New Vets Greeted By Veterans' Group At Meeting Monday

Dean W. Medesy, Leavitt, James Doyle, N. H. Head Of Veterans Aid, Speak

The Student's Veteran Organization formally opened their fall semester with a meeting and smoker, Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the Pine Room at Ballard Hall. Chairman Bill Fortier and Dean William Medesy, advisor to the Veterans' Organization, officially welcomed to the Veterans' Organization fifty-eight members at this first social gathering.

Featured guest speakers were Dr. Harold Leavitt, secretary of the Alumni Association; F. J. Drury, M. D., of the Veterans' Administration of Manchester, N. H.; Mr. Raymond C. Magrath, Treasurer of the University; and James Doyle, Chief Executive of the Veterans' Administration in N. H. Dean William Medesy explained the details of the Post War Educational Service, its functions and purpose in guiding returned veterans in planning their educational and vocational future.

Dr. Harold Leavitt told how fortunate the veterans today were in comparison with the veterans of the first World War. It was three years before veterans of 1918 had funds appropriated for vocational purposes. There were no organizations or groups to assist these men in orienting themselves and helping them to readjust their lives. Oh the whole, they were a muddled, misguided group and many men never graduated,—not be—

War Souvenir Exhibits On Display at Library

A series of exhibits consisting of various articles from the different theatres of war by the veterans on campus is planned by the Hamilton Smith Library.

At present, there is an exhibit of foreign currency which was collected by Captain William A. Medesy, acting dean of men, during his service in the United States Army.

On display are the French Moroccan notes which became valueless when the Allies invaded the country. In addition, there are invasion notes which were issued shortly after, and which were stabilized to prevent inflation. These latter notes were given to Capt. Medesy by Lt. "Mal" Brannen, former barber of Durham, and an alumnus of UNH.

A lottery ticket from the national lotteries in Algeria for the aid of war orphans, an American invasion dollar, and some Italian money are also included in this display.

SCM Delegates at Gorham Conference

Last Saturday, October 14, a delegation from SCM comprised of Dr. Gibson R. Johnson, the Rev. Clinton Condit, Ruth Wadleigh, Janet Winn, Frances Smith, Robert Baker, Edith Costly, Lillian Manville, Beryle Stimson, Esther Cole, Jeanette Steele, Warren French, and Roland Roberge attended the Gorham Normal School Conference in Gorham, Maine.

The Saturday afternoon program consisted of an address by Prentiss Pemberton of Boston, Mass., entitled "Faith For Today" followed by a discussion and comments by Professor Royborn Zerby of Bates College.

The evening session's main address was given by Mrs. Louise Pfuete, former National Student Secretary of YWCA, on "Christian Citizenship For Today." Following the discussion period, a short worship service was conducted by Edmund Nutting of Bates College, Co-Chairman of New England SCM.

The Sunday morning worship service sermon was delivered by Dr. G. R. Johnson. Following the service the organizational meeting was held and the new Commission was elected. Sunday dinner was the official closing of the conference.

The regular Sunday evening speaker at the Community Church was Mr. Robbins W. Barstow, President of Hartland Seminary Foundation. The regular weekly meeting will be held next Sunday evening at the Community House at 6:30 p.m.

Sackett Announces Total Registration

Sixty World War II veterans are now registered at the University for the fall semester, representing about five per cent of the total enrollment and one-fifth of the male student body, it has been announced by Everett B. Sackett, registrar. Men undergraduates now number 257, while women students total 850 in comparison to last year's 729.

In addition, 42 high school juniors and seniors are enrolled in the war training program of vocational agriculture, and 15 in the two-year applied farming curriculum.

The college of liberal arts now leads with 955 students while 125 are enrolled in technology and 23 in agriculture.

The Army Specialized Training Reserve Program, consisting of 17-year-olds who are undergoing pre-induction training in preparation for the Air Corps and other branches of the Army, are beginning a new term. A majority of transfers, recently arrived at UNH, are from the University of Vermont as well as from other universities and colleges in the country.

Minna Citron's Art Now on Exhibition

A one-woman exhibition by Minna Citron, acknowledged as one of America's outstanding creative artists, is being held in the art gallery of the library from October 16 to November 11.

Miss Citron is well known for her work in the field of social satire, and the exhibit includes some of her most interesting comments on contemporary foibles. Among her paintings, drawings, and prints being shown are representatives from her Courtroom Series, Gambling House Series, and Femininities Series. Outstanding among these are "Academic Interest," a subtle characterization of those who attend the ballet; "The Dealer," a painting of a rotund dealer of a 21 game; and "Self-Expression," an engaging drawing of a woman artist looking out on Union Square.

