Kline and McDaniel Give Easter Recital

By Clara Knight

Most appropriate to the celebration of Easter Sunday was the organ recital presented by Miss Dorothy Kline, instructor of piano in the department of music, ably assisted by Miss Ruth McDaniel, clarinetist, in the Durham Community Church last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Miss Kline opened the program with a group of three Bach Chorale-Preludes beginning with "All Hail This Brightest Day of Days," continuing with "The Old Year Now Hath Passed Away," and ending brilliantly with "In Dulci Jubilo."

The second group opened with the "Adagio" from "Terzett," Opus 87, by Beethoven, which demonstrated the clear tone quality of the clarinet and the capability of Miss McDaniel in handling the instrument. Her rendition of Schubert's "Ave Maria" brought the second group to a close.

Expert Handling

"Corrente E Siciliano by Sigfrid Karg Elert embodied difficult changes in tempo and interesting modulations both of which were excellently handled by the organist. Jacob's "Burgundy Sketches" were very well played and showed a complete understanding of the themes in all cases. "Morning" was cleverly handled, while "The Rain" showed clearly the transformation of a few intermittent raindrops to Major Streeter of Women's Marine Res. On Campus Thurs.

Major Ruth Cheney Streeter of the Women's Reserve of the U. S. Marines will visit Campus Tomorrow. After seeing the publicity on the women's physical education program, Major Streeter decided to come and see it for herself. Visiting the various physical education classes will take up most of her time here.

For those girls interested in any of the Naval services for women, the WAVES, SPARS, or the Marines, Major Streeter will be in the President's Dining Room at Commons between 1 and 2 p. m. At that time she will answer any questions which the girls may have.

May Festival Dance After Opera Program

STARS Invited to Attend If Accompanied by a Date

Second feature of the May Music Festival, in the order of their occurrence, is the May Dance which will be held in New Hampshire Hall on Saturday evening, May 1. It will start at 8:30, shortly before the close of the Light Opera Program to be presented that same evening in Murkland Auditorium. Bill O'Meara, chairman of the orchestra committee announced late last week that music for dancing will be furnished by Jim Wylie and his orchestra. The dress is to be semi-formal.

In order to be able to include the recently arrived STARS who may wish to attend and still not have an unbalanced crowd, the music department, in cooperation with the Executive Council of the Association of Women Students, has devised a plan for a date bureau. The plan was announced to the women students at the last Women's Convocation and to the soldiers via a letter.

Each girl interested has been asked to fill out a paper with information concerning her height, her address, whether or not she has a season ticket to the Festival, and where she should be called for. The slips to be filled out by each interested soldier-student disclose particulars about his height, occupation or avocation, hobbies and special interests. When all this information is gathered, a committee appointed for the purpose will pair them up as best they know how, making a

Sponsor Student Writing Contest

Once again the magazine Story sponsors its annual contest for college people throughout the country. Any bonified student at the University of New Hampshire is eligible to enter into competition. Interested students can acquire of Dr. Carroll Towle, assistant-professor of the Liberal Arts department who now lends his wartime effort to fostering Victory Gardens in N. H. The contest closes May 15, but all manuscripts must be submitted to Dr. Towle by May 10 in order that the two most worthy stories can be selected by the judges for entrance in Story contest.

Several Winners

Under the inspired tutelage of Dr. Towle the university has turned out many excellent writers in the past; many have been prize winners in the annual Atlantic and Harpers Contests and Even Story Contest, which is considered of the highest calibre.

Many ex-graduates, Harry Hatchell, Shirley Evans, Hertzell Weinstat, Teresa Foley have been among the list of note-worthy writers. In 1941 Story awarded Teresa Foley second prize for her entry. Last year Richard Dent received a prize for his poetry in the Harpers contest and Margorie Chalmers, the efficient president of Women's Student Government for the past year, was awarded second prize in the Atlantic contest for a short story.

