Coach Sauer Returns After 3 Years in Navy

Football on Formal Basis In '46 with Full Schedule

by Jack McGinn

Mr. Football is back at New Hampshire! Yes, Coach George Sauer has returned from the wars to once again guide the University's football destinies after an absence of more than three years.

In the spring of 1942 Coach Sauer entered the Navy after laying the foundation of the 1943 Wildcat football squad that went through the season unbeaten and untied, a grand finale to his peace time coaching at the University. Upon his enlistment in the Navy, Coach Sauer was sent to the Pensacola Naval Air Station with the rank of Lieutenant Junior Grade and after thirteen months of training at Pensacola he was assigned to the now fabulous U. S. S. Enterprise (Big E) where he served with distinction for seventeen months as flight deck officer and assistant to the Executive officer.

In January 1945, Sauer, now a Lieutenant Commander, ended his tour of duty aboard the Enterprise and was sent to St. Mary's Pre-Flight. While at St. Mary's he became backfield coach of the grid squad and as he so aptly puts it, "It sure seemed great to get back to football." Commander Sauer remained at St. Mary's until the date of his separation, October 8.

Back to Football

On discussing the present football scene Coach Sauer said that football has changed a great deal since his departure from New Hampshire particularly in regards to the increased use of the T formation. He also took note of the fact that the grid rules have undergone a number of changes and thinks that the numerous modifications have speeded up the game and have put a great deal of emphasis on intricate plays rather than the traditional power plays.

UNH Outlook

On being asked of the University's football aspirations next fall Coach Sauer was not too optimistic because, as he stated, "Many of our regular opponents such as Maine, Rhode Island, and Connecticut to mention a few, have fielded teams this season and this gives them the jump on the colleges who did not sponsor teams. Their coaches get an excellent opportunity to judge their material and use it to advantage while other teams such as UNH must start from scratch." He added, however, that he will hold several meetings in the near future to get a line on the men who plan to go out for the team. The Wildcat mentor also expects a number of pre-war footballers back and plans to use them as a foundation for the 1946 season which, he emphasized, will be strictly formal football with a full schedule.

Savy Counts

Regardless of material a Sauer-coached team usually holds its own as Coach Sauer is a keen student of football having had plenty of experience. In 1934 he was an All-American full-back for the Nebraska Cornhuskers and after a year of coaching at his Alma Mater he played three seasons with the Green Bay Packers. He embarked on his coaching career at the end of the 1936 campaign coming to New Hampshire the succeeding fall where he remained until his subsequent enlistment in the Navy.

Well, the war is over and Coach Sauer once again picks up the Wildcat gridiron reins. Welcome back, Coach.

NOTICE

The attention of students is called to the requirement that incomplete grades for the second semester of 1944-45 and for the 1945 Summer School must be made up by January 26, 1946, otherwise the grade for the course will automatically be recorded as a failure. See pages 20-21 of the current Handbook for students.

Author Bond Rally Draws Large Crowd

At the Book and Author Bond Rally, held in New Hampshire Hall last night before a large crowd, President Harold W. Stoke in his preliminary speech stressed the vital necessity of finishing the huge job that we have started. Although the fighting is over there is still much that needs to be done he emphasized.

Gladys Hasty Carroll, author of As the Earth Turns, Dunnybrook and others, read a selection from the book on which she is now working illustrating that today's problems are only yesterday's in new clothes. John Holmes, poet and professor, expressed his thanks at peace in a poem of his which he had chosen as his Christmas message to his friends.

The main speaker of the evening, John Erskine, author of the new book, The Human Life of Jesus, directed his talk to the young people of the audience. He expressed his faith in young people of the country in taking responsibilities in order to make future civilization one of the world's best. He emphasized that those in the United States would be the ones who had the most responsibility and would also do one of the best jobs.