Examples of Miss Citron's work have been acquired by the Metropolitan, Norfolk, Brooklyn, and Newark Museums, the Chicago Art Institute, and the Library of Congress. Known for her T.V.A. murals, as well as for her etchings, and lithographs, Miss Citron also teaches at the Brooklyn Museum of Art School.

She has exhibited at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C., the Whitney Museum; and several other galleries, including those at Lynchburg, Virginia; Norris, Tennessee; Chicago, New York, and Newark.

2 New Departments Established in L.A.

Members of the faculty and the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, Edward Y. Blewett, have succeeded in establishing new departments in philosophy and psychology.

There were always two or three philosophy courses offered to the students on this campus, but they were listed under the social sciences as a form of history. This condition was probably caused by the attitude of the University which emphasized practical application of knowledge rather than theory.

The College of Liberal Arts is divided into six groups. The first of these six included English languages and music, when this system was first originated. Later the arts and literature were added. The newest addition is the department of philosophy. The faculty feels that this new department gives the Humanity group a completeness which was previously lacking.

Philosophy enables the individual to "think things through." There will be no majors in this department because the purpose of the courses offered in philosophy is to synthesize the knowledge gained in other departments.

Dr. Donald C. Babcock, head of the department of History since 1925, has been appointed the head of the Philosophy Department. Dr. Herbert F. Rudd has taught philosophy for more than twenty years and will assist Dr. Babcock, as will Dr. G. R. Johnson.

The other new department created in the College of Liberal Arts, since July 1, 1944, is the Department of Psychology, formerly under the Department of Education. This group previously consisted of sociology, history, government, and economics, including business and secretarial courses.

Soviets to Dominate Europe Says Friedrich

"Europe will be dominated by the Soviet Union for the next twenty, and possibly fifty years, and Americans must learn to live with it, and live with it in peace," declared Dr. Carl Friedrich last night in a lecture sponsored by the Social Science Forum at the university.

Dr. Friedrich, who is director of the Overseas Administration at Harvard University, made this statement during the course of his talk on "The Future of Europe." In briefly outlining the present situations in Italy, France, and Germany, Dr. Friedrich emphasized the possibilities of a type or revolution in each of these countries.

Italians Apathetic

Speaking of Italy, Dr. Friedrich stated that the situation is not one of chaos or civil war. "Rather there is apathy, despondency, and passivity. Their main reaction now seems to be, give us bread and give us peace, we don't want to hear about politics. On the other hand, there is a gradual increase in Communist leadership, activity, and sentiment."

In relation to France, Dr. Friedrich declared that many Americans do not realize there's a revolution in France. "It is more vital than any in Italy and Germany as four years of living under totalitarian rule is much less injurious than the longer years the other countries have experienced."

Lack of Underground

Turning to Germany, the professor explained that we're going to run into the same lack of a strong underground movement that our Allied troops and military government did in Italy. He envisaged that the more radical elements in Germany will lean towards the Soviet Union. He explained this by saying that in all three countries the people are apt to be more interested in the Soviet Union's definite conception of the future. "Because so many of the peoples of Europe don't know exactly what they want, they will probably be more favorable to the political system of the Soviet Union as it is the only one that has confidence of what would come in the future."

Dean Medesy Speaker At Women's Convo

Students can help the returning service man by accepting them in their everyday social life," said William A. Medesy, acting Dean of Men, in a speech yesterday afternoon before the Women's Convocation at New Hampshire Hall. His topic "The Position of the Returning Veteran" told of the interests and the attitudes of the returning servicemen.

Upon the return of the veteran to civilian life, the post war education service tries to help them to readjust themselves to campus and community life. Their interest in citizenship is more mature and they are a more adult group. It is bound to be so, he said, for veterans are much more serious in purpose than others might think, because they are set in mind.

One fifth of the male student body at UNH are veterans. They range in age from nineteen to thirty-three. One quarter of them are registered in technology, one quarter in agriculture, and the remaining fifty per cent are in numerous fields in the college of liberal arts.

Flight Affiliated With Portsmouth Squadron is Inaugurated in Durham

The Civil Air Patrol, with active squadrons operating throughout the country, will soon be represented on campus by a unit composed of flights affiliated with the Portsmouth Squadron.

Established shortly before Pearl Harbor, the CAP, an auxiliary of the United States Army Air Forces, has a fine war record and is the only part time voluntary military organization that has been privileged to wear the uniform of the United States Army.

