A.S.T.R. to Sponsor Military Ball on Saturday, Dec. 9

Bob Allard and his Band To Play for Dance With Students as Guests

A military ball, sponsored by the ASTR unit of the University of New Hampshire, will be held on Saturday, December 9, 1944, from 8:30 to 12 p.m., in New Hampshire Hall. Bob Allard and his band, from Manchester will provide the music and Private Errol Flynn will be the vocalist. The affair is strictly formal, with all students on campus invited to attend as guests of the Army.

It will be the farewell dance for the Army men stationed here, as the soldiers are leaving for Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont, on December 30. There are approximately two hundred training here, and the majority of them come from the New England area. Some have been here since July, while the others arrived in October with the incoming UNH student body. All are seventeen year olds who have enlisted in either the Army Air Corps Reserve or the regular Army Reserve.

Following the grand march, selected judges will announce the name of the prettiest girl present, in their estimation, as their choice for the queen of the ball. The queen will be presented with a crown of flowers.

The chaperones will be Lt. Col. Joseph F. Daly, Dr. and Mrs. Horace Giddings, Professor H. A. Iddles, and Professor and Mrs. William Kichline.

Girls may eat with their escorts in the President's dining room on Saturday night, and Sunday noon.

Phi Sigma Initiates Eleven New Members

Eleven new members were initiated into Phi Chapter of Phi Sigma, honorary biological society, at a recent meeting. The new members are: Betty Bowley, Ann Buciak, Barbara Clapp, Barbara Dunlap, Sylvia Graham, Jeanne Kilduff, Frances Mikol, Helen Robinson, Janet Swift, Phoebe Woodman, and Dr. Yeager.

In addition to being proficient in the biological sciences, the initiates were required to undergo grueling mental and physical torture in the form of oral examinations, bloody operations, and a fishing episode which was reported to be very unpleasant. This will explain the weird sounds drifting from the vicinity of Nesmith Hall on the evening of November 28. After these preliminaries were passed, a formal initiation was held in which the new members officially joined Phi Chapter.

Elinor Abbott Queen At Yacht Club Dance

Wearing a white satin robe and carrying red roses, Miss Elinor Abbott, Alpha Chi Omega, marched down an aisle, formed by students, to be crowned queen of the Yacht Club formal dance held last Saturday, December 2, in New Hampshire Hall. Her aides were Miss Rachel Burbank, Theta Chi, and Miss Estelle Poirier, Commons, who carried colonial bouquets in the procession. Miss Abbott was crowned by Don Kingsbury, and David Marshall acted as master-of-ceremonies. Accompanied by her aides, Miss Abbott presided over a dance in her honor.

The hall had nautical decorations with the stage resembling a large liner, the S. S. New Hampshire, with crossed oars, anchors, lanterns and life-preservers adding to the atmosphere. Stars and snow balls ususpended on streamers over the dance floor simulated a night sky over the sea. Punch and cookies were served as refreshments. The music of the evening was supplied by the Spotlight Band of Dick Taylor.

Newman Club Holds Communion Breakfast

The annual Communion Sunday, sponsored by the Newman Club, will be observed next Sunday, December 10 in New Hampshire Hall at 10:30 A.M. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered at 9:30 A.M. at Murkland Hall by the chaplain of the club, the Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor. The Newman Club choir will present a special musical program under the direction of Joseph Cusick. Claire Flynn and George Bahan will be the soloists.

The Communion breakfast will be served at 10:30 by Roscoe Simpson, caterer. The guest speaker at the breakfast will be the Very Rev. Joseph R. N. Maxwell, S. J., president of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Massachusetts. Other speakers will be Dr. Harold W. Stoke, president of the University, Governor-elect Charles M. Dale, of Portsmouth, and the Rev. Hector A. Benoit, pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Newmarket.

Miss Mary O'Neil, president of the club will preside. Guests will include Dean and Mrs. E. Y. Blewett, Dean Ruth J. Woodruff, Dean and Mrs. William Medesy, and Lt. Col. Joseph F. Daley.

The committee in charge of preparations for this annual event are: General chairman, Ruth Carens; Reception, Jack Flaherty and Marian Gorman; Choir, Joseph Cusick; Properties, Glenn Vickery; Decorations, Clare McQuillan; Programs, Norma O'Dowd; Invitations, Ruth Carens; Tickets, Louise Larrow; and Publicity, Art Flanagan.

