DURHAM, N.H. -- Three University of New Hampshire graduate students will read from their work Thursday, Feb. 10, 2005, from 5:30-6:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge in Hamilton Smith at UNH. The reading is free and open to the public.

Brieghan Gardner graduated from UNH with a master's degree in poetry last December. Jason Ronstadt and Tim Horvath are both in the second year of UNH's fiction program. Ronstadt will read several poems as well as some fiction, and Horvath will read from his body of fiction.

According to organizer Jason Tandon, all three writers utilize humor, wit and elements of tenderness in their work. Tandon can be reached at (603) 659-3129 for more information.
