Kiss and Tell on Stage Next Wed.

Opening night for Kiss and Tell is just six days off. That's right — November 14th is the date! If rehearsals are any indication, it will be a night to remember.

Your reporter stopped in at rehearsal this week for a few minutes, and ended up staying two hours. Here are a few little incidents that kept her glued to the chair and howling. Handsome Private Earhart, played by Dick Gangi, had just made his entrance and Corliss was trying visibly to add three years in two seconds. Picture the dashing soldier gallantly offering Corliss, going on sixteen, a cigarette and Corliss demurely accepting it without knowing just how one holds a cigarette, and you've got one of the very funny situations. Then Dexter, 17, characterized by Leon Grodzins, breezes in to see his gal Corliss and nearly trips over "the uniform." He's not very diplomatic about wanting to know who he is either.

From the romantic angle Lieutenant Lenny Archer, Steve Aliapoulis, and Mildred Pringle, Barbara Sharrock, put the kiss in Kiss and Tell. Zowie! It's murder, that is, it's love with a capital "L"! Next 12-year-old Raymond Pringle, portrayed excellently by Mike Coombs, draws the attention. He has some terrific cleaning fluid that takes the spots off couches, and the design also. His ingenuity is amazing and his philosophy superb. Keep an eye on him!

Corliss, the pretty scatterbrain, has quite a system with her beaus. Her dad, Leon Stevens, is heard commenting on the successful accomplishment of holding hands with two at the same time. But hang on to your chairs. It's not time to roll in the aisles yet.

When Jane Phipps, Dexter's modern mother, reminiscences about Corliss and Dexter, it goes something like this: "It seems like only yesterday I was always finding them fighting, and now I find them necking." Under the circumstances the line carries an overwhelming punch.

Tau Kappa Alpha Holds Meeting at Exeter Inn

With a dinner at the Exeter Inn, fifteen members of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary speech society at the University of New Hampshire, met recently to discuss plans for the school year, to fill vacancies in office, and to initiate new members.

President Minott Coombs officiated at the initiation of new members: Mrs. Anne Miller Morin and Barbara Rogers. During the business meeting, Virginia Parker was elected treasurer and Natalie Fairchild was chosen to serve as program and publicity director. Judith Ham will be in charge of arranging informal debates on the university campus.

Certificates of membership were presented to Bertha Grass, Jane Phipps, Judith Ham, Virginia Parker, Maxine Coombs, Minott Coombs, Jane Whitney, Betty Collins, Natalie Fairchild, Marion Gorham, Anne Miller Morin, and Barbara Rogers.

150 New Veterans Due On Campus December 3

It's happened again! More men are due on the campus by the third of December. On that date one hundred and fifty veterans who have signed up for the mid-term refresher course will invade the campus to be here as special students until February third, barring the vacation period, of course, which they will take with the rest of the students. The group is composed of both former students and new enrollees who plan to register for the regular February semester.

As in the previous refresher course they will study English, a social science and mathematics, as well as an additional course in general science.

It is hoped that the students now enrolled will assist in orientating the newcomers by helping them to become accustomed to the campus. That should not be a hard task. Of the entire group, only forty are married, and the girls on campus should be more than willing to squire the others around.

Upton Heads Drive For Union Memorial

Robert W. Upton, prominent Concord attorney, will head a Citizens Committee for the $250,000 memorial union building drive being conducted by friends and alumni of the University of New Hampshire, William T. Call, drive chairman, announced.

The campaign to raise the building fund was started by UNH alumni and will continue through 1946. The Union will be a memorial to former students of the university who served in the armed forces during the recently-concluded war.

Formation of the Citizens Committee, under Upton's leadership, was inspired by the interest expressed by persons who are not alumni of the university. He said that such friends had made substantial contributions to the memorial union fund already through the alumni organization, and that establishment of the committee is designed to encourage all interested persons to contribute.

Mr. Upton is one of New Hampshire's well-known citizens. He is a native of Bow; a graduate of the School of Law, Boston University; and has practiced his profession in the Granite State since 1907. He is a former president of the New Hampshire Bar Association. His public activities have been many and varied.

A son, Allan, graduated from the University of New Hampshire in 1941. Sgt. Upton, a weather observer with the Army Air Force, recently returned to Concord after serving overseas.