Claudia Scheduled For Dec. 14 and 15

Mask and Dagger, UNH dramatic club, will present Rose Franken's comedy-drama "Claudia" December 14 and 15. The production will open the twenty-ninth season of the organization on campus. It is also the first presentation after a year of inactivity brought about by war-time conditions.

Founded in 1915, Mask and Dagger was inactive for eight years and sadly in debt. In 1923 Prof. William Hennessey took charge of the group and directed a splendid performance of "Dulcy" which brought the organization out of debt and made it a prominent campus feature. From that performance until the presentation of "Arsenic and Old Lace" in 1943, Prof. Hennessey continued as director. As a result of his leadership the organization prospered so that it became well-known throughout New England.

During this time the widespread known of the group caused various civic organizations to ask the club to perform for them. Mask and Dagger gave performances in Manchester, Concord, Laconia, Franklin and Portsmouth.

During the school year of 1942-43 the shortage of male talent on campus made itself increasingly apparent. In the last performance that year—"Arsenic and Old Lace"—several students were in turn assigned the role of Teddy Brewster, but were all conscripted into service until finally Prof. Hennessey himself had to take the part.

Mask and Dagger has produced sixty-one full length plays in past years. Most of these were contemporary productions, such as "Liliom," "Mary of Scotland," "Outward Bond," "Our Town," and "The Devil's Disciple;" but there were some old favorites including, "The Merchant of Venice," "The Rivals," "The School for Scandal," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "The Old Homestead."

C.A.P. NOTICE

The second meeting of the University of New Hampshire Detached Flight of the Civil Air Patrol will take place at the Field House this evening, December 7, 1944 at 7 o'clock (19:00). All successive meetings will be held at the Field House on Thursday evenings from 7-9 except during school recesses and examination periods or unless otherwise announced. All members are expected to be on time for roll call.

At the initial meeting on November 30, Major Arthur Cheney of the New Hampshire Wing Staff formally activated the Flight and Lt. E. H. Stolorworthy was presented with command of the Unit. Professors Carl Lundholm and I. N. Thut are aiding in the organization of the unit, together with a group of students who have had previous military or CAP experience. The staff of commissioned and non commissioned officers will be chosen and announced at a later date.

At the meeting tonight, Air Corps training films will be shown and the remainder of the meeting will consist of Civil Air Patrol Orientation.

Upon the completion of a period of provisional training consisting of CAP Orientation, basic military courtesy and discipline, and military drill, all those individuals who have fulfilled the requirements as outlined by the Army Air Corps will be sworn in as members of Civil Air Patrol.

$1,000 in War Bonds Purchased at Rally

Monday, December 4, saw the successful staging of a War Bond Rally in New Hampshire Hall, with $1,000 of Series E Bonds sold. Preceding the rally several selections were played by the ASTR band. First on the program was a motion picture, "They Said We'd Come Back," which portrayed the role of our Navy in the Pacific. President Stoke, who acted as chairman, introduced Lt. Robert Poage, USN, who told of life on U.S. submarines. Col. Joseph Daley was the final speaker.

The sales figures now stand at $12,000 in Series E Bonds, $2500 in individual bonds, and $30,000 from business organizations. This is a total of $46,500 out of a $69,000 goal.

On Tuesday, December 5, the Search and Rescue Branch of the North Atlantic Division held an exhibit in front of Demeritt Hall. The function of this branch is to locate and rescue pilots who are forced down in the North Atlantic land area. Items included in the exhibit were a snowmobile and trailer unit used in transporting wounded pilots; a sled and team of seven dogs; two mules; two St. Bernard dogs used to trace crash victims; and various other pieces of equipment.

Rescue Equipment Viewed In 6th War Loan Drive

Taking Durham by surprise, the Rescue Section, North Atlantic Patrol of the Air Transport Command exhibited a complete display of rescue equipment on University grounds opposite Congreve South, Tuesday noon in cooperation with the Sixth War Loan Drive.

The Rescue Section, under Captain William Shearer, is stationed at Presque Isle, Maine, but under the present campaign will tour through Nashua, Dover, Rochester, Portsmouth, and other leading New Hampshire towns and cities.