When first inaugurated, it was composed of civilian pilots who were eager to aid in combatting the submarine menace. The army and navy air branches were augmented at a time of dire need by CAP personnel, who volunteered to patrol coastal waters in light private land aircraft. Over 24,000,000 miles of over water, patrol flights were flown by these pilots who are credited with sighting and sinking large numbers of submarines.

After this menace had been abated, it was possible for the Army and CAP to withdraw from anti-submarine activities and CAP pilots and planes on the coast were assigned to inland missions to relieve military airmen for combat duty.

Other Patrol active assignments for the Army have included military courier service to speed the delivery of Army dispatches and repair parts between bases. Similar services are rendered to war industries in many areas.

Tow target and "Tracking" missions to give practice to anti-aircraft guns are another important work which aids in America's defense and releases military planes for duty overseas. Searches for lost aircraft, forest patrol, disaster relief in flood or tornado areas, and the flying of blood plasma to the scene of accidents are among the regular jobs of the Patrol which acts as an aerial guard, trained and ready in every area.

Behind these missions is the work of the local CAP units. Organized with a Wing Command in each of the forty-eight states, CAP has squadrons and flights in more than 1000 communities.

The staff of National Headquarters of CAP in New York, designated as the 32nd base unit, United States Army Air Forces, includes officers of the Army Air Forces and is headed by Colonel Earl L. Johnson. The rest of the organization is composed of civilian volunteers who serve under their own CAP officers.

Student Committee Rally For Roosevelt and Truman

A committee of University of New Hampshire students favoring the reelection of President Franklin D. Roosevelt has been organized to work with the Durham Independent Voters for Roosevelt and Truman Committee.

Joseph Bennett, World War II veteran, is chairman of the group, and other officers are as follows: Natalie Brooks, publicity chairman; Anna Karanikas, treasurer; Roger Bernard De Hayes, secretary; Warren Robbins and Libby Sagris, executive committee.

All students on campus, regardless of age or party affiliation, who are desirous of assisting in the campaign to re-elect President Roosevelt, are invited to attend the meeting Sunday evening in the Pine Room in Ballard Hall at 7:30 o'clock.

"Claudia" Tryouts at NH Hall Oct. 23-25

Play Production, more formally known as English 5, begins its fall schedule with an all-campus try-out this next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, backstage in New Hampshire Hall. Try-outs will begin at 7 p.m. each evening.

The well-known dramatic comedy, "Claudia" by Rose Franken is considered for the initial production. Successful on the New York stage and in the talking pictures, the production of "Claudia" presents an interesting challenge to the talents of the students on campus. Scripts are on reserve in the Hamilton Smith Library, and those who are interested in acting are urged to become familiar with the play before they come to try-outs.

First semester freshmen are not eligible for roles in plays, but should signify their interest by filling out a form at try-outs. These first semester freshmen forms will be referred to at the beginning of the second semester as a new source of prospective talent.

"Claudia" has a cast of three men, and five women. Men interested in dramatics are especially urged to come out for the production.

E. P. Campbell Leaves UNH After Twenty Years

Mr. E. Prescott Campbell, purchasing assistant of the university, is leaving his position at the end of this month to take over his duties as owner of the Neal Hardware Store, Dover.

Mr. Campbell came to UNH over twenty years ago as secretary to Mr. Raymond C. Magrath, university treasurer. Since then he has served in various positions in the business office.

The extensive building on campus in the last two decades has most impressed Mr. Campbell, who came here when Durham was without such landmarks as Murkland Hall and Hood House.

Welcome C.A.P.

We take this opportunity to welcome and endorse the foundation of a Civil Air Patrol unit at the University of New Hampshire. In the post war world, the ultimate success of aviation is now assured, and the experience by those men and women students, who take advantage of the marvelous opportunity offered by the CAP, will undoubtedly stand them in good stead, when interest in aviation will increase rather than diminish. War has but provided an impetus to the trend toward an aeronautical era.

The members of the CAP unit will learn military courtesies and discipline, leadership and command, take courses in radio communication, pre-flight aeronautics, physical preparedness, the mechanics of flight, work with real planes, and take observation flights, at no expense to the student.

We hope that the reponse to the call for members will be encouraging and that what they will have learned about aviation, will, when the peace is won, fit them more readily into the great development of civilian aviation which is before us.

Pearls of Wisdom

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back. He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses. He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellows grouch too seriously.

Come Up and Vote

With presidential elections only two weeks away, we find the campus the center of much unprecedented activity with the qualifications of the respected candidates being discussed. Who will it be—Dewey? Roosevelt? or Thomas

During the presidential campaign of 1940, the New Hampshire conducted its own Gallup poll although it editorially supported the candidacy of Wendell Willkie.