Challenge to Students

Through the veins of these New Hampshire people surges the talent and the desire to write. Despite the chaos and pressure of this war-time world, it must not lay dormant. This should be a challenge to every University of New Hampshire student.

Ensign Baxter Tells Girls to Join WAVES

Ensign Helen Baxter of the WAVES and Lieutenant Frye of the U. S. Navy were the guest speakers at the Women's Convocation last Wednesday afternoon at New Hampshire Hall. Lieutenant Frye expressed the urgent need for women in the service in order to release men for active sea duty, and explained that in order to speed up application papers will be attainable here and forwarded to Manchester.

Following Lieut. Frye's introduction, Ensign Baxter gave a thorough account of the WAVES' program. There are two distinct sections—V-9 or the Officer Group, and V-10 or the Enlistment Group. Members of the first section are trained at Smith, Mt. Holyoke, and Radcliffe. Ages in this group range from 20 years to 49. Officers in the WAVES can replace men in administrative jobs.

Enlisted women are classified and sent to specialized schools such as University of Wisconsin, Hunter College, Indiana University, and Georgia State Teachers' College. Age limit in this group is from 20 years to 36. However, a girl may make application several months before her twentieth birthday if she has her parents' consent. Jobs for enlisted women include radio operators, store keepers, photographers, and supply officers.

A typical day in training camp includes five classes, drill at 3 p. m., study from 7:30 to 9:30, and lights out at 10.

Complete information about the WAVES or the SPARS can be obtained from blanks and booklets in Dean Woodruff's offices.

ERC Should Make All Inquiries Here

Lt. Col. Morton Smith, Chief of the Army Specialized Training Branch of the First Service Command has issued a statement to the effect that the Armed Services Representative will be fully informed of any developments concerning the Enlisted Reserve Corps and Army Specialized Training Program. Students, however, have been addressing letters of inquiry and making personal visits to the Boston office. This has caused needless interference with the efficient and rapid functioning of that office.

In the future, therefore, any College Enlisted Reservist who personally visits the Boston office without a letter from the Armed Services Representatives, will be directed to report to the Armed Services Representative, and no information will be given the student. Also, any correspondence received direct from College Enlisted Reserve students which does not bear the stamp of approval of the Armed Services Representatives will be returned without comment to the Armed Service Representative for action.

The University expects between five and six hundred students to participate in its Summer School which will carry on this year four completely different programs besides the intercessions.

The first program which will be offered is for Pre-medical students who wish to accelerate their progress so as to enter Medical School in January of next year.

Will Tap New Members of Blue Key Senior Skulls, Mortar Board, Sphinx

New members of Blue Key, Senior Skulls, Sphinx Society and Mortar Board will be tapped and presented to the student body at the annual Student Council Convocation tomorrow afternoon at 1:15 at the Field House. Newly-elected officers of Women's Student Government and the Women's Athletic Association will also be presented.

In a traditional ceremony the old members of the four honorary societies will tap the newly pledged members and present them to the outgoing presidents. The outgoing presidents will give a brief outline of the purposes, history and activities of their societies before turning over the leadership to the newly elected executives. Mortar Board is a national Senior Women's Honorary Society; Blue Key and Skulls Senior Honorary Societies; and Sphinx, a Junior Honorary Society.

Blue Key Elect Thirteen Juniors

Thirteen outstanding junior men have been selected for Blue Key, senior honorary society. They are K. Adams, R. Bowles, F. Jervis, E. Henchey, E. Kelleher, W. Kolinsky, R. Morcom, T. O'Donnell, R. Pino, H. Skofield, M. Smith, R. Wheeler, and G. Wolcott.