Phi Lambda Phi

The honorary physics society, Phi Lambda Phi, held an outdoor picnic for its members last Thursday evening at the chapel. There were thirteen members present. Hot dogs, marshmallows, and ginger ale were served. The picnic ended with the members group-singing around the fire. A very enjoyable evening was had by those members present.

CAD'S Rally on Commons Steps Expound Evils of Girls' Dungarees

Mon. Rally Draws Crowd Witness First Post-war Showing of Campus Spirit

A spontaneous demonstration was staged outside of Commons this past Monday afternoon at 12:45 p.m. A group of the male students got together to tell the world their views on the "dungaree situation." The meeting was called by the Committee for the Abolishment of Dungarees in order that they might state their platform to all that were within hearing distance.

Before the meeting started a short parade was held. The band, consisting of a bass drum, clarinet, saxophone, and trombone led the troupe of men through East and West Halls, out onto Mill Road, up Main Street, and on to Commons. They turned off upon reaching Commons and held their meeting on the empty lot beside ATO House. The "Chairman Obnoxious," Theofilos Anastasios Aliapoulis, was introduced amid the cheers of the small but husky throated group. The main points of his address were:

Rules and Regulations

1. The men were not to shave from Monday until the following Sunday.
2. The men were to go to classes, meals and social functions wearing their dungarees, and should do so until the girls give "our clothes back to us!"

Gala Barn Dance Featured by Hetzel

Farmers and Farmerettes! Yes, we mean you and you and especially YOU. The gala social event of the year is being held this coming Saturday night as the boys from Hetzel have cooked up a stupendous barn dance to satisfy the "back to nature" whims of all you potential farmers.

Yes, that is correct — New Hampshire Hall is being turned into the Hetzel Hellabaloo direct from the green pastures of Durham. The modernistic dance hall is being turned into a barn with appropriate decorations plus several surries with the fringe on top, in fact the queen of the Hellabaloo will decorate one of these flashy wagons. Yup, that's right, the most attractive country lass attending the affair will be the honor guest of the whole shebang with a free ride on the surey tossed in for added measure. Yes siree bob this is one affair that is a must and it is also a must to wear the oldest clothes you have, in fact no one will be allowed in the barn unless they are dressed in their farming clothes.

Yes, this is one dance where the worst dressed is the best dressed! Caving out on their sweet potatoes and saws for this rustic venture will be The Country Gentlemen led by Richard (Zeke) Mascott. By the way, the Country Gentlemen are specialists in square dances and this means that the joint will really be jumping.

Chaperones for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. John L. Torgeson, Mr. and Mrs. William Kichline and Dean and Mrs. William Medesy.

Festivities get underway at 8 o'clock and admission is the small sum of 74 cents.

Married Vets Live At Wentworth Acres

To accommodate the expected peak enrollment of 500 married veterans at the University of New Hampshire, a Federal Public Housing Project originally built for shipyard workers in Portsmouth, is being used as an annex-campus.

The first returning vanguard moved in this fall when 26 veterans and their families started housekeeping and attending college at the same time. It is expected that by the time second semester opens on February 4, one hundred couples will have moved in.

One Out of Four Married

One out of every four veterans is married and in this university town whose total population is less than 2,000, the problem of housing returning servicemen and their wives was becoming acute. There wasn't time to build or to undertake any extensive conversion, particularly as the great influx of veterans with families will be here between 1945 and 1949.

But ten miles east of UNH, the busy shipbuilding center of Portsmouth is located. Housing projects had mushroomed up for the workers who were busily engaged in building submarines for the Portsmouth Navy Yard. Since V-J day, cutbacks have been made in the yards and many of the workers have left Portsmouth, creating vacancies in such housing developments as Wentworth Acres.

Through the arrangements made between university authorities and the Federal Public Housing Authority, the (continued on page 4)

Interest in Flying Increases on Campus

During the ten years preceding the war, the University of New Hampshire had an active flying club on its campus. The members flew in a glider and also in powered craft.

Considerable interest is now being shown in reviving the club with the hope that flying may again be a feature of campus activity. A meeting is being planned for November 20, where an open discussion will be held concerning the organization of a flying club. All students interested in flying are urgently requested to attend this meeting. The time and place will be announced at a later date.