We sincerely believe that democracy can operate only if the issues concerned are clearly and logically appraised and discussed.

In this election year, the most crucial in our history since the election of President Lincoln in 1864, it is of the utmost importance that the American people assure themselves that their country will not be ruled by executives elected by a minority vote of the population.

Again this year we are conducting a Gallup poll in conjunction with Men's Student Council. We ask your full cooperation in ascertaining the campus sentiment on this very important issue. With this cooperation, we feel that we will be able to present to you a truthful picture of the outcome of this important presidential election.

ALPHA XI DELTA

This fall semester finds Alpha Xi Delta bursting with enthusiasm, especially for painting. The "red room" has received a new coat of paint and several other rooms have been redone. Our new housemother, Mrs. Cunningham, has proved to be most popular and May's meals are again a delight to gourmets.

Six of our numbers were graduated at the end of summer school. We have a record of three engagements and one marriage. The engagements are those of Lydia Shaw and Fred Brown, UNH '43, Mary "M'liz" Porter and Flight Officer Hugh Roberts, a former UNH student before entering the armed forces, and Barbara Shepard and Gordon Sleeper, both '44. "Teedee" Wakefield was married to Lieutenant Gordon Huckins on August 7th at Kennebunkport, Maine. Three of her attendants were June Pearce, Nancy Johnson and "M'liz" Porter.

PHI MU

The Phi Mu's were proud to have three scholarship winners in their ranks when the awards were announced by President Stoke at Convo last Thursday. The lucky girls were June Sinclair, '46, Joye Churchill and Helen Smith, both '45.

Plans are being made for repainting the downstairs rooms of the house and all are eagerly awaiting the arrival of the painters.

THETA UPSILON

Toddy Drew was a winner of one of the Cogswell Scholarships at Convo last week.

Frances Smith holds a scholarship from her church in Danvers, which is awarded to a student with outstanding musical ability.

Alice Weber attended the wedding of Captain Francis Ayer and Miss Majorie Reynolds in Swampscott, Mass.

Francis Smith attended an SCM conference at Gorham, Maine. Toddy Drew attended a corn husking party at Rochester. Ruth Carens has been elected vice-president of the Newman Club. Betty Sawyer is a counselor in Congreve North for this semester.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alice Robinson has been elected President of the Student War Activities committee. Also on the staff are: Jane Barton, war investment chairman, and Lucille Larabee, secretary-treasurer.

Recent guests at the house have been: Lieutenant George Adams, our housemother's son; Betty Ann Donegan of Middlebury College; Penny and Ensign Philip Richards, both of the Class of '41; and Ann Taylor, '43, president of the chapter during her senior year. Ann is doing editorial promotion work for "Time" and "Life" in New York.

CHI OMEGA

Many of our members have graduated this year. We miss them all but we are proud of them. They are Jane Carter, Maye Anderson, Sylvia Steele, Barbara Brown, Barbara D'Arcy, Martha Wheeler, Connie Salta, Tiny Johnson, Patricia Reynolds, Elaine Campbell, Marilyn Cressy, Dale Rollins, and Joyce Chadwick.

Barbara Thompson has arrived back at school, proudly wearing the engagement ring of Lieutenant Donald Neil Reynolds, USAAF, a former ATO at UNH.

Our national chapter visitor, Miss Edna Earle Richardson, was with us last week.

Debby Benedict Brown and her husband, Richard Brown, both former UNH students, have named their new baby David.

Chi Omega is very glad to have their housemother, Mrs. O'Neil Mauldin back with them this year.

New girls living at the house this year are: Evie Cass, Natalie Chick, Mary Anderson, Billie Reid, Jean Hennessey, Pat Gray, Elizabeth Knowlton, Miriam Myer, Lois Harney, Claire Donahue, and Beatrice Rice, a transfer from the University of West Virginia.

Ann Parker and Nancy Ferguson attended the Notre Dame-Dartmouth game in Boston last Saturday.