Attracting most attention in the display were St. Bernard dogs, Tiny and Coco, a team of pack huskies, and a mule burdened with a steel casualty stretcher for mountain region rescue work. Prominent exhibits also included a snow tractor equipped with complete ambulance materials, costing two $500 war bonds, a G. I. jeep in which Captain Shearer travels during the tour, and a tent designed for warmth and protection in colder climates. Other rescue equipment, especially essential to downed fliers, were drop-kits supplied with flares, fishing materials and instructions, rations, bullets, chemical stove for cooking, walkie-talkie radio, knives, sunglasses, and heavy G. I. parkas, flying suits, stockings, boots, and sleeping bags. Also included in the exhibit were emergency parachutes and signals of distress in various colors and designs.

It's wit to pick a lock and steal a horse, but wisdom to let them alone.

New Merit Point System For Evaluating Awards Also Passed by Students

The results of the first student elections in more than two years at UNH, held Thursday, November 30, at New Hampshire Hall, were made known this week by the Men's Student Council.

David Brown is the new senior president. He defeated William Holleman, his nearest competitor, for the leading class office on campus. Alton Lehar was chosen as head of the junior class over David Marshall, while Joe Bennett is the president of the sophomores, edging out Bud Tibbetts, his nearest rival. By defeating Maurice Berry, Joe Swekla won out in the frosh elections.

The point system for evaluating achievement and merit awards, and candidates for Who's Who was approved by a vote of 981 to 64. Erle Huse was appointed to the Committee on Educational Policy.

Successful senior candidates were vice-president, George Hatch; secretary, Mary O'Neil; treasurer, Suzanne Sickmon, while the runners-up in respective order were Joyce Churchill, Marian Gorman, and Anna Karanikas.

The new junior officers include the following: vice-president, Constance Ledward; secretary, Frances Mikol; treasurer, Phyllis Holden and the runners-up were Alfred Cherin, Lila Sprague, and Eleanor Getter, respectively.

Successful candidates for the sophomore class were vice-president, Jean Firth; secretary, Nancy Tupper; treasurer, John Haskim, while the runners-up respectively were Alan Hartman, Lee Albee, and Mal Priestly.

The new officers for the freshman class are vice-president, Fred White; secretary, Russell Harmon; treasurer, Bruce Bulger, while the runners-up included Ed Gulubicky, Albert LaCaillade, and Mort Baum.

Hopkins of Hanover Speaks at Inaugural

Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, the institution with which the University of New Hampshire was affiliated for more than a quarter of a century, will fittingly deliver the greetings from the educational world at the inauguration of Dr. Harold W. Stoke as the tenth president of the University of New Hampshire on December 17 in Durham.

At its founding in 1866 and during the administration of its first three presidents, the "New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts" was located at Hanover as a part of Dartmouth College. In 1893, the college was removed to Durham to the lands which Benjamin Thompson, a prosperous farmer, had bequeathed to the people of New Hampshire on condition that the state establish a college of agriculture on his farm. Lettergrades

At the close of the spring semester, last year, the University Senate, following the example of a majority of American colleges and universities, formally adopted the letter system of marking, to take effect at the opening of the fall semester, 1944. Thus, the numerical system of evaluation of student achievement was made obsolete here at UNH.

This measure was initiated and finally adopted after considerable research and debate on the part of both faculty and student committees. Its adoption was hailed by the more progressive educators as a step toward the new and more liberal educational system.

However, about the campus recently, there has been a great deal of protest by students who are in favor of a return to the old system. Many arguments for the repeal of the letter system have been advanced, arguments which we feel are a bit too premature.

There are no students on campus now, with the possible exception of a small number of transfer students, who have ever worked under the new system of letter grades. Therefore, since none of the students have a true working knowledge of the system, since few realize the benefits to be derived, we feel that no student is justified in unconditionally condemning it.

Let us try the new system. Then, if it is tried and found wanting, let us work together to revise it satisfactorily. Until it is definitely proved that another marking system would be for the best interests of the student body, let us fairly and justly try this new system of evaluation of student achievement on the basis of letter grades.