President Stoke announced the name of the manuscripts, The Great and Marching Words, the 1942 Harvard commercial poem by LeFarge, My Life in China by Helen Auburn, and So Far, So Good by Morris Ernest, that will be presented to the three organizations or houses on campus that will have purchased the largest number of stamps by December 8. These organizations or houses will then present the manuscripts, with their name inscribed, to the Hamilton Smith Library.

Grad Requirements Lowered at Last!

At its meeting on the afternoon of December 3 the University senate voted a much longed-for change in the amount of required credits at the University.

The amount of semester credits in the college of Agriculture was lowered from 140 to 136. The College of Technology was changed from 140 to 144, while the College of Liberal Arts was changed from 140 all the way down to 128 credits. Seventy of these credits must be C or above. The major requirements have been changed from 27 to 24.

These changes are effective at the close of the present semester.

VACATION

The Dean of Women announces that the Christmas vacation will start at noon December 22 and that classes will resume on Thursday, January 3 at 8 a.m.

Freshman Class Elections Tuesday Afternoon at 4

At the regular Student Council meeting held at their quarters in Ballard Hall Tuesday evening, December 4, the council set the date for the election of Freshmen class officers for Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in New Hampshire Hall.

The council urges that all freshmen attend the convocation for the election of their class officers. Candidates for the freshmen class are as follows:

For president, John Henry, John Knowlton, and William "Windy" Hayes. For vice-president, Patricia Wall and Wesley Clapp. No candidates for secretary. For treasurer, Dennis Lynch, June Estes, Louis LaVaude, Norman "Lum" Lumian and Spico "Pip" Anastos.

The following petitions were thrown out by the council because of infractions of the rules: Neil Glynn and Dick Starke for president; Cleson "Kek" Lang for secretary.

Atomic Energy Panel Topic

A panel discussion on "The Implication of Atomic Energy" will be sponsored on Wednesday, December 10, at 7:45 p.m. in Murkland Auditorium by the Durham branch of Americans United for World Organization. The panel will be made up of three members of the chemistry department, Dr. Harold A. Iddles, Dr. John L. Torgeson, and Dr. Helmut M. Haendler. Dr. Torgeson returned to campus this fall after a leave of absence with the Bureau of Standards in Washington where he did war research work on the atomic bomb. Dr. Haendler was research chemist and research supervisor of the Division of War Research at Columbia University before coming to UNH this semester.

Others on the panel are Professor Donald C. Babcock of the philosophy department and Professor William Yale of the history department who recently returned to campus after three and one half years leave of absence with the State Department. Dr. E. B. Sackett will be moderator.

The public is invited to attend.

Miss Mary Rehmeyer Gives Music Recital

Miss Mary Rehmeyer, pianist, will be presented in a faculty recital by the Music Department of the University of New Hampshire, Wednesday evening, December 12, at 8 p.m. in New Hampshire Hall. Miss Rehmeyer is a recent addition to the music staff. Her home is in Manchester, Maryland. She has a bachelor's degree from Western Maryland College in Westminster, Maryland, and a master's degree from the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York. At the Eastman School, she studied with Jose Echaniz.

Miss Rehmeyer has appearing with her as guest artist Mr. Yeh Hwai-Deh, flutist. He is a native of China who has been in this country for the past two years. Mr. Yeh has received two master's degrees in music from the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York, and is now working toward his Ph.D. degree in music at Harvard University after which he plans to return to China. Although he is a flutist of fine quality, his chief interest lies in the field of musical composition.

Miss Rehmeyer's program is as follows: "Faschingsschank aus Wien" by Schumann to be played Allegro, Romance, Scherzino, Intermezzo, Finale, Suite in B minor, Polonaise — Bach-Bulow, Le Babillard — A. Terschak, the latter two to be played by Mr. Yeh. After the intermission Four Preludes — Debussy, Danseuses de Delphes, Las sons et les parfums tournent dans l'air du soir, La Fille aux Cheveux de Lin, Minstrels and two works by Chopin, Nocturne in D-flat Major and Scherzo in B minor will be played by Miss Rehmeyer.