Squirrels Worry about Long, Cold Winter

Autumn days are busy days for squirrels. Their immediate problem does not deal with ration books or point values. They spend their time scurrying around gathering and storing up nuts for the long winter months ahead. They have no outside influences to prevent them from doing the job at hand. Their's is a one-track mind which functions entirely on the problem of preparation for winter. Most of us Durhamites envy the squirrel because we seem to have so many things to do we know not where to start, and as a result we hustle aimlessly hither and thither and sometimes miss the goal entirely because of our lack of real organization. One of the most hopeful signs of today is that so many people are talking about tomorrow. It may be true of course that today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday and the cynic might even advise that it's foolish to plan for the future, but we at THE COLLEGE SHOP are still old-fashioned enough to believe, with the squirrels, that winter draws on and that some preparation should be made in advance for King Winter's chilly blasts. Alaska has nothing on rounding the corner of T Hall some wintry morning when a blast seems to come direct from Mt. Washington without even a detour. Pile-lined or sheepskin-lined coats we suggest as good warmth insurance. Going hatless in Florida is the thing to do, but in Durham we recommend ski caps, pile covered Alaskan caps, gloves, mittens and scarfs. Of course if you are one of those who shriek with joy at the sight of snow it is not too early to get out your skis and equipment and take stock of how they weathered the summer. THE COLLEGE SHOP is receiving shipments of ski equipment from the Northland factory and in spite of conditions, the Hickory even now is worth caressing. For these timid souls who still look upon winter as something that must be endured we suggest THE COLLEGE SHOP Lending Library, where you will find the best sellers. So Brad says take a hint from the squirrels and be prepared.—Adv't.

KAPPA DELTA

You can't go wrong at the University Dining Hall

By Murray Aisenberg

Andy Turner, an alumnus of the University of New Hampshire, has left behind the Andy Turner Trophy which is annually offered in the Yacht Club competition. Andy Turner was a graduate of the class of 1943, and a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now at sea with the United States Navy.

The trophy was offered for competition on two occasions. In both two races, Richard Dodge of the class of 1945 took the trophy for his racing ability. In 1943, due to war conditions, the Yacht Club did not sponsor a race for the trophy.

Saturday afternoon's races were cancelled because of unfavorable weather, and two of the four boats, which were in readiness for Sunday morning try-outs, capsized. Tentative plans are now being made to have the race for the Andy Turner Trophy sometime during the spring season.

All students are eligible to race in the boats which belong to the Yacht Club. Detailed information can be secured at any of the Yacht Club meetings, which are held on the second and fourth Thursday of each month during the college year at the Pine Room in Ballard Hall. So sailors and sailorettes come down to the next meeting. You are all welcome.

Coast Guard 38—Rensselaer P. I. 7

The Coast Guard Academy's stunning defeat of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute to the score of 38 to 7 was the result of the intensive workouts and the dogged persistence of the blue jackets from New London. Rensselaer was one of the few peace time rivals of the Academy on their 1944 schedule. Due to war conditions, rivals such as Trinity, Middlebury Connecticut, and Norwich are off the Academy's wartime schedule and the only long time rivalry was with the Trojan Engineers.

Army 59—Brown 7

Army cadets, powered by backs with the versatility of jeeps and the irresistibility of tanks, rolled up a 59 to 7 score against an overpowered and outplayed Brown eleven, their second gridiron triumph of the football season.

Yale 16—Cornell 7

Yale upset a favored Cornell team to the tune of 16 to 7 before 25,000 fans at the Yale bowl in New Haven, Connecticut, and virtually eliminated Cornell from the Ivy League Championship race. Touchdowns by Barksdale and Penn and a safety by Walker gave Yale the coveted victory.

Football Rally at Field House Tonight

The first football rally, in celebration of the resumption of a UNH team, after a two-year lapse of activity, will be held tonight, October 19, at 7:00 in the Field House. The student body will be led through the university cheers by Russ Harmon, "Shorty" Bulger, and Rudolf Honkala, with the assistance of twelve 1942 Pepcats. They will be nattily clad in blue skirts and New Hampshire basketball jackets. It is not definite whether the band will be present.

The team leaves tomorrow for the first encounter of the informal season at Maine on the one o'clock train, and a large send-off is planned at the railroad station since it will not interfere with afternoon classes.

Fifty candidates for the twelve available positions of Pepcats were tried out on Monday. The finals took place Wednesday at New Hampshire Hall and the Pepcats for the ensuing year are Grace Murphy, '45, Priscilla Hallam, '46, Shirley Newcomer, '46, Bernice Rand, '46, Virginia Durfee, '48, Pat Lincoln, '48, Kay Cressy, '48, Lynn Bates, '47, Ruth Hodgkins, '47, Peg Tower, '46, Ann Thompson, '47, Natalie Chick, '47.

These girls will be sufficiently experienced to make their first appearance at the two home games.

The procession will leave Hetzel Hall at 6:45 o'clock and will proceed up Madbury Road, down Garrison Ave. to Main and then to the Field House.