Men were selected on the basis of campus leadership, scholastic standing, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Chinese Missionaries Here Tomorrow

With a unique international background, plus years of active service in China, Mrs. Helen Davis Chandler, late of Tientsin, North China, has a vivid story to tell of things Chinese against the tragic background of war. Mrs. Chandler, who is the wife of Rev. Robert E. Chandler, was born in Kyoto, Japan, the daughter of a famous Japan missionary and received part of her education in that country and the remainder in Boston. Mrs. Chandler has been working in devastated, war-ravaged territory, helping Chinese women and children to obtain food, clothing, and medical care.

Everywhere was the presence of the army occupation, marching through the streets, searching homes, demanding entry into mission schools and mission residences. "Life was terribly severe for Chinese friends and colleagues under enemy occupation," says Mrs. Chandler. Old and young carried the strain with a quiet imperturbability that was unbelievable. To be with them in understanding at this period was the richest experience of all my years in China."

Carries On

Admired the anti-British and anti-Chinese barricades by the Japanese military, a condition of persistent sporadic guerrilla warfare and "the highest flood in 50 years," Rev. Robert E. Chandler of Tientsin, North China, carried on during his latest period in China. He saw his Chinese friends living with steady dignity under the indignities of "enemy occupation."

Severity and tension increased. Very reluctantly, after two years, because physicians warned him against trying to stay on, Mr. Chandler returned in the summer of 1941 to the United States. Mr. Chandler has been working in China as a Congregational missionary under the American Board of Foreign Missions for 30 years. His missionary heritage runs back 117 years or through 3 generations. Mr. Chandler's duties have included not alone preaching and church work of a similar nature to that which is carried on in churches in America, but he has had special contact with schools of Chinese lay workers who have come into Tientsin for training in order that they may become better Christian leaders in their own communities. In this way a tremendous need for more fully trained and consecrated lay leadership in the Chinese Church has been met.

On Campus Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler will be in Durham April 29, 30, and May 1. They will be available for discussion groups or personal interviews. If you would like to take advantage of the opportunity to meet these two outstanding Chinese missionaries, call the Student Christian Movement office at 47-W and arrange a suitable time with Bob James.

Marge Chalmers, outgoing president of Women's Student Government, will introduce the new president, Melba McKay, and the other officers. Miss McKay will outline plans for the coming year. Leslie Ireland, new president of the Women's Athletic Association, will introduce the other officers of her organization and outline plans for the coming year.

Student Council will be unable to present new officers at this Convocation because under a new plan its elections will be held at the beginning of each semester. The university band will furnish the music and Carl Carlson, president of student council, will preside.

From a STAR

The following letter has been received by the editor from one of the men stationed here under the STAR program. It is with great pleasure that we print it, because it means that the students have proved their friendliness and shown a fine spirit of cooperation with the army.

"I would like to extend to the students, faculty, and town folks a sincere expression of thanks on behalf of the army unit stationed here. We were sent here, in two's and three's from field service, and training units all over New England. We had only been here a short while when invitations were extended to us to attend many college functions normally open to students only. Many a lonesome soldier has found interesting companions since his arrival on campus.

Durham may be small in size, but it makes up for this by having a large heart. We have enjoyed such spots as the Wildcat, Grant's, and the College Pharmacy. Many fine dances have been arranged for us and have been great successes thanks to the student body. A recreation room in Commons has been provided for us by the college authorities. The friendliness we have met here has meant a great deal to us and we only hope that we can repay you in some way for the fine treatment you have given us. If we were given one wish, we would ask for a little free time in which to enjoy all the facilities offered us."

Student Council Convocation

The Student Council convocation tomorrow marks one of the highlights of the year as far as many students are concerned. Tappings for the honor societies will be held, and those who are privileged to receive bids will march up to the platform to bask in the fleeting glory of having achieved some recognition for their contributions to campus life.

To those honored, we wish to express our congratulations. It has been a rather easy road for some, difficult for others to have merited their inclusion into the societies, but all have shown the interest and diligence with respect to campus activities of one sort or another.