Workers have already collected much data pertaining to the insurance necessary for a plane, a field and hangar for the plane, the cost of operation of the various planes available, and the opportunity of purchasing a suitable ship. Any students who possess information along these lines are asked to get in touch with Robert Stearns, Hetzel; Donald James, Mill Road; Herbert Mordecai, Hetzel; Larry Reed, Wentworth Acres; or Mr. Howard E. Stolworthy before the meeting on November 20. This information will be presented and discussed at the meeting.

We are hoping that an interested group will attend so that we may start the flying club.

The True Glory

The Victory Loan Drive will get under way Sunday, November 11, with the showing of a war film at 3 o'clock.

The British and American governments have combined the activities of one thousand four hundred combat cameramen, the best of both nations, to make an uncensored picture record of the unbearable misery, unflinching courage and horrible destruction wrought by World War II. No training, skill or equipment has been spared in order to make this film an equation of the living and the dead. Thirty-two cameramen gave their lives in order that you may have the opportunity to see for yourself, as if you were there, the things your husband, brother, or sweetheart went through over there. If you expect this to be a pretty film of handsome uniforms don't come to the Franklin Theatre on Sunday for it will not be pretty by any stretch of the imagination.

War Stamps and Bonds will be available at the theatre.

Admission to this film is free.

Victory Loan Drive Starts November 12

The stamp booth in Murkland is again open; The Victory Loan Drive, sponsored by SWAC, started Monday and will continue until Pearl Harbor Day, December 7.

The women students have been asked to pledge an amount that they will buy during the five weeks of the drive. These pledges have been signed 100% in many of the dorms and sorority houses. Among the men, so many of them veterans, war stamp purchases are to be voluntary. Many men students on campus have already done their part, and it is for men like them this drive is being carried on.

"To Bring the Boys Home" is the slogan of this Victory Loan Drive — $750 is the goal.

Here is the chance to finish that stamp book that you have started. You can obtain a new one by asking at the booth.

The stamp booth will be open every day this week and Tuesday and Wednesday of the next two weeks. From November 25 to December 7 it will again be open every day.

A long line at the stamp booth means a long line of ships returning to our shores, so let's back this final Victory Drive 100%.

NOTICE

There will be a picnic on Wednesday, Nov. 14, for the all-star hockey team. The bus will leave N. H. Hall for the WRA cabin at Mendum's Pond at 4:30 p.m.

Will all hockey class managers contact Jinny Parker right away!

O. C. DANCE

Tony Metcalf and his seven-piece band will play for the Outing Club's informal dance on November 17, at New Hampshire Hall. The dance chairman is Betty Collins. Admission is sixty cents per person.

More Reconversion

With the end of the war industries, labor and many other groups have begun a period of reconversion. So it is with schools.

Rules which were not strictly enforced during the war should and must be enforced now. Prior to the war freshmen were notified that high school letters, jackets and other emblems awarded for meritorious achievements in the field of sports, were not permissible wear on this campus.

Nothing but UNH regulation awards and emblems were legal. In the past, students have been brought before the Student Council for such a breach of UNH tradition.

The present Student Council gives notice that as of Monday, November 12, the resumption of this rule will go into effect.

This rule is not an infringement upon an individual's personal business, nor a curb on their inherent rights of freedom of wear. It is a mark of loyalty in much the same manner as an immigrant takes American citizenship upon himself.

Proud as they may be of family and national ties across the seas, they recognize America as their new adopted Alma Mater and become Americans. Let us show loyalty and respect for our new Alma Mater, proud as we may be of our high school achievements, and become University of New Hampshire students.

To Pledge or Not to Pledge

Fraternities and their sister sororities have come into national prominence lately with the appearance of such articles as that written by Mrs. Glen Frank of Ohio on the evils of those organizations, and the answering articles published in various magazines throughout the country. Such articles have caused the question of pledging to take on more than local significance. It is a national as well as a campus problem.

Joining a sorority is a big step toward shaping one's college career, and many a Freshman is now facing the prospect of taking that step. It should not be done without a great deal of thought.