WILDCATCHINGS

by Jack McGinn

Making their first New England visit in many moons last Saturday, the fighting Irish (Dancewicz, Gasparella, Carbruoer, et al.) of Notre Dame invaded Fenway Park in Boston and completely submerged the Dartmouth Indians, down from Hanover, to the overwhelming score of 64 to 0.

Although the game was a runaway, last year's mythical national champions put on a real show for the Bean Towners, who went away feeling that they had seen a team which was perhaps equal to Boston College's great Sugar Bowl team.

New England Boys on Team

Notre Dame has many New England boys on the roster and they covered themselves with glory before the home folks, particularly "Boley" Dancewicz, first string quarterback for the Irish. Incidentally, Mort Baum, big guard on our own Wildcat squad, played against "Boley" while he was burning up the gridiron at Lynn Classical High. Mort exclaims, "He was a virtual streak of lightning."

Well, the great and long awaited game is history now, and from the financial point of view, it was a big success. Tom Yawkey's orchard was filled to capacity, and still more were turned away, including yours truly.

Nashua Leads Schoolboys

The schoolboy gridiron circuit is also having its thrills and chills but from where we sit (a very hard chair in a very cold room) Nashua appears to dominate the New Hampshire football picture. Manchester Central, however, packs a lot of power and may upset the applecart. Yet, we'll string along with the "Buzzers" to cop the New Hampshire championship.

Dover High, last year's champs, tasted the bitterness of defeat at the hands of Central a few weeks ago, and on Columbus Day, they narrowly squeaked by the Portsmouth High "Clippers," who apparently had the game on ice until the last few minutes, when a fumble ruined everything.

We, being of sound body and serious mind, do hereby stick our necks out, and call the "Clippers" to emerge victorious in their next game with Dover, which takes place on Thanksgiving Day. Don't rush, you Dover boys, we're not taking any bets. (No dough.)

Team To Leave Tomorrow For Orono; Strong Team Will Test Untried Foe

Facing their first opponent in over two years, the 1944 edition of the Wildcat football squad under the leadership of Coach Herbert Snow will embark to Orono, Maine, Friday noon to face the untried and untested University of Maine.

Little is known of the power or weakness of the Maine team, but Coach Snow is confident that when the final whistle blows, the Wildcats will emerge from the heap victorious.

When the curtain rises on this gridiron opener for both schools, Coach Snow expects to field eleven men who have had previous football experience and whose attendance and play has shown up well in practice.

Starting at right end will be Jack Stewart, a husky and aggressive player whose defensive play has been outstanding during the last several weeks of practice. His colleague at left end will be "Red" Ryder a lanky lad who is mighty fast. Bill White, Ed Noyes and Charlie Kearney, boys of assorted ability, will also see plenty of action at these two slots.

Ready to charge in and rip the Maine play to shreds are the two tackles Ed Gulubicky at right and Dave Brown at left. Both pack plenty of beef and should spell "no trespassing" to the boys from Down East. Backing up these two "chunks" are "Fuzzy" Stevens and Bill Holleman who likewise are both big and rugged.

Glancing over the all important guard positions we find "General" Beaugard and Al Miles holding down right and left guard respectively. Both have proved in scrimmage that they can absorb a lot of punishment and certainly will need that quality Saturday p.m. Prepared to fill their shoes at a moment's notice are big "Mart Baum and Van Evangelau."

Perhaps the most important boy in Coach Snow's system of things is the center. In this respect he has suffered a big loss in Roger Tyler who broke his ankle in scrimmage. His absence will be keenly felt, but Dick Ravgiala will be in there 100% strong. Steve Morang, a converted guard, will complete the center department.

Directing the team out of the tricky "T" will be Bill Pizzano, ex Revere High flash, and passer par excellence. Subbing for him will be Ken Fribourg, who is light but fast and tricky.

Two capable boys will be in there fighting at halfback, Joe Sweckla and Bill Black. Both are dangerous and every time they handle the ball it is a potential TeeDee. Slated to spell them are "Twit" Henry, who has been ailing with a charley horse, and "Chuck" Thayer, the flashy redhead.

Handling the team's punting and line bucks is "Vic" Szaluka, 180 pounds of charging dynamite. Another husky lad ready to step in is Steve Aliopolous, who can really hit that line.

The entire student body and staff of the University is requested to cast a straw ballot, indicating their choice of the major presidential candidates. A voting booth will be set up under the "T" Hall arch and will be open on Monday and Tuesday, October 23 and 24, from 8:00 A.M. to 12:00 N and from 1:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M. This poll is being conducted by the staff of the "New Hampshire," in conjunction with Student Council. Results will be published next week.