The program is open to the public. No admission will be charged. The next program by the Music Dept. will be in conjunction with the Art Dept. and the Mask and Dagger Society, when an all-university Christmas program will be presented on Wednesday, December 19, in New Hampshire Hall at eight p.m.

UNH Welcomes Vets Here for 'Refresher'

The University welcomed to the campus Monday approximately 185 veterans. Thirty-five of them had already attended New Hampshire before and are returning now to resume where they left off. Besides these there are ten transfer students and the rest are freshmen.

The majority of these men were in the Army Air Corps and most of them were discharged through the point system or because of the surplus fliers in the air corps.

The average age of the new veterans is about the same as the others already here, about 24. One out of four are married with the majority of the married men living at Wentworth Acres in Portsmouth.

Of the 185 students 80 have registered for engineering, 20 in various branches of the Agricultural department, and approximately 85 in Liberal Arts with most of these taking business administration.

For the veterans here who have never gone to college before the university is offering an eight weeks' refresher course which began December 3 and continues to February 1. Regardless of their majors they all take the same courses which include a "brushing up" of the basic subjects. This is given in 4 courses which include mathematics, given 6 days a week, and English, also given 6 days a week, but divided into composition for 3 days and reading for three days. There is also physics twice a week and social science twice a week.

For former UNH students and transfers they are auditing 3 to 5 courses which will be definitely helpful for the subjects they will take in February. None of these refresher courses are given for credit.

16 Members Added To Fund Committee

Sixteen prominent New Hampshire residents were recently added to the state-wide Citizens Committee for the Memorial Union Fund drive at the University of New Hampshire. Eight former New Hampshire governors are serving on the committee headed by Governor Charles M. Dale, honorary chairman, and Robert W. Upton of Concord, chairman.

New members of the Citizens Committee include Elsie Bailey, Newport; Margaret M. Ballard, Portsmouth; E. F. Blakey, Nashua; Amos Blandin, Bath; Arthur L. Carpenter, Plymouth; Arthur J. Connor, Nashua; Stuart B. Emerson, Lebanon; Patrick J. Hinchey, Berlin; Oliver J. Hubbard, Walpole; John Jacobson, Manchester; Frank Kennett, Conway; Harold S. Labombarde, Nashua; James McLeod, Littleton; Blake Schurman, Lancaster; Samuel Steinfeld, Claremont; and Mrs. William Weston, Whitefield.

The Citizens Committee is assisting in the drive to raise a minimum of $250,000 for a student union building which will honor the four thousand young men and women of the University of New Hampshire who served in the armed forces during World War II. A total of 133 alumni have given their lives in the service. Sixteen are missing in action.

The need for a student union building on the UNH campus is an urgent one, university officials stated this week in announcing that more than 3,000 students are expected to enroll next fall, as compared to a former peak enrollment of 2,000. The University has no building at present which provides for the centralization of student extra-curricular activities.

Prominent Citizens, Army, Navy Officials Invited Guests

Saturday night will present one of the gala events of the year when the ROTC's annual Military Ball will be held in New Hampshire Hall from 8 to 12. According to Bob Novack, chairman of the publicity committee, between two hundred fifty and three hundred couples are expected to dance to the music of Al Gentile's orchestra and listen to the singing of vocalist Warren Stephen.

A highlight of the ball will be the choosing of an honorary Cadet Colonel and two aides. Three members of the ROTC will pick five girls from those who are present and from this group the chaperones will choose the Cadet Colonel and her aides, who will be Cadet Majors. The announcement will be made during intermission at ten o'clock, followed by a grand march led by CO Steve Aliapoulos and the Cadet Colonel. After the march CO Aliapoulos and the Cadet Colonel will lead a waltz.