Remember Pearl Harbor

Today marks the third anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The truth about Pearl Harbor is no longer a secret. Documents have already been published and anyone who will just take time out to read them may arrive at a very simple conclusion, the sequence of which is something like this:

1—We are now under such a rigid system of government that it makes it impossible for the commander-in-chief to order our forces to intercept a potential enemy and actually to attack any force approaching our shores and harbors unless we are sure the incoming force has a hostile purpose.

2—Even if we did know in advance that the Japanese were planning to attack Pearl Harbor our hands would be tied, because no Navy commander would dare go out and intercept that fleet because to do so is an act of war and this must be sanctioned by Congress. If another country commits the first hostile act then our commanders have instructions to fire and resist, but neither the Army nor Navy can make a move unless the enemy attacks first.

The same situation which prevailed on December 7, 1941, still prevails. The tragedy can happen again and again and again. The remedy lies in exposing to the fullest extent the manner in which our armed forces are handicapped by the old rules which require a written declaration of war or a formal order for mobilization before a state of war is recognized. The sooner the American system is streamlined to meet new contingencies, the sooner will the safety of America from sudden attack be assured.

GREEK WORLD

PHI MU

Last Sunday evening Phi Mu enjoyed a few delightful hours with Mr. Manton. For our first Philomathean Hour he spoke to us on the subject of "Appreciation of Music." Dean and Mrs. Edward Blewett represented our patrons and patronesses.

Cupid's bells rang again for Phi Mu. Barbara Bartlett was married Monday afternoon to Kenneth Davis who is serving with the AAF. The wedding was held at Claremont, N. H. Barbie Strachan was bridesmaid.

Gerry Gillon, Laura Hamm, and Virginia Parker were initiated on Tuesday evening.

"Bonnie" Ferguson is one of those who are designing the scenery for the play "Claudia" which is soon to be presented.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega is proud to have had Estelle Poirier elected as an aid to the Queen of the Yacht Club Formal.

We also were first to have 100% participation in the war bond drive.

Weekend guests at the house were Elaine Campbell, an alumna, who is now training at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, and Audrey Chambers, a sophomore at Sargent. Glenna Sanborn Ferris and her husband were here to see us Saturday morning. They are still on their honeymoon.

Evie Cass came back this weekend with a diamond from Lieut. Ransford Kellog. Ethel Innes is visiting Ensign Arthur Langor at his home in Manchester, this week.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

In honor of "El" Abbott's coronation as queen of the ball, Alpha Chi Omega held open house all week-end. Off-campus guests included Dottie Gunther '45, Margie Ware '44, Bob Newall '43, and Jimmy Jones. Also Geno De Felice, Rolly Miller, Joe Logan, and Johnny Gooding, USMC, Dartmouth College.

Mary O'Neil was elected secretary of the Senior class.

THETA UPSILON

Betty Surette Young is at home this week, because her husband is on leave.

Barbara Hayden is secretary-treasurer of Mike and Dial.

Last Friday we had an "at home with our patronesses evening" to discuss plans for our coming formal dessert party.

Peg Coburn, Jane Whitney, and Grace Shaylor attended the I.O.C.A. trip to the M.I.T. cabin at Lake Masapoag, Dunstable, Mass.

Guests for this weekend's Yacht Club Ball were: Seaman 1/c Rick Tibbits, Bill Lanhan of Portsmouth, Harold Van Vleit of Milton, and James Murray of Keene.

Frances Smith was soloist at last week's S.C.M. membership party. This Monday evening Frannie also received a letter from Bob!

ALPHA XI DELTA

Weekend guests at Alpha Xi were Ensign Bob Kimball, guest of Pussy Hallam; Midshipman Bud Sweet, guest "Jitter" Brown; Midshipman Bob Clifton, guest of Lynn Bates; Priscilla Andrews, guest of Jean Firth; "J. J." Johnson, and Sally Piper, guest of Ruth Piper.

Miss Marion Sheehan was elected to Who's Who for 1944.

Jean Firth was elected vice-president of the sophomore class and Louis Ledward was elected vice-president of the junior class.

Many Chem Majors Now in Armed Forces

A survey released today by the chemistry department shows that 40 per cent of the 228 chemistry majors who have graduated since 1930 are now serving in the armed forces. Of this number, 32 are in the Navy and 59 in the Army. Thirty-five graduates are overseas.