Fraternity or sorority life can add much to college life. It offers the convenience of a homelike atmosphere. It offers close associations with other members and a resulting sense of security that such associations bring. It offers a certain degree of social prestige. It can shape both a student's course of study and his future. It can be an agent for great good in a student's life.

On the other hand, fraternity and sorority membership can do much to hinder or even harm a person's life. It can hinder scholastic progress. It can stultify individualism. It can cause the accumulation of needless debts.

Moreover, the joining of a sorority involves give as well as take. Rushing makes it appear like a continuous party. But after that is over and the pledges have signed up with their houses, the work begins. It suddenly appears that there is work to be done, and it is up to the pledges to help do it.

All these things should be taken into consideration when making the decision to join or not to join a sorority.

When the decision to join has been made every house should have been visited, and every effort should have been made to know the girls of each house. Know what their interests are and how they tally with yours. Mutual interests make mutual friends.

Campus Doings

PETTEE HOUSE

Jack O'Lanterns, masks, and black cats all came to life last Saturday evening when Pettee House held their second party in honor of the Durham Witches. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and Mrs. James C. Currier, our house mother, were the chaperones. Both the living room upstairs and the smoker downstairs were decorated in true Halloween fashion.

To the tune of name bands from all over the country (and a new needle in the vic) the thirty odd guests danced in the living room, while card enthusiasts occupied the smoker. Refreshments were served upstairs and enjoyed by all. From all appearances this party lived up to the reputation left it by its vivacious occupants of previous years.

THETA UPSILON

Miss Ruth Woodruff came to dinner last Wednesday.

Our masquerade party held Friday night was very successful.

Mrs. Murphy's son-in-law, Capt. Francis D. Hamblin, USN, visited her this week-end.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Professor and Mrs. Harold Scudder were our guests for dinner a week ago Wednesday evening.

Mrs. John Parker, our National Secretary, arrived last Thursday and stayed until Sunday here at the house.

Lucy Heafield, Lucy Hauslein, Ruth Johnson, and Betty Bonardi were initiated last Thursday evening.

Starting this week, six of the Alpha Xi's living outside the house are eating here for a period of two weeks at a time.

Didi DeLotto and Anna Cook of Theta U were our guests for supper a week ago Wednesday evening in the second of the interchange of suppers.

Plans are underway for an open house dance this Friday evening.

FAIRCHILD HALL

Fairchild Hall will be open to all faculty members and their families on Sunday, November 18, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

We entertained the men of the campus for the first time on Friday night at the Trophy Room. Lots of fun and food was had by everyone. Wonderful music was played by a combination who played records as have seldom been played before.

Dorothy Freese was a member of a string trio who played at the governor's banquet in Concord on Wednesday night.

The ex-female lead of Kiss and Tell, Pat Mason, is feeling fine after an appendectomy at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital.

Theta Chi gals of last year reunited at a party in Fairchild on Halloween night.

Jane and Ellie Smith are right wing and center forward, respectively, on our all-star hockey team.

Pat Keefe has been recently appointed student counselor in the dorm.

CHI OMEGA

Ethel Innes who graduated last June, married Ensign Arthur Langer in Franklin, N. H. last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Hoitt ate dinner with us Monday night.

Tuesday night we exchanged supper with the Kappa Deltas.

KAPPA DELTA

We had a very successful tea last Friday afternoon for the new faculty on campus. We all enjoyed meeting each other and a good time was had by everyone.

Nancy Brock went on a deputation to the Middle Street Baptist Church in Portsmouth Sunday night, where she led a discussion on racial prejudice.

We had a very pleasant exchange supper with Chi Omega this week.

PHI MU

We entertained the Theta Chi fellows at a Hallowe'en house dance a week ago last Friday.

Guests over the weekend included Mrs. Mable Fay of Holyoke, Mass. and Mrs. Curtis Steacie of Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Marjorie Alvord spent the weekend at Wheaton. On Sunday she represented the UNH Outing Club at Harvard.

Jean Cuthbertson outplayed us all and won the house ping pong tournament.

Diophragines . . .

Dear Students,

The CAD's held a rally Monday afternoon outside of Commons (and part time, in). After a parade through several dormitories they ended up across the street from Commons where the Chairman Obnoxious, Theofilos Aliapoulos, gave an awe-inspiring address to the waiting multitudes. Later the group moved to the Commons' steps where his Highness Obnoxious narrowly escaped the plotted dousing of the fanatical DDT's.