New Hampshire Hall will be decorated in a fitting manner for the occasion. Military decorations including flags and bunting are being brought from the Navy Yard. And, of course, there will be a crystal ball!

Chaperones for the ball will be Colonel and Mrs. E. Y. Blewett, Captain and Mrs. W. A. Medesy, Lieutenant Colonel Joseph F. Daly. Also in the receiving line will be Bob Novack and CO Steve Aliapoulos.

Among the invited guests are: President Stoke; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Magrath; Dr. and Mrs. Everett Sackett; Dean Ruth J. Woodruff; Governor and Mrs. Charles Dale; Dean and Mrs. Herman L. Slobin; Dean and Mrs. M. Gale Eastman; Dean and Mrs. Lauren B. Seelye; Major Frederick A. Zehrer, CO of the ROTC in this area, and Mrs. Zehrer; Colonel John I. Moore, CO of Grenier Field, and Mrs. Moore; Colonel Raymond Watt, CO of Camp Langdon, and Mrs. Watt; Brigadier General and Mrs. Charles F. Bowen; Rear Admiral John H. Brown, Commander of the Navy Yard; Commander and Mrs. Richard A. O'Kane; Captain Mal Brennan; Colonel and Mrs. Edward Putney; Mr. and Mrs. John Sherbourne; Sgt. and Mrs. Phillip A. Whalen; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Daland.

Tickets will be on sale at the Wildcat and at the door.

Christmas Dance Held December 20

Terry Page and his orchestra will furnish the music for the semi-formal Christmas Dance, Thursday, December 20, sponsored by the Newman Club. Terry Page is considered one of the best trombonists in the music business and has been a member of Al Donahue, Jack Marshad, and Vaughan Monroe's orchestra.

The co-chairmen, Arthur Flannagan and Wilfred Bertrand, have had meetings with the committee to make definite plans for the dance.

Dance programs, unique decorations, and refreshments will be in keeping with the pre-war traditions. One of the features of the dance will be Christmas corsages given to each girl when she enters the hall. Another feature will be a Yule Belle chosen from the floor and crowned during intermission.

Committee heads are: Calire Donahue, Dick Gangi, John Ryan, Leonard Sawyer, Luciette Roy, Muriel Houle, Louise Larrow, and Jean Gleason.

Welcome Vets

On Monday one hundred and eighty-five veterans arrived on Campus for the start of the refresher course that will prepare them for entrance at the February semester. Although they are not attending regular classes along with the rest of us and might at first be considered as something apart from the rest of the school, they actually are a part of the University and will be regular students very shortly. We want to make them feel that they are one with us. We're glad to see them here and hope that they'll like the campus and feel at home on it.

They are, undoubtedly, going through an adjustment period now that is, if anything, confusing and the school atmosphere may quite possibly seem slightly alien after so long a time away from it. I don't know that there is too much that we can do to help make it any less so except by taking them right in and showing them that college life is fun.

The faculty is doing everything necessary to show them what studying is like — it's up to us to show the other side of college. One of the biggest dances of the year is next Saturday night; we hope we'll see a lot of the new veterans there. The various organizations on campus will be glad to let them in on the various facilities that they offer so that when it comes to joining special interest groups in February, they will know what ones they want to belong to.

Of course, all this isn't necessary. Somehow, I think we're so glad to have them here that being friendly and helpful is going to be the most natural thing in the world.

Diophragines . . .

Dear Students:

The Mouldy Cracker Club held their Jelly Jamboree in the service room of Hetzel Hall after having tried in vain to eat at both the Commons and the Pharm. Things were so bad in Commons that you had to stand in line to stand in line! The Pharm was selling hot dogs and rolls (without rolls) and tuna fish sandwiches (without bread). The minutes were read and accepted. Our anthem, "Jelly Roll Blues" was played, and everyone stood and bowed their heads in hunger. It was voted that at the next requisition period we would purchase Saltines instead of Oysterettes. Have you ever tried to make a marmalade sandwich with two Oysterettes?

