latin, Dutch, old French and sometimes in German and English, the maps present descriptions of the world in the Middle Ages.