The majority of the men are commissioned officers in the various branches of the service, a large number of them in chemical warfare. Others are in such branches as the medical corps, air corps, ordnance, communications, engineers, parachute infantry, anti-aircraft, tank destroyer units, radar and radio maintenance, and the meteorological service.

The scarcity of men over 18 attending colleges has affected the University of New Hampshire chemistry department also, with the enrollment showing a sharp decrease. Since the last large class graduated in February, 1944, the department has had no grad-

NEW RADIO RELAY LINK FOR TELEPHONE AND TELEVISION

Tiny radio waves, shorter than any used before in commercial telephony, will link New York and Boston in a new experimental "jump-jump" relay system for the transmission of telephone speech and television programs.

These waves travel in straight lines like beams of light. Because of the earth's curvature, the distance will be spanned in a series of straight-line jumps between transmitting and receiving stations about 30 miles apart.

The Bell System plans post-war improvements in ways like this, to extend its nation-wide service by providing more Long Distance telephone facilities for peacetime needs.

"Lundy" Honored by N. E. Amateur Athletic Ass'n

The University of New Hampshire's director of physical education and athletics, Carl Lundholm, was recently honored in Boston with three important appointments. He has been named president of the executive committee of the Association of New England Colleges for Conference on Athletics; and a member of the Postwar Planning Committee for Intercollegiate Athletics and Physical Education. "Lundy" has been associated with the university since 1928.

Intramural League

In the opening game of the newly formed Intramural League the Red Raiders, composed of boys from East and West Halls, scored a decisive 23-9 victory over a hard fighting Fairchild combine.

In the first two periods the game was a defensive duel but in the last half the Audley-Langton combination broke loose to put the game on ice for the Raiders. Lahar and Hendriks stood out offensively for the combine while Mort Baum gave the crowd a thrill with his unorthodox defensive tactics.

The hardest battle of the evening was waged in the second game as a fast and tricky Commando team led by Rip Therrien notched out a 36-22 verdict over the Rebels.

The game was played on even terms in the first stanza, but in final the Commandos ran roughshod in the last half practically scoring at will.

Leading the scoring parade for the duel was Wilmarth of the Rebels who amassed a total of 14 points. Szalucka, Hollingsworth and Therrien were big guns in the Commando's attack.

For all intent and purpose the 1944 football season ended last week. It will be 1945 when the big games of this year's gridiron parade travel to the several bowl areas for the New Year's Day games. That is in the unknown future. So now for a few of the highlights and headlines of last Saturday's pigskin parade.

Army 23 — Navy 7

The most colorful game of the football season was the Army-Navy classic at Baltimore. This year it was again minus the color of the parading Plebes and Middies, but it couldn't have had more football thrills in it than last Saturday. To pick out one event, and feature it as outstanding would be impossible. But imagine this, a player has shaken loose by keeping his knees in continuous motion on the mid-field strip; then, dodging and faking he races down the sideline and is tackled on the goal line, but falls over it for a score. That was Army's Glenn Davis carrying the ball which was one of the prettiest executed plays of the afternoon.

Al Hamburg for Navy ran a close second for capturing the day's honors. Hamburg, on spinning reverse plays, plunged through the Army line for gain after gain, and on several plays broke away, but to be stopped by the secondary and safety men.

Notre Dame 28 — Great Lakes 7

Notre Dame's Fighting Irish exploded with all the fury of their football tradition to crush Great Lakes' pigskin handlers with the score of 28 to 7. The first half closed after a bitterly fought thirty minutes of play in a 7-7 deadlock. The midwestern finale saw the Bluejackets strike hard to gain their tenth victory. However in the early stages of the second half it was easy to tell the Gobs had thrown their punch, and the Irish were ready to take over.

The first Notre Dame touchdown came in the second period when Dancewicz after a 56-yard drive threw a final 15-yard touchdown pass. Then in the second half Dancewicz, the lad from Massachusetts, continued starring for the Irish by throwing the pigskin to gain a second touchdown, and a running play completed the third T. D.

Virginia 26 — North Carolina 7

The oldest continual rivalry in Dixieland is now tied at twenty-three victories apiece and three ties. Virginia slashed at UNC and won, after its previous week's tie with the undefeated Yale team. Playing heads-up football, Virginia tallied in the first and fourth periods, and twice in the second quarter, thus their 49-year-old rivalry is now in a deadlock.