Durham got its first taste of winter last Thursday. The town was totally unprepared; we had to dig out of the dug-out! The sidewalks are steam heated, why can't the dug-outs be? Of course, we must be broadminded about these things. "Ladies, it's going to be a mighty co-o-old winter!" I couldn't wait to get back to my room, out of my wet clothing, and into a dry martini!

I received a letter from some high spirited student, signing the letter, "Your respectful servant, Senigarhoid" (probably one of the ten per cent who voted in the elections!) I wish to remind him that now that the war is over servants shouldn't be so flippant. H. N. Senigarhoid found fault in our statement concerning "Colonel Daly's Daily Dancing Dive" and also to our references to the ROTC "Commandos" as bellhops. Taking this one point at a time, I would like to apologize for statements made about the dancing classes. It is a commendable idea to give instruction to those who are unable to dance. I am apologizing not only as Diophragines, the columnist, but as Diophragines the Ballerina! Concerning the latter statement I demand his apology for casting aspersions upon the bellhops. In moments of ambition I, myself, have picked up a few bags. From the correspondent's apparent attitude toward bellhops I can see that he is the type of person

Veterans' Grades on Par With '41 High School Grads

Judging from the mid-semester warnings, there will be fewer courses failed by the University of New Hampshire students this year than last. At mid-semester a year ago 57 per cent of the men enrolled received one or more warnings. This year the percentage fell to 54. Of the women, 42 per cent were warned last year, against only 39 per cent this year.

Although veterans enrolled at the University of New Hampshire have been out of school an average of 4½ years, their grades are approximately the same as freshman men who graduated from high school in June, 1945, Registrar Everett B. Sackett announced.

The percentage of freshman veterans receiving mid-semester warnings was 53 per cent, as compared to the 52 per cent of civilian men. Fifty per cent of the freshman women received warnings.

A statement frequently made on the campus is that the University of New Hampshire faculty marks with unusual severity likewise has no basis in fact. Actually compared with the theoretical ideal distribution of grades, the University of New Hampshire professors are the soul of generosity! The percentage of the grades actually given at the university last year compared with the theoretical distribution is as follows: UNH-A 18%, Theoretical 7%; UNH-B 36%, Theoretical 22%; UNH-C 31%, Theoretical 42%; UNH-D 12%, Theoretical 22%; UNH-F 3%, Theoretical 7%.

who has plenty of change before going into a hotel. All nickels!

The editor claims that there is not enough space for both the advertisements and my full column, so I was cut. Damn the ads! Who ever reads them anyway?

Yours truly,
Diophragines

Mortar Board Nat'l Sec. Inspects N. H. Chapter
Mrs. Herbert Reisner, Mortar Board National Secretary from Washington, D. C., was here November 29-30 for inspection of the New Hampshire Chapter.
Mrs. Reisner had an individual conference with officers and she also saw the members of the administration for conference. She attended the Thursday night meeting at Dr. T. G. Phillip's home. The advisors present were Mrs. Harold W. Stoke, and Mrs. Glenn Stewart. Mrs. T. G. Phillips served refreshments.
Mrs. Reisner was very pleased and says the New Hampshire chapter rated well with the other chapters.

The New Hampshire Academy of Science met at Dartmouth November 23 and 24, where scientific papers were presented. In the evening, a buffet dinner was served by the Hanover Inn at the Dartmouth Museum, followed by a lecture on Microwaves and Radar, with experimental demonstrations given by Dr. Gordon F. Hall, Jr. On Saturday morning the business meeting was followed by the address, "Biochemistry — A Chapter in Science" given by the Academy's President, Professor Thomas G. Phillips of the University of New Hampshire. Approximately twenty persons attended from the University of New Hampshire and papers were given to the following members: Dr. W. W. Smith of the Horticultural Department; Professor G. P. Percival of the Agricultural Department; Dr. Richard Jones of the Department of Botany; and Dr. A. R. Hodgdon, also of the Botany Department.
Academy officers who were elected for the year 1946 are as follows: President, Dr. W. W. Smith, Hanover; vice president, Dr. Donald Chapman, Durham; sec-treas., Dr. A. R. Hodgdon, Durham; and Executive Committee for 4 years, Professor Roy P. Forster, Hanover.