It is interesting to note that a fine cross section of the junior class is included. There are scholars, athletes, representatives of interest groups, and those who have shown leadership ability in their own fraternity or sorority. We can think of these students as freshmen a short three years ago. It was apparent then that some would achieve this recognition, but others have since come to the fore by dint of hard work and perseverance. To them should go special credit, for it is easy to get discouraged when it seems that things always break right for the other fellow.

This convo, like everything else this year takes on a special significance as it will probably be the last of its kind until the end of the war. It is one of the last vestiges of college life as it was. Many who will be singled out already are serving as privates in the army. For them and for the others in this convo will be really something to remember.

CAPITOL TO CAMPUS

BOOKS IN THE FLAMES

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—Books are a symbol. The college library and its books are the heart of every campus. The insignia of many a college shows an open book signifying light, learning and the wisdom only man can pass from mind to mind. Books are a symbol of the freedom for which we fight.

The other day monitors for the Federal Communications Commission picked up a Berlin broadcast praising Adolf Hitler, he of the impenetrable prose style, as a lover of good books.

"To read a lot is equivalent of a good education," the radio voice said. "It was Adolf Hitler who promoted this idea in Germany."

The voice went on to say Hitler sponsored "not only books on National Socialism but books on German poets" and until he did "there were no good books in Germany."

On May 10, the world will remember how well Hitler loves good books. On that date in 1933, 25,000 good books burned in the square before the University of Berlin.

A student barker stood by to shout in the night as the books were cast into the huge bonfire:

"Emil Ludwig—burned for literary rascality and high treason against Germany."

"Erich Maria Remarque—for degrading the German language."
The books burnings were sponsored by Goebbels, the minister of "public enlightenment." Other bonfires were held at the universities of Munich, Frankfurt, Breslau, Kiel.

The lover of good books eventually drove hundreds of writers from the Reich, among them Thomas Mann, Arnold and Stefan Zweig, Alfred Doblin, Joseph Roth, Ernest Glaeser, Jacob Wasserman. The "equivalent of a good education" did not include reading Heinrich Heine, Ernest Hemingway, John Dos Passos, Franz Werfel. It did include millions of copies of "Mein Kampf."

The "Kulturdirektion" of the Nazis followed the blitz. The Louvain library in Brussels was destroyed. French libraries, bookstores and newstands were pillaged by Gestapo agents to "prepare the transfer of literary, artistic and cultural treasures from the vanquished to the victorious country." In Paris, the Gestapo went from bookstore to bookstore with a list of condemned books to be seized within 30 minutes under threat of severe penalty.

On April 24, the Library of Congress in Washington will be 143 years old. Its 414 miles of bookshelves and 7 million books cover every branch of human knowledge and culture, every crackpotism and profundity.

Sometimes visitors hesitate to enter the library. "May I come in?" they ask the attendant at the door.

"Of course, come right in," the attendant says. "It's your library."

That's part of what the war's about. It's to keep the flames from roaring at our library doors.

GUNNING FOR THE POLL TAX

Although they aren't saying much about it yet, the anti-poll tax Congressmen have high hopes of getting legislation banning the tax in federal elections through the House very soon.

A petition to draw the bill out of the judiciary committee requires signatures of 218 members. More than three-fourths of this number have signed already.

This is no trifling accomplishment. Few petitions for discharge of a committee have received signatures so rapidly. One hundred fifty Congressmen signed this one in three weeks.

If the pace continues, the bill may come before the House early in May. And that would leave a full year and a half to get it through the Senate, where it died in filibuster last year.

EDUCATION ELSEWHERE

Virtually all Protestant denominations in Japan were combined into one government dominated "Church of Christ Japan" last fall. The consolidation was part of a "Christian church unification" program begun in 1940. Latest project of the state church is a rewrite job on the Bible. Tokyo reports "timely revisions" of the Old Testament are well underway.