We recently received another letter from the DDT's; they didn't mention that they wanted it published, so we will refrain from doing so. But, we would like to quote they're alleged platform:

"Let 'em itch and let 'em squirm, From nubby shins and whiskers firm. If they don't shave — what the hell, Our dungarees make us feel swell!"

That's fine girls, however:

You girls in slacks
Look like whacks,
Wearing our dungarees.
You can wear our shirts
Until it hurts,
But not on campus please!
If you'll behave
We will shave,
And thus end all the fuss.
It's up to you,
The thing to do,
Is "GIVE OUR CLOTHES TO US!"

One of the boys in the surveying class took a picture through his transit the other day. If the girl in Congreve South who wears black panties would like a picture of herself, we have the negative.

ON THE SPOT NEWS

Durham, N. H., Oct. 31, (DS)—The efficient Durham Fire Department sped to the scene of the Fairchild marshmallow roast on the upper tennis court tonight. The competent way in which the department dealt with the situation was gratifying to the taxpayers. Before the fire engine had even come to a full stop, a length of hose had been laid. The high pressure nozzle was chosen and attached. At the same moment the free end was

Weather Stops UNH Colby Jr. Game

Despite the ominous weather, the Colby Hockey Team arrived at UNH Saturday afternoon to play off the final game — the one last Saturday being a scrimmage to warm up the teams, and a tie score of 3 to 3 at that.

The game began at 2:30 — spurred on by a small crowd of spectators bundled to the ears with raincoats and blankets. The starting of the game was accompanied by a slight drizzle, but the players were undaunted by the slippery field and played on. The first goal was made by Colby, but Ellie Smith, center for UNH, soon tied the score. Both teams battled on, the slight drizzle soon became a heavy downpour, and the players, slipping and sliding were playing most of the game on the ground. The referees, because of the dangerous field, called the game off 3 minutes before the end of the half much to the disappointment of both teams who wanted to finish it out claiming that they couldn't get much wetter.

The crowd raced for the cover of the gym and dried out before a crackling fire. Refreshments of cocoa and sandwiches were served to the shivering teams, who finding the unfinished hockey game insufficient exercise concluded the day with a rousing game of basketball.

So until next year when we play Colby again, the score will remain a tie.

NOTICE

Records are now on sale of the New Hampshire's "Country Gentlemen" for $8.00 a set. There are two 12-inch records with 8 cuts all told. The music is mainly "blues" and jazz. Contact Dick Mascott between 5 and 6 p.m. any night at 29 Woodman Avenue.

From Window Box Orchids To the Rains of Durham

Where else could one live in a log cabin among pine trees and have orchids in the window boxes but in India? As conflicting as the image appears, it even snows in India. What better verification have we than the word of Miss Helen Dunn, who lived in India nearly seventeen years. For the benefit of those who don't know her, Helen is a sophomore here on campus. If, however, she had followed the wishes of those in her home town, she would now be the wife of some head villager's son — a far cry from a sophomore at UNH.

Helen was born and bred in Balasore which is on the Ganges Plain about one hundred and fifty miles south of Calcutta. Her missionary father has complete charge of about one hundred square miles. He runs the schools, churches, hospitals, dispensary, and two orphanages, assists in the village government even to the point of subduing the often violent riots which occur between Hindus, Moslems, and Christians. Police force? No, there is none. Mr. Dunn is highly respected because he has white hair, is not British, and can still ride a bicycle.

Although her father's work was on the plain, the schools were in the hills, so Helen went to Dargeeling, near the Tibetan border, where she attended the American co-educational school, Mt. Herman. Imagine! School 7000 feet up in the Himalayas, on a hundred acre estate where one can look out and see Kinchununga, third highest mountain in the world. Ah, that's not school, that's heaven. In addition, the unfortunate students seldom see roses; they have to dissect orchids in botany lab.

When she had graduated from Mt. Herman, Helen spent a year at All

Twenty-five Candidates Respond to Hoop Call

Lt. Roger Receives "Croix de Guerre"

In a colorful ceremony that saw the French flag run along its American counterpart, 1st Lt. Norman F. Roger of Haverhill, Mass., a member of the Air Transport Command, was awarded the Croix de Guerre by General de Boysson, Director of Installations and Works for the French Air Ministry. The award was presented to the UNH graduate at Orley Field, October 11, ATC's Paris base.