Gay Crowd, New Colors Herald Football Season

Well, here it is again, — that wonderful game, football! Football games bring to mind fall weather, gay crowds and bright colors. Speaking of colors, have you seen those beautiful Scottish kilt skirts at the University Shop? They're really something, all you coeds, — practically a must in your college wardrobe.

Those ever popular blazer suits are something to see, also, at the University Shop. They come in all sizes and in plum, green, brown and navy.

The University Shop, as you may know, is a branch of the James W. Hill Company of Manchester, which is widely known as being a "dependable institution for seventy-eight years."

cause they lacked intelligence, but merely because there was no one to organize and help them. In this war, however, the machinery is set up to handle every returning veteran who wishes and needs vocational training and rehabilitation. Today there is no excuse for a veteran not gaining his objective, he said. Dr. Leavitt particularly stressed in concluding his talk, "Choose your courses with care, apply yourself diligently, be gentlemen at all times and we of the university pledge ourselves to the fulfillment of your educational careers."

Dr. F. J. Drury told the veterans under what heading they were included and, under the present arrangements, the amount of medical attention to which they were entitled.

Raymond C. Magrath told the veterans, "You, as the first group of veterans to enter this university, will set the precedent for all veterans to come. Yours will be the choice as to whether this is a favorable impression or not. We of the United States and of the world owe you more than we can repay but, for that very reason, do not go through life trying to write your own ticket."

The final speaker of the evening was James Doyle, who explained the facilities at the disposal of veterans and asked them never to hesitate in asking his staff or himself for aid.

"It is no credit to us," he said, "if you men fail in your studies. Your marks and conduct and your accomplishments are a direct reflection upon us. Our greatest wish is to see you all get your degree at this university." "You as veterans," he continued, "have already done a great job for your country, I have no fear of what you will do in the future." Mr. Doyle remarked United States, the youngest nation in the world, as the first in science, industry, and in our way of living. "This," he said, "is a great time for us to be thankful we are Americans. We must never again allow other nations to build war machines while we indulge in wishful thinking. This holocaust must never be repeated again. The boys who sleep under the sod of France have not and shall not have died in vain. It is your job to see that this will always be so."

Rudolf Honkola, chairman of the dance committee, reported that all arrangements for the informal Veterans' Halloween Dance, have been completed. It will be held at New Hampshire Hall Saturday, October 28 at 8 o'clock. Bob Allard and his orchestra will play for the event.

CAP

Recently a cadet training program was inaugurated to train 15 to 18 year old boys in aviation, prior to enlistment in the Air Force. CAP training in this respect has proved invaluable to young boys planning to enter the air service branches and their records in CAP, a decided advantage, are forwarded to the Air Force when they enlist.

Membership in Civil Air Patrol is open to any citizen of the United States, male or female, who is interested in aviation and its advancement in the United States. Those boys and girls under eighteen years of age will be allowed to join the CAP cadets which carries the same privileges afforded the regular units. After the war the CAP will undoubtedly continue its activities and will be charged with the responsibility of helping to maintain the air supremacy which America now holds.

Specific activities of the CAP flights being formed at Durham will include courses in aviation, military drill, observation flights in army and private aircraft, participation in air meets and competition at Portsmouth, Laconia, and other surrounding airports. The Durham flights which will work in close cooperation with the very active Portsmouth squadron will have as their faculty advisor Lt. E. H. Stolorz, of the N. H. Wing Staff, and Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering in the School of Technology. Lt. Jack Palmer, Commanding Officer of the Portsmouth Squadron, has appointed Warren Robbins, class of 1945, and former member of the Worcester, Massachusetts Squadron, to organize the Durham unit.

CAP NOTICE

If you are interested in joining the Civil Air Patrol—men, women; University students, high-school students; residents of Durham and surrounding towns—send a postcard with your name, age, (over or under eighteen), legal residence, and campus address to Warren Robbins, Box 406, Durham, N. H.

In a succeeding issue of The New Hampshire, the time and location of an introductory meeting at which staff and Wing Officers of the CAP will be present to address the group, will be announced.

But if you are interested in joining or finding out more about the Civil Air Patrol, send in your postcard today!

NOTICE

The Navy needs men under 18 for radio technician training. If you are interested call at the Bureau of Appointments, Office Room 209, Thompson Hall for further details.

If a sufficient number are interested, an evening meeting will be held on October 30, when an officer of the Navy will explain the details and answer any questions.