China's government is paying expenses for 100,000 young Chinese now enrolled in 374 normal schools. Great numbers of primary school teachers are needed, so the government permits such students to return to classes after one year of military training instead of the two years ordinarily required. These normal schools are located in every Chinese province, says the Chungking radio, particularly in interior cities where hardly any schools existed before the Chinese-Japanese war.

WARTIME WASHINGTON

When Mrs. Philip Crowlie of Huron, S. D., came to Washington to be OPA's "typical housewife," she got prompt introduction to typical problems of typical Washingtonians. She sent some dresses to the cleaners. Three weeks later they came back—streaked. That's a common experience in the capital, now that cleaners lack help and equipment to handle their booming business. Mrs. Crowlie proposes to lick the problem by sending her cleaning back home to Huron.

SHEIK HURLS DOUBLE WIN AT MAINE

Boo Winner in Vault, Second in High at Penn

Durham Ace does 13' 6" In Pole Victory

By Harry Mitiguy

Sharing top honors with such stars as Notre Dame's Greg Rice and Ollie Hunter, New Hampshire's Boo Morcom annexed another title Saturday at the Penn. Relays.

Performing in his peculiar "one-shoe" style, the Wildcat ace eased over the bar at 13' 6" in the pole vault to grab top honors in that department. Possibly however, the 6' 5" effort for Pvt. Boo in the high jump was even more spectacular. This coped a second place and also topped Bill Vessie's 6' 2" leap. Stringbean Bill, 6' 6" Columbia ace, was of Boo's chief nemeses in the past winter campaign.

Having things pretty much his own way, Boo turned in one of his best performances in the outdoor vault. Chief competition came from Colgate's Warren Broemel who cleared the bar at 13', followed by Johnnie Welsh of Penn in third place with 12' 6".

In the high jump, however, Camp Pickett's Cpl. Joshua Williamson cleared 6' 6 1/2" to better Boo by a little over an inch.

Greg Rice, barrel-chested Hoosier from Notre Dame garnered the only record breaking performance with a 9:12.2 two mile run. Winning times, on the whole were quite slow as rather poor conditions prevailed.

As this is the last season that Boo will compete in inter-collegiate athletics, the fair haired lad from Braintree is out to make this his very best. With this major win under his belt, Boo is now looking forward to the New England ICAA meet at Boston College and the IC4A to be held in New York. The New York meet is on the last day of school and from there on Boo will do his competing for Uncle Sam.

Begin Girls' Archery Tournament May 3

The girls' Archery Tournament practice is underway for the season. Practice shooting started last week and will continue until May 3, when the actual tournament will begin. The tournament days are from May 3 through May 9. Any girl may shoot her round at any hour when Memorial Field is not in use. If the equipment house is not open the key may be obtained at New Hampshire Hall. The tournament will follow the same rules as the Women's Intercollegiate Telegraphic Championship, that is being shot in the Columbia Round style.

Columbia Round Rules

The following rules govern a Columbia round:

Each contestant must shoot 24 arrows at each of the distances, 50 yards, 40 yards and 30 yards. Each contestant should shoot the entire round at one session, but if this is not possible then at least the 50 yard and the 40 yard ranges must be completed at the first session. No practice arrows will be allowed between ranges at any

Exeter Outclasses Wildcat Jayvees

Murphy, Pino Star In Weekend Loss

The UNH J. V. track team opened its outdoor campaign Saturday at Exeter Academy with a 74-52 loss. Losing most of the points in the field events, the UNH runners rallied to pull the team score up.

Star of the afternoon for New Hampshire was Art Murphy with firsts in the 100 and the 220 yd. dashes. Other first place winners for NH included Jim Williams in the 440, Royce Crimmins in the 880, Herb Weiland in the broad jump, and Ralph Pino in the javelin. Williams and Crimmins looked very good in their races and Pino's heave of 181' 1" with the javelin would have taken a third at the Penn Relays.