At the time of bestowing this outstanding decoration, General de Boysson cited Lt. Roger for his untiring participation going far beyond the line of duty, in assisting in the evacuation of French and Allied wounded during the winter months of 1944. He stated that the speed and efficiency with which this humanitarian task was executed had won him the admiration of France and contributed greatly to the high morale of the Allied armies.

Shortly after the liberation of Paris, when the ATC began its activities, the condition of Orly was so impaired by Allied bombings and enemy demolition that operations could not possibly be carried out without complete rehabilitation of the field. To accomplish this task in record time it was necessary that the closest cooperation be established and maintained between the Americans and the French. The General said that Lt. Roger had contributed greatly in this cause.

In the initial practice session of the coming basketball campaign over twenty-five candidates responded to Coach Henry Swasey's first post war hoop call including five veterans of last year's ball club.

Of the five veterans only Henneberger, Richardson, and White were on the starting five while Eliot Easterbrook and Robert Broad saw frequent service in several games. However, the outlook is very bright even though such a small number of holdovers remain due to the fact that many of the candidates have had a good deal of basketball experience both in high school and in several cases the armed forces. Last year's aggregation played eight games and came out on the long end of the score on five occasions while dropping only three contests to Maine, Camp Langdon, and Boston University. This year's schedule consists of fourteen games and on the whole the calibre of competition will be a great deal better than for the past several seasons. The only clubs that are expected to be on the weak side are the service quintets and this is due of course to the large number of discharges.

In Tuesday's practice Coach Swasey outlined a few of the basic rules pertaining to training and then started in on the fundamentals of dribbling, passing and a few elementary scoring plays. Coach Swasey stated that the squad seemed fairly experienced as to the fundamentals of the game and in the course of a few days expects to have the boys fairly well typed as to ability.

File Petitions for '45-46 Class Officers

Filing of petitions for class officers begins this week according to an announcement made by the Student Council.

Joseph Bennett, president of the council, said that any one wishing to run for the office of president, vice-president, secretary, or treasurer of his class may procure the petitions at the dean's office immediately.

The petitions must be signed by 25 students of the candidate's class. No person may sign more than one petition for each office and any petitions not complying with the rules will be thrown out.

A candidate must not be on probation of any type! Petitions must be turned at the Dean's office on or before November 19. None will be accepted after this date.

Claude "Twit" Henry reported that the Field House will be open to men students on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. In the past, students have requested that the Field House be opened to those who did not go home on weekends.

It was also reported that due to the lack of coaching, lack of help and no boards on the hockey rink, the university will be unable to sponsor a hockey team.

It is a university rule that any petitions started by male students must go to the Student Council and they will present them to the proper authorities. In the future the council hopes that this rule will be complied with.

Endeavoring to revive pre-war rules and regulations, the Student Council also announces that no high school letters or other athletic awards may be worn on the campus. This is not a whim of a few men nor is it a new rule the council said. This resumption of one of the university's oldest rules will go into effect on Monday, November 12.

Election of Members at Meeting of Dance Club

The Dance Club had its first meeting last week, and held tryouts for those who wished to become members. After a successful season last year, terminating in a gala recital, the Dance Club, under the direction of Mrs. Rettig and Miss Ongley, is ready to embark upon a new season. The new members elected to the club by successfully passing the try-outs are: Pennie Baum, Betty Collins, Claire Donahue, Mal Eaton, Marge Douglass, Virginia Helff, Ann Penniman, Alice Taylor, Irene Urban, and Barbara Young.

At the Tuesday meeting, plans were discussed for the following year.

Frosh SCM Council

The officers of the Freshman SCM Council, under the guidance of Mrs. Jean Grant, have decided to hold freshman meetings in the Community House from 6:15 to 8:45 p.m.

Last Sunday the topic, "Is There a Conflict Between Science and Religion?" was discussed with Dr. G. R. Johnson officiating. The mixing was led by Marilyn Howe; the refreshment committee was under the chairmanship of Betty Becker; and Charles Hand directed the worship service.