The Tar Heel line executed its chores brilliantly, but the backfield lacked a lot of the vim and vigor necessary for a winning ball club. The Cavaliers clicked in all departments and cashed in on spectacular pass plays.

Georgia Tech 44 — Georgia 0

The outstanding exhibition put on in the South was by the Georgia Tech team, which has been the choice for the Orange Bowl New Year's Day game. The Engineers triumphed over the scoreless Georgia team by coupling a deadly passing attack with a razzle-dazzle ground offensive. A glue fingered, spindle legged halfback, 150 pound George Mathews (watch him January 1) threw a bullet pass, while leaping into the air for one touchdown, and caught other passes to add to the Engineers rout. Another big reason for Techs going to the Orange Bowl is Frank Broyle. Broyle made the All Southern Conference choice for fullback, and to prove the judges weren't wrong in their choice Broyle was the spark plug in five out of seven of the Engineer's scores.

Four N. H. Coeds Camp with I.O.C.A.

This week-end, Peg Coburn, Jane Whitney, Grace Shaylor, and Anna Cook of the N.H.O.C., attended a trip sponsored by the Boston Council of the I.O.C.A. to the M.I.T. cabin at Lake Massapoag, Dunstable, Mass. Other members of the Boston Council represented were Radcliff, Simmons, Wellesley, Harvard, and M.I.T. In all, 42 people were there.

The newest feature of the trip was bushwacking in from Tyngsboro Saturday p. m.

Saturday night the program consisted of square-dancing and I.O.C.A. songs. Some of the hardier souls slept outdoors in 5° above temperature.

Sunday was spent hiking, singing, and eating.

Professor and Mrs. S. Young Tyrie of M.I.T. were chaperones.

Team Coached by Swasey To Be Strictly Informal Outlook Bright

Contrary to rumors that have been circulating the campus that varsity basketball was definitely out, the Committee on Athletics has announced that the school will be represented by an informal squad on the same basis as the football team of last fall. In the nearby Wildcatlings column written by the author of this article it was stated last week that no basketball was in the offing. This was an entirely erroneous statement as it came from unauthentic sources. However, the fact remains that New Hampshire will have a team and this is absolutely authentic coming from the committee itself.

With all errors and omissions being cast aside and forgiven the following is the basketball setup for New Hampshire. The team as stated above will be strictly informal and of course will be coached by the Wildcat's experienced mentor "Hank" Swasey. The schedule will commence January 15 and although no games have been booked the future opponents will be teams playing on an informal basis. Coach Swasey will no doubt call the prospects together in the near future and it is expected that a large number of candidates will answer his call. There are no holdovers from the Wildcats last basketball team but material on the campus seems abundant and well seasoned and also in condition due to the Intramural League. So all in all the hoop outlook is promising but naturally it is too soon to make any statement on the team's success but time and time alone will tell.

NOTICE

An informal dance, sponsored by East and West Halls, will be held on Friday night, December 8, in the West Hall Recreation Room. Only members of East and West Halls and their dates will be admitted. Refreshments will be served.

uate assistants, or offered any graduate courses. Only two seniors are doing research problems.

The survey showed that 38 per cent of the seniors who have graduated in the last 14 years have gone on to do graduate work. Sixty-one have received masters' degrees in chemistry; 18 have received Ph.D.'s; and 11 are now working for their Ph.D.'s at various universities.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Canterbury Club on Thursday, Dec. 7 at 8 o'clock in the living room of Congreve South. Rev. Robert Dunn, advisor of the club, will speak on the sacraments.

And so the outstanding games of last week's 1944 pigskin parade have been accounted for. The thrills will soon be forgotten but the scores of the classics played off will go onto the annals of football history. The Houdinis of the gridiron like Red Grange of the long gone by past cannot now be determined, but after the sifting process has been completed, one will surely rise.

Appointment Bureau Aids Seniors, Alumni

The University has operated a placement service for students and alumni for a great many years, conducted under the name of the Bureau of Appointments. Registration with the Bureau is purely voluntary and consequently many students do not take advantage of the opportunity while on campus and thus fail to learn of the splendid positions that are frequently available.