The summary:
120 yd. high hurdles—won by Gill (E); second, Alexander (E); third, Dowd (NH.) Time-15.5s

100 yd. dash—won by Murphy (NH); second, Bailey (E); third, Weiland (NH) Time-10.3s

Mile run—won by Hall (E); second, Sleeper (NH); third, Dunklee (NH) Time-4m 32.65

Durham's first big spring sports weekend has ended and another is on the horizon. All teams were in competition on foreign soil. This week, the baseball team, still on the road will wind up its traveling for the season. Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Northeastern in that order are the home teams. Immediately following this excursion, the baseball team will play host to the same teams in the same order. Coach Hank Swasey announced this week that there is a possibility of a post season contest here in Durham on May 15, the last day of the current semester with another college nine, not a conference team.

In Durham this weekend, the eyes of the home town will be focused on the Springfield Lacrosse game and the Northeastern dual track meet. Coach Tony Dougal was a mite upset because of the unexpected outcome of the Tufts game (see Col. 5) but says that the boys will be out for victory No. 2 with all they have. It is expected that the Gymnasts will afford the Wildcats their greatest competition this year.

With Pvt. Boo Morcom back from recent laurels at the Penn Relays (Col 1), Coach Paul Sweet will be at full strength for the Northeastern meet. Ralph Pino's javelin toss of 181 at the Exeter Jayvee meet would have been good enough for a third at the Penn. Relays. This little note adds another twinkle to Paul Sweet's eye. The versatility and talents of the running events will determine the Wildcats' fate in the meet because it is a certainty that the home team will win the field events with Morcom and Pino.

This Friday afternoon the Army in town will inaugurate their athletic competition schedules. Company Athletic Directors have organized intra-company and intra-platoon games entirely independent of the Physical Education department in Touch Football, Softball, Track, Basketball, and Volleyball. After their hour and a half of calisthenics and drill every morning, they are allowed to practice and participate in their own choice of athletic competition for two hours. The games consequently should be of a high calibre when the teams start to officially compete.

Tony Dougal took his Phys Ed 64 class to Exeter yesterday to teach them the finer points of swimming and the art of rescuing. Realizing the importance of such training, Tony decided that this year a trip to Exeter should be included in the course. Tony is a life-guard himself and is fully qualified to give the instructions in the Exeter pool.

Coach Hank Swasey really reaped the profits of strategy at Me. when he sent Sheik after the second when he won the first handily and still felt good. All afternoon save for one minute a strong wind was blowing from left field to right. During that one minute intermission, Harry Lucas was at the bat and he took full advantage of the circumstances on one pitch by sending the pill over the right field fence. It was the only Broadway bingle of the double bill.

Probably one of the best plays seen at Orono in years was pulled off by Fred Charron and Sheik Karelis. In the second inning of the nightcap, a line shot from the gun of Wally White portside, Bear backstop, between Charron and the bag. At the crack of the bat, Fred must have sensed the play as he started for the bag and knocked the bullet down on the first stop. The momentum of the ball still carried it into short right field, it was smashed with such force. Fred scrambled after the ball and retrieved it in time to toss it to Sheik Karelis just crossing the bag a Wheatie Flake distance ahead of the runner. En masse the home crowd stood and applauded after they realized what had happened.

details that are not clear. Everyone entering the competition is to keep track of her individual scores on score cards which are to be given to the sports leader, Frances Robinson. She will compute the two highest scores in each class and the two highest scores in each dorm and sorority and in this way the interhouse tournament will take place at the same time as the interclass. The class managers are for the freshmen, Rae Adams; sophomores, Priscilla Gilchrist; juniors, Anne Hodgkins; seniors, Terry Goodrich.

STARS Kept Busy During Past Week

Members of the S.T.A.R. unit, which arrived here recently, have been very busy during the past week. Five hours each day, under supervision of the university, the boys were examined in order to determine their scholastic abilities. Those who retained the highest grades are now awaiting assignments to one of the army's specialized training schools.