New members of the Freshman SCM Council cabinet are: Marilyn Howe, social chairman; N. la Girder, refreshments; and Mary Maxwell, worship service.

This Sunday the meeting will be held in Murkland Auditorium where Rev. O'Connor will explain the Catholic mass, its symbolism and sacraments. The meeting will start at 6:15 as usual and all who are interested are invited. The whole group is invited to attend mass the following Sunday.

Monday Rev. O'Connor will explain the Catholic interpretation of the Bible to the Bible study group.

HOME ECONOMICS NOTICE

There will be an important work meeting for the Home Economics Club members with Phi Upsilon Omicron in Pettee Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 14. Refreshments will be served.

MARRIED VETS

vacant apartments at Wentworth Acres were made available to married veterans attending the University of New Hampshire. The veterans come under a special clause of the Federal Public Housing Authority whereby they pay $20 a month for rent. This base rent covers all utilities such as electricity and water. Heat is the only extra item and it averages about $8 during the winter months.

There are two types of units — one, a three-room apartment consisting of a living-room, kitchen, bath, and bedroom, and the other, a four-room apartment similar to the three-room except with an additional bedroom. An entire community center is located at Wentworth Acres — houses, schools, stores, a recreation hall. There will also be a bus service between Wentworth Acres and Durham.

Married veterans now living at Wentworth Acres include David N. Allen, West Lebanon; Paul D. Ayer, Alstead; Douglas R. Barton, Newport; Merit W. Bean, Errol; Walter M. Brown, Hampton; Walter W. Cupples, Manchester; Louis J. Dondero, North Conway; John C. Elliott, Newark, N. J.; Robert H. Fisk, North Weare; Richard E. Harkinson, Jr., Manchester; William M. Hooan, Baltimore, Md.; John E. Hubbard, Laconia; Andrew Lariviere, Newport; Daniel F. MacKinnon, Lowell, Mass.; Charles H. Martin, Andover, Mass.; Eugene F. McGinn, East Fairfield, Vt.; John W. Miller, Swampscott, Mass.; George E. Murphy, Concord; David H. Peaslee, Manchester; Lawrence J. Reed, Manchester; John L. Sherburn, Flushing, N. Y.; Richard J. Wallace, Claremont; David Wood, Concord; and Thomas Niles, Berlin.

That men were to have a meeting at East and West Halls that evening.

Upon the termination of the Chairman's speech, the meeting was to come to a close. The band, however, must have felt differently and they marched over to Fairchild Hall where they started to serenade the many girls who had been watching the proceedings from the windows. They serenaded with their only song, "The Old Gray Mare." After going through a few of the verses they marched over to the Commons' steps where they asked "Steve" to repeat his speech. By this time many of the people who had been eating in the down-town restaurants had come to Commons to find out what all the noise was about, and there was a gathering of a hundred or more students and faculty members.

Disaster Averted

The chairman made his second speech of the afternoon amid the jeers and cheers of the crowd. A few of the women in Commons decided that he needed a shower, so they tried to throw a bucket of water on him. This was stopped by a few of the more "daring" fellows who decided that they should squelch the deal by going up stairs in the Commons. Disaster was averted by a couple of men who quickly got in front of the crowd and headed them off. The meeting broke up at one-thirty, when classes resumed.

At a private interview with "Steve," he told me this story: "It was our idea to take the girls out of dungarees, but we wanted to do it without a fight! I can see now that we used the wrong psychology all the way around, but once we've started it, we intend to finish — and on the winning side, too! It was brought up at one of the meetings that in the Constitution of the organization we should state that we will not tolerate women wearing slacks rolled up either. We are doing these things not to be mean or over-lording, but for the betterment of the school.

"You know, of course, that we have the backing of the Dean of Men. I shouldn't say that; at least he hasn't raised any objections. After all, what would you think of a college if you were a stranger just stopping on his way through, and all you saw for miles around was dungarees and rolled-up slacks. I often wonder if the girls have ever looked at it that way. If not, it would be a good thought."

Yes, it's quite evident that the CAD's meeting has really started open warfare on this campus!