By Roger Bernard De Hayes

In an effort to clarify the various issues involved in the present political campaign, we are addressing the following inquiries to the Republican nominee, Thomas E. Dewey:

Is it not true that the Republicans in Congress voted against every vital defense measure — from the Bill to fortify Guam and other pacific outposts to the Lend-Lease Bill and the Selective Service Acts?

Is it not true that your supporters include all the incurable isolationists, the British and Russian haters, the Hearst-Patterson-McCormick newspaper axis, Elizabeth Dilling, now on trial for sedition, and George Sylvester Viereck, convicted Nazi espionage agent?

Is it not true that Gerald L. K. Smith, head of the America First Party, offered Gov. Bricker the post of vice-presidential candidate on his ticket—and that neither you nor he have denounced Smith nor repudiated his support?

Is it not true that several men high in the councils of the Republican Party once held top positions in the allegedly Nazi-dominated America First Committee?

Is it not true that your intimate friend and advisor, John Foster Dulles, termed democracy a "luxury" during a speech in New York in 1939?

Did you not, previous to this campaign, declare yourself against what you termed "foreign entanglements" and advocate isolation for this country?

Is it not true that your close friend, Westbrook Pegler, who has been mentioned as your choice as Secretary of Labor, is well-known for his anti-labor attitude, and that he has denounced the Wagner Act and the National Labor Relations Act?

Why have you not answered Senator Ball's three questions dealing with your stand on the subject of American participation in an international organization to preserve the peace of the world, and why have you not committed yourself in regards to post-war foreign policy?

Why were the delegates to the Republican National Convention refused any contact with Wendell L. Willkie, the titular head of the party, and why were Mr. Willkie's proposals rejected by the Convention which nominated you?

If the Administration is a foe of free enterprise, why did not the President completely destroy it in 1933—when he could very easily have accomplished it?

If the Administration is planning to destroy our way of life, why is it that such a newspaper as "The New York Times," which has always been decidedly critical of the President's economic policies, supports the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt?

Why have you ignored the very serious questions of racial discrimination in your own state, and why did you not improve housing conditions in the State of New York?

Wildcats Scrimmage Under Lewis Lights

by Jack McGinn

The lights went on again at Lewis Field Friday night after being tucked away in storage ever since Pearl Harbor. This momentous occasion marked the first full length inter-squad scrimmage of the new Wildcat season and was packed with thrills and chills, particularly the latter.

A surprising large football hungry crowd was in attendance and they were treated to a real bruising battle which saw a superior A team, clad in white jerseys prevail over the boys in blue, the B team. The Blues had plenty of "stuff" with a little hocus-pocus thrown in for seasoning, but they were not the equal of their fleet and heavier colleagues.

The game, as far as scoring, referees, quarters, and halves, etc. was strictly informal, but the playing was decidedly otherwise with terrific blocks and ferocious tackles being the order of the night.

During the first few minutes of the game, the Whites were stalemated by the aggressiveness of the Blues who were seemingly alive with pep, but they finally began to click on all cylinders driving the Blues back yard after yard, with "Twit" Henry, Bill Black, and Joe Swekla teaming up with beautiful runs behind some excellent blocking to set up the Whites four touchdowns.

Both teams muffed their plays occasionally but these flaws will be ironed out under the watchful eyes of Coach Snow until every player has his assignment down pat.

From all viewpoints, the scrimmage was a success and it is safe to say that our two opponents, Maine and Middlebury, will face a very formidable foe, that is, unless "old man injury" invades Lewis Field.

Glee Clubs and Faculty Concerts To Be Featured

The Music Department under the direction of Mr. Robert Manton has announced the program to be presented by the members of the department and the students during the coming year.

The first concert to be presented by the Girls' Glee Club will take place on December 16. It will be a Christmas program of varied and distinguished choral numbers including works by Bach, Beethoven, Pergolesi, Holst, Mabel Daniels, and a new carol by Professor Manton entitled "As Dew in Aprylle," the text of which is derived from the 15th century. Carols from Russia, England, and France will be interspersed among the other numbers. It is hoped that the orchestra will participate in some of the accompaniments and in separate presentations.

A new series of faculty concerts will be presented by the staff of the department during the year. The first will be a violin and piano program with Miss Margaret Olsen, violin instructor, playing the violin and Professor Manton at the piano. One of the numbers featured will be Professor Manton's "Sonata for Violin and Piano."

Miss Dorothy Kline and Professor Manton will present a series of monthly organ recitals beginning on October 29 at 4:30 at the Community church. Professor Manton will present the first recital which will include selections from several composers among them being Karg-Elert, Bach, Vierne, Baintow, and Arthur Foote.