This week the men will follow a regular S.T.A.R. schedule. Their day will consist of five hours of academic work, over one hour of supervised study and then the remainder of the day will be given over to physical problems and drill. Part of this physical training will be under the direction of Carl Lundholm and will consist of running obstacle courses and calisthenics. In the late afternoon the boys will return to the barracks and from here proceed to evening mess. Their long day will end when taps is sounded at 10:00 P.M. by one of the students.

VETERAN CAPTAIN KARELIS IS HOT AS SWASEY MEN WIN OPENERS

On the Wildcat Docket

Baseball

Friday: Connecticut at Storrs

Saturday: Rhode Island at Kingston

Tuesday: Northeastern at Boston Lacrosse

Saturday: Springfield at Durham Track

Saturday: Northeastern at Durham

Aided by 15 hits in the opening game and timely errors in the nightcap, Capt. Irving "Sheik" Karelis hurled the Wildcats to their first two victories of the year on the Orono diamond last Saturday. It is the first time in the history of the school that one pitcher has completed a double victory.

The Swasey charges were out for the kill in the curtain raiser. With Sheik in his usual unbeatable form, the local lads had the Bears tamed in the third inning. After an eight run barrage in the fourth there was no doubt as to the outcome and Sheik coasted to victory saving his arm for the nightcap.

Dave Cuning started the third frame outburst with a single to left. Karelis pushed him up to second with a sacrifice, and after Leo Dupont wiffed, Ortie Flint sent him to third with another single and stole second. Fred Charron then drew first blood in the season when he sent a slashing double to right center scoring Cuning and Flint. Soc Bobotas then lined his first of five successive hits to right scoring Charron with the third tally of the inning.

Sheik Clears Bases

Four straight hits by Red Adams, Lippy Card, Tom Callagy, and Dave Cuning scored one in the fourth and loaded the sacks for Sheik. The Durham ace decided that there was no sense in wasting any more time in this first game and set the game on ice for good with a base clearing tremendous triple to dead right. Before the smoke had cleared, four more runs had crossed the plate making the score read 11 to 0.

The remainder of the game was the mere going through the motions. Sheik allowed the Maine nine their only run of the afternoon in the last of the fourth. Harry Lucas made his first appearance of the year in the fifth with two out and drove a long home run to right. Soc Bobotas' third hit, an error, and a wild pitch scored the Wildcats' final run of the contest.

Bobotas Triples

Cheap singles in the third and fourth innings were the only hits that the home team toughed Karelis for in the nightcap as he turned on the heat. Soc Bobotas scored Dupont with the first run in the third inning with a single to right. Three errors, a sacrifice, a single by Dave Cuning and a long triple by Bobotas were coupled with three stolen bases to net four runs in the fifth. Thus, with a 5 run lead to work on, Sheik again took it easy on the Maine boys and allowed his only pass of the afternoon to Presnell, but otherwise set them down in order for the remainder of the game.

The only dark spot of the afternoon and the only thing that prevented the trip from being all around successful was an injury to Lippy Card in the second game. The last man in the game to bat, Pat Meloon, Maine third sacker, fouled a pitch to the third base stands. Determined to end the game with the putout, Lippy Card ran into the stands before he was able to get his hands on the apple. Badly shaken up, Lippy was relieved by Sonny Lamond for the final out. It is believed that his shoulder is cracked. Results of the X-rays show that Lippy will not be able to compete for the rest of the season. The effect of this blow to Coach Swasey can only be determined by time. It is possible that versatile Fred Charron will be shifted back to third and another initial sacker will be brought in; or that Harry Lucas will draw a starting outfield nod and Tom Callagy be shifted to third.

The remaining three away games will be played this week within five days. Karelis will probably work the Connecticut game Friday at Storrs; Alki Hall or Fred Jervis in the Saturday contest at Kingston against Rhode Island, and Sheik again on Tuesday at Northeastern. The game with the Huskies is expected to be the one to win for the conference title.