Basketball Clinic Attracts Many

In spite of the storm and treacherous driving conditions on Saturday, a gathering of 75 students and faculty members attended the basketball clinic at the University of New Hampshire, presented by the department of physical education for women and sponsored by the Women's National Officials Rating Committee.
The purpose of the clinic was to attempt to better basketball conditions for girls' high school teams throughout the state. Due to the lack of properly trained coaches and officials, many girls' teams are coached by men and even greater number of girls are refereed by men officials, with a subsequent lack of emphasis on women's rules and techniques. Miss Evelyn Browne, president of WNORC, led a discussion on this situation and a thorough review of the 1945-46 women's basketball season was held, supplemented by problems and comments from the floor. Mrs. Edna Parkinson of Derry Junior High, and founder of the committee in this state, and Miss Mary Thornton, representing St. Joseph's High School for Girls in Manchester and a long-time member of the board, contributed greatly to this phase of the program.
Lack of space for basketball practices and large classes was another mutual problem faced by the group. Mrs. Richard Watson, instructor of physical education for women and faculty coach of interhouse basketball on campus, gave a 45-minute demonstration on methods of overcoming limited facilities. Using the students who attended the clinic as "guinea pigs" she put them through many drills formations, emphasizing footwork, passing and catching, pivoting, bouncing, guarding and offensive action in game situations.
Miss Polly Humphreys, instructor in physical education for women, followed Mrs. Watson's demonstration with an exposition of two much discussed types of defense — namely, man-to-man defense and zone defense. The advantages and disadvantages of both types were clearly brought out and demonstrated with the help of girls from Laconia High School, who attended the clinic accompanied by their coach, Mrs. G. T. Frost and Miss Grace Felker, formerly of the department of physical education for women at the university.
Representatives from ten institutions attended the clinic: Derry Junior High School, St. Joseph's School for Girls (Manchester), Sanford (Me.) High School, White River Junction (Vt.) High School, Sunapee High School, Haverhill Academy, Spaulding High School (Rochester), Laconia High School, New London High School, and Lincoln High School.

Wildcats Open Hoop Slate With Grenier

Soldiers Boast Strong Squad Led by Kornowas Cats in Top Shape
The current Wildcat hoop schedule gets underway Tuesday night at the Field House when Coach Henry Swasey's hoopsters play host to a strong Grenier Field outfit. Game time is 7:30.
The Wildcat quintet has come along in rapid fashion the past week and Coach Swasey expects to field a team that will provide tough opposition for the high-flying Manchester soldiers. The G.I.'s have played two contests thus far and last week had a field day against a supposedly strong Squantum outfit winning handily 55-24. The word from Manchester is that the star of the squad is Big Dave Kornowas a guard with an uncanny shooting eye. In the Squantum game he poured through 17 points while holding Dave Ellser, former Notre Dame star, to a measly 2 markers. From all reports he'll be the boy to watch.
Starting as forwards for the Wildcat hoop quintet will be Fred White and Wes Clapp. White is acting captain of the squad and is an elusive break-away player with an accurate eye. Clapp, a freshman, is a rugged lad with a left handed shot that in some cases has been little short of sensational. Slated to see action in the same spots are Herb Richardson and T. Kessuris, both fleet men.
Pivot man for the Swasey aggregation will be Bob Crompton a smooth working center and ready to step in for him is Herman Burt, a fellow neighbor from the Port City.