O. C. Trip to Mendum's Set for Thursday Nite

The weekly outing for this week to Mendum's is to be held Thursday evening, instead of Wednesday as planned. This is for the convenience of members, as the former date conflicted with rushing dates. Transportation will leave Ballard at 4:15 and 5:00 p.m. Leaders are Barbara Reynolds and Polly Averill.

On Thursday, November 15, there will be another outing. The schedule is the same as for the above trip. Leaders are Jane Whitney and Betty Collins.

The trip for this week-end to Chocura has been cancelled because of inadequate overnight facilities. However, there will be a work trip to Mendum's. The sign-up sheet will go up Friday morning in Ballard. All work trips provide excellent opportunities for heeling, and are a good way to spend a week-end.

"Tribe of Benjamin" At Sheraton Hotel

November 14, the "Tribe of Benjamin" is getting together at the Hotel Sheraton at 6:30 p.m. for a "pow pow." The cost will be $2.50 per person, including tax, tips, etc.

"Dad" Henderson will be coming down from Durham to talk about the project he's been doing for the University of New Hampshire during the war — corresponding with the 3800 UNH men and women in the service and compiling statistics on their war records, so that someday the story of the university's role in World War II can be written in the college annals. Carl Lundholm, Director of Athletics, will be on hand to talk about the plans for the post-war sports program. We're hoping that both Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Lundholm will also be making the trip down from Durham. Bill Call, recently elected president of the Alumni Association, and General Chairman of the Fund Drive, will try to be at the meeting to give some interesting details about the Student Union.

Seniors who will be graduating this February, June, or August and have not had their pictures taken see Shirley Newcomer at Alpha Xi room 151, by November 12 at the latest.

Prominent Authors At Bond Rally

UNH is fortunate in having three prominent authors coming here to speak at the Victory Bond Rally to be held on the evening of Wednesday, December 5, 1945. The authors are: the well-known John Erskine; Mrs. Gladys Hasty Carroll, wife of Dr. Herbert A. Carroll, professor of psychology at UNH; and John Holmes.

John Erskine has many accomplishments to his credit, other than his writings. He is a graduate of Columbia University, having received his A.B. there in 1900, and his Ph.D. in 1903. He also has honorary doctorates from nine other colleges and universities. Dr. Erskine is a pianist of note and has appeared as a soloist with the New York Philharmonic. He has taught English at Amherst and at Columbia, where he is now professor emeritus of English. Some of his works are: "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Solomon, My Son!" and "Mrs. Doratt."

Mrs. Carroll is a native of South Berwick, Maine, although she was born in Rochester, N. H. She was educated at Bates College, receiving her degree in 1925. She has also lived in Fall River, Mass., in New York for two years, and in Minneapolis, Minn., for five years. Her best-known work is "As the Earth Turns." This book has been made into a folk-play, which is performed each year in Berwick.

The third author is John Holmes, a poet, who teaches at Tufts College.

There will be a meeting of the Sociology Club on Tuesday, November 13, at Morrill Hall, Room 202, at 7:15 p.m. This is the first organized meeting of the newly formed club. Elections will be held, and committees appointed. Several of the members of the club will relate their experiences in field work. Membership in the organization is open to all Sociology and Social Service majors as well as those who have completed twelve credits in Sociology. This is an important meeting and all are urged to attend.

East Clips Combine Captures Grid Crown

East Hall is the Intramural League Touchfootball Champ. In a fiercely contested game played on the muddy surface of the varsity practice field last Tuesday the boys from East won the league crown by nosing out the Combine outfit 14 to 6. The fray was the playoff for the diadem as both teams were deadlocked at the finish of the regular season with two wins and a loss apiece.

In the basketball league the East Raiders rolled over the quintet from Hetzel's First Floor 57-52 to gain a notch in their fight for the crown in the White League.

The game, played Monday evening was a rugged battle from start to finish and it was not until the final few moments that the contest was decided.

KISS AND TELL

angry enough to "chew nails" while those of us watching chewed handkerchiefs to keep from losing all traces of college poise. And so it goes. When a man bites a dog that's news, but when a dog bites his own master by mistake that's Kiss and Tell!

The movie premiere of Kiss and Tell which was held in the Capitol Theatre in New York last week was the cause of a poll by the experts to see which sex Kiss and Tell most appealed to. The results weren't published, but it's a sure guess that Hugh Herbert's farce here will be on a par for both.