Soldiers Take Infant Commando Course to Ski Jump with Coeds

By Miriam Eastman

Imagine soldiers turning up for a hike on their afternoon off! That's exactly what happened Sunday when Congreve South invited the "Durham Army to come out for a hike and then a repast of coffee and doughnuts.

Although the men outnumbered the girls two or three to one, no one seemed to mind much.

Around two o'clock the uniforms started buzzing around Congreve, approaching from all angles, and when they came into the foyer the female element just stood aghast! So many of them! The telephone came in handy in the search for more escorts (girls.) Suffice to say they were able to pick up a few more from other dorms and all was set.

To prevent idle thinkers from imagining the group to be an orphanage on the loose, they decided to depart in two groups neither knowing where they or the others intended to go. The second group left about 15 minutes after the first, after deciding to go to the ski jump.

Up to the station, over the tracks, past the barn to the stables, then a sharp right along the road past the old reservoir! Over fences, up hills, down glades, through brush and the pay-off came when they hit the swamps. One would never guess there was a perfectly good road to the ski jump to see the course they tramped. But it was fun and finally they arrived at the jump where behold the other group was resting. With a final burst of reserved energy they scaled the mighty (and slivery) structure and stood looking into the haze around them. It might be noted that at this point most of the girls were about beat! Being perfect gentlemen, their companions resigned themselves to stay where they were for a few minutes to talk, smoke, and enjoy themselves as much as possible. Some even left their initials way up aloft to be battered by the elements and left for posterity.

The mention of food finally started the regiment moving again. The return trip was along the Madbury-Edgewood roads route.

Congreve South! Mrs. Dunning serving coffee and doughnuts! Music! The end of a perfect hike—or perhaps, the perfect end of a hike!

And so they sat and talked and ate until someone said, "By the way, chow is at 5:30 tonight!" That broke up the party and Congreve returned to a state of Sunday quiet.

The question which needs answering: did the soldiers really enjoy the hike? Or was it the refreshments?

Summer Work for NHU Students

Opportunities for New Hampshire students to work during the summer have increased greatly, said Ruth J. Woodruff, Dean of Women, last week. With so many of New England's young men in the armed services, many girls are needed to take their places on farms this summer and fall. All kinds of farmerettes are wanted, but especially ones to do dairying.

Girl Scout and welfare camps are in need of counsellors and instructors as well as many private camps. There is a call for a playground instructor for the month of August, and a swimming instructor for two months. A welfare organization wants a supervisor for a class in home economics for three months at a salary of $50 a month.

Many summer hotels are not opening this year, but those which do plan to carry on business as usual have sent out an urgent call for waitresses. Dean Woodruff has also received requests from two hospitals for nurses aides and dieticians. General housework offers much higher pay this year, in some cases $15 a week and board.

Information regarding summer jobs for girls is available at Dean Woodruff's office. It is patriotic as well as profitable to work this summer.

KLINE & McDANIEL

a thunderstorm. The increasing excitement of the "Peasant Dance" was equally well depicted.

Miss McDaniel's interpretation of Richard Wagner's "Adagio" opened the fourth group. This was followed by an interesting rendition of "Arabesques" by Jeanjean, which closely approached a clarinet-organ duet. The technical ability of the clarinetist was vividly brought out by the difficult runs executed with considerable ease.

Highlight of the concert was "Fugue," by Professor Robert W. Manton of the music department of the university, which enjoyed its first performance at this time. Aply rendered by Miss Kline, the "Fugue" showed definite suitability to the organ. While it manifested all the characteristics of the conventional fugue form, interesting dissonances showed complete mastery of the most modern technique of composition. After playing Farnum's "Toccata on 'O Filii et Filiae'" in her usual masterful way, Miss Kline brought the concert to a magnificent close with a smooth and capable performance of the "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor" by Marcel Dupre.