Country Gentlemen Reorganized as Wildcats

The Country Gentlemen have disbanded but almost immediately were reorganized and are now known as the Wildcats. The personnel remains pretty much the same as formerly, however.
If you enjoyed the Country Gentlemen you will surely enjoy the Wildcats. The music still jumps for you jitterbugs and Ellie Getter vocalizes those dreamy slow ballads for those who prefers their music on the sentimental side. Also featured are the comic antics of "Shorty" (Sinatra) Bulger.
Anyone wishing to contact the band may do so by seeing Shorty Bulger or calling Steve Aliapoulis in Hetzel.

"REC" NOTICE

The Women's Recreation Association wishes to announce to all the new veterans on campus that on every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday night, there is a "rec" in New Hampshire Hall. These "recs" are for the purpose of filling in the spare time around supper time with the opportunity for playing badminton, ping-pong, shuffleboard and dancing at the women's gym. Members of the WRA board are there and have all the equipment set up and the records ready for the rec to begin when you all get there. "Recs" start at 6:50 p.m. and end at 7:50 p.m. So why not start getting acquainted with the campus and people at "recs"?

NOTICE

There will be no All Star Hockey Team get-together this week as stated last week in The New Hampshire.

With a heave ho and away the eager swabbies and new members flocked to the first session of the shore school on Wednesday night, Dec. 5. A general outline of the school's program under the direction of vice-commadore Jean Deland was given. Such courses as knot tying, cordages, belaying and coiling, ground tackles, nomenclature of vessels, and rules of the road will be given. The school will be in conjunction with the meetings of the club and will continue for a few months.
All who are interested in learning sailing from the "bottom" up or who would like to brush up on the know-how of the sport should plan to come to the next meeting and watch for announcements on campus.

Skating Club Men Needed

The ice skating club has been organized for the coming season, and meetings will be held every Wednesday at 4 p.m. in New Hampshire Hall. Last year, in spite of the need for male skaters, the skating club, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Ongley, put on a show during Carnival weekend. They plan to do so again this year, but would like more men to join the club, in order to have mixed routines. This is an invitation to any male student who skates to join the club.

NOTICE

Because of lack of interest among the student body, there will be no more weekend "recs" on Sundays.

Miss P. Rabethge Speaks
At Meeting of Opus 45

The spirit of fellowship and the release from self-consciousness that group musical activities will lead to make such activities a part of every community recreational program. This was the central idea of Miss Priscilla Rabethge's talk at the meeting of Opus 45 in Murkland Auditorium on Tuesday evening. Miss Rabethge then proceeded to prove her point by leading the group in a number of sample songs and stunts which soon had everyone laughing and at ease. The use of simple folk-songs, which are such an attractive part of our American heritage, and so often neglected, and of clever stunts of a semi-musical nature have in all parts of the state led to a wider appreciation and participation in music and such allied fields of interests as handicrafts, story-telling and folk dancing. All these activities are of extreme importance in the RE-creation and REC-reation of today's citizens in communities of all sizes and types.

Miss Rabethge has had a great deal of experience in group recreation, both as an assistant in 4-H Recreational work during the fall and spring and as a director of recreation at Eastern Slopes Inn in North Conway during the winter and summer. Her interest and enthusiasm spread throughout the group last Tuesday evening and made the first open meeting of Opus 45 a marked success. A standard was set which will be maintained throughout the year.

HEADS GOT

RESULT: MORE TRANSCONTINENTAL
TELEPHONE CIRCUITS

With wire scarce and wartime calls increasing, telephone engineers made existing pairs of long distance wires carry nearly four times as many calls as before. This was done through installation of additional carrier equipment, requiring closer spacing of the wires on the line and transpositions at shorter intervals.

Three pairs on the Southern Transcontinental Route were rearranged, and in a 430-mile section this had to be done while keeping the urgently needed wires in service all the time. To do this, new tools and new methods had to be devised in the laboratories and on the job.

This is another among many examples of how Bell System teamwork and engineering skills maintained telephone service under wartime conditions.