The functions of the Bureau of Appointments are to advise the prospective candidate of the possibilities of employment in certain fields for which the candidate is qualified; to arrange personal interviews with prospective employers; and to furnish such employers with the records and data that are available in this office.

When a student registers with the Bureau, a "Confidential Material" file, which contains all the pertinent data usually required by an employer is prepared. This file may be sent to any prospective employer at the student's request at any time, and it is often sent at the employer's request. The valuable feature of this file is its permanent up-to-date character which enables the Bureau to assist the alumni in future employment possibilities, as well as the senior who is graduating.

The Director, Russell R. Skelton, feels that every senior should register now in order that a file can be prepared several months previous to graduation. There is ample evidence to prove that the chances of employment are greatly improved when adequate data can be sent to the employers' on short notice. There are many positions to be filled, but they cannot

Prof. Donald C. Babcock Guest Speaker of Hillel

Professor Donald Babcock, head of the Department of Philosophy, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Hillel Club on Wednesday evening, November 29, in the Pine Room of Ballard Hall. Professor Babcock spoke on "The American Character" and the dominance of certain American traits. Then, after an informal question period, the meeting was adjourned, and refreshments were served.

The next gathering of the Hillel Club will be on December 13 in the Pine Room at Ballard. At this time a Chanukah Service will be held, followed by a festival in commemoration of the same holiday.

ATTENTION VETERANS

All veterans are urged to attend an important Student Veterans' Organization meeting on Monday, December 11 at 6:30 p.m. at the Trophy Room, Commons Dormitory.

be obtained without proof of qualified training and ability.

The Director wishes to take this opportunity of inviting those seniors who have not registered to come to the office for a short interview in order that he may serve them, but in particular, enable them to best help themselves now and in the future.

Three Marines taking part in the Saipan invasion first were startled then amused at the discovery of a U. S. Marine recruiting poster on a building in Garapan. How the poster got there is unknown.

Rufus Rose Marionettes Present Two Plays

The Rufus Rose Marionettes of Waterford, Conn. will present two plays, "Pinocchio" and "Revue" on Monday, December 12, at 8:00 p.m. in Murkland Auditorium.

The performance is being jointly sponsored by the Lectures and Concerts committee under the direction of Prof. Philip M. Marston, and the Durham Women's Club. On Monday afternoon, "Rip Van Winkle" and "Variety" will be given in a special presentation for the pleasure of the Durham Women's Club. Admission for the evening performance will be sixty cents.

Prof. Marston announces that members of the audience are invited backstage, and the producer of the troupe will be glad to answer any questions concerning the operation and production of a marionette play.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

A request has just been received from the War Manpower Commission to have all those receiving degrees either in February or June in certain fields file a questionnaire with the Commission in Washington. The forms are available in the Registrar's Office.

The fields included are bacteriology, forestry, chemistry, geology, mathematics, meteorology, economics, social psychology, sociology, chemical engineering, and mechanical engineering.

NOTICE

Everyone having a car on campus is requested to have it moved off the street by 11:00 p.m. Those persons not doing so will have their cars hauled to a garage.

Lieut. Fecke is Hero in Big Air Fight with Japs

Early in October a flight of eight American planes was led against a force of more than sixty Japanese planes by Lieutenant John A. Fecke of Duxbury, Mass., a former UNH football player, now a Navy pilot. Twenty six enemy planes were shot down and the remainder routed, saving two crippled American warships. Only one Navy plane was downed, and this pilot was rescued. Three American aces were made that afternoon, one of whom was Lt. Fecke.

The Skating Club will meet every Friday at 4 o'clock. If there is no ice, the meetings will be held in the games room at New Hampshire Hall. Plans for special events this winter are now being formulated.

came known in 1890, the enthusiastic senior class of 1891 journeyed down from Hanover to hold its commencement exercises in the college's first new building—a cow barn. The college was renamed the University of New Hampshire in 1923 and within it were established the three colleges of liberal arts, technology, and agriculture.

When the college first started there was a faculty of two members and a student body consisting of ten men. The student enrollment has increased from the original ten to a pre-Pearl Harbor high of more than 2100. Figures also show that the faculty has grown from two to 290 faculty members.
